

Come on Daddy!

Chapter 221 I Am Indeed Very Angry

Bright had been silent after driving out of the Linder family's villa. He did not say a word, and even his face was cold and gloomy. Rose sitting next to him felt stressed and could hardly breathe.

Rose looked at Bright's cold profile, gently open her mouth, and tried to say something. But the words died on her lips as she didn't know what to say.

What Sophie said was true. She did lie to Bright. So, she was the one who was guilty and couldn't deny it.

Rose looked away and lowered her head. The shadows falling under her eyes to create a dark greenish hue.

She crossed her hands with mixed feelings.

The cramped space in the car made the silence between them even more intense.

Bright drove back to Asgard Lake Community. After parking the car, he did not immediately get off. Seeing he didn't get off, Rose also didn't move and seemed to be waiting for him to speak.

Bright sat for a few minutes and then said, "Get off the car and go home."

"Don't you... have anything to say to me?" Rose mustered the courage to speak first.

"We can talk about it after we go home." Bright unbuckled his seat belt and got off the car.

Rose followed him. Seeing Bright walk to the house, she rushed after him.

But she was so anxious and in such a hurry that she didn't pay attention to her feet and twisted her ankle, "Ah..."

She instinctively screamed out. Bright, who was walking in front of her, heard her voice, turned to look at her, and immediately turned back to help her.

"Why are you so careless? What are you thinking about?" Bright scolded her for her carelessness.

"I ... I'm fine." Rose tried to stand up and felt that nothing was wrong.

When Bright saw that she was fine, he was about to loosen his grip and let her go. Rose grabbed his hand in a hurry while seeing this, "Are you mad at me?"

"No." Bright said lightly.

"But I clearly feel that you are angry." Rose could feel it, "You didn't talk to me the whole way, and didn't smile when we got home. If you have something to say to me, just say it and I'm listening."

Bright, however, only stared at her for a moment, "Let's go inside first, okay?"

Bright withdrew his hand and walked inside.

Rose looked at her empty hand, and felt extra cold without Bright around.

She also entered the house. Bright had changed his shoes and gone upstairs. He went to Kathy's room first.

He pushed the door open, turned on the wall light, and walked to Kathy's bed. Looking at her peaceful sleeping face for a while, Bright tucked her in, kissed her on the forehead, and then left.

Rose saw what he did. Anyway, Bright did not dislike Kathy, but still cared about her very much.

Rose felt warm and followed Bright back to their bedroom.

Bright remained silent, took a robe, and went to the bathroom to take a shower. Rose just sat there. She was in an extremely bad mood and upset now.

It turned out that she was so afraid of losing Bright. When Bright got angry, she felt her mind was in turmoil.

When Bright came out after the bath, Rose stood up and greeted him, "I have something to say to you."

"I'm tired today. I don't want to say or hear anything, and just want to rest." Bright threw the towel aside.

He was so cold, which upset Rose.

But any man who knew his wife had such a past would have been unable to accept it, right?

"Bright, I know it's wrong of me to hide the past. But that's just the past. We didn't even know each other at that time. I can't change the past. If you are angry because of my past, I can only say I'm sorry for not knowing you earlier." Rose pursed her lips and brought up the matter first.

Bright sat on the edge of the bed and remained silent.

"It was true that I slept with someone to give birth to a child to save Sky. It was not only because he was my fiancé at that time, but also because he had saved my life. So, when he had an accident, I could not stand by and watch him die. I did not know how I got the courage to make such a decision and give birth to a child to save him. But now, I have no regrets about the decision. I said that I could not change the past."

"I can only take the past as a lesson for my growth and always remind myself not to make the same mistakes again. But I didn't expect to meet you and be with you now. But I swear I have never thought of making use of you. I remember how good you are to me. I also try my best to treat you well as your wife. This is my first time to be someone's wife, but I didn't do it well at last... Sorry."

"I have said all there is to be said. If you have any dissatisfaction or are going to make any decision, including our deal... I have no complaints... After all, it's my fault to hide too much from you." Rose could not help but choke on the final words.

She then took a deep breath to calm herself down. But her eyes were still a little red.

Bright looked at Rose and felt distressed. But he did not want to forgive her so quickly.

"Do you think I'm angry because I listened to Sophie, or care about your past?"

Rose gently looked up at him, not understanding what he meant.

"You think I'm so superficial? I will be affected by just a few words? Or do you have too little trust in me?"

"Aren't you angry at all? My past is indeed wretched and hard to speak out. As Sophie said, I am not so perfect. I am also selfish. So, I harmed Kathy and let her be born with an unfair fate."

"Other people don't necessarily do better than you when they come across something like this. So, you've done well." Bright pacified her.

"Really?" Rose was happy to win such praise from Bright.

Bright showed his attitude and position, "No matter what she says, I won't believe her. Because you are my wife. If I don't even have basic trust in you, then I am not a man and much less worthy of being your husband."

Rose listened carefully to what he said, and gradually calmed down.

Bright's words gave her an inner sense of security.

"Thank you for trusting me." Rose felt that she had misunderstood Bright.

"But Rose, do you trust me?" Bright switched the conversation to other subject, and his eyes were cold, "Don't think that you are all right because I believe you. I am indeed very angry. Do with that what you will."

Chapter 222 When Has He Been So Awkward?

Rose lightly bit her lips and frowned in thought. Since he wasn't angry about her past, or Sophie's provocation, was he angry that she didn't trust him as much as he did?

She glanced at Bright and asked, "I don't distrust you. But I'm not confident."

"What do you mean?" Bright frowned.

Rose hesitated whether to say. She was afraid she would anger him again by saying it.

"Aren't you going to say something? Why don't you continue?" Bright asked again.

"You can't get mad again if I say it." Rose whispered.

"So, you know that what you say will anger me? Then why can't you say something that won't anger me and will make me happy?" Bright's cold gaze fell on Rose's face and met her eyes, "Is it so hard for you to say something nice, Rose? Or I don't deserve it?"

Or maybe Rose just loved Sky all the time. So, as Sophie said, even though it was Sky who hurt Rose most, Rose didn't even get back at him.

Bright could not ask such a question. He had his pride and was afraid that he would get an answer that would break his heartstrings.

He clenched his fists with mixed feelings.

What he really cared about was if Rose really loved him.

"No, I just don't want to lie to you." Rose tried not to deceive him now. After all, she had deceived him about too many things.

"Now, you say you don't want to lie to me. Then what have you done before?" Bright was depressed.

In fact, he had tried hard to convince himself to trust Rose, so that they could keep their marriage.

But he found that he could not do it. After all, it was related to their relationship. He did not want to ignore it. If he just wanted to ignore it, he would not develop their marriage seriously.

He didn't mind her past. As she said, she couldn't change the past. But who was she thinking about now?

"After the incident Sophie said happened five years ago, I was given up by my dear parents and betrayed by Sky. Sky proposed to Sophie without even listening to me. I was expelled from the Linder family and disappeared to City Y. It was my wound. I couldn't let it go all these years and wanted revenge."

"These years, I never dare to open my heart to accept anyone. After being with you, I always feel like I'm dreaming. How will such an excellent man like you be so kind to me? You spoil me and protect me. Then, I gradually rely more on you...."

"But I'm afraid I will recommit the same error and lose everything... So, I do not dare to try my best and completely fall in love with you..."

"That's enough!" Bright did not have the courage to continue listening. His expression subconsciously changed. He secretly took a deep breath and suppressed his anger, afraid that he would act irrationally after getting angry.

Rose was frightened by his words.

She knew that Bright was really angry, no, he was furious.

"Bright, listen to me. After listening to what I say, it is up to you whether to get angry or not." Rose was anxious and tried to go on.

"I don't want to hear it right now. I think we both need to calm down."

Bright got up, "I'm going to sleep in the guest room today."

Since she wanted to lie to him, then just kept lying, or maybe he wanted to deceive himself and didn't want to be sober to face reality.

Bright had stridden away from their bedroom.

"Bright!" Rose looked at his back.

But the only answer to her was just the sound of opening and closing the door. She was left alone in the spacious bedroom.

Rose was a little upset, covering her face with her hands....

This night, they all did not sleep peacefully.

In the morning, Bright remained silent when he came back from his morning run and went to the bedroom to shower and changed clothes.

Rose felt as if she was air in his eyes.

Overnight, they seemed to be separated from each other.

She didn't disturb him. So, she went to get Kathy up and took her downstairs for breakfast.

Bright arrived later. Kathy called out to him cheerfully, "Good morning, Daddy."

"Good morning, baby." Bright reached out and gently rubbed Kathy's hair.

Bright did not show any dislike for Kathy, but still spoiled her as before. After breakfast, Bright and Rose took Kathy to school together. Then, Bright took Rose to her company.

On the way to the company, Rose wanted to say something to him. Just as she was about to speak, Bright received a phone call, "This matter is not urgent. You do not have to come over. You are not in good health. So, do not bother. We'll be back later. It's not too late to meet at that time. That's it."

Rose did not know who he was calling, and dared not ask, "Thank you for still being so good to Kathy."

"Kathy is innocent. I am not so mean." Bright put away the phone, and looked out the car window.

"That's not what I mean." Rose certainly knew that he was not such a man.

Love and hate in the adult world had nothing to do with children. No matter how terribly cool he was to Rose, Bright was still good to Kathy.

"Last night..." Rose wanted to continue yesterday's conversation, but was interrupted by Bright, "Why didn't you tell me that Kathy's real father wasn't Sky? Why did you keep it from me?"

Bright had asked Rose if Kathy's father was Sky back then. Rose had acquiesced.

Now, Sophie said Kathy's father was someone else.

"I ..." Rose didn't know how to answer for a moment.

"Ignore it." Bright raised his elbow, clenched his hand, and lifted it to his lips.

What was the point of asking the question now? Yes or no, it was none of his business anymore.

Or maybe she subconsciously wanted Kathy's father to be Sky.

They fell silent again. Rose felt frustrated. She wanted to talk to Bright, but unable to express herself properly.

Rose was about to get off the car when they arrived at the branch of YM Group in City H.

"Enjoy your lunch at noon." Rose waved at him after saying this.

"You too." Bright then instructed the driver to drive away.

He felt he had been fooling himself. He thought he could make Rose fall in love with him by being nice enough to her. But he forgot that it was not directly related to love.

She did not give him unconditional love... Wasn't it because she still could not get over Sky?

When had he, Bright, been so awkward!

Chapter 223 Take a Paternity Test After Giving Birth to the Child

In the Tanner family.

At 7:30 in the morning, Joy took Sophie to the Tanner family. Chandler did not go with them. He felt so humiliated. Moreover, he could not face Sam and May. After all, his two daughters had hurt Sky and let the Tanner family down.

But Rose did not marry Sky at that time anyway. This time, Sophie had gone too far. As the daughter-in-law of the Tanner family, she had an affair with Timothy and was even caught by the police on the spot and recorded. If it wasn't for their friendship with the Tanner family for so many years and he didn't want to ruin their relationship, Chandler really did not want to control Sophie, his daughter.

Joy preferred Sophie since childhood. Sophie also listened to her. So, seeing Sophie like this, Joy wanted to help her.

"Mom, do you think I look good like this?" Sophie straightened her clothes and checked her makeup and hair again.

"You've asked me many times. That's good enough." Joy looked at her and said.

"Will I look pale with this light makeup? And my face still has the scratch left yesterday ... It is so ugly. Will Sky dislike me?" the scratch on Sophie's face was very thin, not enough to disfigure her. But as a woman, she could not stand to have a little blemish, especially on the face.

"You are going to apologize for doing something wrong. Why do you have to be dressed up? The more pathetic you look, the better. In this way, you can get their sympathy." Joy reached out and pushed her forehead, "It is not the right time to think about being beautiful." Sophie nodded, feeling that her mother was right. So, she put the powder case away and was uneasy, "Mom, do you think Sky will see me? Yesterday, he said I did not deserve to go back to the Tanner family again ... I'm afraid he won't see me."

If she couldn't even see Sky, then what could she do?

"No. Don't worry. Mom will be with you. The Tanner family will not treat you badly out of consideration for me. Besides, one night of love is worth a hundred of friendship. You are pregnant with Sky's child. As long as you have a good attitude and look pitiful when apologizing with sincerity, they will forgive you. After all, they can't let the child be born without a father or mother. No one can bear it." Every word Joy said hit the nail on the head.

"Mom, I will definitely behave myself later. I won't let you down."

Sophie made up her mind.

The guard saw that it was the Linder family's car and let them go in. The driver parked the car in the courtyard. Joy and Sophie got off the car, then took some gifts they had brought, and walked to the house. The Tanner family had just finished breakfast. Sam and Sky were about to go to work. Alaya was going to send her kid to school. And May was seeing them off.

Joy and Sophie then entered the house. Joy said with a smile, "Good morning, guys. Sorry to bother you."

The smiles on all the Tanner family's faces disappeared when they saw Sophie, and they all turned cold.

Joy and Sophie naturally felt that they were regarded as unwelcome intruders by the Tanner family. But since they were here and had prepared themselves mentally, they had no choice but to go on.

Joy winked at Sophie, who stepped forward and put the gift box on the coffee table. Sky glanced at her, "Who let her in?"

Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves
"Sky..." Sophie called him weakly.

"Sky, this is also Sophie's home. It's normal for her to come home." Joy smiled and said.

"I made it clear last night at the Linder family that she did not deserve to go back to the Tanner family. So, she is no longer a member of the Tanner family. Please get out." Sky was heartless.

"Sky, Sophie is your wife and has saved you. Even if you do not care about your relationship, you should remember that she is your savior. Besides, she is pregnant with your child. Can't you forgive her for once?" Joy interceded for Sophie and pushed her secretly.

Sophie also reacted and said with a sad face, "Dad, Mom, Alaya, Sky, I know I was wrong. But I was forced by Timothy! I really love Sky. I swear that I will never bring shame on the Tanner family again. For the sake of the unborn baby, please give me a chance!"

"Sophie, don't insult love. You don't deserve to talk about love!" Sky was already unable to bear the betrayal.

If he forgave Sophie this time, he should have forgiven Rose back then!

"Sophie, you have brought shame on our family and cuckolded Sky.

How dare you come here to ask us to forgive you and give you another chance? What do you think we are? A garbage dump?" Alaya stood up for Sky and spoke for her parents who were not good at saying harsh words.

"After this scandal between you and Timothy, how can you guarantee that the baby in your belly is Sky's? Don't treat us all as fools!"

"The baby in my belly is really Sky's. he is the Tanner family's grandson."

Sophie explained in a hurry, reaching out and stroking her flat belly,

"Don't you even want your own child? This is the only bloodline of the Tanner family!"

"Sophie, if you say he is, then he is? You've lied too much. We won't believe you anymore." May had seen through Sophie's true face. After this scandal, she would not accept Sophie anymore.

"Sophie, you've never been wronged in our family. Has Sky wronged you? Why do you have to do such a shameless thing!" Sam remembered Rose and looked at Sophie in front of him, getting angrier,

"Do we owe the Linder family? Why did you guys bring shame on us again and again?"

"Let me tell you, our family will not accept such a shameless woman!

Rose and you will never be forgiven by us! Even if Sky forgives you, we will not forgive you as his parents!"

"Dad, Mom, I won't be that stupid." Sky was now more sober than ever.

He looked down at Sophie who had tears in her eyes, "Sophie, since you claim the child is mine, then alright. We will divorce after you give birth to the child."

"At that time, we will take a paternity test. If the child is mine, I will not shirk my responsibility and will raise the child. If not, then please take your child away and you will have nothing to do with my family!"

Sky's words broke Sophie's last hope. She fell into despair.

"No, no! I don't agree!" Sophie was heartbroken and painful, "Sky, you can't do this. Our child can't have no father."_

Chapter 224 I'm the One Who Really Loves You

Sophie felt painful and cried at the thought of being separated from Sky and the thought of her child being born without a father.

"Sky, I'm your wife. You can't be so cruel to me. I am the one who has been at your side and has stayed with you to get back on your feet and recover ... " Rose could not help but cry, "Now, I am pregnant with your child. You can't leave the child without a mother. We can't get a divorce!"

"The child has not been born. I'm not sure whose child he is until taking a paternity test. You really think I am stupid." There was no sympathy or softness on Sky's handsome face at all, "If not for the sake of the past, I wouldn't have waited until the baby is born to divorce you."

"From now on, you are not allowed to come back to the Tanner family and disturb our lives. You will live in the Linder family's villa. The money you need to spend on food, clothing and physical examination will be transferred to your card on the 1st of every month until you give birth. That's all I can do for you."

"No, I don't want a divorce. I don't want to leave the Tanner family. I don't want to leave you!" Sophie shouted and begged. But Sky ignored her.

"Sophie, this is my decision. It's not up to you!" Sky was so cold and the decision he made would not be easily changed, "Leave now and don't dirty my house."

"Dad, Mom, Alaya, please help me persuade Sky. I don't want to divorce him. I don't want to leave our family ... Please. Now, Sky will only listen to you guys..." Seeing that Sky was unmoved, Sophie could only place her hope on other members of the Tanner family.

She knelt down on the ground and kowtowed to Sam and May to show her sincerity.

"Sam, May, Alaya, Sky, look. Sophie has already known she was wrong. Please forgive her for once. She will definitely listen to you guys in the future and never do anything stupid again." Seeing this, Joy was also helpless and tried to make peace, "Sky, as the saying goes, one night of love is worth a hundred of friendship. Just forgive her this time, okay?"

"She has done such a thing. How can we forgive her?" Sam asked rhetorically, "She was so shameless and even taken to the police station! Our family is not a punchbag! We can't forgive her."

"We all respect Sky's decision!" May and Alaya also agreed, "We cannot forgive her."

"If I can forgive this kind of thing, then five years ago, I should have forgiven Rose and would have had nothing to do with Sophie!" Sky felt sad and slowly closed his eyes.

Once she heard Sky mention Rose, a spurt of anger flashed through Sophie.

"Rose?" Sophie stood up from the ground and confronted Sky, "Sky, don't you know how I, Sophie, have treated you for so many years? I was bullied by Timothy. As my husband, you did not seek justice for me, and even disregard the child in my belly and now you want to divorce me?"

"You are so heartless. I know you have not forgotten Rose! You always say that you hate her. But you still love her inside."

"I turned a blind eye and pretended not to know the fact that you loved other women in your heart. I was forced by Timothy. You cheated mentally and I cheated physically. We're even! I will not divorce you!"

"Sophie, you are simply shameless!" May was so angry that she trembled.

"May, don't be angry. It's not worth getting angry with this kind of person." Alaya supported May and patted her back to calm her down. Sky slowly opened his eyes. He was no longer gentle and looked at Sophie with cold eyes, "Get out!"

"Why should I get out?" Sophie smiled coldly, "I married you. I am the daughter-in-law of the Tanner family. I have the right to live here before our divorce! This is also my home!"

She widened her eyes which were filled with tears. But she remained stubborn, "As long as I am a member of the Tanner family, I will not let Rose into this home and take my place! Sky, no way!"

"Oh ... I forgot that Rose has married Mr. Bright. She is the noble Mrs. Bright now. Even if you want her to marry into the Tanner family, she will despise it. I'm the only fool in the world who will always be at your side!" Sophie's chest heaved violently. There was a mixture feeling of hatred and resentment, "Why can't you just look at me? I'm the one who really loves you."

"Sophie, you say you love Sky. What have you done can show that you love Sky?" Alaya frowned, "Timothy forced you? How did he force you? If you didn't have anything on him, how could he force you to sleep with him?"

"I used to think you were a nice girl, gentle and sweet. But look at yourself now. You're the one who did something wrong to Sky and the Tanner family. How can you still speak with such great confidence?"

"What is wrong with me? I am forced to be like this by you guys!"

Sophie's eyes were red, and she treated everyone as the enemy. Sky didn't say anything more to her, but just said, "Guys, get her out of here. Don't let her in anymore. Anyone who lets her in will be fired by the Tanner family."

"Yes, sir."

Then two men stepped forward and said to Sophie, "Mrs. Tanner..." "She is no longer Mrs. Tanner of the Tanner family." Sky corrected their address.

"Ms. Linder, please leave now, or we will be rude." The two men tried fair means before resorting to force.

"Who are you guys? If you dare to touch me, I will kill you!" Sophie glared at the two men and was still arrogant.

"Dad, let's go to work. Leave this to them." Sky called out to Sam. Sam frowned as he looked at Sophie, who was now crazy, and turned to leave.

"Sky, don't you go. Don't leave me." Seeing Sky was leaving, Sophie hastened to go after him and block his way.

Sky didn't want to look at her at all and just said to the two men coldly, "Why are you still standing there? There is no need to be polite to her. Just throw her out of here."

"Yes." The two men stepped forward and grabbed Sophie, while Sophie cursed, "You two are just the Tanner family's watchdogs. How dare you touch me? Let go of me!"

The two men ignored her curses and dragged Sophie towards the outside of the living room.

Chapter 225 You Should Have Known the Consequences

Joy watched Sophie being dragged straight out by the two men and could tell that the Tanner family was determined not to accept Sophie anymore. She was also exhausted.

She still persuaded Sky hopefully, "Sky, calm down. Sophie is pregnant now and is in a bad mood, talking nonsense. Please don't blame her for what she has done. I will definitely teach her a lesson."

"I have nothing more to say to her." Sky glanced at the things on the coffee table, "Please take what you brought with you."

With that, Sky and Sam then went out. Alaya helped May upstairs, leaving Joy alone in the living room.

"Mrs. Linder, I will send you out." Lauren, the servant of the Tanner family, came forward and said.

Joy sighed and was too ashamed to stay in the Tanner family. So, she turned to leave helplessly.

Lauren picked up the gift boxes on the coffee table and followed Joy to send her out.

Sophie was held by the two men. She couldn't break free and could only watch Sky get into the car, unable to get close.

"Sky, you can't do this to me!" Sophie just repeated these words, unwilling to be a stranger to Sky.

She had gone to great lengths to drive away Rose five years ago and got Sky's trust and affection. But after only five years, she had nothing left. What she had given and her feelings for Sky was true. She even gave Sky her heart. But now, she was still abandoned by Sky.

How could Sophie be resigned to it? It was so hard to get over it!

But no one paid any attention to Sophie, as if she was the air. No matter what she said or cursed or yelled, they just ignored her.

The driver drove the car out of the Tanner family's carved gate. Sophie was pulled out of the Tanner family's gate by the two men.

Once Sophie was free, she chased after the black car Sky was sitting in.

"Sky, wait for me. Sky, have you forgotten what you said five years ago? Have you forgotten that when we got married, you said you would take care of me for the rest of your life and wouldn't leave me alone? Sky ... you can't do this to me ... " Sophie desperately chased after the car and kept crying.

But Sky was unmoved by Sophie's actions. He sat in the car and just slowly closed his eyes, not wanting to look at Sophie's strange face through the reversing mirror.

"Sky, are you okay?" Sam looked at Sky, who frowned, and felt distressed.

"Dad, I'm fine." Sky shook his head, but did not open his eyes.

"The Linder family has gone too far. Don't worry. Dad won't let you suffer so much again and again." Sam patted Sky's shoulder, "From now on, we will never have any cooperation with the Linder family again."

"For a woman like Sophie, don't feel sorry for her. She made her bed, let her lie in it. She can't blame anyone!"

"Dad, I know. Don't worry. I can handle it." Sky opened his eyes and smiled at Sam.

Sophie was still chasing the car. Sky said to the driver, "Drive faster."

"Yes." The driver nodded and step on the accelerator harder to drive faster and shake Sophie off.

The accelerating car lengthened the distance between her and Sky. It gradually disappeared at the corner. Sophie, who had been pampered, didn't run far away before she had exhausted her strength and collapsed on the ground.

She braced her hands on the ground, gulping for air. Sweat dripped on the ground. But she kept staring at the direction the car disappeared and was not willing to look away.

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves "Sky ... why are you so cruel to me ..." Sophie clenched her fists slowly and was painful. Her shoulders trembled. She bit her lips and finally cried.

In these two days, she shed more tears than she did in the five years she was with Sky.

Back then, it was because of happiness. Now, it was because of despair. The Linder family's car stopped next to Sophie. Joy was sitting in it. The window was rolled down. Joy looked down at Sophie who was sitting on her knees in the middle of the road crying, "What's the use of crying now! If you had known it would come to this, you would have acted differently!"

"If you hadn't let Timothy and Rose go on a blind date, would I have been set up and forced by him? Don't you have any responsibility for me being where I am today?" Sophie laughed bitterly.

When Joy heard this, her face sank and she was very unhappy.

"Sophie, as your mother, I have done what I can do for you. The Tanner family can't forgive you and I can't help it. I am too ashamed to come to the Tanner family again. So, you can stay here as you want." With that, Joy said to the driver, "Let's go."

The window was slowly rolled up and blocked Joy's delicate face with makeup. Joy was indifferent.

The car passed by Sophie and drove away. Dust from the back of the car poured on Sophie's face, making her choke and cough.

Sophie looked at the distant car but did not move at all. She would not just leave the Tanner family with nothing.

She had to wait here for Sky. She didn't believe that he was so cruel to her. He must be in a fit of anger and couldn't forgive her now. She should wait here for him until he cooled down. Then, she could go home and they could still love each other as before.

Sophie cherished illusions, stood up, and walked to the Tanner family's front door. She rang the doorbell, but the rest of the Tanner family didn't dare to let her in.

No matter what she said or did, they ignored her.

Sophie had to wait outside the door and sat on the ground against the pillar when she couldn't support herself anymore.

In the living room, May was drinking herbal tea with Alaya, "Has she left?"

"Not yet." Alaya shook her head.

"This woman is so shameless!" May was so angry that she put the delicate European-style tea cup in the saucer with a displeased face, "What if she's seen by others while she keeps staying at the door? She has disgraced our family. Now she even wants to drag us to hell. She really has ulterior motives!"

"May, don't be angry. It's not worth it to damage your health." Alaya leisurely sipped her tea, "She is definitely not resigned now. Just ignore her. She will give up after two or three days."

