

Chapter 855

Soon, Bella Qiao's phone rang again.

She frowned, not wanting to care, but in the end couldn't resist the glare from the man next to her, so she had to pick up the phone.

When I opened it, there was another text message on it.

"I was wrong."

She froze.

Then the frown deepened.

Turned to look at the man, but saw that he was looking at himself seriously, that usually cold and deep eyes, now also converge all the sharpness, just like that pitiful look at her, watery like a puppy.

Kitty Jo's heart was in a chamber.

Somehow it was like being swept by a layer of feathers, some kind of drill itch.

She didn't know what the man meant, was this an attempt to play pity on her?

Well, she's not going to eat that.

Thinking so, Bella Qiao put the phone away and deliberately pretended to ignore it.

Gu Si Qian saw that the trick wasn't working, thought about it, and suddenly took a box of toothpicks from the table and swung them on a small piece of tabletop in front of him.

The rest of them were too busy poking fun at Lin Song and Jing Jing to notice anything unusual about him.

After all, everyone knew him, knew what kind of personality he had, and it was already good enough that others came on occasions like this, expecting him to join the group chat like they did was unlikely.

Therefore, no one was even paying attention to what he was doing.

Jackie noticed though.

Only, because she didn't want to give the man a good look, she didn't really look at him, but would occasionally glance at him out of the corner of her eye.

I thought he was playing when I saw him sitting there with his head down fiddling with a toothpick instead of texting on his phone.

The heart secretly sneers, this man is really more and more living more and more backwards, actually playing with toothpicks, really think he is a three-year-old child?

However, she didn't care about him, since he wanted to play, let him play, as long as he didn't bother himself, so what did it matter to her?

Bella Qiao thought so, and ignored him, and let him go.

However, a moment later, the arm was suddenly poked gently.

She subconsciously quirked an eyebrow and looked over at the man in anger, trying to use this as a warning to him to stay out of his way.

Unsurprisingly, the man did nothing more than point to the table in front of him, showing her looking.

Bella Qiao took a glance over and stiffened.

The only thing that was on the table was the letters he had placed with a toothpick, and it was g love q.

People don't know what this g love q means, so how could she not?

G is Koo Sze Kian. Isn't Q is Bella Qiao?

This man....

She was so full of anger that she seemed to deflate like a punctured balloon at that very moment.

The whole thing was good and funny.

Gu Siqian also smiled a big smile at her in a pleasing manner, so angry that Bella Qiao wanted to reach out and hit him.

However, in the end, the crowd was still in the way and the occasion was not right, and the urge was squashed alive.

Just picked up the phone, typed a quick text and sent it.

"Don't get all that nonsense, I'm not going to agree to this even if you try your hardest, so die trying!"

When you're done, press send.

Gu Si Qian's phone buzzed and he immediately picked it up to look at it.

Joaki was texting, but out of the corner of her eye, she kept an eye on his face.

Seeing the man's face, from the first cheerfully held hand

Machine, to the back to see the content of the text message, the light in that eye suddenly dimmed, and I don't know why, the heart is suddenly a little intolerant.

Georgie responded quickly.

What's she doing?

Was she feeling sorry for the man now?

Ha, that's ridiculous. He needs sympathy?

This man is now in the use of bitter meat tricks on her, she really fell into his trap, sympathy for him to forgive him, then she is really a million first big fool.

With that in mind, Georgie put the phone away and ignored him again.

It was about being rejected again, causing the man's pride to be more or less bruised, so the next time, Gu Siqian surprisingly did not bother her again for a rare time.

After lunch, in the afternoon, we were all clamoring to go singing together.

Lin Song also somewhat leapt into the valley owed to try, but because of the obstruction of Jing Jing, it was not too good to agree directly, so he asked her opinion.

Unexpectedly, Jing Jing is a very generous nature, shaking her hair and saying, "Go, why not? Isn't it your birthday today? Don't you want to wait for another time without celebrating?"

Lin Song smiled happily at the news.

He even agreed, "Okay, then I'll go arrange it."

This dogged attitude made the group of brothers next to him slurp and shake their heads.

"Little Songzi is finished, originally still a rich young master of the landlord's family, this next day has become a slave under someone's skirts, it's sad to watch."

"Harm, Pine's s*x-obsessed nature is genetic, don't you know that?"

When he said that, everyone shuddered as they remembered the loving couple of Lin Song's parents.

Nothing else, dog food for the bored.

As a large local clan, almost all of the families here have some kind of relationship with each other, it's just a matter of affinity.

But regardless of whether they were pro or con, anyone who had met Lin Song's parents had all been stuffed with dog food.

