

Chapter 837

Georgie whispered a thank you and sat back in her wheelchair.

Probably noticing her stiff legs, though not saying so, it was obvious that the other man's eyes flashed with regret.

Probably in a place where Georgie didn't know, brainstorming many tragic stories that happened to her.

But Bella Qiao didn't bother, and after saying goodbye to him, she dragged her suitcase, which she had left in the corner of the door before, into the courtyard.

This old mansion has not been lived in for a long time.

The yard was overgrown with weeds, there were a few threads of cobwebs hanging in the corners, and an otherwise magnificent tree had become bare from the scourge of neglect.

Georgie maneuvered her wheelchair forward.

Luckily, there were no steps in front of the house, so she didn't have to be embarrassed to walk right up to the front door, pull out her key and unlock it, and go straight in.

The house was dark.

The smell of dust and damp mold was all over the place because no one had lived there for so long.

With the directions she remembered, Georgie found the switch to turn the lights on and the house suddenly lit up.

Georgie raised a hand to shield her eyes.

It took a moment to slow down.

Looking around, I saw that the mansion was still the same as I remembered it, both in decoration and style.

The only difference was that there was dust everywhere, and the big couch in the middle of the living room was covered with a clothly white cloth, and when Kitty Jo walked over to it and pulled the white cloth, the dust flew everywhere.

She flew her hand and coughed twice, and with patience she hastily cleaned and tidied the house.

Because the mansion was so large, many of the children who couldn't fit in the orphanage at that time stayed with the grandfather of the director.

The mansion, which was left by the dean's grandfather's ancestors, and therefore occupied an extremely extensive area, was given to her at that time, when the dean's grandfather called her to his bedside before he died, and gave her this house, saying that he could not see her married, so he gave her the dowry in advance, and told her to live well in the future.

He was not his own father, his own grandfather, but in fact, he was closer than his own.

Thinking of this, Bella Qiao also rose with a touch of nostalgia.

After she cleaned up a bit, she left the other rooms untouched, or went to the room she used to live in.

Since her room was on the ground floor, she saved herself the trouble of climbing the stairs.

Bella Qiao was really tired today, having gone through several things, both physically and mentally.

So, originally, it was just going to be a shallow squint, so that if anything happened, it would also be alert enough to wake up, but unexpectedly, I was so tired that I fell asleep.

Waking up again, it was the next morning.

She opened her eyes to see sunlight spilling in through the window ridge, but it was ten in the morning.

Georgie half braced herself and sat up.

It was a little sore, and she knew it was from the hard boards of the family's plank bed, which she hadn't slept on for a long time.

Having cleaned up in a hurry last night, Georgie hadn't bothered to find clean cotton to sleep on, so she would make do with the night.

After all, according to what she and Gu Siqian had in mind, those people who failed to do it once, should be able to do it a second time soon.

So last night, you should have waited for them to come.

But you sleep all night and nothing happens?

They actually managed to hold their tongue and not do anything?

Bella Qiao frowned.

But the show's already started, so you can't quit halfway through.

r Georgie lifted the covers off the bed, rubbed her sore shoulders, and took the wheelchair to the back to fetch water to wash her face.

The water on this side of the house has been shut off because no one has been living there, so it's a good thing there's a well in the back garden that hasn't run dry.

She got a bucket and fetched half a bucket up, bent over and washed her face, found a toothbrush and brushed her teeth, all cleaned up before she went back to her room to change and pushed her wheelchair out.

As soon as you leave the house, there is a market.

The bazaar was bustling, the country town was no match for the big city, and the streets were filled with the stalls of vendors.

The sounds of yelling, talking, and children chasing and jostling intertwine to form a lively and smoky place.

Bella Qiao maneuvered her wheelchair in front of a stall and bought a scallion pancake and soy milk.

I was walking back with it, when suddenly I saw a figure in front of me.

She froze.

In the next second, the figure flashed into the dense crowd and was gone.

Bella Qiao turned pale and hurriedly maneuvered her wheelchair to chase after her.

However, the other party was fast, and although it was only a few tens of seconds, by the time she chased after her, the spot was empty, where was the slightest trace of the man?

Her face changed and changed again.

It was only a glance, but she believed she was by no means mistaken.

That person was obviously a senior brother of the Vermilion Bird Society that he was very familiar with, named Chang Xu Changpeng.

He's dead, isn't he? Why are you here?

Georgie responded quickly.

Yes, the information that Gu Siqian found before shows that these "dead" people are actually not dead.

Instead, he fakes his death and shakes his body, going from a defeated prisoner of the Vermilion Society to the meta-brain of the Chinese Society.

