Chapter 2741

Giselle looked at James. "Isn't your acting really good? Do your best to hide it then."

"That's not up to me. Look at how you're treating me. Is this something a normal couple would go through? I think you're the one who will get us caught."

Giselle paused for a moment "Alright, I'll take note."

James looked at her "Will you do whatever I tell you to?"

"Don't worry, I'll play along."

Giselle treated it as a job. She did it well and did her best.

James looked at her while deep in thought.

When it came to acting, she was more professional about it, but she wasn't into the character. She only followed the rules, but all the actresses he had worked with were better than her

Everyone online sent their well-wishes, but James’ fans were doing things differently.

Not only did they tease that their idol wasn’t the brightest tool in the shed-so having a career-driven girlfriend would be tough on him-but they also claimed he would probably be the submissive one.

A few days after the news got out, neither James nor Giselle responded and seemed to have quietly admitted to it.

Many reporters trying to ride the wave went to the Hewston Resort to try and get an interview with Giselle, but she never accepted the request of any of them.

Some unethical reporters brought up the rumor that Giselle had tried to break Colton and Freyja apart in the past. That sparked a discussion online, and someone close to the source said that Giselle had chosen Blackgold for her internship because of Colton.

Giselle snapped back and chuckled. "You think you need to teach me that?"

"No. So, shouldn't you be more self-aware if you're acting as my girlfriend?"

"What do you mean?"

"For example.." James suddenly approached, which made Giselle back away He smiled. "Help me pack my bags."

Giselle had nothing to say.

James squatted next to the luggage and continued packing. "Why are you still standing there? Shouldn't the girlfriend help?"

She was utterly speechless.

After his bags were packed, Giselle helped him with one of the bags. She handed it to the assistant when she saw that he was there. "Hold this."

When it heard his voice, Edamame jumped off the couch and walked over to him. He started rubbing its head

Giselle stretched out her hand, and Edamame started sniffing it and accepted her petting.

The moment it was touched, Edamame stuck out its tongue and closed its eyes in enjoyment.

Jefferson said, "Isn't this a good baby?"

Giselle smiled. "Yes."

James cleared his throat and called Edamame back to him, but it only turned its head to face him and didn't move

James pushed the door open. When he saw her holding the photo album in her hand, he hastily went up to stop her. "No! You can't look at that!"

Giselle narrowed her eyes when she saw how nervous he was. "What's the matter? Are there any other unseemly photos in this album?"

"It's none of your business. My father told you to sleep in my room, but that doesn't mean you can simply touch the things here!"

"Really? What are you gonna do about it if I insist on looking at it then?"

James grabbed her wrist when she tried to snatch the photo album out of his hand. "Why do you have to look at my photo album? Could it be that you have a crush on me?"

Giselle was rendered speechless.

After a short while, James released her wrist and took a step back. He held tightly to the photo album and said, "You can touch whatever you want in this room, but I won't let you lay a single finger on this photo album."

Just when he turned around, his father came into his room and said matter-of-factly, "It's just a photo album. I have a lot more of them in my room. Come with me, Giselle. I'll show them to you."

"James?" Giselle called out to James. When he did not respond, she pushed him in an attempt to wake him up but to no avail.

He was sleeping like a rock.

'Great Now I can't sleep'

That was the first thought that surfaced in her head. Since she could not wake James up, she had no other choice but to stay awake until morning

When the day broke, the light dispersed the room's darkness. James opened his eyes and was struck dumb when he saw the face in front of him.

He squinted, and his heart skipped a beat.

Slowly, ever slowly, he moved his arm away without waking up Giselle.

"Are you aware that your sleeping position is bad?"

Giselle had already woken up and was staring at him.

James sprang up. He sat at the side of the bed and placed his hand on his forehead. "You can't blame me. I. I've gotten used to sleeping alone."

When Daisy and Nollace heard that Cameron had given birth to twins, they called Waylon and congratulated them.

After they hung up the call, Waylon brought Cameron to see their sons in the nursery room.

Cameron leaned on the window and looked at the two babies. She couldn't help but laugh. "They look so small. I'm sure they'll look like you when they grow up."

If they looked like Waylon, they would be very handsome.

Waylon chuckled and wrapped his arm around her shoulder. "Do you want to go back and get some rest?"

"No. I want to look at them."

Chapter 2749

It was not that she did not want to hold her child. It was just that her father and Waylon did not let her hug them. Her father was worried that she might accidentally injure the babies.

Freyja chuckled "Well, I can understand your father But anyway, you shouldn't pick up your babies that often during the first three months. Other than feeding them milk or when they're asking for a hug, just let them stay in their crib and sleep."

Cameron blinked. "It seems like you know a lot. As expected of someone who has already become a mother"

Colton and Freyja stayed for a while before they left. Cameron squatted beside the crib and observed her two kids. She poked their cheeks with her finger gently.

"Oh my gosh, they're so soft and adorable. They're just like dolls," she thought.

"Why didn't you put on your shoes?" Waylon's voice erupted behind her.

She turned her head around and said, "I just came here to take a look at our babies."

Waylon walked over with her home slippers in his hand and put them beside her “You need to put them on. You haven’t fully recovered yet.”

Cameron put on the slippers and sighed. “Do you know how hard it is for me not to wash my head and use the air conditioner in such hot weather?”

Ursule let out a sigh of relief

Meanwhile, the police arrived at the scene as well. After they asked the people around for the whole story, they walked up to Zephir and said, “Hi, sir, can you come back with us to the police station? We need to take your statement.”

Zephir nodded.
