

Cruel Heart Lover Novel

Chapter 236

One morning, when Selena went downstairs, she saw a scene she hadn't seen for a long time.

The little bun and the big bun sat opposite each other at the dining table, with an iceberg face and a small iceberg face, and the atmosphere was tense.

what's the situation?

The father and son hadn't quarreled for a long time.

"What's wrong with you two?" Selena asked suspiciously.

After hearing Selena's voice, Rick immediately hugged her leg like a savior, then stared at Daniel vigilantly, with an expression as if Daniel was going to sell him...

Selena hugged Rick to comfort her, then looked at Daniel, "Daniel, what's going on?"

Daniel raised his eyes and said, "I'm going to send him to live with my parents for a few days. The old man hasn't seen him for a long time, and I miss him very much."

"So that's the case!" Selena nodded knowingly.

The little bun became anxious when he saw it, and soon a layer of mist appeared in his big watery eyes.

So Selena's heart softened immediately, she scratched her head and looked at Daniel, "Is there no other way?"

Daniel glanced at her, "Yes, let my parents come and stay for a few days."

"Uh, let's send Rick there!" Selena said decisively.

I'm sorry, little bun, Auntie has no other choice...

Rick was shocked immediately, and ran upstairs to hide in the room with a little expression that his father didn't love his mother...

"Uh..." Selena laughed dryly, "Well, I'll go persuade him!"

“Ok.”

Upstairs, Selena knocked on Rick’s door.

“Baby, can you open the door for Auntie?”

There was no response from the room.

“Are you really ignoring me?”

There was still no response from the room.

It seems really angry!

Selena sighed, she had no choice but to go downstairs again, and then walked out the door.

Seeing this, Daniel said without raising his head, “Don’t climb with bare hands, let the butler prepare a ladder for you.”

Selena staggered and almost fell when she heard this, is this guy a roundworm in her stomach? How do you know that she is going to climb the wall and go through the window?

Dmn...

Over the past few days, she found that Daniel understood her more and more. Oftentimes, he would know what she wanted to do with a look or a small movement.

Five minutes later, Selena climbed the ladder and successfully entered Rick’s room.

As soon as the little guy saw her, he rushed over tearfully, not to mention how wronged he was...

There was no response outside the room just now, he thought Selena really didn’t want him anymore.

Selena hugged Rick distressedly, “Baby, Auntie is always on your side, but this time, Auntie really thinks you should go, think about it, your grandparents are just you, your precious grandson, I like you so much, but I dare not come to see you just to accommodate you...”

Rick drooped his head, picked up the clipboard after a long while and wrote two words: together.

It meant that he wanted Selena to go with him.

Selena coughed lightly in embarrassment, "This can't be done..."

How could she go to Daniel's parents at this time!

"Because Auntie is about to start work, I'm afraid I don't have time!" Selena found a good excuse, and then hurriedly coaxed, "But Auntie can take you there with your father! Be good! Rick is only five years old I am now a little man, and I have improved so much during this period of time, I am getting better and better, I am sure I can do this little thing, right?"

Selena hugged the little bun and talked softly for half an hour. Finally, the little guy let go.

Chapter 237

The Lu family's old house is on the hillside, covering a large forest. It takes more than 20 minutes to drive from the gate to the house. There are lush trees on both sides, and the scenery is very good.

It is said that this is where the dragon's veins are located, the geomantic treasure of the imperial capital.

Thanks to Rick, she has learned a lot!

Through the car window, Selena saw that the two elders of the Lu family had been waiting at the door early, looking eager to see through, just like the old people who dote on their grandchildren.

Selena patted the little bun in her arms, "Go! Don't forget what Auntie told you, come on!"

Seeing the encouragement and anticipation in Selena's eyes, Rick nodded firmly, and was led by Daniel to get out of the car.

After seeing the precious grandson, the two elders were all full of surprises, and hurried to greet him.

