

Chapter 927

I said, and reached out my hand, probing forward little by little.

With a smile on his lips, Biden Lu held his arms like that and leaned against the door to watch them play.

This time, I don't know if little Competeze had learned his lesson, or if his sister had brought him to essence, but he didn't even make a sound at all.

Jenny could only touch forward by intuition as he tried and said, "Jingze, An'an, where are you guys? The cats are coming for you, so hide."

The two children hid in a corner, and Ann covered the little competitor's mouth, holding a smile as she watched her walk little by little towards the door.

Biden Lu faintly narrowed his eyes.

Just as Jenny was pondering where they would be hiding.

Fingertips suddenly touched a piece of clothing and eyes lit up.

"Ha, I've got you guys!"

She tugged at the dress, her other hand reaching out to grasp the other's wrist.

Just the next second, it was reflected that it wasn't a child's hand.

Just wondering, the hand had been held back by the other, and then, with a tightening of the waist, the person had been taken and pressed into the other's arms.

Jenny was creeped out.

Eventually, he pulled the blindfold off his head.

The blindfold tugged and light came into view, along with the man's warm, handsome face.

Ann clapped her hands behind her and laughed, "Oh oh oh, Mommy's got Daddy, Mommy's got Daddy!"

Little Compete didn't know what she meant, let alone why Mommy was holding onto Daddy when she was obviously coming to get herself and her sister, and cuddling with him.

But since his sister clapped along with him, it would be nice if he did too.

So, too, they applauded and giggled as they did so.

Jenny's face was a little red and pushed him, his voice as low as a mosquito fly, "What are you doing? Loosen up!"

Biden Lu pulled his lips together and smiled lowly, "Didn't you catch me? Why are you loosening up?"

Jenny knew that the man was deliberately trying to be bad and glared at him, whispering a warning, "Don't mess around, the baby is still there."

Of course Biden Lu wouldn't mess around in front of a child.

In fact, he just looked at the warmth of the scene he had just witnessed and his heart touched, growing softer by the second.

He let go of Jenny's waist and brought the blindfold she was holding.

"Is it a loser being a cat?"

Jenny was stunned, and before he could respond, An'an had replied, "Yes, daddy was caught, daddy dang!"

Biden Lu smiled, "Okay, I'll dong."

I said, and put the blindfold on my head.

Jenny Jing's heart didn't rise with warmth at the sight of this, so he took a step back and said, "If you're coming, you can't be a rogue."

After that, I hid with the kids.

A family of four, having a great time.

And now, the other side.

Thousands of miles away in the city of Lin.

Since sending Biden Lu and the others away, Gu Si Qian had redeployed the security settings in the castle again, and although the Chinese Association was now cleared, there were still some small forces scattered outside that were still there.

While the probability is that they shouldn't sell their lives for a collapsed organization, the world is not afraid of 10,000.

In the past, when he was alone, he naturally wasn't afraid of anything, but now that he had Bella Qiao, even if it was for her, he had to make the security in the castle a little more solid.

Bella Qiao was fine with him making this arrangement.

Now that Gu Si Qian had proposed to her, she was no longer the guest outsider in the castle, but the mistress of the place.

Therefore, the servants' attitude towards her was naturally more respectful.

Ober, on the other hand, added a level of closeness to that respect.

This afternoon, he came to Bella Qiao with a stack of wedding dress information and smiled, "Young Master said that he would first let you look at the wedding dresses to see if there was anything in these that you liked, and if there wasn't, I would look for it again, or have the designer design it individually."

To this day, Bella Qiao was a little distracted by the events of that night, so it felt like she was dreaming.

She nodded, "Okay, I know, I'll watch it later."

Only then did Ober smile and leave.

After he left, she reached out and flipped through those picture books.

Just about every wedding dress inside is designed by a major international designer in a variety of styles, and each one is beautiful.

She clenched her fingers slightly, a little hesitant.

I don't know why, but the thought of the upcoming wedding always makes me feel a little uneasy.

She had heard that a bride who was about to get married would always have a lot of anxiety and insecurity in her mind for a period of time before the wedding, a state of mind called pre-wedding anxiety.

She thought to herself that after all she had been through with Gu Siqian, and having come this far, she should not be feeling this emotion.

But I didn't expect....

She couldn't shake her head without laughing.

Just at that moment, Gu Si Qian walked in from outside.

"Did Ober send the stuff over?"

Bella Qiao looked up, looked at him and smiled, "It's delivered, I'm looking at it, do you want to come over and look at it too?"

Kusken nodded and came over to her, leaning right on the arm of her chair, one hand over her back, almost gathering her whole body within her reach, looking at the album in front of her and saying, "Do you still like these styles?"

