

The Alpha Claimed Me Deeply Chapter 21

Xavier's pov

I could feel Reckon give me more control of him as he gets satisfied by her taste.

So good. She tastes so fucking good.

I dipped my tongue into her soft folds, picturing my cock doing the same thing.

The sound of her little moans was almost unbearable but when she screamed. Fuck, I felt my balls get heavy and threaten to burst

I've never felt such a thing before.

So sexually aroused for a single woman. For a strange woman.

I knew it was because she was my mate. If not, then maybe she wouldn't have already owned my cock.

I lapped at her like the dog I was, sucking every last drop. If I could do this all day, I would. But I fear Reckon wouldn't stop himself from marking his territory, our territory

The realization that Aurora not only had Reckon wagging his tail after her but also somehow was sneaking her weird way into my own thoughts made me wrench away from her.

I was only supposed to feast on her, quench Reckon's hunger so I can control him more. Not have my heart pummel at the sound of her sweet cries of pleasure.

My eyes land on her glistening pussy. She was so wet and pink from my torture.

A possessive growl came from Reckon.

"Fuck," I cursed. I need to leave before I mate her right now. I can't cross that line, if I do, I wasn't so sure I'd ever let her go.

I went out of line already by feasting on her. And I feared I won't be able to stop.

Clenching my eyes I turned around. I haven't found out what she was yet, and I still can't control my hunger for her.

How the fuck will I be able to let her go now ?

“Get dressed,” I demanded, walking over to the bathroom to wash my mouth. Aurora’s arousal scent was strong, blended into my own scent and I knew that if I were to speak, everyone would know what I had been doing to her.

I didn’t want any of my people to know she was my mate. The better I keep this under the radar, the better it was for the both of us.

Besides, I still need to figure out if she was truly my mate and not some knock-off some witch had created ‘She’s our mate!’ Reckon hisses, getting angry that I was denying it.

I ignore him as I continue to wash my mouth. When I was done, I walked back into the room. Aurora is already dressed, her head bowed and her arms caging around her.

I bit my tongue, shocked that the urge to apologize to her nearly burst out of my lips.

What the fuck ?

When do I ever feel the need to apologize ? I’ve never apologized to anyone in my life. I wasn’t going to start now !

I swipe a hand through my hair, praying she won’t lift her eyes to stare at me and notice my distress. I couldn’t allow anyone to see me like this, especially her,

“I want you to stay inside here,” I managed to mumble.

I could tell my words upset her. But she should know that she would not be allowed to roam around until we know she’s not a threat and a traitor.

‘She’s not a traitor! She’s our mate!’ Reckon roared making my temples throb

I bit my tongue, turning away from Aurora, intending to walk out of her room. But her sweet soft voice cracks through the air and made me stiffen. My fingers stay coldly on the door handle.

“Why did you do that ?”

“Why do you keep touching me ?” She breathes out.

“And why don’t I want you to stop ?” Her voice cracks and my grip around the handle tightens almost deathly as I wrench the door open. Reckon felt restless as the sound of her voice showed her distress. I inhale sharply, not turning around as I gritted out. "I told you before. I own you, you belong to me. I don't have to answer to you, you'll only answer to me,"

I slammed the door shut behind me, angered by the feeling that settled in my body. Two female wolves who were roaming the halls scurried away in fear.

They had every right to. They knew when I was angry like this, I'd tend to lash out at anyone, including members of my own pack

(Aurora's pov)

What did I do wrong?

One minute he was enjoying the taste of me the next, he was pulling away like I was diseased.

I should be happy about that, knowing that this was his first time going so far. I should be relieved that he didn't go further. Yes, he touched me before but never did he.....

I reddened remembering how his tongue felt inside and outside me. I wanted him to continue.

That's it, that's why I suddenly felt unhappy when he pulled away. It's because I wanted him to continue.

There was something about Alpha Xavier that I couldn't find it in me to be repulsed by him and his touch. And I should be. In fact, I should fear him so much that all I should be thinking about now is how to escape from here. Not think about how much pleasure he had just given me. Or how much I wanted so much more.

I listened to the water slither down the drain and heard him gurgle before spitting it out.

Did I taste that bad?

The thought made me feel ashamed. I curl my arms around my knees and bend my head. I felt the urge to cry. I blinked tightening my hold around my body.

The sound of the water stops and is replaced by his footsteps. I don't lift my head for two reasons. One, I was mortified that he didn't like my taste, and two, I fear he'd get angry if I so much as looked at him. I could feel his piercing stare on me and I began to scratch at my arm to resist looking at him. "I want you to stay inside here," He mumbles. His words made reality hit me in the face. I was just a prisoner here. Someone he can toy with. Someone he owns. I was being treated like a caged bird.

"Why did you do that?" The words are out of my mouth before I can stop them.

"Why do you keep touching me?"

"And why don't I want you to stop?" I confessed. I didn't know why I did. It just slipped out.

His next words, made me realize that Alpha Xavier didn't share the same feelings as me. I mean why would he? He was the most handsome man I've ever seen and I was just me. I was nothing but a captive he can do anything to. My life was in his hands.

"I told you before. I own you, you belong to me. I don't have to answer to you, you'll only answer to me," He grits.

I was nothing but some flesh he could use whenever he pleased. Until he grow bored and discard me.

The Alpha Claimed Me Deeply Chapter 22

Xavier's pov

I groaned after gulping down another glass of whiskey. When will I learn that it does nothing for me? Nothing to numb the pain of the past or the feelings I had for Aurora

I snorted

Feelings? I had no feelings for the girl. Just the bond. Nothing more I poured myself another glass while glaring down at the paperwork I should be going through. It was important, especially having to do with the wolf council. They weren't too fond of me and the things I've done to get my vengeance on the traitors.

I groan when the glass overflows. Placing the bottle on the desk I brought the filled glass to my lips, aware that some fellow in the paperwork I only got to taste the burning liquor on my lips before the door is burst open. My eyes fell on her and I stiffen.

“I’m back Xavier,” Adrian purred as she struts in. “Did you miss me?”

I slowly place the glass down and looked into blue eyes. Adrian was Samuel’s daughter but didn’t want to take the role of being Beta Instead, she was relentless on being Luna, my Luna.

“Three days without your cock and I’m a mess,” She moans, working to remove the tiny straps of her flimsy top.

Adrian warmed my bed more than once. We took pleasure in each other bodies knowing that we both were too fucked up to be gifted with a mate.

But that was before...

A flash of Aurora crept into my head. It was Reckon’s doing, he wanted to remind me that we do in fact have a mate now. Summoned or not, the girl in the room was my mate.

With my mind foggy with Aurora, I’m quickly slammed back to reality when my hand is being guided to Adrian’s cunt. Before the sight of it would have me excited, not now.

I wrenched away, burning a glare on her body that leaned on the desk. She had ridden up her skirt and didn’t have any panties on. It was her usual.

Adrian looks at me confused and shifts closer. Her arousal was strong but it did nothing to me.

“Did you get the information I sent you for?” I question, needing to let her down without raising questions on why. I have never let her down before.

Adrian not wanting to quit her advances, shifts even closer until her legs are caging mine. She bends over, her hands touching my hard cock through my jeans.