Mrs. Lu was so excited that her eyes were wet, and she looked at her eldest son complainingly, "Boy, for you, we have endured without seeing Rick for several months! In the end, you still failed to deal with my daughter-in-law!"

Daniel coughed lightly, indicating that there was someone in the car behind them. At this distance, Selena could still hear it...

In fact, Selena did hear it.

Relying on the fact that the people outside the glass of the car could not see the people inside, Selena put her ear to the car window to eavesdrop on what they were saying, and then she happened to hear Madam Lu's words...

Mrs. Lu became excited, "Oh! My daughter-in-law is here too? Let her get out of the car and let us meet!"

"Mom..." Daniel looked helpless, "She's shy, don't scare her."

Selena nodded again and again, yes yes yes, I'm shy, please don't call me out!

Fortunately, at this time, Mr. Lu's words diverted everyone's attention.

"What is Rick writing about?" Mr. Lu asked suspiciously.

Mrs. Lu was told this by her wife, and she also found that Rick was writing with his head buried in his head.

After a while, Rick raised the writing board, and looked at grandpa and grandma with big eyes like black pearls.

I saw writing on the clipboard...

Grandpa, grandma, Rick misses you very much!

After seeing the writing on the writing board, Mrs. Lu and Mrs. Lu looked at each other in shock, and then both of them blushed.

Mrs. Lu looked at her husband incredulously, "I... Am I wrong? Rick called me grandma!"

Although it is not a real "calling", this is the first time Rick calls her grandma!

In the past, I just ignored them or even rejected them...

"It's also called Grandpa!" Old Master Lu added solemnly and proudly.

"She said she misses us very much..." Mrs. Lu couldn't bear it anymore, she hugged Rick and cried, "Grandma's sweetheart! Do you know how happy grandma is?"

Old Master Lu sighed, then looked at his elder son with a serious expression, "Daniel, the one you like is very good. She taught Rick very well."

He only knew that Rick had become more cheerful and was willing to go out, but he never expected that Rick's progress would be so great!

What a surprise!

"Isn't it? And the feeding is good, look at my grandson is fat now! He's even fatter than he saw in the photo last time!" Mrs. Lu was full of joy.

"Well, she's fine." Daniel looked at the direction of the car behind him, his gaze was extremely gentle.

Mr. Lu patted him on the shoulder, and said earnestly: "Boy, come on, the best will naturally take more effort, and we will unconditionally support and cooperate with you!"

Chapter 238

As of Mr. Lu and Mrs. Lu, Daniel had already completed the brilliant achievement of "all members of the Lu family are assisting".

In the car, seeing Daniel walking towards the car after saying goodbye to his parents, Rick, Selena hurriedly sat down straight and pretended not to hear anything.

On the way back, Daniel suddenly asked, "What are you going to do today?"

"Today?" Selena was dumbfounded when she heard this question.

By the way, she doesn't have to accompany Rick today, and today is Saturday, so Daniel doesn't have to go to work...

Wouldn't that mean spending the whole day with him, alone, alone... at home?

Selena was stunned when she found out that she had fallen into the pit.

This is the rhythm of falling into a pit step by step if you are not careful...

At this time, her cell phone rang.

Selena picked up the phone and glanced at it, then narrowed her eyes slightly.

Janice?

What is she calling for?

Selena picked up the phone, with a surprised tone, "Yo, the manager of Chang Da has so many things to do every day, but he has time to find me in person?"

Janice heard the words "every day manages a thousand things", and almost bit her gums with hatred.

In the past, Susie was in full swing, so she was naturally busy every day, but since this incident, the number of Susie's endorsement movies and TV shows has plummeted. Not only that, many of the previously signed endorsement companies have demanded compensation, Empire also asked Susie to keep a low profile for a while and wait for this matter to pass.

Except for Susie, none of her subordinates are angry, which means that she will be drinking Northwest Wind for the next half a year!

