Chapter 141

Chapter 141

They always thought that Ys was one of Selena's ex-boyfriends, but based on what the other party said on the phone just now, he and Selena are still boyfriend and girlfriend?

Otherwise, why would he use the description of "two boats with two feet".

Selena has a boyfriend, but she never mentioned it?

Thinking of this possibility, Daniel's expression suddenly turned violent.

However, he quickly calmed down, because it could not be ruled out that there was a high possibility that this was deliberately said by the other party in order to hit his rival in love.

"Daniel, my medicine is ready! Are my things here?"

"Yes." Daniel came back to his senses, and took her things in.

After Selena changed her clothes, Daniel walked in again.

After changing into her own clothes, Selena felt more at ease, and the atmosphere was not so strange, so she took off her blindfold too.

As soon as she took off the blindfold, she saw Daniel looking at her with extremely complicated eyes, and subconsciously touched her face, wondering, "What's wrong?"

Daniel sat down on the edge of the bed, "Selena, can you tell me about yourself?"

"My business? My business?"

"Anything is fine."

Selena felt that Daniel must have deliberately asked her to talk to divert her attention, so she thought for a while and said, "Then, let me tell you about my hometown!"

Although it is not the answer he expected, but the same goal will always lead to that question.

What's more, this was the only time, and it was also the first time she mentioned something related to herself in front of him.

So Daniel nodded, "Okay."

"Daniel, do you know that there is a small town called Fengzhen on the outskirts of City C? Well, you definitely don't know about that kind of small place!"

"I know, the scenery is pretty good, where was the scene of "Heroes in Troubled Times"?"

Selena was excited when she heard that, "Yes, yes! So you know it too! Heroes in Troubled Times has a scene where the hero and heroine have sex in the wheat waves, and that's where we filmed it!"

Uh, roll a woolen sheet! What kind of sex is she talking about at a time like this! She talked so much but forgot to roll the sheets, okay?

Selena hastily stopped the dangerous conversation, "Well, it's mainly because our place has not been artificially developed, so the environment is very good and the air is very good!"

"A few years ago, Saul seemed to be clamoring to go fishing there, but I was busy with work at the time, so I didn't make it." Daniel's tone was slightly regretful. If I had gone then, would I have met her earlier?

In a sense, Saul was really the red line between him and Selena.

Although he didn't go that time, he still met her later.

It was also because Saul took Rick to the bar that what happened later happened.

Well, go back and reward him well!

"Then you must go there once you have the chance, you won't be disappointed! Then I can be your tour guide!" Speaking of hometown, Selena looked excited, and then his face gradually became gloomy, "More than 20 The air was better a few years ago. At that time, many wealthy people came here for vacation, and many even came here to raise their babies, including Mrs. Ning Zhuang Lingyu 24 years ago..."

Having said this, Selena suddenly fell silent.

Daniel didn't rush, and quietly waited for her.

Selena took a deep breath, and continued to tell a story, "Mrs. Ning planned to have a baby in Chunfeng Town, and then went back to give birth, but she accidentally inflated her baby, and the baby was born early..."

Chapter 142

"Because she couldn't go back to the city in time, she was sent to the only small hospital in Chunfeng Town. That night, another pregnant woman was sent in right after her..."

"What happened next?" Daniel asked, even though he had roughly guessed what happened next.

Selena shrugged her shoulders, "It was bloody after that! That small hospital was understaffed and the system was chaotic, and the two girls were wrongly hugged, and this mistake lasted eighteen years! Did you know that Susie even had the same blood type as the I am the same, so this matter has never been discovered!"

"Then how did you find out?"

Selena turned her head and smiled at Daniel, "Well, thank you to my flirtatious second uncle!"

"Ning Yaobang?" Daniel had some impressions, but he didn't know much about him. He only knew that he was a famous playboy in the imperial capital back then.

