

Falling for the Contract Bride Chapter 276-280

Chapter 276 The Child Is Long Gone

After Mu Zhi disappeared, Lu Jinye began an extensive search. However, day after day, Mu Zhi was nowhere to be found even after employing extensive manpower and material resources.

In the search for Mu Zhi, Lu Jinye's hope was dashed repeatedly. Slowly, all hopes he had had turned into total disappointment. Gradually, after coaxing Mu Xiaomu to sleep every day, Lu Jinye would go to the bar alone.

In the bar, Lu Jinye had been drinking continuously. Suddenly, a woman strolled towards Lu Jinye. She gently picked up Lu Jinye's glass and said, "Jinye, don't drink anymore."

Lu Jinye raised his head and took a look. This woman looked familiar. It was Xiao Qingqing.

Lu Jinye took the wine glass from Xiao Qingqing's hand and finished the wine in one shot. He raised the glass and said to Xiao Qingqing, "Leave me alone. Let me drink."

Xiao Qingqing sat next to Lu Jinye. She slowly approached Lu Jinye with a wine glass in her hand. She then whispered into his ear, "Jinye, my heart aches if you keep drinking. You know, you always hold a special place in my heart."

"Albeit you don't love me now, I still love you."

"Please... Can we be together? Let me take care of you."

Every word Xiao Qingqing said was full of temptation.

When she held the glass in her hand, the liquid inside was swirling.

At that moment, her cell phone rang.

Xiao Qingqing glanced at the phone. She did not want to answer the call but the phone kept ringing. At last, she answered the call angrily, "Hello?"

Shen Mobo's voice could be heard from the other end of the phone, "Where are you? Why didn't you rest at home?"

"I'm outside."

Xiao Qingqing answered arbitrarily.

The background was noisy and loud noises could be heard clearly. People were walking staggeringly, making noise.

The music in the bar was deafening.

Shen Mobo frowned slightly. He carefully identified the background sounds, and after recognizing it, he questioned Xiao Qingqing angrily.

“Xiao Qingqing, are you at the bar again?!”

“What’s the matter?”

Xiao Qingqing replied disdainfully, “Mind your own business. There’s nothing wrong for me to come to the bar.”

“Have you forgotten what the doctor said? The child’s heart problem is caused by your drinking habit and the things that you have experienced. Why can’t you just stay home?”

Hearing Shen Mobo’s anxious voice, Xiao Qingqing was indifferent towards him.

“Shen Mobo, it doesn’t matter if I stayed home or not. According to the doctor’s data analysis, this child will most likely die before she was born. Even if I managed to give birth, she would die anyway. Sooner or later, she will die. So why should I refrain myself from drinking?”

Next to her, Lu Jinye was already asleep. Xiao Qingqing made sure that what she said could not be heard by him. She shouted at Shen Mobo, “Shen Mobo, do not interfere with my life! I don’t love you at all!”

“This child is not Lu Jinye’s. She is meaningless now. Do you have any idea at all?”

“Where are you?!”

Shen Mobo had a bad feeling when Xiao Qingqing said these words, so he asked hastily.

But Xiao Qingqing had already ended the call.

After the call was hung up, Shen Mobo plunged into a pit of despair!

What did Xiao Qingqing mean? Although there was no explicit explanation, Shen Mobo could grasp the intention behind it!

Because the child was not Lu Jinye’s child, so it meant nothing to Xiao Qingqing?!

Thinking of this, Shen Mobo instantly became worried.

He immediately picked up the phone again and made a call. He commanded, “Check through all the bars and nightclubs in City A! Find out where Xiao Qingqing is!”

“Noted!”

Shen Mobo had never been so angry. He seemed to be roaring every word he said.

The subordinates on the other end of the call were so scared that they didn't dare disobey. They quickly followed Shen Mobo's instructions. In a matter of minutes, Shen Mobo got a message: Zero Degree bar. Lu Jinye is there too!

When Shen Mobo heard the news, he was raging mad. He rushed into the cold wind without wearing his jacket.

He then quickly got into the car and rushed towards the Zero Degree bar!

However, when he arrived at the bar, he saw Xiao Qingqing driving away with Lu Jinye.

He then drove to chase after her.

Xiao Qingqing seemed to have realized that Shen Mobo's car was following her, so she accelerated the car's speed.

She circumnavigated along the meandering road. It was lucky of her because a car accident blocked Shen Mobo's path, so she managed to lose the tail.

When she arrived at Lu Jinye's house and after she had put him on the bed, Lu Jinye was still not sober.

Xiao Qingqing then glanced at the time. She gave the servant some money in Lu Jinye's house and asked, "Which room is Mu Xiaomu in?"

The servant pointed in the direction in which Mu Xiaomu's room was in.

