

Chapter 831: You're not growing

You're not growing

"Oh, right! You told me that Xiao Yi went to Rong County as a volunteer, right?" Chancellor Wen suddenly remembered about that. He said, "Jiang Yao was also in Rong County, so it's normal that you might have seen each other while you were there!"

"We met once. At that time, she happened to come out of the Sacred Flag Hospital's relocation center. The doctors there told me that you were the one who saved the hero that day. So, you are also a hero," Zheng Yi said. "I know my injuries well. My father's decision to find you has made things difficult for you, so please don't mind him. It has been so many years; I'm already used to it. But I'm pleased to meet you tonight, and I'm glad I came with my father."

"Nothing is absolute! Don't I have a teacher who can create miracles? Please give me your contact number. I'll ask my teacher about it later. I'll tell you as soon as I have some news!" Jiang Yao smiled. Zheng Yi's injuries were not something she had expected, so she needed to go back and check if there were any follow-up treatment plans for injuries by sulfuric acid corrosion.

Zheng Yi said that she was already used to it. She and her father had looked for almost all doctors in the country because they wanted to treat her injuries. They had even gone abroad a few times. The doctors had tortured her face in the name of treatment, but there was no improvement.

Even though Jiang Yao could not confirm if there were any way to treat her injuries, the two still drank tea as they chatted. It was still a good atmosphere.

Jiang Yao was great at chatting with the people she admired. She liked heroines like Zheng Yi, so she would always find various topics to chat with her.

Mr Zheng sat at the side and watched as his daughter and Jiang Yao talked non-stop. He even smiled at Jiang Yao. As a father, he had not seen his daughter so happy and relaxed for a long time. His daughter had been a lively girl before the incident.

It was not until nine o'clock that Jiang Yao and Zheng Yi parted ways. On the way back, Jiang Yao told Ah Lu to buy supper while she sat in the car and waited. Suddenly, Moe emerged from her backpack and muttered, "If I had known that she was there for a consultation..." It did not come out while they were in the private room.

When Jiang Yao did not reply, Moe shouted, "I want a portion of supper too!"

"You're getting fatter; why are you still eating?" Jiang Yao reached out and poked Mo's stomach. "Tell me, why aren't you growing since you're getting fatter?"

When Jiang Yao first met Moe, it was already that big. However, Moe had grown wider since then.

Moe grunted as its soft paws slapped Jiang Yao's presumptuous fingers on its stomach. There was no way to explain to a stupid human. Its lifespan could not be compared to that of an ordinary cat. Its lifespan was so long that even it did not know how long, so it was normal for it to grow that slowly.

After they returned to the dormitory, Jiang Yao did not have supper with everyone else. After she showered, she told them she was tired, so she laid on the bed to rest. Then, her consciousness entered the medical system.

Then, she called for the system admin and asked, "Is the result for the patient I scanned just now out yet? Show me, please."

"The patient's facial tissue is necrotic. After being corroded, the scar left by the treatment is very pronounced, and it's not a small area either."

Chapter 832: It's equally difficult

The system admin showed the results to Jiang Yao. "The current medicine for burn victims has no effect on this patient."

Jiang Yao guessed that burns and corrosion were two different causes, so the same medicine would not affect the other injury.

"Can you pull it up and see if the system library has a treatment plan for this kind of situation?" There was too much theoretical knowledge in the two systems, and after a power upgrade, Jiang Yao did not have enough time to learn all the content.

Therefore, she could only ask the system admin if she did not have any useful methods in mind.

"Well, if I had managed to take over the treatment for her injuries when she got injured, I might have a way to help her." Jiang Yao touched her chin and thought about it. "Her initial treatments are limited, and there are not enough conditions to help her, but there might be some drugs and instruments in the system that can be used to aid her recovery. If I had the opportunity to use these items during her initial treatment, the wounds on her cheeks might not be as severe after her recovery. There might still be minimal scars, but they can be covered by daily makeup."

That was why Jiang Yao felt regretful. She had met Zheng Yi at the wrong time. She had missed the best chance to give her the best treatment.

It was similar to Chen Feibai's case. She had managed to take over his treatment as soon as possible, so she could use the system's valuable resources to treat Chen Feibai immediately. Therefore, when he finally could go for rehabilitation training, even though there would still be scars on his body, it was still better than the regular treatment. He would not even need to deal with any disability issue.

