

Chapter 831

Lao Li invited the girl into the office. It was wrong to inform non relatives of the patient's situation.

But before she could speak, the girl took a wad of money and said it was for Chen Xiao's medical expenses.

It's not clear that Lao Li will not accept it. "He, what's the matter with him."

Although Lao Li didn't know the girl's specific relationship with the patient, he told Chen Xiao's condition in the girl's praying eyes.

"Is there no hope?"

The girl's face was very white.

"As long as there is kidney source, there is salvation, if not..." Lao Li's words are so cold in his ears.

In fact, life is like this. Doctors have no mercy, but compassion is useless.

The girl buried her face in her arms, twitching, and tears slowly slipped down her fingers.

Zhang Fan, Lao Li, and Chen Sheng, director of the medical department, several old men looked at the girl sadly, like release, but also like relief. Tears silently ticked on the ground.

Zhang Fan glances at Chen Sheng, who immediately understands what Zhang Fan means.

"Girl, stop crying. If you are his friend, encourage him at the right time. Crying won't solve the problem.

We also have a meeting to discuss the patient's condition, you see... "

"I see. Thank you, thank you!" The girl nodded, wiped her tears and walked out of the office door.

"Can you contact the specific hospital now?" After the girl went out, Zhang Fan began to ask Li Xiong.

"The patient's family members have lined up in all hospitals qualified for kidney transplantation in Frontier Province."

Zhang Fan nodded.

In fact, the largest number of kidney transplants are done in the world, not in China with a huge population, nor in Europe, America and Japan, but in Africa.

In fact, the control of organ transplantation in China is very strict, so there are still loopholes.

For example, if you trade your kidney for an apple, why did the blood donation hospital give you money before? Why don't you give it now.

Is the hospital stingy to the point of strict supervision, or is the hospital blood bank abundant enough to no longer need blood.

To tell the truth, sometimes hospitals really want to take money to buy blood, especially some special blood. Once it is lacking, doctors can only watch patients die, and there is no way at all.

But why can't you give money? I'm afraid to produce an underground black interest chain.

No one does business at a loss. Beheading businesses rush to do it. A few years ago, unscrupulous intermediaries could control a regional blood bank. They have countless voluntary or involuntary blood donors in their hands.

Really, it's terrible. It's like a black coal mine.

Waiting, endless waiting, the patient swelled day by day. The urine flowing out of the urine bag is like meat washing water.

Shang Jiajia never came again after that day.

Although their parents comfort themselves every day, they can look at the past harsh and unreasonable, but how can they spare their mother for the sake of home.

Now with tears on her back, she thought she didn't know. In fact, he just didn't want to add sadness.

There is also a cowardly father who doesn't worry about anything all his life. In a few weeks, his black hair turned silver white.

Sometimes, Chen Xiao also looked at the door of the ward and listened to the past conversation in the corridor. He was also looking forward to the emergence of a voice.

But he raised his hand and looked at the swollen arm like steamed bread. He didn't want her to come.

I hope in her mind, I will always be a wanton teenager!

Lao Li also helped to contact many hospitals, but few people in need of kidney resources in the country. Even if they lined up in the front row, they can only wait without a suitable match.

Ouyang went to the bird market to recruit people, and all the business in the hospital was on Zhang Fan's head.

Zhang Fan had surgery in the morning and went to the administrative building to deal with administrative business in the afternoon.

Moreover, after the young chief was rescued from the First Affiliated Hospital, the president of the affiliated hospital directly promoted half a grade and went to the health department.

Zhao Jingjin was finally promoted to half a grade and became the vice president of the central hospital.

Originally, tea vegetable wanted Ouyang to go to the health bureau and let Zhang Fan take over the hospital.

The leaders in charge of health talked to Zhang Fan privately, but Zhang Fan refused on the spot.

It doesn't make sense that meritorious service is not paid. Finally, Zhang Fan was designated as a provincial labor model. This reward seems a little light. In fact, everyone in the system knows it.

You can break your head if you get a model worker in a unit, not to mention a provincial model worker. For old Lu, the old man is also willing to see Zhang Fan get a model worker rather than a promotion.

Just a few days after Sheikh Shao lived in chasu, President Stan visited China and visited the new industrial base of chasu.

People came to China to finalize the contract. As for the new tea element industrial base, it's bullshit.

There are only a few chemical plants that are so small that they can't even beat small workshops in southern families. What can people visit.

People mainly have an excuse to see their son.

His son was saved in China, and he signed the contract happily.

Then, accompanied by a vice president in charge of economy, he went to the tea vegetable hospital, and then directly entered the tea vegetable hospital.

People's itinerary was not notified directly in advance. They were about to go to the gate of the hospital, and the government informed Zhang Fan.

Zhang Fan didn't take it seriously. Just come. When the patient's family members come, do the doctors have to line up to welcome them?

However, there is a vice president who wants to live in face. Zhang Fan is going to arrange for doctors and nurses to meet him in the administrative building.

Let Zhang Fan order everyone to go to the hospital gate to change the new uniform, bring flowers, put on the mouth and red blush, and he is a bit reluctant to face.

After receiving the notice, Zhang Fan talked about his ideas with Chen Sheng of the medical department.

Chen Sheng hesitated. "There's no time. I'll be in the hospital right away. Hurry, director. If you have any comments, hurry."

Zhang Fan looks at each other.

"Either, or call the European Academy." Chen Sheng looked at Zhang Fan and was afraid that Zhang Fan would be angry. He quickly added: "after all, he was accompanied by the vice president."

Zhang Fanben was not interested in administrative business. To tell the truth, he had no complaints about Chen Sheng's suggestions. This right did not appeal to him.

Chen Sheng called Ouyang in front of Zhang Fan.

"Oh, oh, the vice president is here, still in charge of the economy? Oh, oh, the other president is here, oh, oh! "

With the loudspeaker on, Ouyang's voice could not hide his surprise and sent it directly from the phone.

Zhang Fan thought: "this old lady is too official!"

"Come on, come on, you must organize young and capable doctors and nurses to welcome you at the gate.

It's estimated that people have concerns when they notice so late. Don't put up slogans.

However, our staff must reflect the full work enthusiasm of our tea vegetable people's hospital.

If you do it yourself, I don't expect Zhang Yuan. You're in Zhang Yuan's office. Give him the phone. "

Although Ouyang looks like an iron lady, Ouyang is actually a thief.

As soon as she answered the phone, she knew a general idea.

"European Academy!" Zhang Fan reluctantly took the phone from director Chen Sheng.

"I'll be in the valley right away. I'll be in the hospital in half an hour at most. Remember, you have a task now and try your best to delay them for half an hour."

"If people want to go, can I stop them?"

Zhang Fan is going crazy. Where does he have the ability to stop the vice president.

Although he is a vice president and the president of a small country, can Zhang Fan stop him?

Zhang Fan doesn't know how to reply.

Ouyang is on the other side of the phone. She's probably standing up. If her Audi wasn't a little shorter, she would definitely stand up with her waist crossed and start pointing out the country.

When Zhang Fan didn't speak, Ouyang's voice came out, "silly baby, take them to visit our hospital first.

The hospital is so big that you can sneak them for half an hour. "

"Well!" Sweat has come down. Really, it sounds so unreliable.

"You say that the patient is temporarily unable to visit within half an hour after treatment, and then visit after treatment.

Do you understand, my young master? Ah, I'm so worried! "

Ouyang was worried first and complained first.

"What are you doing?"

"Do as I say!" With that, Ouyang hung up.

Zhang Fan and Chen Sheng looked big and small, "what should we do?" Chen Sheng asked.

"What else can I do? Listen to her old man's instructions, or I won't be able to eat me when I come. Hurry up, or it's too late. "

Chen Sheng nodded and ran out. Zhang Fan also got up and hurriedly sorted out his white coat.

"What's the matter!" Zhang Fan muttered.

Before long, the youngest nurses and doctors in the hospital were arranged at the gate.

All of them were brand-new white coats. Chen Sheng walked around to help them flatten the wrinkled white coats.

"Serious, lively, energetic and enthusiastic. Remember, no, don't chatter and pay attention to discipline."

Doctors will also give Chen Sheng some face. As for nurses, they are not very afraid of Chen Sheng.

Before long, the leaders at home went downstairs and waited at the gate of the hospital.

"What about the European Academy?" Lao Gao looked and couldn't find Ouyang. He doesn't know where Ouyang has gone, but he knows that she is absolutely indispensable for such a thing.

"The dean will be here soon. Director, what will you say later?" Zhang Fan said he wasn't nervous, but he wasn't.

Vice president, I'm a little nervous.

"You don't have to say anything. The tea vegetable government must be received later. You can say whatever people ask.

In fact, I won't ask anything, that is, the construction of the hospital. "

"Oh!" Zhang Fan calmed down. "Why don't you take the lead, director?"

"Nonsense! What are you nervous about?" Lao Gao glanced at Zhang Fan.

Before long, the motorcade from the government came. It was really the treatment of state guests. The police car took the lead and the mounted police accompanied.

When the motorcade entered the hospital, the boss of the tea vegetable government got off the car first, and the leaders who often deal with the hospital came directly to Zhang Fan.

In Zhang Fan's ear, he told a few words, and then the team stopped.

Zhang Fan was gently dragged by the leader in charge of health. Zhang Fan understood, and then he hurried forward.

Lao Gao and Ren Li followed behind, and other hospital leaders waited in place.

"This is Zhang Fan, executive vice president of chasu. President Zhang did the operation himself."

The tea vegetable leader personally made an introduction.

"Hard work, young and promising. At that time, I was also in the bird market. It was good, very good, and the young man was very energetic."

The vice president gently patted the back of Zhang Fan's hand, smiled and said a few words, and then introduced Zhang Fan to the chief.

The chief in a white robe stood in front of Zhang Fan. It looks very short and fat.

However, when people heard what the translator said, they looked happy.

"Lead the team to see the patient!" Tea vegetable boss gently said to Zhang Fan.

Zhang Fan immediately said, "the notice came too late. The patient is now undergoing treatment and is sterile. Now the probability of visiting infection is too high.

I have to wait a minute! "

"How long will it take?" The leader of Guan Weisheng's hair stood up.

"Half an hour, half an hour, the treatment is over, and then you can visit."

The chief was willing to wait for half an hour, so Zhang Fan took his party to the hospital.

"Don't go to departments with many patients, just turn to those with more scientific and technological content. Infectious diseases department and so on... "

The leader of health management kept whispering to Zhang Fan.

"This is our cardiopulmonary function department. At present, it is the Department with the most complete cardiopulmonary function in the whole northwest."

After an initial tension, Zhang Fan let go.

"This is our auxiliary department. CT, MRI and 4D color Doppler ultrasound are world-class equipment.

At present, there are more than 1300 in-service employees in our college, including those in secondary and Higher Vocational Colleges... "

Zhang fanyue said more smoothly. Anyway, these are all contacts on weekdays. One said one.

Especially the vice president, who is very kind, has been listening carefully and has to ask some questions from time to time.

Although it's not professional, it's still insightful.

For example, whether the inspection expenses of these advanced instruments are reimbursed. Whether there is an obvious loss in the construction of hospital talent echelon.

Ouyang came in half an hour.

At the beginning, she was still following behind the team. Slowly, slowly, Ouyang moved forward more and more.

"What difficulties does the hospital have now?" There's really no place to visit. The clinical department won't let you go. Do you take the leaders to the canteen of the hospital?

When Zhang Fan couldn't help it, the deputy general estimated that it had been almost half an hour. He looked at Zhang Fan with an ending inquiry.

"Difficult? If it's difficult, it's too much. Salary of medical staff, housing problems, marriage of single dogs, hospital equipment problems, financial problems and scientific research funds. Too much, too much.

But what do you say? "

While Zhang Fan was thinking, Ouyang came forward.

"Hello, chief!"

"She is the president of the hospital, or the bole of president Zhang." Tea vegetable leader introduced Ouyang, but Ouyang's face was not very friendly.

"The difficulties of the hospital are!" As soon as this was said, the tea vegetable government changed its face.

"However, with the strong support of the government and organizations, the immediate difficulties can be overcome.

President Zhang also briefly introduced the advantages of our hospital. In fact, the biggest advantage of our hospital is to take root in the frontier and serve the frontier. "

Listening to Ouyang's programmed answer, the vice president didn't show impatience.

As a result, the old lady did not play cards according to common sense.

"But we can't wait and rely.

Waiting for superiors will only increase pressure on the government.

Shit, it can only slow the development of the hospital.

Although our hospital is located in the frontier, at present, our hospital is among the best in liver and gallbladder burns, not only in the frontier, but also in the northwest.

In particular, the burn department of our hospital is currently conducting joint scientific research with the capital Zhongyong University and has jointly established a world-class laboratory in our frontier.

And our hepatobiliary department, not only with the golden mean University, but also Qingniao University and mordu Fangdong medicine jointly set up a special scientific research project team. "

As soon as he said this, the vice president was surprised. The golden mean University, Bluebird University, and even Fang Dong. It is still world-class.

This name was so scary that the vice president didn't believe it. He looked directly at the leaders of tea and bird municipal government.

Zhang Fan's face is burning and she can't stand it. The old lady can boast too much.

