

Super Rich Dad Chapter 881-883

Chapter 881

In fact Ning Kun knew what the other side wanted, but judging from the identity Old Hat had made up for himself, if he didn't bargain a bit, he would have aroused the other side's suspicion instead!

That's why he deliberately asked this question, so as to cause the other party a moment or four of displeasure, but not so much that he would just flip out with them.

Sure enough. A cold smile appeared at the corner of Zhou's mouth when he heard Ning Kun's words, and then he said, 'What instruction do I have that you don't know? Don't come with me, you have a plan in your heart on what to do, you don't need me to say much!'

Jiang Hao stood up from the car after hearing this, but his face deliberately looked as if he had just woken up. After looking at Ning Kun and Master Zhou in a dazed manner, he said, 'What's wrong with this, why don't you leave?'

Ning Kun reached out helplessly and patted Jiang Hao's head before pointing at Master Zhou and saying, 'What are you doing? Can't you see that other Master Zhou is working harder than us, and you still have the nerve to sleep!'

Jiang Hao deliberately glanced at Master Zhou in some shock after hearing this, then hurriedly spoke, 'Hello Master Zhou, hello Master Zhou, sorry, I was a bit tired on the way and fell asleep.'

After seeing that it was indeed two people, Master Zhou's face eased a little, and then extended his hand and said coldly, 'Where are the cards in your hands, show them to me.'

After hearing this, Ning Kun hurriedly took out his own, as well as Jiang Hao's card, and handed it to Master Zhou.

He could not help but laugh out loud after taking the papers and looking at them slightly.

'Just you two little yakuza can cheat millions, not bad, you're a bit capable, not enough I, Old Zhou, hate the most is a cheat!'

After saying this he threw the two books of documents to Ning Kun. Then he said in a deep voice: 'Take out some money, give Master Zhou to wet your lips and you can go in, otherwise you'd better go back!'

Ning Kun looked at Master Zhou with some difficulty, and then looked at the old man, and finally took out a gold coin from his pocket and handed it to Master Zhou with a trembling heart.

Then he said with a reluctant look, 'Master Zhou, the two of us are also working for others, and this is all we have.'

The old man saw that Ning Kun had taken out what he needed to take out, then he wandered up and looked at Master Zhou and said, 'It's just about time, we can't go too far with some things, right?'

After saying this he took advantage of the fact that Master Zhou was not yet angry and hurriedly lit another cigarette for the other side and laughed: 'Besides, after entering the Hedong, that is not our own brothers, there is no need, right?'

Master Zhou grunted coldly after hearing that, then even some disgusted glance at Ning Kun and Jiang Hao after coldly said: 'Who will be brothers with them two. Liars never talk about righteousness, get lost!'

After hearing this, Old Hat hurriedly spoke with surprise, 'Okay, okay, we'll get lost, we'll get lost!'

After saying this, Master Zhou led his men back to their posts, not even bothering to look at Old Hat and the others again, instead, he was playing with the gold coins that Ning Kun had just given him in his hands.

In Hedong, one gold coin like this would represent 100,000 yuan, which is exactly why Master Zhou stopped paying attention to Old Hat and the others after receiving this gold coin.

It was as if Old Hat had said, just by entering this Hedong, it meant that you were not a clean person. In the future, you might even be your own brother, so he didn't want to put things out of reach, which would be bad for everyone.

If it wasn't for that consideration. He would have bitten them hard this time and let them know that Hedong was not a good place!

After Old Hat saw that the other party was satisfied, he gave a smiling greeting to Master Zhou, then hurriedly got into the car and took Jiang Hao and Ning Kun on their way.

This was just one of their stops, there were several more ahead. It was precisely for this reason that Old Black had given Jiang Hao so many gold coins when they set off.

At this moment, Jiang Hao glanced at Ning Kun and said, 'The people here are a bit too black-hearted, right?'

Ning Kun snickered at this and said, 'What do you think? If it were in the past, you wouldn't be able to cross this road today, whether you could get the money or not!'

Old Hat seemed to have a deep feeling for Ning Kun's words, and while driving, he said, 'So at least there are rules here now, otherwise we would all be out of luck.'

After shaking his head slightly, the group moved on while Jiang Hao counted the gold coins inside his envelope.

Seeing that there were still more than ten left, he said somewhat helplessly, 'I don't know how long this money can be used in Hedong, if we use it at our current rate, I guess we'll run out in a few seconds!'

To this point. There was nothing Ning Kun could do about it, but fortunately, once he reached the interior of Hedong, he wouldn't run into a situation like the one he had just faced.

Old Hat obviously felt a little amused by Jiang Hao's actions. So he spoke up and said, 'Don't worry young man, once I have sent you guys really to your destination, as long as you don't just offend anyone. Nothing will go wrong.'