Xiao Qingqing quickly walked towards Mu Xiaomu's room.

She deliberately stomped loudly as she walked.

When she appeared at Mu Xiaomu's door, Mu Xiaomu was already awake.

Sitting on the bed, she looked at Xiao Qingqing with her big, round eyes. "Madam, what's the matter?"

"Nothing. I'm here to look after you!"

With that said, Xiao Qingqing walked towards Mu Xiaomu. She tried to get close to Mu Xiaomu. "You may touch my belly. There's a little sister inside."

"I don't want to."

Mu Xiaomu was taken aback that she stepped back.

Seeing how incorporative Mu Xiaomu was, Xiao Qingqing instantly turned unhappy.

She stretched out her hand to grab Mu Xiaomu's hand and pressed her hand directly on her belly. She then asked, "Do you like having a little sister?"

She bellowed every word she said.

Then, she broke Mu Xiaomu's drinking cup and picked up one of the fragments.

Suddenly, she stabbed the fragment towards her womb!

The glass fragment was small in size, not enough to poke through the uterus.

But Xiao Qingqing rolled off the bed pretending to be flustered. She then put the glass in her hand into Mu Xiaomu's hand.

She was worried that what she had done was not enough...

Chapter 277 Blessings

Xiao Qingqing started acting hysterically. She shouted at Mu Xiaomu, "What do you want? I didn't do anything to your mother..." After saying that, she ran out of the room in a state of panic. Inadvertently, she tripped and rolled down the stairs.

One's body must ache if rolled down a dozen steps of stairs. Xiao Qingqing started seeing stars after the fall. She quickly reached out her hand to touch the bottom part of her body.

She felt some sticky fluid underneath. She took a look and it was blood.

Seeing the pool of blood, she felt weaker and weaker. She then used her last strength to call for help.

...

When Lu Jinye arrived at the hospital, Xiao Qingqing was being wheeled out from the ward.

The servant had already explained everything to Lu Jinye.

Mu Xiaomu suddenly went crazy thinking that Xiao Qingqing had killed her mother, so she stabbed her and pushed her down the stairs. As a result, Xiao Qingqing had a miscarriage.

All the evidence pointed at Mu Xiaomu. There was no surveillance camera in Mu Xiaomu's room. Outside of the room, Xiao Qingqing had indeed fallen from the stairs and shed a lot of blood while Mu Xiaomu was holding a piece of glass fragment in her hand when she walked out of the room.

Mu Xiaomu kept explaining, but her explanation seemed illogical.

No mother on earth would use a miscarriage to gain sympathy and Mu Xiaomu had not been herself ever since her mother's disappearance.

Lu Jinye looked at Xiao Qingqing and said, "I'm sorry."

He apologized on behalf of Mu Xiaomu.

“I hope you could forgive Xiaomu, although I know this is unfair to you.”

After having a close brush with death, Xiao Qingqing opened her eyes to see Lu Jinye in front of her.

At that moment, she felt a sense of ridicule. As expected, Lu Jinye loved Mu Xiaomu so dearly, he even apologized for her.

Xiao Qingqing showed a pained expression on her face, “Don’t blame Xiaomu. It’s my fault. I shouldn’t have gone to check on Xiaomu. I should have avoided her when she woke up. Who would’ve thought she would push me...”

“Is there anything that you want? What requests do you have? Just tell me.”

Lu Jinye looked at Xiao Qingqing. Without waiting for her to finish her sentence, he asked Xiao Qingqing to make a request.

In an instant, Xiao Qingqing had a faint smile.

“Jinye, if I were to marry you, would you like that?”

Lu Jinye stared at Xiao Qingqing in a daze.

Mu Xiaomu had caused big trouble this time. Xiao Qingqing was barren after losing her child.

Lu Jinye was taken aback by Xiao Qingqing’s request.

At last, Xiao Qingqing burst into tears...

When Shen Mobo arrived at the hospital, he happened to see Xiao Qingqing crying in Lu Jinye’s arms. He stood at the end of the corridor and watched them for a long time.

In the end, he turned around and left!

He knew he was late. He was late in Xiao Qingqing’s life. He was late since the beginning.

It was all too late, and there was no turning back.

He could not step forward to tell Lu Jinye the truth.

The truth that the child belonged to him and Xiao Qingqing should belong to him!

But he could not bear to say that. He could only turn his head, quietly got down the elevator, and got into his car. He lit up a cigarette and smoked for the longest time.

When the cigarette burned out, he sent a text message to Xiao Qingqing, ‘I give you my blessing!’

...

Five years later, in the airport of City A.

A beautiful woman stepped off the plane slowly, holding a cute little boy in her hand.

The little boy who was wearing sunglasses looked charming.

As he looked around at the people around him, he asked, "Mommy, are you sure that daddy will not get angry?"

