

Chapter 903

Holding tighter, I whispered, "Fool."

Jenny also reached out and wrapped his arms around his waist, holding him tightly.

They will not delay now that they have decided.

What's more, Gu Si Qian didn't give them much time to delay.

So, that night, it was decided that the next morning, right away, we would take a flight to H City.

H City is where Gu Si Qian's home base is.

This place is located at the intersection of the Golden Triangle and is a triple no-go zone.

It was because of this that it became Gu Si Qian's territory.

It was exactly three o'clock in the afternoon when they arrived in H City.

The hot summer sun is overhead and sweating on your body.

As soon as the group stepped off the plane, they saw a few men dressed in black standing there not far ahead.

Seeing them, the group immediately came this way.

"May I ask if this is Mr. and Mrs. Land?"

They nodded.

They immediately bent over and made a respectful gesture of invitation.

Since they had already arrived here, they naturally weren't afraid that Gu Siqian would play tricks on them, so they didn't hesitate and followed them with great generosity.

This time, following the two of them out, there was also Mo Nan.

Cheng Mu, on the other hand, was left at home by Biden Lu to help him with the company's affairs.

After all, he's a scholar and coming out won't solve any problems.

The group didn't get far before they saw a line of cars parked on the side of the road.

Biden Lu and Jenny Jing got into the car escorted by a group of people and drove directly to their destination.

After about half an hour, the car drove into the luxurious and imposing castle.

In fact, Jenny was also the first time coming to this place, although she had known Gu Siqian for a long time, Gu Siqian used to appear as the boss of the dragon group, so naturally the place that appeared was the dragon group's headquarters, and would not bring anyone to this place.

After the group went inside, the car stopped in front of a huge building.

They got out of the car, and when they looked up, they saw Gu Si Qian standing in the doorway.

"Welcome to the Castle of Gu."

He smiled slightly, dressed in a black suit, looking rather suave and unrestrainedly handsome.

If you leave out the two deep dark circles under your eyes.

Biden Lu also slightly hooked his lips, although the two of them used to be deadly enemies, but today's meeting was unexpectedly very harmonious.

Walking up to him and shaking his hand, Kusken reached right out and led them into the living room.

Since the maid respectfully came up to serve tea and water.

Jenny Jing took a look around and laughed lightly, "I couldn't tell, so you still have such a nest, I should have brought someone to end this place in the first place, and I would have saved myself from your calculations."

Gu Si Qian looked at her and said in a soft voice, "This is the place my mother left for me."

Jenny a meal.

She didn't know about Gu Si Qian's background before, but later learned that he was the Gu family's illegitimate son.

It's actually sobering about his origins.

But a yard was a yard, and when the time came, she would not sympathize with him.

And the man doesn't need sympathy.

So, she went to the front of the couch and sat down, and got right to the point: "Tell me, what did you want to talk about this time, when you called us over? And what do you mean by cooperation?"

It didn't surprise Gu Si Qian at all that she was so frank.

And I'm not playing games with them anymore.

and directly said, "You guys wait a minute."

I said, going upstairs and quickly coming down, this time with a stack of information in hand.

"You guys check this out first."

I said, handing them the information.

Biden Lu and Jenny Jing looked at it together.

But it turned out to be a stack of information about several jade tablets.

She frowned and asked, "What's this?"

Gu Si Qian said in a deep voice, "This is the Heavenly Book of Jade."

As soon as this was said, Jenny's face changed abruptly.

Spare her the last few years, no longer paying attention to the news of the road, no longer focusing on her own career, she had heard of the name Heavenly Book of Jade.

Wasn't that one of the legendary treasures that could bring the dead back to life and still live forever?

Of course, Jenny definitely didn't believe in this legend.

In her eyes, there was no such thing as immortality in this world.

So when this rumor first came out, she just started paying attention twice, but then she automatically categorized it as a liar kind of thing and tossed it aside.

How could one have thought that after so many years, it would actually be brought up again by Gu Siqian.

Instead, Biden Lu's appearance was always aloof as he flipped the stack of information all the way to the bottom and said, "You called us over this time for this matter?"

Gu Si Qian said in a deep voice, "Truth be told, the reason why the Dragon Mission was in trouble in the first place was because of the Heavenly Book of Jade."

And so, it was followed by telling Jenny Jing and Biden Lu about the war that had taken place four years ago in the Dragon Mission's Vermillion Bird Society.