Just as they were driving along, suddenly another woman stood in the middle of the road with a gun in her hand pointing at them!

‘Get out of the car, all of you! You hear me! Get out of the car, all of you!’

The woman was dressed in filthy clothes. There was a gun in her hand, but it looked so worn out that one wondered if it could be fired!

Jiang Hao looked at the somewhat tense look on the other party’s face and couldn’t help but feel amused.

However, on the contrary, Old Cap didn’t have a half-hearted expression on his face and didn’t even let up on the gas under his foot, looking as if he wanted to run straight over!

It was only when Ning Kun hurriedly spoke up and called out that Old Cap stopped the car.

It was only after Ning Kun hurriedly called out that Old Cap stopped the car. He didn’t take anything with him, so he just got out of the car empty-handed and walked towards the woman, seeing that her hair was in a mess that blocked a large part of her face.

So he said indifferently, ‘Who are you and do you know what this place is?’

The woman spoke nervously, ‘What do you care who I am? Hurry up! Give me all your money! Or I’ll blow your heads off!’

Jiang Hao looked at the woman with a smile and said to Ning Kun, ‘I always thought that such scenes were only found in cinemas, but I never thought that I could see them here!’

After glancing at Jiang Hao, Ning Kun said helplessly, ‘This is just a drop in the bucket, if you continue to walk forward, you can still see something more unexpected.’

After saying this, he called out to Old Hat, ‘Old Hat, just leave her alone, we are still in a hurry!’

Chapter 882

Jiang Hao smiled and glanced at Old Hat while nodding his head and said, ‘That’s right, it’s just a woman, just get rid of it, we’re still in a hurry to get to Hedong!’

Old Hat looked back at Jiang Hao and Ning Kun, and then, with a cold snort, looked at the other side and said, ‘You’re lucky this time. Otherwise, no one would care if there were more corpses on the roadside!’

As soon as the words left his mouth, Old Hat turned around and prepared to get into the car, but unexpectedly the woman hurriedly knelt down on the ground and looked at Old Hat and said, ‘I beg you to give me some money, I’m begging you!’

Looking at the woman crying in pain, Jiang Hao spoke to Ning Kun in a low voice, ‘This woman doesn’t have something to hide, does she? How about we help her out?’

Perhaps it was because Ning Kun had seen a lot of such things, or perhaps he couldn't trust the woman's words. After all, this was Hedong, and it was best not to trust anyone except those who knew their roots.

So Ning Kun just sneered when he heard Jiang Hao's words, and sat down in the bucket and closed his eyes intending to rest for a while.

If he had that time to pity this woman from nowhere, he might as well get some sleep.

The old man's reaction was similar to that of Ning Kun's. After hearing the woman's words, he ignored them and got into the car as if he hadn't heard anything.

When the woman saw this scene, she gritted her teeth slightly and then rushed up and hit the car head on, immediately a strand of crimson flowed from her forehead!

The old man looked at the woman with wide eyes, Jiang Hao thought he was angry at the other party's lack of self-love, but who knew that the old man would open his mouth and shout: 'You crazy woman! Do you know that I just washed this car and drove it out!'

As if she hadn't heard what Old Cap said, the woman hit the front of the car hard again.

Looking at Old Cap's frightened face, she spoke with a somewhat grim look on her face, 'Either you give me money today or I'll crash into your car and die. See what you say!'

If he really ran over someone on this road of the Qing He Hui, then this matter would really be a bit troublesome.

Thinking of this, Old Hat looked at the woman with a face that was not very nice.

Jiang Hao looked at the woman really can't help it, so jumped out of the car and walked over and said: 'You stop, just ask for money, to ask for such a method?'

When the woman heard this, she turned her head around and looked Jiang Hao up and down, and saw that he was dressed normally, but was very neat and tidy, not at all like the self-consciousness covered in dirt.

So her eyes lit up and she said, 'Are you willing to pay? If you pay me, I won't hit your car, I'll help you clean it, okay?'

Jiang Hao looked at the old man helplessly, who leisurely lit himself a cigarette and said, 'Don't look at me, there are plenty of people like that on the road, and I have nothing to do with your willingness to pay me!'

Ning Kun looked at Jiang Hao with some helplessness before shaking his head slightly, and then also jumped down from the car and walked to the woman.

'Tell me. How much money do you want to let us go, don't make it sound like you're being condescending, there aren't many clean people in Hedong.'

The woman looked at Jiang Hao with a little gratitude in her eyes at first, but after hearing Ning Kun's words, she bit her lip and said, 'I don't want much, just give me two hundred yuan!'

Two hundred yuan was indeed not much for Jiang Hao and the others, but for the average passer-by, it was not a small amount.

