

Deep affection honey come back to me

Chapter: 491

He Hid His Affection

John came back and lived under the same roof with Nina.

This time, he adjusted his state of mind.

His room was next to the children's. In order to better protect the child, Vicente had designed the mechanism on the adjacent wall between these two rooms. That wall was actually a door, and it was also a door without sound insulation.

As long as there was any sound in the room, John could hear it clearly.

When John took off his mask, he heard the sound of Nina coaxing the children to sleep.

"Van and Don, be a good boy. Mommy will sing for you. Can you take a nap with Mommy?" Lying on her side, Nina supported her head with her left hand and looked at the children gently.

Van and Don had a pair of amber eyes like Nina, and their big eyes were also shining with tears, which were very pitiful.

When Nina saw the children, she seemed to see herself in her childhood. The smile on her face became more brilliant and gentle. She sang softly, "Da, Da, my baby, I give you a little sweet, so that you can sleep well tonight. My little boy, I wanted you to like the whole world..."

A sweet and soft voice filled the air.

Since Nina gave birth to

"What are you doing?"

"Shh!" Cali hushed again and whispered in Nina's ear, "I'm waiting for someone."

Like her, Nina whispered, "Who are you waiting for?"

"Well..." After hesitating for a while, Cali decided to tell her, "Wait for Mr. Sean."

"Sean?" This time, Nina didn't say anything. As soon as her voice came out, Cali widened her eyes in panic. She raised her hand to cover Nina's mouth, and then realized that she was rebellious. She quickly took her hand back and whispered with her hands clasped together, "I'm sorry, Princess Nina. I have clean paper. Wipe it."

Smelling the smell of the cyan leaf juice and seeing that several pieces of the leaves in front of Cali had been crushed, Nina took them over paper and wiped her mouth.

Nina asked, "You have a date with Sean? You should be honest. What are you doing in the grass?"

"Shh, Shh!" With an anxious look on her face, Cali said in a low voice, "Princess Nina, can you lower your voice? I came to see Mr. Sean secretly."

"Secretly?" Nina finally lowered her voice. "Why? Aren't you dating? "

Cali shook her head.

"No." The man's voice rang over the heads of the two people.

Do You Like Me

When Cali raised her head, she saw a man wearing a mask standing in front of them. She was frightened and stuttered, "Mr...Mr. Sean! Good morning! Ah! !"

Being found peeping, Cali felt ashamed and ran away.

"Cali!" Cali didn't stop even after Nina shouted. She looked at John who acted as if nothing had happened and hurried to catch up with Cali. "Cali, wait. Why are you running? Stop!"

Cali finally stopped and raised her hands to cover her face.

When Nina walked over, she only saw that Cali's ears were red and she was unwilling to face her.

"Cali, what's wrong with you?"

"Ah! !" Cali screamed again, covered her face and lowered her head. "Mr. Sean must have heard everything we said and known that I was peeping at him here. It's so embarrassing."

"It seems that you really like Sean." Nina smiled and pulled her hands off her face. She stared at her pink face and said, "If you like him, just confess your love to him. You don't have to do it secretly."

"Confess? No, no, No. I dare not." Cali shook her head and said, "Mr. Sean won't like me."

"All right. Maybe my though ing the water, Nina turned around and looked up. Her charming eyes were full of coldness.

"I admit that I did it on purpose, but I won't hurt you."

"Why?"

"What? What do you want to ask?" John walked up to Nina and took the hot water.

"Both." Nina asked, "Do you like me?"

At this moment, John was slightly stunned, his eyes flickering, and he didn't speak to Nina.

"If so, I really appreciate your love, but I already have someone I like."

"Vicente?" Then John chuckled and continued, "Princess Nina, you think too much. I don't like you."

Hearing this, Nina was speechless.

She thought that she was narcissistic.

"Whether it's my brother, Vicente or Noah, they get along with you more like friends. They are even a little afraid of you. You are not a simple person, are you?" Nina looked at him and asked, "Since your identity is not simple, why do you want to be a bodyguard?"

