

Cruel Heart Lover Novel

Chapter 43

Or in other words, it's not that he has changed, but that he hides it so well that she has never understood him.

Selena's gaze accidentally fell on the deep bloodstain on the back of his hand, and she asked subconsciously, "Lu...Daniel, what's wrong with your hand?"

Daniel glanced at the small circle of teeth marks, and looked at her with a half-smile, "What do you think?"

Selena swallowed, "The tooth marks look familiar..."

Daniel showed appreciation, "I have good eyesight."

"Cough, thank you for the compliment." Selena smiled dryly, then asked cautiously, "I bit it?"

"You think I framed you? You can bite it again to compare." Daniel suggested, and actually extended his hand to her.

Selena waved her hands in embarrassment, "No need, no need, I admit it! Can't I plead guilty! By the way... what happened last night? I drank the drink, and I just remembered that I went to the bathroom, and the rest of it was fine. Impressed...how did I come back?"

"You passed out drunk in the women's toilet. I went in and carried you out, but you refused to go with me, and even bit me." Daniel answered briefly and accurately.

Selena was confused, "You...you entered the women's restroom..."

How sinful she is! The Great Demon King sacrificed too much...

"Then why did I sleep in the car?" Selena bit her bullet and continued to ask.

"Because you are inseparable from your little baby." Daniel added the word "little baby" calmly.

Selena glanced at the "Male God" that she had admired for a long time, and immediately believed Daniel's words.

"I'm really sorry for causing you trouble!" Selena apologized weakly.

She was really sorry that so many things happened on the second night of her stay.

Daniel didn't respond to her words, but instead asked an irrelevant question, "Why did you drink so much last night?"

Selena's expression darkened instantly upon hearing this. .

Seeing her sudden change of expression, the dormant beast in Daniel's heart gradually emerged.

Selena didn't have the habit of sharing her thoughts with others, but probably it was too uncomfortable to keep these things in her heart. She leaned back in her chair weakly, looked up at the green shade above her head, and murmured, "Meng Chang The role of song, I'm afraid I've blown it..."

A trace of astonishment flashed across Daniel's face, "What?"

"It's just a little female second, I know you won't understand even if you say it out loud, you don't know how much effort I put in for this day, you don't know how happy I am to get this role, you guys I don't even know..." Selena hurriedly raised her hands to cover her eyes.

Daniel always thought that she lost her composure because of Roman, but she didn't expect that there would be something hidden.

She wasn't sad because of Roman, but because of losing that role?

Daniel's mood which had been gloomy all night instantly cleared up. Seeing the girl's sad appearance, his heart tightened again.

How could he not understand how much she valued her dream?

Otherwise, she would not take the shortcut even though she clearly has one, but stubbornly climb up step by step.

"Don't be sad, you've done a good job." Daniel supported the girl's head, and gently leaned against his chest.

It turned out that the culprit was not Roman, but... Ning Yaohua.

Ning Yaohua is the biggest investor in the drama "The World" and has the right to remove characters.

The girl who bullied him, even if it was her biological father, couldn't do it.