The burn department is clearly associated with a dermatology department of the golden mean. People come to a golden mean University. Is this the same thing? If you force it, it counts.

World class. If we say materials, they are really world-class at present, but in addition to materials, others can't even stand second rate in China.

Really, Zhang Fan was stunned. What does the old lady want.

The government can understand a few. Look at the signs hanging at the door of the tea vegetable hospital, bronze and gold. Anyway, it seems that there is such a thing.

"Unexpectedly, but it is inevitable. From the little chief's operation, I have felt the extraordinary of the tea vegetable hospital.

When I was really there, I could see a kind of pride on the faces of the medical staff here.

This is the greatest achievement of scientific research institutions. What can we rely on to cultivate the pride of staff?

It depends on the scientific research achievements in hand.

I'm very pleased. Really, you, your front-line medical staff have worked hard. "

The vice president said that he was very emotional. He originally thought that it would be an ordinary hospital that can no longer be ordinary. Unexpectedly, I really didn't think of it.

"Thank you, thank you. We are satisfied with your words. Don't worry, we will make persistent efforts.

In fact, another feature of our hospital is that there are many bilingual talents in our hospital.

For example, the language of Stan has no difficulty in communication.

This is our biggest advantage. We don't have to look for special language talents at the critical moment.

This is the treatment, which has won countless time!

Moreover, at present, our hospital has accumulated a lot of experience in foreign medical treatment.

Just... "

Chapter 832

People are shameless and invincible“ Can I still order a face? " The leader of the bird city health department who accompanied him was probably clear.

According to Ouyang, the tea vegetable hospital has surpassed the tea vegetable area and the bird market. Even the hospitals directly under the Department of health are not rivals.

However, as the same Frontier Province, they had to bite their teeth and swallow the big fly released by Ouyang.

Ouyang turned his words and let the tea vegetarians who were qualified to stand here suddenly feel tall.

Listen, golden mean University, Oriental Hospital, listen, listen, is this the word that should appear here!

The girl who translated quickly said Ouyang's words to the chief. Although Zhang Fan didn't understand the translation, the translation spoke of the golden mean several times.

He seemed to understand, and with the tone of the translator, Zhang Fan looked at the chief, and the chief's eyes lit up.

"Hey, it's time to hit people again. The hammer is too high and too big.

This is thinking of having enough to eat. "

With Ouyang's report, the tea vegetable leader's face is red. What is this? This is his political achievement!

"What is it? Dean Ouyang, right? Dean Ouyang, you can rest assured that I can tell you clearly here.

I'll solve the problems I can solve for you immediately. For the problems I can't solve, I'll hand over the problems to the leaders in charge of health and let them solve them for you. "

The vice president was also completely interested by Ouyang Gou.

Think about it. The original hospital on the frontier did not expect it to make achievements or engage in scientific research.

As long as we can meet the medical needs of the local people, to tell the truth, we have begged our grandparents. How can we expect that the tea vegetable hospital can develop to such a degree now.

Although the vice president is not in charge of health, he has seen many places and hospitals in China.

So, suddenly it seemed that a camel was driven out of the sheepfold. How could he not be interested.

Moreover, if the hospitals here have better experience, why not promote it.

Therefore, when Ouyang dragged his voice and said yes, the vice president spoke.

China has a characteristic, perhaps one-sided, but you should pay attention to it. For example, in a unit or industry, the official authority of middle-level cadres is much greater than that of high-level cadres.

And often when it comes to specific matters, his words are ambiguous.

You can understand it anyway. "In the general direction, we still encourage it, but in the details, are you thinking more about it? Of course, it still looks promising now."

The wheels are round and round. Really, you can run in circles when you come out of your mouth and put it on the ground.

When something happened, he said, you should think more. If you succeed, they said that the superior would strongly encourage you.

It's different when you're at the top level. If you say something, you won't say anything that makes you ambiguous.

It is estimated that this is the realm.

The deputy general manager decided to work on the spot, and Ouyang's eyes became a gap.

"Hehe, it's not a big problem. We're not only responsible for the medical treatment of surrounding counties and cities, but also sometimes participate in border rescue and disaster relief."

Ouyang paused.

Then he said, "sometimes, we can't catch the traffic. I wonder if the government can help us improve this area.

Of course, I also understand the difficulties of the government. Although we have built a shutdown platform, we can... "

Speaking, Ouyang looked up at the signal light standing high on the roof of the emergency center.

As soon as he said this, not only the people around him, but also Zhang Fan took a breath of cold air.

The old lady can bite people directly.

"What do you think of the local government?" The deputy general manager did not change his face. After listening, he looked at the leader of tea vegetable.

The leader's waist is quickly broken. You can boast it well. Now, isn't this a general?

If you don't agree, you must leave the impression that the leaders are not bold and enterprising.

Promise, not to mention tea, the whole frontier has been except for the army.

A unit is a unit and an enterprise is an enterprise. Who owns a helicopter.

Besides, I really want to promise. It is estimated that the leaders in charge of finance can really hang themselves. I can't live in the future.

And if you really want to do this, you have to fill in all the finance handed in by the tea vegetable hospital. You have to build a little!

But when the leader asked, he pretended not to hear it.

He bit his teeth. "The hospital has confidence in development. We are the backing. Even when we become pants, we should bite our teeth to support."

This leader also has a high level. I support the development of the hospital. I absolutely support it, even if our frontier tea vegetable city is poor and dead, I also support it.

However, the deputy general manager's level is higher. As soon as he hears it, he knows that local leaders want to default.

"How much can you give? Now you have an on-site meeting to determine the amount. It's not enough..."

Before he finished, the chief spoke.

"Doctor Zhang, can my children visit now?"

"Time is up, treatment time is up, please." Ouyang answered directly.

"You'll have a meeting here. You don't need to be accompanied."

The vice president gave orders.

Well, you can't do without bleeding today.

"How much can the comfort fund of your police system pay?" As soon as this was said, the police leader who used to beat soy sauce quit.

"Leader, you know, our task is heavy and the pressure is great, and the front-line police..."

Who can't complain? After finishing one, without waiting for the leaders to speak, the complaints of other units are followed closely, one by one, and one by one.

In the ICU, the chief looked at the young man in the glass house, raised his head and waved to his father.

Although there is still a drainage tube hanging on the nose, the body looks very weak.

But the child's spirit is good. He doesn't wave and don't say. He keeps using gestures to show that he is good.

"Come on, let the nurse take in the next step phone." Ouyang gave orders directly to Director Huang of ICU.

Before long, the chief took Lao Huang's phone and talked to the children in the glass house.

Said, said, has been maintaining the appearance of the chief's eyes slowly shed tears, but the expression is so happy.

The dialogue translator didn't say, but the discerning man knew at a glance that the chief was in a good mood now.

"The tea vegetable hospital is very good. We can donate one helicopter to stan.

However, I ask that hospitals in our country can open medical straight-line assistance with tea vegetable hospitals. "

The chief looked at the vice president, and the vice president smiled, "I'll take my leave!"

Outside the surgical building, tea vegetable leaders are still fighting.

"Tea vegetable city hospital, look at them. In recent years, buildings have sprung up.

Look at the building of our Finance Bureau. Compared with others, where are we in charge of finance? We are a temple. "

.....

After seeing off the leader, Ouyang happily sang Dingjunshan and the old lady sang in a female voice, but how can he hear a sound of steel.

"Dean, is it over?" Zhang Fan followed Ouyang with a bitter smile.

"You don't understand. At this moment, you look as if the tea vegetable government is unhappy. In fact, people are very happy.

Moreover, it can be regarded as a situation in which all three parties win. "

"What?" Zhang Fan doesn't understand.

"Think for yourself, don't let me analyze everything for you. A very clever young man, how can he be so stupid.

Go ahead. I'm tired. I want to have a rest. Hey, you said we didn't sign any letter of intent or contract. Is it a little careless? "

Before Zhang Fan left, the old lady suddenly thought of something and turned to ask Zhang Fan.

"Ah! At least they are also the respect of a country. " Zhang Fan smiled.

"What a big country. It's not as big as the frontier. All right, hurry up.

I'll tell you, I've been very busy recently. Pay attention. Don't count on me for everything. You also get paid! "

A typical person who takes up a bowl to eat and puts down a bowl to scold his mother!

The old lady drove away Zhang Fan, Ren Li and Chen Sheng, director of the medical department.

Zhang Fan looked at Ren Li. Ren Li smiled and said, "it would be great if we could really get a rescue helicopter for us.

If you go out to rescue in the future, you won't regret it because of time. "

"Yes!" Zhang Fan nodded admiringly. Now he really admires Ouyang.

The more Chen Xiao's kidney source waited, the more there was no news. His family really looked forward to it.

Whether the phone is powered or not, it is always in a state of charge. From time to time, you have to pick it up to see if there is a signal.

Chen Xiao's body became increasingly swollen, and his food began to be strictly controlled by doctors.

Kidney disease, really, is quite painful. Whether to die or not, whether to live or not, it seems that there is always hope, but hope is far away. Then it consumes the spirit of the patient and torments the hearts of the family members.

After entering the hospital for surgery, Chen Xiao is still strong. He can sit up occasionally and talk to his parents when he is in a good mood.

As he waited, he slowly became depressed, and even the strength to raise his hand slowly disappeared like water.

Only his eyes can be controlled by himself. If he wants to cry, he can't cry.

Looking at the aging appearance of the two old people, Chen Xiao sometimes wants to die quietly, which can also free his family and himself.

Spring rain like silk finally got rid of the shackles of snow, and the spring of tea came completely.

The sky is no longer a sheet of sleet, but a thin and soft rain line like a beautiful girl.

Neither hurry nor procrastination, the water drops from the eaves hit the reinforced iron plate on the cement floor, clattering, clattering, just like playing music.

Chen Xiao, who was getting weaker and weaker, was going to have dialysis again. He lay on the flat car and looked at the fluorescent lamp that seemed to never go out. The bright white light dazzled his eyes.

Chen Xiao felt like a dark shadow. His eyes were staring at passing fluorescent lamps.

Suddenly, in the corridor full of disinfectant, he seemed to smell the indelible fragrance hidden in the bottom of his heart.

He turned his head hard. Finally, not far from him, he saw Shang Jiajia.

Shang Jiajia, who was also a patient's suit, lay quietly on the flat car with no joy or sorrow on her face.

I don't know what's going on. Chen Xiao knows that Shang Jiajia is not ill, definitely not ill.

He opened his mouth hard and made a loud voice. He tried his best to stop it. He wanted to shout loudly and loudly: you are a fool.

However, his weak voice could not even be heard by nurses pushing flat cars.

Shangjiajia's face without joy and sorrow suddenly turned around and saw Chen Xiao.

Chen Xiaofu's swollen face was filled with endless fear, while Shang Jiajia looked at it so far away.

No joy, no sorrow!

Two flat cars pass by!

Chen Xiaodou's big tears ran through his eyes, and Shang Jiajia's face slowly shed tears.

She gently seemed to be talking to Chen Xiao who had passed, "this is life. Maybe you owe me or I owe you. In this life, we are clear! "

Chapter 833

There are many kinds of personality. For example, Zhang Fan would rather be a little tired and bitter than open his mouth and beg others easily.

He would rather let his classmates call him a dealer all over the campus than let others look at him or give alms with compassionate eyes. Maybe this is his character.

For example, Ouyang is resolute, stubborn and dark. No matter how the other party retreats, she will never relax unless a stick is knocked to death, such as Lao Gao.

Lao Gao is now the vice president at best, and the old newspaper man waiting to retire at worst.

Moreover, Ouyang's thick black is even more helpless. It is really the same as the landlord in the early years.

What kind of round stone do you have to draw at home, otherwise the meal won't taste good.

There are many people with Zhang Fan and Ouyang's character in life, but there are also people with another character.

He likes to open his mouth. Anyway, if he can overcome it, he will open his mouth first. For example, when he is not rich and doesn't want to save money, he opens his source first.

First borrow from friends, but also full of life philosophy. When borrowing money, I don't borrow much. It's like this to everyone: I'm hundreds or thousands of short, and I'll pay it back when I run out.

Friends are also embarrassed not to borrow. If you don't want to borrow, they don't borrow much.

Then borrow it, and then a golden light disappeared. The hundreds or even thousands of dollars became a burden on his friends.

Yes, it seems that you don't stand up for justice. Don't. the money doesn't come from the wind.

I really can't wait. When I speak, this person is not willing. It's only a few hundred yuan. You're afraid I'll default.

Really, if you meet such a friend, you don't have to say anything. You can only say that you are careless in making friends.

Although Shang Jiajia is weak, she is still a soft woman in her heart. Let her watch Chen Xiao die. She can't watch it.

A woman's character is really hard to describe. When she has something to rely on, a mouse can scare her up and down and shout.

When she has no support and seems to fall down soon, she can live more and more tenaciously, and maybe make a career.

And in the face of the blow, men seem as strong as fire. In fact, they are all like goods.

In the hospital, every time there is an earth shattering disease, it is women who cry the most. After crying, they wipe away their tears at the first time. It is women who should be treated and served.

Shang Jiajia was pushed into the operating room to prepare for a series of examinations. The girl was ready to transplant one of her kidneys to Chen Xiao.

