Chapter 2751

Zephir paused and raised his gaze "Why are you asking me this?"

Ursule scratched her cheeks. "You've been staying here in this homestay for so long, and you've gotten very familiar with all the people who work here. If you were to leave this place abruptly, I think all of them would probably feel reluctant to part with you."

Zephir smiled all of a sudden. "I'll still come back to visit you guys occasionally."

"Ah, is that so?" Ursule gave off a dry chuckle.

Zephir stared at the cat. "Then Kisses will stay here with me tonight."

Ursule nodded. "Okay, I think I should leave you to yourself for the rest of the night."

She turned around, left the scene, and walked briskly down the stairs.

However, she just so happened to run into Yale and was startled. "Mr. Quigg?"

Seeing that Kisses was not with her, Yale immediately knew what she had done and could not help but laugh out loud. "Why are you so nervous? It's only because you don't want him to leave, isn't it?"

"I'm not!"

"Whether you want to come with us now or not, that's not up to you, Nick. As long as you're still one of the descendants of the Wickams, you must come back with me!"

Arthur had made himself clear Even if he had to tie his son up and drag him back home, he would never tolerate his refusal at this moment.

Dylan and the others became anxious, fearing that those men would forcibly take Nick away

At this time, Sunny walked briskly into the training center with a cane and with Mahina's support, with one hand behind his waist. "Yo, I was wondering why the training center was so noisy and lively so early in the morning. It turns out that you've come, Mr Wickam."

Arthur looked a little upset. "Mr Southern, why are you in Bassburgh too?"

"Cam is in Bassburgh, so it's only natural for me to be here too. Today, I've decided to come and pay my apprentice a visit. I really didn't expect that I'd bump right into you."

Nick lowered his gaze. "You've always treated me with great kindness and think so highly of me. I'll definitely try my best to live up to your expectations. Otherwise, I, Nick Wickam, will die an ugly death." He took a step back and knelt on the floor. When he was about to get down to his limbs, Sunny stopped and supported him. "Get up. There's no need for you to kneel."

Nick looked up at him. "Master "

Sunny helped him up. "You should call me godfather now"

Nick smiled. "Godfather"

"Good" Sunny nodded with satisfaction and looked at him. "Mahina and I will travel back to Southeast Eurasia with you tomorrow."

"You don't have to do so. I'll go back by myself"

"No. If I don't go there with you, the Wickams' elders might even one-up you in seniority's name. You're my godson now, so I must be there to support you."

Amelia's natal family was too powerful and aggressive, preventing Arthur from holding his head high in front of others. That was why he remarried a year after Amelia's death and even endured all the scolding that the Winslets threw at him for being an ungrateful husband. That was until Cooper forced him to let Nick inherit the Wickam as a whole, and the more the Winslets persecuted him, the more unwilling he was to compromise.

"All I wanted was to prove to Cooper that even without his family's help and Nick, the Wickams would still thrive.

"But Noel has really messed up big time this time around. Why would I go to Nick if it weren't for him?"

Martha jerked his arm. "Then, did Nick agree to the plan? He's also your son, so no matter what, he won't refuse to help, right? Anyway, just get Nick to bring Noel back."

"Did he agree?" Arthur shunned her away and rebuked angrily, "If you had managed to educate Noel properly, would he have gone out there and brought home such a hot potato?"

Martha gnashed her teeth.

Cooper was not very happy about the idea.

Sunny smiled. "Who told you that we should trade Noel's leg with Nick's? Rather than letting Python break Noel's leg, why not let Nick do it himself?"

Cooper was taken aback. "Nick will do it himself?"

Sunny leaned forward and suggested earnestly, "Travis' leg is broken, but he's safe Not to mention that he will still be able to get out of bed and walk after half a year of recuperation. I heard that Python is a cruel man, but he only captured Noel to force the Wickams into compromising. So, what's in it for them if they delay their plan in making a move on Noel?"

