

Chapter 941: An Obligation

One would say there were coincidences in the world. Just as Jiang Yao finished speaking, the gates to the Chai family home opened. The first person to come out was a soured-face Chen Xuyao, and then Ah Lu.

A large group of people walked behind the two of them. The leader of that group was a woman in her fifties. Then, Chai Xianglong stood behind her. It was apparent that the woman was most likely the pack leader, Madam Chai, who was also Chai Xianglong's mother.

Zhou Xiaocheng's parents stood behind Mrs Chai and her son. It looked like Zhou Xiaocheng had fallen asleep, and her father carried her on his back.

Mr and Mrs Zhou looked angry; there were also traces of hatred and pain in their expressions. However, they did not look like they were injured.

Jiang Yao got out of the car and walked toward Chen Xuyao. She asked, "What happened to Xiaocheng?"

"I don't know. They came out before I even entered the house." Chen Xuyao put his hands in his pockets and stood beside Jiang Yao. He looked coldly at Madam Chai—his expression was filled with dissatisfaction.

"We welcome Fifth Young Master Chen to our family home as a guest. I heard that you have your own company in Jindo City. I didn't expect that you'd come to Yuan City so leisurely." Madam Chai wore light makeup, but it did not hide the wrinkles that showed her age. She had a peaceful smile, but Jiang Yao thought it made her look hypocritical.

Madam Chai meant to say that Chen Xuyao was there to meddle in other people's business. He did not stay in Jindo City and was in Yuan City to mess with the Chai family instead.

"Every citizen has an obligation to maintain justice. I graduated from the military academy, so I might have a little more sense of justice than other people. Some people might think they can control everything because they are rich." After Chen Xuyao finished speaking, he helped Mr and Mrs Zhou and Zhou Xiaocheng into the car.

"Fifth Young Master Chen, are you going to meddle in the Chai family's affairs?" Madam Chai looked so angry that she had ignored her status as a noble lady. Then she stared at Jiang Yao.

The Chai family had been investigating that woman ever since she appeared in Yuan City and contacted the Zhou family. They learned that she was only Zhou Xiaocheng's sister's university classmate. However, when they saw her bodyguards, they knew that she was not a simple person. Unfortunately, before they could find out more about her identity, they found out that Chen Xuyao was in their city. It seemed like he was familiar with that woman.

Madam Chai also noticed that Jiang Yao had not spoken to the Chen family's fifth young master with reverence in her voice. It had felt as if she had addressed a friend instead.

Therefore, when Madam Chai pondered about the matter between the Chai family and Zhou Xiaocheng, she wondered about the connection between the woman and Fifth Young Master Chen.

Did they have a romantic relationship?

The woman was Zhou Xiaocheng's sister's classmate. Since she was in Yuan City at that time, it meant that she was there for that specific matter. Based on her relationship with Chen Xuyao, it seemed like the man was in the city for the same reason.

Chen Xuyao did not know Zhou Xiaocheng's family, so he must have made his way there for that woman. Madam Chai knew that they needed to focus their attention on that woman.

Chapter 942: Evil Intentions

Madam Chai had thought of several ways to persuade that woman, but since she could not figure out her relationship with Chen Xuyao, none of those methods would work.

Madam Chai looked at the three Zhou family members who were already in the car and said, "The two of you can go home and think about the best way to comfort and help your daughter. Since things have reached this point, it is better to think about a solution than make more problems for everyone. I believe you can see our sincerity in our offer. Our door will remain open for you at any time. You are welcome to our home when you have made your choice."

Since she did not know what had happened when Madam Chai took those three Zhou family members, Jiang Yao did not know what she had meant. However, she saw the expressions on Mr and Mrs Zhou's face, so she knew it was nothing good.

Jiang Yao told Big Ke to drive the Zhou family home while the three of them took a taxi.

When they reached the Zhou family residence, they saw Zhou Xiaoxia, and the others waited for them anxiously. Zhou Xiaoxia could finally sigh in relief when she realized that everyone was safe.

"Mom, what's wrong with Xiaocheng?" Zhou Xiaoxia asked worriedly when she saw her sister on her father's back.

"Xiaocheng went crazy when she saw Chai Xianglong. She kept screaming and hitting her head against the wall. Later, their family doctor gave her a sedative," Mrs Zhou said in a hoarse voice. It was as if she had been speaking for a long time with the Chai family. "Xiaocheng looked at Chai Xianglong as if she had seen a scary ghost. My daughter used to be so brave; she even dared to catch a mouse. But now, she doesn't even dare to see new people. Why would the gods treat her that way? She has always been an obedient girl. Why did they have to torture her like that?"

