Chapter 466

Li Leling took a deep breath, and said righteously, "Mr. Assistant! This result is really unconvincing! I need a reasonable explanation!"

The assistant looked helpless, "Miss Li, this is Director Cook's decision, and I can't control it!"

"Then let me meet Director Cook, and I'll tell him face to face!" Li Leling insisted.

At this moment, the other actresses are all blown up, they all suspect that the assistant made a mistake, even Ling Zhizhi is a little surprised by this result...

The assistant had no choice but to say, "Okay, I'll convey it for you."

While everyone was waiting anxiously, the assistant soon came out again and said to everyone, "Miss Li, Director Cook asked me to tell you and the ladies present that when the commercial of Noble comes out, everyone will know that Miss Selena deserves it." ."

After finishing speaking, he bowed in a gentlemanly manner, and said no more, but looked in the direction of the corner, "Excuse me, are you Miss Ning's manager, Ms. Lin Zhizhi? Director Cook invites you in to discuss the specific details of the cooperation. "

"Okay, thank you." Ling Zhizhi was taken aback for a moment, then got up, and followed the assistant into the audition hall.

Behind him, only Li Leling, whose face was flushed, and a group of actresses who were stunned...

"Dmn it! Is it really Selena? We actually lost to this kind of person? This is a joke!"

"Actually, I wanted to say it just now, not to mention how Selena is, she is an artist under Ling Zhizhi, how could it be so simple. No matter how Ling Zhizhi made such a low-level mistake, it turned out that she was Come prepared! We are too careless!"

"Tsk tsk, it seems that there will be another dark horse in the entertainment circle in the future!"

"Pfft, Li Leling's embarrassment this time is a big embarrassment. It's okay to be suppressed by Leng Manyun before, but after finally Leng Manyun left, she will be suppressed by Lin Zhizhi's artists again!"

After talking about cooperation.

On the way back, Ling Zhizhi looked at the girl next to her thoughtfully, the more she got along with her, the more unfathomable she felt...

Selena had been in a state of "sedation" before, didn't eat lunch, and was eating a hot dog in her arms at the moment. Seeing Ling Zhizhi looking at her, she puffed her cheeks and asked vaguely, "Sister Zhizhi, what are you looking at me for? Do you think you are so lucky to have a witty little partner like me?"

Ling Zhizhi chuckled, "Before I always thought this method was very risky, because Cook is a master of Huaguo, I was worried that your acting skills would be seen as flawed, but I didn't expect that your Guqin is so good and at such a level, At least ten years of skill is needed, but I didn't seem to see that you wrote about this specialty in your data before..."

Selena almost burst out when she heard the words, "Sister Zhizhi, you're flattering me too much, do I seem to be the kind of person who spends so long cultivating one's sentiments?"

After finishing speaking, he raised a finger, "To tell you the truth, I have only studied for a month, and I only know this piece of music! Fortunately, my memory is not bad, it is completely memorized by rote. When I first learned, The only idea is to pretend!"

Hearing Selena's answer, Lin Zhizhi was stunned for a moment, really not knowing whether to laugh or cry, "It turned out to be like this..."

Selena nodded, "Yeah, I like to learn a little bit of everything. I learn a lot of complicated things, but I'm not proficient in anything. It's good to learn quickly, but those skills that take years and years are only superficial.!"

She doesn't have that time to cultivate her sentiment... her only purpose is to survive.

The previous experience in the Ning family made her feel safe only by frantically learning all the fields and knowledge she didn't understand...

Chapter 467

Because of the upcoming perfume commercial shooting, Selena needs to stay in Los Angeles for a while.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, she still has a very important thing to do...

She is going to visit someone.

midnight.

Selena set off for St. Bernardine, which is close to Los Angeles.

Since no one would recognize her in this kind of place, there was no need for a disguise, so Selena didn't put on any makeup, and only changed into a simple and comfortable white T-shirt and jeans.

