

Cruel Heart Lover Novel

Chapter 246

Selena closed her eyes, her eyelashes trembling slightly, and her voice was a little hoarse, "Daniel, why didn't you listen to the teacher?"

Obviously not long ago, she taught him to maintain the status quo and not to act rashly, but he turned his head and proposed directly, it was like a sinkhole...

"The teacher leads the door in, the cultivation is up to the individual." Daniel's tone was actually very reasonable.

"The teacher never taught you to be a hooligan!"

"However, this is the only way to let you know that the person I like is you, Teacher."

"Then you are committing the following crime!"

"That must be because the teacher is so cute..." Daniel pressed his forehead against hers, picked up her slender fingers and covered his heart with his big palm, his cold eyes were as hot as volcanic magma at the moment, and his tone seemed to be slapping her. The deceptive spell, "Teacher, stay with me, everything about me is yours..."

"Stop talking!!!" Selena's brain was in a mess, especially when he called himself teacher, he felt a strange sense of shame...

She tried to cover her ears, but it was still a step too late.

Daniel went on to say – "Rick is yours too."

Selena's pupils shrank suddenly: "...!!!"

Daniel watched her reaction calmly, seeing her eyes wide open and staring at him, the corners of her mouth slightly curled up, and her palms gently pinched the sensitive tender flesh on the back of her neck like teasing a cat, "Now What percentage is it? Huh?"

Selena covered her face and subconsciously replied, "Half and half..."

As soon as he finished speaking, he wished he could bite off his tongue, "Dmn! Daniel, you are too shameless to even take advantage of Rick!"

"Little Treasure is my natural advantage, how can I use it?"

"Then what do you say about using beauty tricks on me!!!" Selena was filled with righteous indignation, and wanted to get rid of the current position that was completely under his control, but Daniel obviously didn't use any force to hurt her, but no matter how hard she tried to break free, she would break free not drop.

"I used it?" Daniel said innocently.

"It's useless for you to do it, I'm a Slut, have you seen it! Uh... Lu... Daniel..." Selena was furious, but suddenly felt something was wrong in the middle of speaking.

"Ok?"

Selena covered her stomach with a pale face, "I...my stomach hurts..."

"What? Where does it hurt?" Daniel's expression immediately became serious.

"Stomach! No more! It's getting more and more painful..." Selena's forehead was dripping with sweat.

"What the hell is going on? Why do you have a stomachache when you are so good? Is there something wrong with the food?"

Selena coughed softly, "Well, it shouldn't be... I think... maybe I'm full... When I drank a big glass of orange juice just now, I felt something was wrong in my stomach..."

It was only now that Daniel realized that she could eat all the dishes on the table by herself, not to mention that she drank such a large glass of fruit juice, and said angrily on the spot, "Selena! Are you an idiot? You eat so much Don't you know how to support yourself?"

Selena was even angrier than him: "It's not because of you! I was so scared that you kept eating! You drank all the wine by yourself and didn't leave me a drop! I can only drink orange juice! ! You still scold me!"

After speaking, he covered his stomach and howled "Ouch" even more miserably.

Daniel lost all anger immediately, and hurriedly comforted her, "My fault...I'll take you to the hospital right away!"

Chapter 247

Selena was troubled when she heard this, "Ah? It's better not to, it's so embarrassing to go to the hospital in the middle of the night because of eating too much!"

"Face or body is more important?" Daniel took her wallet and phone without saying a word, and quickly picked her up by the waist.

Selena immediately waved her hands, "Ouch... Daniel... No... Change your posture... You should help me walk slowly... This posture is even more uncomfortable..."

"You..." Daniel was angry and distressed, so he could only let her down, and carefully supported her to walk outside.

When she arrived at the emergency room of the hospital, Selena's clothes and hair were soaked with sweat.

In addition, Selena kept clutching her stomach, and Daniel had another expression that the sky was about to collapse. A nurse immediately came up to support Selena, "Is it going to give birth? Hurry up! Get on the cart!"

Selena lifted the mask up to avoid being recognized by others, and then explained with black lines all over her face, "No... no sister nurse! I'm full!"