At this moment, John's eyes flickered and he replied calmly, "I was entrusted by someone."

"Who?"

John answered in his heart, 'Me.'

In fact, his answer was, "You don't need to know."

Please Behave Yourself

He hoped that he could keep a little mysterious. Because he knew that Nina liked to explore the unknown, so that he would slowly take the initiative.

After getting the water, he brushed past her and said calmly, "Princess Nina, good dream."

Nina knew it was not an auditory hallucination, and it was not last time.

"And," John stopped and said in a nearly enchanting voice, "If you want me to like you, it's not impossible."

Hearing this, Nina was speechless.

She wondered if he was flirting with her.

'How arrogant he is! I am married! Even if Vicente is a woman, I am a married woman in front of outsiders.'

'Even if I don't love Vicente, I have already fallen in love with Noah.'

"Sean, please behave yourself." Nina's face darkened.

Without answering, John left in silence.

After a night's sleep, Nina couldn't resist her curiosity and asked Vicente at the table, "What's your relationship with Sean?"

"What's wrong?" Vicente was more curious than her. "Why do you ask? Do you remember something?"

"What should I remember? You mean I knew Sean before? I don't lose my memory. I just can't r rst, Nina thought it was just because Vicente was too busy to go home as usual, but she didn't expect that there was an inside story.

Since Nina gave birth to the baby, she felt that she had forgotten that they had been in danger because of the joy of being a mother for the first time, and that Jett was looking for an opportunity to deal with them.

Nina whispered, "Don't worry."

"Okay, you don't have to worry too much about me. Jett couldn't deal with me for so many years, so he hasn't done anything to me now, and it will be the same in the future." Vicente patted her on the back before letting her go.

"Count Nangong will be away for a week. Princess Nina must be very sad to part with him." Seeing the two of them hugging each other, Cali felt like the wife was going to see the husband off. Cali was moved and wanted to cry.

At that time, John was standing not far behind Cali. He had been so angry when he saw the two hugging. When he heard what Cali said, he turned around and walked in.

He found a bottle of alcohol and sprayed it on her body when Nina came back. He said coldly, "Disinfect it."

Curious About The Face Under The Mask

Nina was sprayed with alcohol for no reason. The smell of alcohol at the tip of her nose made her grit her teeth slightly, and her gradually clenched fists crunched.

"Sean!"

"I'm here." Pretending not to see anything, John responded to her in a low voice and made way for her.

"Sean, I'm not done with you." Nina glanced at him. If it weren't for the complicated situation, she would have thrown him out in a second.

Then John said gently, "Okay."

"....." Nina looked at him in surprise and thought, 'What kind of answer is this?'

'Didn't he realize that it was a threat? And he looks calm now.'

'Is this a provocation to me?'

Thinking of this, Nina thought that she must teach him a good lesson, or he would not take her seriously.

"Sean, let's have a competition again."

"No, thanks. You can't defeat me."

Nina gritted her teeth and said with a faint smile, "Me! You're so shameless."

"You lost in the last competition."

"....." Nina thought that Sean really had the ability to piss people off!

Nina felt a little embarrassed and forced a smile at him. "You're so awesome. Do you have a girlfriend?"

After a pause, John replied, "No."

"I think so. After all, few people are blind." Nina en that John realized that he had been lying on the bed for the whole afternoon. When he went to the dining table, he saw Van and Don lying on a small bed that could move. Nina was playing with the two of them.

"Okay. Serve the dishes." Hearing the footsteps, Nina knew who it was, so she ordered the servants to serve the dishes.

The dinner was extraordinarily rich, and there was a lot of saliva in John's mouth. He knew that Nina was deliberately forcing him to give in.

Nina blinked her eyes and said kindly, "Sean, don't you have dinner tonight? Will you be hungry?"

"Yes, Mr. Sean, please take off your mask and eat some. I promise I won't look at anything with my head down." Knowing that Nina had been playing tricks on Sean these two days, Cali was really worried to death.