St. Bernardine has topped the list of the most dangerous cities in the country for five consecutive years. It gathers a large number of low-income people, is located on the main smuggling channel, and is the place with the most riots in the country.

Selena paid double the price before the driver was willing to go there, and he didn't dare to go any further when he drove to the borderline between the two cities. When Selena got out of the car, he drove away immediately.

This place is like abandoned ruins, most of which are low, moldy, dilapidated buildings and abandoned garbage dumps, dark streets and alleys, and those private dark transactions can be seen everywhere...

However, the entertainment industry here is very developed. Even though it is late at night, it is still very lively, with the sound of drinking, punching and gambling everywhere.

Pedestrians at the intersection of the street, most of the men are muscular, with hideous tattoos, and look fierce, while the women are dressed in cool and hot clothes, with thick gothic smoky makeup on their faces.

So, when Selena, who was dressed like a high school student, walked into St. Bernardine in the middle of the night, she was like a little white rabbit walking among wolves.

On the side of the street, a pair of probing eyes looked coldly at this stranger who suddenly stepped into their territory.

With a lollipop in her mouth and headphones in her ears, Selena walked through the streets with ease, just like walking on an ordinary street.

Because of her sloppy look, as if she was just going home, those eyes were just looking at her, but no one took the initiative to find fault.

After all, to dare to appear in St. Bernardine in such late at night, not to mention an adult, even a child of a few years old, is absolutely impossible to be an ordinary person. There is probably a lot of power behind it, and someone who is a little bit careful won't just go up to seek death.

After passing through a slum mixed with fish and dragons, the field of vision gradually widens, and the urban area is not far away, and the closer to the center, the more prosperous it is.

That's where the uppermost figures of St. Bernardine lived.

A year later, the place has not changed much. Based on her memory, Selena came to the door of a small single-family building with ease.

Surrounded by dense forest, this small building looks eerie, a bit like a witch's castle in a fairy tale world.

The small building is pitch black and there are no lights on, is it asleep? Or is the master not there?

Selena pushed open the courtyard door, walked to the entrance of the small building, and rang the doorbell. The doorbell sounded unusually abrupt in the empty night.

After waiting for a while, nothing happened inside.

I pressed it twice again, and it was quiet inside, and no one opened the door.

Selena scratched her head, looked at the row of flower pots under the windowsill at the door, counted to the third pot, and then took out a bunch of keys from under the pot.

Hey... The level of this key hiding... really remains the same for thousands of years...

After getting the key, Selena directly opened the door and entered the house.

He fumbled to turn on the light in the house, and searched upstairs and downstairs, but he was not at home.

Selena checked the time on her phone, sat down on the sofa in the living room downstairs, and decided to wait for the master to come back here.

Chapter 468

In the cold house, Selena waited for a long time, but the master never came back.

After a while, Selena stood up, attracted by some cartoon figures on the table.

The curious eyes looked at the cartoon figure for a long time, the corners of the mouth slightly raised, showing a deadly smile, the person still didn't change at all, as if he was living in the second dimension.

"But...it's really exquisite." Selena stepped forward, picked up a figurine at random, and played with it for a while, which was considered a pastime during the boring wait.

This figure is very delicate, every part seems to have been carefully polished, the shape of the figure is very unique, with a proud and lazy posture, holding two realistic firearms in both hands.

"I have two guns..."

When Selena accidentally touched the switch on the figure, the cartoon character suddenly spoke.

Caught off guard, even Selena was taken aback, and subconsciously threw the cartoon figurine out.

"I have two guns...one is called a shot..."

"There is another called... ah!"

Seeing that the cartoon figurine she had thrown to the edge of the building was still screaming non-stop, Selena came back to her senses and couldn't help shaking her head. She suddenly remembered that that person was crazy about an e-sports battle game, and These cartoon figures seem to be the mainstream characters in that game, and even the lines of the game characters are exactly the same.