The nurse was speechless for a second. She lowered her head and looked at her stomach, only to realize that it was only slightly convex. It really didn't look like a pregnant woman. "If you have a stomach problem, please go left!"

"thanks!"

In the middle of the night, after a lot of trouble, Selena's diagnosis finally came out.

Acute gastritis caused by a large amount of overeating and stress in a short period of time...

Daniel touched the girl's pale cheek on the hospital bed, his face was full of distress, "Does it still hurt?"

Selena nodded bitterly, "It hurts, but it's better than before... Well, Daniel, there's one more thing..."

"What's the matter? Tell me."

Selena hesitated for a moment, and said awkwardly, "It seems that a part of my gum was scratched by a ring. I didn't feel it just now, but now it hurts..."

Daniel stroked her forehead and rubbed her hair dumbfounded, "Wait, I'll go buy medicine for you."

"Ok."

After Daniel left, Selena let out a long breath, then touched her round belly...

I didn't expect my stomach to be so upbeat at the critical moment!

It's just... the feeling of being full is really uncomfortable! I never want to experience it a second time in my life!

Some time ago, she was too busy to eat on time for a long time, and as a result, she had a sudden acute gastritis in the middle of the night...

The difference is that that time, when she couldn't get a taxi at night, she rode a motorcycle all the way to the hospital, registered by herself, took medicine by herself, and sat on a cold bench in the corridor to get an IV drip...

Daniel came back soon.

He took the medicine and sat down on the edge of the bed, then opened the medicine bottle, and said seriously, "This medicine is for external application, open your mouth, and I will stick it on the wound for you."

Selena opened her mouth obediently, touched her tongue accidentally, then frowned, "Bitter..."

"Hold it for a while, don't touch it."

"Oh."

After putting the medicine on her, Daniel looked at her tenderly, and whispered softly, "Teacher..."

Selena was stunned for a moment, before realizing that he was calling herself, "Huh?"

"I'm sorry..." Daniel sighed remorsefully, then picked up her hand, and pressed a kiss on the back of her hand, "It's all because the students are not good at learning that they hurt you."

Selena's heart skipped a beat...

Oops... sixty percent... sixty-one... sixty-two... sixty-three... continuing to grow...

Where are you not good at learning!

Obviously a top student!

Chapter 248

Selena shook her head, quickly ended the dangerous and ambiguous topic of "teacher" and "student", then switched to the state of a small employee, raised her hand and said with a serious look...

"Boss, I'm requesting a period of uninterrupted consideration!"

After thinking for a while, Daniel readily agreed, "I can approve it. How long will it take?"

Selena pointed her fingers and asked weakly, "Well, can the unit be years?"

"I'll give you seven days." Daniel ignored her unreasonable request and directly made a decision.

"Okay... seven days is seven days! Then when I leave the hospital tomorrow, can I live in the apartment temporarily? You just promised no interference! It just so happens that Rick is not at home recently, and I will go to the company the day after tomorrow. It's closer to the apartment!" Selena tried hard to explain the justification.

"Yes." Daniel nodded without hesitation.

Ah, so easy to talk? She didn't cheat on her suddenly, and she was a little unaccustomed to it.

Selena narrowed her eyes slightly, showing a little fox-like expression. She seemed to have found the most effective way to deal with the big devil! Bitter tricks?

Is it because the doctor told her not to stress too much?

Hey, it's also because I care too much, that's why bitter tricks are so effective...

Thinking of this, the value in my heart suddenly rose to 80%!

the next day.

Fortunately, Selena's condition was not serious and she was discharged from the hospital in the morning.

Daniel sent her to the apartment as agreed. On the way, he went to the supermarket to fill up the refrigerator for her, and ordered takeaway for her three meals a day. He repeatedly reminded her of the recent dietary precautions several times. .

Selena was sitting on the sofa, seeing Daniel was busy checking the refrigerator and still standing there wondering if there was anything missing, she couldn't help coughing lightly and said, "Daniel, you don't need to be busy, I can take care of myself. "

Daniel turned around and walked up to her, "Then I'm leaving."