When John looked into Nina's eyes, he said indifferently, "Okay."

"Are you finally willing to take off your mask?" Nina was not surprised, as if she was all guessing.

"Okay." Then John raised his hand and was about to take off his mask.

Cali lowered her head and didn't see. But she couldn't help but secretly glance at him, while Nina was staring at his action.

She was really curious about the face under the mask.

Chapter: 495

Kabe don

play\_arrow

Nina was unconsciously excited and even a little expectant.

She didn't know why she was so excited. It seemed that she had seen the face behind the mask before. However, Sean had never shown his face in front of her. She wondered where she saw him before.

Besides, she always felt that the mask Sean was wearing had something to do with the blanks in her memory, which would be known if he took off the mask.

She had a feeling of familiarity with John, which was invisible. The sound of his footsteps was particularly familiar, as if she had heard it countless times in her dream.

Although she had said for several times that she hated Sean, she wanted to get close to him every time he approached her.

At this moment, John was overjoyed by the gazes of Nina. 'Who says that my little girl has forgotten me? She still likes to stare at me as before.'

He took off his mask.

"You... Do you wear two masks?" Nina saw that John wore two black masks and the corners of her mouth twitched. "Now even the masks have children."

Cali raised her head in confusion. "Eh? Mr. Lu, how do you ow it's you when you get close to me. You have a very unique smell."

"The smell of sweat?" He remembered that he had asked this question at that time, so he also asked the same question this time, "Is it the smell of sweat?"

"No." The smell was familiar to Nina, but she couldn't tell what it was. It was light and she needed to smell it carefully to find out what it was.

Nina couldn't help but smell, not noticing how close they were.

At this time, John's body was already tense. He put his hands on Nina's shoulders and turned his body. The two of them changed their positions.

With her back against the bookshelf, Nina faced John's strong chest and his two strong arms encircled her in a corner.

Kabe-don!

"Sean, what are you doing?" Nina looked at him vigilantly. According to what she knew on the Internet, Kabe-don meant philandering.

Nina said calmly, "Sean, you have to think it over. I can make you be jailed for life for what you are doing now."

"You did it a long time ago." His slender fingers slid onto her face and pinched it.

He liked pinching her face.

Chapter: 496

Kiss Me

play\_arrow

John's hand was on Nina's face, a little cold. There was no pain in the place he pinched. Instead, it gradually became hot.

Some blurred images flashed through Nina's mind. Someone loved to pinch her face.

John pinched her for two more times before letting go of her.

When his broad palm dropped, Nina raised her hand and grabbed it. She said, "Wait, can you pinch me once?"

John stared at her eyes for a few seconds and then laughed in a low voice, as intoxicating as wine. He held her hand with his backhand and lifted it above her head. He leaned forward and whispered in her ear.

"If you kiss me, I will agree to your request."

The hot air sprayed to the brain, itching. Nina drew back her neck and realized that she had made a shameless request. On the contrary, Sean was more shameless than her.

"Bastard!" Nina withdrew her hand from his grip, pushed him away and was about to leave.

Then John grabbed her arm again and said in an extremely evil tone, "I'm a rogue? Why are you blushing?"

"No, I didn't!" Nina broke free from his hand again and quickly left the study, leaving him empty handed.

The little girl he had just caught ran away again.

But he thought that i

You are just a servant. How dare you speak?"

Cali raised her chin and glared back. "I'm telling the truth. Why did you scold me if you didn't feel guilty?"

"You! You're really uneducated." Ruby was so angry that she smiled in a strange way. "Princess Nina, you should discipline the servants well. Otherwise, one day she will be the mistress. What will you do?"

"You..." Cali was so angry that she wanted to curse, but was stopped by Nina. She said coldly, "It's none of your business. I have received your apology. But I don't want to forgive you. You can leave now."

When Ruby heard that, her face turned pale.

'Who wanted to apologize to her? She really takes it seriously?!

'She won't forgive us? In fact, I didn't need your forgiveness.'