"Auntie, did the Chai family say anything to you when they took you?" Even though she was a top student, Jiang Yao could not find the words to comfort a desperate mother.

"They are a bunch of animals!" When Mr Zhou heard Jiang Yao's question, his mood suddenly changed; he was so angry when he scolded the Chai family. "They want Chai Xianglong to marry Xiaocheng. They want us to stop pursuing this matter with Chai Xianglong. They said that they would give us a large sum of dowry money, and they will be kind to Xiaocheng when she becomes their daughter-in-law. As long as we agree, they will change Xiaocheng's age in her registration book. They want them to get married immediately!"

"Xiaocheng is so afraid of Chai Xianglong. How could she marry the animal who raped her? He would torture my daughter for the rest of her life!" Mrs Zhou shook her head in desperation. "I will never let my daughter marry into that family!"

“The Chai family have such evil intentions!” Zhou Xiaoxia growled. “They had driven her into this state; they would bully her if she were to marry into their family! They must have thought they could kick my sister out when the rumors died so that they could preserve their family’s and Chai Xianglong’s reputation! They would save themselves a lot of trouble!”

“The Chai family have evil intentions, indeed.” Jiang Yao agreed with a serious expression.

It seemed like the Zhou family did not know the actual situation. They thought that Chai Xianglong was the only person who had raped their daughter. However, he had not been the only man to do that. Therefore, how could they be sincere with their marriage proposal for Zhou Xiaocheng?

Chapter 943: Would Not Agree

The Chai family proposed that method because they wanted to settle the problem temporarily and stall for time. Chai Xianglong could divorce Zhou Xiaocheng in a year; if her family caused a ruckus, the Chai family could turn the tables and say that the Zhou family was greedy and wanted their money. After such a long time, it would be even more difficult to obtain any evidence.

Jiang Yao looked at Chen Xuyao. She guessed that Chen Xuyao’s sudden appearance had prompted the Chai family to do that due to some reservations. If Chen Xuyao were not in Yuan city, the Chai family would very likely continue to use their original methods to threaten and suppress the Zhou family.

“I can’t let her marry that bastard—Chai Xianglong. He is almost thirty years old; he’s so much older than her. He is still an old bastard who is worse than a beast! Even if I have to support Second Sister for the rest of my life, I don’t want her to go to the Chai family!” Zhou Xiaoguang clenched his fists tightly. “Dad, Mom, if we really send Second Sister to the Chai family, they will very likely kill her. If she were to die, they would no longer be scared that we would sue Chai Xianglong. She would die in that family! The Chai family would have many ways to do it.”

“I am not stupid; I won’t agree to it!” Mr Zhou said, “Even if they give us a mountain of gold and silver, your mother and I will never agree! She is my daughter—what right does anyone have to torture her?”

Jiang Yao was relieved. She was afraid that the parents would choose to listen to the Chai family’s suggestion and agreed to the marriage. Perhaps they thought that it would save their daughter’s reputation and that she would have a husband to care for her.

Fortunately, Zhou Xiaocheng’s parents were not stupid.

“Jiang Yao, Mr Chen, the Chai family’s home is not a good place. In the future, you must not be as reckless as you have been today. We are very grateful that you are here to help us, and we do not know what we’d do if any of you were injured.” Mrs Zhou wiped her tears as she looked at Chu Sheng. Then she asked, “Miss Chu, how’s your injury? Did you go to the hospital?”

Chu Sheng shook his head and pointed at Jiang Yao. Then, she pointed at her arm—an indication that Jiang Yao had already treated her.

Since the Zhou family was exhausted, Jiang Yao and the others decided to leave. Zhou Xiaocheng was also sound asleep. Since the Zhou family was there to accompany their daughter, Chu Sheng also left with Jiang Yao and the others.

After their departure, they went to the hospital to see the lawyer, Mr Jiang. When they arrived at the hospital, they learned that Mr Jiang had been discharged in the morning. Jiang Yao called him—the man was at his friend’s firm. So, they turned around and went back to the hotel.

Ah Lu had knocked Taozi unconscious and hid her in his and Big Ke’s room; they knew that no one would go into their room.

