Chapter: 691

I Will Help Her Promote Her Seniority

The next day, Leon had a sleepless night.

The body clock at seven o'clock woke him up. He sat up with sleepy eyes and tried to recall if he had a strange dream last night. Sure enough, he didn't.

It was an accident the night before yesterday. It was because Michelle was beside him that the kiss in his dream was lingering.

Leon once again attributed the feeling in the past two days to the temporary disorder of abstinence.

But there was one thing that he couldn't deny. He really couldn't treat Michelle as his ordinary friend.

He faced up to the fact that Michelle was a girl who made men have feelings for. If he could share the bed with her again, he really couldn't help doing something.

It seemed that he had to keep a distance from her.

After washing his face and brushing his teeth, he looked at the luxurious breakfast in the hotel without any appetite. Instead, he began to miss the handmade noodle worth more than ten dollars per bowl, and a cup of freshly ground soybean milk worth four dollars per cup.

Leon had been driving for an hour, just for a bowl of light noodles. He was in a humble restaurant, which was much worse than a hotel suite.

It was such a small restaurant with all seats available.

Before him, a luxury dark green Ferrari was parked on the roadside, which color was orried about her. If she doesn't find a boyfriend, my wife will hold a blind date for her." James said with a smile.

"What did you say?" Leon's dim eyes gathered, not as unfocused as before.

James repeated it again, "My wife is so worried..."

"The first sentence." Leon interrupted him, looking anxious.

"Mimi has started dating?" James asked suspiciously.

His amber eyes were a little short, and there was anger in Leon's eyes. "The first sentence."

"Mimi was taking a walk with a boy." Then, like a robot, James repeat it again. He looked at Leon and wanted to find the answer to why he was suddenly abnormal. He asked, "Leon, what's wrong?"

"Nothing. I'll make a phone call first." Leon smiled, trying to hide the anger in his eyes.

"Okay." When James saw Leon turn around and walk two steps forward, he pricked up his ears and heard Leon say gently to the woman on the other end of the line, "Michelle, I'm in your favorite handmade noodles restaurant. I don't have enough money to buy a bowl of noodles, and I can't buy another cup of soybean milk."

"Okay, Michelle. Come here quickly. I'm hungry."

Hearing what Leon said, James was stunned. He couldn't what he had heard. He was confused.

James rubbed his ears in shock.

'Is there something wrong with my ears? Did I hear it wrong?'

He Likes To Be Raised By Michelle

"Leon, I'm already here. Wait a moment." Hearing Michelle's slightly anxious voice with a sense of comfort, Leon smiled faintly, and the smile at the corners of his eyebrows and eyes was bigger and bigger.

He hung up the phone with satisfaction. As soon as he looked back, he met the confused eyes of James. He was in a good mood, but he didn't feel embarrassed. Instead, he felt that the 1.8 meters tall young man in front of him was a little naive.

"What's wrong? Do me a favor. Don't tell Michelle my true identity yet." Raising his eyebrows, Leon said and patted him on the shoulder calmly.

James was more confused, "You are the brother of Aunt Nina. How could Mimi not know your identity? Unless she doesn't know Aunt Nina is..."

In the middle of his words, he suddenly realized something and said in disbelief, "Really?"

James thought, 'Hasn't Mimi known that Aunt Nina is the princess of C Island yet?'

Leon smiled and asked, "What do you think?"

The way Leon looked at him indicated that Mimi still didn't know the truth.

"I thought they told Mimi," said James, frowning two times.

"Maybe they also think so." Le not good for her.

"Leon, I'm leaving now. If you have anything, just call me. We're family, sooner or later. You're welcome." James smiled brightly and his whole body was shining in the sun.

A more than 20 year old boy was always so high spirited and vigorous.

When he watched James drive away, the empty parking space was quickly occupied by a black Audi. A beautiful figure got out of the passenger seat, and her cute baby face was reflected in his amber eyes.

Her soft short hair were reaching to her shoulder. And her big watery eyes was under the hair bang. Her collagen face shone in the sun, and her pink face was like a peach, which is so cute that he wanted to take a bite.

Seeing Michelle who had left the other man behind came here in a hurry, Leon couldn't help smiling. But the next second, he saw a man bypassing the car and walking towards Michelle. The two of them walked towards him together, and the smile at the corners of his mouth froze.

