

THE CONQUERORS PATH

Chapter 5: Family

Chapter 5: Family

Nora Lionheart being one of the important capture targets she was blessed with beauty, strength and background.

She was among one of the girls i had conquered, a person who displays a strong front like she cares about nothing but has a warm hidden heart within her

That person in now standing in front of me, it really is a surreal experience, i always wondered why people would buy figurines of thier interest, now i can understand why, it really is exiting to have a figure of your imagination in front of you right now in front if me stood a girl of 10 year, blonde hair that fell to her shoulders, green eyes just like her mother, a round and beautiful face which looked cute, no doubt she would swoon the hearts of countless men in the future when she grows up.

Beside her stood a timid girl of six, a short blob of silver hair, a pair of large green eyes blinking with innocence looking directly into mine.

Elda Lionheart inheriting my fathers hair and mother eyes, she is one of the important pieces in making Nora fall in love with you in the game we have to save Elda heroically while winning Nora's heart, after that we are given a choice of taking Elda has you younger sister or....lover along with Nora

You can take Elda has your lover if you are capable of keeping it a secret from her big sister, or if you have a certain taste for well....you know loli's

Game aside right now i am being stared upon by my sister.

"humph, just as i thought you really are a weakling, just fainting after breakfast"

my sister said staring at me like a weakling, staring at her like a scared kid i dive deeper into my mothers breast "fearfully"

'girl wait for me to conquer you after that i will be whooping your ass later, but damn so soft'

seeing her son hug her tighter, Grace didnt think much of it, who would think that an 8 year old will be having the soul of a 22 year old man?

sighing Grace looked towards her eldest daughter who had began to bully her younger brother after her husbands demise

Thinking of her husband a pang of pain hits heart, bringing herself back together she looks towards her daughter

"Nora dont bully your brother, you know he as been through a lot," hearing her mother reproach her she clicked her tongue and looked away.

And while i was enjoying this smooth land of pillows a notification hit me

[Ding....!]

[capture targets detected, does host want to activate read function]

'read function, what's that?'

[it lets the host read certain information about a target the host looks at]

'oh, then activate it' , saying so i looked towards my so called big sister and a row of information appears

Name: Nora Lionheart

Age: 10

Talent:10/10

Titles: None

Love: 50%(sibling love)

Description: Even though you are her brother she has a small dislike for you born from her father's death and your wimpy attitude infuriate's her

Difficulty:AA+ (you are her brother, the difficulty of making her love you as a man is extremely difficult )

Reading this i got a basic idea of how she thinks of me and I get that she thinks i am partly responsible for that incident

it Seems that Austin's father had died a year ago protecting him.

His father was ambushed outside their territory by a group of assassins while travelling with Austin, it was said that maybe he could have lived if not for Austin.

so Nora always had a grudge at him for it, looks like the kid became like this beacuse if his low esteem

Then i looked towards my little sister

Name: Elda Lionheart

Age: 6

Talent:9/10

Title: None

Love: 66%(sibling love)

Description: wants to get close to her big brother but doesn't know how. Looks a bit down on you due to your wimpy side.

>desires to play with her big brother

Difficulty: B+(she is a child if you play your cards right, she's yours)

'umm, its better than i thought, i might have a basic idea on how to deal with her'

Lastly i look towards my mother

Name: Grace Lionheart

Age: 33

Talent: 9/10

Title: princess of the battlefield, The Red Rose

Love 100%(a mother's love is always max)

Description: Love you no matter what.

>currently in mild depression and sleep loss

>Her heart pains because of her broken family

Difficulty: S (come on she's your mother, how hard do you think it is you make her see you as a man)

seeing this my eyes widen from surprise, it seems that i can even conquer my mother if i want, this opens a whole new area of experimentation.

After checking upon me, my family choose to leave me to rest, which i asked for and my little sister approached me before everyone left

pulling my shirt she said

“big brother, i hope you get well soon”

hearing her words i smiled and rubbed my hands on her head for a pat to her surprise

“Dont worry when big brother gets better, i will play with you a lot”

surprised from my sudden act of intimacy which was out of my character she was first surprised but after that she smiled shyly and ran away

shaking my head in amusement, i lay on my bed

A lot happened today and truthfully i haven't accepted it all completely, even if my soul is of an adult my current body if of a child

it can't handle all this stress

‘Whatever happens from now i will deal with it then’

saying so i fall into blissful sleep.