After leaving that day, Shang Jiajia has been in a trance and seems very calm. In fact, the girl's heart is like a battlefield.

Thought fierce collision, "you just give him the money back. There's no need to take your kidney to save him. Your father died because of their family."

"Do you remember the boy who likes to laugh and always revolves around you in high school? He entered society early for you and suffered a lot.

Do you remember that in winter, he wore single shoes and his face was blue and swollen with cold. It was because of your birthday, but he had a small birthday cake in his arms.

But I can't even buy a pair of winter shoes.

Four years are like a day. Without him, you may not even graduate from college. Go and help him. "

With the money in hand, I searched countless information about kidney transplantation on the Internet.

Hesitating and wandering, Shang Jiajia didn't know how many times she appeared at the door of the hospital and how many times she retreated.

Really, the courage of donating one's own organs is really beyond the endurance of ordinary people.

Not to mention organs, some people can be nervous and incoherent when they see the needle in the hands of doctors or nurses.

Finally, when I heard my friends say again that Chen Xiao hasn't waited for the right kidney source, maybe he won't have a chance to get out of the hospital again.

There is pity and pity in the words of friends, but there is only pity and pity.

Shangjiajia cried and made a decision. She walked into the people's Hospital of chasu city.

When he learned that someone was willing to donate a kidney, Lao Li was very surprised. He had been doing urology for half his life and had never seen a kidney donor.

Report to the hospital. When everyone learned the story, no one was not sad.

Kidney donation is a very complex project, which can not be handled by one department. It is led by urology and assisted by tea in internal medicine.

First do screening, put on patient clothes, Shang Jiajia was nervous and afraid like a little rabbit.

But when she saw Chen Xiao, saw that Chen Xiao was too weak to look like anyone, and her eyes were full of panic, she was not afraid.

As a result, it was estimated that God did not give Chen Xiaoji a meeting. It was not easy for someone to donate a kidney, but the ABO blood group was incompatible.

I can't even get in the transplant door!

He pulled her into the disposal room and was told that she didn't match Chen Xiao.

The girl didn't know whether she was happy or sad. She squatted in the stairs of the hospital and cried.

He cried not only for his father, but also for his mother, but also for the suffering he had suffered in recent years.

Also cry Chen Xiao, cry he is not good, cry why he is not careful, cry why he can't match himself.

After a heart rending cry, the girl dried her tears and took out all the money she had saved in the bank.

So, wiping away her tears, she went into the ward.

When Chen Xiao's mother saw Shang Jiajia, she was stunned, then angry, and then cursed.

"Don't worry, our family Chen Xiao is fine. He won't die. You did it all."

Shang Jiajia looked at the woman with pity in her eyes. Chen Xiao's father, the wretched man, finally got tough.

He knows that this girl is a good girl. He regrets, really regrets, if time goes back

He took his wife, covered her mouth and dragged her out of the ward.

"Xiaoshuai's health is getting worse and worse. What's the use of scolding? Let him talk to Jiajia before he dies. I beg you, don't make trouble. I'm on my knees! "

A woman's anger like a cockfight is like a balloon being punctured, her lips tremble, and her tears flow like the rain in spring.

It hurts, really, like a knife.

Chen Xiao looked at Shang Jiajia, who had changed his sick clothes. His face was like a swollen face stung by bees for thousands of times. Finally, he smiled and smiled happily.

He smiled with tears. Whether it was Shang Jiajia who gave up or for other reasons, he was happy.

He would rather die than let the girl be hurt. How much harm his family has caused her. He really doesn't want her to be hurt a little more.

Unfortunately, I can't, otherwise, even if I can't be together, as long as I can look at her from a distance, as long as she has a good life, he will be satisfied.

Looking at Chen Xiao's ugly and difficult smiling face, it seemed that he didn't have to speak. Shang Jiajia understood what he meant, and the girl's red and swollen eyes also waved a smile.

Gently grasp Chen Xiao's hand and slowly touch his face, as if this swollen face suddenly returned to the year of senior two.

They didn't speak, so they looked at each other quietly, with a boundless smile on their faces.

Chen Xiao's parents, lying on the window outside the ward, saw this scene. Chen Xiao's mother covered her mouth and twitched like a female wolf. It was extremely sad. The sorrow of people was nothing more than the loss of children in old age.

Half an hour later, the nurse came in for treatment. For half an hour, they didn't say a word.

Like sculpture, hold hands with each other and stare at each other quietly, as if you want to engrave each other's face in your heart.

In fact, they already have an indelible shadow of each other in their hearts.

"I'm gone!" Shang Jiajia got up, turned around, raised her head slightly, looked at the ceiling and said softly.

"Well, let's go and don't come again.

Remember the vows we made before? We won't meet again. "

Chen Xiao struggled. Although he said he wouldn't meet, he grabbed Shang Jiajia's hand. He really didn't want to let go, really didn't want to!

"Yes. I won't come, you, take care of yourself! "

"Well, I'll never see you again. Keep your word!"

Chen Xiao smiled and was so happy, just like seeing Jiajia wearing a red wedding dress, just like seeing green plum and bamboo horses in those years.

Two hands tightly held together, slowly, slowly, separated from the center of the palm, cross each other's ten fingers, slowly separated.

Finally, it slowly slides between the fingers.

Shang Jiajia, who was walking in front of the ward door, couldn't help turning around and looking at Chen Xiao.

Chen Xiao has slowly covered his face with a white quilt.

Shang Jiajia turned to leave and ran. The flowing water floated in the air like the wind, and her hair floated.

She tried hard. She was ready to change her kidney, but God seemed to tease them and didn't give them a little chance.

"Jiajia, come on, I'll take you to see the peach blossom."

"Xiaoshuai, I hate it. Don't scratch my hair."

"You are good at studying. If you lack anything, send me a message. You should be good."

"Go, go, you'll never come to me again. I hate you, I hate you! "

"Never see each other again!"

"Don't see each other!"

When the Chen Xiaos fell into despair, good news finally came. There was a matching kidney source!

Surgery, although tea element is qualified for organ transplantation, Chen Xiao's condition is still too serious.

And Zhang Fan didn't open the urinary system. He didn't dare to start. This is human life, not roasted kidney on the barbecue stand. He's not sure. Zhang Fan will never make a fuss about human life.

In order to ensure the success of the operation, Zhang Fan personally called Xu Guangwei, who has become the president of bird market.

Xu Guangwei directly sent a treatment team.

The operation was very successful, and Chen Xiao recovered very well after the operation.

.....

When Zhang Fan got home, he told it to Shaohua like a story, and Shaohua burst into tears.

A year later, Shang Jiajia left the tea plant in red and white on the train supported by the government in the southern frontier.

They really kept that oath and never met again.

If you love, you won't regret it. Since you can't help each other, you'll forget in the Jianghu.

Perhaps the softest place in the bottom of my heart will have a softness that can never be opened by others.

Do not hurt, only expect each other to live better and happier than themselves.

Because we loved each other and gave each other.

.....

Ouyang is very diligent in running the government recently. He used to run high. Now Ouyang is not at ease and goes to the government if he has nothing to do.

The government is also upset. The plane donated by Stan is coming. Ouyang is grinding maintenance every day.

She wanted a plane, but she didn't want to pay for maintenance. She didn't even think of the crew's salary.

The government's health leaders are going crazy.

Chapter 834

Tea vegetarians are busy in spring. After winter storage, people seem to be like marmots after winter. They change the monotonous black and gray and put on more beautiful clothes.

There is no shortage of jobs in the border areas, especially in the northern border areas. Whether the economy is good or bad, as long as you are willing to work hard, you can still live.

After all, people always eat and dress.

In the frontier, according to the current population and the land area here, there is no need to worry about work at all.

People who undertake snow sweeping tasks in winter are now entering major farms.

Canal repair, weeding. Countless grains and cotton are planted on the endless flat and fertile land.

Perhaps the environment is too good. The quality of cotton grown here is quite general, so it deceives outsiders in the name of Frontier cotton.

The rain is so abundant that the flowers of tea vegetable cotton are as short as the tail of a rabbit. What is the most famous crop of tea vegetable.

Just two, one rice and the other lavender. Unfortunately, Chinese people don't really like the smell of lavender. They say that a cow eats too much grass and burps.

But this thing is very popular in Europe.

I don't know where the wind blows in recent years. It takes thousands of Mu to plant anything, otherwise I seem embarrassed to say it.

However, this large-area unified planting has long been formed in the frontier, including 10000 mu of rape flowers, 10000 mu of tomatoes and 10000 mu of red pepper.

On the farm where Shaohua grew up, everyone watched Shaohua grow Lavender like the wind.

We also got a 10000 mu lavender field this time. It's not because Shaohua went to college that everyone will follow blindly.

But because Shaohua's mother, in the farm yard, to tell the truth, few bought houses in the city in the early years.

The Shaohua family was Shaohua's mother, who had to buy a house in the city anyway.

At that time, everyone was still laughing at the old lady. As a result, people bought a house not to live in the city, but to go to school for Shaohua.

Now look, Shaohua graduated from university and entered the bank, which was envied by a group of people.

Of course, there are also those who get rich without going to school, but where can ordinary people have the hardships and fortune.

When the people on the farm were surprised, it was not long before Shaohua got married. Only those who attended the wedding knew that Shaohua's husband was more powerful.

Therefore, now we don't say whether Shaohua works hard or not. We just say one thing. Shaohua's mother has a vision.

This made the old lady very proud for a long time.

Shao Hua is very busy recently. The girl not only planted lavender, but also designed a granary windmill.

Zhang Fan looked at Shaohua's design drawing and didn't see any poetry of Huatian, but the soft meat on his waist was pinched in other people's hands. If it wasn't good-looking, he said it was good-looking.

After a hard rest, Zhang Fan was pulled by Shaohua to the street for a haircut, and accompanied Shaohua to the street for a long time.

Said to accompany Shaohua shopping, in fact, Shaohua took Zhang Fan to buy spring clothes for Zhang Fan.

After cleaning up Zhang Fan's clothes, Shaohua is a little possessed now.

The girl would rather others say Zhang Fan is black than let others say Zhang Fan is sloppy.

In the past, Zhang Fan usually wore a T-shirt in winter, summer, spring and autumn, and put on a down jacket outside in winter at most.

But after marriage, this habit was deprived by Shaohua.

"Come on, try it. How about this shirt? Is it a little too gorgeous?"

Shao Hua held a light pink shirt to Zhang Fan. It was worn on a white model. The light was so beautiful.

But as soon as Zhang Fan wears it, he is obedient and directly sets off Zhang Fan as if he didn't wash his face.

"Hehe, take it off quickly!" Shao Hua covered his mouth and smiled, "it's better to wear white and blue honestly, which will save money."

"Ha ha!" Zhang Fan smiled innocently. He was too busy to go shopping with the girl for a while. Zhang Fan was also very guilty, so Zhang Fan was very obedient today.

"How many do you buy!" Zhang Fan took Shaohua's hand.

"Men's clothes should focus on quality, while women's clothes should focus on fashion. It's spring. Now we should buy summer ones, and then spring ones will be out of date."

Shao Hua blinked mischievously and gave Zhang Fan a serious class.

"Just buy some summer ones."

"Summer's not on the market yet, cluck!" Shao Hua smiled like a child and was very happy. When Zhang Fan accompanied her, she was happy.

Zhang Fan looked at Shao Hua's happiness, and he couldn't help smiling.

But this thing, where is the laughing point? But he looked at Shaohua's smile. He also wanted to laugh. It is estimated that this is the so-called happiness.

Shao Hua doesn't pay special attention to dressing up. Since leaving the bank, girls rarely make up. At most, they spray water on their faces like spraying water on flowers.

Fortunately, she is naturally beautiful and has a plain face. Instead, she has a unique temperament of northern girls, which is especially attractive to Zhang Fan.

Originally, I wanted to eat casually in the street and there was no need to cook. But Shaohua's mother called and said that they had come to the city and asked Zhang Fan and Shaohua to go home for dinner early.

"Is the farm tired? If it's too tired, hire someone. You see, the four old people haven't been to the city for a long time."

Zhang Fan and Shaohua talked first on their way home.

"It's all mechanized. There's nothing to be tired of. In fact, there's nothing to do now.

But are our old people idle? Now they raise a group of geese, a large group of local chickens and some sheep.

I was going to raise some rabbits, but I stopped them. Husband, I want to make a poetic lavender flower sea.

When the wind blows, it's like a sea of flowers, wave by wave. It's beautiful to think about it.

But mom and Dad, they directly made me a feeding farm, my God! "

"Ha ha!" In this regard, Zhang Fan easily doesn't express his opinions, because he doesn't understand, so he doesn't talk nonsense.

As soon as I entered the house, I saw that the old man and the old lady had cooked dinner and were packing up to go out.

"Why, mom and Dad, don't you eat?"

Zhang Fan asked in wonder.

"No, we've eaten. We have to go back to the farm, or your parents won't care about chickens, ducks and sheep.

All right, don't send it. Eat it quickly. It's fresh wild vegetables and Huaihua steamed bread. Try it. I'll send you some tomorrow and the day after tomorrow. "

With that, the old man and the old lady left in a rage. Zhang Fan wanted to send them away. The two old people wouldn't let them live or die.

