

Chapter 924

The only thing I saw was the picture of Bella Qiao and Gu Siqian growing up, Gu Siqian leaving the orphanage and Bella Qiao staying there by herself.

He whispered, "The romance between teenagers and young girls is always full of many twists and turns, they grow up and can be together without fear anymore, but with growing up comes responsibilities and things they have to do.

He couldn't be there for her anymore, and that day he left the place where they grew up together and told her, if you ever miss me, you'll come find me.

He had thought that maybe she would never come to him, after all, and although she seemed dependent on him, he knew in his heart that she was actually more independent and stubborn than anyone else.

How could she possibly want to be a lingering flower that would always be climbing on him? She must have been reluctant, so at that time, he had vowed in his heart that he would only give himself two years, two years to deal with everything and then return to her."

This time, the point of light turned once again.

The picture changed again.

It turned into a picture of the two meeting again.

His voice was tinged with a few warm smiles.

"But so many things in this world are just so unpredictable. He thought she'd never show up of her own accord, but she did.

They met again, fell in love, he fell in love and couldn't get out of it, and those were the happiest years of his life.

But there was one thing that had always nagged at him, and that was that he had always tried to make himself strong, just so he could protect the people he wanted to protect.

But she is obviously too stubborn, she doesn't need his protection, and doesn't want to live under his protection, she could obviously have a life of luxury and peace of mind, but she is always disobedient and repeatedly puts herself in danger.

He was anxious, angry, argued with her over and over again, and finally, finally drove her away from him."

This time, the man's voice dulled, like a muted cello.

The image shifted again, this time, mainly red, to a picture of fighting and breaking.

His voice was deep and hoarse, with a few hints of unspoken painful emotion.

"They were on opposite sides of each other in a way they never thought they would be, and the people who were supposed to hold each other close have been separated ever since.

He found out something, so he killed her brother's best friend, and she hated him to death.

But she doesn't understand that those she thinks are her brothers and friends are actually wolves in sheep's clothing.

They'd never really thought of her as a good friend, and all the coincidences were really just calculations, but he had no proof, he had no way of saying those things to her.

So they were separated for four years. It was supposed to be a peaceful separation, like a pair of lovers who broke up and never saw each other again, going their separate ways.

But he couldn't let go, he was frantic to keep her, but as soon as he left her behind, she would fight back violently.

He was afraid, he was wandering, he was afraid of hurting her again in such a backlash, and this time, he got a glimpse of the men's true colors, and he knew that they wanted to kill her.

In the midst of internal and external problems, he had no choice but to send her to prison, in the name of jail, but actually to protect her."

The scene shifts again, to the time when Jackie is released from prison.

"The good news is that, though it's been four years, she's always lived in his sight, she's safe, and he doesn't regret it, though it seems to have smoothed out all the feelings she had in her heart for him.

He ties her to himself once more, hoping to break the mirror and tells her all the truth about what happened before.

Maybe it really was God's mercy, but after some things, the two of them gradually one heart grew closer and closer.

It was at that point that he realized that everything was nothing compared to two people being well together."

Bella Qiao stood there, his entire body in a dazed state.

She tilted her head back and looked at the image above her, her eyes already red.

At this time, a deep man came from behind him.

"Joe, will you marry me?"

Kitty Qiao shook hard and slammed back.

But it was discovered that Gu Si Qian had already come down from upstairs at some point and was standing right behind her.

He was down on one knee, wearing a black tuxedo that looked so formal and grand, and holding a ring box with a large, delicate pink diamond in his hand, looking up at her sincerely.

Bella Qiao burst into tears.

Kusken repeated, "Joe, will you marry me?"

Not to mention Bella Qiao, in fact, even Jenny Jing and Nina Hua, who were not far away, looked at this scene as if they had followed them through their years of life, and their hearts were not complicated and moved.

However, Bella Qiao was not eager to agree.

She looked at Gu Siqian, half-heartedly, and whispered, "Those four years, you say, were to protect me?"

Kusken nodded, "Yes."

"You already knew they were trying to kill me?"

"Yes."

"Why?"

He looked deeply at her and did not speak.

Georgie shook her head, tears sliding down her cheeks.

"You know full well what I care about most, and you know that even when we're together, I've always had a thorn in my heart, a thorn that we usually intentionally don't talk about, but it's always been there, and no one else knows it, I know it. Gu Si Qian, tell me, what was the reason for everything back then?"

Gu Si Qian looked at her tearful face and sighed slightly.