The medical skills that Jiang Yao had learned from the system had been enough to deal with patients who suffered corrosion injuries caused by chemicals such as sulfuric acid. However, Zheng Yi had suffered the wounds for several years, and she had missed the best time for treatment, so Jiang Yao did not know what to do. So, she asked the system admin for help.

"Corrosion injuries are just as difficult to deal with as burn wounds." The system admin shook his head. "It's impossible for this patient to recover to her normal condition."

"That means there's still room for treatment. We can at least help her get better, right?" Jiang Yao realized that the system admin did not mention death, so that would mean he had found a method that she could access.

Even though she usually despised the system admin, he could still be useful. Sometimes, she even used him like a search engine—to search for any information she wanted. That function was only available after she operated on Lu Xingzhi in Jindo.

The system admin nodded and pulled the content that Jiang Yao wanted to see from the Western medicine storehouse. Then, he said, “You may refer to this, but I’m not sure if it’s suitable for your usage.”

Jiang Yao nodded and then focused her attention on the content that the system admin had given her. After she read it for more than ten minutes, she was stunned.

Before Jiang Yao exited the system, she went to check on Chen Feibai. He had managed to maintain his mental state because the nutrient solution that the system had prepared was better than the ones from other hospitals. However, he had been in a coma for most of the time.

With the system admin around, there was no need for Jiang Yao to make a special trip to change the medicine, so she felt a little more relaxed.

Chapter 833: It’s Better if You Don’t Understand It

She would be able to give Chen Feibai his first acupuncture treatment to stimulate his joints in only a few more days.

When she realized that Chen Feibai was in a deep sleep, Jiang Yao could only tell him softly to sleep well while he could still do that.

After she exited the medical system, Jiang Yao got out of bed; she scared the girls who were whispering to each other.

“Weren’t you asleep?” Chen Siyang asked.

“I woke up again,” Jiang Yao replied calmly.

“Did we wake you up?” Lin Qiaoyu was about to apologize when Jiang Yao told them that they did not

“I suddenly remembered that I had something to do, so I woke up. It had nothing to do with you guys; please continue eating and chatting.” Jiang Yao got down from her bed and returned to her desk. Then, she picked up a blank notebook and pen and started to write and draw in it.

When the girls saw her like that, they walked behind her curiously to take a look—there were different expressions on their faces.

“Wow, a genius hard at work!” Chen Siyang was surprised.

“Are these medical terms? What else? Wound debridement surgery—what is that in front of this debridement surgery? Why can’t I understand it?” Wen Xuehui tapped on Jiang Yao’s notebook with a confused look. “What are these terms? I can’t understand it at all!”

“It’s good that you can’t understand it.” Jiang Yao smiled. Wen Xuehui had only been at school for two months, so how could she understand her professional terms? Furthermore, most of the words written in her notebook were names of the medicine in the system. The names were not easy to write, so she used abbreviations to replace them.

Jiang Yao could not imagine the treatment plans that she had seen in the system; her scalp felt numb when she thought about it.

After she tried her best to understand it, Jiang Yao managed to develop a treatment plan according to the system's theoretical database.

The first step was to apply medicine to the affected area to stimulate the cells there. It did not sound like too much of a big deal, but the first step was the scariest because it involved very strong medicine. Since they had missed the best treatment time, the goal was to recover the injured parts. However, that was equivalent to causing a second injury to the patient.

The second step was debridement—removed the dead and deactivated tissue.

The third step was local skin grafting, followed by pharmacology, and finally, the last step was the laser instrument to remove the scar.

For such a severe injury, the laser instrument could not remove the scar completely. It would only reduce its appearance.

When she took over Chen Feibai's case, Jiang Yao asked the system admin if the laser scar removal device in the laboratory would help the treatment plan. Unfortunately, she received a negative response.

Chen Feibai had been severely burned, and the wound was too extensive. In Zheng Yi's case, there was strong corrosion, but it involved a much smaller area. Therefore, it was necessary to try the device.

After she sorted the plan, Jiang Yao did not dare to inform Zheng Yi as the treatment method was a little unbelievable. In the first step, they would have to apply highly stimulating medicine to the wound. They would need to use a small dose of anesthesia with that, but even then, the patient would still be in pain after it wore off.

Since the wound was on a female patient's face, Jiang Yao decided to be more cautious. She wanted to test it on a virtual patient in the system before she mentioned it to Zheng Yi.