My cock wasn’t hard for her, it was hard for the girl with the pink hair. That was the reason I had been drinking, I thought It would help with my arousal for Aurora.

It did nothing, unfortunately. Nothing seemed to work now since she arrived.

“Ohh, you’re so hard already big guy.”

Adrian’s words are caught in her throat when I grab her wrists to stop her. I had already been fighting to stop myself from going back to Aurora’s room to take her.

But Adrian is making this a little difficult. Reckon is getting furious with her touch. He doesn’t want her hands on us anymore.

If I don’t stop her, Reckon will force his way to take full control and kill her. I didn’t want to kill my Beta’s daughter.

“Stop,” I said hoarsely as Reckon fights to take control. I push Adrian off me, her bountiful breasts bouncing at the sudden push.

“Xavie

I marched out of the room, my mind on only one girl Aurora. I needed her now

(Aurora’s pov )

Josie didn’t look pleased when she dropped off lunch and dinner for me.

All the while I had been in this room for hours Alpha Xavier didn’t visit me the rest of the day

It was as if he was avoiding me

And I should be happy about that. But I found myself missing his amber eyes. I found myself craving his touch

But with all these feelings also came the feeling of guilt The guilt for not trying harder to escape The guilt of not trying to find out if Cas was alright

I mean. How am I supposed to know if she was? I can’t send crows like the witches do. Neither would Alpha Xavier ever do this favor for me.

Why would he? I was no one to him but a captive he owns

Oh Cas, I just really hope that you’re safe.

I stared at the darkening sky. There was so little you can do in a room all alone. I had been sitting here for hours, slept a few too after finding out how tired I was after Alpha Xavie.....

I shook my head I didn't need to think about that. It was clear that he didn't feel the same way. And honestly, I didn't know exactly what I was feeling My mind and body were conflicted.

I didn't understand it. The sudden attraction that shouldn't seem normal.

I was too infuriated with him in such little time,

The way he spoke, he made it seem as though he knew what was going on. Yet he wouldn't tell me,

I sighed heavily and got off the bed and made my way across the room to the window. It was night already and I don't think anyone will come and visit me anytime soon

It was clearly upset Xavier. So I wouldn't hold my breath for him to show up.

But maybe that's a good thing. Maybe it's best if he leaves me alone.

Maybe then I can finally think clearly and finally come up with a plan to escape.

I looked down, opening the window. The cold air kiss my face. I had the chance to be free but ended up here. And even though Alpha Xavier hadn't killed me right away, who says he wouldn't later on?

My pending death awaits me. But I didn't want to die by his hand

I pressed my lips together as I looked at the ground and draw in a shaky breath. I was far up. Really far up I might not be able to make it if I try to escape from here...unless.

I whip around to look at the bedding. The covers seemed long enough.

But were they enough to have me safely on the ground?

I couldn't think too much about that safety first. I just needed to get out of here before I die by Xavier's hand or worse, make him do exactly what I was craving. For him to take me like a man takes a woman.

I could feel my cheeks flame by my thoughts and run towards the bed I needed to hurry up. This was my only chance.

I gripped the cover and started tying them together. I even took the pillowcases even though they didn't add much to the length. Better than nothing

By the time I was done, let's just say I was rethinking. There was no way that would be long enough or get me halfway. And I wasn't so sure I tied the knot tightly enough.

I chewed as I contemplated. Did I really want to escape from this place and risk Alpha Xavier catching me? What if he tear off my limbs like he had done to the rogue woman?

I touched my arm then my neck and winced.

Maybe I shouldn't do this Maybe it'll get me more into trouble.

Alpha Xavier did mention that his territory was heavily guarded I sighed in defeat, I suppose that was it, my escape plan had just been flushed down the drain. I couldn't possibly escape Alpha Xavier's clutches. He was the most feared Alpha for a reason.

But I also needed to keep my secret away from him. Which means I need to get far away from him as I possibly can.

My head pound, not sure which route to go Escaping would get me killed if I'm caught. Finding out my secret would al get me killed. Both will end up with me dead.

I gripped the ticed covers. I would break my legs even if I used it. I was too high up and it was still too short

The door is suddenly thrust open My grip on the covers tightens as he walks in. His amber eyes fall to the covers in hand and then to the bed.

His eyes flicker with red and my stomach tightens as my heart sped."

Aurora!" He roared and I dropped the covers quickly

The Alpha Claimed Me Deeply Chapter 23

(Aurora's pov )

I was shocked he was here He seemed to have avoided coming here the rest of the day after...

Why would he show up now?

Before I could blink, with speed as fast as lightning, Alpha Xavier has me pushed to the wall with his hand around my neck applying little pressure My eyes widen in fear. I was about to die. He was going to tear my neck off my body

“Please Alpha Xa-vier,”

He stared at me with the angry eyes of his wolf. I squirmed even more. You were trying to escape, “He snarled hand tightening around my neck but not enough to have me choke for some air

My feet come together and my palms plaster to the wall behind me.

“N-o I wouldn’t. Ple-ase. I wou-ldn’t, “My voice cracks with fear as my body temperature drops. I could feel my blood turn to ice cold.

I knew lying wouldn’t be in my favor but it came as second nature to me right now.

His hot breath fans my face as he levels it with mine and my heart skips.

He adds a little more pressure to my neck but not enough to choke me.

I gasp, pressing my back to the wall.” I don’t like when you lie to me.”

He grits lowly, his red eyes burning through mine like liquid lava.

“I’m so-rry.” I quickly apologized, wincing when his anger did not diminish.

It was a stupid idea to try to get out of here. If I did manage to get out of there with my legs still attached to my body, the wolves patrolling would’ve surely caught me and would’ve brought me to him.

Xavier peels his hand away from my neck.

“I did

The words die in my throat when he suddenly dips his head, his nose burying between my neck and shoulder. I shivered, not expecting the powerful tingles as his breath hit my flesh faintly.

“You could’ve died doing something so reckless Aurora,”

I’m shocked by how soft his voice had gone down to My wide eyes stare at the window I was planning to escape out of as I try to stop my pulse from racing by his nearness.

“You would have been seriously hurt,” He grits and does something weird. He draws in a breath as if sniffing me. Sighing as if relieved, Alpha Xavier mumbles on my neck, lips touching the tender skin. “I can’t trust you to be here alone without causing more trouble.”

I didn’t hear a single word he had uttered, too engrossed by the feel of his lips on my neck and the way my body responded to him I let out a tiny squeal of shock when I'm suddenly hurled on his shoulder, my pink hair whooshing down as I get a good view of his taut backside from here.

"Alpha," I whispered in shock, nearly screaming in startlement when his big hand landed on my bottom. His touch burned through the thin material of the leggings.

"You're a troublesome girl. Whatever you are," He snorts and starts walking I stay limply on his shoulder. Afraid if I try to wrestle out of his hold it would only lead him to punish me. I wasn't stupid to not know that if I upset him further tonight wouldn't be to my benefit

"I think it would be best if you stay with me. That way I can keep a good eye on you and you'll be just there when I need to examine you further," He grumbles opening the door.

Examine me further? Would he examine me the same way he did earlier using his tongue? I redden at the thought as my eyes glue to the flooring There are sounds of gasped that resonated through the hall as our presence are shown. Quickly after, murmurs of moving mouths followed like a fast whip

They were probably confused as to why their Alpha had the weird looking girl on his shoulder dangling like a limp bag of potatoes.