He was silent for a moment and said, "This is a matter of your life, Joe, and I don't know the whole truth yet, and I've only glimpsed the tip of the iceberg, and I don't know how I'm going to tell you."

Bella Qiao was slightly startled.

And then I heard him continue, "All I can say is, I'm not going to hurt you, Joe, so please promise to marry me and let me protect you and take care of you for the rest of your life, okay?"

At this time, Nina Hua and the others couldn't hold back anymore.

Clap your hands in a rousing, "Marry him, marry him!"

Georgie gave them a look.

Looking at Gu Si Qian, who was half-kneeling on the ground again, his heart was sore and his tears fell even harder.

Yet behind that deep sourness was an unspeakable secret joy.

She held out her hand in the end.

It was low, but just enough for him to hear, "I do."

Gu Si Qian's face blossomed into a huge surprise.

Immediately he took the ring, placed it on her finger, then stood up and took her in his arms.

He held her, very, very tightly, and his voice was even husky with a few hints of pressure.

Chapter 925

"Joe, you promised to marry me, you really promised to marry me?"

Bella Qiao's heart was touched.

Although, the thorn in her heart was still there because Gu Si Qian hadn't given her an answer just now, she didn't regret her decision at this point.

Those images of their past time together flashed through her mind like a movie.

She supposed she was supposed to believe what she was feeling at the moment.

Life is so short, why waste it on unnecessary misunderstanding and separation?

The two embraced each other happily, and beside them, a group of Jenny people looked touched.

Nina Hua was thrilled, "It's a success, I never thought I'd see such a famous scene in my lifetime, it's just so touching!"

Jenny lifted her lips and smiled, "Now well, they're done, the rest is up to you, oh."

I said, turning to look at Lin Song with a raised eyebrow.

Lin Shen's handsome face blushed slightly and coughed, "Soon, I'll prepare immediately."

It caused the girl next to her to blush instantly.

It was a successful marriage proposal and confession.

Jenny Jing looked at the two people who were embracing each other tightly, and suddenly felt that maybe their brief separation a while ago wasn't such a bad thing anymore.

It is with separation and loss that one learns how precious it is to have and be together.

Her fingers suddenly warmed, and she turned her head, facing Biden Lu's handsome, casteless face.

The man looked happy tonight as well, his otherwise cold, hard face, illuminated by the numerous points of light, looked otherworldly soft, even with a rare hint of tenderness.

He held her hand and whispered, "Jenny, I'm so happy."

Jenny Jing raised his eyebrows, a little puzzled, "Why do you feel that way all of a sudden?"

Biden Lu turned his head to look at her, his eyes hiding a deep smile.

"No, I've always felt that."

"From the day I met you, I've always felt that."

Jenny's heart, because of his words, suddenly shook so fiercely.

As if to sink deep into the sockets of his deep eyes.

At that moment, there was a sudden uproar and screaming.

She looked up and realized that it was Gu Si Qian and Bella Qiao k*ssing.

There was a whistle from Lin Song and the others, and Bella Qiao seemed to be shy and only let Gu Siqian k*ss him, pushing him away.

Gu Si Qian picked her up in a cross body hug.

Everyone applauded, "Marriage!Get married!Marriage!"

Bella Qiao covered her face in his arms and couldn't take it anymore and shouted, "You guys stop it!"

Gu Si Qian also laughed and echoed, "Okay, let's stop talking about it, we'll get married next month!"

"Really?"

The good news came so suddenly that no one reacted.

Kusken nodded, "Well, you'll all remember to come when the time comes."

Nina Hua led the way with a smile, "Definitely come!"

The group made a little more noise, then went for a snack, and finally this lively feast, which lasted until two o'clock at night.

Jenny couldn't keep his eyes open when he returned to the room.

Disoriented, I just want to dip into bed and sleep.

Only just laying on the bed, he was pulled up by Biden Lu.

"Honey, go take a shower."

Jenny waved her hand, "I'm not washing today, I want to sleep."

Afterwards, he turned and crawled towards the bed.

At that moment, a shadow suddenly fell overhead.

Biden Lu braced his hands on either side of her shoulders, looked at her condescendingly, and asked, "Tired?"

Jenny blinked, looked at him, and nodded.

"I'll wash it for you then?"

His words.

, creeping her out.

Subconsciously, I pulled the blanket over me and wrapped myself up, "Don't."

"Why not?"

As he dismantled her and peeled her out of her blanket like a shell, he asked, "Wouldn't it be nice for your husband to bathe you?"

"No, I don't want you to wash it."