Bella Qiao gave a "huff", a little torn, "I like it, but just because I like it so much, I think every piece is beautiful, but I don't know how to choose."

Gu Si Qian smiled slightly and touched her head in a petulant manner.

"It's okay, take your time to choose, I was going to order it, but I was in such a hurry that it just didn't turn out as well ordered, so I simply chose what was already there."

Bella Qiao looked up at him and noticed the man's dotting gaze, only to feel as sweet as honey as well.

She smiled, "That's good, you know, I'm not the one who cares about the forms."

Gu Siqian smiled, "Don't care anymore, it's better to be grand about something that only happens once in a lifetime."

Since he said so, Bella Qiao naturally wouldn't argue, so she looked serious again.

At the end of the day, she finally picks out one of her favorites.

Kusken looked at the piece, nodded, and handed it over to Ober to handle.

After Ober left, he asked, "Where do you want to have the wedding?"

Bella Qiao said, "Whatever, I don't have any requirements."

Gu Si Qian sighed at the sight.

Hold her hand, helplessly, "Miss Qiao, please have the self-awareness to be a bride, what bride in this world is as unpicky as you? Anywhere."

When Bella Qiao saw him like this, she couldn't hold back and puffed out a laugh.

She gave him a coquettish glare, "When did you learn to be so slick."

Kusken snorted, "I've always been like this, but you just didn't give me a chance before."

Chapter 928

Said the head came up.

When they k*ssed, they didn't know.

Just know that the afternoon sun, shining on their faces, seemed to shine warmly into their hearts as well.

In the end, they set the wedding for the third day of next month.

I heard Ober say that it was a good day, even the yellow calendar said it was suitable for marriage.

As for the location, since Bella Qiao has always loved the sea, but other beaches are not good for security, Gu Si Qian was worried that someone would take advantage of the wedding to make trouble, so he simply set the location on a private island.

The island, which he had bought a long time ago, and when Georgie asked him what his name was, he looked deeply at her and smiled and said a name.

Her face reddened at once.

Because he said, "This island, it's called Jojo Island."

Jojo...as dumb as she was, she knew what it meant.

She realized that he had gifted her an island a long time ago, and perhaps it was a long time ago that the man had decided to spend the rest of his life with her.

She just never knew it herself.

Bella Qiao's heart was warm and soft, and because of this, even the last bit of anxiety had all but disappeared.

The third year of school is fast approaching.

Since Bella Qiao has no mother's family and the dean's grandfather passed away at an early age, the person who carries her down the red carpet becomes Ober.

For how long has Uncle Ou been with Gu Siqian, he has also watched these two children grow up.

Although he was always mindful of who he was and never did anything to overstep the rules, Bella Qiao had still felt a lot of fatherly warmth from him.

On this day, the island was a feast of flowers, with white silk flying everywhere, and a lively and peaceful atmosphere.

As friends, Jenny Jing and Biden Lu, as well as Kepler and Nina Hua, Lin Song and even a group of people from Tailor Feng, all arrived.

The wedding march sounded, and they watched as Bella Qiao walked step by step with Ober's arm around her, and they were all touched.

It's not easy for this pair, and to this day, they can finally be together.

And then, on stage, Gu Si Qian's mood was the same.

After today, Georgie was finally his wife.

After all these years of driving around, it was good that he hadn't lost her yet, good that they had a long life ahead of them to go on together.

Ober had brought her to him.

He looked at Gu Siqian, whose face had always been kind and gentle, but now he was also very moved, with a colour of excitement that did not belong to him.

"Young Master, I am willing to leave Miss Jo to you, may I ask if you will be able to love, protect and care for her as you always have in the future? Never let her get hurt in any way?"

Gu Si Qian said in a deep voice, "I can."

With that, Ober was happy to give him her hand.

He reached out, took her hand, and led her to the stage.

By this time, the priest had also arrived, since Ober was not Georgie's real father after all, and was only temporarily taking the position as an elder, thus skipping the process of the father speaking.

He looked at the two talented newcomers and smiled, "Mr. Gu Siqian, may I ask if you are willing to love Miss Bella Qiao deeply all the time, to guard her and cherish her for the rest of your life, and to remain faithful to her in the future, for richer or poorer, in sickness and in health?"

Kusken said firmly, "I do."

The priest will the same words to ask Georgie once more.

Kitty Qiao also smiled and replied, "I'd like that too."

The priest smiled, "In that case, I hereby announce that Mr. Gu Siqian and Miss Bella Qiao are officially married from today onwards!"

A statement that made everyone in the room boil.