After the corners of Ning Kun's mouth lifted up in a mocking smile, he reached out and took out two hundred yuan from within his clothes before flinging it at the woman's body.

Here is two hundred yuan, you don't need to wipe the car, hurry up and go. We are still in a hurry to get going.

Jiang Hao looked at Ning Kun and felt that such an action was a bit excessive, for him perhaps Hedong was indeed not a good city. But not to the point where everyone was a bad person.

The woman picked up the money on the ground and looked deeply at Ning Kun before nodding her head and saying, 'Since you gave me the money, then I will also send you a message, something will happen 30 or 40 miles further ahead, so you are on your own.'

After saying this the woman ran to the side, picked up the rotten gun that Old Cap had thrown on the ground and turned to leave.

Looking at her back, Jiang Hao looked slightly confused for a moment. Although he had seen a lot of things along the way, he had never come across such a woman.

The old hat looked at Jiang Hao with some amusement and then said, 'Young man, I also see you in a good light, so I remind you that in Hedong, you should try to pretend to be poor if you can. Otherwise you will know that being rich is not that good.'

Ning Kun smiled after hearing this and glanced at Old Hat, reached out and patted Jiang Hao's shoulder and said, 'Old Hat is right, Hedong is not the Northern Province, nor is it Chu Jiang, there are rules of its own here, you'd better not try to break nor challenge them.'

After saying this, he pointed to the direction where the woman had disappeared and spoke, 'Women like that are usually housed by special people, and you have to rob as much money as you can every day before you can go back, otherwise you will only be beaten.'

After hearing this Jiang Hao fell silent, perhaps this place was indeed a bit different from what he had imagined, many things were completely different from what he had been exposed to.

After shaking his head slightly Jiang Hao got into the car in silence. Then he sat in the bucket of the car and stared.

Seeing him like that, Ning Kun sighed lightly, then looked at Old Hat with some apology and said, 'Keep driving, don't mind that crazy woman's words.'

Old Hat shrugged and started the car. When Ning Kun got into the car, he continued on as if nothing had happened.

It was only the splash of crimson on the body of the car that looked slightly blinding.

As the dilapidated truck lurched. Jiang Hao's thoughts also followed the indistinctness.

Looking at Ning Kun beside him, he spoke after a moment of silence, 'How did this city in Hedong come to be, do you know?'

It was probably because the wind at dusk was a little cold. Ning Kun tightened the clothes on his body before speaking, 'There is a prison in Hedong that you should know about, there are thirty-three floors above and seventy-seven below, a total of one hundred and ten floors.'

Jiang Hao nodded after hearing this, he still knew about this point because it was considered the most terrifying prison.

No one had ever escaped from it, and there was hardly anyone who had gone in who wasn't a criminal!

Ning Kun smiled after seeing Jiang Hao nod: 'Then there was an accident, the prison's security system was paralyzed, and many people ran out from inside, and then, Hedong became what it is now.'

After saying this, Ning Kun took a deep breath before shaking his head, 'You may not know that twenty years ago, this place would have been even more chaotic, and many people called it a real purgatory.'

Jiang Hao was silent for a long time before whispering, 'But there would be good people in Purgatory all the same, wouldn't there?'

Chapter 883

In response to Jiang Hao's words, Ning Kun only let out a small sigh and did not reply.

Perhaps it was like he said, even in Purgatory there were people with good intentions, but it was questionable whether they would survive, let alone be encountered by them.

As they slowly moved forward, the car suddenly came to a halt amidst the bumps. Ning Kun was a bit puzzled as he held his clothes and poked his head out and said, 'What's wrong, Old Man?'

Old Hat jumped out of the car, his face a little pale as he said, 'It's over! Get down! Hurry up, hurry up and get down!'

Hearing the deep fear hidden in Old Hat's tone, Ning Kun jumped off the car as soon as he could and then trotted hunched over to Old Hat.

'What's wrong. Why did the car suddenly stop?'

Hearing Ning Kun's enquiry, Old Hat pointed nervously to the front and said, 'Look there, if I'm right. If I'm not mistaken, it should be someone from the Qinghe Society doing something, and we just ran into them!'

Jiang Hao also jumped down from the car at this time, slowly came up to Ning Kun's front and looked at the direction Old Hat was pointing.

He saw that there were about two hundred people over there, and they were facing each other, so he said with some suspicion, 'This place looks quite lively, doesn't anyone care about such a big matter?'

Ning Kun rolled his eyes and then said, 'This is Hedong, the Qinghe Society is one of the top forces here, who do you think will come out and take care of these idle matters.'

Hearing this, Jiang Hao fell silent, looking at the two groups of people not far ahead, who had started a firefight at the drop of a hat.

Suddenly it occurred to him that this was not exactly where the woman they had met earlier had said, thirty or forty miles, and this was just about right!

