

Chapter: 1756

“Lin Fan bought the luxury house, and that car really belongs to Lin Fan. It has nothing to do with me.”

If it hadn't been for Lin Fan who had been helping her secretly, her new Bai clan would have already closed down for so many times.

Where is the money?

Now she has only 10 million working capital available.

Other money has been invested in the new Bai family.

Lin Fan?

Wang Youcai and Wang Zhijun were taken aback, then looked at Lin Fan disdainfully:

“Just this dead poor ghost, can he afford a mansion worth hundreds of millions? If he can afford it, then he won't have to eat soft food!”

“Well, Bai Yi, since your family is ungrateful, don't blame our ruthless men. After returning, we will definitely let those relatives know your true colors, a group of wolf-hearted!”

But Wang Zhijun was still unwilling to give up, and said with indignation:

“Bai Yi, cousin, I borrowed this money from you, and it's not that I didn't return it to you. I recently found a good project that can make a profit of 100 million yuan in two years. Then I will return all the profits to you. What do you think?”

But still waiting for Bai Yi to speak, Shen Yumei sneered:

“You said that you want to start a project, and the money you get from our family is at least 5 million, right? The result? The meat buns beat the dogs, there is no return!”

“Dare you say that my son is a dog? Are you scolding me?”

Wang Youcai immediately went on fire, pointing at Shen Yumei and cursing.

But how could Shen Yumei be a fuel-efficient lamp?

She also stood up quickly and scolded angrily:

“You don't rely on the old to sell the old, just your broken buns, the money our family has given you over the years, and the help you have been paid, have already been paid off.”

“To say that we are ungrateful, I think you have to make an inch!”

“you you you!”

Wang Youcai trembled with anger, then glared at Baishan:

“Baishan, this is how you taught your daughter-in-law? If this is my daughter-in-law, I wouldn't be surprised if I didn't beat her all over to find teeth!”

But Baishan sighed, not human inside and out.

And Wang Zhijun also sneered:

“It's impossible to say that. Our family saves your lives, and what you give is only money.”

“Under this circumstance, I think no matter how much money you give, it shouldn't be too much, right?”

“Well, lend me 50 million, and our two families will be completely cleaned up in the future, and we will no longer take the buns of the year as an example.”

Lin Fan was stunned by Wang Zhijun's shamelessness. He actually planned to use a few stinky stinky steamed buns that year for 50 million?

Also looks right and confident!

This is more than shameless, it is shameless!

He was simply convinced, how could there be such a shameless person!

And Shen Yumei also slapped the table suddenly, and roared:

“No money!”

She was fed up with this house too, and had been draining their house like a vampire all these years.

Forget it, the key point is that their family has helped Wang Youcai so much, and they are not grateful at all, just as they should.

Everyone said that they saved their entire family's life back then, and they should be taken from their family.

Now they dare to make an inch and ask them to give 50 million?

Is this crazy?

Wang Youcai was angry and stared at Baishan fiercely:

“Baishan, speak! How did you ask me to help you in the first place, is your family's attitude like this now?”

Bai Shan was silent, he also felt that Wang Youcai was too much.

Forget about bullying him all these years, but now he still counts his daughter, how can he bear it?

“Well, a group of wolf-hearted white-eyed wolves, you will definitely get retribution!”

Wang Youcai scolded him extremely furiously, and then took Wang Zhijun's hand and prepared to leave.

At this time, a contemptuous laughter sounded:

“Fifty million? I'll give it!”