"Ccase your chattering," Xavier growled in annoyance Like an annoying fly being finally swatted the chattering stops completely. I could still feel their eyes on me but didn't think it would be the best thing to look at them,

Seconds later I could distinctly hear the sound of a door being opened. I listened to Xavier's footsteps until he stops and the door is shut behind us I don't say anything or protest by his sudden want for me to be in his room. What good would that do if I voice out I didn't want to be in the same breathing space as him because my body was betraying me?

As long as he wasn't going to kill me for trying to escape I wouldn't complain.

I stay muted as he places me on my feet. I shyly look away, embarrassed that many wolves saw me being handled by their alpha. What was even more humiliating was that his palm was burning on my bottom where he latched on to. I suppose to keep me steady but surely he could've chosen another place to hold on to?

“You’ll be staying here. With me,” He spoke.

“Aurora,”

I stiffen. “Yes Al-pha?”

“Look at me while I am speaking to you,” He grunts. I quickly snap my head up, my eyes clashing with amber. I gulped as he stared at me deeply.

“If you ever try to flee from here again, I will treat you like I treat those who cross me.” His warning made fear creep into my very being. I held my breath when he reaches out and grasp a lock of my hair.

“I won’t hesitate to punish you if you try something so stupid again,

“His fingers leave my hair to wrap behind my neck My pulse is furiously beating

I knew he could live up to his words and I wouldn’t dare think he’d spare me a second time.

“Do you understand me, Aurora?”

I nodded quickly, afraid to speak. My throat felt dry suddenly out of fear.

My tongue darts out to lick my bottom lip as a nervous act as his grip around the back of my neck gets more firmly “Aurora! Xavier suddenly growls with warning, red flecks swiftly swimming with amber.

I jolt, my eyes widening in terror. Did I do something wrong? I could hear my own heartbeat as the organ pounded furiously

My mouth opened to apologize only for me to swallow back the words in horror. “I change my mind. I will be punishing you right now after all.”

(Aurora’s pov ||

I didn’t want to be punished But knew I couldn’t protest or plead.

Pleading would get me nowhere with Xavier
I gulped, trying to swallow as much saliva as I can to help my parched throat. The red was dangerous. The look in his eyes was dangerous
I could feel a thin layer of sweat coat my skin as I waited for his punishment.

I can handle anything he throws at me. I've handled worst I will not show him the satisfaction of having me fear his words. I chant inwardly but knew I couldn't live up to the words.

He takes a step back, his hands dropping to his sides. "You wanted to escape from the window, right?"

A wicked gleam flashed in his eyes. I nearly tremble. My composure threatened to diminish." Speak the truth." There's a warning behind his tone, one that had me stuttering out the truth.

"Ye-s."

Alpha Xavier hums, his eyes falling to my legs.' Since you didn't care if you shattered your legs," His eyes snake up to mine, leaving a burning trail where his eyes roamed. "I'll make good use of them."

I shivered by his words, gulping as my breath hitched. There was something about his gaze that told me he wouldn't kill me tonight. But it also showed that he would in fact punish me.

His canines jut out, his wolf growls and he grumbles. "On your knees."

He commanded

I don't waste a second, falling to my knees before him. My gaze swept down to the floor, afraid of what he'd do to me. I didn't want to be punished but I knew I could never get myself out of it.

So I press my lips together and awaited what he'd do to me.

*Aurora," Xavier calls out, his voice hoarse and slightly edgy.

I froze." Yes Alp-ha?"

"Lift your gaze," He demanded.

I sucked in a sharp breath and do as I was told. I stared up at him, trying to mask the look of fear on my face as his red eyes pin me down hotly.

Why did I have that stupid idea to escape?

I flinched slightly when he reaches out. I took in a staggering breath when his thumb touch my lips. His thumb on my lips created tingles that made me not think so clearly anymore.

My heart beat furiously in my chest, the rhythm so uncontrollable when his thumb pushes between my lips and grazem y teeth. “Open,” He demanded, his gaze darkening,

I pull in some air through my mouth as I part my lips and do as Xavier had demanded of me I keep my eyes on him, not wanting to upset him more than I had already. The tip of his thumb brushes on my tongue and I nearly jerk away.

His eyes darken to an almost impossible color of red and hinted that he was taking pleasure from what he was about to make me do “Suck, “He demanded groggily.

Looking up at him nervously, I wrapped my lips around his thumb and sucked He hisses, growling He tasted salty but strangely somehow I found myself loving the taste. I sucked his thumb harder and Xavier’s beast growls.

I quickly stopped, afraid I had done something wrong, but he urges me to continue. Until suddenly he pushes another finger in my mouth.”

Continue,”He demands, eyes penetrating through me.

I felt a rush of heat settle in my stomach and felt the urge to touch him But he had not given me permission, so I kept my hand to my side. After a few seconds of me just sucking his fingers and Xavier growling loudly, he pulls his fingers out of my mouth

I watch him with hawk eyes My heart jumps in my throat when he fumbles with the button of his jeans and then unzips them My tongue grew heavy and my heart quickens its rhythm. I looked up at Xavier in shock

“From the moment I set my eyes on you, I haven’t gotten proper relief,”

He grunts as if in pain

What did he mean? Relief from what?

Alpha Xavier answers my confusion by pushing his jeans down and his black bricks. I stared at him frozen and shocked when the size of him springs out. I've never been so close to a male's private body part before. Never had to stare up at it so closely. I gulped at the more size of the thing, beyond stunned that someone could have something so dangerously big. Xavier's long fingers wrap around the girth of his hard cock and I found myself itching to touch him. Suddenly a terrible urge to taste him rocked my senses too and I part my lips to lick my bottom lip. Some white substance, not much, teases out of the tip. My lower stomach clenches and I shuddered.

Xavier growls. "Keep your hands behind your back and keep your gaze on my cock until I tell you otherwise."

His demand was shocking yet sent spirals of tingles and desire crawling through me furiously. This will be your punishment Aurora. I want you to look at me and see what you do to me. But you can't touch or find relief. You will only be able to watch."

It was like he knew what he was doing to my body. Intentionally doing to my body. This was my punishment.

"Do you understand?" He grunts hoarsely. I bring my knees together, clenching my thighs as I try to ease the slight throb between them. I didn't understand why this was causing me to stir in need. I was throbbing badly and nodded quickly while putting my hands behind my back like he told me to do.

Alpha Xavier looks pleased by my response and starts to move his hand on his cock. With my eyes trained on his actions, I'm suddenly aware of the wetness between my legs and the sudden hunger I felt.

I watch his hand move up and down his length and clench my thighs. The way he gripped and tugged while grunting. His actions made me feel funny.

My fingers itched to be around him. To feel him. To touch him. He looked so hard, yet soft. I wanted to see if I can make him grunt out too. I am aware of his gaze on me. And deeply aware of my nipples budding. I was fighting a war with myself, a war I hope I'd not lose.

My stomach clench and my mouth watered when more of that substance comes trailing out. It looked yummy and I fought the urge to taste it.