As she spoke, her face was still full of worry, as if she was a three-year-old who had no ability to take care of herself.

Selena tried hard to stabilize the value in her heart: "Yes."

"Is your body really alright?"

"It's gone, my stomach doesn't hurt at all! My body recovers very quickly!"

"Well, that's good." Daniel's eyes darkened, and he nodded in satisfaction.

Selena: There was nothing wrong with that, but why did she feel that she was being molested?

While he was in a daze, Daniel suddenly leaned towards her, but before he got close, he straightened up halfway and backed away, then reached out and rubbed the top of her head, "I won't disturb you."

Selena: "..."

you! already! through! Dry! disturb! up!

She finally understands that even if this guy doesn't do anything, his mere existence is a kind of disturbance.

It wasn't until after Daniel was sent away that Selena finally relaxed completely. She lay on the sofa with a pillow in her arms and was in a daze, recalling everything that had happened these days...

I finally reached this point. Although I had a premonition and prepared for it, my mind was still blank at this time, and I was completely confused.

For this performance, she gave herself 0 points!

In fact, her plan at the beginning was to deliberately say some decisive words to make Daniel give up, but facing that face, she couldn't say a single word. Instead, her firm heart became more and more shaken. Slowly thinking about changing...

No wonder there were so many foolish kings in ancient times!

Beauty misleads people!

Chapter 249

The next morning, Ling Zhizhi's office in Shengshi Entertainment.

"Sister Zhizhi, I'm not late, am I?" Selena rested in the apartment all day yesterday, and her body has almost recovered, but her face is still a little haggard, so she wore a set of bold and fashionable contrasting colors today. Wear a dress with a big swing to brighten your complexion and look youthful and energetic.

In front of the desk, Lin Zhizhi was meticulously combing her hair as usual, wearing a cool-colored suit with a one-step skirt, and was processing some documents. When she saw Selena coming, she first took a look at her, then raised her head and said, "Don't be nervous, I have nothing important to ask you to come here today, I just want to show you around the company before starting tomorrow, although you usually don't spend much time in the company, but you still need to understand the basic departmental structure of the company."

"Okay, thank you, Miss Zhizhi!"

"Let's go."

Selena nodded and followed. Under Ling Zhizhi's leadership, she learned about the various departments of the company and met new colleagues.

No matter what they thought in their hearts, everyone was polite to her on the surface.

Even if everyone knew that the company's troubles were a game between Shengshi and Empire, and that Selena was just the company's way of attacking Empire, it was an indisputable fact that the company was going to praise Selena. People would look for bad luck when Selena was in the limelight.

"Tsk, this real Selena looks better than the one in the photo, no wonder Er Shao caught her at first glance!"

"I have a hunch, as long as her EQ is not too low, she will definitely become a big hit in the future!"

"That's not necessarily the case! Leng Manyun finally got away. Do you think anyone can tolerate her anger? Besides, can she and Ling Zhizhi get along well? Isn't Ling Zhizhi the most hated female artist who shows off her beauty and gets high? ?"

The company is quite big, and Selena followed Lin Zhizhi for more than an hour to visit everything.

When they were about to continue to visit some filming locations and recording studios of the company behind, the two accidentally bumped into someone in the corridor.

"Yo! Isn't this our manager Lin? You've finally come out? I thought you were going to retire after a setback!" The woman who spoke was in her thirties, dressed in sexy fashion, with big waves, drawing With exquisite makeup, it is even more glamorous than the stars.

Because she often appeared in newspapers and magazines, and she had seen her from a distance several times when she was filming, Selena immediately recognized her as Su Yimo's manager, Zhao Meixin.

Facing Zhao Meixin's obviously provocative words, Lin Zhizhi didn't even wrinkle her eyebrows, and said expressionlessly: "Sister Meixin, you are still working hard, and we young people naturally can't fall behind."

"You..." Zhao Meixin was very angry.

Selena on the side tried her best not to laugh, thinking that Ling Zhizhi looked staid and serious, but unexpectedly she was quite venomous!