“Jiang Yao, do you want to go to lunch? I passed by a restaurant just now, and it looked quite special, so I want to try it. Would you like to join us?” Chen Xuyao asked while he was at the door; he did not want to go into the room, so he called out to Jiang Yao from there. However, his eyes fell on Chu Sheng.

Jiang Yao knew what Chen Xuyao meant when he used the word we. She shook her head. “It’s so cold outside; I can’t be bothered to go out.”

Chapter 944: Somewhat Capable

Jiang Yao knew that if she agreed to go, Chen Xuyao would definitely look at her as if she were stupid.

As expected, once Jiang Yao said that, Chen Xuyao could not wait to get Chu Sheng out of there. He did not say anything else as he pretended to pull Chu Sheng with him. Then, he said, “It looks like Jiang Yao can’t go for lunch, so I’ll go with you. I don’t have that many opportunities to come to Yuan city, so I want to enjoy myself.”

Chen Xuyao knew that he would be rejected if he asked Chu Sheng, so he decided not to do that—he dragged her away forcefully.

After Jiang Yao returned to her room, she felt alive again. Yuan City was in the north, and she could be frozen if she were to walk outdoors. She even heard that it would snow in the next few days.

Therefore, Jiang Yao told the truth when she said that it was freezing outside and she was too lazy to go out. When she returned to her room, she immediately called room service for lunch. Just as she waited for the food to arrive, her phone in her pocket rang—it was Lu Xingzhi.

Jiang Yao held a cup of hot water in one of her hands and picked up the phone in the other. She did not know where Lu Xingzhi was when he called her. She did not hear his voice when she picked up the phone; she heard the wind instead.

“Are you on a mountain?” Jiang Yao mumbled.

She did not say that loudly, so she did not know if her husband heard her. She waited a couple of seconds before Lu Xingzhi’s voice finally echoed through the phone.

“My dear wife, I’m coming to Yuan City the day after tomorrow. I found some interesting information, and now I’m confirming its authenticity. Try to delay as long as you can. If this information is real, then I’d like to see how the Chai family can stay so arrogant.”

Lu Xingzhi could not hide his excitement; it was apparent that he was very proud of that information.

“You have time to do that?” Jiang Yao was happy to hear that Lu Xingzhi would go to Yuan City.

"I'm taking two days off. I'll help another commander during the New Year." Lu Xingzhi had not planned to go to Yuan City. He wanted to spend more time with Jiang Yao during the New Year, but it seemed that he would need to interfere with her problem in Yuan City. Furthermore, Jindo City was very close to Yuan City as well.

"Chen Xuyao guessed that the Chai family must have known about his identity, and that's why they did not dare to offend him. It's a bit scary how wide their connections are." Jiang Yao told Lu Xingzhi what had happened that morning.

However, Lu Xingzhi was not surprised at all. "It's not strange that Madam Chai knows his identity. It won't be long before she knows that you are my wife too."

"The Chai family is really that capable?" Jiang Yao remembered that Lu Xingzhi had said that when she returned to Nanjiang City, he would have taken care of any matters that were related to her; he would not let anyone know of their previous relationship.

It had been a while since then, and she had only been back to Jindo City a couple of times. Lu Xingzhi said that he wanted to remove all her traces there, so the Liang family would definitely help. Under such circumstances, Madam Chai would prove to be a powerful person if she could find out about Jiang Yao's identity as Lu Xingzhi's wife.

"The person behind Madam Chai is somewhat capable, indeed." Lu Xingzhi snorted. However, his information was only the tip of the iceberg. He did not want to say more without confirmation as he did not want to mislead Jiang Yao.

Chapter 945: Xiaocheng Jumps Off a Building

He originally called to tell Jiang Yao that he would go to Yuan City in two days. However, he could not bear to hang up after that conversation; he asked about Jiang Yao's lunch instead.

First, he casually asked her if she had eaten. After Jiang Yao told him that she was waiting for room service, he began to ask about her lunch in detail. He continued to tell her to eat more and take care of herself; he did not want her to lose weight. He also told her that the weather in the north was cold and windy, so she should wear warmer clothes if she were to go out so that she would not catch a cold while she was there.

Those slightly noisy words entered Jiang Yao's ears, but she was not annoyed with him. On the contrary, she listened to his words and answered him accordingly. She was so obedient that it made him extremely happy. Therefore, Jiang Yao got more energetic the more she spoke with her husband.

