

Chapter 843

That is, the other party knew her habits and situation very well, and had access to the kitchen, if that poison was really from Zhang Feng, she actually could have directly put it on her food, after all, although that food was Xiao Yue to get it, but Zhang Feng hand-distributed it.

And why did she go down in the silver ear soup?

Bella Qiao was puzzled.

She had a sneaking suspicion, but it was a suspicion that had no way of being confirmed, so it would have to just go away.

Wait until later when you get a chance.

She was thinking complicated thoughts, when a car engine suddenly came from downstairs.

She froze, and since the car wasn't coming in from this side of her balcony, she couldn't see who it was, but she heard voices not from far away, not from near, so it wasn't likely that someone was going out, but that someone was coming in.

Thinking about it, she thought she couldn't sleep left or right anyway, so she might as well go out.

So, they changed their clothes and headed out in their wheelchairs.

And now, the living room on the main floor.

Lin Song walked in with a smile on his face, and upon entering the living room, he saw a few maids who were quietly wiping things down and asked, "Where is your young master?"

Everyone knew Lin Song and knew that he was Gu Si Qian's closest friend, so they were respectful when they saw him.

A maid replied softly, "In the upstairs room."

Lin Song nodded and stepped forward to go upstairs.

Everyone didn't stop him, after all, Gu Siqian had said before that Lin Song was one of his own, and if he came he could go straight to him without any taboos.

Lin Song went all the way to the first floor, not expecting to see Bella Qiao coming out of the room before seeing Gu Siqian.

He froze, then smiled, "Joe, long time no see."

A pause, eyes darkening as they swept over the wheelchair she sat in, and the long, thin legs.

"I've heard you were injured, I wanted to come see you, but Siken never let me, how are you doing now, are you better?"

Previously, after Bella Qiao had woken up from her injuries, she did hear that Lin Song was going to visit her.

But first, because none of them knew who the murderer would be at the time, and second, because Tang Qi Qi had just died and Bella Qiao was in a bad mood, so they didn't see it.

She smiled a little, "Much better, why did you have time to come over today?"

Linzon smiled and raised a sticker in his hand.

"I'll come to Siken and give him a happy sticker."

Bella Qiao was stunned.

Before he could speak, Gu Siqian's door was pushed open from the inside.

A man in a black silk nightgown appeared in the doorway.

I have to say, this man does have the capital to make people crazy obsessed.

The daylight from the glass at one end of the long corridor came in, making him look more and more handsome and distinguished.

He looked at Bella Qiao and then at Lin Song.

The eyes sank and said, "All come in with me."

So they turned and went into his house.

Truth be told, Rao Qi and Gu Si Qian had dated for a long time before, and now she was living back in the castle, but it was really the first time she had come to his room.

Entering the room now, Georgie realized that the whole room was not in the dark shades that she had expected to belong to a man.

Instead, it was light in tone, and the entire room had a light, warm, welcoming colour that was worlds apart from the man's style.

Gu Si Qian went to sit down on the sofa, looked at Lin Song, and said, "Who's getting married?"

Lin Song smiled, came over and placed the happy sticker on the table.

"See for yourself."

His fingers clicked and he reached for the hi-post.

Open it, take a look at it, and your eyes tighten up.

Lin Song hugged his arms and smiled, "Brother, don't say I didn't help you, I could have gone to a lot of trouble to help you get this wedding sticker this time, see how you want to thank me?"

Since she was standing very close to Gu Siqian, Bella Qiao could easily see the name on the happy sticker.

Namuwai.

What a familiar name.

She frowned and searched the name in her mind, quickly coming to a conclusion.

The Nam family is a large centuries-old family outside the country.

It's a little less apt to say the Centennial Family, since the family is actually said to have been around for more than a hundred years, or even for hundreds and thousands of years.

And unlike other big families, this family was very mysterious, and had a very strict membership system that belonged to them alone.

But because this family has always kept a low profile, most of the time they are usually in business and don't mess with anyone.

So although it's already a family with a thousand years of history, of all the big families, it's surprisingly non-existent in other ways than money.

And this Nan Muhuai, Bella Qiao remembered, seemed to be an important member of the Nan Clan.

To say that the Nan Clan had an unwritten rule, it was that everyone in the Nan Clan, when getting married, could only invite a very few people who were extremely close to them.

There is no outside involvement.

No matter how high and powerful the other party was, as long as it was the Nan Clan's own banquet, there was no way for anyone outside to participate.