If others know that the existence that scares most of the underground world has such a cute side, I don't know how they will feel.

After all the lines of the cartoon figures were finished, the room fell into dead silence again.

Selena pursed her lips, and walked forward slowly, ready to pick up the cartoon figurine. After a while, if that person sees her treating her beloved figurine like this, the consequences... Selena shuddered. Dare to think deeply.

When she was about to retrieve the figurine, Selena glanced casually downstairs, and found that the handle of the inner door was slowly turning.

Selena was overjoyed, but within a few seconds, the smile froze on her face and quickly dissipated.

Originally, I thought that the person I was waiting for should have returned, but upon closer inspection, it was not the case. The doorknob kept turning, not like the owner coming home, but more like the patronage of thieves.

In a place like St. Bernardine, thieves are swarming, and even under broad daylight, blatant house robbery and murder are very common, especially where such high-level figures live, and it has become the target of those desperadoes.

Without the slightest hesitation, Selena immediately returned to the house, rearranged the cartoon figures on the table, and then opened the drawer.

"As expected, it's still the same..." Selena muttered to herself, her gaze fell on a pitch-black pistol lying quietly in the drawer.

"The German ppq is really that guy's style." Selena took out the pistol and quickly loaded ten rounds of bullets.

In this city, many of those desperate thieves were carrying guns. No matter how skilled they were, no matter how fast they were, they couldn't beat guns.

After ten rounds were loaded, there was a "squeak" sound, Selena frowned and looked downstairs.

Directly below, there were six men in black walking slowly toward the house. Their steps were extremely light. Whether they were holding guns or their state, they seemed to have received professional training, and they were not as simple as ordinary burglars.

"Isn't it a thief?" Selena looked even more puzzled.

If it is a thief, do you need such a big fanfare, six people and six guns?

Looking at the clothes of those people, they are also extremely standard. Is there such a well-trained thief in expensive clothes?

Chapter 469

In a place like St. Bernardine, would there be a team of well-trained thieves wearing expensive clothes?

No matter whether others believe it or not, Selena definitely won't believe it.

The six men in black with guns below kept making various professional gestures, their eyes were as sharp as eagles, and they surveyed the entire floor.

Soon, the first floor was searched by those six people. They probably didn't find what they were looking for. Instead, the leading man raised his index finger and gently moved toward the second floor.

Seeing this, the five black-clothed men behind nodded and followed the leading man, walking slowly toward the second floor, as if they were afraid of disturbing the owner of the building.

However, these few people didn't know that since they came in, all their actions had been seen by a certain woman.

At this moment, Selena fully understood that these six well-trained men in black were definitely not ordinary thieves. If her guess was correct, they should be that person's enemies, and now they were looking for her to seek revenge. For the money, not for sex, obviously for the sake of life.

It's just that this scene is really bloody, that person is not at home, but let her lie innocently.

"Dmn it, why does it happen every time!" Selena gritted her teeth. She had encountered such things twice in the past. Adding today, it was the third time. That person's enemies really spread all over the world. For that person, such things as hatred seem to be experienced several times every once in a while...

When Selena returned to the house, her thoughts were running fast. Immediately, she quickly picked up a beautiful cartoon character figure from the table, turned on the switch, and threw it downstairs.

The leading man in black almost subconsciously pulled the trigger of the pistol.

As the man in black pulled the trigger, there was a soft mosquito-like sound, and the lower body of the cartoon figure was beaten to pieces.

With a "snap", only half of the cartoon figure remained and fell among several men in black.

"Oh...that shot of yours hurt my feelings!" The voice of the cartoon figurine sounded.

Several men in black stared suspiciously at the cartoon figure that had been beaten in half.

At this moment, the cartoon figure is still chattering: "Brother, did you grow up in a crematorium that sells barbecue?"

"This... will be a massacre! How about a magic trick first?"