Jiang Yao thought that the reason she was not annoyed with him was probably she had not seen him for a while. She must have missed him, so she was quite tolerant with his words.

No matter how silent Lu Xingzhi was with outsiders, he had never suppressed his mood with her; he was almost like a different person in front of his wife.

Jiang Yao looked forward to Lu Xingzhi's arrival in Yuan City in two days. So that afternoon, she went out to get some things and then spent the whole afternoon in her room with handicrafts.

The MMS that Lu Xingzhi sent her that day had inspired her. Wen Xuehui was right—Lu Xingzhi did not lack things that money could purchase. Since Lu Xingzhi seemed to enjoy the things she made, Jiang Yao decided to make a gift for him.

He already had a jar of plastic stars that he had taken from her mother's house, so she decided to fold a thousand paper cranes for him as his birthday gift. She could also write a sentence on each of those paper cranes.

She decided not to remind Lu Xingzhi when she gave him the gift. Instead, she would just wait for him to discover it on his own.

Since she had things to do, Jiang Yao felt as if time had passed quickly. She did not go to bed until midnight.

She glanced at the text message that Lu Xingzhi had sent her two hours prior to wish her a good night. Then, she fell asleep happily as she thought about Lu Xingzhi's reaction when he received her present.

However, Jiang Yao's phone rang not long after she went to bed. It was My Jiang.

"Something bad has happened. Zhou Xiaocheng tried to commit suicide by jumping off a building. She's in the hospital now."

Those words were like a bomb that sent Jiang Yao into a panic. "When did this happen?"

"It was about an hour ago; she jumped off the roof of her house, and there was a pile of sharp items on the ground." Mr Jiang gave her the hospital's name and told Jiang Yao that the Zhou family was already there.

After the call ended, Jiang Yao rushed to put on her clothes and then woke Ah Lu and Big Ke. Since Chen Xuyao had the car keys, she had to wake him up as well. Chu Sheng must not have gone to sleep because she came out of her room when she heard loud noises from Jiang Yao's room. Since Jiang Yao looked anxious and was about to leave, Chu Sheng gestured to ask what had happened.

Chapter 946: The Resuscitation Was Ineffective

"Zhou Xiaocheng jumped off a building, and her injuries are severe. She's in the hospital for emergency treatment," Jiang Yao answered concisely.

Chu Sheng was shocked. She quickly went back to her room and changed her clothes. It took the five of them less than ten minutes to pack and leave the hotel. Fortunately, there were hardly any cars on the road at that time. However, it was a cold night, and the road was slippery. In addition, there was a lot of frost on the road, so they only reached the hospital in an hour.

"Miss Jiang!" When Mr Jiang saw Jiang Yao and the others, he immediately went to greet them. Then, he pointed at a crying family, who were in each other's arms, a few meters away. He sighed helplessly and shook his head. "The doctors couldn't revive Xiaocheng. She passed about 20 minutes ago."

Jiang Yao footsteps staggered. She wanted to rush there in case she could save Zhou Xiaocheng; she did not expect she would not even get the chance to do that. Unfortunately, Zhou Xiaocheng had already died.

Zhou Xiaoxia's family held onto Zhou Xiaocheng's body and cried so hard that they could hardly stand. The doctor kept calling for the nurses to pull them away; he wanted to send Zhou Xiaocheng's body to the morgue. However, Zhou Xiaoguang held the bed tightly and refused to let the doctor push his sister away.

Mr Jiang said that Zhou Xiaocheng had passed away about 20 minutes ago, and the Zhou family had held onto her body for that long. They refused to let the doctor take Zhou Xiaocheng's body. The doctor got impatient, so he pushed Zhou Xiaoguang out of the way and quickly signaled the nurses to remove Zhou Xiaocheng's body.

"Second Sister! Second Sister!" Zhou Xiaoguang lost all rationality and chased after the gurney. He reached out to pull it back to him, but he accidentally pulled the white cloth that covered Zhou Xiaocheng and exposed her body to everyone.

Jiang Yao could not bear to walk forward; instead, she hugged Zhou Xiaoguang as she looked at Zhou Xiaocheng's body. She was full of regret—she was late, after all. Perhaps if she had arrived earlier...

"Wait!" Jiang Yao's eyes narrowed. She stopped the nurse who had wanted to snatch the white cloth from Zhou Xiaoguang. Jiang Yao let go of Zhou Xiaoguang. Then, she shouted, "Protect your sister's body! There's something wrong with this hospital!"