Wild vegetables are delicious. To tell you the truth, they can be eaten once in a while when they are ready. If they are not well cooked, they will be terrible.

However, Shaohua's mother is still a little good at cooking wild vegetables.

The rain of tea is abundant, so there are not only many varieties of wild vegetables, but also very fresh and tender.

Cold dandelion, stir fried Artemisia, garlic and soap, sprinkled with a little pepper oil, hot oil, it's still quite delicious.

In particular, Sophora japonica, the old lady's cooking is particularly delicious. Corn flour and flour, mixed with a little wheat flour, wake up.

Then, wash the Sophora japonica flower and put in a little honey. If it is Sophora japonica flower honey, it will be better.

Knead the honey locust flowers into the corn dough. The most important thing is to put a little oil.

Then mix them into small steamed buns and steam them in a large pot. To tell you the truth, the Huaihua steamed bread just came out of the pot is very delicious.

Take a sip, there is no liquid flowing out, but this can eat a feeling of soup.

Steamed bread with big oil is particularly soft. It has a mixed aroma of oil and Sophora japonica. There is a rusty and faint sweet smell in his mouth. Zhang fan can eat several at a meal.

The two were eating and chatting.

"Let my father-in-law and father learn to drive." Zhang Fan eats wild vegetables and says to Shaohua.

Shaohua doesn't like Huaihua steamed bread very much. She feels too tired. She carried millet porridge and ate delicious wild vegetables.

"What?" Shaohua looked up at Zhang Fan.

"Since the old people are willing to stay on the farm, it's OK. A certain amount of physical labor is also good for their health.

But, after all, it's a little far from the city. Did you find that several old people don't want us to pick them up.

They're afraid to trouble us. Even if there are no conditions, if there are conditions, buy a car for each of the two old men.

It's easier for them to do anything when they have a car. "

"Why don't you buy one? Who uses it and who drives it?" Shaohua said to Zhang Fan with his chopsticks.

"Silly girl, you don't understand anything. If you don't buy it, you can buy two."

"Well, I dare say I'm a silly girl." Speaking, Shaohua rushed over and had to pinch Zhang Fan's ear.

Full of warm thoughts * *, this is really nothing wrong.

In husband and wife life, human male is estimated to be the weakest male animal.

For example, a flock of chickens, dozens of hens, as long as there is a rooster, and a lion and a male lion can appease the female lion.

If you change people, just look at the ancient emperors. How many emperors in China have lived over 60!

So, although some people boast about going to heaven, in fact, their kidneys are sour.

For example, Zhang Fan exercises every day, and the system has strengthened the system. In this way, he has just defeated Shaohua.

Therefore, men who boast are just as good as they say, what they lack is what they boast!

"Buy a car and two more? Why buy it? You and Shaohua have cars. Don't buy it.

If you have money, you can spend it yourself! "

The next day, Shaohua took all four old people back to the city from the farm.

Zhang Fan's father and father-in-law narrowed their eyes when they heard that they were going to buy them a car.

Although Zhang Fan's mother was a little unhappy, the old lady didn't speak. The old lady understood one thing. She couldn't worry about whether the money was spent or not.

Shaohua's mother directly opposed it.

As soon as they said this, the two old men looked at each other and wanted to say buy it. It seems that they are not sensible and don't buy it. In fact, they are not old enough. That man doesn't love cars.

Shao Hua wanted to speak and was patted on the arm by Zhang Fan. Shao Hua knew what Zhang Fan meant and swallowed his words alive.

"Hehe, listen to me. You didn't buy this car for nothing. You'll have to pick up your grandchildren in the future."

"You are good at calculation! It's not in vain to spend money on Laozi! " Zhang Fan's father said a word.

Zhang Fan's mother immediately patted the old man, and then took a look, which means: if you don't talk, people won't think you're dumb.

"Nowhere..."

Shaohua's mother also wanted to say that Zhang Fan directly said, "Oh, my mother, don't hesitate. The deposit has been paid.

If you don't buy the car, the deposit will not be refunded! "

Zhang Fan cut the mess with a quick knife and decided the matter directly.

Then, before the four AIS store was closed, Zhang Fan took the old man to choose a car.

Shaohua handles some things much better than Zhang Fan, but some things still have to be handled by Zhang Fan. For example, if Shaohua comes to buy a car.

It's estimated that mother and mother can quarrel together.

Zhang Fan's father and father-in-law fell in love with Jetta at a glance, "that's it!"

"Yes, that's it. The car is still good." Shaohua's father nodded " When I was young, I saw our leaders take this car. I envied it at that time! "

"You'd better buy an SUV. After all, the road to the farm is not good." Zhang Fan persuaded.

"Like yours?" Zhang Fan's father asked.

"Yes! Almost. "

"You can forget it. Your thing is a tool car. A car or a car is better. Is it your father-in-law?"

"Yes. The car still looks magnificent! "

Zhang Fan actually waited for the two old men to see a good car before he paid the deposit, and then took the old men to report to the driving school.

It is the duty of children to let the old man live and rest.

After Ouyang finished the recruitment of nurses, Zhang Fan began to live between the two cities.

Because he has just opened cardiothoracic surgery, and there are not many operations in tea vegetable hospital, Zhang Fan almost goes to the bird market every three days and runs back and forth to the bird market every three days.

As a result, at the weekend, Zhang Fan was about to leave the city, and Ouyang called.

"Turn around and come back. The traditional Chinese medicine hospital asks us for surgical consultation. Come back! "

Chapter 835

Jealousy, this thing is wonderful. For example, the college entrance examination is coming soon. As a result, you are escorted to Shuimu or the golden mean.

It's amazing. It's estimated that the students in your class are jealous and can stew you in a pot.

But for schools like No. 4 middle school, no one is jealous or even curious about going to Oxford or Cambridge after graduation.

The same goes for the units. In fact, the tea element traditional Chinese medicine hospital and the people's hospital were one in those years. Later, they diverged greatly and became two hospitals.

The people's hospital is regarded as the eldest son, inheriting more family property, while the traditional Chinese medicine hospital inherits less. It is regarded as the youngest son expelled.

In the years just after the separation, the level of the two hospitals was similar, and the orthopedics and endocrinology of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital were slightly better than those of the municipal hospital.

After Lao Huang took office, the municipal hospital vigorously developed surgery, and the traditional Chinese medicine hospital gradually became a little less famous than the municipal hospital.

But people can still stand up and play a dozen. Just like the City Derby, each has its own fans.

In particular, the level of some cattle fed people living in tea plants was quite strong.

With the exit of this generation, the concept of hospital construction is gradually different.

Although China strongly supports the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine, how to say, Ouyang came out of the municipal hospital, and Zhang Fan came, which directly changed the tractor into a gorgeous sports car.

Ouyang, in particular, suppressed the former Secretary in the hospital.

For all the hospital construction concepts, the former Secretary didn't even dare to have any ideas.

Then the hospital gave full play to its original strengths and made rapid progress. Moreover, Ouyang killed the medical finance. He could ask for more, not less.

It can be said that Ouyang is an internal pressure secretary and external pressure traditional Chinese medicine hospital.

Therefore, when the municipal hospital entered the Ouyang era, the traditional Chinese medicine hospital could not stand at the same level as the tea element municipal hospital.

However, people have a sense of honor. Anyway, the traditional Chinese medicine hospital went hand in hand with the municipal hospital.

Therefore, generally speaking, traditional Chinese medicine hospitals rarely turn to municipal hospitals for business.

They would rather invite experts from the bird market than a city hospital to help.

There was Ouyang before and Zhang Fan after. Ouyang's repressive power is in the tea vegetable city.

Zhang Fan's repressive force is beyond tea.

Although Zhang Fan doesn't have such a strong comparative mind as Ouyang, when his level of influence reaches a certain level, he doesn't want to suppress, it will also form suppression.

Some people may say that Zhang Fan is so famous that tea vegetarians don't know.

In fact, this is very simple. Most people don't have the leisure to know the doctors in the local hospital.

Unless you have a need, isn't it fragrant to see female stars cheating and male stars cheating?

And those who really know Zhang fan are actually some surgeons. As someone said, it is not your friends who know you, but your peers.

Surgery in traditional Chinese medicine hospital also has its own characteristics, especially in trauma.

Combining Chinese medicine, Mongolian medicine, Tibetan medicine and Kazakh medicine, and then using grassland specific herbs according to local conditions, there are still some specialties.

However, several presidents of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital did not know how to think. Instead of giving up their specialties, they vigorously developed profitable surgery and hard steel for gongs and drums in municipal hospitals.

What does surgery rely on to make money? It doesn't rely on the level of doctors. This thing depends on consumables.

To put it bluntly, it's just some built-in and static drugs.

Abandoning manual reset, abandoning the famous and ethnic herbs unique to the grassland, he took his own shortcomings, put his life on the steel plate, put his life on the patch, and put his life more than the amount of surgery.

As a result, within a few years, the hospital was huabuhua and xibuxi. A case was full of antibiotics. Unexpectedly, doctors had to use dialectics to write medical records.

It's also a matter of laughing at the dead. Open the medical records of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital, the patient's wound is obviously red and swollen, the routine use of antibiotics, and then a dialectic!

Therefore, whether hospitals or enterprises, if this thing meets an unreliable leader, it will decline quickly.

In the past, when Chinese medicine hospitals encountered patients who were difficult to deal with, they often invited experts from bird market for consultation.

With the rise of Zhang Fan, it is more and more difficult for traditional Chinese medicine hospitals to hire surgical experts in bird market even if they spend more money.

Especially after Zhang Fan won the first attached book, the effect was immediate.

The tea vegetable traditional Chinese medicine hospital called the experts in bird market. They heard it was surgical and tea vegetable.

The direct smile is this: Alas, there are too many operations recently, so I can't go away.

He didn't say anything else or mention Zhang Fan. Just one word, he couldn't leave. This is avoiding suspicion.

There are only a few top surgeons in a province, and the circle is so small.

Although Zhang Fan drifts away from this circle and doesn't participate much, he has a good reputation.

For example, although I'm not in the Jianghu, my reputation has spread.

If you want to be Jianglong, think about it first.

Therefore, surgery in traditional Chinese medicine hospitals, especially at the beginning of this year, is becoming more and more difficult.

The former president of the municipal hospital sometimes said sadly: are we going to be merged by Ouyang?

When the hospital sought external consultation through the medical department, director Chen Sheng reported the matter to Ouyang at the first time.

Generally, this level of consultation is not presided over by the Health Bureau. The medical department will designate the doctor of which department to go.

But this is a traditional Chinese medicine hospital. Now I seek consultation, which means I have been convinced and others bow their heads.

Ouyang was overjoyed when he heard it, so he didn't care which surgery it was.

Shake people first“ Where is Zhang Yuan? ”

"Zhang Yuan told me this morning that he was going to the bird market. I haven't been out of the city for a long time. "

Didn't let director Chen Sheng of the medical department call. Ouyang called Zhang Fan himself.

"Let the directors of surgery get ready, put on their white coats, and let's go for consultation when hospital Zhang comes.

Unified action, all take 120, and no private car is allowed to drive! Drive out the 120 with the hospital logo.

Even if it's rationed by the state! "

"OK." Chen Sheng nodded. After leaving the dean's office, Chen Sheng reluctantly shook his head.

Because of the establishment of the emergency center, all emergencies in the tea vegetable area are triaged in the Municipal People's hospital.

Therefore, the state has also allocated professional 120. Since it is allocated to the emergency center, the state cannot suffer losses.

The words "catechin 120" are printed on the body of the emergency center.

In the past, the hospital bought 120 by itself, and Ouyang won't let the country get cheap. It is printed with the words of catechin people's Hospital 120.

There are a lot of things here. Don't look at these words. Everyone has a lot of thoughts.

A few years ago, when there was no platform for 120, the hospitals went their own way.

Sometimes one call can call 120 from seven or eight hospitals, and sometimes 10 calls can't call one.

Later, the state unified first aid and established 120 platforms, but at the beginning, many hospitals were not very willing to accept the unified deployment of the state.

What to do? The country is also very thief. First, call up the hospital and sign up by ourselves. Who is willing to do this.

Lao Huang didn't know whether he had foresight or to save face. Anyway, he took down the emergency platform, and the traditional Chinese medicine hospital pretended to be deaf and foolish and didn't want the 120 platform.

As a result, the state has given strong support to first aid.

One CT is two. CT more than 20 years ago is much more expensive than MRI now. 120 special cars are one team.

It is said that when the materials were distributed, the then president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital almost lost his breath.

Zhang Fan drove into the hospital. Ouyang in white coats and a group of directors had already stood on the steps of the administrative building and waited.

Zhang Fan didn't want to get off, thinking that Ouyang would get on his car.

Although Ouyang is not tall, as long as Zhang Fan's car is there, she won't take her Audi.

Results Chen Sheng, director of the medical department, took Zhang Fan's white coat and said, "Zhang hospital, today's unified activity, the European hospital will not give way to private cars."

"Oh!" Zhang Fan nodded, took the white coat and put it on 120. The old lady saw that everyone got on the car.

"Let's go!" Really, not only his tone is high, but also his gestures can be a little bit like Mao standing on the top of the mountain to see the momentum of rivers and mountains.