Chapter 834: Not Very Familiar

Jiang Yao had never seen that kind of treatment method, and it was something she had obtained from the medical system. She was not sure about its efficacy after the final treatment, so she would have to wait for the virtual experiment results. She would only let Zheng Yi try it out if they could remove enough of the scars.

"Is this what you are doing with your teacher now?" Wen Xuehui moved a chair to sit beside Jiang Yao. "Is it a treatment plan?"

"Smart." Jiang Yao nodded as she put the notebook back to its original position. She stretched her body and glanced at Moe, who was already asleep. She sighed helplessly. She thought that the medical system that Moe gave her was omnipotent. However, the more she understood it, it was not as all-knowing as she thought it was.

It looked like medical science had not advanced to the point where they could eradicate all illnesses, not even in Moe's world.

The human body was quite fragile. Therefore, it was better to cherish one's health.

"Is this the treatment plan for Zheng Yi? I heard my father mention it at home last time. He said that he wanted to let Doctor Divine see if there is any way to treat Zheng Yi's injuries after the sulfuric acid incident." Wen Xuehui guessed it correctly. "My father told me that he had an appointment with Zheng Yi and uncle Zheng in the evening."

Jiang Yao smiled. "Yes, you guessed it already. You know Zheng Yi?"

She knew that it was a nonsense question after she asked it. Zheng Yi's father was Chancellor Wen's old friend, so it was normal for Wen Xuehui and Zheng Yi to know each other.

"I know her, but I'm not familiar with her. My parents always said that Zheng Yi and I played together very well when we were young. They also said that I liked to follow her and call her Sister Xiaoyi. She's a few years older than me. But I don't really remember her after I've grown up." Wen Xuehui shook her head. "I did hear about her accident. I've only seen her once after that. To be honest, she looks a little scary. It is not only her scars, but her face is always dark and expressionless. My father said that she hardly ever leaves the house, and she doesn't say much either."

"Zheng Yi was a police officer. She was injured by someone who wanted to take revenge on her for doing her job. So, you don't have to be afraid of her." Jiang Yao patted Wen Xuehui's shoulder. "The man who helped in the flood is a hero, and Zheng Yi is also the people's hero. Her father said that she brought a serial killer to justice. As a criminal police officer, she had kept Nanjiang City's citizens safe. It is because of people like her that we can live so peacefully in this city. Do you understand?"

Wen Xuehui had initially thought that people like Zheng Yi looked very scary. However, after she heard Jiang Yao's explanation, she was stunned. After a few seconds, she finally nodded.

"That's right! Why didn't I think of that? Zheng Yi was a police officer, and she got injured because of her work. She is also a hero!" Wen Xuehui patted her head. "I will treat Zheng Yi better from now onward! The next time you see Zheng Yi, please bring me along! I'll also express my respect for her properly. Then, I'll cheer her on and help her face life more calmly!"

Wen Xuehui was such a girl. Jiang Yao listened to her words with a smile. She nodded and promised to bring her along the next time she went to see Zheng Yi.

Chapter 835: It Depends On You

Wen Xuehui was her best friend, and Zheng Yi was the woman she admired the most. So, if she could get the two of them to become friends, Jiang Yao would be quite happy.

After her roommates were asleep at night, Jiang Yao entered the system again and called the system admin. She wanted him to be Zheng Yi's virtual patient. When the system admin told her that Chen Feibai had woken up, she went to see him instead.

The first question that Chen Feibai asked when he saw Jiang Yao was, "How long do I have to lie like this? For a while? Or for the rest of my life?"

“Whether it’s for the time being or the rest of your life depends on how much physical pain you can endure. It depends on how far you can persist.” Jiang Yao picked up his physical condition record for the past few days and looked through them. The system would have automatically recorded the information, and it looked like Chen Feibai’s recovery for the past few days had been pretty good.

“What do you mean?” Chen Feibai watched as Jiang Yao flipped through the booklet in her hand and wrote on it with a pen. At that moment, she looked like a doctor.

Perhaps it was because he was too familiar with Jiang Yao that Chen Feibai found it difficult to treat her as his attending physician.

“Looking at your current condition, you should be able to undergo the first stage of treatment in about four to five days. I will give you acupuncture to stimulate all the major acupoints and joints in your body. If you can endure this kind of pain until the final treatment is over, then you should be able to undergo rehabilitation training after the treatment is over.” Jiang Yao’s answer was very clear; there was no need to hide such things from Chen Feibai. However, after that, Jiang Yao added a few more words to motivate her patient. “Other people might not be able to endure it, but I think you’ll be fine. After all, you are not afraid of death.”