The lovey-dovey, those who know say they're a couple of thirty years old, and those who don't know, think they're a young couple who just successfully held hands yesterday.

Thinking about it this way, everyone was able to tolerate Lin Song's doggedness towards Jing Jing now.

Soon, Lin Song made arrangements for the location, which was on the top floor of this hotel.

Of course, the rest of the guys aren't going, it's their good friends at the table who are.

Because Bella Qiao can't drink, eating is okay, kktv goes to not drink inevitably is a little spoilery.

And since he had just seen that Bella Qiao's feet were already a little swollen, he was not willing to let her linger any longer outside, and was determined to take her back to have the doctor take a look at her.

So they rejected Lin Song's decision to invite them to the KTV.

Lin Song was not reluctant when he saw this, and after greeting the two of them, he led a large group of people to sing and drink.

Only then did Gu Si Qian return to the castle with Bella Qiao.

It was exactly two o'clock in the afternoon when we returned to the castle.

The sun was blazing outside, and Georgie came home, even though she was sitting in the car, but she was sweating when she got out and went back to her room.

Naturally, Gu Si Qian went back to her room, and so did she.

I thought to myself, it's okay around here and it's still early enough for a lunch break.

But Bella Qiao has always been a germaphobe, and she definitely couldn't sleep well in this sweaty condition, so she was ready to take a shower first.

She took off her clothes and walked into the bathroom.

The trauma is almost completely healed now, so bathing doesn't interfere.

Georgie was concentrating on soaking in the tub while enjoying the comfort of being wrapped in the warm water.

Chapter 856

Just then, the door to the room was suddenly opened from the outside.

Because Kitty Jo hadn't expected to be approached at this time.

Therefore, she left the bathroom door open when she showered.

After all, she was the only one in this room, and normally even if Xiao Yue wanted to come over, she would knock outside first, so who would have thought that someone would suddenly barge in?

So she didn't have that defense at all.

This moment, however, is the definitive one, and someone has broken in.

How sharp her hearing was, she sobered up almost immediately as soon as the door was opened and the other man's foot stepped into the room.

Eyes open, next second, and Gu Siqian four eyes.

"Ah-!"

A scream rang out, and the next thing I knew, I heard a man's roar.

"Get out!"

It was to the doctor who was following him.

The doctor hadn't actually stepped foot in the room, and had no idea what was going on in there, but seeing his face, and the scream he'd just heard, and thinking a little about it, he understood what was going on.

Taking a few steps backwards in a row, Gu Si Qian then entered the house and closed the door.

Bella Qiao was about to go mad.

Since the bathroom was right in front of the door, it took little effort for him to come in like this and see himself naked.

Looking at the man who was walking towards her with a gloomy face, she screamed, "How dare you come over here? Get out of here!"

Unexpectedly, Gu Si Qian just walked to the bathroom door and reached out, closing her door with one hand.

Bella Qiao: ??

Well, she's the one who misunderstood people.

She was somewhat accosted, and the next thing she knew, she heard the sound of a man snickering outside.

"Don't you have to close the door on a bubble bath in the middle of the day? And you've got a really big heart."

There was anger implied in the tone.

To outsiders, it sounded as if he was blaming Bella Qiao, but only he knew that he was annoyed that if he hadn't found it in time just now, that doctor would have walked in, and then he would have had to look at the light?

Well...even though the doctor is also a woman, that's no good.

Who knows if she prefers men or women these days?

The man's mind was playing tricks on him, but Georgie was furious.

As he got up and dressed, he cursed angrily, "And you have the nerve to blame me?It's my room. What's it to you if it's closed?Who let you just walk into my room?Don't you have to knock on the door before you go to someone's room?Do you have any manners at all?"

Some of the woman's incessant anger was unleashed at him.

Gu Si Qian's face was a little dark, but in the end, he was strong enough to bear down and didn't bother with her.

Just grunted and muttered in a low voice, "Good intentions."

The words, he said in a low voice, but what kind of ears did Georgie have?

Naturally I heard it and got even angrier.

"Do you have any more sense?No matter what the reason is, you have to knock on the door when you go to someone's room, right?You're so unreasonable for not knocking on the door yourself and blaming people for not closing the bathroom door."

She said in exasperation, and just then, suddenly, her foot slipped.

"Ah-!"

Another scream.

At the same time, a heavy thud was heard.

Like something heavy had hit the ground.

As soon as he heard this, Gu Siqian turned pale and subconsciously had to push the door in to see what was going on, Ran

And the hand was just on the door knob, suddenly remembered the woman's angry scolding words just now, in the end, still managed to shrink back.