After that, Jiang Yao turned toward Ah Lu and Big Ke and yelled, "Get over here and protect Zhou Xiaocheng's body!"

"Sister Jiang Yao..." Even though Zhou Xiaoguang did not understand what Jiang Yao meant when she said something was wrong, he still did what she told him to do. He ran forward and pushed the nurse away. Then, he laid on Zhou Xiaocheng's body and refused to let anyone get close to him.

"What's wrong with you people? We can't save a dead person, and we need to get this body to the morgue so that they can get buried as soon as possible. That's the most important thing!" The doctor shouted at the Zhou family. His eyelids twitched when he heard that Jiang Yao mentioned that something was wrong. He pointed at Jiang Yao and yelled, "What's wrong with you? What do you mean something was wrong? Have you thought about the consequences of your words?"

Jiang Yao had never felt such fury when she slapped the doctor's hand away from her. She shouted, "There are no signs of resuscitation attempts on Zhou Xiaocheng's body, but you guys were in the operating theater for more than an hour with her. What did you guys do in there? One hour and no signs of resuscitation on the deceased's body. Then, you came out and said that the resuscitation attempts were ineffective. You were just trying to stall for time. She was not dead when they brought her to the hospital. You brought her into the operating room and watched her die while you did nothing!"

Chapter 947: Murderer

Jiang Yao suspected that Zhou Xiaocheng had died more than 20 minutes ago. She had jumped off a building in her pajamas to commit suicide. Some parts of her body were exposed—there were many fatal wounds in those areas. However, Jiang Yao could not see any signs of resuscitation.

After those doctors sent Zhou Xiaocheng to the operating theater, they did not even try to revive her. They only pretended to do that. Zhou Xiaocheng's injuries were so severe that she would probably have died within half an hour after they went into the operating theater, especially without timely resuscitation attempts. However, the doctors must have stayed in the operating theater for an hour and a half before they informed Zhou Xiaocheng's family that she had died!

"Nonsense! Nonsense!" The doctor was so angry that he stomped his feet. "You're deliberately stirring the emotions of the deceased's family members. You're going to be held legally responsible for your words! You're so young, and you haven't done anything yet—you're full of nonsense! Are you even worthy of your parents?"

"Whether I'm worthy or not is my business. Why don't you ask yourself—are you worthy of your conscience? Her name is Zhou Xiaocheng. The pain she experienced before she died was enough to make anyone pity her, yet you're still so heartless to deprive her of her life. How much has the Chai family given you? How much is a human life worth? If it were me, I would never do anything to harm a human life—not even for a mountain of gold! That is the basic principle of being human, and it is also one's basic moral. If you can't even behave like a human being, how are you different from an animal?"

Jiang Yao's rhetorical question was profound and forceful; her gaze was clear and full of conviction. It was a sharp blade that went straight through one with a guilty conscience.

"There were no signs of resuscitation attempts on Xiaocheng's body, nor were there any trace of treatment. You didn't treat the patient promptly, and you delayed the golden time for a rescue so badly that your patient died. And, that is murder!" Jiang Yao pointed at Zhou Xiaocheng's exposed arms and neck. "Take these two places as an example—there are large wounds here. Based on the location and condition of these wounds, they would have caused massive blood loss if not treated in time. Xiaocheng's clothes are almost dyed red with her blood, and there is only so much blood in the human body. How much blood had stained her clothes? How dare you even say that you've tried to save a patient who had been sent to the operating room?"

As soon as Jiang Yao finished speaking, Zhou Xiaoguang stood up and punched the doctor in his face. The young man had channeled her anger into that punch; the doctor lost one of his teeth to that attack—he screamed as he covered his face in pain.

However, how could the doctor's scream compare to the pain in Zhou Xiaoguang's heart?

"Murderers! Murderers! Give my sister back to me! Give her back to me!" Zhou Xiaoguang roared as tears fell from his eyes.

It was a difficult moment for that teenager. He had been locked up in the police station for several days, but he did not shed any tears. However, when he heard how his sister was killed while he stared at her body, he could not hold back his anger and tears.

Chapter 948: Please Help Them

"I'll kill you! I'll kill you, murderers!" Mr Zhou rushed forward and grabbed the doctor. He wanted to hit the doctor—the despair and pain from the loss of his daughter and the truth about her death led to a surge of hatred in his heart. That hatred seemed to give him a huge amount of energy; his body felt strong due to the hate.