He groans, growling as he continues to work his length. The throbbing between my thighs intensifies. The need to touch him growing stronger. Now I understood why this was my punishment. It was now becoming painful to resist touching him.

My body trembles, and my knees ache as I apply pressure to them. I held my hands, squeezing them as I keep my gaze on him.

“Shit,” Xavier growls, his beast very present. I found his voice to be very pleasing even though it was animalistic.

I gripped my hands more firmly as he worked his hands around his length quicker. His grunts become even more animalistic and then he demanded.

“Look at me Aurora,”

The way he said my name made me clench my thighs, looking for some kind of friction to ease the terrible painful throbbing

My eyes snap up to meet his amber and he growls in satisfaction. I gasp when I suddenly felt a warm substance spill on my face. I clench my eyes tightly as some thickly coated near my eyes and threaten to weigh on my lashes

Xavier makes a huge sound of a satisfied growl and my eyes open. I'm pinned under his gaze instantly and lift my hand to touch the substance

But he stops me

“Keep your hands behind your back,” He growls.

I quickly push my hands behind me, looking at him stunned. I was still throbbing badly in need and I needed something. Anything that can ease this kind of pain.

“You will stay like this the rest of the night until I say otherwise.” He grunts, pushing his cock back into his bress and lifting his jeans.

He wasn't lying when he said he was going to punish me. Throbbing badly with need and itching to touch him was one of the worst punishments I've ever had to endure. Especially knowing I wouldn't get the relief or be able to touch him

I nodded, pressing my lips together as I await the long painful night

ahead of me

The Alpha Claimed Me Deeply Chapter 25

(Autons pov)

The thick white substance drips down the side of my forehead, trailing down my temple then cheek before falling to the floor I breathed out shakily, battling the urge to look over at Alpha Xavier

I could feel his stare on me the entire time I had been kneeling on the floor It was making it a little more difficult to resist looking over at him I knew he was on the bed from my peripheral vision and I knew he hadn't once removed his eyes off of me

A knock sounded at the door and I stiffen when Xavier shifts to rise to his feet. I hold my breath when he walks past me and I counted his footsteps.

When I can only see his back, I lift my gaze from the floor to watch him His back is still and his posture looks rigid. For a man who had just spurt out his seed on my face, he sure looked like he needed another release

"I did not say to look at me," His gruff tone said over his shoulder, not sparing a glance my way

I quickly bend my head down not wanting to upset him. But as the door creaks open, I'm intrigued and slowly peek under my lashes, hoping he'd not catch me

A familiar man is at the door. Well his back faced the door. It was like he was ordered to not look inside the room or at Xavier

In the man's grasp with hands behind his back were some papers. Xavier reaches out and grasp them while mumbling a quick thank you

"No problem Xavier,"

Oh it was the man Eli

"The council has ordered the paperwork to be signed and sent back to them by tomorrow evening. Later than that and they'll be sending someone to speak to you personally."

Xavier doesn't respond only glares down at the paperwork in his grasp.

I quickly move my eyes off of the two wolves when Xavier takes a step back and closes the door. I press my lips together, forcing my eyes to stay glued to the floor as he struts over to his bed.

I counted his footsteps. And on the fifth step, he stops. Which happens to be right beside me. I stiffen, heart jumping into my throat

I could feel his eyes burn through me and I squinn. “Do your knees hurt?”

I keep my gaze on the floor while answering truthfully.” Yes Alpha”

He hums above me and I shivered by how pleasurable it sounded to me.

“Good.” With that, he walks away

I sighed in relief when I heard the light creak sound the bed made under his weight. I don’t dare look his way, not even when the throbbing between my legs became unbearable. I stay rooted where I was while battling the urge to ease my throbbing and the sudden fatigue that was nearly overcoming me.

I just need to stay alert and not upset Xavier.

Xavier’s pov:

I watch her sway a little. She was tired. I could tell by how her eyes fluttered or the way she gasped every time she nearly falls.

I bit the inside of my cheek to stop the grin from emerging on my face.

I took a deep breath, her delicious scent of her arousal mixed with the scent of me made my mouth water and Reckon to sigh in satisfaction and hunger.

He was satisfied we’owned’ her this way. He needed something anything to stop the rage that bubbled inside us from knowing she was about to run away from us

When our eyes fell on her form with her fingers grasping what looked like tied bed covers, rage nearly made Reckon go crazy He was so etiraged that all he could think about was claiming her there and then so shed not try to escape anymore

But I could not have us claim a girl we were not even sure was truly our mate. We weren’t even hall close to the truth yoto 1 halfway to knowing what Aurora truly was

Dut Reckon was possessive which was deemed normal for an Alpha male wolf We were always possessive of our possessions Aurora wasn’t some possession I could place on a shell but she was mine At least untill get to the bottom of why some creature like her was my mate.

So to stop Reckon from fighting for control to mark her, I settled for marking her this way. With my cum on her face and clothes. We needed her to smell of us strongly to ease his fear of almost losing her. Besides, loved how much it pained her to not touch me. It made us feel satisfied that we weren't the only ones suffering from the mate bond.

Her kneeling until dawn was just a punishment for even thinking about the stupid idea in the first place. She really could've fallen to her death. I stiffen as Reckon growls in my head. He didn't like to be reminded of how stupid Aurora had been earlier.

I remove my eyes from Aurora and drop them on the paperwork I should've done in the office earlier. The council was hell bent on me signing a treaty with one of the other packs, Crescent Moon. To save their ass from my blood lusts.

Too bad they were on my lists of packs that needed to be brought down by my hand.

I knew if I didn't sign the papers, the council would gather packs I have not conquered yet and have them attack my pack. Alphas don't really see eye to eye but when there's a common enemy they'd do whatever it takes to end that person.

And in their case, I was that common enemy. I knew one day, someday, alphas would gather their packs to try to take me down. That was one of the main reasons I didn't want a mate. I couldn't have her suffer this kind of fate.

My eyes drift from the papers and land on the girl on the floor. She had fallen asleep and managed to not have made a sound. Something I haven't done in a while slips out of my mouth. A low chuckle.

I grip the papers, open the empty top drawer on my bedside table and thrust the papers inside. Closing it gently to not wake her, I rise to my feet as quietly as I can.

I am aware that I am a big male and I weigh a lot thanks to my muscles. So it's very hard for me to be quiet on my feet. But that was a challenge I was willing to do to not risk Aurora from waking up.

I didn't know why exactly. Why I didn't want to disturb her sleep. But I cared little to keep the question hanging in my head. Ripping it out of my head, I make my way over to her curled up form. I'm surprised she didn't make any noise when she fell asleep. Not even a light thud. I crouch beside her body, listening to the faint sounds of her even breathing. I move my hands under her body and lifted her into my arms as gently as I could.

She stirs a little and lets out a soft sigh that made my cock stir again.

· I quietly made my way to the bed and gently place her small body on the soft bedding, making sure to have her on her back. She stirs again and I grin.

I quickly stop after realizing what I was doing. Groaning lowly, I made my way to the bathroom. Taking a small face towel, I wet it under the faucet, wring it out then made my way across the room to her,

Her soft snores are adorable and I cringe as Reckon literally wags his tail in happiness. He loved seeing our mate so peaceful...so beautiful with our cum on her face.