He asked anxiously, "What's wrong with you? What's going on?"

There was no sound inside.

He knitted his brows for a moment, hesitated for a moment, and was about to unscrew the door and go straight in when a faint sound suddenly came from inside.

"I'm fine."

Georgie hissed softly, as if she had hit somewhere and was in some pain, and her voice came out hidden under pressure, "Don't you come in here, I'm fine."

However, she doesn't say that okay.

As soon as she said that, how could Gu Siqian not hear the pain and reticence in her tone?

Knowing what was supposed to be happening, when the face changed, I immediately wrenched the door open and walked in.

The bathroom was foggy.

He caught a glimpse of the whole woman lying on the floor in a large font and froze.

Bella Qiao had also long guessed that he would come in, at this time unable to move his whole body, and no strength to curse him, can only helplessly cover his face.

There are no longer words to describe how I feel at the moment.

Gu Si Qian, on the other hand, was laughing and crying.

It never occurred to me that a woman who was always so smart would one day be so clumsy.

He pulled a towel down from the side and wrapped it around her, then crouched down and picked someone up.

Bella Qiao immediately covered her face in his arms.

At this point, there was no more bravado or resistance, because you knew that it was useless to be brave and resist.

Who would have guessed that one day she would suddenly get a leg cramp and slip after taking a shower?

Now, she couldn't even move her entire right leg, let alone expect to stand up on her own.

Gu Si Qian was in a happy mood when he saw her like this.

After carrying her out of the bathroom and placing her on the bed, the woman immediately rolled over and cowered under the covers.

The soft white carnation of the body made the man's eyes deepen.

But soon, she was wrapped in a blanket and couldn't see.

Kusken doesn't care, making sure she's all covered up and there's nothing more missing before he goes out and calls the doctor in.

The doctor didn't know what was going on in there, but he had just heard a woman screaming and had no idea what was going on in his mind, and his face was all red when he came in now.

Bella Qiao was also oddly embarrassed, and only relaxed when she saw the doctor and realized that Gu Si Qian had brought the doctor to examine her injuries because he had seen her swollen feet earlier.

The doctor, under the direction of Gu Si Qian, came forward and looked at her injuries.

Bella Qiao stretched the injured leg out from the blanket, after the doctor examined her, he said, "It's nothing serious, just a little overworked, take some medicine and rub it, it'll be fine, but we still have to pay attention to the back, now the bone is only just some, try not to move as much as you can, it's better to let it heal on its own."

Bella Qiao nodded repeatedly and said, "Thank you."

The doctor smiled shyly at her, "No trouble."

Afterwards, Nah took the medicine out.

Instead of letting her rub Bella Qiao, Gu Siqian consulted the method of medication and sent the person away.

After the doctor left, Kuskan sat down by the bed.

When Bella Qiao saw this, she subconsciously had to shrink her legs into the blanket, however, before she could shrink in, he pinned her ankles.

"Hiding from what?"

The man's gaze was heavy and cold as he looked at her, and the next second, he took her leg and placed it on his lap.

Chapter 857

Bella Qiao's heart trembled, and when she saw him pour some of the medicine out, as if he was going to help her rub it, she even said, "No need for you to come, I, I'll just come myself later."

Kusken moved to look at her and smirked, "Are you sure you can do it yourself?"

Well...Georgie looked down at her swollen leg, as if she did have some difficulty coming by herself.

Still, she didn't want the man to move, so she said evenly, "I can get Moon to help me, or worse, get the doctor to help me."

Gu Si Qian sneered, "Xiao Yue is just a maid, she knows all this?"

After a pause, he added, "And do you really think we have a lot of free time here as doctors? You rub this every day? Doesn't she have to do anything else to see other patients?"

Bella Qiao was stunned.

I was a little confused by what he said.

Hadn't this female doctor in the castle been hired back earlier to take care of her illness?

Is there another patient in the castle she needs to see?

Kitty Qiao didn't know, and didn't dare to assert it.

Before she knew it, the man was already holding the drug in her lap.

His palms were large and broad with a slight roughness to them, the kind of roughness that comes from years of martial arts practice as well as grinding with a gun.

The thin cocoon slid over the delicate skin, bringing a numbing shuddering sensation.

Bella Qiao didn't know why, it was obvious that the man had done nothing, but she was somehow panicking.

It was almost like you had to grit your teeth to barely restrain yourself from grunting softly.

The face had turned red.

As Gu Si Qian concentrated on rubbing the medicine for her, he paid attention to her face.

Seeing the little woman's face blushing like two little apples, a smile crossed her eyes.

In fact, the touch on his hand made him a little bit of a heartthrob, too.