"Why is it bad?"

Jenny: "....."

How dare he ask?

Many times before, he'd offered to give her a bath, but where was the bath?

The thought of those images made her blush, and she didn't care if he was still insisting, tugging at the covers and crawling inside.

"Don't bother me, I'm going to bed, you can wash yourself if you want."

Afterwards, the whole man had arched into the blanket like a caterpillar.

Biden Lu looked at her with such rejection and had no choice but to let go and straighten up.

Undaunted, I asked again, "Really don't wash?"

"No washing."

A woman's voice buzzed under the covers.

He couldn't help but laugh, and gave the blanket another gentle tug, instructing, "Don't cover it too tightly, or you'll suffocate."

And again, "Don't worry, I'm not going to drag you to the wash, sweetie, you go to sleep."

Jenny showed a head and was relieved to see that he was really giving up.

Biden Lu turned around and went to the bathroom.

Jenny is really sleepy, she usually no matter how busy she is with work, she will never sleep past twelve o'clock, but today she played until two o'clock, the biological clock is already urging her to rest.

So, just lie down for a while and fall asleep.

I don't know how long it was, but in a daze, I felt something furry humping me.

She grunted softly and subconsciously reached down to push, shouting in confusion as she did so, "Stop it, I want to sleep."

The man's husky voice rang in his ears, "You sleep your way out of trouble."

Jenny frowned and managed to open his eyes a crack.

Just see that the man is on top of himself, doing something less than childish.

She burst into a blush of shame and pushed him away.

"What are you doing?"

However, as soon as his hand was placed on the man's chest, he grabbed it and held it over his head.

Biden Lu smiled at her with a heavy smile, the body because of a fresh bath, there is still some hidden moisture, mixed with the fragrance of the shower gel, a different kind of temptation provocative.

He chuckled lowly, "A couple late at night, what do you think I do?"

Jenny was furious, "Biden Lu, I won't do it! I'm sleepy and I want to sleep!"

Biden Lu nodded, "You sleep your way, I'll do mine, I said, don't get in the way."

"You!"

Instead, no matter how much she resisted, it was useless.

This man, when he was beastly, was something she simply couldn't talk her way out of and refuse.

So in the end, Jenny had to be forced to react, it was just that they had been together for so long that he knew almost all the sensitive spots on his own body, even better than she knew herself.

It wasn't until two hours later that she pushed him away, panting.

"Biden Lu, you're a beast!"

The man k*ssed her brow as he whispered, "Well, I'm only beastly to you."

A night of confusion.

The following day.

Jenny naturally got up late.

By the time she woke up, it was already sunrise.

She looked at the time and was so shocked that she rolled over and got up.

When I went out, I thought I was going to be the latest, but I don't know why, but it was clear that everyone hadn't gone home late last night, but today all of them hadn't gotten up.

Chapter 926

She didn't know, but Biden Lu understood.

After all, they were all men, and after all the excitement last night, their thoughts were basically the same, and it was a wonder they weren't up late today.

Stopping Jenny from trying to go and wake them up, Biden Lu dragged her straight to the dining room to use the meal, and then, she packed her bags and prepared to hit the road.

Nina Hua woke up after them and found that they were all packed up, complaining that Jenny didn't call her, but also hurried to collect her things.

But in fact, they were just here for the day, and didn't really have much luggage except for a few trinkets they'd gone out shopping for last night.

After packing up, the group bid farewell to Gu Siqian and Bella Qiao and set off for the airport.

The 1:30 p.m. flight back home was exactly 6 p.m.

Jenny hadn't seen the two little buns at home for a long time, so as soon as he got in the car to go home, he was already homeward bound and just hated to fly to them right away.

Biden Lu laughed, "You're so sticky to them, how come I've never seen you sticky to me?"

Jenny leaned into his arms and looked up at him, "Who says I don't stick to you? Aren't I sticking to yours right now?"

The man narrowed his eyes and lowered his voice, "I prefer you to stick to me in bed."

Jenny: "....."

Glancing at the driver in the front row, he reached out and secretly pinched a hand around his waist.

Biden Lu couldn't help but laugh.

A safe journey home, and as soon as we reached the door, we heard the cheering voices of two little ones.

"Good hey good hey, Uncle Tailor Feng is so handsome, I love this castle!"

The maids had already spotted the arrival of the car and came out to greet it.

"Sir, ma'am, you're back."

Maybe I heard her voice, just a little quiet inside, and then the two kids stomped out.

"Mummy!"

"Mommy, daddy!"