Cooper was stunned. "Are you saying that Python has other plans?"

Sunny drank his tea from the teacup. "Python is the leader of a local mafia in Madripur. All the businesses that he's involved in are illegal and of unknown origin. Moreover, their goods usually travel by sea and will have to pass through the Wickams' territory. Besides, Travis Brown isn't in any danger.

"However, his son getting beaten up out there is equivalent to the Wickams slapping him in the face, so he's only giving the Wickams a hard time because he feels that he's been embarrassed.

At that moment, the butler suddenly rushed into the house. "Sir, someone said they saw Master Nick back in town."

Arthur got up. "Are you sure?" Is Nick back?

"Yes, he's at Winslet Manor."

Arthur angrily slammed on the table when he heard Nick had gone to Winslet Manor. "He went straight to them after returning. Doesn't he see himself as a Wickam?"

Martha was very anxious and just wanted her son to come home. "Honey, since he's back, we'll use him to trade for Noel. He's the eldest of the family, right? Noel's life is important!"

Arthur frowned and balled up his fist.

Not long after that, Nick and Mahina showed up at the garden. When Arthur saw that they were back, his face dropped. "I thought you weren't planning on coming back?"

It was like what people said, "You need to give something to gain something." That pier mainly earned money from the ships of the Dragoners docking there.

Noel had broken Python's son's leg, but the Wickams didn't do anything to show that they were sorry, so it angered Python.

They would lose their business with him, and the Dragoners would be against the Wickams from then on. Even if they didn't dock at their pier they could still find a new route. It just made the Wickams' client base smaller.

Nick turned to face Mahina. "Let's leave."

"Nick, what is the meaning of this? Are you going to help?" Martha yelled at him.

Nick didn't look back. "You'll find out." Then he walked away.

Nick nodded. "I will."

After that, the trio left the airport.

Meanwhile, at Coralia Airport...

Yale and Ursule sent Zephir to the gates. Yale handed the luggage over to him. "Come back and visit us."

Zephir took the bag, nodded, and walked into the airport.

Ursule, who was carrying Kisses, pressed her lips together and looked at the cat. "You might not get to see him anymore."

Yale turned to look at her. "Oh? Don't want him to go?"

"Kisses doesn't want him to go."

"I think it's more like you." Yale smiled and turned to walk to the car while Ursule followed. "You're still young. Finish school. Then, you can apply to go to Bassburgh."

Waylon held Cameron's hand. "We'll talk about this in the future."

Maisie looked at Daisy and Nollace. "Both your brothers already had their weddings. When is it your turn?"

Daisy replied, "Nolly says September 9th will be a good day because it won't be too cold in Yaramoor at that time. It's warmer in the day but colder at night."

Cameron was shocked. "It will still be warm here in September. It would be like summer in September in the East Islands."

Daisy smiled. "The East Islands' winter is like our summers. People who hate winter could go there."

Nicholas placed his teacup down and thought about it. "September 9th is only 13 days away. That's very soon."

Maisie smiled and nodded. "It is."

Waylon looked at Nollace. "A royal wedding would definitely be grand."

That night, at Taylorton...

Daisie was packing her bags, planning for their road trip, and figuring out what they needed.

When Nollace walked out of the shower and saw her planning so seriously, he chuckled. "We're going on a trip, not moving."

"Girls have more to bring around. Skincare, snacks, and the camera. We need the drone I brought umbrellas too."

He squinted. "Umbrellas too?"

Daisie looked up at him and said in a serious tone, "What if it rains?"

Nollace didn't know what to say.

They had two big suitcases and a small one. Daisie got up, looked at her own bags, and felt she was overdoing it. She scratched her cheek. "It feels like I'm moving."

Nollace walked over to her and pulled her into his arms. "I'm glad it's a road trip, or we might need a U-haul."

Daisie smiled and hugged him. "I'm so excited for tomorrow."