"And she is the one who did something wrong. If she remains stubborn, we can hold a press conference to make it clear. People who know nothing will understand how aggrieved we are."

"Then we will be laughed at by others!" May didn't think it was a good idea.

"The Linder family will be humiliated too! So, I will make it clear to the Linder family. Either we'll all be ridiculed, or they take their precious daughter back and stay away from our family." Alaya said.

May nodded and relaxed a little, "But it really gives Sky a hard time."

Alaya held the cup in her hand and pursed her lips, not saying a word. _____

Chapter 226 He Decided to Divorce

Sky arrived at the Tanner Group and entered the General Manager's office. Then his assistant Rex Cox followed in, "Mr. Sky, what can I do for you?"

Sky sat down on the leather swivel chair and said, "Help me find out what Rose was doing when I was hospitalized five years ago, which man did she know and who is the child's father. And I want to know who the donor was. Find out the answers as soon as possible."

"Yes, Mr. Sky." Rex promised and then left.

After he left, Sky put his elbows on the desk, with his fingers clasped and his eyebrows frowned.

After sitting there for a while, he stood up and then squatted down to open the last drawer of the desk, and then he took out a white wooden picture frame which was covered by many books.

He put the picture frame on the desk. The glass of the frame was broken, but the picture inside was still intact. He stroked the person in the picture with his fingers through the glass.

The girl in the picture was Rose. She was about 18 years old in the picture; she was standing under a cherry tree, with long hair and hair clasp in the picture; she smiled happily and looked like a fairy in a fairyland with a white dress and the petals falling down around her.

He always put this picture on the head of his bed; later he took it into his office when he had an internship; and then he took it into the hospital when he was sick, because he wanted to stay with her every moment. However, she disappeared when he was sick and he was about to die...

When she appeared with a child in her arms, he felt hurt and sad. He would rather not have undergone the operation or healed, he would rather die.

After he married Sophie, he pushed him to forget Rose. And he had forgotten her for five years. However, he couldn't forget her until right now, and he still remembered her.

He didn't give her a chance to explain, so he had to find the answer by himself now.

At the same time, Bright was sitting in the office and listening to the report of Bill.

"Mr. Bright, is clear?" Bill didn't think that he could focus on work today.

Bright thought about something for a while and then said, "Bill, I need your help."

"What can I do for you, Mr. Bright?" Bill asked.

"I want to know what happened five years ago..." When Bright talked about it, Bill was nervous and interrupted him, "Do you want to investigate the woman who slept with you and then disappeared five years ago?"

He investigated her for a long time, but he couldn't get any information about her. Finally, Bright gave up on investigating her. Why did he mention her again?

Bright stared at him and said, "Thanks for reminding me that you couldn't even get any information about a woman."

"Mr. Bright, I think she had planned it well before she did it. She was so sly. " Bill was questioned in terms of his capability because of this woman, so he was also dissatisfied with this woman.

"No excuse!" Bright leaned against the back of his chair and blamed him.

Bill dared not to say anything with his head down.

"This time, I would like to give you one more chance. But this time you need to investigate Rose." Bright had no choice but to do it because he didn't know more about Rose.

Why didn't she want to explain to Sky but made him mistake it since Doris wasn't his daughter?

What didn't she tell everyone who was Doris' biological father? What was her purpose?

"Help me investigate what happened when Rose gave birth to Doris 5 years ago. I want to know more about it in detail. And the most important thing is to investigate who Doris' biological father is."

"Yes, Mr. Bright. I won't let you down this time. " And then Bill left.

Rose felt he was left in a hurry. _____

Chapter 227 Give Birth to Sons

After work, the driver had been waiting for her at the entrance of the company. The driver opened the door of the car for her, and then she got in the car.

On the way to kindergarten, Nora called her, "Rose, let's go out for drinking tonight."

"I have to pick up Doris." Rose answered, "And I have to take care of her tonight."

"Ask Mr. Bright for help." Nora acted like a child.

"He came back to City J today..." Rose was upset when talking about Bright.

"Doesn't he stay at home? That's great! You must go out with me." Nora laughed happily and said, "And you can take Doris to my home, and Freya will take good care of her."

Rose kept silent for a while and thought about it twice.

"Since Mr. Bright has come back to City J, it is a good chance for us to go out and have fun. Jayden also has time today, and we haven't got together for a long time. Come on, let's go." Nora tried her best to persuade her.

"Alright." Rose had promised her, because she also wanted to see Jayden.

"Then I will wait for you and Doris at home." Nora said happily.

When Rose arrived at the kindergarten and picked up Doris, Doris didn't see Bright and she asked, "Mom, where is dad?"

"He went back to City J to see his friend." Rose held her hands and answered, "We will go to visit aunt Nora."

"That's great! I also miss aunt Nora." Doris was a bit excited, "I am so glad to see her."

Rose touched her head gently with her hand and held her in her arms. She felt that she didn't care about anything as long as Doris stayed together with her.

When they arrived at Nora's home, Freya had already prepared a meal for them. She greeted, "Hello, Miss Rose. Hello, Doris."

"Hello, Freya." Rose and Doris answered her together.

Nora walked forwards and bent down to tapped Doris' nose gently with her finger and said, "Do you miss me?"

"Of course." Doris kissed her face while talking.

"Let's go for dinner." Nora held her hand and took her to the dining room.

Rose put down the handbag and her bag and then walked to the dining room, too.

Nora liked eating some greasy foods while Rose liked eating some vegetables and fruits and drinking yogurt.

"Eat less, please." Nora said to Rose, "We will drink some wine later."

Among three meals a day, Rose would eat some light food in the evening. But Doris needed nutrition, so she would make a nutritious meal that was suitable for her.

After dinner, they played together with Doris for a while, and then Jayden came to pick them up.

They asked Freya to take care of Doris, and Doris was well-behaved,

"Mom, you are very tired after work every day, so it's good for you to go out to have fun. And you don't need to worry about me."

Rose was so moved and really appreciated because her daughter was so sensible and considerate.

The driver was in charge of driving. Jayden sat in the passenger seat, Rose and Nora in the back.

They went to Koo Bar, which was the biggest and best bar in City H. And those people in the bar were excited again and again.

They went upstairs to the second floor and found a table with dividers around and then sat down. They faced the dancing floor downstairs so they could see the sexy girls dancing on the dancing floor with the music.

Jayden asked the waiter to give them two dozens of wine, which surprised Rose, "Jayden, are you sure we can drink all of the wine?"

"Compared with others, we are so weak. I think we should drink much more." Nora said disdainfully.

"Do you forget that you cried in the street after you got drunk last time? Don't drink too much." Rise replied to her.

"How could you go out for drinking without inviting me?" Jayden leaned against the sofa, with his legs crossed.

"Would you go out to the food stall at the entrance of our school to drink? Come on, it isn't suitable for you since you are so noble." Nora sneered.

Jayden always pursued an exquisite life, and he required high quality for everything in his life. So he wouldn't go to a food stall to have a drink.

"Open the bottles of the wine, and let's drink." Jayden said to the waiter.

Rose, Nora and Jayden took up the bottles and cheered together.

"I heard that you had a blind date before." Nora asked Jayden playfully,

"Who was the girl? I heard that she was the daughter of the Kaur family."

"Is it Lilah Kaur?" Rose heard that Lilah Kaur was very excellent so she could match Jayden. And seldom girls could be compared with her in City H. So she said, "I think she can meet your high requirements."

Jayden drank the wine and then answered, "No."

"What family was she from?" Nora asked again, because she was more curious about it.

"The Rees family." Jayden said indifferently.

But they didn't know that the Rees family had a daughter. They heard that Mr. Rees had three wives and there were all boys in the Rees family, so many people admired the Rees family.

On the contrary, the Clark family only had one boy, who was Jayden.

And he was the youngest child in his family.

So it was different from the Rees family.

"It is said that his first wife gave birth to twins, and their daughter was stolen by others at that time. But they find her now." Jayden stood up and looked forwards.

"I think the Clark family is so powerful. After your grandpa told in public that he wanted to help you find a girl to get married, everyone has tried their best to introduce their daughters to you. I think you are so lucky." Nora laughed loudly.

"It is not clear whether the girl found by the Rees family was given birth by his first wife or was given by another woman with Mr. Rees. I don't want to be cheated by them." Jayden said with sarcasm.

"The most important thing is which one do you like?" Rose asked him.

"In my opinion, he must like the girl of the Kaur family, because he really has high requirements and a good taste." Nora said.

"I won't fall in love with a girl easily." Jayden said, "Moreover, I am just 27 years old and I don't want to get married at all. I want to enjoy my life because I am so young."

"..." Rose and Nora glanced at him and said, "You can't decide whether to get married, because your grandpa will make a decision for you. Tell me which one does your grandpa like?"

Jayden frowned and then answered, "No matter which one he likes, it depends on me."

"I think it must be because your grandpa thought that the girl of the Rees family could give birth to sons, so he would promise to ask you to have a blind date with her." Rose said, "So I think he will ask you to marry her."

"But I think it is more possible that he will ask Jayden to marry the girl of the Kaur family, because their daughter has been educated well. On the contrary, the girl of the Rees family didn't grow up in the Rees family, so she may be worse than the girl of the Kaur family. In every aspect." Nora expressed her own opinion, "Unless..." She didn't continue on purpose.

"What do you want to say?" Rose asked her.

And Jayden also looked at her and waited for her answer. _____

Chapter 228 He Is Jealous

Nora smiled mysteriously, "Unless Jayden fell in love with her at first sight and regarded her as the one."

Jayden spit out a sip of wine very inelegantly.

Fortunately, they sat in the VIP area on the second floor, so there were not so many people paying attention to them.

Nora and Rose were too late to escape, and some wine stains were sprayed on their bodies.

"Jayden, please pay attention to your own image." Nora took a few pieces of tissue to wipe the wine stains on her arms.

"I swear I won't fall in love with her." Jayden wiped his lips with a piece of tissue.

"It means that you don't like her, right?" Nora turned to Rose who was sitting beside her and said, "Rose, I think I guess it is right. He likes Lilah."

"Well, you won." And then Rose took up a bottle of wine and said, "I'll drink."

Rose closed her eyes and then drank the wine. And Jayden said after cleaning himself, "I indeed choose Lilah, but my grandpa likes Sia Rees. So..."

Rose threw a pillow to hit Jayden and said, "Jayden, why didn't you tell us just now?"

If so, either Nora or her won. So she shouldn't have drunk the wine just now.

"So what happened?" Nora was anxious, "Did your grandpa ask you to marry both Lilah and Sia so that you can two wives just like Mr. Ree?" Jayden glanced at Nora and put down the pillow he got from Rose.

"But I think it feels good, because you can have two wives, and they can give birth to many sons for you." Nora laughed at him.

"What are you talking about? Who dares to do like this?" Jayden didn't agree with her, "Even if a man can have more wives, I won't do that."

"Since you have such a good gene, it's really a pity not to have more children." Nora liked to argue with Jayden.

"Then why don't you have many children with Alan?" Jayden asked her.

"As you can see, I don't love him, so I won't give birth to a child with him." Nora shrugged her shoulders lightly.

She wore a red off-shoulder dress with a ruffled neckline and long wavy hair scattered over her shoulders, which made her look very feminine.

"I don't love them, either." Jayden stared at Nora and then suddenly laughed, "Nora, since you don't love Alan, you can divorce. Actually, I like a girl like you. If you didn't get married when I was abroad, I would have gone back and married you, and then he had no chance to marry you."

"Even though you won't mind if I divorce, your grandpa will be angry."

Nora supported her chin with her hands and said.

"Forget it. I don't want to hurt you." Nora shook the wine bottle in her hand and said, "And I have been getting along well with him these years. He did what he promised me when we got married. Besides, I won't fall in love with other people if I get married."

"..."

Jayden and Rose cheered and then drank.

"What do you guys mean?" Nora said with dissatisfaction, "Let's drink together."

"Rose, drink with me." Rose opened a new bottle of beer and then handed it to Rose.

Next, they drank together again.

There were more and more empty bottles on the desk, Nora said to him kindly, "Jayden, what should you do?"

"I have no choice but to choose one." Jayden said indifferently and he seemed not to worry about his own marriage.

"Jayden, as your best friend, I hope you can marry a girl that you really love, otherwise, it makes no sense to get married. And you will be happy only after you marry the one you love." Rose told him, because it was a pity for her and she couldn't do it once again.

"Happy? Do you think we are happy?" Jayden felt that it was ridiculous, "I don't want to talk about it. I just want to have fun and enjoy my life. You don't need to worry about me, because I know what to do."

And then he stood up and walked to the handrail, with one bottle of wine in his one hand and the other hand in his trouser pocket. He shook his body with the music while looking at those people who were dancing.

He looked around and then looked at the bar counter. He was not far away from the bar, which was on his left, and the bar was the brightest area.

He saw a man sitting on a high stool and drinking alone. He felt that the man looked familiar.

At this time, a beautiful woman in low-cut clothes was walking towards him and it seemed that she wanted to seduce him.

Jayden smiled and then said to Nora and Rose, "Do you know who I see?"

"Who? A pretty girl?" Nora laughed.

"A man. And we are familiar with him." Jayden looked at Rose and said, "And we got along well with him before..."