“Get the security! Get the security to chase these people away!” The doctor was so scared that he ran to the side. The other doctors and some other family members nearby did not understand the situation, but they still rushed forward to hold Zhou Xiaoguang and his father back.

The security guards arrived very quickly, but Chen Xuyao managed to knock a few of them down in just a few moments. Ah Lu and Big Ke stood a few steps away from Jiang Yao as they protected Zhou Xiaocheng’s body. They blocked the doctors and nurses who wanted to take advantage of the chaos to take Zhou Xiaocheng’s body away.

The commotion attracted the attention of the hospital’s leaders. When Jiang Yao saw that, she immediately shouted, “Everyone, please help my friend’s family! My friend’s sister was injured and was rushed to the hospital for emergency treatment. However, the doctors here had received benefits from other people—they did not do the emergency treatment even after they sent the patient to the resuscitation room. After the patient died, they waited for more than an hour before they told her family that they could not revive her! The doctors in this hospital have no regard for human lives. They have no professional ethics or conscience. These doctors are murderers! We are not here to cause trouble, but the doctors in the hospital should be punished for killing people. Unfortunately, they refuse to admit it!”

Jiang Yao stood there as she spoke; her face was filled with grief and regret for Zhou Xiaocheng’s death. She looked at the crowd with sincerity.

She was worried that the Chai family was too powerful and that everyone would leave once they heard that it was related to them, so Jiang Yao did not mention Zhou Xiaocheng and Chai Xianglong for the sake of everyone’s safety.

The Chai family was the only people who wished for Zhou Xiaocheng’s death. Therefore, they must have been watching the Zhou family. They knew that Zhou Xiaocheng had committed suicide by jumping off a building and was sent to the hospital to be rescued, so they bribed those doctors to let her die.

The Chai family wanted to settle the score. At that moment, they could not let those doctors get away. They were accomplices, and their hands were also stained with Zhou Xiaocheng’s blood.

As soon as Jiang Yao finished speaking, the onlookers immediately pointed at the doctors; some even began to curse at them.

“They are doctors, yet they harm other people’s lives. The dogs must have eaten their conscience!”

“I didn’t expect the doctors to be so heartless. They were supposed to save her, but they let her die instead. How painful was it for someone to wait for their death?”

“No wonder they let me stay in the hospital for such a short period. These doctors are heartless; they just want to make more money!”

When Jiang Yao saw that, she said, “My friend’s sister was only 16 or 17 years old—the most innocent age for a girl. She was still so young and had so many paths to walk in her life. However, because of these doctors’ ruthlessness, she had to stay in the resuscitation room forever. Indeed, the dead are always regretful, but what about those who still live?”

Jiang Yao's voice was choked with sobs. "Many of you are parents, so you must understand her parents' pain. They have lost their child, and they will never see her again. They will never hear her call them Mom and Dad again. They will never get to see their child grow up. They will never see their child get married and start a family. This is a lifelong pain for them."

Chapter 949: Poor and Spineless

"We all have brothers and sisters. Look at Xiaocheng's brother and sister. They grew up together and were supposed to support each other for the rest of their lives, but their sister had suddenly passed away. This is a pain that they will never be able to recover from! Our heart is also of flesh and blood. All of us have family members, and if an evil doctor were to murder them one day, would we not feel the same pain?"

Jiang Yao looked at the people around her quietly. Her eyes were moist; she raised her hand to wipe the tears at the corner of her eyes.

Zhou Xiaocheng might still be in pain if she were alive, but her family would rather see her live her life foolishly than lose her.

Jiang Yao thought that her brother's meeting Yang Gaoshu had already filled her heart with anger. Who could bear to see their family member's death or, worse, killed by someone else? Therefore, who could understand the pain that the Zhou family had to endure? Who could understand that?

It might have been fine if Zhou Xiaocheng had died instantly, but the doctors had let her down—they left her to die. Who would know about the pain that Zhou Xiaocheng had to endure before her heart stopped?

Other than her physical injuries, she also had to endure those people in the operating theater as they ignored her pain. Those people might have chatted and laughed as they discussed how they would spend the bribe money from the Chai family. Zhou Xiaocheng must have felt so desperate; how hateful was that situation?

Jiang Yao's words made the Zhou family cry even more painfully; the people around them also wiped their tears silently.

"Call the police! We must call the police!"

"Get a reporter to expose this hospital's unscrupulous doctor!"