I gently wipe the wet towel on her face, making sure to remove my cum off her face. Of course Reckon isn't pleased and protested but I calmed him down by telling him it wouldn't have been a good idea to have her sleep with that sticky substance on her face.

Aurora whines slightly, shifting a little. Alarmed and not wanting to wake her up I dip my head to her ear and whispered soothingly. "Shhh. It's okay Aurora Go back to sleep." I whispered, my heart pounding as her mouth watering scent overwhelms my senses.

'She's all ours,' Reckon boast and I didn't try to argue with him this time.

Adnan's pov

"Dad" I grumble opening his bedroom door. His back is facing me and his gaze is focused outside the window. His room smelled of sorrow

His back tensed up as he heard my voice
He sighs heavily when he hears my voice “What is it Adrian?” He grumbles in displeasure. It was no secret that we didn’t see eye to eye on many things Some would’ve thought we weren’t related at all Turning down the offer to be the next Bcta only drifted any remaining of ever bonding
I snorted, rolling my eyes as I closed the door behind me. I needed to talk to him privately and didn’t want any of those nosey wolves to know any of my business.

“Not even a welcome back home daughter, I’ve missed you. Or, the cliche, I’m so glad to see that you’re safe and sound and not one single scratch on your pretty little face.” I huffed, crossing the room to him Dad turns around, arms crossed and a fire of anger lit his features. ”
What do you want Adrian?”

I was used to his anger. Used to never living up to his expectations.
Everything I’ve ever done to please him was looked down upon with his nose down and a scowl that read, ‘you could do better’.

Yes I could But didn’t want to After years of disappointing him, I just gave up all that wanna be perfect daughter. I didn’t give a rat’s ass to what he thinks of inc now I clicked my tongue, smiling crookedly. “Don’t worry you don’t have to tell me all of that because I don’t care. I just came here to ask you a question.”

“Go on,” He mumbles boredly

When I am beside him I flip my dark hair over my shoulder and sighed heavily.” Who’s the bitch who has managed to touch my man whilst I wasn’t here?”

My jaw ticked by the reminder of what happened in Xavier’s office a while ago. The way he brushed me aside The way Reckon grew furious.
The way he looked at me like the enemy.

It was clear that Reckon was pushing his way through and that would’ve been dangerous if he did succeed. It was shocking to see how angry he become at my mere touch. And my arousal made him snarl in disgust. Xavier was never like that toward me before. He would always jump at the opportunity to fuck me raw, but tonight, he pushed me away like I was some sort of annoyance.

I didn't understand.

I could always manage to make him hungry for me but tonight was totally different

Dad's looked inked, "Alpha Xavier can do what he wants Adrian. I'm not obligated to watch or count the women who have been in his bed."

I felt hot blazing anger scorch inside my body. Any female whoever lay her nasty fingers on my man will see hell. "So are you saying that a bitch has been in his bed when I wasn't here?" I seethed

He sighs, looking at me in annoyance. "I'm not saying that. All I'm saying is that Alpha Xavier can do whatever he wants You have to let go of that stupid infatuation you have for him Adrian. He's an Alpha, someday he will find his mate. His fated one" I drop my hands to my side, fisting them tightly until I drew blood "I'm going to be Luna. Any bitch that gets in my way will be thrown to the pits of hell. He will choose me," I snarled.

Dad doesn't seem to like my sudden burst of anger and the blue flecks quickly drown out his normal eyes color." You too will find your mate someday Adrian! What will you tell him when he finds out you didn't save yourself for him?!" He roared

"Alpha Xavier is my mate! I'm his Luna! I will be his Luna!" I growled, taking a step forward

This was my destiny. We were meant for each other. No one was going to get in my way

You're twenty two Adnan. If you two were males you would've known by now He has a mate out there and you too Stop whatever you're doing before it's too late "He growled but it was not as animalistic as it was seconds ago

"I am his mate! We don't have to be bonded by a stupid moon goddess no one has ever seen before! I think it's stupid that werewolves have to follow that stupid mate bond." I snarled.

"A mate bond is much more than just a bond Adrian. That bond ties two souls together. One soul split into two until they're ready to be reunited. Those souls were always meant to be. The bond is just there to help them find each other sooner. You will understand when you find your own mate."

He didn't understand. Xavier and I have history. We were the same. We were meant for each other. We were meant to be. No one will get in my way. No one would get in our way. No one.

I glared at my supposedly father." You've never been for me. You never cared. You're a useless man. You're the cause of your own mate's death. And I'll make sure when I'm Luna you'll always remember that you're scum." 1

I turn around, feeling his angry stare on my back. I walked out of the room, angrily storming and glaring at any wolf who so much as look at me.

They would all bow down to me someday. I will be their Luna. I don't care what I'd have to do to obtain such a position. But I'd not let it slip. I'll throw my fingers for anyone. Not even if Xavier finds his supposedly mate. 1

No one can come between us, mate bond or not. He was mine and I'd be happy to dispose of anyone who thinks otherwise or try to wedge their way between us. We were powerful together and when I am Luna, we'd be even more powerful.

A smirk crawls on my face as I head to Josie's room. She was a maid here and someone I could always rely on to tell me the truth. Josie knew everything that happens, she was a gossip. She knows everything. She would know if one of the bitches touched my man.

The Alpha Claimed Me Deeply Chapter 27

(Aurora's pov)

I buried my face in the soft pillow, breathing in the most pleasing scent

It smelled so good that my heart was singing in my ears

Wait A pillow?

My eyes shot open in alert and blinked the sleep away I was supposed to be kneeling, why am I on the bed?

When did I get on a bed?

I don't understand

My eyes widen even more when I felt a weight shift behind me, an arm slung over my shoulder and tug me into a very hard body My back rubbed against something hard and I heard a low growl just above my head,

By the tingles that shot through me, I know it was Alpha Xavier. What I didn't know, was that he was the one who brought me onto the bed.

I shift a little, seeing I can move out of his arms even though it felt so good to be in his hold. But his beast growls in his sleep and I stiffen.

My eyes scan around the room, falling on the rectangular clock on his nightstand. The glowing red drew five forty am It was morning already and I couldn't recall what time I had fallen asleep to end up in the Alpha's bed and now in his arms.

What if he wakes up and realizes he had his arms around me?

Not wanting the worst to come, I shift around again, only to get tugged even closer to him. His hold more firmly now and possessive,

'Sleep Aurora,' The soft command came above me and I shivered.

Without much of a fight, his command had won over me and soon I felt my eyes flutter shut and sleep take me away into endless darkness.

A knock sounded at the door rousing me awake. I began to stir, quickly realizing that I wasn't warm anymore. Or feel the weight of his arm pinning my waist.

I turn around hearing the platter of water running. He must be in the shower. An overwhelming weight of needing him beside me tempted me to go to him.

I didn't understand this feeling and it scared me.

Just then the door opens as if urgently. I whip back around in bed, my eyes falling on a beautiful woman who looked a little older than I would say she was the most beautiful woman I have ever seen until her scatures transform into an ugly scowl that showed her anger Confused and slightly scared by the woman's demeanor, I sit up and grip the sheets tightly as I keep my nervous gaze on her. She was a wolf and by the powerful aura she emitted, she was definitely of higher rank. I found myself wishing for Xavier. Something I did not think I'd ever wish for.