Michelle was very close to Colby, and their slightly shaking arms seemed to be able to get close to each other at any time.

All of a sudden, Leon's eyes darkened.

He Called Her Intimately

"Leon!" In the morning, there were many people coming and going at the door of the shop. As soon as Michelle saw Leon, she trotted towards him.

The little girl was really like a fairy running over. Her eyebrows and eyes were curved, and Leon's gloomy eyes were expelled. He smiled and watched her run across the zebra crossing and stop in front of him.

"Why are you running? Is there a ghost chasing you?" There was a thick smile in his soft voice. Although Leon liked to see Michelle running to him, he still had to blame her. It was obvious that he was just pretending innocent.

Michelle raised her head and opened her bright eyes, "I'm afraid that you will be hungry."

When the breeze blew gently, a little hair on her forehead was lifted. It reminded Michelle of Huan's reminder that a woman liked a strong man and a man liked a beautiful woman, and a girl must pay more attention to her own image.

Then she raised her white and tender hands to cover her forehead, and her little fingers quietly smoothed her disobedient hair.

Leon didn't know what was on her mind. He thought it was because the sun was shini

"Michelle's brother?" "You mean Michelle's brother is fierce?" Austin asked in confusion

"No, he is ferocious and cruel." The more harmless Leon smiled, the more ferocious he became. Now thinking of the situation just now, Colby almost lost his balance.

"Ferocious, cruel, then we may not see the same person."

"How could it be possible? His surname is Lu. I didn't know he is not Michelle's biological brother until today." Colby said with dissatisfaction. "He threatened me not to call him Michelle Mimi."

A cold snort came through the phone, "No wonder he is only cruel to you."

"What do you mean?" Colby asked in confusion.

"Don't try to fool the little girl with sweet words." Austin then hung up the phone.

Colby, who had been warned two times in a row, was rendered speechless...

'I just call her Mimi. And it's a little closer.

But I don't talk sweet words at all!'

Colby held back his anger but he couldn't vent it. He patted the steering wheel hard. The car honked twice.

Leon Is A temptress

In the restaurant, Leon was not in a good mood. He ate breakfast slowly and said nothing.

There were people chatting happily around the table, and Michelle didn't notice the subtle change of Leon's mood at all. She just watched him eating carefully, picking up noodles with chopsticks and put them into his mouth, scooping out milk with a spoon and handed it to his mouth.

Leon's mouth was so attractive.

Michelle was stunned and swallowed.

"Do you want to drink?" Leon asked as he raised his head and found that she was staring at the spoon in his hand. She nodded in surprise and then shook her head.

Since she couldn't make up her mind, as her friend, he decided for her, "Buy another bowl."

"No, thanks. It's a waste. I don't need it." Michelle said. This time, she could only shake her head without nodding.

She had already had breakfast with Colby. When she finished eating and was waiting for the orchids to be sent here, she received a call from Leon, so she didn't buy the orchids this morning.

If she couldn't get it now, she had to wait another half a month.

She couldn't mention anything about orchids. She was afraid that she might spill it, so she naturally skipped the topic of having breakfast.

Fortunately, she didn't mention it. Otherwise, Leon would feel depressed for no reason.

"Just drink mine if you don't want to buy it. I can't finish it." Leon was certain that she wanted to drink it and knew the reason why she refused was because it would w d Leon.

"Leon, are you free this noon? I have a good gift for you."

"Good morning, Michelle." Leon was still lying on the bed with his eyes closed. In the morning, his voice was a little hoarse, and he seemed to be sleepy, lazily and somewhat seductive. "At noon? I don't know if I'm free, but I can make me as free as possible. I am awesome, right?"

Early in the morning, Leon's brain was still a little confused. Without a clear and rational sense, his tone was somewhat frivolous. Especially the last sentence, if Wynn heard it, he might scold Leon for being a rogue again.

He didn't hear any response from the other end of the line, nor did he open his charming foxlike eyes. He just smiled, "Hmm? Why don't you say anything?"

All of a sudden, Michelle snorted, "You are not Leon. He won't talk like a temptress."

Then she hung up the phone.