To everyone's applause, the priest smiled, "Groom, you may now k*ss your bride."

Bella Qiao shyly pursed her lips, and Gu Si Qian looked deeply at her and leaned over.

Just when you're ready to k*ss...

"Gosh, looks like I'm late!"

A voice broke the harmonious and sweet atmosphere.

Everyone was startled and looked up to see Nan Murong coming this way with a group of people who were laughing and feasting.

Gu Si Qian's face went cold.

The last incident had almost torn the skin off his face between him and Nan Murong, and it could be said that the relationship between the two now was not that of friends, but more like enemies.

I didn't think he would show up on a day like today, but here he is.

The faces of the rest of them were also strange; after all, it wasn't exactly a secret story that Gu Siqian and the Nan Clan were at loggerheads due to Bella Qiao's disappearance.

Everyone keeps their mouths shut.

At this time of year, the ghosts believe that Nan Muiyoung has come to give his blessing, and he is eighty times more likely to make trouble.

Thus, Qin Yue and the others, who were guarding a short distance away, were already secretly prepared.

Gu Siqian straightened up to face him, only to see Nan Murong walking this way while laughing, "Siqian, not even telling me about the wedding, this is unkind of you ah, no matter how we are also friends for more than ten years, how can we not even let him know?"

Said the man, who was already at the front.

Gu Siqian reached out, and shook his hand, but unexpectedly Nanmurong tugged and brought him over, and they came to a simple hug.

The man who was speaking and laughing at the banquet last moment sank to the ground and lowered his voice, "Si Qian, didn't even invite me to the wedding because of a guilty conscience?"

Gu Si Qian looked unchanged, but he was quite gnarled.

"I haven't settled this score between you and Joe yet!"

"Heh! Isn't she staying with you? What other accounts are there to settle?"

The two of you come and go, talk a little, and then each of you let go.

Raising his face again, he was already smiling.

Nan Murong looked at Bella Qiao and smiled, "By the way, I've known Si Qian for more than ten years, I'm a few years older than him, so I'm counting on him to call me brother, so I'm just going to prop it up and call you a younger sibling."

I said, reaching back and an attendant immediately brought up the gift.

"A small bridal greeting, it's not meaningful, please accept it from your younger siblings."

Bella Qiao looked up and looked at Gu Si Qian.

Seeing that he didn't object, this was accepted.

At this time, Yusra Lin, who had been standing behind Nan Murong, also came up.

She looked at Bella Qiao, and her exquisite face had no hint of the joy that should be present when she came to celebrate, only a face full of indifference and hostility.

"Mrs. Gu, congratulations, I wish you a hundred years and an early child."

Bella Qiao also smiled slightly, "Thank you Mrs. Nan."

They both left each other speechless for a moment, when the emcee intervened and invited them to take seats in the audience.

The ritual still goes on.

Bella Qiao handed over the gift box in her hand to the bystander and looked at Gu Siqian four times.

Chapter 929

Again the priest shouted, "Bridegroom, you may now k*ss your bride."

But in the end, the atmosphere was ruined, and now they were standing face to face, both with heavy hearts, so how could they be in the mood for this?

Gu Si Qian also saw that she was out of mood, so he ended up just giving her a precious k*ss on the forehead, which was a rite of passage.

After the ceremony is complete, it's feast time.

Bella Qiao needed a change of clothes, so Gu Si Qian accompanied her back to the hotel.

Of course, as a gift from a customer, she would take it back with her.

Even if you don't like Nan Murong, it's still not a good idea to directly disrespect someone in front of so many guests.

Only, when Bella Qiao's hand reached for that box again, it suddenly went dark and shook.

Gu Si Qian's eyes were quick to help her, "What's wrong?"

It took Georgie a few seconds to slow down and shake her head.

"Nothing."

Kuskan frowned.

Noticing that she looked a little pale, she said with concern, "Are you not feeling well? Why do you look so ugly?"

Georgie waved her hand, "It's really nothing, I'm probably just too tired from getting up so early today."

She is, after all, the bride, this is a big event in their lives, and naturally she didn't sleep well after being up at four o'clock today being fiddled with by makeup artists and stylists.

Gu Si Qian saw the situation, and that was how he put his mind at ease.

They went back to the hotel, and since the noon feast was held at the hotel, the rest of the group naturally went back with them.

The island hadn't been open to the public much since it had been bought by Gu Si Qian, and even the hotel was empty.

This time they were coming over for a wedding, and it was only temporarily that someone was brought in to take care of the hotel rooms, banquet hall, and kitchen.

Because of Ober's presence, it went on in an orderly and uncluttered fashion.

When she got back to her room, Georgie sat down on her butt in the couch.