Therefore, it was still impossible for Rao Siqian, such a powerful figure, to attend their wedding.

But Lin Song was different.

Lin Song's mother, a peripheral scion of the Nan Clan, had at least Nan Clan blood in her veins, though the relationship was somewhat distant.

Therefore, it was still not difficult for Lin Song to get a wedding sticker if he thought about it a little and begged his mother.

But I didn't expect that this wedding sticker, from the tone of his voice, was still for Gu Siqian?

Bella Qiao looked at Gu Si Qian.

But Gu Si Qian clearly had no intention of explaining to her right away, he just put away the wedding sticker and said, "Thank you for this matter, I'll treat you to dinner later."

Lindsong smiled, "Good grin."

And not asking for much, followed by another invitation from the bosom.

"I got you out of my way, now it's my turn to ask the two of you to do something for me."

They were both stunned to see that there were two invitations he had brought out, both with very simple black covers, red floral patterns, and a happy birthday written on them.

Lin Song smiled, "It's my birthday in two days, I'm having a birthday banquet at my side of the house, quite a few people are coming, you two can come over and have some fun then."

Bella Qiao saw the situation and felt that after being friends with Lin Song for so many years and on the other's birthday, of course she should go.

So I nodded evenly, "Don't worry, I'll be here when the time comes."

Chapter 844

Rather, it was Gu Siqian who looked at him with confusion.

"I haven't seen you make such a big deal about your birthday before, but what's going on this year?"

That, though, left Georgie stunned.

Lin Song scratched his head and laughed awkwardly.

"Si Qian, as a brother who sees the truth and doesn't say anything, you save face."

Gu Si Qian smiled a rare smile this time, "Which girl?"

Lin Song's face actually quietly reddened and he fidgeted a bit.

"Well, you'll see that then."

Kitty Qiao hadn't realized what they were talking about and, seeing the situation, interjected and asked, "What are you talking about? What girl?"

Gu Siqian smiled slightly and explained to her: "Lin Song usually dislikes occasions like banquets and receptions the most, but this time she actually held a banquet on her birthday, to say that I don't believe it for her own sake.

He didn't have any other reason than that, and if he really had to think of one, it could only be because he had a crush on some girl, but didn't know her well enough to invite her over for a get-together, so he had to come up with a grandiose reason like a party.

This kind of banquet, many people come to attend, the other party will definitely not suspect that he has ulterior motives, so eighty percent will come to the banquet, and he will only need to make a little action at the banquet, and create a romantic encounter with the other party, and then no matter how beautiful the beauty is, isn't it still a handful."

Bella Qiao was completely stunned.

Why didn't I think that Lin Song was for this.

She couldn't help but laugh and cry at the moment, while at the same time, she looked over the two men's faces with a seeming smile.

"Tsk, the routine is so deep, be careful of wearing it out, back then people not only didn't fall in love with you as you thought, but instead added a charge of scheming, let's see what you do."

When she said that, it scared Lin Song.

The faces have changed.

"No way, right?"

Of course Bella Qiao was just scaring him, how would she know what the other person thought?

So, seeing his face that was rapidly going white, he puffed out a laugh.

"Okay, I'm kidding, you're so dedicated, but any girl would be tempted, come on, look out for you."

She said, and raised her fist at him in a cheering gesture.

Lin Song was able to put his mind at ease.

It was the first time that Bella Qiao showed such a relaxed and lovely appearance in front of people, and Gu Si Qian looked on, and for a moment his eyes did not deepen.

He said nothing, however, and chatted a little longer with Lindsay, who had other things to do in the afternoon, and left.

After Lin Song left, Bella Qiao felt that it wasn't good for her to be alone with him, so she also turned around and prepared to leave.

Unexpectedly, the man called out to him before he reached the door.

The man looked at her, his eyes a little heavy.

He said in a deep voice, "I'll bring Yusra Lin along to Nan Muhuai's wedding tomorrow."

Bella Qiao's heart thumped.

The mood that had been so happy suddenly cooled down like a splash of cold water.

What do you mean, bring her in?

It suddenly occurred to her that yeah, people like Nan Muhuai and the others, usually someone who was going to their wedding would bring their own family members, I guess.

Is he suggesting something to himself?

It turns out that in his heart, Yusra Lin is the most suitable and preferred companion, is he serious about Yusra Lin?