She closes the door behind her gently, as if to not make any sound alerting anyone, including the alpha. I opened my mouth but her eyes weighed down on me in fury and with a silent threat.

I keep my mouth shut, thrusting the tip of my tongue between my feeth and biting it.

The woman's black hair cascaded down her back in soft looking curls. Her eyes were blue and dazzling like some pearl And her bow shape lip curls into a snarl. I shivered, but not in pleasure like how I did with Xavier but in terror. The woman obviously hated my presence here.

“What purpose do you serve here?” She snarls as she heads towards me in strong powerful footsteps. I stiffen, my fingers still as they gripped the sheets

When she is beside me her stare paints into more of fury I found that her features looked very ugly now

“I don't understand ” I whispered, confused by her words. What purpose do I serve here?

Her angry gaze sweep down my body, well the parts that weren't hidden by the cover. She looks at mc in disgust, a look I'm lamiliar with Josic was night You are ugly. What kind of freak of nature are you?” The she wolf sncered. I flinched.

Her eyes rolled down my body again and her face twisted. Get off his bed Get off my man's bed.” Her demand was threatening

Istared at her wide cyed. “Wh-at?”

Her brow lift and she mocks me, “Wh-at”

“You heard me bitch. Get off my man’s bed!” She snarled, canines jutting out from her gums.

I swallowed. Then let out a gasp of shock when her fingers gripped my arm and harshly tugged me off of the bed. My fooling wasn’t right and I nearly twisted my ankle.

But I bit my tongue to stop from crying out. Her grip was lethal as she glares down at me. I was sure she’d leave an ugly bruise on my arm. Then suddenly her nostrils flared and she sniffs.

I look at her in alert as she bends her head and draw her nose closer to my cheek. A loud snarl coming from her made me jump. You smell of him you dirty bitch!”

My stomach drops.

I quickly reach up to touch my cheek, expecting to feel the dried up semen Alpha Xavier left on my face last night. But my skin feels smooth. The she wolf eyes turned a glowing blue and my heart thuds painfully. She was from a line of Beta’s.

“I’m sorry.” I try to apologize but it came out like a stuttering blabbing mess.

She looks down my body, snarling furiously as she growls.” What possessed him to touch something so disgusting like you?! You’re practically a stick! How can he get any pleasure from a body like yours!?”

“Your body looks distasteful.”

Her words did hurt. But something stirred in my being. Something unfamiliar and untameable. And that something made me glare back at the she wolf. And the words that slip out of my lips didn’t sound like they were mine

Get your nasty claws off me.” The words came out so calmly yet deadly that the she wolf blanched in shock. Not expecting me to speak up.

But instead of letting me go, her claws dig into my flesh. Something I didn't want. Right as I was about to wrench away from her grip with any strength I had, a voice colder than my own had been a while ago, spoke. "You have two seconds to step away from her before your head is flown off," The growl was scary and the man it belonged to was even worse. I snap my gaze to Alpha Xavier, his body bare and wet from his shower. But what instilled fear in me was the murderous glare in his eyes as he pinned them on the she wolf.

The Alpha Claimed Me Deeply Chapter 28

(Aurora pov)

The she woli turned to Xavier in shock and fear before she covers it with the lacade of being innocent

Netracting her claws from my arm, I quickly hold where that bled Yes, we weren't anywhere near ditt but it was something I did as a precaution "Xavici baby

Her gasp shocked the air as I watch with wide eyes as Xavier slams her into the wall His big hand wraps around her small neck and he presses harshly The veins on his arm and hands more prominent

He was so fast I didn't even sec the glcam of his flash.

The she wolf clawed at his hands, her nails scratching at any flesh she can get Xavier doesn't look the least bit fazed by her attempts to have him relasc her And that alone is frightening

She gasped for air, her eyes bulging. You had no permission to enter my room Adrian, Xavier growls lowly without any emotion leaking out

They were so cold, that I shivered while keeping my gaze on the two.

"I just came to see the bitch you ma-de warm your bed wh-en I wasn't here," She choked out, her eyes widening in terror as her life is being threatened by lack of air.

Xavier without a care, pecks behind his shoulder and his eyes fell on me.

Our eyes connected briefly before his eyes drop to stare at the arm I was holding. Keeping his angry gaze on my arm, he adds pressure to Adrian's neck and I hear a sickening crack before shc is let free.

Her hands claw at his legs as she falls. Blood dripped from her lips and she coughed even more of the crimson liquid. I stare wide eyed at her neck, horrified as the blue slowly emerges on her once smooth creamy skin. Her hands leave his legs to hold her neck and I notice he had pushed so hard that he had managed to break her larynx.

She looks up at him helplessly as she claws at her neck. Opening her mouth to scream only to gurgle on her blood.

My heart jumped in my throat as I witness his brutality for the first time up close. It wasn't a good feeling and made me fear what he could do to me.

Turning around, Xavier doesn't spare her another glance. "Leave before I do worse," He warned.

I stay frozen as I watch Adrian crawl towards the door as fast as she can not before her teary eyes sent daggers of hatred my way. A look that said this wasn't over. She shakily reaches up to wrap her hand around the door handle and managed to open it

I keep my gaze on her as she crawls her way out. I rather keep my gaze on the door than watch the angry Alpha whose eyes had not left me.

But he stoked over to me and I had no choice but to bring my eyes to his, avoiding staring at the dangling organ between his legs.

When he reaches me however, I am shocked when he touches my arm softly. The shock yet fright from mere seconds ago by his actions caused me to instinctively move away.

He did not like it and growled lowly, yet didn't touch me again. I keep my gaze trained on his wet chest, and suddenly even that innocent skin seemed to cause buzzing in my lower regions.

"Does it hurt?" He asked, and I could hear the urgency to know my answer.

I bit my lip and looked away from him completely as I shook my head.

"No Alpha. But I'm not the one you should worry about. Adrian

"Don't say her name," He cuts me off with a snarl.

Inodded, gulping. "The she wolf probably needs to see a doctor “Don’t worry about her Aurora She’s of Beta’s blood, she’ll heal last. This won’t kill her, unfortunately ‘He spat as if he was regretting not killing her on the spot.

I sighed shakily pressing my palm to my bleeding arm. I wished it would stop bleeding ‘She looked *Fine She’s capable of healing. You on the other hand, I don’t know if you can, Xavier growls lowly and takes a step forward “Let me see your arm Aurora,” He demanded, using his alpha voice that shook me I may not be a werewolf but his power alone can have anyone at his feet Without even thinking I remove my hand off my arm and looked away cautiously. A deep rumbling growl of anger sets the entire energy in the room shifting.

I didn’t understand why he would be so furious to see me hurt.

I flinch but don’t pull away this time when his long warm fingers wrapped around my arm to inspect.” Her claws dug into your skin * It’s fine, it doesn’t hurt that bad “I didn’t want him bringing me to a doctor or someone who does medicine I couldn’t take the risk of them taking any blood samples. Fearing they’d know of what it could do.

What it can grow

“You’re not fine Aurora. You’re bleeding!” He snarls, grip tightening on my arm.

“It doesn’t hurt

I started but of course I can never fully finish a sentence since he kept on cutting me off.