The woman bent down to carry the little boy in her arms and explained, "Don't worry. I used my friend's name to buy the flight ticket. And look at mommy! No one can tell who I am with this hideous makeup. Your father wouldn't know if he doesn't check the flight schedule."

"Let's go. Let's go around the city where your father lives. I'm sure we'll have fun!"

The woman sounded excited.

The little boy twisted his body to get out of the woman's arms. He said, "Mommy, I don't want to be carried anymore. I've grown up. I can walk by myself."

The woman said to the little boy helplessly, "Oh well, I know you can walk by yourself. Go ahead then."

Having said that, she took off her sunglasses to have a good look at the city.

Her skin was as fair as the snow. Wearing a denim jacket, she did not look like a mother at all. She looked more like a college student!

If it weren't for the little boy holding her hand, no one would believe that she was a mother.

People might even grow jealous of her seeing how handsome the little boy was!

The little boy had lustrous black hair, and he also wore a denim jacket. Unlike the woman who looked exceptionally sweet, he looked calm and distant.

As the little boy and the woman walked out of the arrival gate slowly, he studied the crowd around them.

They all have black-colored hair, and they did not have deep eye sockets. They did not have a fit body nor a sharp nose bridge like the westerners do.

In conclusion, the people here looked a lot like his mother and himself. They did not look like his father at all.

The little boy frowned and said to the woman, "Mommy, my daddy is mixed race. He has deep eyes and a tall nose. Don't you think that I don't look like daddy at all?"

"Ann ! "

The woman frowned, "You don't look like your father because you look like me. You see. Don't you think that mommy has the perfect oriental look?!"

The little boy frowned even more when she said that, "But, mommy, my eyes don't look like yours!"

"That's enough, Eric. Stop worrying about this matter anymore. I'm your mother, and your father is your biological father. Mommy has not been with other men over these years!"

After saying that, the woman carried the boy in her arms and walked hastily.

"Ann!"

In the distance, a woman shook her hand frantically and ran towards the woman.

It was a friend she met online so she could bring them around City A.

The woman hurriedly walked towards her and said, "Hello, my name is Ann, and this is my son, Eric."

When the woman was introducing herself, the gigantic screen in the airport showed a handsome, serious-looking man, ringing a company's listing bell."

Chapter 278 Husband and Wife

After Ann had introduced herself, the woman stretched out her hand and introduced herself in a friendly manner, "Hello, my name is Yan Shu."

The woman wore a windbreaker and underneath it, she seemed to be wearing her work clothes in white. "Are you a doctor?" Ann asked. Yan Shu replied reservedly, "Yes. I'm doing my housemanship at the First Hospital. I'm actually a medical houseman. Let's go."

As she said that, she took over the luggage. When they were walking towards the exit, Yan Shu suddenly realized that Eric's eyes were glaring on the airport's big screen.

The man's eyes were cold and distant. That alone had kept him aloof and apart from the crowd.

When they noticed Eric's gaze, both Ann and Yan Shu looked in the same direction.

After seeing that Eric was staring at Lu Jinye, Yan Shu smiled and explained, "This is Lu Jinye, Mr. Lu. He is the dream lover and the home-wrecker of all the women of City A."

"Home-wrecker..."

Ann could not resist laughing at the nickname she gave to Lu Jinye.

“Yes, because Mr. Lu is already married to Xiao Qingqing, the once smashing star. Many people dream of marrying Mr. Lu but since he is already married, the only option left is to let him be the home wrecker.”

Yan Shu explained with a grin on her face.

“By the way, do you have a Chinese name? I find it difficult to call you Ann. Do you mind if I give you a Chinese name?”

Yan Shu turned around and looked at Ann seriously. Ann shook her head and said, “No.”

Yan Shu frowned and thought for a moment. She then suggested, “Shan Cha, Chuan Bei, Mu Xiang, Yu Zhu, Mu Zhi, Bai Zhi, Bai Kou, Bai He, Zhu Sha, Lian Qiao, Ban Xia... Choose one.”

Hearing these strange-sounding names, Ann could not help laughing.

“What are they? Why do they sound so strange?”

“These are the pinyin of the Chinese herbals. I think it is suitable for a person’s name. You may choose one...”

“Mu...” Ann could not remember everything Yan Shu had said. However, there was one name that stood out, and it sounded familiar to her.

But she could not recall the full name.

“Bai Zhi! Do you also think that this name sounds good? From today onwards, I will call you Bai Zhi. If you like it, you may continue using this name. If you don’t, just forget about it.”

“Wait. The one before that, Mu something? I find it strangely familiar.”

“Mu Zhi?”

Yan Shu was stunned.

After giving it a thought, she said, “You can be called Mu Zhi if you want. It’s a really nice name.”