After saying that, he said in a deep voice, "Back then, the Chinese would use this to stir up disputes between us while they sat on their hands, and I always thought at the time that this was the result of their later planning."

"But it took me another long time to realize that many of the people within the Vermilion Bird Society and our Dragon Corps were originally from the Chinese Society."

"They change their names and letters, hide their identities, and have been lurking among the various organizations in order to find the right time to stir up civil unrest and then break them one by one."

"Now apart from a Zijin family in the Dao, only the Chinese Club is the most powerful, the reason why Jenny was in trouble last time, the information on that group of killers I investigated was also from the Chinese Club."

Jenny Jing's eyes tightened.

The face went cold.

"What did you say? Are they from the Chinese Society too?"

Kuskan nodded.

"But why? I don't really remember having a grudge against them?"

Gu Si Qian snickered.

"There doesn't need to be a grudge; if you get in their way, they have a reason to deal with you."

I said, and paused again.

"They've recently reached out to the country, and if they want to unify their forces at home, the biggest roadblock isn't me, but the Lu family, so when you think about it, you should know why they're dealing with you, right?"

Jenny Jing's face changed.

The mind was racing, and in an instant, many things that were previously unthinkable could be figured out at once.

She said quietly, "So you called us over this time so that we could help you fight them together?"

Kuskan nodded.

Immediately afterwards, they were told about Bella Qiao's disappearance.

"Bella Qiao is still in their hands, and although I don't know what exactly they took her for, the purpose is probably similar to trying to assassinate Jenny Jing, so I called you guys here to come up with a strategy together to stop their plan."

Jenny Jing and Biden Lu were both silent for a moment.

Chapter 904

It's a big deal, I have to say, and it's a big deal that, for a while, there's no solution to be found.

After a long time, Biden Lu said, "I know, let me think about it, I'll give you an answer later."

It didn't seem to occur to Kusken that he could make a decision right now.

So, nodding, I said, "I've arranged a room for the two of you upstairs, so you can go and rest after dinner later, and you can always tell me if you need anything."

After a pause, he added, "Although there have been many grudges in the past, please see that I have saved a few lives of Jenny, so this time, you must consider it well."

Biden Lu looked at him.

This glance implied too much of a secret rivalry between two men.

But in the end, they each staggered their eyes and said quietly, "Yes."

They went upstairs together.

Naturally, the evening meal was served in the castle.

Gu Si Qian had a lot of delicious food cooked to serve them and opened two bottles of good wine.

At the dinner table, too, they did their best to keep them company and laugh.

But Jenny could still tell that he was unhappy, or even, for that matter, depressed.

She didn't know what for, in fact to say that this time, he called himself and Biden Lu over to deal with that Chinese Society, again felt a little less sure.

After all, such a thing was not so imminent, but he had called himself earlier and the tone of the call seemed urgent.

He must be hiding something from himself.

As soon as that thought popped into my head, I couldn't stop thinking about it more.

Therefore, after dinner, Jenny declined his invitation to take a walk with Biden Lu and turned around and went back to his room to rest with him.

As soon as he entered the room, Jenny said, "I don't feel right."

Biden Lu looked at her, his posture was rather leisurely, "What do you say?"

Jenny frowned and said in a deep voice, "He's hiding something from us."

Biden Lu smiled faintly at the news immediately.

Reaching out, he lovingly gathered her slightly disheveled hair for her and said, "Tell me about it."

Jenny didn't notice the look in his eyes and frowned, "I always feel like he's not being entirely honest with us, think about it, the Chinese Council started the war between the Dragon Corps and the Vermilion Bird Society, it's been four years since this happened, and in that time, the Chinese Council has been making a lot of moves, but he may not be in such a hurry that he has to settle them right away."

"The two organizations have been fighting each other for so many years, they could have kept on fighting and there would always be a score to settle."

"But now, he is so anxious to divide a winner and a loser that it's not as if he wants to get rid of the Chinese Society immediately, but for some other reason."

Biden Lu smiled faintly after hearing this.

"You just missed a point."

"What?" Jenny was at a loss.

Biden Lu said, "He mentioned that Bella Qiao had been arrested."

Georgie looked at him and blinked.

She didn't know Bella Qiao, and at first, even when she was still in the Dragon Corps, she had never seen or heard of this person around Gu Si Qian.

So, when he mentioned it just now, he just thought the other guy was an unnamed character.

After all, Gu Siqian had never mentioned anything after that except for that one sentence.