“I’m taking you to see the pack doctor.’ He grumbles, tugging me forward.

My eyes widen and my heart leaps into my throat. What I’ve been avoiding...

“Wait no.” I rushed out surprised I hadn’t stuttered as yet.

He looks at me in frustration, red flecks swirling with amber as they threaten to drown out the beautiful color.

“You will get this checked out Aurora. It’s either you come willingly or I throw you on my shoulder again and bring you there. You choose.” He snapped. I didn't like the tingles that raced on my arm where he touched, but I've come to terms with that I'll never get rid of them when he's near. I forced out a shaky smile, hoping I could convince him that I was fine and didn't need to see some pack doctor." Can't I choose neither?"

I squirmed under his piercing stare when they shifted into irritation. I was angering him, that I didn't intend to do. But I'd do anything to save my butt from actually being murdered.

"If you defy me again, I'll punish you more than I had done last night. You'll pain for something I alone can give you and I will not. It's your choice. Drag or go on your free will?"

My face felt hot from the memories of last night. I knew what he was speaking of. The pain to stay there will he touched himself and I couldn't. The pain of throbbing for him yet I couldn't ease it. I didn't want to go through that again.

Not receiving a response from me, Xavier growls in frustration before dragging me again. Before we reached the door, I press my heel to the floor and halted his actions, barely.

He turns to face me furiously." Aurora!"

I squirmed, under his stare as I spoke. "Sorry Alpha but you can't go out like," I cleared my throat and looked away from him. His cock was still on display and something like hot jealousy and possessiveness swirled in my being at the thought of some other woman seeing his cock.

The Alpha Claimed Me Deeply Chapter 29

I looked away nervously as we passed many wolves while making our way down the stairs Xavier had a firm grip on my arm, as if afraid I'd any second escape from his hold.

I was thankful that he at least got dressed, even though the shirt was inside out

Some looked at me like an intruder, some with disgust, some with mild intrigue. All those looks I've grown used to through my seventeen years of living.

Still, some part of me wished they didn't hate me before actually knowing me.

I squirm under their stare and find myself shifting closer to Alpha Xavier. My actions caused him to stiffen but he didn't question it or pull away from me.

A face I'm familiar with come into our vision just before we reached the door.

Samuel, the Beta, comes in our way, baring his neck to Alpha Xavier. Xavier stops and I lift my head to see the storm in his eyes. Was he angry with his beta?

'Alpha. I'm sorry about my daughter

'Your daughter can count herself lucky that I hadn't torn her neck off her shoulder.' Alpha Xavier snarled as his canines emerge out of his gums.

'Which I should've done.'

Beta Samuel took a cautious step back. I looked between the two nervously. Xavier wouldn't hurt his beta would he?

'Whatever she had caused, I will see to it that she is punished Alpha. Please spare her life for she is my only offspring.' There was a pleading tone behind Beta Samuel's words, I didn't expect anything less from a father who loves his daughter.

I couldn't help but feel somewhat guilty for perhaps causing it.

'See to it that your daughter stays far away from me and Aurora,' Xavier sneered.

As soon as my name slipped out of Xavier's mouth, the Beta's eyes snapped up to fall into mine in shock 'Aurora?'

'The reason you've nearly killed my daughter was for that girl' Samuel sputtered out in disbelief. 'The captive girl?'

'I-I do not understand,' He stutters, staring at me in shock and confusion. I could see the wheels in his head turning and found myself shifting closer to Xavier.

The action doesn't go unnoticed by the Beta, whose eyes widen and brows lift.' Alpha “There’s nothing to understand Samuel Just keep her away. Now if you’ll excuse me, I have to bring Aurora to the pack’s infirmary to look after the wounds your daughter inflicted on her.” Xavier grumbles, looking irritated that the Beta was still there.

Wounds? They were mere scratches compared to what I’ve endured for years.

“Yes Alpha, Showing his neck, Samuel moves out of the way.

We walked past him, my mind jumbled up with questions on why Alpha Xavier cared about my supposedly wounds so much.

You could tell it was indeed an infirmary with the stench of disinfectant and other liquids that I was not familiar with. The one-story building was big enough with many rooms and sat just beside the huge packhouse. It was almost like the human hospitals, way smaller but still shockingly big for just one pack.

“I need the best for my warriors when they’re injured.” Xavier suddenly said after catching me staring open mouth at the building.

He didn’t have to tell me but he chose to let that information slip I found myself smiling that he at least inhaled me with something even if it was something so little

An older man who looked more than the age of fifty walks over towards me with a huge smile plastered on his face ‘Alpha,

But then his gaze slipped to the girl his Alpha gripped which was me and his grey eyebrows shot up in shock and confusion “What is

“Oh,” His mouth parts as he looks me over. I squirm under his unwavering scrutiny Xavier makes a shocking deep growl that had a strong warning to it

The older man shifts his gaze from mine to his alpha in blatant shock

“What can I do for you Al-pha?” He sputtered.

Xavier nods his head to me. He turned to her. He commanded and started walking towards a room without asking for permission. I don’t think he needed it anyway

The man had no choice but to follow us and I’m very aware of his eyes on me. Not in a predatory way, but with blatant curiosity

Xavier pulls me to an empty table and a sharp staggering breath Iaves my lips when he turns me around to face him, places his big hands on my hips and hoists me up on the table.

I knew I wasn't the only one surprised by Alpha Xavier's actions. I could feel the man's stunned eyes on both me and Xavier. Xavier's eyes are pinned down on me and he nudges my chin up using his finger so that our eyes would meet. Tingles spring out of control where he touched. They did and I was stunned enough to pant like I needed more air into my lungs.

I didn't understand why one look, a mere look into his eyes would have me so breathless so

"May I?" The question was the only way to pull me out of whatever trance I had been with the alpha. I looked away shyly and set my gaze on the nervous looking elder man.

He gulped, beading sweat on his forehead as he looked at Xavier and me. In his grasp was a small cotton ball and the other held a bottle of what I believe was spirit. His hands shook. For what? I didn't know.

Xavier whose eyes had remained on me by the weight I felt, hesitantly shifted his attention to the older man. May you what Rodrigo?"

Rodrigo trembled under the weight of his alpha and nervously nudged his chin to my injured arm. 'May I have a look at the scratches Alpha? It would be best if I treat it soon in case of any infection. Considering she's not one...of us.'

Xavier suddenly grabs a hold of my hand almost possessively if I didn't know any better and gives a single stiff nod. Rodrigo's eyes fall to his. Alpha's hand wrapped around my arm and take cautious steps towards me.

Did he think I was diseased or something?

Did I look that odd to have him look at me so?

When he's beside me, Xavier's grip grows more firm. Something that has me questioning his actions.

Clearing his throat, Rodrigo begins to speak with his eyes set on my scratches and not on anything else. "It doesn't look too deep or in need of stitches. A tad bit of alcohol will surely help and some bandaids."

“This might sting a little _.” He trails unsurely and dabs some alcohol on the cotton ball. Giving his alpha a cautious side eye, Rodrigo visibly lets out a breath before brushing the spirit on my scratches. I gasped at the sting, squeezing my eyes shut. But the action seemed to have upset the Alpha seeing as a powerful growl filtered out of his mouth.