In the back row, Zhang Fan quietly asked the director of general foreign studies, "director Zhao, what's the situation?"

"I don't know. The president informed the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine for consultation, and then asked all the surgical directors at home to come."

Zhao Quanping explained to Zhang Fan.

"Stop!" Before she got to the surgery building, the old lady asked the driver to stop.

Then he turned his head and looked at a group of directors: "cheer up and straighten my back!"

Sometimes, really, Zhang Fan is very helpless about Ouyang's aggressive personality.

I don't know where she got such great spirit.

Anyway, hearing this kind of thing, she was like an adrenaline surge. It was estimated that the hairs on her body stood upside down and were always ready to prick people.

After getting out of the car, the old lady not only tidied up her clothes, but also turned her head and stared at the surgical nurses.

Then he looked almost, "let's go!" The old lady took the lead and walked towards the surgical building of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital.

The white coats of the municipal hospital and the traditional Chinese medicine hospital are slightly different. The layman can't see it if he doesn't pay attention, but the expert can see it as well.

"What she wants, what she wants." In the administrative building of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital, the president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital regretted falling the space cup to the ground.

In the courtyard of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital, a small and serious old lady, with a group of surgeons as strong as a bear behind her, seemed to take a positive step in the yard!

Really, Ouyang took the lead. The surgeons were originally more majestic and a group of men.

More than a dozen big men stand out against Ouyang. That momentum, if these people change into black suits, it is directly the tea vegetable carrying the handle to patrol the street (GAI)!

At the beginning, the patients didn't pay much attention to what they saw. There was not much in the hospital, so they wore more white coats, which was nothing strange.

However, the doctors of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital fried the pot, "God, Lao Ou brought people to occupy the hospital."

"I'll go, old Ou is coming!"

"Come on, come on, the president of the Municipal People's hospital has come to take over our hospital!"

Those who watch the excitement are not afraid of big things, especially some young doctors who have no preparation, and some small nurses.

Twitter, twitter, let the patients and their families who didn't pay attention to it see it.

Ouyang's momentum was really fierce. He was expressionless and raised his head, as if to say to the onlookers:

Keep a low profile, Ouyang is coming!

Zhang Fan and a group of old masters turned red. A consultation made it look like doctors from the Municipal People's Hospital demonstrating.

The president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital ran downstairs like crazy. If you slow down a little, it is estimated that Ouyang can walk in the yard for ten minutes!

At this moment, no doctor was willing to stand in a row with Ouyang, and even Zhang Fan couldn't help delaying several steps.

The aura is too strong.

Chapter 836

Ouyang, Lao Gao and the current president of the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine are people of the same age. Anyway, they all have one thing in common, that is, they are full of toughness.

Although Lao Gao was suppressed by Ouyang and couldn't move anywhere, he just didn't bow his head.

The president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital, when he was in the tea vegetable hospital, was so half lower than Ouyang. He was not less affected by anti righteousness.

It's not easy to level, but I still have to be angry and sad.

Downstairs in the surgery building, the president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital looked at Ouyang. If he could shoot bullets in his eyes, he estimated that he would be able to make a sudden breakthrough in these municipal hospitals.

Unfortunately, he can't. Looking at Ouyang, he doesn't want to speak first, but Ouyang's momentum is too fierce.

Which look, which look, originally intended not to take the initiative to speak, he still couldn't stand to speak first.

"Ouyuan, please!" The president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital clenched his teeth and the muscles on his face were stiff, but even so, he had to pull his mouth and show a polite smile.

It's hard.

"It's all right. After all, as a leader in the tea element medical industry, it's our responsibility and obligation to lend a helping hand to our brother units."

Looking at Ouyang's arrogant answer, the president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital's teeth are almost broken.

If it weren't for the patient who took the pot, to tell the truth, he would rather die than ask Ouyang, but now he can't ask, and the recent foreign aid bird market experts can't come.

But the patient's family members are jumping on his desk.

In fact, the matter is also simple. After leaving the tea vegetable city hospital and entering the Chinese medicine hospital, the president of the Chinese medicine hospital suddenly felt that the two units were very different.

When he was in the municipal hospital, he knew many people as vice president, but generally speaking, many needed his help.

For example, leaders of enterprises and institutions and leaders of various industries usually contact by phone and text messages, and there will be small gifts of tea, tobacco and alcohol during the new year's festival.

After arriving at the traditional Chinese medicine hospital, it is obviously different.

Those people in the past, although they are still connected, the relationship seems not as close as before.

On the contrary, some elderly middle-level leaders who had little contact before began to have contact.

There are also some ladies who know more and more.

They don't have any discomfort. They just came to recuperate. There was a little ulcer in the mouth. They said it was a strong internal fire. They should find an old Chinese doctor to recuperate.

Also, I'm a little depressed recently. I always doze off at the meeting. Is it a little empty? Should I eat some Liuwei Dihuang honey pills?

In the past, he engaged in general foreign studies. After becoming the president of the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine, in order to better build the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine, he also began to slowly self-study a little Chinese medicine.

This is not only to manage doctors, but also to talk to people with special needs.

Otherwise, people have oral ulcers and say that there is a strong internal fire. You give people a virus infection. Isn't there no way to talk.

In the technology industry, I'm not afraid you don't understand, but I'm afraid you don't understand.

This half bottle is the most prone to accidents. If you don't understand it, you will be in awe. If you understand it, you will be more awed and cautious.

But when half a bottle is shaking, you often think it's nothing great. Don't you just eat some herbs and cook some soup!

Anyway, there are prescriptions. It's over to fill the medicine according to the order~

This is a little bigger. Medical care pays attention to personal experience and proficiency, both Western and Chinese medicine.

Chinese medicine, in particular, pays attention to one that varies from person to person.

This thing can't be read according to the book.

There is a leader in the tea vegetable party history office. He retired to the second line because of his age. Although he did not enter the government, he still had strong contacts.

In his early years, he was in charge of the supply of non-staple food in cities. His official position was not big, but his power was really big.

And often because of the field, I have seen some of the world.

When he was young, his son suddenly got lymphedema. At that time, he sought medical treatment everywhere for his child.

Even went to Anxi city. The hospital suggested surgery, but the child couldn't even say a word. So poor little man would get a knife. Really, the heart of a parent is broken.

As a result, I don't know the relative at home said that there was an old Chinese doctor in the municipal hospital who was very accurate in looking after children's lymphedema.

At that time, when everyone was poor, he took a can from home to the old man.

The old man looked at the child with a smile. He was really God. After several pairs of decoction, the child's lymphedema subsided.

At that time, the family was really grateful. There was no way to describe the mood, just like the feeling of another village.

Especially the old man returned the can intact after seeing the doctor. Really, it moved the whole family.

Unexpectedly, twenty years later, the children were twenty-five or six. They found a girlfriend and were about to get married. As a result, lymphedema happened again.

The child's parents came to the tea vegetable traditional Chinese medicine hospital to find the old doctor. Unfortunately, the old man returned to his hometown after retirement and died a few years later.

The child was about to get married, got the disease, even the woman didn't dare to say, and then went directly to the traditional Chinese medicine hospital.

After the old man left, although he brought several disciples, the Chinese doctor was too particular.

There is a saying among the elderly that three years of drug recognition, three years of drug recognition and three years of tangtougou.

After ten years of being a child, he entered the school. Therefore, after the old man left, none of the tea vegetarians could graduate.

Although there are prescriptions, there may be none that can be easily used.

After the patient's family came, they directly found the president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital.

As soon as the Dean heard that the disease had been treated before, the finished prescriptions were all there. Looking again, he was an old leader, so he took everything into the ward.

The family also paid attention to it. They sent the Dean two good cigarettes and two bottles of good wine. Then they thought it should be nothing, so they waited for treatment.

As a result, the prescription did not change and the procedure did not change. After treatment, the child's condition became more and more serious.

Finally, the condition changed. Even the couple who were not doctors knew that something had happened.

And after the son's object knew, he came to the hospital and saw the scene in front of him. He went straight home and divided his hands.

Now, it's big. It's hard for men to come forward, but the women of this family don't stop.

In the office, pointing to the dean's nose and scolding the Dean, they all want to find a hole to get in.

"You still have the face to be the dean. When you accept cigarettes and wine, you promise. Now something has happened.

You can talk. What do you say that our child's condition is more serious than before and needs to be transferred to another hospital? What did you do earlier.

If you don't understand, don't worry. Now you want us to leave the hospital, beautiful you.

I put my words here today. If you don't solve it and don't find someone to treat my children, your Dean will come to an end. "

The dean is sweating. Really, the prescription is left by the old expert. It hasn't changed at all, but why is the more treatment, the more serious it is.

He grabbed the doctor and asked. The doctor hesitated and couldn't explain clearly. The Dean soon fanned his face with regret.

Finally, I had to ask for help and contacted the bird market. The bird market experts didn't come, so I had to bite my teeth and invite Ouyang.

Lymphatic, what the hell is this thing.

If it is explained according to the professional, it is very troublesome, and the lymphatic system was not paid much attention by the medical community in the past.

At present, there is no unified understanding of lymph in academic circles, especially the definition of lymphatic diseases.

Moreover, many causes of this lymphatic disease have not been clearly found and defined.

According to the statistics of the international lymphatic Association, there are about tens of millions of patients with various types of lymphedema all over the world.

In China, there is no specific statistics, but according to the estimation of Professor Zhang, the first person in China, it is definitely no less than 3 million.

If the blood vessel is compared to the highway of the human body, then the lymph is the war preparedness highway.

The terminal opening of lymph is in the tissue space, and finally converges under the clavicle and enters the vein.

Moreover, lymph is actually like another vascular system, crawling around the body like a spider web.

In addition to the brain, spinal cord, retina and cornea, lymph nodes are found almost everywhere in the human body.

Every once in a while, a lymph node will form, like a fortress in ancient times.

Lymph nodes are like fortresses guarding important parts of the human body.

For example, the lymph nodes in the neck, armpit and groin are like checkpoints, blocking the entry of virus cells and abnormal proteins into the heart, an important part of the body!

Therefore, when cancer patients have cancer cell proliferation, doctors first check the lymph nodes in the neck, armpit and groin.

Lymph is rich in special fighting cells when viruses and bacteria enter the body.

When phagocytes such as leukocytes cannot be killed, the war spreads, and the final decisive battle is in the lymph nodes.

Therefore, when some people have red, swollen and painful throats, they often have swollen neck lymph nodes.

This is because bacteria or viruses have burned the war to the fortress of the human body.

If the lymph nodes can't stop, the physical symptom is not a sore throat.

Maybe there are symptoms such as high fever and chills.

For example, the spleen, tonsil and thymus of the human body can actually be regarded as lymph nodes.

Lymph nodes are fortresses in wartime. In peacetime, their function is to assist blood vessels to recover body tissue fluid.

Because the vascular system is delicate, some macromolecular proteins cannot enter the blood vessels, and staying in the tissue space will lead to edema.

At this time, the lymphatic vessels act as an auxiliary road of the highway, allowing these overweight vehicles to recover from the lymphatic vessels to the heart and then send them to the liver for decomposition.

If there is an abnormality in the lymphatic system and the protein cannot be recovered in time, at this time, the macromolecular protein is stuffed into the tissue space like a sticky dough.

At this time, the disease formed is the famous elephantiasis!

The disease is more common in the South than in the north. Especially filariasis, which was prevalent in the early years in Jiangnan, will lead to lymphedema.

The president of the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine invited Ouyang and Zhang Fan into the surgical building.

There is no greeting. The president of the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine is not in the mood of greeting at this time.

He has one goal now. If he wants to cure the patient, he wants to think about how to get the patient to agree to transfer.

In fact, the patient's family members are also angry in their hearts. They are already contacting the hospital in bird city.

When Ouyang and others were invited into the ward and saw the patient, they took a breath.

Lymphedema, because there are lymph nodes in almost all passes of the human body, when lymphedema occurs, it can be said to be quite amazing.

For example, filariasis was prevalent in Jiangnan that year. Once the parasite enters the body, it likes to block the lymph of the human reproductive system.

Really, when you get this disease, it's quite terrible. For both men and women, the lower body is like a super meatball with a slightly darker color and the size of a person's head.

And this meatball is just like the person who blanches the meatball. There are all kinds of small meat bumps on the meatball.

Not to mention the patient's feelings, it is no exaggeration to see that people can have the idea of escape.

Moreover, the thigh skin near the lower body is as dark or light as countless leeches. With the shaking of muscles, this thing seems to be able to move, which is quite terrible.

Lymphedema caused by filariasis often leads to lower body edema, while other lymphedema often leads to unilateral lower limb swelling.

It can also be said that there will be edema wherever it is blocked.

Because the lymph mainly transmits protein, the edema caused by protein accumulation is quite different from that caused by general liquid.

Chapter 837

Ouyang, with Zhang Fan and the surgical directors of the municipal hospital, entered the surgical building bravely as if they had won the war.

Before entering the ward, I heard seven or eight women curse the president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital like singing an opera.

Don't think about it. It's absolutely that the patient's seven aunts accompany the patient's mother and curse.

A woman, originally a weak animal like water, can once become a mother.

No matter how self-restraint and temperament mother is, if you slap her in the face, she may be able to reason with you.