"Sky?" Nora said.

Rose also knew that he was Sky, but she didn't want to answer. She took up a bottle of wine and then drank.

"Why doesn't he stay at home with his wife while drinking alone here? He seldom came to places like a bar." Nora thought that there was something wrong with him.

"I would like to invite him to drink with us." Jayden said.

"Jayden, why do you want to do that?" Rose was a bit angry with a wine bottle in her hands, "I'll go if he comes here."

"I want to take revenge on him because he hurt you like that before. I will make him drunk tonight." Jayden told her what he wanted to do.

"I don't want to see him." Rose took up a bottle of wine and drank quickly, so she choked.

"Then I would like to go downstairs and drink with him." And then Jayden left.

"Don't think too much." Nora patted her back gently, "Jayden just wanted to help you. Don't blame him."

"I don't want to blame him. I just don't know how to deal with it if I see him." Rose tried not to cry and then drank the wine again.

Nora thought that there was something wrong with him, "What's wrong with you?"

"Sophie told everyone that I gave birth to Doris to save him." Rose told Nora what had happened yesterday.

Nora was shocked and said, "So Mr. Bright has been angry after he knew about it, right?"

"He said he wouldn't be angry. But I could feel that he was angry." Rose said.

"He didn't tell you what he thought exactly," Nora sighed, "if it were me, I would be sad, too. After all, you gave birth to a child to help your ex-boyfriend. It meant that you really loved him, so you would be so brave to save him. I don't think he was angry. I think he was jealous." _

Chapter 229 Sense of Security

Rose felt it was unbelievable and surprised, and then she frowned and thought about it again. She couldn't believe that he was jealous.

Rose suddenly realized that after Nora told her.

"Nora, was he really jealous?" Rose couldn't believe it.

"If he wasn't, why would he behave like that?" Nora said with a smile, "I think he really cares about you."

"I don't like Sky at all. Why is he jealous?" Rose thought it was a bit strange, "I won't love Sky since he hurt me like that before. Why doesn't he understand?"

"Does he know that you don't love Sky anymore? Have you told him you love him clearly?" Nora asked her.

Rose thought about it and then said, "It seems that I never told him."

"So he can't make sure whether you love him or Sky because you never told him about it." Nora touched her heart and said, "And, you told him that you didn't love him with all of your passion. You really hurt him this way."

"He interrupted me before I finished speaking at that time. I indeed said that I didn't love him with all of my passion at the time. But it was because he was so excellent, and I wasn't confident, so I was afraid of being hurt if I loved him with all of my passion..." Rose bit her lip. She was afraid that she would be hurt again, so she dared not to love him with all of her passion. After all, she couldn't bear emotional hurt again.

"Once bitten and twice shy." Nora held her shoulders gently and said with love, "I can understand you. However, Mr. Bright is a man. Men are always possessive. And you are his wife, so he hopes that you can belong to him. I don't think he was wrong."

"Rose, you need to communicate more with him. And you need to tell him how you think clearly, so that he can know that you love him." Nora looked at her and said, "As a woman, we need a sense of security, so does a man. And I think you should do more for Mr. Bright."

"He is so excellent. Why does he also lack a sense of security?" Rose didn't understand.

"No matter how excellent he is, when he falls in love with someone, he will lack a sense of security. It means that he really cares about you and loves you so much." Nora told her.

Rose was surprised, but she still felt it was unbelievable.

Although she knew that Bright was nice to her, liked her and tried his best to protect her, she dared not to believe that he loved her.

"As he is noble, he won't be jealous of a woman easily. Therefore, if he is jealous because of you, he must love you so much. Trust me, Rose."

Nora patted her shoulders lightly and encouraged her, "After he comes back, you should talk with him and tell him what you think."

Rose nodded with agreement, and then Nora took up a bottle of wine and said to her, "Come on, let's get drunk."

"But I will be more upset after waking up." Although she said that, she drank together with Nora.

Rose had to go to work the next day, so she intended to go back home after she checked the time.

Nora left together with her. When they went downstairs, they met Jayden, who was intending to go upstairs.

"What are you doing?" Jayden looked up to them and asked, with a wine bottle in his hand.

"I have to go back home because I have to go home tomorrow." Rose pulled the metal chain of her bag and then intended to leave.

Nora followed her. Rose would go back to her home tonight, so she should go back home together with her.

"No one stays together with me if you leave." Jayden saw them walking away.

He finished drinking the wine in his hand, and then put the bottle down. Finally, he felt bored, so he had to leave.

Jayden followed them and went out of the bar. There was a parking lot in front of the entrance of the bar. When they walked towards the car of Jayden, they saw a man vomiting by bending down while holding his car with one hand.

"Sky?" Although it was dark, Nora recognized him at first sight. And then she said to him with sarcasm, "Mr. Sky, why don't you stay at home with your wife while getting drunk here?"

When Sky heard her voice, he wiped his mouth with his hands and then stood up and turned to them.

He looked at Rose and found that she looked indifferent and didn't care about him at all.

Sky frowned and he looked complicated in his eyes, but he turned back and left without saying anything.

Although he was drunk and he couldn't walk steadily, he tried his best to walk away.

"Did you make him drunk like that?" Nora glanced at Jayden and asked, "How much wine did he drink?"

"I just helped him because he wanted to be drunk. I don't remember how much wine he drank." Jayden didn't ask him to drink too much. On the contrary, Sky asked him to drink all the time.

"Let's go." Rose turned back.

When they got in the car, the driver drove the car away from the bar. Sky got in his car and watched them leave. He touched his forehead because he had a headache. And then he said to his driver, "Let's go home."

And then the driver drove him home. On the way home, Sky didn't say anything. He just leaned against the back of the seat and closed his eyes to take a rest. It seemed that he fell asleep.

When they arrived at the entrance of his house, he was awakened because the driver suddenly stopped the car.

He supported himself by holding the back of the seat and asked, "What happened?"

"Mr. Sky, I am so sorry. There was a person who suddenly came out and then stopped in front of the car." The driver was a bit scared, "I will get out of the car to check who he is."

The driver wiped his sweat on his forehead and then opened the door and got out of the car. With the dim light, he found that she was Sophie. She stood in front of the car and stopped the car with her hands.

With messy, wrinkled clothes and pale face, she looked so haggard, without any light in her beautiful eyes as before. It was only a day, she was no longer the sweet and delicate Mrs. Sky.

"Mr.... Miss Linder, what are you doing here? It is very dangerous."

Drive almost called her Mr. Sky because he was in a panic, "If you get injured, I will be blamed by the Linder family."

The driver was scared. He didn't expect that she would suddenly come out and wanted to stop the car. If he didn't stop the car as soon as possible, she would get injured.

Sophie didn't answer the driver. She got close to the car and patted the window and said, "Sky, I know you are sitting in the car now. Can you talk with me?"

Sky felt worse with a headache when he heard her voice.

"Parry, go back home." Sky had to ask the driver to drive him home.

Chapter 230 Don't Pretend to Be Dead

The driver said yes and then intended to get in the car. However, Sophie stood in front of the car again and said, "If you don't talk with me, I won't let you go, unless you drive the car and crush over me."

The driver looked at Sophie and dared not to drive. He had to ask Sky for help, "Mr. Sky, Miss Linder doesn't walk away... What should we do?"

Sky sighed and he really hated Sophie.

He rubbed his forehead with his hands and kept silent for a while. And then he opened the door and got out of the car while talking to the driver, "I'll go back home by myself."

Sophie thought that Sky promised to talk with her when she saw him getting out of the car.

However, Sky just walked straight to the gate of the house but didn't pay attention to her at all.

Sky tried his best to walk steadily, so that Sophie couldn't find that he was weak.

Sophie bit her lip and followed him. She held his arm with her hand and said, "Sky..."

Sky pushed her away with disgust and said, "Don't touch me! I think you are so dirty and you make me sick."

"Sky, you know what? You make me feel hurt. I was forced by Timothy to make love with him because of Rose. She drugged my wine and then Timothy raped me! It was all because of her! I am your wife. You should take revenge on her for me because she hurt me like that." Sophie said to him.

"Sophie, it was your own fault. Why can you shirk your own responsibility? I don't think you are innocent." Sky looked at her face and said, "If I didn't know the truth, you would cheat me forever. Why do you always lie to me?"

"Five years ago, we gave a bank card with two million in it to the donor, and no one has withdrawn the money during the past five years.

However, the money was withdrawn not long ago. Why? Sophie, tell who the donor is."

"The donor has the right to withdraw the money. It's none of my business. You can't suspect me." Sophie refused to admit what she did.

Because she had withdrawn one million and gave it to Timothy. She needed money, so she had to withdraw the money from the bank card." "You always lie to me, so I don't want to talk with you anymore." Sky said, "Don't come here again. I don't want to see you. Get away from me."

"Sky, I am your wife, so I have the right to stay with the Tanner family. You can't ask me to get out." Sophie didn't want to leave.

"If you keep doing like this, I will send the document of the divorce agreement to you tomorrow." Sky originally wanted to divorce after the child was born. However, he couldn't stand her anymore because she was really like a rogue.

"I won't sign the document. Moreover, I am pregnant now, so you can't divorce me." Sophie was really shameless, "After giving birth to the child, I will have a suckling period. And you can't divorce me during the period, either. Sky, why do you insist on divorcing?"

"I know I should have tried to get rid of Timothy by any means. It was my fault. Can you forgive me?"

"No way!" Sky answered firmly and indifferently.

If he could forgive her so easily, why didn't he forgive Rose before?

Sky opened the small door on the left side of the gate with carve patterns and walked into the house. Sophie wanted to follow him, but she was stopped by two men who were standing at the gate.

"Get away from me! I am Mrs. Sky. Don't you know who I am?" Sophie said to them arrogantly.

The two men didn't answer her and then closed the door.

At the same time, the driver drove the car into the Tanner family.

Sophie wanted to get into the house through the gate, but she failed.

She couldn't stop the gate from closing, so she could only stand there.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

Sophie knocked at the gate and yelled to Sky, "Sky, it was my fault. I haven't eaten anything for a whole day. Can you let me in to drink some water and have dinner? Even though you don't care about me, you should care about our child. Sky..."

Sophie pretended to be poor and begged him. But Sky didn't reply to her.

"Sky..." Sophie felt hopeless and she was so sad that she wanted to cry. She leaned against the gate and then sank to her knees. She cried with tears.

However, she didn't want to leave, because she wanted to get sympathy from Sky.

After ten minutes, someone opened the gate and put down a handbag by her side. She asked, "What is it?"

"Miss Linder, there are some food and drinks in the handbag." The man said.

"Does Sky ask you to give it to me?" Sophie was a bit glad. Did he hear what she said just now?

"No." The man denied.

Sky asked him not to tell her the truth, otherwise, she would think that he still loved her.

"No, you are lying. It must be given to him. I know he will care about me. He is just mad at me and doesn't know how to persuade himself to forgive me right now." Sophie said to the man while touching her underbelly with her hands, and it seemed that she was uncomfortable, "Please tell him I really love him."

"Ms. Linder, I think you'd better leave the Tanner family." The man left after talking.

Sophie felt that her underbelly hurt so much, so she said, "Wait..."

"Anything else?" The man stopped and asked her.

"My... My underbelly hurts." Sophie felt it hurt so much, "I want to see Sky. Please help me."

"Miss Linder, Mr. Sky won't see you again. You'd better leave now. Don't waste your time here." The man shook his head and sighed.

"I...I..." Sophie fell down on the ground before she finished talking.

And then the man saw that Sophie lay on the ground when he turned back. He was shocked and got close to her in a hurry, "Ms. Linder, what's wrong?"

Sophie didn't reply to him. He said to her again, "Ms. Linder, even if you pretend to be dead, Mr. Sky won't see you again. You'd better stop doing it."

Under the dim light, he saw that her face was pale and there was sweat on her forehead...

He pushed her shoulders lightly and found that she really fell in a faint. If she really got injured in front of the house of the Tanner family, they would be in trouble.

So he quickly called Sky, "Mr. Sky, Ms. Linder fell in a faint. What should I do?"

"Call 120 and then send her to the hospital," Sky was calm and said, "and then inform the Linder family." _

Chapter 231 He Doesn't Love You Anymore

"OK." The man replied.

He quickly called 120. Soon, the ambulance got there and the medical workers held her to get into the ambulance.

"What's wrong with her?" The nurse asked.

"She suddenly fell in a faint just now." The man said.

"Are you her family?"

"No, I am not. But I will call her family at once and ask them to go to the hospital." The man said again.

"Then you should follow us to go to the hospital first. And then you can leave after her family gets to the hospital."

So the man got in the ambulance and went to the hospital with her. He registered for payment and then waited outside the emergency room. After a while, the members of the Linder family got to the hospital, including Chandler and Joy.

"Mr. and Mrs. Linder, now you are here, I will be leaving then." The man handed the bills to them.

Joy took over the bills and asked, "Does Sky know that Sophie is in hospital now?"

"Mr. Sky asked me to notice you after sending Ms. Linder to the hospital." The man said to them and then left.

Chandler frowned and then sat down on the seat outside the emergency room, "It seems that Sky has decided to let her get out of the Tanner family."