"Dmn it!" The leading man frowned, and then severely crushed the cartoon figurine that kept saying the game lines.

At the same time, Selena's figure flashed past, drawing an arc in the void.

Selena's eyes were sharp, and she was as cold as ice. Now she seemed to be a different person, no matter her state or expression.

If someone who is very familiar with Selena is present, they will be surprised. Selena now is just like her a few years ago. There is no trace of fear or complicated emotions in her icy eyes, only sophisticated calculations are left.

“boom!”

As the first sparks emanated from the black muzzle of Selena’s hand, a deep and loud sound spread throughout the building, followed by a miserable cry from the man in charge.

The leading man was short of breath and staggered towards the rear to counterattack, but within a few breaths, he collapsed to the ground like mud, and Selena’s shot hit his heart.

Seeing this, the other five black-clothed men looked horrified, they didn’t care about the leading man who was shot, and dispersed to find cover.

However, at this moment, three more muffled gunshots rang out.

Chapter 470

Before the five men in black could find cover, Selena, who was on the second floor, pulled the trigger three times in a row.

“boom!”

“boom!”

“boom!”

As the gunshots rang out, as if to confirm something, at the same time, the three men in black downstairs collapsed to the ground, blood staining the floor bright red.

Outside the house, many local residents quickly closed the doors and windows. If this kind of thing happened elsewhere, it would definitely cause panic. However, it is different here. This is Saint Bernardine, and it is natural to get used to it.

The most obvious and impressive label of St. Bernardine is probably only crime.

At this time, there were only the last two men in black with guns left in the building, and they each found a cover.

The two of them were caught off guard from the initial panic, and gradually returned to calm. After all, they are well-trained killers. Even if they lose the last person, they will not be like headless chickens.

After Selena took the opportunity to fire several shots, she temporarily chose to hide in the room.

"Phew...you haven't come back yet!" Selena took a deep breath. She had been away from this dark underground circle for a long time, and she was really not used to it when she faced it again suddenly.

Fortunately, the actions just now were all within her own precise calculations, and she successfully eliminated the four of them.

In fact, to put it bluntly, Selena knew in her heart that it was all thanks to the exquisite cartoon figures before, otherwise, she might not be able to detect those well-trained killers breaking in. If so, the consequences would be disastrous.

Now, there were only two killers left, so it wouldn't be too difficult for Selena.

Soon, Selena found the electric switchboard controlling the entire floor in the house and chose to close it.

In an instant, the room was pitch black, as if in the darkest corner of the night, and the whole world seemed to be plunged into dead silence, without any sound.

The two men in black downstairs were also very cautious. They did not choose to act immediately but quietly waited for the opportunity.

As early as a few days ago, when they received this assassination mission, they were already ready to destroy the group. After all, the target of the assassination mission was too famous in their circle, but the temptation of money made them. They have lost their minds, it can be said that they know that there are tigers in the mountains, and they prefer to go to the mountains.

Regret is useless at this time, he has already been discovered by that person, and the probability of escaping from that person is almost zero. Now, only by fighting with his life, may there be a glimmer of hope for life.

Cold sweat had already soaked the whole body of the two men in black, but they showed no signs of anxiety or fear. Well-trained professional killers have always been like this, wandering around the edge of the Holy Land every day, licking blood with knives, and carrying their heads to do business, a situation like today's has not never happened.

Right now, Selena on the second floor didn't act lightly either. It was part of luck that allowed her to succeed. The remaining two killers were already alert.

After a while, Selena picked up the exquisite cartoon figure on the table again, turned on the switch, and threw it directly downstairs.

I have to say that the man's game cartoon figures seem to be specially customized, and the quality is very good. Even if they are dropped from the second floor, they will not break easily.

"Ahahaha... I think you are a big b!tch!!"

Suddenly, the dead silence was completely broken by an abrupt voice, and the mocking sounds of the cartoon characters in the game echoed throughout the building.