But once you hurt her child, you will never die and work hard with you.

The patient's mother is uncomfortable. In the same disease, the same patient and the same hospital, the treatment results are very different.

In particular, the president of the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine blew the cow and received gifts from others.

Therefore, while contacting other hospitals, the patient's mother cursed the president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital in front of the little nurse who came in for treatment.

When the door of the sick room was opened, the gossip little nurse was so happy that she almost joined in and cursed together. When she turned her head, her Dean's face was purple.

The little girl was so frightened that she quickly swished and ran away with the treatment plate.

Ouyang deliberately glanced at his former subordinate, now the president of the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine, which means: look, look at your management level.

"You still have the face to come. Look at my child's legs. Ah, you quack, you're killing."

The patient's mother saw the president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital as if she saw an enemy.

After scolding, the patient's mother was stopped by her relatives because Ouyang stood there with a cold face.

Although I didn't say a word, the momentum is absolutely different from the disgraced president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital.

Moreover, the inverted triangular eye is not easy to mess with.

The patient's father knew Ouyang. As soon as he saw Ouyang, he hurried to pull his wife.

"Ouyuan, ah, I'm sorry to trouble you. The child was going to get married. All the invitations for you are ready.

But now, alas! "

With that, the old man sighed dejectedly.

Ouyang couldn't deny the patient's family members. He looked at the people around him and said, "irrelevant personnel, please go out. We need to check the patient."

Cold words, without any emotional color.

But the effect was absolutely good. The patient's family hurried out of the ward.

This is the strength of Ouyang. No matter what the situation is, Ouyang is here for consultation.

If you leak a little sympathy or approachable posture, then the next is endless crying.

She is a doctor, not a judge, and she brings a group of surgical directors, whose time is still very valuable.

Now the face of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital has been beaten, and I've had enough of showing off. It's time to work.

After the family members went out, there were only the patient's father and mother and the patient lying in bed.

Zhang Fan looked at the patient lying in bed. If he only looked at the upper body, he couldn't see anything unusual at all.

At most, the patient looked bleak. After seeing many people enter the ward, the patient couldn't help tightening his quilt a little.

Really, it's completely subconscious. Normally, twenty-five or six young men are at the peak of their personality mania.

It's often what you look at. Try again.

But the young man had a feeling of weakness. The quilt could cover his lower body, but Zhang Fan saw a big bag bulging five or six centimeters from the patient's feet at a glance.

The relatives went out. When the doctors of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital saw the experts from the municipal hospital coming, they also entered the ward one by two.

At the beginning of the consultation, Ouyang slightly turned his head and looked at the doctor behind him. He was arrogant and didn't speak. That means: go!

The surgical directors looked at Zhang Fan at the same time. Zhang Fan was neither modest nor modest.

It's a little disgusting to be modest in your current position.

Zhang Fan walked up to the patient, smiled, and Ouyang, standing next to Zhang Fan, couldn't help but curl his mouth!

But he didn't speak.

Some doctors in the traditional Chinese medicine hospital know Zhang Fan and some don't.

At this time, knowing Zhang Fan's, they all took a step forward, hoping to see more clearly.

Without knowing Zhang Fan's, I was very curious and thought: who is this, so young!

However, no one speaks and consultation, both inside and outside the hospital, is a very serious thing.

Zhang Fan smiled, "I'm a doctor in the Municipal People's hospital. Can I have a look? Don't be nervous, just do a preliminary examination! "

The patient looked at his father. Before his father spoke, he looked at Zhang Fan and nodded.

Although I don't know what the doctor's level is, his expression, his words and his actions can give people a feeling of stability.

Zhang Fan rubbed his hands and made his hands a little hot. Although it was early spring, the weather was still a little cold.

Gently opened the quilt, not only the doctor behind Zhang Fan, but also Ouyang couldn't help taking a breath.

However, Zhang Fan's face remained unchanged, and even the slight smile on his face did not change a little.

This is Zhang Fan's ability to imitate his master. When he was in Qingniao, old Lu saw any patient, no matter how serious and abrupt, the expression on the old man's face did not change at all.

Zhang Fan has practiced in front of the mirror many times. As a result, it's useless. When he should be surprised, he will still be surprised.

Finally, Zhang Fan found that if he forced the smile on his face, it seemed that no matter how surprised he was, his expression would still be controllable.

It's also helpless. It's estimated that this is the sequelae left by selling instant noodles in those years, so now Zhang Fan will stretch his smile in advance when he meets patients who are nervous.

When the patient heard the doctors' surprise, he grabbed the quilt and covered it, but Zhang Fan held the quilt firmly with both hands.

Look at him kindly, as if to say: please believe me!

Looking, looking at Zhang Fan's eyes, looking at Zhang Fan's motionless smile.

The patient gave up the act of covering the quilt and began to cooperate slowly.

"Do you feel it?"

"Yes, just a sense of tension."

"Do you feel tingling?"

"Yes!"

Zhang Fan pinched the patient's swollen skin, first felt the other party's skin temperature with the back of his hand, and then pressed it to feel the swelling character.

Finally, stab the other end of the percussion hammer with an acute angle, and then carefully look at the patient's expression.

To tell the truth, looking at the swelling of the patient's lower leg, Zhang Fan said he was not surprised. It was a lie.

Really, at this time, the patient's left lower limb is like an extraordinarily huge meat watermelon.

In this way, you may not realize the current state of the patient's left leg.

It's like the patient stepped on the brown and black pickle jar, which is about the size of his head.

As a result, he was so hard that he stepped through it with one foot, and then his foot penetrated the bottom of the brown and black ceramic altar.

Really, it's like a huge flesh pimple growing on the patient's lower leg. A globular mass not much smaller than a basketball.

Moreover, this swelling, especially tough, feels like touching an eraser in your hand.

When you press it down, you can still feel the rebound slightly.

And this swelling gives people a rather diaphragmatic feeling.

For example, the general swelling, boys probably have, naughty fight, was wiped on the forehead with a fist.

Then a blister the size of an egg on his forehead.

This is also a swelling. Others will only feel ridiculous, but they won't feel diaphragmatic.

This swelling of the patient will directly make people feel that the diaphragm should be. Like a pretty young woman.

Temperament, figure and expression are top-level. As soon as she raises her hand and frowns, her every move makes people feel mature beauty and mature charm.

Then you put your head in someone's neck and want to smell the charm of beauty.

As a result, I didn't smell the charm, but I saw a huge rich bag in front of me.

Then, the absolute gentleman can change to the extreme. He can even take out his handkerchief and cover his mouth.

Really, Zhang Fan looked at the swollen calf of the patient in front of him, just as a hungry man saw a rich bag.

It'll definitely make you spit out your lunch.

Is it disgusting? In fact, it's just a huge flesh pimple.

But this thing is a super diaphragmatic response that people can feel.

After checking, Zhang Fan thought a little and said to the director of general foreign affairs: "director Zhao, have a look."

"OK!" Zhao Quanping nodded and took over Zhang Fan's inspection position.

This is Zhang Fan's attitude towards life. Those who respect others are respected by others.

Has Zhang Fan diagnosed this disease? To tell you the truth, Zhang Fan diagnosed it at the first sight.

But after the examination, Zhang Fan didn't speak first, but asked other doctors behind him to examine.

Is this Zhang Fan Cangzhuo? No, it's a level, or a style of life.

Ouyang came for consultation with such a big situation. Yes, Zhang Fan's current surgical level is the first knife in the municipal hospital.

However, Zhang Fan will never take care of himself. After the examination, he made a diagnosis and gave everyone an order for treatment.

After Lao Zhao finished his inspection, he said to Zhang Fan, "Zhang Yuan, what do you think? Make a diagnosis! "

"Good!" Zhang Fan nodded gently, glanced at Ouyang, and Ouyang nodded.

"Typical lymphedema causes swelling of the left Kwai, and the operation must be performed as soon as possible. The longer the delay, the more severe the symptoms."

As soon as Zhang Fan said this, the patient's mother turned around and tried desperately with the president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital.

And the patient's father grabbed his wife.

"Zhang Yuan, I'm XX. It's the first time we've met. You don't know me. European Institute knows me.

If you give me an accurate answer, where is the best hospital to do this kind of operation, and who does it best? The child is still young. I dare not gamble.

In the traditional Chinese medicine hospital, they told me that there was no problem at all, but the more they delayed, the more serious they delayed.

Don't blame me. Make up for it after you have feelings. You can show mercy to Zhang Yuan. "

The patient's father had a sad face.

Ouyang doesn't like it anymore. He wants to talk.

Zhang Fan interrupted Ouyang's words for the first time.

Although the old lady was not happy, it was Zhang Fan who interrupted her. Now she was reluctant to lose face when there were many people.

If someone else, Ouyang would have broken out and dared not let me speak, it would be you.

"At present, the hospital with the largest number of such operations in our country is mordu No. 9 hospital. As for who did the best, I really can't say. "

Zhang Fan smiled and explained.

To tell the truth, this kind of operation is an accurate one. In the past, Zhang Fan thought that the big man was more accurate in knife technique.

However, if Zhang Fan boasted about accuracy, he said that he was one of the top three horses in the world, and it was estimated that he could stand on his feet.

However, boasting that Zhang fan can't do it, Zhang fan can't say it if he wants to say that others are more accurate without conscience.

So

After Zhang Fan finished, Zhao Quanping said, "Lao Li, you can't find the temple door with a pig's head. The true God is in front of you. What are you asking for? "

"Oh!" The patient's father looked surprised. He was the director of general surgery. He knew him.

As we all know, at this time, it is still a patient with secondary treatment. No matter how bold the doctor is, he will not talk nonsense in front of so many people.

"Zhang Yuan..." the patient's father stammered. He immediately understood, but what should he say.

At this time, the patient's mother suddenly said, "Wow!" Cried.

Then, the crying mother grabbed Zhang Fan's two arms, "Dean Zhang, save the children. The children are getting married. As a result, the object saw the child's legs and regretted his marriage when he came home without saying a word.

Dean Zhang, I've knelt down for you. The child's father is also worried and angry. You adults don't remember villains. "

His mother tried to kneel down and bluffed Zhang Fan to lift the plump woman up.

"Don't do this, don't do this, we..."

"What are you doing? Let's transfer to another hospital. What a big thing, crying. "

Ao Jiao's Ouyang glanced at Zhang Fan obliquely, as if to say "what a big thing, it's so rough!"

With that, the old lady walked away with her little black shoes on the slope.

As soon as we saw it, we hurried to keep up with Ouyang. The director of general foreign studies stayed to explain the transfer.

Zhang Fan walked up to Ouyang, "Dean, I just..."

"When it's time to be domineering, you must be domineering. Don't be like a big girl.

Just like Lao Gao, others thought you were not good enough. "

"Hey, hey!" Zhang Fan grinned at Ouyang with a silly smile.

"Ha ha!" Ouyang PI smiled and looked at Zhang Fan.

Although she hates Zhang Fan's sunflowers, she also likes Zhang Fan's character.

Even if Ouyang slanders Lao Gao, Zhang Fan doesn't answer a word and never cooperates.

This is what Ouyang is more pleased with.

Chapter 838

"Who is this?"

Ouyang took Zhang Fan and they left first. The rest was handed over from the Municipal Hospital of general surgery to the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine.

There is a saying in hospital handover that when patients are transferred, the last hospital will sign an exemption contract.

Although it is an exemption contract, the last hospital is responsible for everything before going to the next hospital.

Only when the doctor of the second hospital signs and receives the patient number can the task be regarded as the end.

Moreover, although it is an exemption contract, in fact, this thing has no legal efficiency at all.

Unless the patient signs an automatic discharge form before discharge.

Ouyang, as the president of the largest hospital in the tea vegetable area, is also a woman. Although she is no longer young, she is still very famous.

As long as they are local tea vegetarians engaged in medical treatment, even if they have not seen them, they have heard their names.

Others were almost amused. Even if Zhang Fan, in addition to the doctors and nurses of the tea vegetable hospital, some surgeons with higher professional titles in other hospitals knew him.

So when Zhang Fan left, some young doctors in the hospital of traditional Chinese medicine were very curious.

"He? You don't even know that?" A little older doctor looked at these new surgeons around him and said in surprise.

In fact, he also listened to his master.

"Brother Yang, just tell me who he is. He is so young. It is estimated that he will graduate for two or three years at most, but he seems to have a lot of style.

The old doctors in the city hospital seem to respect him very much. Moreover, I saw that our president was too polite to him. "

Listening to everyone's flattering tone, the slightly older doctor said ostentatiously, "what graduated two or three years ago, people graduated only two years ago, and they are the same as you.

It's nothing strange, but you know, he's already the executive vice president of the municipal hospital. Ha ha! "

"Well! I'll go. In this world, his father's intestines and stomach! "

"Fool, if my father has intestines and stomach, I still come to the hospital as a doctor. Why should I go to the health bureau?"

Two doctors of the same age as Zhang Fan looked at Zhang Fan's back and felt like a dog.

At present, I haven't even mixed up with the establishment, but the other party has become the Dean by relying on his good father. What's this.

"It's probably not the stomach, but also an official. But he doesn't know what to think. With such a good father, he has to be a doctor. He's short of strings!

