Chapter 2551

Nollace did not hide any detail from Daisy and told her everything. When Daisy heard that the mastermind behind everything was Cecelia, she was stunned for a moment and did not say anything. Nollace took her hand. "The Taylors placed her next to me by force because they want to create opportunities for the daughter. However, I've already seen through their scheme and kicked her out of the company. As for what she instigated Madam Ames to do, I'll get back at them slowly but surely after this." She remained silent for a while and then asked, "Nollace, are the Taylors a pain to deal with?"

He explained, "The Taylors hold a solid status among the aristocrats, and they have a lot of connections in the cabinet and business circles. For political candidates, the Taylors' votes are the most important. Although the Hathaways and the Taylors are now on the same level, uprooting the Taylors won't be an easy thing to do."

"The Taylors have indeed contributed a lot to the royal family. The royal family can't even deal with normal aristocrats so casually without a strong reason, so dealing with the head of the cabinet's family would be a pain in the *ss."

"But don't worry." Nollace rubbed the top of her hair, with a glimmer of amusement beaming from her eyes. "I might not be able to get rid of the Taylors, but I've come up with ideas to deal with them. Cecelia has lit the fuse between the Taylors and the royal family this time, so they won't dare to act rashly for some time."

Daisy gazed at him. "Then I'll accompany you throughout this battle."

He was dumbfounded.

'Regardless of whether I want to fight for the position, everyone in the country will only think that I'm the most suitable candidate to take over the position as the country's princess. I want to fight over it only because I want that woman to know her place and leave the prince.

"Why would I give her so much attention? At the end of the day, she's just a daughter of the Goldmanns.

'However, Nollace actually did this to me because of that woman, and my mother is expecting me to turn a blind eye to it!?"

Bianca knew what Cecelia was thinking and quickly tried to persuade her. "Cecelia, Nollace isn't as simple of a man as you think he is. Think about the fate of those who have offended him in the past. Apart from being the son of Her Majesty the Queen, he doesn't deserve you, my precious daughter."

How could Cecelia listen to her mother at this moment? She sneered. "If there are other princes, then I'll choose to give up on him. But if you want me to give up now, you're only turning me into a laughingstock. Are you telling me that I, the daughter of the most powerful aristocrat in Yaramoor, can't compare myself to the daughter of a wealthy businessman from Zlokova?"

'Nollace is not what I've always wanted. It's the symbol of status and power! And Nollace just so happens to be the prince.'

Bianca did not expect such words to escape her daughter's mouth-she was surprised. "What nonsense are you talking about? Do you plan to sacrifice your happiness for such a pointless sense of achievement?"

She replied indifferently, "I'm the daughter of the Taylors. For the sake of the family, such a sacrifice is nothing."

A hint of sadness flashed across Bianca's face, and she fell silent.

After sending Daisy home and confirming that she had settled down, Nollace went into the palace to meet his father. During the meal with him, Nollace took the initiative to tell his father about Lucius.

Rick lifted his head in surprise. "What? Then what about the baby?"

"The baby is fine. Because if I don't say so, the Taylors will have a hundred excuses to set foot into the palace and demand an explanation. Mom has just succeeded as the Queen, so I can't make things harder for her."

Those people looked dissatisfied but did not utter a single word.

Yorrick then glanced at Lucius I heard that your daughter was hospitalized. Is she okay?"

As soon as Cecelia was brought up, Lucius' gaze dimmed. "Where did you hear this from?"

Yorrick gave off a faint smirk. "I'm not very sure where I saw it. It's from one of the media outlets, so it's

Not only that, Cecelia even exposed all the call recordings and text messages between her and Clover.

The netizens were taken aback by such a turnaround and were obviously irritated by Cecelia’s remarks.

#Is this b*tch very proud of her own status?#

#Are the Taylors really a thing? Aren’t they just another pack of dogs that the royal family raises as pets?
Are the dogs actually looking down on their owner now?#

Public opinion once again set off a huge wave on the Internet and pushed the topic up to the number one most discussed topic on Twitter and multiple other platforms.

At the other end of the post, Cecelia was dumbfounded when she saw such remarks on the Internet. How is this possible? I didn't even post this!"

Edison paused because he was trying to guess what was on Nollace's mind, then after a while, he finally answered. "I haven't informed anyone, but I can't be sure if nobody found out."

After ten minutes, they both waited in the hall, and the section chief walked out with the autopsy report. "You're here, Your Highness"

Nollace looked at the report "What did you find?"

He replied. "We found some amatoxin in her body. This toxin is found in poisonous mushrooms. Consuming too much of it can cause heart failure."

After that, he flipped a page. "But what we found weird is that the food in prison is strictly prepared, so it shouldn't just show up in the food. We didn't find any of the poison in her cell either."

Edison whispered to Nollace. "Someone was bribed?"

Nollace squinted but didn't reply.

The reporters left. Hedeon walked into the main hall with Nollace. "Nollace, what's going on? Madam Ames is dead?"

He didn't know anything about that.

Nollace stopped in front of the elevator and calmly nodded. "Yes."

Hedeon suddenly understood. "So, the reporters were here to frame you? Who would be dumb enough to paint themselves as a suspect?"

Nollace had—

During the time the news was blocked, the person they engaged with was let out of prison. However, they would be in trouble if this was exposed and the prison department started looking into it.

lights at Blue Valley Manor lit up.

Edison walked into the study and saw Nollace in a black silk robe standing in front of the window.

"Sir, the prison department has done a thorough inspection. Other than one person who was on sick leave, everyone who was in contact with Clover was investigated."

Nonetheless, Daisy believed that Nollace would be able to get his name cleared.

After she walked into the room, Daisy looked up at Mia and said, "You can wait outside."

Mia nodded, watched her go in, and walked around the corridor.

After 15 minutes, Daisy walked out.

Mia walked over and asked, "How did it go?"

Daisy handed her the pictures from the ultrasound.

Mia leaned closer and was shocked. "Oh wow, twins?"

Daisy shushed her. "Keep it a secret for now. Don't let anyone know that we still have the babies."

Nollace had announced that Clover and Cecelia had caused her miscarriage because he had plans. She had to play along to protect the children.

The bodyguard approached Daisy.

Mia yelled, "Help!"

The bodyguards who came with them heard Mia's voice and noticed that something was going to happen, so they rushed over. They surpassed Cecelia's guards in numbers.

Mia pointed at Cecelia. "This woman wants to beat up our ma'am. What are we going to do about that?"

Cecelia didn't realize that they had brought their bodyguards too. She clenched her jaw and arrogantly said, "So what? That's my turf. Are your men going to touch me? I'm a Taylor. You're not going to survive in Yaramoor if anything happens to me."

Daisy smirked and looked at the bodyguards. "Do it."

The bodyguards didn't care who Cecelia was and started beating her men up. All of them were professional fighters, so they were able to easily subdue the others.