"That's right, my second uncle is a playboy. After getting married, he still plays with women everywhere, and has killed a lot of people. He has a son and three daughters!

The Ning family didn't know if there was something wrong with Feng Shui. In this generation, Ning Yaohua and Ning Yaobang couldn't bear a son, so my second uncle's illegitimate son became the only male heir of the Ning family's generation.

My second uncle was very frightened during that time, thinking that he could inherit the family property, but who knew that the only male heir was found to be not his own at all, but he was cuckolded by a woman outside haha! And guess what? "

Daniel fell in love with the bright light in her eyes, and thought for a while, "Then your grandfather ran a DNA test on all the descendants of the Ning family, and found out that Susie is not from the Ning family either?"

The Ning family was full of black lines, "Can we still have a good chat... There is no sense of accomplishment to play tricks on you!"

Daniel chuckled, "I'm sorry, I will improve next time."

Selena snorted, and continued, "Anyway, after some investigation, I found out that Susie and I were wrongly hugged in the hospital, and then I was taken back to Ning's house!"

Hearing her say these words in such a calm tone, Daniel gently patted the top of her head, "They treated you badly?"

Selena thought it was nothing at first, but for some reason she was slapped so lightly by Daniel, she suddenly felt that she was wronged.

This person, it really is because someone feels sorry for you that you feel wronged. No one cares who you feel wronged for.

Seeing the girl's depressed state, Daniel opened his arms generously, "I can lend you my arms."

Selena was slightly startled, then turned her head, "No! You're tempting me to commit a crime, do you know that?"

Daniel didn't say anything, and continued to look at her intently, "Where are your foster parents? Are they treating you well?"

Speaking of adoptive parents, Selena lifted her spirits a bit, "My grandma is patriarchal and doesn't like me very much. When I was born, she almost threw me into the river and drowned, and she threw me once later, but it was all because of me. Dad picked it up, and my mother... is also very kind to me, and I have a very sensible and obedient brother!"

Hearing that she was almost drowned and thrown away, Daniel's heart tightened for a moment, and when she mentioned her mother, her expression seemed a little off, but he didn't ask any further questions.

"I like my original family very much. When they told me that they were not their own, I felt that the sky was about to collapse. But with the power of the Ning family, I had no choice at all. If I resisted desperately at that time, it might be the same. There is a glimmer of hope not to go, but..."

Chapter 143

Selena sighed, "But at that time I fell in love with a man, and I needed an identity that could match him."

Daniel's eyes moved slightly, "Is it Roman?"

Selena nodded, then said with a smile, "Is it strange how I knew such a young master as Roman with my status at that time?"

In order not to be guessed by Daniel again, Selena stopped being tricky and asked herself directly, "Because Roman's lungs were not good when he was a child, he came to us to recuperate and lived next door to my house, and he lived there for seven years.

When we met for the first time, I happened to pass by and ran into him, so I helped him carry him all the way home.

Later, I gradually got to know each other, met each other, knew each other and loved each other, childhood sweethearts, childhood sweethearts, what a beautiful vocabulary! Oh, but in the end the reality told me that this is not the story of Cinderella and the prince, but the story of Mr. Dong Guo and the wolf!

"Don't be sad, he is not good enough for you." Daniel comforted.

Unexpectedly, she chatted with Daniel about her ex-boyfriend unknowingly. Selena scratched her head and said embarrassedly, "Let's talk about the Ning family... because Ning Yaohua and Zhuang Lingyu couldn't bear to raise him for eighteen years. Susie, so after returning to me, she didn't return Susie to the Tang family. Susie is still the jewel in the palm of the Ning family.

You should be able to imagine what happened next. The gap of eighteen years cannot be made up overnight. In front of Susie, who has been educated by elites from wealthy families for eighteen years, I am just a country girl.

Back then, I was so simple and stupid that I even regarded her as a friend at the beginning, but she used my trust to trick me into using lemonade for washing hands as a drink, and gave me a cheap dress to wear at the banquet. I squeezed out of the Ning family and out of the social circle...