Ah, goods are better than goods. Let's go. There's nothing to see. I have to change my dressing! "

It's hard for doctors in municipal hospitals. In fact, it's even harder for traditional Chinese medicine hospitals. The state gives considerable support to traditional Chinese medicine hospitals.

If you can eat people's food, you have to be managed by people, and the preparation of national cards is quite strict. Therefore, many doctors who have graduated for two years have not been prepared yet.

I don't know how much this thing is in other industries. Anyway, a few years ago, it was particularly popular in the medical industry.

Therefore, later, the state was particularly strict in staffing control. Moreover, the medical industry, the preparation of this thing is particularly important.

The president of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital sent the patient out of the hospital like a hot potato.

Really, he is now like swallowing a newly cooked dumpling. His mouth is hot and full of bubbles. He didn't eat any stuffing, but others still say he is greedy.

At the municipal hospital, Ouyang watched everyone leave. She quietly asked Zhang Fan, "are you sure about the operation? How can I look at it? Which child's leg seems to be very serious."

"It's not difficult. It looks dangerous. As long as you pay attention to the details, there's no problem."

Zhang Fan thought and said to Ouyang.

"You say, how about we set up a vascular surgery. You see, there's nothing we can do if you're not here."

"Ouyuan, I didn't hit you. If you want to do vascular surgery, you don't have many doctors. It's probably just like that.

You see, it's very difficult for us to recruit postgraduates from general foreign studies. It's estimated that there is little hope for us to recruit doctors. "

Zhang Fan is also helpless. It is good to divide the departments more and more carefully, but the more to the end discipline, the more sophisticated talents are needed.

For example, you have a large number of graduate students engaged in gastroenterology, but if you go further, there will be fewer pancreas.

If we go further, organ transplantation and organ reconstruction, nine fingers are gone from ten fingers, and whether this last finger can make achievements is still uneven.

Therefore, whether a hospital or a general hospital is powerful or not, you just look at the other party's orthopedics, the other party's general surgery seems to be very powerful.

However, you should look at their small departments, such as vascular surgery, such as hematology.

"That's right. You have a mental preparation for this. You will take someone out this graduation season.

We are not going to recruit people in the frontier this year. Let's go away. Also, did you tell old Lu to dig some students from the old man? " Ouyang's heart is really big.

"Amount ~!" When Ouyang said it, Zhang Fan didn't take it seriously, but Ouyang didn't forget.

"You find a chance to talk about it. You see you're all here. Heroes also need three help. Right? You find a chance to talk to the old man. He will definitely give you consideration."

After that, Ouyang gave Zhang Fan a pair of faces: believe me, it will never be wrong!

In the ward of general surgery, doctors and nurses kept going into the ward to see the patient's huge legs during ward rounds and treatment.

This has also caused great psychological pressure on patients. Don't let them see. They are all doctors and nurses. They are deeply afraid of whether they will have a bad impact on their children after being provoked.

Let's see, twenty-five or six young men can't lift their shy faces.

The patient's parents were also upset, "why don't you find Dean Ouyang?" The patient's mother said to her old man.

"It's not appropriate to find Ouyang for such a small matter. I'll find a young vice president. It looks good. "

Before long, the old man found Zhang Fan with the relationship of the director of the medical department.

Zhang Fan is designing the operation of the patient in the office of the administrative building.

There are two difficulties in this operation, one is the anastomosis of lymphatic vessels, and the other is the treatment of swollen skin.

The skin of the human body has great ductility. For example, many stars' lapi breast augmentation actually depends on the ductility of the skin.

However, even if there is a degree of ductility, such as breast augmentation, it was as big as a small shot put. At most, he can get you a large shot put and ask him to get you a basketball. He doesn't dare to kill him.

This is controllable and optional, but the disease can not be controlled. The skin on the lower leg is thin, but the jar is swollen, resulting in the extension of the skin here has reached the limit.

Even if the swelling is restored, the skin here is like taking off the meat stockings between the legs and ankles.

You can think about it. If you pull up your trouser legs, there will be a lump on your legs and neck. The drooping meat skin is just like a sand dog. It's terrible to think about it.

This thing not only affects beauty, but also leads to bacterial breeding and easy infection for a long time. Therefore, we should not only restore the patency of lymph nodes, but also consider the reconstruction of skin here.

Therefore, Zhang Fan sat in a chair in the office and looked as if he was closing his eyes. In fact, he kept experimenting with various surgical methods in the system.

Still experimenting in the system, someone knocked at the door.

"Zhang Yuan, excuse me." The director of the medical office took the patient's father into the office.

Then the director of the medical office poured a glass of water and left.

People still have this look.

"Zhang Yuan, I really don't want to disturb you. I'll ask you for the child's operation."

"It's all right. Don't worry. We will definitely take all our skills seriously."

"This is a token of my heart. You must accept it, or my wife and I will be really nervous.

Hey, seeing that you are getting married, you say... "

As he spoke, he gently took out an envelope and put it in Zhang Fan's book, and then he was about to leave.

Zhang Fan hurriedly pulled the other party, but the other party didn't want to live or die. Zhang Fan couldn't look like this. If others saw it, they thought they were fighting.

In desperation, Zhang Fan didn't say anything. When he was about to turn around when he sent the patient out of the office, the patient's father seemed to suddenly remember something.

He said to Zhang Fan, "Zhang Yuan, the child is in a bad mood and hasn't rested recently. Can you take care of him in the ward.

If it's inconvenient, I'll say it casually. Don't be difficult. "

With that, the patient's father didn't let Zhang Fan send it, so he left.

Zhang Fan stood in the corridor and thought carefully about what the other party said.

As Zhang Fan came into contact with more and more people, sometimes he had to chew some people's words over and over again.

To tell you the truth, the Chinese people pay special attention to the art of speaking. Really, for example, if a subordinate says to a superior, please support my work.

Do you want his superiors to raise his salary? No, take a closer look. It turns out that he has used a lot of consumables recently.

To put it bluntly, if the other party doesn't agree, both people can't get through their face. Euphemistically, it gives both sides a ladder.

OK or not, it can be said in the past.

Zhang Fan returns to the office, looks at the envelope and pinches it gently. It's about five thousand yuan.

Zhang Fan boiled the liver in the system and improved his level. The effect is particularly obvious. For example, the sensitivity of his hands is particularly obvious.

During the Chinese new year, Shaohua told Zhang fan that she was a little fat and didn't need to be weighed. With such a touch, Zhang Fan could probably know whether the girl's recent fat layer was thick or not.

So he didn't have to open this thing in the envelope. He knew it by touching it.

After thinking about it, Zhang Fan found Ren Li with an envelope. "Secretary, it was sent by the patient's family. I'm afraid he was too worried and didn't refuse. I'll take it and register it. "

Ren Li smiled and didn't say much. She called the hospital accountant and gave the money to the record.

After finishing it, Ren Li asked curiously, "the patient from the traditional Chinese medicine hospital has a special disease?"

"Well, it's not special. It's a little rare here. What's the matter?"

"Nothing. Today I went to the internal medicine ward round and listened to some nurses talking about big meatballs!"

Zhang Fan nodded. He even knew about internal medicine. You can think about how many doctors and nurses had to disturb others.

Now Zhang fan understands the meaning of the last sentence.

Take the director of the medical department and the chief nurse of the nursing department. Zhang Fan plans to correct everyone's discipline.

Sure enough, when Zhang Fan arrived at the general hospital, the patient's ward was like a zoo, with waves of nurses and doctors coming in and out.

Besides, there are people taking pictures with their mobile phones.

Zhang Fan's face was black with anger. When the general nurse looked at it, he hurried forward to stop everyone's visit, and then grabbed the head nurse of the general foreign university, which was a head-on reprimand.

The head nurse looked at Zhang Fan pitifully and hoped that Zhang Fan could say a word, but this time Zhang Fan didn't intend to say good words.

"Write and check. Don't try to pass without 3000 words!" The chief nurse said to the head nurse.

"Ten thousand words!" Zhang Fan added with a grimace.

Now, we all know that Zhang Fan will be angry, and it's torture to be angry.

It's written and checked. It's 10000 words. It's estimated that the head nurse will have to endure for a few days.

So, later, if Zhang Fan made a ward round, the little nurses of surgery would secretly shout: stop it, come on, black buy river!

Ouyang is happy that Zhang Fan slowly adapts to the leadership role. He is still very happy to hear that everyone privately asks Zhang Fan Hei to buy Jiang.

"What's the matter with black? It's better to buy river than sunflower!"

Chapter 839

From a technician to a comprehensive technical manager, the transformation of mentality is not made in a day.

Not only my mentality has an adaptation process, but also the mentality of colleagues, friends and family.

When Zhang Fan first became the assistant director of orthopedics, Lao Gao once said to Zhang Fan.

The mentality of managers in the medical industry is different from that in other industries, which is very changeable and complex.

Zhang Fan didn't understand at the beginning, but now he finally has a little understanding. That is, the technicians are out of control.

This is not the personality of a two person doctor, but the commonness of the whole industry.

Just as some little doctors and nurses secretly call Zhang Fan to buy Jiang for the black.

Among the names of famous ethnic groups in the frontier, buying and buying rivers is not necessarily the most, but for the Han people, buying and buying rivers is the most catchy.

So, I don't care how you come, I only go all the way. When he called Maijiang, he became Xiao Ming of the Han nationality in the frontier.

The little nurse called Zhang Fan to buy a river for the black, which is rich in a trace of worship, strange but also hope to be familiar with.

The little doctors called Zhang Fan black buy river. Most of them were jealous and unwilling to admit it.

The same young man, the same undergraduate, why is he so powerful?

It's probably because he's black!

Zhang Fan doesn't mind a thing at all. Now he is like a king, constantly patrolling his chassis and constantly exploring the materials that can be made.

It is too difficult to find talents in the medical industry. We must not only work hard, but also have talent.

But also have the mentality of being able to bear great pressure. Not only can you bear pressure, but also your mind is very important.

In this industry, if you have a bad mind and don't have a problem, it's a big problem. If you want to pull up a team and establish a good team, it's not much easier than the improvement of surgical technology.

The patients transferred from the traditional Chinese medicine hospital were scheduled for operation. The day before operation, Zhang Fan held a morning meeting for preoperative discussion in general surgery.

At present, the general foreigners in the municipal hospital have long separated their liver and gallbladder, and although the anorectal department is separated, it is not self-supporting. There are often many operations, and they still need their own general foreigners to send someone to help.

As for vascular surgery, few people go to special research. Firstly, this discipline develops relatively late and has high requirements for hardware equipment.

In the past, the municipal hospital had this heart but not that strength. With Zhang Fan's trip to the magic city, he brought a lot of equipment.

In fact, Zhang Fan also slowly considers the necessity of establishing vascular surgery, so now, Zhang Fan should slowly observe.

Vascular surgery, the real essence of vascular surgery is to dig the west wall to fill the east wall.

Therefore, the macro of vascular surgeon must have a certain height, which is different from other general surgery and specific to a certain organ.

For example, if the appendix is cut, for example, the gallbladder, it is also a truth. Even if the pancreas is the most difficult to provoke, it is still cut.

But blood vessels can't. this thing is a closed ring. If you antagonize the disease in a closed ring, you need the doctor to have a strong overall view.

Therefore, Zhang Fan also began to investigate slowly. If there is no candidate in the municipal hospital, he should cultivate himself.

The morning meeting was very successful, but Zhang Fan's goal was not achieved. The doctors in general surgery were very rude and rarely mentioned conservative treatment.

Although the patient's condition is very serious and the possibility of conservative treatment is very low, everyone's views on conservative treatment are still a little shallow.

For vascular and lymphatic diseases, surgical treatment is a last resort, and conservative treatment is the king.

For example, the treatment of lymphatic diseases started relatively late in China, but with the baking and binding therapy founded by academician Zhang Disheng, the first plastic surgeon in China, the Ninth Hospital of magic capital suddenly became a leader in the cosmetic industry.

In terms of lymphatic treatment, Chinese treatment is still unique.

It is estimated that the old man is also a greedy man. His baking and binding method is similar to that of roast duck.

For example, patients with lower limb lymphedema, first use elastic bandages or tight silk stockings to wrap and pressurize.

Then put it into a special oven and bake it at a minimum temperature of 60 ° and a maximum temperature of 130 ° according to the patient's tolerance.

Even heating can significantly improve the edema of patients, but what is the principle of this thing? At present, we have no final conclusion, but it is effective!

It is estimated that when the old man watched the roast duck rotate and heat, his body contracted, but there was little loss of body fluid, so he was inspired!

Otherwise, there is no way to explain this thing with medical theory.

The old man is also a god! The nine magic hospitals are famous all over the world. The students brought out by the old gentleman almost monopolize the nine magic hospitals.

Foreign treatment methods focus on rehabilitation, that is, manual massage.

What do you mean? Human tissues are actually isolated, such as calf muscles.

These muscles are wrapped together by wear-resistant external molds, just like the frozen meat in the refrigerator. They look frozen together, but they are actually separated by plastic one by one.

Edema is between these muscles. The conservative idea abroad is to open the gap between up and down by massage.

Let the lymph in other places absorb the blocked lymph.

The advantages and disadvantages are obvious. First of all, this physiotherapist must be professionally trained.