“Pfft.” Chen Feibai mocked himself. “Death is nothing. The scariest thing is if life is worse than death, or life after leaving the hospital.”

“Young man, don’t give up on yourself.” Jiang Yao shook her head. “You have endured so much hardship in the flood. Don’t tell me you’re afraid of living now? Today, I consulted a girl. She was a female police officer. Her face had been disfigured by a criminal’s mother, who poured sulfuric acid on her. That woman had the courage to face this society ever so calmly. Even when she was with a doctor like me, she comforted me by saying that she had already gotten used to her current life. You’re a man. How can you be less than a woman?”

“Don’t provoke me. That trick won’t work on me.” Chen Feibai sneered at her. He saw through Jiang Yao’s intention with one glance.

“I don’t mean to provoke you. I just want you to know that you are not the only one going through this kind of situation. There are many people like you, and they have the courage to face it. Why don’t you?” Jiang Yao touched Chen Feibai’s bald head and smiled. “If it doesn’t work out, you can still become a monk, right? Look, you don’t even have to worry about your hairstyle.”

“F*ck you!” Chen Feibai gritted his teeth and cursed. The disappointment and desolation in his heart were swept away by Jiang Yao’s last sentence.

“This is more like you, Chen Feibai. To continue grieving is not something you should do.” After Jiang Yao said that, she left Chen Feibai so that he could rest. Then, she got ready to leave.

Just as she was about to turn around and go, Chen Feibai suddenly said, “A female police officer whose face was disfigured by the criminal’s mother who poured sulfuric acid on her. Even if her face was disfigured, she is still a hero, a person everyone else would always remember. As for me, when I walk out of here, I will be an ugly monster who has committed a serious offense.”

Chapter 836: Firing Lin Shunhe

“Whether you’re a hero or not is not up to others. It’s up to you—whether you think you’re a hero or not. Chen Feibai, as long as you’re alive, what hope have you not got?” Jiang Yao said before she left his room. She instructed the system admin to keep an eye on Chen Feibai.

Jiang Yao’s schedule had been quite chaotic for the past few days. When she woke up the following day, Jiang Yao was at a loss for a few seconds before Wen Xuehui nudged her to react. Yes, she had classes in the morning.

After she washed up, Jiang Yao took her textbooks and went out with Wen Xuehui. Then, she found a seat in the cafeteria to have her breakfast. Suddenly, the phone in her pocket rang.

Jiang Yao thought that Lu Xingzhi had come back from his morning training to call her at the right time. When she took out her phone, she was surprised to see that it was the director’s office.

“Is it something urgent this early in the morning?” Jiang Yao asked as she answered the call. If there were not something urgent, the director would not have called her so early in the morning.

“Miss Jiang, there is an urgent matter.” The director’s mood was in a mess. “I was not at the hospital last night, but some students from your school’s Department of Medicine came to report that Doctor Lin Shunhe had gone to your school to slander and damage your reputation. Miss Jiang, I only received this report when I reached the hospital this morning. I learned that there is enmity between you two, so I went to ask Lin Shunhe. I didn’t expect that he would go to your school and do that. I’m sorry about this.”

“This has nothing to do with you.” Jiang Yao knew to keep her personal and professional matters separate. Even though the director had recruited Lin Shunhe, he had only done that for the sake of the hospital. It was not as if the director had deliberately targeted her, so Jiang Yao did not have anything against him in that matter.

However, the director was still worried. He hurriedly explained, “Lin Shunhe did ask me about you, and I have not been smart about it. I told him that you were a student at Nanjiang Medical University. I did not tell him that you are one of our shareholders. I guessed that you wouldn’t want other people to know about that, so I didn’t mention it to him. I didn’t expect he would do that once he found out about your school.”

“When I saw Lin Shunhe at Shengqi Hospital, I was also surprised. However, I didn’t think it was necessary to force him into a corner. After all, our grudge is nothing. I didn’t expect that Lin Shunhe would be so narrow-minded to do such a thing.” Jiang Yao smiled; she did not expect that her senior had done that. She said that she would report Lin Shunhe to the hospital, but Jiang Yao did not expect that she would really do that.