Leon, who had been called a temptress, opened his eyes and was stunned.

After two seconds, He received a call from Wynn. Leon asked impatiently, "What's up?"

"Yes, it's you. Michelle told me that your phone was stolen and that a temptress stole it."

Hearing it, Leon's face darkened.

"A temptress? I happen to have something to tell you. Valerie and I will come back today..." Wynn said with a smile on the other side of the phone.

Leon didn't hear the last two words. When Wynn called him "a temptress", he had already lowered the voice of the phone and casually threw his phone aside, letting Wynn talk to himself.

Michelle left the club early in the morning, but she didn't contact Colby immediately. Although she couldn't wait to buy the orchid, she had to consider the fact that Colby had just come back from abroad and he had to get over the jet lag. She waited more than two hours outside the community where Colby lived, standing or sitting.

The security guard of the community thought Michelle was so cute that it didn't seem like she was a bad person, he went to ask her. When he knew that she was looking for Colby, the security guard's eyes changed. He sighed and felt sorry for her.

Michelle felt a little confused, but she still smiled at the security guard with a lovely face.

The security guard finally couldn't bear it and persuaded her to go home and not to waste time waiting for unworthy people.

Michelle was even more confused. When she was about to ask something, she was stopped by the phone alarm.

She set an alarm clock at ten o'clock. When it was time, she called Colby and waited for him at the gate of the community.

About more than ten minutes later, Colby didn't show up. But Colby's nanny came instead st time that Colby was refused to have an appointment by others. He was a little disappointed. Was he not charming enough?

It couldn't be. He looked in the mirror for a long time before coming out.

"Well, it seems that I can only invite you next time." With a smile, Colby stood up and went into the garden house to take out the orchids. "The orchids bloom many times a year. You are just in time for this pink orchids. Now it's a good time to give it to Leon. It will bloom after a period of time."

The green orchids and plants were planted in the soil, with three small buds, like a lotus before it bloomed, and the petals were wrapped in a layer, pink and white.

"It's so beautiful." Michelle couldn't help but exclaim. She reached out and held the flowerpot happily. "I've only seen orchids before, but I've never seen them bloom. They are so beautiful. Leon will definitely like them."

Michelle raised her eyes and smiled at Colby. Her clear and bright eyes were not stained with dust. Her lips were red and her teeth were white. Her eyebrows and her eyes were even curved into the shape of a crescent moon.

Colby was flipped, and he couldn't take his eyes off her.

Holding the flowerpot in her arms, Michelle couldn't help touching the green leaves with her fingers. She said to Colby, "Thank you. I'll transfer the money to you now. It's fifty-six thousand dollars."

Seeing that she took out her phone to transfer the money, Colby quickly said, "No, just take it as a gift for you."

"Yes." Michelle insisted, "And I bought it for Leon."

The money was not a big deal for Colby. He insisted, "Just take it as a gift for Leon."

"But this is a gift I prepare for Leon." Michelle looked at him with her black eyes, "You are not familiar with Leon. Why do you send him orchids?"

For a moment, Colby was speechless

Her words made sense, and he didn't know how to answer.

"Okay, the money is transferred. Have you seen the bill?" When Colby was in a daze, Michelle had already transferred the money quickly.

After getting the orchid, Michelle didn't want to stay there any longer. She protected the orchid and left in a good mood.

Colby wanted to drive her home, but he found that he didn't bring the car key with him. So he had to go home to get it. When he took the car key and walked out, Michelle was already far the outside world. Like now, Adams and Elaine hadn't been home for almost a year. They just called back on festivals, but couldn't make too long.

But before Michelle went to high school, her parents accompanied her. They didn't devote themselves to scientific research until she went to high school.

Although she was accompanied by her cousin, Emma, Michelle still wanted to have a brother and sister. When she was a child, she always wanted a brother so that she hold her parents' arms to let them give a birth to a brother for her.

It was impossible for her to have a brother, and she could only give birth to a brother or sister. However, her father and Elaine had abandoned their career for more than ten years. They finally raised their daughter and could continue to do what they liked. They didn't want to give birth to a child and put their career aside.

At the beginning, when Michelle met Leon, she treated him as her brother sincerely. But later she failed to resist her temptation.