But now listening to Biden Lu's meaning, what secret relationship do the two have?

Biden Lu looked at her confused eyes and lightly smiled, "Bella Qiao is a woman, a woman who grew up with Gu Si Qian as a childhood sweetheart, almost since childhood."

Jenny shook fiercely.

To say it's not surprising would be a lie.

Previously, I only knew that Gu Siqian was an unpredictable and unpredictable person, whose eyes were always rainy, making people not want to get close to him.

Only now do I realize that he still has childhood sweethearts.

She snorted, "So, he's suddenly so eager to deal with the Chinese Society to save that Qingmei of his?"

Kusken nodded, "Well, I guess so."

Jenny laughed at once.

"I can't tell, but I'm still an infatuated seed."

At the same time, the heart actually relaxed at once.

In the past, she had always felt that there was something strange and warm about Gu Si Qian's attitude towards her.

She didn't know if she was overthinking it, but if she really wanted to say that the other person was interested in her, she avoided it right away again every time she got to the point where she wanted to get closer.

But as soon as she let her guard down, they came back over.

That's why she was so repulsed by him.

Now it turns out that everything really was overthought.

It was perfect since he had his own childhood sweetheart.

Thinking that, Georgie couldn't help but smile.

"So what do you think about this? Is it workable?"

Biden Lu was silent for a moment.

Immediately afterwards, he said in a light voice, "As the saying goes, although the Gu family and the Lu family have been somewhat at odds, in the end, they are all members of our four great families, if the Chinese will really annex them step by step and wade into the country, although it definitely won't be able to set off any big waves in a short period of time."

"But they have foreign powers to back them up, it's easy to develop them, and there's only a fear that they'll raise tigers later, and then one land family won't be able to deal with them."

Jenny actually hinted at this feeling.

So then he nodded, "So we promised him?"

Biden Lu nodded.

"But I've always felt that there's still something strange about this."

"How so?"

Jenny Jing analyzed, "Think about it, when that group of people came after me, they laid deadly hands, they even came up with something like tampering on the plane, what else couldn't they do?"

"They were determined to get me killed and take my life, but this time, when faced with the woman Gu Siqian loved, they just arrested the other guy, don't you think it's strange?"

Biden Lu frowned.

Jenny didn't feel it yet, and it did feel a little strange when she said it like that.

But at this point, as strange as it feels, it's impossible to find the answer.

So only a quiet voice said, "That can be noted later, but for now, I still think I can promise him, even if it's just to try first."

Jenny also nodded.

"Well, let's go down and talk to him later."

"Well."

Once they had discussed the situation, they went downstairs together.

When I went downstairs, I just happened to see Gu Siqian walking his dog on the lawn outside the house.

By this time, it was evening.

The castle was lit up with lights that illuminated the area.

The two big dogs darted hard across the lawn, never tired of picking up the Frisbee he'd thrown farther away again and again.

Jenny Jing laughed, "What a good mood, did you raise this dog?"

When Kusken saw them, he stopped what he was doing, and with a command to the maid beside him, he gave the other man the Frisbee and let him run away with the dog.

Chapter 905

He took the towel from the maid next to him, wiped his hands, came over, and said, "Thinking?"

They nodded.

Gu Si Qian looked deeply at Jenny and smiled, "In that case, let's go to the conference room to talk."

That's when the three of them headed to the conference room.

The three talked late that night.

No one outside knew what they had talked about, only that by the time they came out again, the sky was white with fish bellies and it was the next morning.

At this time, a fine manor house was a thousand miles away.

The man bowed his head respectfully and reported in a low voice to the man sitting on the rattan chair, "Yesterday, Biden Lu and his wife went to H City and spent the entire night in talks with Gu Si Qian, rumor has it that the two will join forces to deal with the Chinese Association."

The man lay there with his eyes closed, the warm morning sun shining down on his face and body, obviously a noble-looking man, but from an outsider's point of view, it felt like the man was filled with coldness all over.

He said quietly, "Did you find out when you're going to do it?"

The subordinate shook his head.

"For now, I don't know."

A brief silence.

He smiled suddenly and waved a hand, "Go explore again."

The man didn't know what he meant by the laugh, and looked at him a little confused, but in the end, he went down obediently.

After he left, the man sitting in the recliner squared his eyes open.

He sat up and took a nearby box of fish food, taking some out and sprinkling it in the pond in front of him.

At one point, the pond was red and yellow and black and white, and a bunch of fish came around all at once.