When she saw Lin Shunhe at the hospital, Jiang Yao did not know that Lu Xingzhi had forced him to withdraw from the army. Therefore, she thought she did not need to be so guarded against Lin Shunhe in the future, especially if it were about their competition in the army.

“Miss Jiang, no matter what, it’s my fault for causing you so much trouble. I’ll inform HR to fire Lin Shunhe immediately.” The director was relieved to see that Jiang Yao was not angry at him.

Chapter 837: Follow the procedures

If it had been another shareholder, they would have scolded him to his death. Therefore, he was quite fortunate. The new shareholder might have looked unreliable at first, but she was a good boss. The director knew that he did not need to worry when he worked under Miss Jiang's direction.

"Okay. As long as I don't have any specific instructions, you may do as you wish since you are the director. You have the right to decide to fire a doctor while they are still in their probation period." Jiang Yao nodded. Even if the director did not tell her about that in the morning, she would have called him after she finished her class that day to say that she wanted him to fire Lun Shunhe.

With the school's incident the previous day, she would be crazy to keep Lin Shunhe at Shengqi Hospital.

After Jiang Yao finished her call, Wen Xuehui came back with two cups of soybean milk. When she saw Jiang Yao put away her phone, she raised her eyebrows and handed her one of the cups of soybean milk. She said, "Here. There's a new chef in the cafeteria. The soy milk now is less watered down and tastes much better than when school had only started. However, it's a dime more expensive too."

"Are you really short of this dime?" Jiang Yao interrupted Wen Xuehui and said, "Well, to thank you for this pricey soy milk, why don't I treat you to a delicious meal for lunch?"

"Oh, my god! Jiang Yao, you're too kind! Then I'll treat soy milk for breakfast every day from now onward!" Wen Xuehui patted the table lightly; she was excited. "I haven't eaten with you in a long time."

After Jiang Yao and Wen Xuehui finished their breakfast, they came out of the cafeteria and met Chancellor Wen on the way to the lecture halls. One was his daughter, and the other was his daughter's good friend and a student he was proud of. When the chancellor saw them, he went to greet the two ladies.

"Do you have classes this morning? Have you had breakfast?" Chancellor Wen knew his daughter well—she was incredibly lazy. If she did not have classes on the weekends, she would sleep until noon when she returned home. She would even eat breakfast and dinner in one meal. It was a bad habit that would not change, no matter how much he talked to her about it.

"Dad, we've eaten. The soy milk in our cafeteria is much better now. You should try it sometime!" Wen Xuehui held her father's hand with one hand and Jiang Yao's arm with the other. As she spoke, she huffed at Chancellor Wen. "Smell it. Smell it. It's so fragrant."

"You're such a child!" Wen Xuehui's childish actions amused Chancellor Wen. He could neither laugh nor be angry. "How old are you? You're still not behaving properly!"

Then, he laughed and said, "I didn't smell the soy milk, but I can smell the meat bun."

Wen Xuehui laughed in satisfaction. She mumbled, "The meat bun still smells the same. It hasn't changed."

Jiang Yao was envious when she saw the father and daughter's interaction. She had not seen her family ever since school started about two months ago. When she was at home, she would act that way with her parents and two older brothers.

Therefore, with Wen Xuehui and Chancellor Wen by her side, she suddenly missed her family very much.

After a day of classes, Jiang Yao planned to treat her roommates to dinner. However, at around five o'clock, Lu Yuqing called and said that Huang Chengjing wanted to treat her to dinner. Ah Lu and Da Ke were already on their way to pick her up from school.

Chapter 838: Looking Forward to It

Jiang Yao got into the car under Wen Xuehui and her other friends' resentful gazes. After she got into the car, Ah Lu told her that Huang Chengjing had invited Lu Yuqing and Manager Sun. It seemed like Huang Chengjing was the middleman; he was there to help someone discuss matters with the Changkang Group.

Jiang Yao thought that it was only a few of them. When they arrived at the location, she realized that Gu Haoyu was also there. Besides Gu Haoyu, she also saw Qi Xiang, whom she had met once when school started, and Qi Xiang's father.

When she saw the Qi family, Jiang Yao knew that Huang Chengjing was there as a middleman. Naturally, he was there to help the Qi family. It was likely that his great-aunt or grandmother had forced him to do that—every family had their own difficulties.

Jiang Yao took a seat between Gu Haoyu and Lu Yuqing. Ah Lu and Da Ke waited outside the private room. She was the last one to arrive; everyone else was already there.

