Chapter 2651

The car drove past him.

Leah apologized to Morrison in the car while he leaned into the seat and did not say anything

He did not know why he had intervened in the incident. It was maybe because he had gotten used to helping her all this while.

After a long silence, Morrison asked out of the blue, "Where are you heading abroad after this?"

She paused for a bit, then gave off a smile. "I have no idea. Perhaps Yaramoor? Or maybe Drenai?"

Morrison clicked his tongue and looked out of the car. "Then it's better for you to travel to Stoslo. If you travel there, I can introduce you to some of my local connections, helping you to settle down more easily. However, I'm only helping you because we know each other."

"Okay." Leah replied straightforwardly, "If I decide to go to Stoslo, I'll rely on your help and leave everything to you, Mr. Shaw."

A few days later...

The news of Hernandez's death was published in the news of Stoslo. The royal family, aristocrats, and political representatives attended his funeral, which caused a sensation throughout the whole country. Waylon stared at the man lying peacefully in the coffin with a depressing emotion.

Half a month later, Waylon and Cameron came back from Stoslo, and Waylon handed Hernandez's will to Maisie

Maisie took the will and was stunned for a while.

"Great grandpa asked Uncle Louis to pass this to me. Uncle Louis said that Great-grandpa hoped the de Armas would be able to continue to flourish."

Maisie stroked the will in her hands and smiled. "I see. Thank you, Waylon."

"Mom, I've discussed it with Cam. If we have a child in the future, no matter if it's a boy or a girl, we're willing to let the child take on this responsibility."

Maisie stared at Waylon and placed her hand on his shoulder. "I know that you're the eldest son of the Goldmanns, and you shoulder the responsibilities of taking over the Goldmanns, so no matter what you choose to do, I'll always support you."

Waylon smiled.

On the other side of the city...

The martial arts training center welcomed a new registration cycle with a spike in the number of freshmen, so everyone was busy with the tasks on hand.

Cameron watched as many parents brought their children in and out of the training center, and her gaze landed on the admissions poster at the entrance of the building.

One month later...

Freyja's flight arrived at Bassbrugh Airport. She walked out of the airport with her luggage and hailed a cab to drive her to the Goldmann mansion.

She had not told Coton about her return in order to give him a surprise.

When the car arrived at the gate of the Goldmann mansion, Freyja walked in with her luggage.

As soon as she entered the mansion, the first thing she heard was Charm's cries, and the nanny was coaxing her.

When the nanny saw Freyja, she was surprised. "Young Mrs. Goldmann?"

Chapter 2654

'Daisy isn't someone who cares about fame and fortune. She doesn't care how competitive the industry is and what role she gets. She'll do it as long as it's an excellent script.

'What's more, Director Winslow has already reserved a role that fits Daisy's age for her.

'Among the two roles that I have to choose, Director Winslow asked for a 20-year-old young actress for the female role.'

Charlie picked up his teacup and drank slowly. "What are Director Winslow's requirements?"

"He wants some of them to be from the local port region and some local extras. The four leading actors are still to be determined. As for the remaining two major roles, one of them is a male and the other a female, and these roles have been handed over to me. The actor must be someone under the age of 30 in order to fit the role of "Mr. Weiss", and someone in their 20s should play the female role."

Charlie rubbed his chin and gave it a good thought. "I'll look around for suitable candidates starting tomorrow. Then I'll bring you along when it's time for an audition."

Freyja chuckled. "Thank you."

When Freyja left Tenet, she received a call from Daisy.

Daisy asked immediately, "How is it? Have you returned to Zlokova?"

Hearing her answer, Freyja could not help but give off a smile.

'It seems that Uncle Coleman is carrying out his duty perfectly.'

Not long after that, Colton arrived at the Seaview Villa. When he walked into the living room, the first thing that caught his eye was a cozy scene where Deedee was playing with Charm in the living room.

At the same time, Freyja came out of the kitchen with a plate of food in her hand and lifted her head." You're back already? That was fast."

Colton laughed angrily, loosened his tie, and walked toward her. "Is this the surprise? And are you still going to take my daughter away from me?"

She picked up the fork, forked a piece of steak off the steak salad, and placed it next to his mouth. "Want some?"

He ate it. "When did you arrive here?"

She replied earnestly, "At noon, I went back to accompany my daughter first, then went to Tenet Media after putting her to sleep, and finally ran here with my daughter."

Charm started crying out of the blue.

Deedee picked her up. "Aunt Freyja, Charm seems to be hungry."

Charlie replied, "The way Donny chooses his actors is different from how other directors do it. The actors have to have similar experiences with the characters. Even if the 20-year-old girl doesn't have experience in acting, she could have natural acting skills."

Freyja was astonished to learn that.

Among the six suspects, the two with the most complicated past were the Westley siblings.

The sister of 'Mr. Westley' was someone with a unique past. The family was misogynistic. She only existed to help her brother with her umbilical cord blood.

She was forced to drop out of school at an early age and work in the markets. After meeting people from all walks of life, she had extremely low self-esteem but was also proud.

Donny asked the few people left, "Are any of you from families that care more about the men?"

The final question made a few people leave, and then there were two.

"Tell me what?"

Yvonne scoffed. "They asked for money from you to get me into the film academy, and unfortunately, I got in."

Amy immediately stood up. "What!? They sent you to the film academy? Why didn't you tell me?"

"What's the point? You obey everything that they say. You give money when they ask. Did your money fall from the sky? You're going to pay for him for the rest of your life like he's your son. I hope he will still care for you in the future."

"Evie-"

Yvonne hung up before she finished.

The next day, Yvonne got the role of the Westley sister. Donny asked her to get the script and requested her to memorize the script in two months to get into character.

Charlie picked up his phone after saying that.

James stood up. "Alright, I'll give it a try so that people don't say that Tenet has no good talent."

Charlie brought James to a restaurant with Donny. James wore glasses over as Charlie had requested.

Donny liked James' image. He fit 'Mr. Westley' to a T.

"Have you acted as the bad guy before?"

James honestly answered, "No."

Donny crossed his fingers and rested his hands on the table. "It's alright. I've watched 'The Fog', and Charlie told me that your acting was just alright. But in my movie, I'm not looking for formal acting but James paused for a few seconds. "But this character is nothing like me. You're asking me to act as a

He was delighted to know that his daughter was pregnant. He stopped playing poker, and Damian looked up at him. "Cam's pregnant? Really?"

Sunny couldn't stop smiling even when he lost money. "Yes, she went to the hospital for it. I'm finally a grandfather!"

The two friends congratulated him too. "Great, Sunny, this is great news. We're looking forward to the baby shower."

Sunny waved his hand. "Sure."

Cameron returned to Emperon and went straight to Waylon's study. He was reading a book when he saw the slip Cameron had put on the desk. "Look!"

"I heard that you're pregnant, so I got someone to go to all the major malls. I believe that you'll have a son, so I bought all these."

Cameron's lips twitched, and she placed the glass down. "You're a great student."