"What should we do?" Joy was anxious, too.

"I don't know, either. She really made me embarrassed. She deserves it." Chandler was also disappointed with Sophie, "We had hope because she was pregnant. However, this child may not belong to the Tanner family."

"Since she is so shameless, I don't think the Tanner family will raise the child for her. It is best for her if she can survive."

Joy asked, "What do you mean?"

"We can't help her. She has to survive by herself." Chandler said.

"What if this child belongs to the Tanner family?" Joy hoped so.

"If this child belongs to the Tanner family, we don't need to do anything, because the Tanner family will raise the child." Chandler said to her, "And you don't need to care about her in the future."

When they were talking, a doctor opened the door and then came in. Chandler and Joy walked forwards and asked the doctor, "What's wrong with my daughter?"

"She has been pregnant for almost three months, but she is very weak and malnourished with anemia and hypoglycemia, and she suffers from threatened abortion. As a pregnant woman, why can she be so bad? How do you take care of her as her parents? Why is her husband so indifferent to his wife and child?" The doctor blamed them, "If you were not prepared, you shouldn't have got pregnant easily!"

"Yes, you are right. It's our fault." Joy kept nodding, "We will take good care of her later."

"She has to stay in the hospital for two days for observation. And she needs much more nutrition after being discharged from the hospital." And then the doctor left.

Sophie was transferred to a private room. Joy and Chandler followed her.

Joy felt complicated when she saw her face was pale.

She had persuaded herself not to care about her, but she couldn't do it.

"She has been better. We can employ a nursing worker to take care of her. Let's go back home." Chandler checked the time and found that it was already 00:00, "We have to go to work tomorrow."

Joy paid all the fees and then left together with Chandler.

The next day, Sophie found that she was in the hospital after she woke up.

Sophie lifted the quilt and got up. However, she was so weak that she knelt down.

The nursing worker saw that she knelt down when she opened the door, so she quickly helped her up and said, "Miss Linder, no matter what you want to do, you can ask me for help."

"Who are you?" She held the bed to stand up.

"I am a nursing worker employed by Mrs. Linder." The middle-aged woman helped her back to the bed and then gave her a pillow to lean against, so that she could feel comfortable.

"I want to see my mom." Sophie said.

At this time, Joy opened the door and came in with a thermo jug in her hands and then got closed to the bed and said, "I asked the chef to cook the chicken soup for you. You should drink much more soup later."

"Mrs. Linder, let me help you." The nursing worker took over the thermo jug.

"Mom, I remember that I was waiting for Sky in front of his place. Who sent me to the hospital last night? Was it Sky?" Sophie looked at Joy with expectation.

"A servant of the Tanner family did." Joy answered her.

Sophie was upset and her hands held the quilt tightly, "Why didn't he visit me since he knew that I was in hospital? Why is he so cruel?"

"The doctor said that you need to take a good rest. Don't think about it." Joy saw the nursing worker walking towards her with a bowl of chicken soup in her hands, so she took over the bowl and then fed Sophie.

Sophie refused to drink the chicken soup.

Joy put the bowl down on the table and then said, "The doctor said that you suffered from threatened abortion. Since Sky didn't want to be with you anymore, you can give up this child by eating or drinking nothing, so that this child won't become your burden in the future."

Sophie turned to her and said with tears, "Mom, this child belongs to Sky and me. I won't give up. I have to give birth to this child and ask the child to call Sky as dad."

"Do you still want to be with him?" Joy thought that she was so stubborn, "Sophie, even if you give birth to this child, and Sky is the child's biological father, they won't accept you again. You are not important to them at all. You should realize it."

"You are still young. If you have no kid, you can marry a man who is better than Sky. And then you can live happier. Why do you torment yourself this way? Don't do that again!"

"Mom, I only love Sky." Sophie said with tears, "I can't live without him. I feel like I am about to die now."

"But he lives well without you. Can you be strong?" Joy was angry, "He doesn't love you anymore."

"No, he is just mad at me." Sophie argued with her with tears, "It will be fine when he is not angry."

"Well, I think you should think about it twice." Joy was too angry to talk with her anymore.

Sophie cried.

She took up her phone and then called Sky. But he didn't answer...

She kept calling her, but he didn't answer her call at all. Finally, she threw away her phone and then cried out loudly.

When she felt tired from crying, she drank the chicken soup and then she wanted to leave the hospital.

The nursing worker stopped her, "Ms. Linder, you are weak now. You can't go out."

"Leave me alone." And then Sophie left the hospital.

She took a taxi to the Tanner Group, but she was stopped in the hall on the first floor.

"I am Mrs. Tanner. I want to see my husband. Why can you stop me?"

"Mr. Tanner asks us to stop you, because he doesn't want to see you." _____

Chapter 232 She Didn't Accept His Apology

Sophie was embarrassed, "I know he is busy, so he has no time to see me. But I have to go upstairs to see him. Let me go!"

"Ms. Linder, please don't make us into trouble. It's our work." The security and the girl working at the reception persuaded her.

Those people who gather around were talking about her.

"Now, you have made me into trouble, because you don't allow me to go upstairs to see my husband." Sophie argued with them.

"Ms. Linder, please leave now. Otherwise, we will have to force you to leave." The security said.

"I won't leave if I can't see Sky today." Sophie persisted to see Sky, "I also want to see how you force me to leave."

"Then I would like to apologize to you first." And then the leader of the security asked two of his team members to get close to Sophie.

Sophie didn't move and said seriously, "If you dare to touch me, I will sue you for indecent assault."

At this time, someone entered the company and said, "Please let me in."

The people who looked around walked away then let them in. And then there were a few people walking into the company, including Rose.

When Sophie saw Rose, she was angrier.

Rose was a bit surprised when she saw Sophie here. But she calmed down again quickly, and then she walked towards the elevator as if she hadn't seen Sophie.

"Miss Linder, this way, please." The workers were polite.

When she saw the workers were very polite to Rose and even showed her the way, she was very angry.

She even trembled.

"Rose, stop!" Sophie yelled.

However, Rose walked straight to the elevator as if she hadn't heard her.

"Rose, you are so shameless. I am Mrs. Tanner, not you. How dare you come here to seduce my husband?" Rose slandered her when Rose ignored her.

When Sophie said that, the people looking around began discussing again. And all of them looked at Rose.

Rose felt stressed under the gaze of so many people, but she wasn't scared at all.

"Sophie, do you have any evidence to prove that I seduce Sky?" Rose stood still and said indifferently, "If you don't have evidence, don't slander me here. Otherwise, I can sue you for libel."

"The evidence is that you dare come to the Tanner Group today."

Sophie sneered, "As his wife, I couldn't enter the company and I couldn't see him. Why can you enter the company to see him?"

A worker clarified, "Ms. Linder, Miss Rose is a designer, and she comes to our company for the tender of the Beach Hotel. I hope you can stop slandering Miss Rose. And you come here for private affairs, so Mr. Sky has no time to see you because he is busy with work now. I hope you can calm down and don't cause trouble here. Please leave now."

"Does she really come here for work? As we all know, she was his fiancée before. Now she just wants to have sex with him in the name of work. Do you think we are silly?" Sophie said with tears. She pretended to be weak so that she could get sympathy from others.

"Ms. Linder, please stop talking like that." The workers were unsatisfied.

"Why? I just help myself to fight against my enemy, because I don't want my child to have no dad in the future. So I don't think I am wrong." Sophie said with her tears streaming down her cheeks, and she really looked poor in this way. She continued, "He refuses to see me and our baby because you seduce him."

"I think you are ridiculous." Rose had thought that it would be fine if she ignored her just now. Unexpectedly, Sophie slandered her like this. She must have been crazy.

When Rose wanted to leave, Sophie suddenly knelt down on the ground and cried out with tears.

"Rose, please don't hurt me again. My baby and I can't live without Sky. I know you don't like me, but please think about it twice for my baby.

He is your nephew. Rose, please leave him..." Sophie begged her while crying, and she even kowtowed to Rose on the ground.

She kowtowed to Rose on the hard and cold floor tiles, and everyone around them felt shocked.

People always sympathized with the weak, so they all sympathized with Sophie at this time. And they had more doubts about Rose who was an ambitious woman.

They all stared at Rose, as if they were trying to scrutinize her.

"Rose, my baby and I can't live without Sky..." Sophie kept crying. She looked so weak, which made people around want to uphold justice for her.

And someone did it and scolded Rose, "Rose, how can you be so cruel? How can you try to hurt a baby? Are you crazy?"

"As the saying goes, beauty is like a snack."

"Rose, I know why Mr. Sky likes the design of the YM Group now..."

Rose looked at her colleagues and competitors who laughed at her and said, "You are liable for legal responsibility if you slander me without evidence. I never did it, so I won't be responsible for it. I have the right to retain legal investigation for the defamation of Sophie and you today. That's it. Please think about it twice."

Rose no longer quarreled with them, but walked towards the elevator.

"Ms. Linder, can you hear me? Ms. Linder falls in a faint, called 120. Quick..."

They were already in a mess. Rose didn't want to pay attention to them again. And she wouldn't be upset because of their slander. On the contrary, she would do better at her work.

Today, Sam, Chandler and Sky were the chief reviewers of the bidding documents, and Rose would finish her job well.

Rose was the last one to explain her bidding document. When she finished and went out, Rex stepped forward and said to her, "Miss Linder, Mr. Sky invites you to have a talk with him in his office."

"Rex, I don't think I should talk with him right now." Rose refused him.

"Miss Linder, I won't force you. And I would like to apologize to you in the name of Mr. Sky for the slander from Sophie." Rex apologized to her politely.

"Then please ask Mr. Sky to supervise his own wife. Otherwise, I am afraid that she will do it again." And then Rose turned back and left.

Five years ago, she decided to leave him when he made his own choice, and she didn't want to accept his apology.

Chapter 233 Occupied the Head News from Scolding

Rex withdrew his look at Rose's stubborn and beautiful figure and then turned to the office of Sky.

Sky stood still in front of the window, with his hands in his pockets.

"She refused." Sky did not look back and knew that Rex came alone.

"Mr. Tanner, I failed to keep Miss Linder." Rex stood in front of the large office, lowering his head in shame.

"It has nothing to do with you. I know she won't come to see me. I just want to have a try."

Sky was prepared for the result, but he still felt a little disappointed.

"How's the case going with Rose's giving birth to a child five years ago?"

Sky turned around and asked.

He was so eager know what had happened five years ago. What was the reason that Rose, who was so fond of him at that time, suddenly gave birth to a child?

In view of Rose's character and love for him, she would not have done such a thing.

There must be a reason. She might have encountered some difficulties or someone forced her to do so.

He was so impetuous and shocked by Rose, who was holding a child in her arms that he didn't have time to think, and he impulsively said and did some cruel things. Now he regretted that he hadn't listened to her explanation.

"It is only confirmed that Miss Linder disappeared for more than a year before her baby was born. As for what she did, how she got pregnant or who the father is are still unknown." Rex buried his head lower. He felt powerless. He couldn't find anything.

"More than a year..." Sky frowned. That meant she had planned to give birth to this child, "Did she get close to any man at that time?"

"Before Miss Linder disappeared, she was closest to no one but you."

Rex paused, and then continued, "Mr. Tanner, there's one thing I don't know if I should say."

"Go ahead." Sky sat down in a swivel chair and looked up at him.

"Is it possible that Miss Linder's baby is yours?" Rex thought it was possible.

Sky's eyes darkened instantly. Rex quickly denied it, "Mr. Tanner, I'm sorry, I'm just guessing."

"It's okay." Sky took back his sight and shook his head, "I really hope that the child is mine."

He and Rose were young when they were together, and he respected her. Rose was a good girl and their love was very simple. As long as they looked at each other, they would feel that the world was sweet. They had only held hands and kissed, and they didn't do anything out of line, so the child couldn't possibly be his.

Rex saw Sky looked distressed.

"Go on with the matter. I must know the truth." Sky made up his mind that no matter what the truth was, he had to find out what had happened, just to set his mind at rest.

Rex nodded and then said, "Mr. Tanner, What Miss Sophie did in the lobby today has been posted on the Internet and goes viral. It would affect the reputation of the Tanner Group, nor is it favorable for you and Miss Rose. Rumor has it that you abandoned your wife and child for Miss Rose... Miss Rose is taken for a mistress and is scolded very badly on the internet."

"Control the public opinion, and take down headline... Leave it to the PR company." Sky's fingers crossed. "It has a very bad effect on Miss Rose. Don't get her in trouble. Sophie's shameful behavior can be made public when necessary."

"Mr. Tanner, you can't do this. If you make public what Miss Sophie had done, it would hurt her, but it would hurt you as well. By that time, you and the Tanner family would become a joke." Rex was right. After all, Sophie and Timothy were caught red-handed by the police. If it was made public, Sky and the Tanner family would become the joke.

Even if they didn't dare to say anything on the surface, people would gossip them behind their back.

Such humiliation was not what all men would live with.

"Do you have a better idea?" Sky asked Rex, "Sophie intentionally confused the public. She dares to slander Rose because she is sure that I will not disclose her shameless behavior. She is forcing me to work on this marriage! But could I bear this again and again?"