He smiled as he watched the fish scramble for the food, and whispered, "The bait has been put down, will you they really be as good as you are?"

No one spoke in the empty courtyard.

The only thing that responded to him was the grunting sound the fish made as they snapped for food.

He tossed the last handful of fish food into the water, then stood up.

As he was walking inside, a maid leaped out of nowhere and bent over him respectfully, saying, "Sir, is it to return to your room to rest?"

The man waved his hand.

"No, go to the quiet room."

A so-called quiet room is actually a house that is isolated and absolutely quiet.

This house, with all the walls and glass, is made of super soundproof material.

One is in the middle of it and can no longer hear a single sound from the outside world except for the sounds from the room itself.

In the centre of the house, there was now a white bed in the middle of the house.

There was a slender woman lying on the bed, her shoulder-length hair disheveled in a disheveled and decadent beauty.

The man stood there, watching her quietly.

A doctor in a white lab coat came over and looked startled when he saw him, hurrying over in quick steps.

Bowing slightly and respectfully, he said, "Sir, but what is the order?"

The man looked at the woman lying inside and asked, "How is the business that was entrusted to you going?"

The doctor replied, "Everything is going well, and in another half month at the most she will be exactly what you want her to be."

The man nodded.

He said quietly, "When it's done, send the man back."

The doctor was busy responding, "Yes."

The man stood there, that handsome

Dusty's face was warm in the sunlight, his eyes narrowed.

"In half a month, it should be over there too, heh...you'll know what to do then."

The doctor said, "We understand, sir, feel free."

The man stood for a few more moments before leaving.

During this time, the power of the Chinese Society was attacked from all sides.

The Dragon Corps, the Lu family, including the Jin family that had been developing in F, and several other forces that were dependent on these families, all came together.

They knew they had stirred up a hornet's nest, they just didn't expect the consequences to be so severe.

Under a fierce battle, the losses were heavy, both commercially and in terms of underground power.

However, no matter how much Gu Siqian pressed, those people still insisted that Bella Qiao was no longer in their hands.

Gu Siqian became furious, and in a fit of rage, he even terminated dozens of their parishes, like a leopard caught in a deep rage, beating the Chinese Association back and forth, unable to resist any longer.

However, as the saying goes, a skinny camel is bigger than a horse, and even though the Chinese Association is now battered and bruised, its strength is still not to be underestimated.

And to prevent them from exhausting their last firepower and having a fight to the death, they ended up getting a fish out of water with no one to gain.

Therefore, in the end, when the Chinese Society came to make peace, Biden Lu still decided that the two sides should negotiate a temporary truce.

The negotiations were scheduled for the following day.

That evening, he had just finished eating with Jenny, and when he came out, he saw Gu Siqian sitting in the courtyard drinking.

Behind the castle is a large garden with a few cool chairs and some exquisite exotic flowers and plants.

At that moment, Gu Siqian was sitting on one of the chairs, one leg half bent, the other leg idly crossed over the chair, looking up at the moon in the sky while pouring wine into his mouth.

Biden Lu footsteps, in the end, walked over.

"Have you thought of terms for tomorrow's negotiations?"

He sat down in the other chair next to him and asked in a flat tone.

Instead of looking at him, Gu Si Qian picked up a bottle of beer from the ground and tossed it over.

Biden Lu reached out to take it, looking at the wine, but frowned.

Gu Si Qian said coldly, "What? You don't like the wine I have here?"

Of course it was impossible that the wine was bad, after all, no matter what kind of wine Gu Siqian collected here, it was definitely the best.

It's just that ever since Biden Lu gave birth to little Jing Ze, he decided to try not to drink alcohol anymore.

After all, when the father of the people, everything always want to set an example for the child, although now the child is not around, but that habit is already raised.

However, at this time, he looked at Gu Si Qian's face that didn't have a half-expression, opened it in the end, touched it with him, and took a sip.

The wine was stronger than the average beer, and he took a sip before asking, "They've been refusing to admit that they have Bella Qiao, maybe the person really has been taken by someone else, and you're just not the best idea to just ask them for the person."

Gu Si Qian snickered.

Taking another big gulp of his own, he chanted, "So I should just leave them alone? The man who caused Joe to fall into a dangerous situation, so I can just let it go?"

Biden Lu smiled faintly.

"They lost a lot this time."

"Heh!"

Gu Si Qian turned to look at him and said, "Biden Lu, I always thought you were a man before, but now I understand that you're nothing more than that."
