

We Will Collide Someday by Scarlett Sanchez

Chapter 4

Chapter 4 You Really Hate Brynlee

“Isn’t Brynlee...”

“That’s enough!” Jason shouted, “If you still regard yourself as one of the Ramsey family, you should remember your grandparents’ last words.”

“Now that things have come to this, what do you want?”

“What do we want?” Rebekah asked slowly and smiled sweetly.

Two minutes later, Terrence and Alexa were locked in the same room, “If you don’t get Alexa’s forgiveness, don’t even think of leaving the house!”

Rebekah said through the door and let the servant lock the door of the house,

Terrence secretly gritted his teeth, and anger surged in his heart. His face was extremely gloomy.

“I’m sorry. I explained it to your parents, but...”

“Amazing.”

“What?”

Terrence turned around and approached her.

Alexa was about to dodge him, but her jaw was clamped by him, and she had to meet his murderous gaze.

“I really didn’t expect Mrs. Ramsey to be full of tricks.”

“I didn’t...”

“Didn’t you?”

Terrence gritted his teeth, his words full of ridicule.

“Don’t you believe me?”

“Are you worth believing?”

Hearing him say such words, Alexa felt extremely frustrated.

“It looks like I have nothing to explain.”

Alexa attempted to break free of his hand, but Terrence's eyes turned cold, and he pressed her against the wall.

"Let me go!"

"You really hate Brynlee, don't you?"

Every word he said hurt her a lot, and Alexa's eyes were filled with tears as she looked at him.

"Mr. Ramsey, I know you like Brynlee a lot, and you don't need my allowance. It doesn't matter if I hate her or not."

Alexa spoke each word in a low and broken voice.

Terrence's expression froze, and he unconsciously loosened his hand.

Alexa seized the opportunity and directly pushed him away.

"Go away!" Alexa cried. "I don't want to see you."

Chapter 4 You Really Hate Brynlee

"You don't want to see the?"

Terrence's anger, which had been extinguished, was once again ignited by Alexa. He couldn't be rational anymore

"Then who do you want to see? Kietan?"

"What?"

Alexa frowned, completely not understanding what he was saying

"I have seen everything," Terrence coldly smiled, "What do you mean by that expression? Am I right?"

Alexa was annoyed. She wondered, Terrence is clearly the one who cheated in public, so why should he slander me?

Alexa was so angry that her face became pale, and her lips trembled slightly.

"You can dance with Brynlee. Why can't I talk to others?" Alexa growled, her eyes red. "Terrence, what are you doing?"

"Good."

Terrence was clearly infuriated by her words. His expression had never been so dark and terrifying

Although Alexa was afraid, she still refused to give in.

“I’ll tell you what I am doing.”

“What?”

With her body suddenly losing weight, Alexa was so frightened that she exclaimed.

Terrence was furious and threw her on the bed, and then he took the opportunity to come over.

Alexa felt extreme pain in her body, and she gasped in pain.

Terrence’s movements were extremely rough, and he did not notice Alexa’s abnormality at all.

“Terrence...” Alexa asked weakly. “What are you doing? Are you betraying Brynlee?”

In an instant, Terrence’s movements stopped.

Feeling the pressure on her body disappear, Alexa looked at the other side of the bed with tearful eyes.

Terrence quickly put on his clothes and left with a gloomy face, not looking at her again.

Alexa collapsed on the bed weakly, clutching her abdomen in pain and rolling to the ground with a bang.

After enduring for ten minutes, Alexa felt the pain becoming more intense.

She began to rummage through her handbag in panic for the medicine but found nothing.

Alexa suddenly realized something.

The medicine was at the Duckdale Villa,

Alexa did not know the way back at all, and at this time, she would definitely disturb others.

Alexa picked up the phone helplessly.

The only person she could contact was...

He should be back, right?

Alexa began to convince herself in her heart

In the past, they had argued so many times, but they had quickly reconciled

Alexa hesitated for a while she was absent minded and accidentally pressed the button. The phone was connected,

Alexa immediately threw her phone aside and hid in the romer, looking forward to the response from the other side of the line

As long as Terrence answered the call, Alexa would definitely explain it properly and would no longer deliberately anger him

Alexa bit her lips and had already thought of the words to apologize, "Hello? Alexa."

Alexa heard a mature voice from a woman. Alexa's expression froze and became deeply frustrated

She was familiar with Brynlee's voice.

But... Why was it Brynlee?

"Brynlee," Alexa asked tentatively, "Is Terrence here?"

Brynlee was about to answer when a hand suddenly reached over from the side and hung up the phone, throwing the phone away.

Terrence's face was gloomy, and the knuckles of his hand holding the steering wheel turned pale.

"It's a call from Alexa," Brynlee said deliberately. "She should be worried about you."

"Is that so?" Terrence sneered. "How could I believe such a clumsy trick?" Brynlee looked helpless, but in her heart, she was very proud.

It seemed that her worry was unnecessary, and no matter how Alexa tried, it was impossible for Terrence to fall in love with her.

Alexa stared blankly at the phone screen, unable to speak for a long time.

It seemed that he couldn't wait to let Brynlee become his wife.

Alexa endured the pain until dawn. Alexa took a taxi to the villa and got her medicine back. She quickly re-made a divorce agreement. She rushed to Terrence's company.

Terrence was on his way to the meeting when he heard the receptionist say that Alexa had come.

His indifferent face immediately became cold.

"What is she doing here?"

Hearing the displeasure in Terrence's words, Edwin roughly understood what he meant.

"Mr. Ramsey..."

"Bring her up."

Edwin was shocked.

"Also, postpone the meeting."

After that, Terrence turned around and walked towards the office.

Edwin looked surprised. He couldn't believe what he heard.

"Yes."

Five minutes later, Terrence saw a small crack appear in the door. Alexa wrapped herself rightly and quietly squeezed in from outside the door.

She still didn't know that Terrence had noticed her long ago, and his deep eyes saw her every move,

Terrence originally wanted to argue with her about what happened last night, but when he really saw her, all his anger instantly disappeared.

Alexa obediently sat on the sofa at the side and looked at Terrence innocently. Her hands subconsciously grabbed the corner of his clothes.

"Are you busy?" Alexa spoke carefully.

Terrence looked at the document in his hand and did not even look at her.

"Yes."

"Alright." Alexa lowered her voice and said, "Then you go ahead."

However, Terrence's mind had always been on her, and he knew every slight move of Alexa.

"Why are you wearing so much today?" Terrence asked casually. "Is it cold?"

"I caught a cold," Alexa told a lie. "That's why I'm afraid of cold."

She could not tell Terrence that this was actually a side effect of the medicine.

However, Alexa did not expect that Terrence would suddenly pay attention to her words.