"If I don't teach her a lesson, she would think I'm afraid of her! I just want her to know that I'm not afraid of anything if I can get rid of her! Even if I turn myself into a joke!"

Rex could feel Sky's determination to break up this marriage. As he had followed Sky's lead for so many years, he could understand him.

"Mr. Tanner, I'll do my best." Rex didn't want his respected Sky to become a joke.

"Go and do your business." Sky said faintly.

Rex then left to deal with Sophie.

And Rose, who was involved in the incident, had been blasted by netizens, who were using dirty words as much as they could.

Rose's tweet was full of negative comments. In responses to those comments, Rose just posted a Weibo to clarify that she had never intervened in the relationship between Sky and Sophie, and that she was married and living a happy life. And then she turned off the comment section.

After that, she focused on work. But there were always people who liked to gossip, especially Lily and her colleagues.

"I can't believe Rose would seduce her brother-in-law. She said she had a husband... but we've never seen her husband. No wonder she would drive a Ferrari sports car. Mr. Sky is really generous!"

"It's such a shame that she still walks tall when she is being a mistress."

"We must take off her mask and let everyone see her true face!"

But soon, the trend had totally changed on the Internet. Someone had exposed the affairs of Sophie and Timothy.

Besides, there were police records, the video and photos showing that Sophie and Timothy were caught in the Luck Hotel. Only this news could remove Rose's suspicion and prove Sophie was a liar.

What Sophie had done backfired. Netizens were angry for being used by Sophie to attack Rose, and only when they saw the evidence did they wake up to the fact, which aroused their rebuke of Sophie. They apologized to Rose for wronging Rose, and then scolded Sophie as a liar and a shameless woman!

She was such a bitch! How shameless she was!

Sophie replaced Rose to be scolded by netizens, which made more people know her!

While staying in the hospital, Sophie saw that her plan was backfired and she was scolded, she dropped her phone with anger!

Chapter 234 Romantic Time

Rose didn't think the thing would change so fast either. There were solid evidence showing what Sophie had done, and that would be her stigma for the rest of her life. She wouldn't be able to arouse the sympathy of the netizens again, and no one would believe her.

Sophie had fallen into the abyss, and it was hard for her to get back up again.

However, the news had a bad influence on Sky and the Tanner family. After all, once Sophie and Timothy's scandal was exposed, it would attract others' ridicule against Sky. In their circle, people would always be toadying and bullying, and Sky might be laughed at for a long time, but Rose did not attack the people when they were abject, nor would she show any sympathy.

No matter who exposed Sophie, the person had saved Rose, so she was grateful to that person.

Rose picked Doris up from the kindergarten after work. After all the ups and downs of today, Rose became famous.

In the face of those parents' complex looks, she was calm. Anyway, it was not her fault and she had nothing to feel guilty about.

"Doris was picked up by her father," the teacher said when Rose picked up Doris.

"Really?" Bright came back and picked up Doris but didn't call her. Rose was so surprised.

Rose thanked the teacher and left the kindergarten. After she got into the car, she picked up her cell phone and saw Bright's message, "I have picked up Doris. Come back when you are after work."

Looking at the messages, Rose reminded of the tall and handsome man. She tilted her lips and she was in good mood. And then she drove to Asgard Lake Community.

But before she went home, she stopped at one red wine shop and picked a bottle of good red wine to take home.

She wanted to have a good talk with Bright tonight and let him know what she thought. Nora was right. Bright wouldn't know her thoughts if she didn't speak out. If she wanted to fight for her happiness and gave him a sense of security, she should speak up.

Back to Asgard Lake Community, Rose couldn't see any light in the villa outside. She wondered whether Bright had come back.

She opened the door and changed her shoes at the entrance, carrying the wine to the living room.

There were indeed no lights on in the living room, only a shimmer of light coming from the dining room.

She made her way to the dining room, where flowers and candlesticks were set on a long table. The glimmer of white candles softened the atmosphere of the room.

Out of the kitchen came a tall man with two plates of steaks in his hands and placed them at each end of the table.

And then he picked up the bunch of flowers on the table and walked up to Rose. "These are for you. Do you like them?"

"Thank you." The sweet arrangement was so romantic, thought Rose. The cold man always gave her surprise again and again. She felt so warm at what he had done, and she felt her eyes were a bit sour.

"What did you bring?" Bright saw the wooden box in her hand and asked, "Red wine?"

"Yes." Rose put the red wine on the table, "I bought it on my way home, and want to share with you."

"We think the same, but I'm sober." Bright glanced at the glass decanter on the table, "Just take it as a gift for me."

"Great." Rose readily agreed.

"Sit down and try my steak." Bright helped Rose pull the delicate white chair.

Rose sat down gently. She suddenly thought of her daughter, "Where is Doris? The teacher said you picked up the child."

"It is our time now. I have left Doris to Miss Nora. Rest assured." Bright gave her a reassured touch on her thin shoulder and poured the wine into the goblet in front of her.

He walked to the other end of the table, filled his own glass, and then sat down.

They sat at opposite ends of the table. Bright raised his goblet and looked at Rose, "Enjoy ourselves. Cheers."

"Cheers." Rose took her glass, too, and smiled at him.

In the candlelight, that soft halo softened her warm look. Her eyes and brows were delicate charming, and her red lips like gently blooming flower.

They finished their glass of red wine, which was about half the height of their pinky finger. Bright stood up and poured more wine for Rose again.

Bright, in a simple white shirt, was standing in the candlelight, which outlined his strong body. The sleeves were rolled up to reveal his strong forearms and healthy skin color, showing the masculinity and strength of a man. He looked very attractive in his tall posture.

Rose, with her head slightly tilted back, had a faint pink complexion on her fair face. She had an attractive charm that she didn't know.

Bright stretched out his hand to her and said, "Darling, please dance with me."

Rose smiled and put her hand in his. He took hers lightly and pulled her up.

Bright held her waist in one hand and her hand in the other. They got close to each other and began to dance gently. A melodious tune came from somewhere and they hugged each other gently with the rhythm of the music.

Bright slowly put his both hands on her waist, while Rose wrapped her arms around his neck. She looked up at him, and in her soft eyes, his outline was deeply painted in her heart.

Bright, as if seduced by her gaze, lowered his head.

Rose, on the other hand, instinctively closed her eyes and felt his breath enveloping her.

His kiss was gentle but domineering, soft but strong.

And he felt that her lips were softer and sweeter than he had expected.

He tasted them, and then was absorbed into kissing her.

They kissed deeply and affectionately.

After a while, he released her and held her close in his arms. Rose could feel his strength, as if he would rub her into his bone.

She allowed herself to be held in his arms, though she could hardly breathe, and responded to his embrace by tightening her arms round his waist.

"Eat the steak, or it won't taste good when it gets cold." Bright's breath was a bit heavy, "We will enjoy the night together."

Rose nodded, and they returned to their positions and began to enjoy the steak.

Bright did a very good job of preparing the steak. It tasted as good as the chefs in famous restaurants.

They spent a tender night together, enjoying the romantic time.

The next morning, Bright made the breakfast in person after the morning running. After taking a shower, he changed his clothes, wearing a white and fine shirt and a straight and expensive suit. He always looked so handsome and extraordinary.

After breakfast, Bright and Rose went to work together. On the way, he took out a document and gave it to Rose.

"What's this?" Rose asked him.

"Just open it." said Bright calmly.

Rose took it, slowly opened it, and what was written inside shocked her. _____

Chapter 235 We Got Even

When Rose stared at the "Divorce agreement", her eyes were stung, her brow twitched, and her nose was sore. The tears blurred her sight. She breathed in secretly, trying not to let her vision grow dim. She held back her tears and asked, "Why do you give me this?"

"I want to give you back your rights. If you want to be free, I will fulfill your wish." Bright was extremely indifferent today, totally different from the one who was gentle and tender last night.

Rose kept her eyes fixed on the document, her heart tingling slightly.

"Fulfill my wish? What wish do I need you to fulfill?"

"I wouldn't force someone who doesn't belong to me to stay with me." Bright seemed to see it through, "I have done everything I could for you. As for the divorce, you may consider it."

"As you said, the three-year agreement has come to an end, and you have the right to take back your freedom. I will not force you to stay. What's the use of your staying with me when you don't belong to me? I will give you some compensation in addition to what I promised you at the beginning. Or I will try my best to meet your demand. Thank you for being my wife for three years."

Sure enough. Did he misunderstand her, thinking that she didn't like him?

"Mr. Lee is so generous." Rose smiled slightly, "When we signed the contract, you have agreed to give me 2 million. The money has been paid off, and I will not take any other. I also thank you for your rescue. We... got even."

He was so gentle and warm last night, but why did he become so cold one night after?

The candlelight dinner last night, the dance, the kiss, the romantic time... Were they all fake?

So last night when he said that they would spend the night together, he was preparing for the divorce.

If he decided to divorce her, why did he leave her such a tender night that she was attached to?

It wasn't to be nice to her, it was to make her drown in his love and make her hate him.

First gave her a good dream, and then ruthlessly smashed it!

"We got even." Rose nodded. "Good."

Rose put away the divorce agreement. Her pride and self-esteem made her suppress all the words she wanted to say and hide them in her heart. Now that he had made the decision, there was no reason for her to keep pestering him.

Rose did not speak again all the way, and Bright just looked out of the window.

Before reaching the City H branch of YM Group, Rose said to the driver, "Stop here, please."

The driver parked the car. Rose pushed open the door and stepped out, trying to make herself look calm and said, "Farewell, Mr. Lee."

He said he would like her, support her, and be with her forever... Had he forgotten what he had said?

Rose closed the car door, straightened her back, and walked steadily towards the company. Her back emitted a trace of stubbornness.

After she got out of the car, Bright kept watching her back until she was out of sight...

Bright raised his fist to his lips, with his thick eyebrows twisting together.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

This was not the result he wanted, but the one she loved was not him, and he did not want to leave a heartless shell.

He chose to let go of her and let go of himself.

It was the last thing he could do for her. He only wanted her to be happy.

"Let's go." Bright said to the driver and looked away.

Rose didn't even know how she got up stairs or into the office. She was like a walking dead now.

Rose put the document on the desk and stared at it for a long time.

She did not come to her sense until her phone rang, "This is Rose..."

"Rose, was it you who posted those videos and photos of Sophie and Timothy online?" questioned Sam.

Rose was puzzled. "Not me."

"Rose, I know you hate the Tanner family, Sky and Sophie, but you have to remember that you were the one who was wrong, not Sky! You want to get back at Sophie for coming back to Sky, that's your business. Why do you have to ruin the Tanner family? If you ever really loved Sky, you wouldn't do this! Why do you have to put the Tanner family at the center of the storm and make people laugh at us!" Sam snapped.

"Rose, the Tanner family is suffering because of this. The stock price of the Tanner Group is in volatility. Sky is not only being laughed at, but also facing the risk of suspension. Because of his personal effect on the Tanner Group, shareholders hope that he can be suspended and taken a leave of absence! Do you know what that means?"

"Rose, you have already let Sky down once, please don't destroy him this time!"

Rose listened to him quietly, and then said softly, "Mr. Tanner, I sympathize with the Tanner Family and the Tanner Group, but I will not escape from what I have done, and I will not be blamed for anything that I have not done."

"Who would it be if it weren't you?" Sam couldn't think of anyone who hated the Tanner family and Sky.

"Not me." again Rose denied.

"That I take back my words. Sorry to bother you." Sam ended the call. Rose looked at the screen of the phone for a long time, and then put the phone down on her desk, rubbing her sore forehead.

Why everything was related to her? Why her peaceful life was always disturbed by others?

On the other side. Bright had gone back to the office. Bill came forward and reported, "Mr. Lee, Mrs. Lee disappeared for a period of time before she gave birth to her child, and the most man she had contacted with by that time was her father, Chandler. So, the child's biological father is most likely to be Sky. After all, he and Mrs. Lee had been engaged at that time."

"Bill, don't tell me anything you're not sure about." Bright suppressed his anger, "And I'm telling you the baby is definitely not Sky's. Rose said she didn't know who the father was. I am sure she didn't lie."

Bright looked up at him. "Can't you find out where she went when she disappeared? Bill, after five years you haven't made any progress!"

"Mr. Lee, I am sorry. But I have a very important message for you. It happened five years ago, but I think that's important information." Bill wished he could redeem himself.

"Go ahead." Bright said coldly.

Chapter 236 The Answer Was in Sight

"The woman with whom you had an intimate relationship five years ago came to work at the Four Seasons Hotel in March and disappeared three months later after having an affair with you for one night. Mrs. Lee disappeared in March as well and appeared more than a year later to give birth to a baby..." Bill didn't go on, but just glanced at Bright. Bright looked stern and his eyebrows twisted together.

"They disappeared at the same time, and that woman didn't show up again after she disappeared. I would venture to guess that would this woman have anything connection with Mrs. Lee?" Bill just spoke out politely.

"What was the woman's name five years ago?" Bright asked.

"She was called Rosy Tanner." Bill remembered the name very well. It was this woman who had tarnished his brilliant life in the Lee family, and who made Bright doubt his abilities and made him feel incompetent.