And when she met Evelyn, who called her sister, she immediately forgot her brother while having a little sister, which made her more feel moved unconsciously.

Find Women In The Club

Unlike usual, Leon stayed in the cloakroom for more than ten minutes. In fact, he was not an indecisive person. Moreover, he fiddled with his hair in front of the mirror for a while and applied some hair gel to make it look more stylish.

He took off the watch and put on it on his wrist one after another. After thinking for a while, he chose the most inconspicuous one. The brand logo on it was the smallest, and it was printed on the side of the watch plate. It was difficult to see the thin English letters clearly, unless the little girl, Michelle, was observing his hand.

In order to match his image of being so poor that he needed to be raised by Michelle, he had been wearing the simplest clothes. The incense on his clothes was temporary smoked after he received the phone call from Michelle. He didn't have enough time to let it dissipate a little. He could smell the fragrance when he was a little close to sniffing. It was the light fragrance of the plum blossoms in snow.

As soon as Leon walked out of the revolving door of the hotel, he saw a beautiful girl, about twenty years old or less, looking at him timidly with joy in her eyes.

"Tasha?" When Leon saw the girl again, a hint of helplessness appeared in his eyes. It was the sixth time today.

Last week, he went to a club. The boss personally sent three women t

Leon standing on the roadside.

Leon also looked in this direction.

Their eyes met, and the two were stunned.

This scene was somewhat familiar. At the charity dinner four years ago, Leon sat on the right side of the corridor, and Valerie sat on the left side of the corridor. When the auction of Valerie's bracelet was held, the two's eyes met each other unexpectedly. Later, when Bryant introduced them to each other, they knew them had known each other for a long time. The two of them danced together and were destined. Unfortunate fate.

After a short pause, Valerie smiled calmly.

Leon frowned. He didn't know that Valerie would come back today.

Actually, Tabitha had told him this morning, but he hadn't heard her. He not only told Leon that Valerie would come back today, but also said that they would have lunch together to welcome Valerie and Wynn come back.

At that time, Leon threw his phone aside and didn't say anything. Wynn thought he had acquiesced because Wynn had scolded him for something unpleasant after hanging up the phone.

Bryant drove back to pick up Leon for lunch.

A few seconds after the car stopped, Wynn woke up. He took off his sunglasses, stuck his head out of the window and said to Leon, "Don't look. Get in the car. We're hungry."

Valerie moved to the left to make room for him.

Valerie Is Back

Valerie had been mentally prepared before she came. When they met again after four years, Leon still looked handsome in her memory. His jade like fair skin was smoother and more delicate in the sun, and his foxlike eyes were like a jade bowl with amber light, which made her couldn't move eyes away.

Four years was enough for a person to see what had happened in the past from the perspective of an outsider.

Now she remembered that Leon didn't do anything excessive to her in the past. He imprisoned her in the castle just because he liked her too much. Except for this, everything else followed her heart. He didn't even force her, but took good care of her. On the contrary, she blamed him because she had been being spoiled and arrogant.

He treated her well and she had a crush on him, but she didn't know why she said so many words to hurt him. Because her personal freedom was restricted back then, there was no extra area for her to move except for the old castle.

No matter how well she was treated, she didn't want to be a caged beauty.

After leaving the

't even want to mention her name.

Valerie looked a little embarrassed, but Wynn held a special position in Leon's heart. She had to fawn on him and couldn't offend him. Many people who discussed her secretly had been punished, and only Wynn quarreled with Leon face to face, but nothing happened to him.

Even if she couldn't get Wynn on her side, she couldn't kick Wynn out to help others.

After thinking for a while, Valerie smiled and said, "Yes, I should call him Mr. Leon. I said something wrong just now."

"That's good." Wynn snorted.

It was not easy for Bryant to find his cousin back. Hearing Wynn's unhappy tone, he stood out to defend his cousin. "Valerie used to call his name, but she can't change it in a short time. It's my fault that I didn't make it clear to her..."

He stopped talking abruptly. Wynn's frightened eyes interrupted his words.

It was really a dilemma for Bryant. On the one hand, she was his cousin. On the other hand, he was his friend. And it was his cousin who had done something bad to Leon first. So he had to shut up.