Janice said unhappily, "I'm here to inform you to move out immediately! They have broken their promises and terminated the contract with the company, do they still want to occupy the company's house? Even if the lot is rented out for a month, it will cost more than a thousand!"

Heh, in a place like the imperial capital, a monthly rent of more than 1,000 is worth showing off?

Selena didn't have time to chat nonsense with her, so she said casually, "I see, I'll hang up if there's nothing else to do..."

Before she could hang up the phone, Janice began to accuse aggressively, "Selena, ask yourself, isn't the company treating you well enough? Which company now provides accommodation for unknown newcomers? How many young artists can't pick up for several months?" When it comes to work, you have always had work anyway!

The company was going to give you a big boost! Even if something like that happened to you, the company didn't give up on you! It's good for you... Forgot your roots, climbed up to a high branch, and stepped on the company instead! "

Selena gave a "tsk", "Manager Chang's ability to turn black and white is getting better and better! It's so reasonable, why don't you go online to reason?"

Janice was choked immediately. She did say these things on the Internet before, but in the end she was scolded bloody by netizens...

Janice snorted unwillingly, and said with a sneer, "Shengshi Entertainment is full of big names, and the competition is fiercer than that of Empire. Do you think you will have a bright future when you change jobs? It's ridiculous, but it was used by Shengshi to beat Empire. It's just a pawn! Do you really think Shengshi valued you so much? Then don't come crying and begging me!"

After saying “snap”, I hung up the phone heavily.

Selena shrugged and glanced at Daniel next to her, “Now I have something to do today!”

“what?”

“Just now Janice called and said that the house that Empire arranged for me will be taken back, and my things are still there! So, I have to move!”

Chapter 239

“Well, let’s go.” Daniel nodded, and then drove towards her apartment.

Selena thought she had dodged a catastrophe, but when she saw this, she became anxious, “I’ll just go by myself. I have a lot of things. I’ll contact the moving company to get a truck to move them later!”

Selena thought to herself that although your car is quite spacious, how can it hold so many things, how can you treat yourself like a jingle cat?

But Daniel looked determined, and she couldn’t refute, so she could only let him drive all the way to the downstairs of the apartment.

Forget it, moving together is a safer result, at least it must have nothing to do with the ambiguous atmosphere.

When they arrived at the apartment, Selena pushed open the door. The room was already covered in a layer of dust because no one lived in it for a long time. The window was blown open by the wind at some point, and leaves fell all over the ground...

A gust of cool autumn wind blew through the window. Daniel’s slender figure stood in the entrance, his usually cold gaze slowly swept every corner of the room with some warmth.

“What’s wrong?” Selena looked at him puzzled.

Although it was a small broken house arranged by Empire for her, it had precious memories belonging to them.

Well, let's get someone to buy the house directly later...

"Is there anything I can do?" Daniel asked.

Selena scratched her head, found a big empty box, then pointed to a row of tall bookshelves and said, "You are tall, can you help me put the books on the shelves in?"

"Okay." Daniel rolled up his sleeves and was about to start.

Selena looked at his outfit that was more expensive than this apartment, stroked his forehead painfully, and said hastily, "Wait... just wait for me!"

After finishing speaking, I found a white coat like a doctor's from somewhere, and stood in front of him, "Take off the coat, and put on this, to prevent dust."

Daniel took off his coat as he said, and looked at the white coat with some surprise, "Where did it come from?"

"Theatrical costumes, there was a crew that was so poor that they couldn't afford clothes for the extras, so I bought one myself!" Selena put it on for him after speaking, "Fortunately, the clothes are looser!"

After finishing speaking, he watched Daniel froze, and swallowed involuntarily, with an unconcealable surprise on his face...

Daniel felt really good in a white coat!

This is simply the temptation of a uniform!

Dmn, it's not safe to even move house!

"What's wrong?"

Selena shook her head violently and came back to her senses, "It's okay... let's start! I'm going to tidy up my clothes!"