"Rosy Tanner..." Bright pondered on the name. "How does it spell?"

"It is R-O-S-Y, and T-A-N-N-E-R." Bill took out another envelope and placed it on Bright's desk. "And I managed to find a picture of this woman. I can only find half of her profile and it's blurry, but at least it gives us a clue."

Bright picked up the envelope and pulled out a photo, which was indeed taken in low light.

The woman was wearing a thick makeup, and his impression of the woman's appearance was indeed the same.

"Get this picture tested to see who it is." The more he looked at the woman, the more he felt familiar with her. And then he remembered the woman who had made him addicted five years ago.

Now, however, he could feel the joy and satisfaction of that night with Rose.

It made him feel like they were the same person, but Rose's appearance wasn't like that of the woman.

He always thought he had thought it too much.

But now he felt deeply that he was not mistaken.

"Rosy Tanner..." When Bright repeated the name. And then, he smiled, and thought of something. How sweet Sky and Rose used to be. Even the fake name was a combination of their names.

Bright suddenly felt he was being fooled.

His eyes were as dark as the abyss, seeming to swallow everything.

If Rose was really the woman five years ago, then Doris... might be his own daughter.

At the thought of this, Bright was full of expectation and longing.

But it was also very uncomfortable. It felt so bad by being cheated and fooled, and he was disappointed at Rose!

He was like a fool from the beginning to the end!

He clenched his fists, closed his eyes and thought for a moment. And then he stood up. "I have something very important to do. Please handle the matter of the company."

"Mr. Lee, there is an important meeting today. You can't be absent." Bill reminded him.

"Now I have more important things to do!" Bright thought the answer was in sight, and he just needed to prove it.

Bright left quickly, and disappeared out of the office like the wind.

"Mr. Lee..." Bill moaned, looking at the empty office, "those old men are not so easy to deal with!"

Bright didn't care. He drove out of the parking lot in his Maserati and sped toward Doris's kindergarten.

As Doris' father, Bright was able to enter the kindergarten smoothly and took Doris away.

"Daddy, why did you come to pick me up so early?" Doris sat in the car and asked him, "Did you miss me too much?"

"Baby is right." Bright caught a glimpse of Doris's happy face through the rear-view mirror.

"So where are we going?" Doris watched the passing street scene outside.

"Dad will take you to a place first, and have a check together. As long as you cooperated with me, dad will meet one your wishes, maybe three." Bright said to Doris.

"I will listen to my father." Doris completely trusted in Bright. "I will do whatever dad wants me to do."

"Good baby." Bright smiled.

Soon they arrived at the appraisal center in a hospital of the city.

Bright had made an appointment before they arrived, so someone received them when they arrived.

"She was still young, so just get some sample in her mouth." Bright didn't want the child to suffer, so collecting the samples this way was best for the child.

"Yes." The nurse smiled at Doris and said, "Come with me, baby. We're going to get tested."

"I want to stay with Daddy." Doris didn't want to part with him.

"All right, we will be together." Bright reached out and rubbed her soft hair.

Bright and Doris finished the collection of oral mucosa sample in a sampling room.

Doris was as good as a lamb the whole time.

After the nurse informed them that they could leave, Doris held Bright's hand out of the hospital. Doris did not ask Bright why they did the test even after they went in the car.

Bright looked at Doris and wanted to tell her, "Baby, don't you want to know what tests Daddy brought you to the hospital for? Why don't you ask me?"

"I know you have your reasons, and you'll tell me when you want to. I believe you." Doris was very mature and thoughtful.

Bright felt distressed for her being so sensible, but he was also gratified because of her one hundred percent trust.

To be trusted by his own daughter was a matter to be proud of.

"Yes, father will tell you why the time comes." Bright asked the hospital to step up the process. They could know the results in two or three days.

If the results of the paternity test proved that Doris was his biological daughter, then that woman five years ago must be Rose!

The time nodes matched perfectly, and there may be no other possibilities besides this.

Of course, Bright hoped very much that Doris was his own daughter, who had his blood and the blood of the Lee family. He wanted her to live in the Lee family.

He wanted to give Doris more love and make up for all she had lost these years.

"Now tell me where you want to go. Daddy's not at work today and be with you." Bright was in good mood and said to his daughter.

"Can I go to where Dad works?" Doris surprised him.

"Why go to where Daddy works?" asked Bright.

"Because I want to see what Dad is like at work?" Doris fancied, "You must be serious, right?"

"Not just serious." Bright was totally different when he was at work.

"Do you know what they call me?"

"What?"

Chapter 237 They Are the Same Person

Bright met Doris's eyes in the rear-view mirror.

He crooked his lips, "Devil."

Doris's innocent eyes were full of surprise and shock. "No! My father is so handsome and gentle. How can he be a devil?"

"You don't think I'm the devil because I'm your father," Bright's eyes were soft, "but I am very strict and even cruel to the company! It's not the kind of man you'd like, and dad doesn't want you to be scared, so we'd better go somewhere else."

"Is dad afraid that I should disturb your work?" Doris cocked her head slightly. "I'll be good, Dad. I'll just sit there quietly and not bother you." "Just want to watch dad work?" Bright didn't think he could say no to her.

"Yes." Doris nodded, her big eyes full of expectation, "Can I?"

"All right, then." Bright drove to the office.

Bright parked her car, opened the door, picked up Doris and headed for the elevator.

They took the elevator to the top floor. When they saw Bright, all the staff greeted him. They held their breath and dared not take it lightly.

Although they were all afraid of Bright, they were also curious about who the little girl he was holding was.

The fact that Bright got married was known to all, but they had never seen Mrs. Lee, and they hadn't heard that Bright had a child.

Bright took Doris into the CEO's office. Doris looked around the big, comfortable office and said, "Dad, your company is so big and your office is so big, too."

"This is just a rented building, and when the new office is completed, it will be even more magnificent." HY Group's new office building in City H was already under construction, and City H would become the most important center of HY Group.

"Daddy's awesome." Doris praised her father.

Bright took off his suit jacket, grows up at his desk, and calls an internal line, "Masie, give me a cup of coffee and a cup of juice. And buy some kid snacks and fruits."

"Yes, Mr. Lee."

Bright walked over to Doris and sat down on the leather couch. "Honey, just tell me what you want to eat. I'll have someone prepared for it. Dad has to work and can't play with you. You'll get bored alone."

"Dad, as long as I can look at you, I will not be bored. You can give me some children's books. I will read quietly, and will not disturb you."

Doris insisted. She was afraid that Bright would not want her to be with him.

"Good." Bright looked at Doris carefully.

Her face and eyebrows were like Rose, but he took a closer look at her nose and temperament, and he found it very similar to him when he was a child.

In Bright's heart, he had already treated Doris as his own daughter, and now he thought Doris must be his daughter.

"Dad, go to work. You must work hard, and earn money to support me and mother." Doris urged Bright.

"Mom has a job. She might not want Dad to support her." Bright crossed his fingers.

Although Rose was not career-minded enough to give up everything, she was definitely not a housewife.

She needed a job. She wanted independence and self-respect. She wanted recognition and value through her efforts and labor.

"Dad, mom is strong. She has suffered a lot these years, and she will not say to anyone that she is tired, and will only hide it in the heart. So, she always gives others a feeling that she doesn't care anything and she is strong, but in fact, she is fragile and sensitive. I only hope dad can know more about mom's inner feelings..." Doris talked a lot, occasionally catching a glimpse of her father's face. "Does dad get bored if I talk so much?"

"No." Bright touched her head. "There's nothing dad loves more than my baby. Daddy loves to hear anything baby says."

"Dad said so because you are afraid Doris would be jealous. You love mom most, right?" Doris acted like she knew everything.

Bright smiles lightly, "Nothing can escape you. If your mom is as clever as you are, dad would be more relaxed."

"Does Daddy mean Mommy doesn't know anything?" Doris was so clever, "Don't be upset, dad. Mom just needs someone to push her."

Leave that to me. You will be satisfied."

Doris patted her small chest voluntarily, very confident.

Just then there was a knock on the door and the secretary, Masie Rolling, brought in coffee and fresh juice.

She couldn't help but take another look at Doris. She thought Doris looked cute.

"Thank you." Doris was polite.

"You're welcome." Masie smiled gently.

Bill came in with Masie. When he saw Doris, he said, "Little princess, why didn't you go to kindergarten today?"

"Mr. Bill, I'm going to be with Dad today." Doris and Bill knew each other pretty well.

"This is good, come here more often. I believe that with you here, the company must be more interesting." In Bill's mind, with Doris here, Bright would be nicer.

But as soon as he finished speaking, Bright gave him a cold look and asked, "Is Bill complaining about something?"

"I dare not." Bill glanced at Doris.

"Dad, Mr. Bill must have something important to tell you." Doris stood up for Bill.

"Yes?" Bright was about to hear that it was.

"Mr. Lee, the shareholders want you to go back to City J and take control of the situation. You can leave the matters here to the senior vice presidents." Bill relayed the views of the shareholders.

"What do I have to take those men's advice for what I want to do?"

Bright frowned, "If they don't trust me, just fire me."

Bill smiled and said, "Mr. Lee, they didn't mean that. How could those old men fire you? The chairman of the board is the old Mr. Lee, and you hold a large sum of share. Who can compare the profits you bring to HY Group every year? The annual bonuses they receive are unimaginable, and they would be mad if they want to fire you."

"Mr. Lee, there is one more thing I want to tell you." Bill looked at Doris again.

Bright knew it was about Rose, so he said to Masie, "Masie, take Doris to the bookstore to pick up some children's books. Take good care of her."

"Rest assured, Mr. Lee." Masie reached out to Doris. "Doris, go with me."

Doris was very clever and left the office with Masie.

Bright got up from the leather couch and walked behind the desk. "Go ahead."

"Mr. Lee, the photo of Rosy Tanner and that of Mrs. Lee are identical after comparison. It proves that they are the same person." Bill told Bright the result. _____

Chapter 238 Would He and Doris Be Superfluous

Bill didn't expect that the woman five years ago was really Rose. He'd been looking for her for so long.

It turned out that the person they had been looking for was right in front of them. That was the real Mrs. Lee.

Since it was Mrs. Lee, Bill would only swallow all his unwillingness and anger. He could not ask Mrs. Lee for trouble. In that case, Bill would be sent away by Mr. Lee.

Bright was not too shocked or surprised, because he had already guessed the answer. He just needed to test it.

Now that he had gotten the answer, he was more disappointed with Rose.

She had hidden so many things from him for so long, and he really seemed like a fool in front of her.

"Mr. Lee." Seeing that Bright didn't respond for a long time, Bill called him in a low voice.

"Go on." Bright recalled his thoughts.

"So Mrs. Lee is the woman five years ago." Bill summed it up.

Bright frowned at him. "I know that."

"And something about Mrs. Lee five years ago had been found out." Bill touched his nose in a boring way. "Five years ago, Mrs. Lee gave birth to Doris in secret. After 40 days of rest, she was discharged from the hospital, but happened to meet Sky. Sky then broke off the engagement and proposed to Sophie."

"And then Mrs. Lee was kicked out of the Linder family, and Mrs. Lee disappeared from City H and went to City Y, where she lived for the next five years. She recently returned to City H. And Sophie played a crucial role in the whole thing. She set Mrs. Lee up..."

"I know all about it. You can leave now."

Bright waved his hand and Bill left, then he reclined in his chair.

Rose chose him to give birth to a child to save Sky, which proved that his blood type or bone marrow were compatible with Sky's. But why did she or Sky not come to him, but gave birth to a child?

But, even if Sky or Rose asked him to donate at that time, he might not agree, so Rose would take the risk of drugging him and then had sex with him to give birth to a baby, and counted on it to save Sky. But he remembered that he had given her the pill... It turned out that she just pretended to take the pill, but she did not really take it. Fortunately, Rose got pregnant with a child and saved Sky, but Sky thought that Rose betrayed him, so up to now, he still didn't know that the child Rose had given birth to had saved his life. His real savior was Rose, or partly, him. But in this whole thing, he was just a pawn, and Doris was the tool, about which Sophie was right. Bright could not refute. Just he wondered if Sky knew that Rose had saved him, would he feel regretful and accept her again? Rose had a deep feeling for him. They would fall in love again when all the misunderstandings cleared. And then he and Doris would be superfluous...

At the thought of such a possibility, Bright couldn't calm down, and he felt restless and anxious.

That was why he didn't want to confine Rose to him, and he gave her a divorce agreement and set her free. If he couldn't give her the happiness she wanted, he would let her go find what she wanted. When he was pondering, the door of the office was pushed open. A well-figured woman came in. She was wearing a small V-neck black and white dress, which outlined her sexy shape. The plump chest and slim waste as well as the slender legs had attracted much attention. Her long and curly hair was dyed light linen, which gave her a fresh and exotic charm. With the sweet makeup, she looked very beautiful and very feminine.

"Brother Bright." The woman walked briskly and her voice was soft and sweet.

Bright looked at Lina, and then frowned, "Why did you come here?"

"Brother Bright, I miss you, so I come here." The Jin family and the Lee family had been friends for a long time, and they had a very good relationship.