"When did you return to Nanjiang City?" Jiang Yao asked Huang Chengjing curiously. Then, she turned around to look at Lu Yuqing. It was likely that he had contacted Lu Yuqing as soon as he had returned. Therefore, Lu Yuqing must have known that Huang Chengjing had returned; the two might have even discussed it in private.

If it were not for Manager Sun, Lu Yuqing's investigation and Gu Haoyu's agreement, the Qi family's father and son duo would be there.

"We arrived yesterday afternoon. I have to thank you and Young Master Lu for what happened in YN. By the way, I also heard about the incident in YN. Young Master Lu has excellent friends." Huang Cheng sat next to Lu Yuqing. She did not know if he arranged their seats on purpose.

After a full circle, Gu Haoyu sat in the main seat casually. Jiang Yao was to his right, then Lu Yuqing, Huang Chengjing, Qi Xiang's father, Qi Xiang, and finally, Manager Sun. The six of them sat in a circle, and it was just right. It was not crowded, and there was no sense of alienation.

After Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi returned to China, Huang Chengjing stayed at Ruan Yongjun's place. Therefore, he saw Ruan Yongjun's countermeasures to eliminate any traces of Lu Xingzhi. When the people from the YN government were there to investigate, they did not find anything. Even if they asked the residents there, they would not get any information.

"In the end, I decided to buy a mine near yours. It's not Mr Xiao Jin's mine, but the mine next to the other one." Huang Cheng knew that Jiang Yao had gone to YN and took down two mines in one go. On the one hand, he was perplexed about Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi's decisiveness, and on the other, he was envious of their luck. For one to take a mine with 50 million bucks, it was all about luck!

Even though it caused a lot of trouble for Jiang Yao and Lu Xingzhi, they managed to settle it perfectly.

Jiang Yao was curious about how much Huang Chengjing had spent, so she asked him.

“Mr Carl helped with the price, and the final price was 120 million,” Huang Cheng said. “I’m looking forward to the establishment of your jewelry company now.”

Jiang Yao smiled—120 million was not a low price. However, she had seen the mine that Huang Chengjing had bought, and it was worth the price. He would earn far more profit with the mine than what he had spent on it.

Gu Haoyu sat there like a god. There was a slight smile on his face as if he had listened carefully to the conversation between Jiang Yao and Huang Chengjing. However, Jiang Yao bet that Gu Haoyu did not listen to them at all; it was his usual expression.

Chapter 839: Conduct and Control

“I heard about the Zhu family.” After Huang Chengjing’s return, that was the most surprising news that he had heard. He did not expect that Young Master Lu would ask the Zhu family to withdraw their company from the market in Nanjiang City. The news surprised and shocked him.

Even though the Zhu family was not a local company in Nanjiang city, they were quite prominent in Providence A’s Ping City. However, they had obeyed Lu Xingzhi’s threat and decisively withdrew from the market in Nanjiang City.

The Zhu family had closed their original store; not a single worker was left. Huang Chengjing heard that all their staff had been laid off. They only brought a small portion of their employees back to Province A; some were assigned to other posts in other cities.

The Zhu family had a huge jewelry company, but they had withdrawn just like that. However, there was no news from the Zhu family’s head. Huang Chengjing felt as if it was all only a story.

Jiang Yao had never asked about the Zhu family’s matters, so when she heard Huang Chengjing mentioned them, she looked at Gu Haoyu.

Lu Xingzhi must have handed the matter to Gu Haoyu when he went back.

When he realized that Jiang Yao was looking at him, Gu Haoyu said slowly, “The Zhu family’s head said they would withdraw from the Nanjiang market. They can take Zhu Qianlan out of the country when they have done that.”

The Zhu family’s head had been alerted about the incident. After all, Nanjiang city was such a big market, and it was not a decision that Zhu Shisan could make on his own.

The Zhu family’s head was indeed someone worthy of the position. He made his decision very quickly. A niece who did not have many skills or a nephew who had courage and wisdom—he knew what was best for the Zhu family.

Gu Haoyu had also received a call from someone in Ping City. It looked like the Zhu family had published that they had expelled Zhu Qianlan from their family.

“Thank you, Second Brother. I originally have you here to help me with the research institute, but in the end, I even asked you to help me with these trivial matters.” Jiang Yao felt really bad. After all, Gu Haoyu was also busy with his work, but he had spent so much time in Nanjiang city. His own work must have been delayed all the time.