Gu Si Qian saw that something was really wrong with her face, and his frown deepened.

"Ajo, Ajo."

He patted her on the shoulder and called twice.

Georgie looked back at him, but her eyes were already a little blurry.

"Joe, are you okay? Why are you so pale?"

However, this time, Georgie never responded again.

She was black and the man had fallen limp.

Everyone never expected that a good wedding would go so wrong in the end.

After Bella Qiao fainted, Gu Si Qian immediately called the attendant doctor, after diagnosis and treatment, but the doctor found that her condition is very rare, not to mention treatment, even the cause of fainting could not be found.

The others heard the news and rushed over, this time guarding the room outside.

In the bedroom, Gu Siqian guarded Bella Qiao on the bed, looking at the doctor who was treating her, and said urgently, "What's wrong with her? Say something, though!"

The doctor was the resident of the castle, and it was not expected that someone would be in trouble on a big day like today.

But it was good that Ober was thorough, and although he never thought anything would happen to Bella Qiao and Gu Siqian, he was afraid that something would go wrong with the guests on a fully enclosed island, so he brought a doctor over just in case.

It came in handy when you didn't expect it.

At this point, the doctor examines and examines, but can't tell.

Only half a dozen times did he stumble, "Gu Shao, this, this situation may be a bit complicated, there is no medical equipment on the island, just by looking at the situation in front of me, I really can't find out why my wife fainted ah."

Gu Si Qian's face fell.

Ober was beside himself and said, "Shall we return to the castle right away?"

Just as Gu Si Qian was about to agree, a steady male voice suddenly came in.

"No need to go back, I know what's going on with her."

He said, striding in.

The crowd shook hard, only to see who that person was if not Nan Murong?

Gu Si Qian's eyes were dark, and although he wasn't sure that Bella Qiao's current situation had anything to do with him, he still felt unhappy at this time, seeing him.

Nan Muiyoung certainly knew what he was thinking at the moment.

But didn't bother.

He walked over to the bed, pulled out a box from his pocket, and took out a golden yellow, glistening pill from the box, and was ready to put it in Bella Qiao's mouth.

However, the hand only reached into the air before it was stopped by Gu Si Qian.

"What do you mean, Nammu, what do you mean?"

Nan Muiyoung looked at him and smiled.

"What? Afraid I'll poison her? I'll put it to you this way, if I didn't have to poison the pill, she would be dead in less than half an hour."

Everyone shook hard when that was said.

Uncle Ou was the first to ask, "Mr. Nan, human life is at stake, you can't play around with it! What did you mean by what you just said?"

Nan Muiyoung saw the suspicious looks from everyone and knew that he definitely wouldn't be able to leave today without an explanation.

There was simply no rush to explain it in detail.

"Her current condition is a rare genetic emergency, usually fine, but at a certain age, she will have an attack, after which the whole person is in a comatose state, the internal organs and blood vessels will be rapidly obscene, and without an antidote in a short time will die."

Gu Si Qian's face changed.

The rest of them turned pale as well.

Someone asked, "How do we prove what you say is true?"

Nan Muiyoung raised an eyebrow.

"Fine, you guys can not believe me, she can also not eat this medicine, but I'm going to say the ugly thing anyway, just half an hour, after half an hour, even if I take the medicine out, she will be back to heaven, you guys can weigh yourselves."

Saying that, he actually turned straight around and walked out.

Before he reached the door, a cold voice came from behind him.

"Stop!"

Gu Si Qian stared at him coldly, "Bring the medicine."

Only then did Nan Muiyoung smile slightly, return, and hand him the medicine.

However, after Gu Si Qian got the medicine, he didn't rush to feed it, but instructed Qin Yue, "Invite Mr. and Mrs. Nan to go next door to use the tea, and no one will be disturbed without my order."

That was clear to everyone.

This is house arrest in disguise.

It was fine if Bella Qiao managed to wake up, but if she didn't, the two of them, Nan Murong and Yusra Lin, might not be able to walk out of here today.

Nan Muiyoung narrowed his eyes, but he wasn't surprised he would do that.

Who is Gu Siqian?

From a young age, he had been ruthless and had grown up in the dao, so there would be hell if he was willing to take his word for it and just feed the drug into Bella Qiao's mouth.

Therefore, Nan Murong was not angry and took Yusra Lin with him to the next room to cooperate.

Gu Si Qian asked Ober to pour a glass of water and give that medicine to Bella Qiao to take.

After taking the drug, he stayed by her side, watching her nervously.

It was about ten minutes before Georgie woke up grudgingly.

When I woke up and saw him, the first thing I asked was, "What's wrong with me?"