Bright's father and Lina's father were close friends, so they really hoped that Bright and Lina could get married. However, Bright didn't want to. Bright's parents and Lina's were open-minded and didn't force them, but Lina had decided to marry Bright. She wanted to be a woman worthy of Bright, so she went abroad for further study and appeared in front of Bright in the best and most perfect way.

"This is my office and you can meet me at home." Bright had made it clear about his attitude and feelings towards Lina. He always treated her as his sister.

"I just came back to City J and you came to City H. I heard that you will stay here for a long time, and I can't wait to see, so I came with Zoe."

Lina walked to Bright, said lightly and bit her jelly-like lips, "Brother Bright, why don't you wait for me?"

"For what?" Bright wondered. He didn't promise her anything.

"Wait until I come back." Lina was slightly dissatisfied and pouted, "Brother Bright, how can you marry someone else when I was absent?"

"Lina, I am not newly married. I've been married to her for three years." Bright explained, "I told you I only thought of you as a sister, so I didn't want to waste your time."

"Brother Bright, I would rather you waste my time." Only in this way could she feel he had her in mind. "Besides, I'm not your sister. You take me as your sister, but I didn't take you as my brother."

"You have been calling me Brother Bright since you were little." Bright said.

Lina was speechless. She walked around the table and came to Bright, "I will not call you Brother Bright any more from today. Should I call you Bright or my dear?"

"Lina, don't be capricious." Bright tried to get rid of her hands, but she held him tighter and refused to let him go. "I am not being capricious. I am just pursuing my happiness."

"Lina, I am married." Bright again stated that he was already married.

"You're destroying your reputation. I treat you as my sister, so I would be patient. If you were someone else, I would have driven you out of my office."

Lina knew that Bright was telling the truth, but she was not willing to let him go. She worked so hard to improve herself, just to make herself worthy of him. However, when she finished her study, she heard about Bright's marriage from Zoe, and she could not keep calm, so she flew back to City H immediately.

"Why? Why can't you just give me a chance? Am I not good enough?" Lina's eyes were wet, but she tried to hold back her tears. _____

Chapter 239 I Want You to Love Me Too

Lina's sparkly and innocent eyes looked at Bright's handsome and mature face. She was attracted to him ever since she saw his face when she was a child. Coupled with Bright's achievements and talent, she fell even more in love with him. She loved this man, who was handsome and intelligent.

She also grew up, enough to be worthy of him, but he became married... This was something she couldn't accept, something that made her very sad.

"Lina, you are great. You are beautiful, lively, and smart... but feelings have nothing to do with these qualities." Bright's eyes were deep as he suppressed the bitterness he felt. "It would save us all a lot of worries if feelings could be based on these standards. There wouldn't be as many people suffering from love in the world."

"Lina, you are great. You are worthy of love, but you and I are not meant for each other—"

Bright's words were interrupted anxiously by her as she asked him, "Why are we not? I think we are very much meant for each other. You see, we grew up together since a young age. Our families have been old friends for a long time. My dad and Mr. Lee are like brothers. We are a perfect pair based on our appearance, family background, education level, and personality. It's just that you don't want to give me a chance." "That's because I don't want to see you hurt, because you won't expect anything if you don't have a chance." Bright pulled his long arm out from her arms. He stood up and placed both hands on her shoulders. "This is the best way to protect you and cherish you." "Bright Lee, I don't need it. I want you to love me too." Lina addressed him by his full name, as her eyes flickered, and was very hurt. "Lina, you have always been a wise girl in my eyes. Don't be stubborn." Bright felt troubled.

When she was a child, Lina loved to live at the Lee family's villa. She was his childhood sweetheart. Her personality was lively and outgoing, so everyone liked her very much. Since his mother passed away when he was a child, Bright didn't like to talk to people. Lina wasn't ever frightened by his cold expression as she followed him tirelessly, wanting to play with him.

Bright always treated Lina like a younger sister. Since there were only two boys in the family, they all liked her. Apart from not giving her love and marriage, Bright pampered her and cherished her.

He still remembered Lina being chased after by Dylan Ethan, the son of an upstart in high school. He even followed her to the Lee family's villa.

Bright took Lina's hand and appeared. "You will not hit on Lina again. Otherwise, I won't treat you kindly."

"Bright, I am not afraid of you at all when it comes to chasing after Lina." Dylan was determined and not backing down. "I like Lina. I am free to chase after her. You have no right to interfere."

"Dylan, can you stop pestering me? I told you that I don't like you!" Lina couldn't bring herself to like Dylan at all as he relentlessly chased after her. She was even disgusted. "I already have someone I like."

"It is your right to have someone you like, but you have no right to stop me from liking you." Dylan was very persistent and crazy in his pursuit of love.

"Dylan, believe it or not, I'll knock your teeth out!" Bright began to pull up his sleeves as his eyes gave off dangerous signals.

But Dylan was still not afraid at all. "It's worth getting beaten for Lina!"

"Then I'll make sure you feel that it's worth it." Bright was about to rush over to beat Dylan, but Lina pulled him back. He frowned in confusion.

"What are you pulling me back for? If I don't teach him a lesson, he's going to continue pestering you."

"Bright, I don't want you to beat him for me and ruin my perfect impression of you." Lina's soft lips curled up, "Let me do it."

Lina made herself clear to Dylan. "Dylan, I have a boyfriend. I love him very much, so you better give up. I won't ever agree to be your girlfriend."

"Even if you have a boyfriend, I can still like you..." Dylan still didn't give up. "Lina, just give me a chance. I will definitely treat you well and listen to everything you say."

"It's useless. I only love him." Lina shook her head and refused again.

"Then who... is he? What's so good about him... that makes you so persistent? How is he better than me?" Dylan was very unwilling to accept reality.

"He is good in that I love him." Lina stood beside Bright. She turned her head and looked up at the tall man beside her with sparkles in her eyes.

"Bright is my boyfriend, my only one."

Bright was a little surprised yet calm on the surface.

He knew from the look in Lina's eyes that she would say such a thing.

Of course, he just thought that he was Lina's excuse to refuse Dylan so that he would give up completely.

He really didn't think too much or deeply because he treated her like his sister from beginning to end.

When Dylan heard that it was Bright, his eyes widened in shock. He was very unwilling to accept the truth. "Lina, what's so good about him? He always has a cold expression on his face. He is so indifferent to the girls in school that he doesn't even look at them. What do you like about him? He won't be nice to you."

"How do you know that I won't treat her well?" Bright took the initiative to hold Lina's hand. "Now that you have your answer, stop pestering Lina shamelessly. She is mine. Remember that!"

Lina was very satisfied with Bright's response. She bit her lip lightly, and her eyes were filled with joy.

"Dylan, you heard what Bright said. Don't come after me anymore." Lina only had Bright in her eyes, so she couldn't see anyone else.

"Even if you are dating, as long as you are not married, I will not give up! Lina, I'll let time prove that I love you more than he does!" Although Dylan was heartbroken, he was still stubborn.

"Get out once you're done!" Bright narrowed his cold eyes slightly. "I won't be as nice to you the next time we meet."

"I don't need you to be nice! I'm confident in my love for Lina. She'll understand that I'm the one who truly loves her the most." Dylan was angry as he left. He couldn't accept the fact that Bright and Lina were together.

After Dylan walked away, Bright let go of Lina's hand. "Lina, I said those words just now because the situation was urgent. I hope you won't misunderstand. It's just that the Dylan right now isn't good enough for you."

"Bright, you don't need to explain further. I understand." Lina smiled slightly. "But there are some things I want to tell you. What I just said is true. I like you. I want you to be my boyfriend... I also know it's impossible now, but I look forward to the day when you become my real boyfriend."

"Lina, you are just my sister..."

...

After all, this day didn't arrive as expected. He became the husband of another woman, but she was still waiting for him. _____

Chapter 240 The Vixen Who Seduced Dad

Her childhood memories with Bright saddened her when she remembered them now.

Her eyes were blurred with tears, but she restrained herself from crying. "Bright, what I'm doing today is very much like what Dylan did ten years ago. I keep chasing after you despite your rejection... If possible, I wish I wasn't as mature so that I wouldn't be one move too late, and you wouldn't have been stolen by someone else..."

She bit her lip and felt waves of pain splashing in the deepest part of her heart that she couldn't calm down nor control her emotions. In the end, tears streamed down her face.

"Lina, I haven't been stolen by someone else. I found you a family member, someone who will cherish you and pamper you like I do. Wouldn't it be nice having one more person to love you from now on? Why do you have to think that I was stolen from you? Calm down and don't worry, okay?" Bright's tone was as gentle as possible.

It was difficult for him to watch her cry. After all, she was a girl he loved like a sister from childhood to adulthood. He couldn't bear to see her hurt.

If it was someone else who made her cry, he would definitely not let him off. But this person was himself, and he couldn't let himself be moved.

This was not only about feelings and marriage, but also about his respect for his wife. He wanted Lina to know his bottom line.

"It seems that she has won Bright's heart. Will she really treat me as kindly as you do?" Lina asked him.

"Of course, trust my taste," Bright comforted her and calmed her down.

"You'll how great she is once you get to know her."

"Then I want to meet her. Can I?" Lina begged. "You guys got married yet I didn't even give you any wedding gift, so I'll treat you guys to a meal. How about today? I'm in City H already. I want to meet her."

"If she treats you well and can give you happiness, then I won't be worried. I won't want anything else. I'll be your sister and give your guys my most sincere wishes. I'll also respect and love her like how I respect and love you."

Lina endured the turbulent waves of feelings she felt. She wanted to meet the other party because only by knowing her enemy and herself would she be able to win. She needed to know who the other party was, otherwise, how could she say that she loves the love rival when she never met her?

Bright hesitated. He just gave Rose a divorce agreement today. He wondered whether she was done considering.

If she agreed to divorce, then he couldn't ask her to pretend to be a loving couple with him in front of Lina.

He didn't tell Lina about his plans to divorce Rose only because he didn't want to give Lina hope. Even if he got divorced, he would still think of Lina as a sister, and his attitude towards her wouldn't change.

"She has been very busy at work recently. I'll ask her. If she has time, I'll arrange for you guys to meet. If not, then next time." Bright saw her calm down and felt relieved.

"If I can't meet her today, then Bright, please treat me to a meal and take me around. She's busy with work and can't spend time with you anyway. How about you give me some of your time instead?" Lina proposed. In fact, she wanted to be alone with him more than to meet her love rival. She was abroad for three years and hadn't spent time with him properly in a long time.

"Okay. I'll accompany you," Bright had no choice but to agree.

"You can't go back on your promise to me," Lina confirmed again.

"No regrets," Bright said.

At this moment, Lina rushed into Bright's arms, wrapping her arms tightly around his narrow waist.

She was in his arms and felt his scent around her as she breathed, a smell that she missed very much.

She really wanted to never leave his arms. She only wanted his arms and chest for the exclusive use of her forever... She would definitely try to get him back.

Bright instinctively wanted to reach out and push her away, but when he put his hand on her shoulder, her voice was soft and pitiful. "Bright, you didn't hug me when I went abroad. This is what you owe me. I just want to hug you. I miss your warm embrace so much..."

"Lina, we are no longer the same as when we were children. Even brothers and sisters shouldn't hug each other so intimately," Bright said while trying to push her away.

At this time, the office door was pushed open, and a small figure ran in happily but was shocked by the scene before her.

"Little princess, slow down..." Masie chased in from behind but saw a scene that she shouldn't see.

She turned away wisely and lowered her head, using actions to indicate that she hadn't seen anything.

Bright saw Doris standing still and pushed Lina away. The latter was a little embarrassed.

"Sweetie, come here. Let me introduce Lina to you." Bright waved at Doris.

Doris soon returned to normal. With a bright smile on her pretty face, she ran over and took Bright's hand. "Dad, look. Masie took me shopping, and we bought a lot of books."

Doris called Bright "dad" so clearly that Lina felt uncomfortable.

She wasn't shocked at all that Doris would appear and address Bright as "dad" because she heard from Zoe that Bright married a woman who had a child. Although Bright was sure that this child was his, she suspected that she wasn't Bright's biological daughter just like Mr. Lee. Lina was angrier when she thought of this. Bright was willing to accept and marry a woman with a child... what kind of magic power did this woman have that made Bright so "submissive"!

She felt bad for Bright and herself! So she had to meet and get to know this woman!

"I'm happy as long as you like them." Bright touched the top of her hair.

"Sweetie, this is—"

"Dad, I really like this book. Can you teach me how to read it? There are a lot of words in it that I don't know." Doris immediately took out the book for Bright to see.

"This is Lina. How about I ask her to teach you how to read?" Bright wanted to bring the two of them closer. "Lina, this is my daughter, Doris."

"Doris is so cute." Lina's smile deepened. "Can you let me teach you?"

"Dad, I don't think we should bother Lina with something like this. She's an outsider after all." Doris smiled at Lina but already categorized Lina as a vixen who seduced her dad.

"Lina is also considered to be dad's younger sister. Not an outsider."

"But to Doris, everyone except dad and mom is an outsider. Only the three of us are a family." Doris said with a serious face.

"There is no way that a vixen like you is going to seduce dad when mom isn't here!

With Doris here, you definitely won't succeed." Doris thought._____