Her face sank unconsciously, and her bright eyes, too, seemed to be instantly blinded and to lose all their brilliance.

Gu Si Qian took in all these changes and was actually satisfied in his heart, but his face didn't show it.

He walked over to her and looked at her condescendingly, "What's on your mind?"

Bella Qiao came back to her senses at once.

When she looked up, she saw the man who had stepped forward, his handsome face blurred by the dim light of the room, causing even more bitterness to spread through her heart.

She barely smiled.

"No, nothing."

I said, looking away slightly, looking away, as if I didn't want to meet his eyes.

All she felt was panic, and what she had believed and been certain of in her heart for some time seemed to suddenly collapse right now.

She didn't want to lose her temper in front of him, so she said evenly, "I'm a little tired, so I'm going back to my room."

Afterwards, push the wheelchair and get ready to leave.

However, only after turning around, he was pressed by Gu Si Qian on the armrest of the wheelchair.

He was so strong that even she couldn't resist.

The tip of Bella Qiao's heart suddenly trembled that way, and an indescribable sense of aggravation and annoyance surged to her heart.

This man, what does he want?

Obviously, I already had Yusra Lin set in my mind, so why did I have to come and mess with her three times?

Didn't he know just how damned he was to be like that?

Bella Qiao's heart was incredibly sad, yet she heard a sudden soft laugh from above her head.

She looked up in a daze.

Just see the man's handsome face by the blurred light illuminated deep three-dimensional, the dark dark eyes, now filled with a soft smile, looking at her eyes, spoiled as if looking at their most treasured treasure.

"Tell me, what were you thinking?"

He leaned down and braced his hands on the armrests of her wheelchair and whispered.

As the man did so, the two men closed the distance between them.

Georgie could almost feel the breath coming off his body and shrank back.

But spare her tiny body, she was still completely enveloped in his shadow.

She moved her lips for a moment before saying, "Nothing to think about."

Obviously tough-mouthed.

Kusken smiled.

Reaching out, she gently cupped her chin, forcing her to turn her face elsewhere and look up at herself.

His eyes were deep, like two dark whirlpools, and Georgie felt as if she were being sucked in when she looked at them.

Only to see him suddenly lower his head and k*ss down towards her lips.

Her heart skipped a beat.

The brain went suddenly down for a moment, as if nothing had happened, and then a warm, soft touch fell away.

Bella Qiao's head boomed.

Almost just a touch, and instantly the man's lips left.

He looked at her and whispered, "Joe, after tomorrow, we'll make up, okay?"

Kitty Qiao frowned.

Reason told her no.

Therefore, she just said with a blank expression, "Gu Si Qian, we're already over."

Yeah, it was over four years ago.

However, Gu Si Qian didn't care what she said.

He said quietly, "Trust me, everything is not what you think it is, I have never betrayed you, give me some more time and I will tell you the answer, not just this time, but all the knots that were imprinted on your heart four years ago, I will help you untie them one by one, trust me."

Chapter 845

That trust me sound was like a fist that struck deep into Georgie's heart.

It hit her like a dull ache in her heart, and like she was stuck in a cloud of cotton and couldn't breathe.

She turned her head away, but her eyes were growing red.

"What do you want me to believe about you?"

Yeah, how can she trust him?

Those had caused her harm, and although she chose not to care anymore nowadays, it didn't mean that she could forget.

Even if the wound was healed, there was still a deep scar there, could he erase it along with the scar?

The tears just flowed like that for some reason.

Obviously neither of them said anything, but it was as if they didn't have to say anything, so naturally they understood.

Gu Si Qian looked at the glistening teardrops, only to feel a dull pain in his heart as if he had been punched.

He reached out, little by little, and wiped the tears from her face for her.

The voice was husky and low like a cello.

"I know, there were a lot of things you couldn't let go of, that's why you've been struggling to track down the gang, but Joe, people always have to move on, give me a chance and give yourself a chance, after tomorrow, we'll make up and we'll talk about the rest later, okay?"

Georgie suddenly looked up at him.

She wasn't crying at this time, and her clear eyes were only stubborn.

She suddenly asked, "Why after tomorrow? What are you doing tomorrow? You're not a person who likes to have a good time, yet you suddenly asked Lin Song to help you get an invitation to Nan Muhuai's wedding, and you're bringing Yusra Lin with you, what do you want to do?"