Thinking of this, Jiang Hao hurriedly said, 'Hey, hey, hey, do you guys remember. The woman we ran into earlier seemed to have said that she advised us that it would be best to wait a while before we left, otherwise we would run into trouble!'

When Ning Kun and Old Hat heard Jiang Hao's words, they turned their heads to look at Jiang Hao with a somewhat strange expression.

'It can't be such a coincidence, could it really be that woman's words?'

Old Hat also blinked his one eye and said, 'If that's the case, that woman must know what's going on here!'

Just as Jiang Hao and the others were speculating, someone suddenly rushed towards them, and it looked as if they were from the Qinghe Society.

Originally, the gang was thinking of taking advantage of the other side's mixed fight to rush behind them and then encircle them in one fell swoop.

But to their surprise, they bumped into Old Hat and the others here!

The image of the two sides running into each other was somewhat startling, as if neither had expected to run into the other!

At the first moment, about thirty to forty members of the Qinghe Society looked at Old Hat with sinister eyes and whispered, 'What are you people!'

When Old Hat saw that he and the others had been discovered, he hurriedly held up his hands and said, 'Don't get me wrong, I'm Old Hat, Old Hat! The old hat who pulled the cart and gave it away!'

About Old Hat's affair with Yu Shaobai. There were quite a few people in the Qinghe Society who knew about it, and at this moment, after hearing Old Hat's words and surveying his one-eyed look, they relaxed a little.

However, the leader of the group was still a bit angry and said, 'Old Man, why are you sending people here ?

After saying this, he also followed some nervousness to lie around Jiang Hao.

The leader of the group was a burly man in his thirties, with a long, narrow scar on his face, looking quite hostile!

Ning Kun had lowered his head as they bumped into the Qinghe Society so as not to draw attention to himself, fearing that his face would be remembered.

It was a habit he had left behind before, trying not to draw attention to himself wherever he could.

Old Hat watched the lead man crawl down beside him, so he took out a cigarette from inside his clothes and handed one over in a curt manner and spoke, 'Huh. What's your name, brother?'

The man seemed to be quite familiar with his personality and reached out to take Old Hat's cigarette and lit it up while smoking it and staring at the two sides in battle and said, 'Just call me Er Tie, what are you guys called?'

Old Hat pointed to himself and smiled, 'My name is Old Hat, you know that. These two are the people I sent here, they really can't live outside anymore, that's why they came to Hedong to ask for a bowl of rice.'

After looking at Jiang Hao and Ning Kun, Er Tie saw that although they were not small in stature, they looked just like a scholar and had no flesh on their bones. So he said with disdain, 'Just the two of them? Come in and guess don't go selling fart war stocks, hahaha!'

After saying this, Er Tie looked at Old Hat and said, 'You're unlucky today, you ran into us on an errand, if you had left earlier you wouldn't have run into this shit.'

Old Hat nodded at this and pointed at the crowd of people fighting in front of him and said, 'What's going on here, why are there so many of you here?'

'What else can it be. Both sides want the road and they want to open a booth on the road to collect money.'

After saying this, Er Tie heatedly smiled and looked at Old Hat and said, 'I'm not afraid to laugh at you, if I hadn't run into you guys, I might have gone to swing a knife with my masked face at this moment!'

The people following Er Tie heard his words and unconsciously laughed, this time they ran into Jiang Hao and the others, they were lucky to escape a disaster.

Otherwise, in a melee of more than two hundred people, God knows what would have happened to them, these forty or so mouths, when they went up there.

The old cap laughed awkwardly after arching his hand at Er Tie, 'We wouldn't dare to take this for granted, we can only say that it was fate. But when can we go, do you know this?'

Er Tie turned his head and looked Old Hat up and down before saying, 'I'm afraid we'll have to wait if we leave, this matter is not that easy to handle. Oh, yes!'

After saying this, Er Tie seemed to have suddenly remembered something. He looked at Old Hat and said, 'This time, our young master also came over and originally wanted to take a break. As a result, he happened to bump into this matter, so he is sitting over there watching the hilarity!'

Old Hat's heart jumped when he heard this, and after looking in the direction Er Tie pointed over, he really found that not far away, more than ten people were surrounding a young man sitting on a chair.

Ning Kun couldn't help but raise his head at this point and looked over just like Old Hat.

After seeing Yu Shaobai, the young master of the Qinghe Society, a bitter smile could not help but appear at the corner of his mouth.

Only God knew how much he wanted to curse in his heart at this moment, why did he come across everything bad!

Jiang Hao was still a bit confused at this time, seeing Ning Kun and Old Hat both looking over there, so he also looked over curiously and said, 'Is that the legendary Qinghe Society young master Yu Shaobai over there?'