People in those circles have already gotten to know Susie well, they belong to the same country as her, they treat me as a friend on the surface, but they laugh at me as a country bumpkin in private, and even my biological parents hate my existence, thinking that I am a Their stains... and then Roman..."

After Roman, the girl's most important reputation, innocence and dignity, was trampled and destroyed.

Selena hugged her knees slowly, "Today on the set, there was a problem with the props, and my sword accidentally hurt Susie. In the hospital, my mother, my biological mother, beat me without asking a word. I slap me, and my biological father only has endless accusations and threats against me..."

Selena stared blankly at the dark night outside the window, her voice was a little ethereal, "I didn't know why, but the nerves in my mind that had been tense for five years suddenly broke down, and I suddenly felt that nothing was interesting, that I was living a good life I failed, is it because I am too bad that everyone hates me? Is there any point in my hard work for so long..."

As soon as he finished speaking, Daniel suddenly pulled her shoulders forcefully, "Selena, look at me. Not everyone hates you, it's them who are the worst. Do you understand?"

Selena's eyes were slightly red.

Even if she always acted heartless and didn't care about anything, she was only a young girl in her twenties after all.

Daniel hugged her into his arms and gently kissed the top of her hair...

Selena only felt a slight weight on the top of her head, but she didn't know what it was.

Daniel stared at her very seriously, "Selena, if you doubt yourself, then try to trust me. You are fine."

There is no one better than you in this world.

Selena laughed through tears, "Of course I believe what Lu **oss says!"

Daniel heaved a sigh of relief, the disillusionment in her eyes at that moment just now made him extremely panicked.

After a moment of silence, Daniel took the initiative to ask, "Selena, can I ask you a question?"

Chapter 144

"What?" Selena tilted her head.

Is it because you like someone, so no matter what she does, you will find her cute? Daniel couldn't help rubbing her crooked little head again, "Do you like diamonds?"

"Huh?" Selena didn't expect him to suddenly ask such a strange question, "Why do you ask this?"

"Today is your birthday. Rick prepared a birthday present for you. It seems to be a diamond. I'm worried that you don't like it. I'll ask him." Daniel said with a normal expression.

"So it's like this..." Selena scratched her head and said, "Well, there shouldn't be any woman who doesn't like diamonds, right? It's just my birthday. It's not good for a child like him to give me such an expensive thing. I don't want it anymore. It would be great to make some handmade products!"

Daniel said casually, "It's not a valuable thing. The one you received on the set that day is a treasure. I'm afraid that after seeing that one, you won't like the others."

When Selena heard this, she immediately raised her forehead, "You know it too! Sure enough, gossip spreads far and wide...Don't compare yourself to that weird guy, he's crazy!"

"Is that man your boyfriend?" Daniel asked.

Selena almost choked on her own saliva, "Pfft... how is that possible! Why do you have such terrible associations?"

"Because your attitude is very intimate." Daniel said, his tone slightly sad.

Selena had a headache and said, "Oh my god! How could I be intimate? Calling crazy to show intimacy?"

Daniel nodded, "For me, yes, you are always very polite to me, and you never said a single harsh word to me."

Selena didn't know what to say. Could it be that the Great Demon King Lu is a hidden jerk? Actually like people's attitude towards him?

"Anyway, that guy has nothing to do with me now! He... is crazy, he just likes to throw diamonds at people! I will definitely throw them back when I see him someday!" Selena said in a relaxed tone, but mentioned There was a hint of apprehension hidden in the man's eyes.

"Not now, so it was in the past?" Daniel grasped the point with precision.

Selena coughed softly, "Well... Maybe it could be counted as dating... If it counts as one day..."

Selena was inexplicably concerned about what Daniel thought of her, she scratched her hair and said, "Daniel, do you think it's not good for me to have dated so many men?"