This physiotherapy technique is not to step on your back, push oil, and pull down the rolling gate to make you feel comfortable.

This technique is a kind of violent massage. To open the barrier of upper and lower tissues, it is almost impossible to massage the swelling of the legs to the reproductive (a) organs, which will cause natural disaster and directly turn into a cow's head.

Therefore, this treatment is extremely expensive and time-consuming. If the main labor force of a family has this problem, it is a disease that will kill the whole family.

After the morning meeting, Zhang Fan reluctantly smiled and asked the doctors of ordinary foreigners to have a barbecue and massage. It is estimated that these people will never want to.

It seems that we can only choose another talent.

After the patient was sent to the operating room, the little nurse in the operating room looked at the meat jar on the patient's leg and dared to laugh.

The anesthesiologist looked carefully, "Zhang Yuan, spinal anesthesia is estimated not to work. The blood vessel fluctuations in this place are not very obvious, so we need general anesthesia."

"OK! Have you talked to your family yet? "

Zhang Fan answered.

The doctors of ordinary foreigners are more and more thieves. In the morning, Zhang Fan asks questions one by one. Everyone estimates that Zhang Fan may want to find someone to specialize in blood vessels.

Therefore, a group of people entered the operating room, one by one quiet, for fear of being ordered by Zhang Fan to engage in blood vessels.

Forced twist is not sweet. Zhang Fan didn't want them to engage in blood vessels, but it's OK to scare them.

"Blood vessels are still promising. They don't work overtime, have no emergencies and are clean!"

As soon as he said this, one by one, he rushed to work.

Zhao Quanping, director of general foreign studies, smiled and quietly gave Zhang Fan a thumbs up.

"Zhang Yuan, the disinfection is finished. The patient has been numb!" The chief doctor of general foreign affairs flattered Zhang Fan.

"The operation begins!"

As soon as Zhang Fan entered the operation state, he had no other redundant ideas.

The operation of lymphatic vessels is similar to that of arteriovenous vessels.

Although not as dangerous as arteriovenous vessels, the difficulty is not small.

The arteries and veins are one-to-one, but they are different in thickness. If the blood flow can be controlled, there is little difference between suturing blood vessels and suturing rubber tubes.

But lymph is different. When it comes out of the muscle, it is like a mouthpiece. It opens its bell mouth and absorbs it with the movement of the muscle.

Therefore, there are three surgical methods for this disease, and these three surgical methods have not been significantly improved on a large scale since their invention.

It can't be seen inside the calf tissue. Even for normal people, even if they are fat, muscles are muscles and fat is fat in the calf.

After the patient's meat jar was cut, it was like a pile of water and fat pork, with spilled white liquid everywhere.

The muscles don't have the feeling of tendon flesh. It's like being chewed by a toothless old lady for half an hour, and then spitting out the meat with spitting.

As soon as the gauze is dipped, it will bring up a lump of sticky liquid. As soon as it is dipped, it is really like that after the boy became master Lu, he didn't get the paper towel, and all of them feel subcutaneous to his lower leg.

The tissue on the meat jar is white and greasy. It feels like your hand is stuck on it with gloves.

Zhang Fan cut the tissue and looked for lymphatic vessels.

"Zhang Yuan, if you can't, cut it off. I feel that the edema is too severe. When you pinch it gently, it's all protein."

The director of general surgery frowned.

"There's still help. Listen to me. Come on, help me find the right vein."

Zhang Fan didn't talk much or explain much. He directly gave Zhao Quanping a task.

On the operating table, as long as the chief surgeon hesitates a little, there are more and more suggestions from other doctors.

One said left, and the other said right. Therefore, on the operating table, a chief surgeon should also be domineering.

Zhang Fan said that several assistants wanted to talk, but they stopped talking. Keep your head down and carefully look for the right vein.

Lymphatic blockage is a road in Huashan. What should we do? Rebuild, shrink the lymphatic inlet first, and then find a suitable vein to connect it together.

Therefore, a vascular surgeon can handle this operation at this time. The most difficult thing is the connection of blood vessels and lymph nodes.

Chapter 840

Zhang Fan's accurate operation has become his style.

For example, Qiu Lao, Qiu style knife technique, which pays attention to the accuracy of the liver, is well-known in the world.

Zhang Fan's accuracy can be said to be unmatched in this generation.

It doesn't need many surgical methods. The surgeon in Northwest China can admire this knife technique.

The blood vessels and lymphatic vessels in one hand, the blood vessels and lymphatic vessels under the pliers are like Zhang Fan's fingers.

Without other assistance or forceps to open the blood vessel mouth, Zhang Fan directly pinches the lymphatic vessel gently with forceps.

Just before the lymphatic vessel rebounded, it quickly stuffed the lymphatic vessel into the blood vessel at that moment.

Then sew, quite capable.

The chief physician of the general foreign school slapped his mouth and wanted to ask if he dared to ask. He was afraid that Zhang Fan would let him engage in blood vessels. If he didn't ask, he felt like a cat scratching.

In the quiet operating room, he kept gulping and swallowing, which made Zhang Fan feel thirsty.

"When the blood vessels and lymphatic vessels are anastomosed, be sure to release the forceps holding the blood vessels at this moment.

Then at this moment, quickly plug the lymphatic vessel into the orifice where the blood vessel has just expanded. "

Zhang Fan said softly.

This is the trick. This is the trick I realized after doing it countless times in the system.

If there is no system, this trick, if there is no teacher's advice, a surgeon can't realize it without suffering for more than ten years.

The voice of swallowing saliva was gone, and several attending doctors stared round.

"That's it?" An attending doctor under the operating table asked strangely.

"Yes, that's it." Zhang Fan said softly.

"Hehe, don't look simple. It's not difficult to listen. It needs a lot of practice. Zhang Yuan is gifted, so it seems very simple.

When the forceps are released, the blood vessels will contract. This time, when the forceps are retracted but not retracted, the orifice is opened the most.

If you're not proficient, you haven't entered yet. People have contracted and closed. Ah, you are still rough! "

Zhao Quanping, a general foreigner, looked at several doctors and seemed to suddenly realize it. He quickly repeated his experience again.

Several attending doctors looked at each other. Although they didn't want to engage in blood vessels, this technique is still widely used in general surgery.

So several people have made up their minds and let their wife buy yellow throat when they go home! Our technology is not good. We can't get the small one. Won't we start with the big one first?

They were all human spirits, just one word, and then there was no sound of swallowing.

Connecting the blood vessels and lymph nodes, Zhang Fan breathed a sigh of relief. This kind of operation is quite spiritual.

Eyes, brain, hands and senses must be integrated into one. A few hours of preparation and a few hours of foreplay are actually for this.

When the connection is sutured, finally, it is the skin where the patient's lower leg extends to the limit.

These idioms mean that things can't be turned back and retrieved.

There are also such things in medicine, such as organic changes in organs.

People living at higher altitudes suffer from hypoxia for many years, which then leads to the enlargement of the heart.

Once it gets bigger, you can't make it smaller. This thing gets bigger and congested. It's not a golden cudgel.

Once the heart becomes larger, the most serious consequence is poor sealing.

The heart gets bigger, but the pipe valve inside doesn't get bigger. Therefore, looking at the heart getting bigger, it seems that the power is getting bigger.

In fact, the air leakage is like an old-fashioned engine. Black smoke rises to the sky, but the wheels of the car lie on the ground motionless.

Because of poor sealing, there is no effective power.

These are invisible to ordinary people. The most obvious thing is the skin.

For example, super fat people, such as cholera, lose weight rapidly in a short time, and the skin on their stomach has not reacted.

Like wearing a flesh colored belly pocket, he can cover his face by turning his belly over.

If you grew up in the countryside when you were a child, you may have seen an old sow. After many years of childbirth, you obviously don't look fat, but the belly of rows of wool buttons can be dragged to the ground.

Pig skin has poor ductility, while human skin is much better. Whether you are twins or triplets, or have ten children in your life, your belly has recovered as soon as the child is born and within months.

However, the thinner the skin, the more difficult it is to recover, for example, depending on people's age.

Today's technology can't look at the face. The cuticle on the face doesn't know why. Obviously, it shouldn't be thick, but the cuticle of the skin here is thicker than that of the hips.

Therefore, under high technology, fifty or sixty faces can be pulled like the faces of fifteen or sixteen little girls. We can't see the age at all.

However, because of the thickness of the neck skin, it is impossible to make a special knife change.

There are many frozen age beauties with collagen on their face. They feel tender and want to water out.

But if you look at her neck carefully, there are still wrinkles.

The pathological swelling, the thinner the skin, the more difficult it is to recover.

Lymphedema, such as near the reproductive organ (a), although people seem to have very thin skin.

In fact, this place is very thick, especially the wrinkled hair (a) egg (a) egg, which is estimated to be the size of your face.

However, the skin of the lower leg is quite thin. Moreover, for all the trauma of the whole body, the trauma here is the most difficult to recover, even more difficult than the trauma near the anal (a) door.

So, many people sometimes break their calves and look like a man. It's okay!

It's OK to grow well. If you are infected, it's OK to peel off your skin.

If it's broken, disinfect it and wrap it up. It's not a hero. It's not looking for trouble.

If the skin of the lower leg breaks its limit, but has changed its nature, the result will be different.

Human skin is like the Great Wall, with rows of cells arranged one after another.

If you pierce it, it is not afraid. As long as it is not infected and does not exceed its healing range, it will heal slowly like a Parthenocissus.

But if you use blunt force, blow it up slowly like a balloon.

If the key position between its cells is broken, the consequences will come. If you withdraw the external force, this thing will not recover.

And also lost the original defense function of the skin. Just like a vegetable, he still eats and drinks, but he can't get up and work.

Therefore, the most unacceptable thing for patients with leg lymphatic swelling is to cure the disease. As a result, a pair of flesh colored long tube silk stockings or stockings piled on the ankles.

Like a pair of big ears of pig Bajie growing in the ankle, the Pu fan is at the feet.

And still fat pig ears without a little crispy bone.

At this time, we should consider the doctor's experience. We can't cut too much, which will lead to tight legs and limited movement.

But it can't be less. Without legs and neck, it's like piling up a pile of meat mud without taking a bath for decades.

Moreover, we should also consider the self-healing of the human body. No one knows how much this thing can be repaired, but only according to experience.

For this kind of resection, Zhang Fan is experienced. After the operation is completed in the system, it can directly determine the recovery of the patient.

Therefore, Zhang Fan is quite experienced in this kind of predictive surgery.

The rubber like skin was cut off by Zhang Fan with no blood on it.

The blood vessels are directly stripped of the skin and subcutaneous blood vessels by the swollen liquid, just like an artificial human skin mask.

One X-shaped knife edge was gently established by Zhang Fan between the lower legs.

"Director, orthopedics has Wang Yanan. Don't you have any ideas?"

The operation went well, and Zhang Fan was in the mood to say something else.

When Zhang Fanyi said Wang Yanan, several male doctors all breathed a sigh of relief.

Just like ordering soldiers and generals, they are really afraid of Zhang Fan ordering them.

Now, this has begun to consider female doctors.

"Hey, we ordinary foreigners either dig feces or intestines. When the transferred girl came to the Department, she wrote a medical record. She didn't even want to come for surgery."

Zhao Quanping was also helpless.

"We still need to train several female doctors in vascular surgery. Male doctors are still impatient. After all, girls are a little more patient and meticulous than boys.

You first investigate. If there are suitable seedlings, I'll talk about them. "

"OK! Zhang Yuan, vascular surgery should not be separated. Hey, hey, at the critical moment, we can also help. "

Zhao Quanping smiled. Since Zhang Fan came to power, he helped him suppress other directors. Now he is much more comfortable.

"OK, you should find someone first. If you have the right person, you should practice the basics of general education first."

Plastic surgery, modification, plastic surgery in the human body, Kung Fu is not on the operating table, but under the operating table.

We should outline the stock of patients' skin in advance and consider the beauty of patients.

That is, the legs and neck, if the face, which is a difficult one.

Outside the operating room, the patient's family waited anxiously. Before long, the head nurse in the operating room quietly came in like a thief.

Then left a fragrance out of the operating room.

Some people are born with a good nose. Dozens of operations are performed every day in the municipal hospital.

However, as long as a person with a little energy, the head nurse can smell the official smell or wealth smell of each other like a search and rescue dog.

In Ouyang's office, the old lady just came from the nursing department, and groups of new nurses were doing training.

This is what the old lady is most concerned about at present. She relies on these new nurses to implement the helicopter as soon as possible.

On the government side, the old lady grinds and reports every day like brown sugar.

Finally, the government compromised, and the boss of tea vegetable personally went to the local garrison to make door-to-door contact.

The final result is that the government pays, the land Airlines sends out the crew for maintenance, and the use right belongs to the tea vegetable hospital.

At first, the old lady just wanted the government to give some money. Unexpectedly, this was the final result. Ouyang was almost too happy to be reserved.

Ouyang, who is fine day by day, waited on the cactus in the office for a while, and then slipped away with a small bag.

Far away in the Affiliated Hospital of niaoshi, especially after Xu Guangwei became the president, he specially collected some patients and waited for Zhang Fan.

The emirate also sent a request to the Chinese government for medical assistance.