After all, it was in the face of someone you liked, and how many men could really restrain themselves at this point.

But he knew that at this point, Georgie hadn't really accepted herself, so he couldn't possibly do anything out of the ordinary to incur her annoyance.

Gu Si Qian quickly rubbed the medicine for her.

The leg, which was still very swollen, really went down a bit at this point.

He put her leg under the covers, took hold of the other leg, and said, "Was that the leg that just cramped up?"

Georgie was stunned and nodded subconsciously.

Kusken just took hold of the ankle of that leg and pressed it to her again.

Bella Qiao was silent, originally didn't want him to continue, but thought that he had just pressed it all, and now he was retracting himself, inevitably a little preposterous.

Simply let him be.

Kusken rubbed her for a while until he was sure the cramped pain had passed.

Georgie immediately ducked both her legs back under the covers.

At this time, her whole body was shrunk under the blanket, with only a small, round head showing, and she looked at him with a wary eye.

"Now that the medicine is done, you can go, right?"

Gu Si Qian choked.

The heart was a little sulky.

He smirked, "Aren't you a little too heartless to let someone go when you're done using them?"

Jackie pursed her lips and said, "I didn't make you come."

She's telling the truth.

Unexpectedly, Gu Si Qian was even angrier when he heard this.

Stopping now from the pace he had intended to leave, he snapped back, leaned down, braced his hands on either side of her shoulders, and stared at her coldly.

"It's the first time I've ever seen a woman do such a heartless thing as you, do you believe it, I'll strip you clean right now and see if you still dare to chase me away?"

Bella Qiao was startled.

Honestly, it's not really scary.

Because she knew that although Gu Si Qian, a man who sometimes didn't follow the rules very well, but he had his pride, would never do something like that to force a woman.

So, she's not afraid at all in her mind.

Not only were they not afraid, but they laughed out loud provocatively.

"Oh? Well, try it then, and see if I can kick you out before you pick me clean."

Kusken: "..."

The chest was a little stuffy, like a million arrows sticking out.

So why have a girlfriend who's super good at judo?

Obviously not as strong as him, and not necessarily a match for him in a real fight, but on the point of a close attack, he would never have a chance of winning.

Gu Si Qian closed his eyes and let out a soft breath of relief, followed by a bright grin at her.

"Of course, I was rude just now, I'll go out now, you take your time, I won't bother you."

After saying that, when he did get up, he composed his breathing and strode out.

Bella Qiao watched his back as he left, and for some reason, the corners of her mouth just quirked up.

There was an hour break for lunch.

In the afternoon, when Bella Qiao woke up, she didn't want to be bored at home, so she let Xiao Yue push her around in her wheelchair.

She obeyed the doctor's orders and did not walk on her feet again.

Moon, of course, was delighted, and immediately pushed her to the back to stroll the gardens.

Now that Yusra Lin was no longer in the castle, to say the happiest was not Bella Qiao, but actually Xiao Yue.

This person seemed to hate bad Yusra Lin and had a big problem with her before, but now that the other person was gone, she was naturally happy.

At the back, stroll to the lotus pond.

Now this time of year, the lotus pond is in full bloom.

Both of them were in a happy mood as they looked at the endless blue and pink and white lotus leaves and flowers that caught the sky.

Xiao Yue smiled, "Sister Qi, I'll go pick two for you and take them back and put them in the vase in the room, okay?"

Bella Qiao nodded, "Okay, you go ahead."

So Moon went over to pick lotus flowers.

The lotus didn't grow far from the shore, so you could pick it as soon as you reached for it.

After picking the lotus, she happily ran back and brought it to her.

"Look at that, Kitty, it's beautiful."

Bella Qiao nodded.

She wasn't someone who liked to be attached to the flowers, and naturally she didn't have that idea that picking the flowers was being cruel to them.

In her view, flowers are for ornamental purposes, and if you don't pick the flowers, do you have to pick the leaves and put them back in?

So, they picked the flowers and left happily.

And yet they didn't see that there were eyes, just a short distance behind them, secretly watching them.

Georgie was in a good mood after a stroll through the garden.

Go back and ask Moon to put the flowers up.

They played together in the room for a while longer until someone from outside came over and said it was time for dinner.

Gu Siqian had already come down from upstairs at this time, and when he saw her, his originally cold eyes softened a little.

Walking over to her, I asked, "Does your leg still hurt?"

It was good that he didn't ask, but when he did, it made Bella Qiao think of what had happened in the room with him today, and for a moment her face was quietly a little red.

She snorted and shook her head, "It doesn't hurt anymore."

"That's good."

The man looked as if he didn't notice anything.