Just now, she also didn't react at the moment, mistakenly thinking that he was taking Yusra Lin with him, that he was acknowledging this identity of Yusra Lin as his woman.

But then it quickly occurred to her that Gu Siqian was not such a person.

Whether he still loved himself or not, she couldn't guarantee it, but he didn't like Yusra Lin, that much was obvious to anyone.

Otherwise, just by the fact that he had sided with Yusra Lin several times before, when he was in conflict with Yusra Lin, and when Yusra Lin was using those low and low tactics to set him up, he was enough to want to beat him up.

Bella Qiao's reasoning and experience told her that Gu Si Qian was hiding something from her.

In fact, Gu Si Qian did have something to hide from her.

He thought, suddenly pushing her wheelchair and heading for the house.

Bella Qiao was stunned and shouted, "Gu Si Qian, what are you doing?"

She didn't know what he was suddenly mad about, and how he was pushing her towards the house properly.

However, Gu Siqian didn't give her a chance to speak at all, and after pushing her into the room, he locked the door.

Watching all of this Georgie: "..."

So angry oh, but also must smile.

After closing the door, Kusken folded back, walked over to her and squatted down.

He looked her in the eyes and said, "Joe, I can tell you this, but you have to promise me first that you won't get mad after you hear it."

Kitty Jo had actually been forbidden to be angry when he chose to tell her.

But now, looking at him like that, he didn't want to let him off so easily in the end.

So, still feigning anger with a sunken face, he said, "Tell me first."

Kusken thought about it and began to explain.

"In fact, the reason I left Yusra Lin behind

Come because I stumbled upon something."

"What is it?" Georgie had come to be interested.

Gu Si Qian continued, "Did you know about Nan Muyong?"

Georgie nodded.

Nan Mu Rong was Nan Mu Huai's younger brother, and both of them were core members of the Nan Clan.

Gu Siqian said, "The Dragon Corps is now scattered, but many people are still holding on for the family, and the Nan Clan has recently been competing with us for business and territory, so maybe in the future we will no longer be friends, but rivals and possibly even enemies."

"And most of the business over there is controlled by Nan Murong, who is the most capable leader of the entire new generation of the Nan Clan, and by virtue of the Nan Clan's strong financial power, he can be said to be unstoppable in recent years."

"To plan ahead, I secretly sent someone to investigate him and found out that he had been married once before, but his wife had died in childbirth."

"He's also considered an infatuated man, he hasn't married again since his wife died, and he obviously still misses her in his heart, and Yusra Lin, who looks very similar to his wife."

Georgie was stunned, a little incredulous.

"What are you talking about, Yusra Lin and his wife look similar."

"Yes."

Gu Si Qian nodded with great certainty, "Not only is it similar, it can almost be said that it basically looks exactly the same except for the age difference."

Bella Qiao shook hard.

Shake your head subconsciously.

"How is that possible? They're not even from the same country, and it doesn't matter, how..."

Gu Si Qian said in a deep voice, "I'm not sure of the exact reason, but Nan Mu Rong has already met Yusra Lin last time and expressed great interest in her, Ah Qiao, this is a good opportunity, we can't miss it."

Bella Qiao's eyes sank.

Looked at him with a suspicious eye.

"What do you want to do?"

"I've made a deal with Yusra Lin to send her to him, and she's agreed that she'll be our best insider from now on."

Georgie burst out laughing at the irony.

At this time, Gu Siqian was still holding her hand, and she threw his hand away with one hand, saying angrily, "Gu Siqian, how could you do this? I thought you were different from those men, but why have you become just like them, putting your success and hopes in a woman!"

"Have you ever thought that you used Yusra Lin to gain Nan Mu Rong's trust and made her your insider, not only did you use Nan Mu Rong but also Yusra Lin, you took advantage of both of them."

"I know that Luna Lin is even fond of you and loves you so much that she is willing to go to war for you and do everything for you that she doesn't even want to do. But Koo Siken, have you ever thought about it? Why is she doing this, what does she want, and can you give her what she wants?"

Kuskan remained silent.

Bella Qiao then continued, "You're not going to win even if you win like this, didn't you used to be the last person to do that? Why now?"

Gu Siqian raised his head and looked at her, and his original gentle gaze grew cold.

He said quietly, "So, you're saying you don't agree with me doing this?"

Without even thinking about it, Bella Qiao replied, "Not only do I disagree with it, but I very much despise the way you do it."

"What's the difference between behaving like this and those human beasts who do everything!"