Daniel looked solemn, as if he was answering some very important question seriously: "No, everyone has their own way of life and their own unknown stories, anyone who doesn't know the truth has no reason to stand on the moral high ground Sanctioning and blaming others."

Selena's heart suddenly warmed, and she chuckled, "Daniel, why do I feel like you're my fanboy? No matter what I say or do, you think I'm right?"

"Idiot fan?" Daniel didn't quite understand what this word meant.

"That's right, the kind of irrational fans who support idols regardless of right or wrong!" Selena explained.

Daniel thought for a moment, then pondered, "Yes, that's very appropriate."

Selena: "..."

Selena remained silent as if deliberately suppressing some emotion, and after a while, she let out a long sigh, "Daniel...do you know..."

"how?"

“Do you know that you are scarier than aphrodisiacs!” Selena struggled, then tugged at her collar in pain.

Chapter 145

What the hell, I lost my focus after talking for so long!

Why does this guy flirt with girls when he doesn't agree with each other?

The most frightening thing is that he still looks innocent and completely unaware of this!

The so-called no tricks to win, there are tricks, no flirts and even flirts, this is the highest state of flirting... Bah, bah, bah...

Her brain is already confused and she doesn't know what she is thinking...

“Uncomfortable again?” Daniel immediately became nervous when he saw this.

Selena rubbed her twitching temples. It wasn't just a simple pain. The frenzy that happened again was even more terrifying than the first one. At this moment, in her eyes, Daniel was just like the heroine in a girl anime, with a provocative background Music, comes with romantic pink cherry blossom special effects...

There was a fierce conflict between her inner sanity and the bewitching pink light he brought, and she felt like she was about to go mad.

Seeing that Selena suddenly became short of breath and sweating profusely in just a few seconds, Daniel's face suddenly changed, “What's wrong with you? Didn't you get better just now? Is... what kind of pain... that kind of pain?” ... or something else?”

Daniel was a little embarrassed as he spoke, because he remembered what she said just now, she said that he was scarier than aphrodisiacs.

It was probably the biggest compliment he'd ever heard.

Selena's eyes glowed red, and she stared straight at him without blinking.

When Daniel was stared at like that, he felt as if his body was also on fire.

Selena shook her head vigorously, then threw herself on the big bed behind her, and looked helplessly at the ceiling above her head, "Hey, I feel like I have a lot to suffer tonight... Daniel, if I can't help it later, Remember to knock me out!"

Daniel pondered, "Actually, I can..."

Selena immediately interrupted him, "Stop, stop, don't talk! Please, Mr. Boss, please forgive me. I really can't stand your teasing now!"

Daniel raised his brows slightly, "What are you thinking? I mean, I can go out."

"Uh... oh..." Selena rubbed her nose in embarrassment, and faltered, "But if I'm alone... I'll... be bored!"

She was embarrassed to say the word "scared".

Daniel understood her anxiety, and asked softly, "Why don't we go home?"

go home...

Selena was startled. The moment she heard these two words, she thought of Lu Zhai so naturally.

"Forget it, I'm like this now..." She didn't want to bring such filth there.

Selena caught a glimpse of Daniel's documents and laptop beside the bed, "You go about your business! I'll stop my internal energy from scurrying after I adjust my breath and meditate..."

Daniel smiled lightly, "Okay."

In the quiet room, the regular sound of fingers tapping on the keyboard sounded like the most gentle soothing song in the world.

The girl had a peaceful expression, and slowly closed her eyes...

Feeling the steady and long breathing beside him, Daniel stopped his hands and carefully covered her with the quilt.

The girl smacked her mouth, grabbed his fingers subconsciously, and muttered, "Daniel..."

Daniel's body trembled, and his expression became extremely moved.

She called him by his first name.

"Well, don't be afraid, I'm here." Daniel leaned down and gently kissed the corner of the girl's lips with his brows.

It's just the gentle color between the brows, mixed with scattered clouds...