She looked a little worse for wear and fell silent, but after only a slight pause, she turned and walked away without hesitation.

All the way back to the courtyard, shutting out the excitement and bustle outside.

Looking up, I did see the door open and a familiar figure, already sitting in the living room.

Her eyes were cold.

Maneuver the wheelchair and walk over quickly.

"Brother, long time no see."

The cold, clear voice exited, and Xu Chang sadly raised his head.

It was a face that was all too familiar, warm and gentle, like the spring breeze that used to blow away Bella Qiao's boredom when she was in a bad mood.

But now, as she looked at the face, she had no reason to feel a chill.

Xu Chang sadly laughed slightly.

"Little Sister, it's been a long time, you don't seem surprised to see me again."

Jackie smirked and maneuvered her wheelchair up and into the house, placing breakfast on the table.

The voice was cold, "How can I be surprised that Senior Brother has brought a gang of people to make such a big commotion and tried to kill me several times? Even if I am surprised, I'm just surprised that you're so late."

Said the man, who had already closed the door.

Xu Chang compassion watched her movements and did not move.

Not even the slightest hint of trying to escape, or move up against her.

He was sitting quietly at the table like that, and if you didn't know each other and saw this image, you would have thought it was just a normal two old friends catching up.

But Bella Qiao knew there would be no more old times to talk about.

Those so-called old ones are, in the end, nothing more than a conspiracy they have planned.

Chapter 838

All along, I was just a pawn in their hands.

One, used to deal with Gu Siqian, the original Vermilion Bird Society, or even just a pawn for the entire underground organization.

Her eyes were cold at the thought.

Xu Changbai, however, seemed as if he couldn't sense her emotions and smiled slightly, "Little Sister doesn't seem to welcome me very much? This is some kind of misunderstanding about senior brother, isn't it?"

Bella Qiao snickered.

"Whether it's a misunderstanding or not, you know it!"

Xu Chang sadly raised his eyebrows.

It had to be said that if you take away the evil aura that he was somehow born with today, he could charm a large number of women with that warm, jade-like face.

Of course, Georgie is out of the picture.

He only smiled faintly and said, "From your tone, you seem to blame me for your previous accidents, little junior sister, you've wronged me, I was aware that you were out of prison and came over to meet me with your eyes, but I didn't expect to be so slandered by you, which made senior brother very sad ah."

Bella Qiao looked at his nebulous appearance, only to feel her anger arching in her heart.

She dropped her eyes slightly, glancing back out of the corners of her eyes, and asked, "Say, what do you want from me?"

Xu Chang sadly laughed lightly, "It seems that you definitively refuse to believe that I'm just here to catch up with you?"

Bella Qiao's face was expressionless, "I don't think we have anything old to catch up on."

Xu Chang sadly suffocated.

After a moment of silence, he chuckled softly, "I understand how you feel right now, and perhaps you think that we have deceived you, but Joe, have you ever thought carefully about any other point where we have hurt you, other than not telling you who we really are?"

He paused, his eyes deepening, "Even in that last battle, though we used you, we didn't really want your life, you need to know that a true pawn doesn't need to continue living in this world after the deed is done."

The man's tone was flat, but Bella Qiao hardened her ears and heard a hint of coldness in that flat tone.

Her eyes went cold as well, and she asked in a deep voice, "What do you want?"

Xu Chang sadly smiled at her.

"Come with me."

Without waiting for her to speak, she followed up with, "I know that Gu Siqian has sent someone to follow you, maybe right now when I come here, there are already a lot of people outside waiting to catch me, but Qiao, you understand, since I already know that there is danger and still dare to come alone, I must have something to fall back on, so be good and follow me, I promise not to hurt you, how about it?"

Bella Qiao looked at him with cold eyes and a calm face, but her heart was already turning over.

She knew Xu Chang sadly this person very well, in the past, in the Vermillion Bird Society, this person was the backbone of everyone.

Not only is he superb at martial arts, he is also very good at strategy and is a very deep-hearted character.

To really go up against him, she knew in her heart that she was no match for him, either in terms of scheming or martial arts.

And most importantly, one more thing.

That was the person Gu Si Qian had sent to protect her, who had obviously been staying around here the whole time, and she had felt it last night when she was going to sleep.

But now, she didn't even feel a thing.

It was as if those people had vanished into thin air.

Her heart hung in the air, and she couldn't decide what was going on outside, so she could only be patient and stall with him for time.

"Did you do that body that was recovered from the river yesterday?"