I peeled my eyes open quickly when Rodrigo began to plead, “I’m sorry Alpha. I didn’t mean to

My eyes quickly fall on the hand that held the cotton ball only to see that Xavier had brutally gripped it tightly, stopping any further action

“You hurt her and I’ll kill you!” Xavier snarls. And it’s then I realized that the problem was me. I needed to reassure him before he does something bad to that poor man who was only trying to help.

So swallowing my nerves and terror I whispered. “Alpha Xavier. It’s not his fault. He didn’t hurt me,”

My words had drawn his attention back to me and I was shocked to see that red had almost consumed his eyes “He hurt you

I shook my head. “No, he didn’t It’s okay, I’m fine,” I reassure, confused as to why I was trying to reassure him I was okay so badly or why his actions were just not adding up

Xavier stares at me for longer than necessary before nodding “Resume,”

He demands Rodrigo

After Rodrigo was done, Xavier shifted his attention to the man and stared him down. “I need to have a word with you outside Alone

Rodrigo nods at his Alpha’s words and turned around to leave I stared confused and slightly afraid of where Rodrigo would throw away the ball with some of my blood. I let out a relieved sigh when he throws it in the trash

“Stay here Aurora, Xavier demands, squeezing my waist slightly I’m shocked at the fluttering in my belly and confused by his actions

But I don’t voice them out, only nod to show that I would comply with his demand “Yes Alpha Xavier,” I whispered

The Alpha Claimed Me Deeply Chapter 30

Xavier's pov

Rodrigo followed behind me When the door is softly closed behind him I turn to peer into the small glass window that showed inside the room Pleased that Aurora listened to me, I fixed my gaze on Rodrigo He's been one of the best doctors here for years now,recruited by my father years ago He was also a good friend to my father. A close family friend. Which meant I could trust him.

After my father was murdered they all witnessed the unleashing of my beast Reckon From that day onward, everyone feared me, including him. There was no one to tame my beast before But now, now there was.

c Was nod

Was

And from Rodrigo's expression, he had figured it out. He was always a smart man, maybe too smart for his own good

You know about her," I murmured, quickly peeking at Aurora through the glass. Our eyes connected and I could see the soft feathering of blush on her cheeks at being caught looking She quickly looks away and I fight the urge to grin.

"I want her 'Reckon demanded like a horny wolf. I sighed moving my eyes off of her before Reckon has his way. I would be lying if I didn't say I was also starving for her.

I know what she is to you Alpha. But I don't know what kind of creature she is," Rodrigo admitted seeming to be cautious to admit it to me.

"And what is she to me Rodrigo?" I asked stiffly as I cross my arms over my chest

I needed to tread across those waters carefully.

He looked nervous, sweat coating his skin like another layer. I was making the poor older man squirm under my stare.

He cleared his throat more than twice, seeming to gather the courage to speak up. You must know it is absolutely rare for a wolf to be mated to a creature not of their own kind? (1)

He really was a smart man. Trying to work around the answer to not anger me I had to give him props.

Thumped, leaning my shoulder against the wall. "I didn't know of such a thing. This is the first time I'm hearing of it". lied, fixing my gaze on him.

He gulps, glances at Aurora through the glass and speaks. "Alpha Xavier, you know I've been a family friend for years. I would never do or say anything to upset you. But your father would've liked me to keep an out for you and that means to protect you from any inconveniences." I arch a brow, silently telling him to go on even though I had an inkling of where this conversation was heading.

"The girl in there is your mate. And even a blind person would know she's not of werewolf genes. In fact, her features are so rare that I have never seen anything like her before. Alpha....

He gulps, looking up at me cautiously and slightly frightened. "Our people will not accept her."

I stiffen.

His words were harmless but Reckon thought otherwise. Noticing my change of mood, he quickly speaks. "I mean no harm by saying this Alpha I just wanted to warn you before you... inform them of this."

I looked down at Rodrigo, anger coursing through me. Reckon wanted him dead. I did not. He was of good use to me and would be of good use now and in the future.

So forcing Reckon down with as much power as I could muster, I answered hoarsely. "I never said I would accept her as my mate or inform our people of her being my fated one."

For some odd reason, my tongue felt heavy after saying those words. And regret soon followed after. The feeling was so rare it shocked me enough to have me stop speaking for a couple of seconds.

"Yes we will!" Reckon roared getting angry again.

Conflicted by my emotions, I growled "Rodngo, you should not tell or speak of what you know to anyone keep this information to yourself

Have I made myself clear ?”

I wasn't ready for anyone to find out about her being my mate

Rodrigo nodded quickly, stammering a response “Yes Alpha!

I hummed looking down at the older man

He was a smart man and knew a lot about the history of wolves and other creatures. Perhaps he knew something about Aurora Or know how to get the needed information to figure out what she was and how it was possible for her to be my mate. I *Rodrigo,” I called out, looking around to see if there were other listening ears,

“Yes alpha ?”

Pleased to see that there weren't any eavesdroppers, I fixed my attention on the older man “You know my predicament here. Can you tell me anything at all to explain why the girl in the room is bonded to me even though she's not one of us ?

Rodrigo looked away from me and peered into the glass to stare at Aurora. He presses his lips together and looks thoughtful

“Have you checked if she's made by a witch ? You've made quite a few enemies Alpha It wouldn't be shocking that you've made an enemy of a witch. They can be nasty and crave vengeance badly. They would stoop to the lowest if they have to “He said while looking at Aurora through the glass in blatant curiosity.

“So you think a witch is capable of creating someone like her ?” I question, my eyes drawing to the beautiful creature that was bonded to me.

I had a feeling that this all was wrapped around a witch but a little part of me, a tiny part, wished it wasn't and that she was indeed bonded to me by the moon goddess herself.

Rodrigo nodded, answering all the doubts about a witch potentially being involved in this confusing yet intriguing bond.

“Have you checked if she was ? Witches loved to leave their marks on their dolls, In specific places for their specific goal If the girl was made just for you and is bonded to you, the witch is undoubtedly strong.”

Rodrigo said softly. I could see the gears in his head shifting as he tried to piece everything together.

“Which parts have you checked? Forgive me for intruding but I’m trying to help.”

“Every part of her.” I wasn’t embarrassed to admit it, in fact my chest puffed out * Forgive me again but I must ask. Did you so happen to check her -private region?”

Rodrigo quickly stammers out “Since she’s made specifically for you to be her mate, perhaps the witch has marked her there specifically. Or under her breasts. Some witch’s marks are faint so it may be difficult to spot them quickly.”

I hummed. Could it be that I had missed it while examining her? Well I was occupied with her glistening cunt and the scent of her arousal.

Perhaps I didn’t look well enough.

“I will have to examine her again,” I nodded while Reckon couldn’t contain his excitement to see her bare again I would be lying if I said I too wasn’t feeling excitement course through me.

“If you do happen to find that mark, you can bring her to me and I’ll draw some of her blood for testing. If she’s created by a witch, the witch’s blood would be bonded to her. That way we can find the witch who has done this.”

I nodded stiffly, not liking the idea of him having to draw some blood from her if I do happen to find a mark.

“Remember Rodrigo, this information only stays between the two of us,” I warned before opening the door. “Yes alpha,” He mumbles, baring his neck. You can trust me.”