Ruby was angry in her heart, but she didn't dare to show it on her face. She said with a smile, "Princess Nina, my husband really knows his fault. I hope you can forgive us. If you don't forgive us, I will come to beg you for forgiveness every day."

Nina sneered and walked up to her. "Do you really want to ask for forgiveness?"

"I hope you can forgive us." Ruby pretended to be sincere.

Nina suddenly smiled, "Then kneel down."

Kneel Down

The smile on Ruby's face cracked, "What? Are you kidding me, Princess Nina? You are such a kind person. How could you make such an excessive request?"

"Are you kidding me now?" There was a gentle smile on Nina's face, making it hard to tell what she was really thinking.

Ruby clenched her teeth and forced a friendly smile. "Of course not. I'm here to apologize to you sincerely."

"I'm not kidding too." Nina narrowed her eyes and played with Van in her arms. A mother's tenderness appeared on her face, but her words were as cold as the rain in winter. "Then kneel down."

The smile on Ruby's face completely disappeared. "Princess Nina, you've gone too far."

Nina looked at her coldly and said, "Not as good as you couple. Do you think we don't know what you and Jett are up to? We are always on guard against you. You'd better not come across a wall again. Don't disturb me and our children again. Next time you get close to our castle, I will hit you."

Nina specially stressed the last sentence and John stood aside Nina, completely crushing Ruby who only knew how to dress and intrigu go to the hospital for a check-up? Although you don't want to have a baby now, it doesn't mean that you can't have a baby secretly in the future."

"Jett is so insidious. It's really hard to guard against him. Don't worry. I'm in a private hospital now. I'll tell you when the result comes out."

"You must have a good examination. If there is really something wrong, cooperate with the doctor to take the medicine. I still hope you have your own child to accompany you."

"I know. I'll hang up now. I'm going to have a check-up." When Vicente was about to hang up the phone, she added, "Remember to take more videos of the children and tell them that I miss them very much and bring them gifts when I go back."

When Nina heard Vicente's relaxed tone, her gaze gradually slowed down. She said, "Okay, I see."

As soon as the phone was hung up, Noah sent her a WeChat message.

Noah said, "I've been busy with the case and I don't have time to contact you. I'm free now. Are you busy?"

Nina said, "No. Video?"

Noah said, "Okay."

Nina said, 'I'll go downstairs to take the babies.'

I m Going To Take You Away From Him

"Thump! Thump!" the footsteps downstairs were brisk. With a happy face, Nina picked up the nearest Van and ordered, "Cali, help me carry Don upstairs."

"The second floor?" Cali shook her head. "No, the second floor is the forbidden area for all the servants. We can't get close to it, or Count Nangong will severely punish all of us. If one of us gets close, all of us will suffer. We have been monitoring each other all the time."

Nina turned to look at her and said, "Okay, I'll come down to hold Don later."

"Okay. Remember to put Van in a safe place, in case he tumbles down."

"Okay, I know." Nina went upstairs with Van.

John had been watching Nina. When Nina disappeared from the hallway on the second floor, he bent down, held Don in his arms, and turned to the stairway.

Cali stopped him immediately, "Mr. Sean, what are you doing? The second floor is a forbidden area. You can't go up."

Without stopping for a moment, John went upstairs. Don giggled in his arms and touched his chin and neck with his little paws.

Seeing that he ignored her, Cali shut her mouth. Sean was different from them. Maybe he had got the permissi d with his palm.

"What's wrong with you?" Nina felt a pain and looked at him with hatred. "Let go of me!"

Her eyes were like a sharp blade stabbing into his heart. The red color of Nina's chin stung his eyes, and his heart ached even more. He quickly loosened his grip.

"I'm sorry," John apologized in a hoarse voice.

He was too impulsive just now. When he heard that she told Noah that he was stealing the other people's girlfriend and they were going to beat him up together, he thought that they was simply distorting right and wrong.

Because Nina had always been his.