I don't know if he realized what she was doing, but Xu Chang sadly was in no hurry and slowly replied, "No."

Kitty Qiao frowned.

Xu Changbei smiled slightly.

"She deserves to die, but someone else will take care of her for me before I can even wait for her to do it, so it's good to save me the trouble of having to make another trip."

Bella Qiao said coldly, "She's one of yours?"

Xu Chang sadly laughed.

"Sort of, a little girl from a poor family who willingly worked for someone as long as she said a few nice words, but I didn't expect that she would be kicked out of her home before she had done a single thing, tsk, this kind of useless waste, if I really had to choose, I'd rather not have seen her in the first place."

The man's few light words managed to stir up the anger in Bella Qiao's heart.

She gritted her teeth, "She died for you, don't you have any compassion at all?"

"Sympathy?"

The man raised an eyebrow as if he had heard something particularly surprising, followed by a slow laugh.

"Joe, you've really changed a lot since we haven't seen each other for four years, the formerly loving, bold and cold-hearted Joe is now actually mentioning sympathy to people."

He paused, his thin lips pursed into a straight line, his eyes steeply stern.

"Don't you know? In our line of work, the last thing we need is sympathy!"

Bella Qiao was shaken hard!

Touching the other party's cold and stern gaze, she realized that the Xu Chang sadness in front of her was indeed not the Xu Chang sadness she knew before.

She maneuvered the wheelchair back a step, shook her head, and said, "I'm not going with you, you're dead. As you said, I'm not out on my own this time, so if you know what's good for you, be good and restrain yourself, or don't blame me for being rude."

However, there was not a trace of panic on Xu Chang sad's face after being threatened.

Just watching her with interest.

Bella Qiao's heart thudded.

Fingers pressed against the buttons on the armrests of the wheelchair, but I heard nothing outside in silence.

Shit!

The button on the handrail was an emergency contact that Gu Si Qian had deliberately put in place for her before leaving.

It was so that if she was in any kind of danger, she could just press send signal, and his side would receive it, and then immediately rush in with people.

But now, she's pressed it several times.

There was no sound at all outside.

What's...going on here?

Around the time he saw the change in her face, Xu Chang sadly tilted his head and laughed out loud.

"Little Sister, Little Sister, I didn't expect that after four years you would still be so naive, did you really think that man would drop all his affairs for you, even at the risk of having the Dragon Corps completely destroyed, he would come to save you?"

Bella Qiao's pupils shook.

Unbelievably, he looked at him.

"What did you do to him?"

Xu Chang sadly shook his head.

"Didn't do much more than call in a little trouble in his territory, and believe me, it was really a little trouble, nothing more than the loss of a few pieces of territory and some irrelevant shrimp and crab soldiers to him, definitely not serious enough to hurt his bones.”

“But you see, even then, he’d rather give you up to save people who don’t matter, Joe, can’t you see by this point that this man isn’t even worthy of your heart?”

He said, already on his feet and stepping towards her.

Chapter 839

Bella Qiao’s inner panic was like a drumbeat.

She didn’t know that Gu Siqian had really run into some trouble and left temporarily, as he said.

Still, he just tripped over him temporarily and couldn’t get here in time.

But no matter what, she would never allow herself to fall into his hands.

Thinking that, her eyes went cold.

“Brother Xu, we’ve known each other for so many years, but you haven’t learned my darts yet, have you?”

Xu Chang sadly squinted his eyes and before he could speak, there was a “whoosh”.

A dart was thrown at him.

His face was shaken and he quickly spun around to dodge.

The darts, however, were like eyes, shooting one by one at speed in the direction he was moving.

Meanwhile, Jackie had maneuvered her wheelchair and backed toward the door.

Realizing her intentions, the man smiled coldly, “Trying to run?”

The body had dodged those darts and was coming at her.

Bella Qiao was in awe and kicked her foot up, but the leg was still in mid-air when it was gripped, followed by a tug.

She actually got straight up out of the wheelchair and was instantly pulled into the other woman's arms.

With one hand holding her leg and one hand strangling her neck, Xu Chang sadly placed his head on her shoulder and said in an evil manner, "Little sister is really cruel, this kick over, I'm afraid that your brother's happiness for the rest of his life will be nowhere to be seen, and you are still serious about it!"

Bella Qiao's face was cold as ice.

"Xu Chang's grief! You let go of me!"

"Heh, I told you, I'm here today to get you, it was hard to get my hands on you, let go of you for what?"

He said, looking up and out.