"En." Daniel nodded, looked at the girl's fleeing back with a clear expression, and began to tidy up the books on the shelf.

Daniel seemed to be doing things slowly, but in fact he was very fast and efficient, and he was about to clear up the area in a short while.

While continuing to move, a photo accidentally fell out of a collection of Shakespeare...

Daniel picked it up casually.

I saw a group of young people in the photo, all dressed in punk and heavy metal, Selena was in the middle, with extremely short hair, wearing a black biker suit, with a wanton smile on her face, looking like Like a handsome boy.

She rested her arm casually on a man's shoulder, and she was talking to him with her head turned. Her posture looked very intimate, and she should be a very familiar person.

As for the man, because he was turning his head to light the lighter and the light was dim, he couldn't see his face clearly, only a blurred side face...

Chapter 240

His intuition told him... This person is the ys that Selena said clearly knew that he was dangerous, but still believed that he would never hurt her...

Daniel stared at the man's profile for a long time with ecstasy. A thought flashed through his mind, but the thought flashed so fast that he missed it.

Why did he feel that this person gave him a feeling... somewhat familiar?

Could it be someone he knows...

"Daniel, my side is almost over! Are you alright?" Selena turned her head and asked while dragging a large suitcase.

"Well, it's done." Daniel put the photo back calmly.

Ten minutes later, Selena stood downstairs with big bags and small bags.

Then, he finally understood why Daniel was so sure that he could pretend.

A stretched Lincoln is quietly parked there...

hehe...

This inhumane world...

Selena quickly lowered the brim of her hat, carefully put everything in as fast as she could, and then hurriedly urged the driver to drive.

Because the incident happened so suddenly, she didn't have time to change clothes. If this was photographed, it would definitely be big news!

Sister Zhizhi explained that she had to keep a low profile during this period, because she had already made enough publicity, and if she continued, it would be too much, and it would easily arouse public resentment.

Daniel seemed to see her worry, and said, "Don't worry, the reporter knows the license plate number."

The implication is that you absolutely dare not mess with the owner of this car.

"Uh... well..." She was too worried. The Great Demon King always does things so seamlessly.

On the way to the new apartment, Daniel suddenly called out to her, "Selena."

Selena, who was thinking about something absent-mindedly, suddenly raised her head, "Ah? What's wrong?"

Daniel propped his forehead and looked at her with deep eyes, "I seem to remember that you said that if I want to chase someone, you can teach me."

Selena's head buzzed, she cursed Dmn it, and then said with a dry smile, "I...have I said that? No! Hehehe..."

"I said it. I also said Baojiabaohui. On the day we went to your apartment to get the seasoning, you took two couriers by the way. One of them was a birthday present from your ex-boyfriend. You said that the way he coaxed the girl was too It's clumsy, tell me not to learn it." Daniel reminded her by telling her all the details accurately.

Hearing this, Selena wished she could slap herself, to make you talk faster! Let you talk nonsense! Dig your own grave!

"Then...then you have a girl you want to chase now?" Selena could only bite the bullet and ask.

"En." Daniel nodded, staring at her as if looking at the whole world, "So, teach me."

What the hell! She taught a fart!

As long as you look at any girl with such eyes, they will all yell at themselves and pounce on them! What are you chasing?

There is no way, what I said, I have to go back when I cry...

Selena could only cough lightly, and taught with an expression that she didn't know anything: "Isn't there a saying that is very popular on the Internet, if she is not deeply involved in the world, take her to see all the prosperity of the world; , just take her on the merry-go-round. The general idea is that you must prescribe the right medicine! I don't know what type of girl you like?"

"She..." Daniel paused for a moment, as if he was thinking. After a long while, the eyes that were filled with cold mist were like melting ice and snow, and there was a trace of tenderness at the corners of his mouth, "She knows the world but not the world. She is unruly but kind and gentle. She has experienced I have lived a lot, but I have always maintained a pure heart... She is the best girl I have ever seen!"