Without the experiment of Albert, all Nina's smiles belonged to him, not Noah, let alone looking at him like that just now.

He had never been so impulsive, irritable, or even crazy as he had been in the past two months.

In the past, these words had nothing to do with him.

He thought that Nina was so annoying now.

"I won't..."

"Even if you don't accept it, you have to accept it." John blocked her words back. He put her against the wall and admitted angrily, "Yes. Even if Noah can, I can."

"You..."

"I'm going to take you away from him."

Irritated Again

There was a dazed look in the dark Obsidian eyes of John. That kind of inexplicable emotion climbed up the heart of Nina, and her heart beat for no reason, as if something was about to emerge.

But she couldn't remember.

She could actually slap him on the face.

Somehow, her hands and feet didn't listen to her orders, as if there was another person in her body who was against her.

There was a voice in her heart telling her not to push him away and not to bully him.

This had happened more than once or two times. She thought that she was not easy to be molested and approached by other men, but she did not directly beat back the man in front of her as she imagined.

Her way of doing things was a little different from what she had imagined.

Nina's amber eyes sparkled and her tone softened. "Did we get along well before?"

"Yes." His voice was softer than before.

"Then why don't I remember your name? You said you were sent to protect us. Who is that person? What's that person's relationship with me?"

"Kiss me a few more times, a hout thinking too much, he directly entered through the door of the mechanism wall.

He caught a glimpse of Nina lying on the ground by the window. Her whole face was covered by her black hair like a waterfall. She held her head with her hands, and her body was trembling. What she was talking about was all covered by the loud cry of the two children.

Hearing the baby crying like this, Leon knew that he had made a big mistake. He asked anxiously, "How's it going? Why are the babies crying like this? I shouldn't have said that."

Without answering him, John put his phone into his pocket, ran to Nina, squatted down, put his hands on her shoulders and shook it hard.

"Little girl, what's wrong? What happened? What did Leon say to you? I'll take you to the hospital. Let's go to the hospital."

"Little girl? What little girl? Who is little girl? Why do you call me little girl?"

When John was about to reach out to hug her, Nina suddenly grabbed his arm and looked up at him.

Because John arrived in a hurry, he forgot to put on his mask.

Nonsense Seemed To Be True

play\_arrow

Nina's scattered hair covered her face, but it couldn't block all her sight. John's handsome face was like a bomb into her eyes.

Her amber eyes were wide open. She rolled her eyes, liking the bomb exploded.

"Who the hell are you?" Nina's hand scratched the back of John's hand and left a blood mark. Then she fell into his arms.

John picked her up horizontally, opened the door and walked out. He happened to meet Cali who came in a hurry when she heard the noise.

"Who...Who are you?" Stunned, Cali looked at the cold and handsome face in front of her and finally recognized him through his eyes. "Mr. Sean, are you Mr. Sean? Why did you take off your mask? Don't you have scars on your face? What, what..."

"Shut up. Call an ambulance." It took Cali three seconds to realize that something had happened to Princess Nina. "Ambulance! I'll call an ambulance right away!"

John walked out with Nina in his arms. Cali turned around and followed him, but was stopped by a voice.

"You stay and take ca idn't blame him, but comforted, "In fact, this time sleeping may not be a bad thing. Last time when Nina woke up, she forgot you. Maybe she will remember you this time when she wakes up."

"Yes, I think so." Vicente stretched out her hand and wanted to pat him on the shoulder. Seeing him sitting there like a malicious God, she thought for a while and withdrew her hand silently.

There was a gleam in John's dark eyes. Even though he knew that Vicente was making up lies without any scientific evidence, he still took it seriously in his heart.

He looked at her pale face affectionately.

"You don't have to kiss me. I promise you." John gently pinched her face.

Maybe it was because of his pinch that he pulled the eyelashes that had been quietly protecting her eyes.

Nina murmured, "John..."

The ward was strangely quiet. Except for the breath of the three people, there was only the sound of Nina whispering, "John."

The two of them were stunned.

Vicente's nonsense seemed to be true.