“I didn’t really do anything. It was all arranged by Lu Xingzhi.” Gu Haoyu did not want to take credit for it. It was all arranged by Lu Xingzhi; he only followed up with that. It was due to Lu Xingzhi’s means and ability that they could force the Zhu family to that extent.

However, after the matter was completed, it was time for Gu Haoyu to leave Nanjiang city. He had already booked a plane ticket to leave in two days.

Manager Sun and Lu Yuqing waited until Jiang Yao and Gu Haoyu finished talking before they spoke. Lu Yuqing was not someone who liked to socialize. The reason she was there that night was because of the matter with the Qi family.

“Jiang Yao, Huang Chengjing has another reason for today’s meal.” Lu Yuqing had only heard about the Qi family from him that day. She heard about what Qi Xiang had wanted to do to Jiang Yao and then about how the Qi family lost the Shengqi Hospital because of it. Lu Yuqing thought that the Qi family was fortunate. After all, if Lu Xingzhi were to go crazy over that matter, no one could stop him.

Therefore, Lu Yuqing finally understood what details Jiang Yao had omitted from her words. The Qi family had wanted to cooperate with Changkang Group, but because of the previous incident between Qi Xiang and Jiang Yao, they could only look for Huang Chengjing. Then, the man looked for Lu Yuqing and Manager Sun to have a business discussion.

Chapter 840: Let’s Create Glory Together

“The Qi family wants Changkang Group’s contracts, from design to construction,” Lu Yuqing said. “I’ve examined their company, and I think it’s not bad.”

“Miss Jiang, over the years, many notable projects in Nanjiang City have come from the Qi family’s company. For example, the Nanjiang city government, Shengqi Hospital that Miss Jiang now owns, and the Hairun Group’s building.” Manager Sun thought that the Qi family was quite capable in that area; that was why Lu Yuqing invited Jiang Yao to join them that night.

“For the design part, I have agreed to hand it to Fifth Brother’s company. Fourth Brother and Fifth Brother also have a stake in the Changkang Group.” Jiang Yao spread her hands. “I went to see Fifth Brother’s company when I was in Jindo, and I especially loved his design.”

Jiang Yao was a straightforward person. She had agreed with the two brothers, and she could not kick them out just because Changkang Group had enough money to do that.

After she said that, Jiang Yao looked at Qi Xiang’s father. She said, “Mr Qi, I’ve decided to hand the design part to another shareholder of our company. He has his own design company, so Changkang Group has agreed to give them the contract. However, their company doesn’t care about post-construction work. So, if you’re willing, we can hand that part to your company. You can work with them on that.”

Since Lu Yuqing and Manager Sun both approved the Qi family, Jiang Yao would not continue to hold the matter against Qi Xiang. It had already been a few months since she agreed to take over the Shengqi Hospital from Qi Xiang; she had long put those matters behind her.

Therefore, since the Qi family wanted to cooperate with her, she was willing to give them an opportunity to do that.

However, it would be up to the Qi family for the final decision, especially since they would not need to handle the design aspect. Even if they were to reject her offer, there were still many other companies that would want the chance to work with them.

After Jiang Yao finished speaking, Gu Haoyu nodded and said, "Fifth Brother did mention that on the phone." However, he had forgotten about it. He only remembered when Jiang Yao mentioned it.

Mr Qi was a businessman. He knew that the decision was the most beneficial to him and the company. After he heard that Jiang Yao had handed the design part to another Changkang Group's shareholder, and she could only give them the construction part, he hesitated for only about three seconds before he agreed to that.

"Then, thank you, Miss Jiang, for letting bygones be bygones and giving the Qi family this opportunity!" Mr Qi stood up and raised his wine glass. "Miss Jiang, this toast is for you!"

"Please, there is no need for that. It's still too early for you to thank me. After the design blueprint is out, we'll have to wait for your company to make an offer before we can discuss the cooperation." Jiang Yao was not stupid. She could not let the Qi family offer them a sky-high price even though she handed them the project. She could not let them slaughter her like a little lamb.

Mr Qi chuckled; he was quick to smooth things over. "You are right, Miss Jiang, but don't worry. We will definitely give Changkang group the lowest and most affordable price. Since you have class tomorrow, we'll drink tea instead. Let's wish Changkang Corporation and the Qi family smooth cooperation in the future. Let's create glory together!"