One large, one small and two buns all jumped over at once, hugging Jenny tightly.

Jenny was pounced on by them and took a step back, but luckily Biden Lu was there to protect her from falling.

Not laughing, he said, "You're about to knock Mommy down, so watch out for the three of us."

Ann smiled badly, "Don't be afraid, you've got daddy behind you to help you!"

Biden Lu glared at her, "You're the worst."

Ann made a face.

Jenny smiled and set them down, then the three of them walked inside hand in hand, while Biden Lu was behind with the maid to get the luggage.

After entering the house, I realized that Tailor Feng was also there and was coming out of the game room.

When I saw her, I smiled and called out, "Hello, sister-in-law."

Jenny Jing smiled, "Why are you free to come over today?Where's Evelin?Not with you?"

Tailor Feng smiled, "She's not feeling well, she's at home, I came over to help Anne install something."

Jenny was stunned and concerned, "Not feeling well?Is it sick?"

Tailor Feng scratched his head in embarrassment, "Not really, it's just... there's good news."

Jenny was startled.

At this time, Biden Lu also came in, just heard his words, immediately said: "Since you are a father, why don't you come over and practice your arm strength?Be careful not to be able to hold the baby later!"

Tailor Feng heard the words and immediately ran over, "Second brother, come, I'll get it for you."

Only then did Jenny react, laughing with joy.

Evelin was considered one of the few good friends she had in this circle other than Nina Hua, and because she had pulled herself up by her own bootstraps, there was even more of a licking of the calf in it.

At this time, it was natural to be happier than the next person to hear her happy news.

She called out to Tailor Feng and said, "There's a lot to keep in mind when you're pregnant, you have to tell her."

Tailor Feng laughed, "It's all known, we haven't been living out lately, we're all in the old house, my mum is taking care of her."

Jenny was startled again.

Previously, Mother Feng had never liked Evelin very much, and even more so, she despised her status as an actress, and was not too happy about her marriage to Tailor Feng.

Now, he is willing to take her to the old mansion to take care of her personally, which shows that the relationship has improved by leaps and bounds, and he has accepted her completely.

Her heart was not happy, and she said, "I'll go see her some day."

Tailor Feng nodded, "Okay, I'll go back and talk to her, you can come over anytime."

Jenny nodded, and then, Tailor Feng immediately went to help Biden Lu with his luggage again.

Ann pulled Jenny to the game room.

"Look, Mommy, this is the castle that Uncle Tailor Feng made for me."

Just inside the room, a gorgeous and elaborate little castle was standing quietly, made of some healthy and environmentally friendly materials, with just enough space for two children to come in and out.

Jenny smiled, "It's beautiful."

Little Competezer followed and ran to sit on the cushion in front of that castle, and said in a milky voice, "Mommy, play with us."

Jenny Jing smiled, "Okay, then I'll play with you guys for a while, after a while you'll have to play by yourselves ha."

They both nodded.

While Jenny was playing with the kids, Biden Lu had moved his luggage in completely and was chatting with Tailor Feng.

He had been away from Kyoto for such a long time, and although there were people here who reported to him every day, there were some things that he had inevitably missed.

Just as well, this time Tailor Feng made it clear to him once and for all.

As they were chatting, Biden Lu's phone rang.

He picked it up and saw that it was the old lady and the old man calling.

The two old men knew they were back and were both concerned about the situation on Gu Siqian's side.

After all, although Lu and Gu are in a competitive relationship, if it involves an outside force trying to enter the Chinese market, then Lu and Gu are naturally on the same side of the fence.

That's why they care so much.

Biden Lu gave a detailed account of the situation there over the phone, and they were relieved to learn that the Chinese Association had been completely cleared.

After talking business, they were told to go to the old house for dinner tonight, which is why they hung up the phone.

Tailor Feng saw that he had something to do and didn't sit for long.

Only then did Biden Lu come to the playroom, just in time to see Jenny Jing playing peek-a-boo with the children.

In fact, the game room was not too big, a hundred or so square, which is also full of all kinds of toys, large and small have, the hiding place would have been limited.

Plus, children are already not very good at hiding their voices and make noise when they walk and breathe.

It was better when Ann was older, but wherever the little competitor went, it was a subwoofer, as if he was afraid people wouldn't know he was there.

Therefore, it was easy for Jenny to catch them by saying that it was hide and seek, but it was just teasing them and deliberately pretending that he couldn't hear their movements.

She smiled blindfolded and said, "Are you hiding? Hide the cat but the cat is coming to get you."