The crowd shouted; some of them even took out their cell phones to call the police and the media.

Mr Zhou and Mrs Zhou looked at everyone's enthusiastic help; they thanked the crowd with tears on their faces.

"Would you listen to the words of a young lady? This woman is their friend. Unfortunately, there are too many people who would do anything for money. Furthermore, they are using a dead person to extort money from the hospital." The hospital director pushed the crowd away as he walked forward. He pinched the bridge of his nose before he looked at the woman who caused a ruckus.

It seemed like the woman had thought about her words before she spoke. If it were not for his position, he would have been moved by her speed. He might have also helped them to call the police and the media.

“She mentioned that we didn’t try to save the victim? Our doctors would never do such a thing. Each one of our doctors is dedicated to their work. Unfortunately, the patient’s injuries were too serious, and we could not save her. The doctors did their best, and they are also very sad for the family members. However, that is not an excuse to make things difficult for the doctors or to gain profit from this!”

The director walked toward the doctor who had been assaulted. He said, “What does a young woman know? Our doctors are all professionals. They had tried to save the victim. This woman clearly doesn’t know anything, but she pretended to know everything. She said that the doctor didn’t resuscitate the victim and that they had killed her. Does she have any proof for that?”

The hospital director snorted disdainfully. “I look down on poor people who have no backbone! They just want to earn money by any means necessary!”

Chapter 950: What Does She Know

The director was confident that no one in the crowd knew whether the deceased had been resuscitated or not. Only medical staff could analyze and examine the victim, and the doctors and nurses in the hospital did not have the courage to ask about that.

“Didn’t she say that the deceased had two wounds that were not treated?” someone in the crowd asked.

“What does she know? The patient had severe injuries, and there were many more fatal wounds on the deceased’s body than her hands and neck. Of course, we had to treat those fatal wounds first,” the doctor quickly retorted.

At that point, the crowd looked at the Zhou family and Jiang Yao differently. Those who held their phones also gradually put them down; they did not know who was right.

Chen Xuyao rolled his eyes when he heard the director say that Jiang Yao was poor and had no backbone. If Jiang Yao were poor, then he was poorer than poor. A person who owned two mines had been labeled as poor—how many rich people were there in the world?

“Ridiculous!” Jiang Yao snorted. “These two wounds can cause massive blood loss; if they didn’t stop it promptly, what else was there to save?”

Her disdain was even more justified than the hospital director’s. “As doctors, you should be treating patients and saving lives, yet you let your patient die. The hospital director was right. It doesn’t matter if a person is poor, but it’s wrong to be poor and have no backbone or morals. The doctors in your hospital are so poor that they need to harm lives to earn some money!”

Jiang Yao took two steps forward and straightened her back. “I may be young, but does that mean that I don’t know anything? I am not afraid to tell everyone that I am only 18 years old. However, my knowledge is not less than any of the doctors here!”

“You are really shameless. You are young, yet you dare to say anything!” The doctor who had lost his two front teeth when Zhou Xiaoguang punched him shouted, though he sounded comical.

“Young Lady, you—” Some of the people there also thought that Jiang Yao was exaggerating. “These doctors are all professional medical graduates and have many experiences in practicing medicine. We understand the pain of losing a loved one, but you can’t make things difficult for other doctors because of this.”

“I’m not making things difficult for anyone, and I’m not doing it for money! I’m doing it for justice and for the life of the innocent victim who had died!” Jiang Yao sneered. “Let me put it this way. On behalf of the Zhou family, we will not ask for a single cent as compensation. However, we will bring all the hospital’s medical staff involved in this incident to justice. We will not let any murderers who have harmed the lives of others go!”

After she said that, she smiled sarcastically at the hospital director. “Are you thinking about how I can prove that? Well, I’m also a doctor, so I understand! I’m more qualified than anyone else to judge.”

She laughed arrogantly and confidently. Even though they thought she was a young and ignorant girl, she stood with confidence as she snarled at all the doctors there. She did not feel as if it were not inappropriate.

Her voice was clear and powerful, and the crowd could only hear her deep and powerful voice. “I am the Divine Doctor’s only student!”

Then, Jiang Yao looked at the crowd. “Yuan City is not far from Jindo City, so I believe that everyone here must have heard of the Divine Doctor’s good deeds. Coincidentally, I am the Divine Doctor’s only student. Now, do you think I have the right to judge?”