I Will Support You For A Lifetime

It was already twelve o'clock at noon when Leon got off the taxi. The small stones on the stone road were lit up by the sun. Rows of shops on the left side were close to each other, and on the right side was willow. The branches were hanging on the sparkling lake.

The fragrance of the food floated out from a restaurant called Accident Restaurant. When Leon opened the door and entered, he heard a soft voice saying, "Welcome."

The voice came from a little girl at the cashier's desk. She was 15 or 15 years old. Standing beside her was an expressionless man. She rolled her eyes and tried to calm herself down.

Leon turned his head and saw the expressionless man show a trace of surprise. Then he heard the little girl happily call, "Miss. Nina."

It was Leon's turn to be surprised. He was about to ask if they knew his sister, but was interrupted by the expressionless man.

"I'm sorry. She made a mistake." After saying that, Ford gave Evelyn a look. Evelyn immediately stood out and whispered, "I'm sorry."

"It doesn't matter." With a faint smile, Leon heard Huan's voice, "Leon, her

g. I must be dizzy. I remember wrong, it's not 60,000 dollars, but fifty-eight dollars. Leon, do you know how much fifty-eight dollars is? Two thirds of Michelle's savings. She is almost out of money after she bought it. Poor girl. Leon, Michelle is so good to you. I won't be so good to my brother. I will only be so good to my boyfriend."

She meant something.

Leon noticed it. The next second, he heard Michelle say, "But I will be so good to Leon."

She would be nice to Leon even if he was not her boyfriend.

Huan was speechless. Huan looked at her in disgust, picked up the glass and drank it up. It was tasteless.

Leon saw everything. He just smiled and glanced at Michelle's innocent face.

Leon thought, 'Michelle really treats me as her friend wholeheartedly.'

"Michelle, I will support you from now on. I'll support you for a lifetime," Leon said.

The air suddenly froze.

Michelle opened her mouth in surprise. She wanted to say something, but she didn't know what to say. She carefully hid her joy in her eyes.

'Leon's words are like sweet words between couples.'

Don't Like Him. He Is Not As Good Looking As Me

play_arrow

Huan observed the flow of the eyes of the two people and the undercurrent hiding under the calm eyes of Michelle. She knew it was not good to ruin Michelle's mood at this time, but she did not want Michelle to be too immersed in her own imagination, because the eyes of Leon were too calm.

When he heard her say that Michelle had done so much for him, even if he said that he would support Michelle for a lifetime, he was still calm, as if he had already made up his mind.

"Leon, you going to support Michelle for a lifetime because she is your sister's friend and you treat her as your sister, right? Because of Nina?"

Huan thought, 'Since his young sister Nina had passed away, Leon missed her so much that he took her best friend as his own young sister.'

It was normal for an elder brother to raise a younger sister for a lifetime. Her elder brother often said that she could marry if she wanted to get married in the future. If not, she could stay at home. It was not impossible for him to raise a younger sister.

If Michelle hadn't fallen in love with Leon, it would be Michelle's fortune that Leon had promised to raise her for a lifetime. However, this situation was a little unfair to Michelle.

Michelle liked Leon and didn't want to get along with him like a like it very much." Leon carried the paper bag with his left hand. The orchids swayed gently when he walked, and occasionally reflected through the mottled shadows of the trees.

"Michelle, did you buy orchids from your classmate?" Leon asked.

"Huan asked for me and told me that he had a petal lotus orchid, so I went to buy it from him. I heard from Paul that you like lotus flowers, so I want to buy it for you." Michelle said.

"Why do you want to give me the orchids I like? The shaver you gave me last time was on children's day. What's about this time?" Leon was a little confused.

Michelle's heart jolted. She lowered her eyes and said, "Because I did something wrong to you."

She kissed him secretly.

"What's it?" Leon's tone suddenly changed. It was not as friendly as before. It seemed that he was a little angry.

With a guilty conscience, Michelle lowered her head and dared not look at him. "I'm sorry, Leon. I can't tell you."

Then there was silence.

After a while, Leon softened his tone and asked, "Do you like Colby?"

"What?" Michelle raised her eyes in a daze.

'Obviously, she doesn't like Colby.'

The man who was still a little angry a second ago suddenly smiled and gently said, "Don't like him. He is not as good-looking as me."