Zhao Meixin gritted her teeth, and snorted coldly, "Ling Zhizhi, although I didn't like you before, I have to admit that you do have some skills, and you can praise Leng Manyun's mediocre beauty That height, but now..."

Having said that, Zhao Meixin paused on purpose, and glanced at Selena with mean and contemptuous eyes, "After Leng Manyun left, you just found such a vase with nothing but gossip and face? I remember what you hate the most. It's this kind of entertainer who relies on his face, why? Now he's fallen too?"

Chapter 250

When Selena heard this, her eyes narrowed slightly.

This was not the first time she had heard that Ling Zhizhi hated her type of entertainer from others.

It is definitely impossible to say that you don't care at all.

After all, this is the person who will fight with her in the future. If the ideas are different from the beginning, how can we continue to cooperate in the future?

Lin Zhizhi naturally noticed the worry that flashed in Selena's eyes, looked at Zhao Meixin, and said unhurriedly: "Miss Meixin seems to have misunderstood me. We all know that in this industry, being good-looking is a talent. It's God's reward for food, and it's what others can't ask for. Why should I hate it?"

What I hate is a vase with no connotation and professionalism.

Everyone has a love for beauty, I think sister Meixin can understand this most, right? "

Hearing the last sentence, Zhao Meixin's expression changed on the spot. What is it that she understands best?

This is clearly mocking her!

She was originally an actress, but she switched careers as an agent because she was not good-looking enough and it was difficult for her to stand out. She usually pays great attention to her image, and often goes for beauty treatments and micro-surgeries...

Dmn Ling Zhizhi, she doesn't usually talk much, but every time she talks, she pokes her flesh! It's really a biting dog that doesn't bark!

"You think she's not a vase?" Zhao Meixin sneered again and again.

"Whether it is true or not is based on the works, not sister Meixin's judgment based on appearance." Lin Zhizhi walked past her and left.

"You..." Zhao Meixin stamped her feet angrily from behind.

After a short confrontation, the depression in Selena's heart was swept away, and she happily jumped behind Ling Zhizhi.

"Sister Zhizhi, you were so handsome just now! You felt so safe! But don't worry, I'm definitely not a vase. Even if I were a vase, it would at least be Qing Qianlong blue and white sea water auspicious cloud Yinglong blue and white porcelain! Beauty and strength coexist!”

Ling Zhizhi glanced at her, and slightly curled the corners of her lower lips imperceptibly, “It’s not enough to just talk about it, the production will start tomorrow, and I will go there with you when the time comes.

What’s more, not only me, but also the crew will open the media to visit the set tomorrow, and many reporters will come over then.

The latest script and shooting plan have been sent to you before, and you also know that there will be a major scene of yours that day, which will test your acting skills. This is your first battle, so be prepared! ”

In fact, she has studied Selena’s resume and some works during this time, and found that this girl’s acting skills are really good, and she just waited for tomorrow’s scene...

“Understood, I must perform well!”

While Selena was talking, she secretly looked at Lin Zhizhi, who was so reliable. The more she thought about it, the more regretful she became. How could a woman like Sister Zhizhi fall in love with Louis’s unreliable golden retriever?

Because Ling Zhizhi had other things to do, Xiao Tao would accompany Selena from now on.

Xiao Tao has a lively personality, and she kept talking along the way, but Selena heard a lot of gossip about the company from her.

“Hey, Sister Manyun’s departure, Su Yimo and Zhao Meixin are the most proud of them. Now they have no rivals! Although Su Yimo is more famous than Sister Manyun, she can act well. What are they? They’re all rubbish commercial films. Although Sister Manyun’s films are mostly literary and artistic films, she has won so many international awards, and she is crushed by the celebrity position, right? No way, who made her backstage too hard! Obviously She is not strong enough and has been shyly covering her face to occupy the position of the first sister of Shengshi!"

"Su Yimo's background is tough?" Selena asked.

"Of course! Sister Xi, don't you know?" Xiaotao looked surprised, and then whispered in her ear mysteriously, "Su Yimo's backstage...but our boss Lu!"