"Oh, you're still waiting for Kusken, aren't you? Unfortunately he won't be coming, I sent someone to ransack his casino and lost tens of billions of dollars in whole cash, he won't care, Joe, be good and come back with me, I'll make you understand why I did what I did."

Bella Qiao's heart chilled, but at that moment, she heard a clear voice from outside.

"Who said I wouldn't care?"

They were both shocked and looked up.

I saw Gu Si Qian standing in the doorway with Qin Yue, his tall figure was like being ferried through the sunlight, and his entire body was radiant.

Bella Qiao's eyes instantly heated up.

"Gu Si Qian!"

She struggled, trying to break Xu Changcai's shackles.

However, the fingers stuck around the neck were like iron grips that couldn't be freed.

Xu Chang sad's face went cold.

The obvious surprises and disappointments.

He gritted his teeth and said, "Gu Si Qian, 40 billion for a woman, you're really willing to come, aren't you afraid that your group of Yuan brains will be disappointed in you?"

Gu Si Qian's face was cold.

"Worry more about yourself than you worry about me!When the news of you showing up spreads, there will be no way to hide how you betrayed the Vermilion Bird Society back then, how many people who were implicated because of you back then will come after you, I don't need to tell you that you should know, be sensible and release them quickly, and I can still let you live!"

Xu Chang sad suddenly laughed.

As if hearing some kind of joke, he looked at Gu Si Qian and said, "That's great, it seems that I underestimated you, in that case, what else do I have to say."

He paused, suddenly lowered his head, and whispered in Georgie's ear, "Joe, I'll come back for you, wait for me."

After saying that, he suddenly pushed Bella Qiao forward, and the whole man not only didn't rush forward, but instead retreated backwards.

Bella Qiao had trouble with her legs and was pushed by him and almost fell to the ground.

Before the body hit the ground, however, it was steadily caught by a pair of strong arms.

She looked up and saw a deep-faced Gu Si Qian.

It was as if the big stone in my heart had not finally landed until this moment.

Expecting that the man would put himself in the wheelchair, he actually picked her up right across the room and headed out.

Georgie's heart pounded and subconsciously grabbed his shirt.

"Gu Si Qian, you..."

The man looked down at her.

That glance, with its deep gaze, looked at Bella Qiao in awe.

I don't know why, but the words that were meant to be said were all of a sudden unspoken.

Kuskan carried her outside.

The outside was already full of people, all brought by Gu Siqian, when he reached the door, he looked at one of them, who didn't look too good, walked up to him and bowed slightly, saying, "Boss, the man ran away."

Bella Qiao was startled.

But surprisingly, there was no surprise on Gu Siqian's face, nor did he even blame him.

He just nodded and said, "Send some of the men to continue the chase, and the rest back with me."

The man responded loudly, "Yes!"

A group of people got into the car and it headed out of town.

Car.

Everyone didn't speak, Bella Qiao sat there with Gu Si Qian by her side and Qin Yue driving in front.

The man didn't say anything, she turned her head to look at him and couldn't help it in the end, asking, "From what Xu Chang said, something happened on your side..."

"Well."

At this point, Gu Si Qian did not hide anything from her.

But perhaps in case she was overly concerned, he raised his hand to touch her head and said, "It's not a big deal, don't worry."

Kitty Qiao pursed her lips for a moment and nodded her head.

The car continued to move forward at a steady speed.

Soon, it was out of town.

Bella Qiao said softly, "I didn't think he was really still alive, and looking at him now, he's so different from before, just now he came over to look for me and said those words that I never thought would come out of his mouth, I've been wondering if they had already lurked in the Vermilion Bird Society and had other ideas from the beginning, or if they were bribed and betrayed later. What do you think?"

She tilted her head up and looked at Kuskan.

Gu Si Qian's gaze likewise fell upon her.

It was just a dark gaze that actually contained many emotions she couldn't understand.

The man's perceptive voice said, "Perhaps, both?"

Kitty Qiao froze, her eyes a little confused, "How so?"

Gu Si Qian said in a deep voice, "I've checked their information, these people, when they were young, were all acquired by the same foreign orphanage, of course, that orphanage is long gone now, but just from that alone, you can tell something."

After a pause, he suddenly changed his tune and asked, "What if they really had ulterior motives from the very beginning when they entered the Vermilion Bird Society?"

Bella Qiao was stunned.

The blankness in his eyes was heavier.

Obviously, she had never thought about it.

It was just that this was the time when Kusken brought it up, and she had to think about it.

Yeah, what if they really had ulterior motives from the start?

Come here with ulterior motives, get close to her with ulterior motives, and then use her to accomplish your own goals.
