Catch Me If You Love Me

Chapter 96

Hearing the sound, Liam Lu's eyes were dim, unable to see his happiness and anger, and raised his eyebrows to look at Zoey Gu.

"You seem to be very interested in my wife Lu's position?"

Zoey Gu had a look, lowered her eyes slightly, and when she raised it again, he suddenly leaned inwardly towards him.

"Of course I'm interested."

"Because I can marry you, it has always been my dream when I was young. Although my family is dilapidated, I have been slept and dirty, but there is nothing wrong with being a respected Mrs. Lu."

"Besides, you don't know how happy I am to take Anna Yun's fiance away… Um!"

Before she finished speaking, Lu Liamsheng got her neck stuck.

His eyes were scarlet, his eyes sharp as a sword, and he gritted his teeth to warn her.

"Zoey Gu, let me hear another dirty word from your mouth, do you believe it or not I will strangle you?!"

Zoey Gu was short of breath, her face flushed red, and she raised her hand and beat his hand hard.

"Liam Lu, let go…"

The next second, he let go.

As soon as he let go, Zoey Gu's legs softened and he fell to the ground without strength.

Before anyone touched the ground, Liam Lu beside her suddenly bent over and picked her up, hugged her all the way into the inner room, raised her hand and threw her onto the big bed.

Realizing what he was going to do, Zoey Gu paled and got up when she struggled.

"Liam Lu, what are you going to do?"

The man glanced at her coldly, bent over and clasped her ankle directly underneath his body, attached to his body, pressed her hand behind her ear, opened his mouth and bit on her shoulder, and his wet lips rolled straight down.

"If you want to be my Mrs. Lu, you have to sleep with me first. Is it possible that you can still count on me to marry you based on my past love?"

The ruthless and cold words made Zoey Gu's heart throb.

She looked up at the crystal chandelier above, her eyes blushing silently.

In just a second, she released her struggling hand, letting the man's long fingers poke into her clothes, doing whatever he wanted…

Seeing that Liam Lu was interested, he was about to drive straight in, when a sudden bell sounded outside the door.

Two people have a meal at the same time.

The moment he reacted, Zoey Gu pushed the man away hard.

Liam Lu's gloomy eyes instantly chilled a bit, closed his eyes and took a breath, got up and got off the bed.

"It should be the clothes for you here, go open the door!"

After he finished speaking, he turned around and went into the bathroom, shaking his hand and closing the door.

Bang!

Just by hearing this voice, I knew how angry this man was in the morning.

Zoey Gu sat up holding the quilt, still breathing lowly.

She didn't understand from beginning to end, what on earth was he angry with?

Just because she laughed at herself as dirty?

But the person who thinks she is dirty, isn't it always him?

There was a knock on the door again.

Zoey Gu moved out of bed, looked unnaturally at the clothes torn to pieces by the man last night, gritted her teeth and pulled off a large bathrobe from the hanger beside him, wrapped herself tightly, and ran all the way to open the door.

As a result, when the door opened, a cold thing arrived in an instant!