She pointed to the figure of Lu Jinye, who was appearing on the screen and said, “Rumor has it that Lu Jinye’s lover was named Mu Zhi and she died in an accident. I think this name might not be auspicious.”

“I choose the name Mu Zhi.”

Ann frowned and said, “Be it auspicious or not, I don’t care. Please take us to the hotel first. I want to get to know this city.”

“Okay.”

After Yan Shu finished speaking, she then led the way to the city.

Ann, also known as Mu Zhi, had been living in the States and Switzerland. She would travel to many places whenever she was free. However, her husband, Xie Xiu often had to travel to City A for work, and she had never been allowed to come to City A.

She sometimes wondered why Xie Xiu was always so discreet. It could be that he had a mistress in City A.

But from the way Xie Xiu treated her, she knew that Xie Xiu had no other woman.

There were two reasons she came to City A. First, she wanted to explore the mysterious city Xie Xiu would not let her come to, and second, Xie Xiu's birthday was in ten days, so she wanted to prepare a birthday surprise for Xie Xiu.

After arranging a place for 'Mu Zhi' to stay, Yan Shu told Mu Zhi, "Mu Zhi, if you need anything, just let me know. The city tour starts tomorrow."

"Okay."

Mu Zhi said to Yan Shu while coaxing Eric to take a shower.

Yan Shu was her local tour guide.

"Then I'll leave now."

After making sure Mu Zhi had everything she needed, Yan Shu was ready to leave.

When Yan Shu was about to close the door, Mu Zhi suddenly stopped Yan Shu and asked, "You mentioned that you are a medical houseman in the First Hospital. I wonder if the hospital provides any treatment for psychological disorders?"

"Our hospital is the best hospital in the country, and there are several professional doctors who are in the world-class rank. But I think our psychologists are not ranked very high."

"Do you mind telling me what is your psychological disorder?"

Yan Shu looked at Mu Zhi and asked.

Mu Zhi seemed hesitant to tell, so she asked Yan Shu, "Is there any female doctor? Can you make an appointment for me?"

Mu Zhi asked embarrassedly.

"Of course I can. How about tonight? So that our tour will not be interrupted tomorrow."

"Sure thing."

Mu Zhi did not ask further and happily sent Yan Shu away.

Mu Zhi did not expect Yan Shu to make an appointment so quickly. In a matter of minutes, she received an appointment confirmation text from Yan Shu. Mu Zhi quickly put on her coat and said to Eric, "Wait for mommy in the hotel. I will come back as soon as possible."

Eric was sitting in front of the computer staring at a string of numbers that even Mu Zhi could not understand. He replied without turning his head, "Okay, go mom."

After getting a reply from Eric, Mu Zhi left the place hurriedly.

It was difficult for Mu Zhi to explain her problem. Xie Xiu had referred her to many psychiatrists in the States but to no avail.

This time, she needed to find a solution to her problem.

Because she had always wanted to surprise Xie Xiu.

Since they were married, they should be doing things that husband and wife would do.

Mu Zhi took a cab to the First Hospital, and then she met with the psychiatrist recommended by Yan Shu.

The psychiatrist looked mature. She looked as if she had had a lot of experience in the field.

She sat in front of Mu Zhi and said to her, "Relax. Don't be nervous. Tell me your story."

"I suffered from a serious illness, and then I lost most of my memory. But that didn't affect my life. After giving birth to my son, every time I try to be intimate with my husband, I'd feel nervous and that causes muscle cramps."

Mu Zhi had described these symptoms to other doctors before and she had learned to adjust her mindset towards the matter.

So she could retell her issues comfortably.

Chapter 279 Hacked Into Lu Jinye's System

Mu Zhi explained her story painstakingly. While the psychiatrist listened to all her stories patiently as if she was chatting with a friend, it was to avoid putting pressure on the patient.

"How is your relationship with your husband?"

"It's all good." Mu Zhi recalled her memories with Xie Xiu and carefully described them to the doctor, "Due to my husband's work, he has to travel most of the time. He insists on seeing me at least once every half month no matter how busy he would be."

“He’d always give me a lot of surprises. I can always count on him, and I feel completely secure in our relationship.”

“How about your child...?”

The psychiatrist tried to guide Mu Zhi tentatively.

Mu Zhi explained thoroughly, “The child is ours. My husband told me we were childhood sweethearts. He is my first love and there’s no way that the child is someone else’s.”

“Seeing your husband once every half a month is fine but if compared to the other couples, it is quite little. So try to communicate with your husband more often. If possible, it’d be better to spend more time living together.”

The psychiatrist tried to analyze Mu Zhi’s problem.

“You’re experiencing memory loss, so you have no impression of what happened before. In fact, you and your husband are more like strangers cultivating feelings for each other.”

Beep beep beep...

Before the psychiatrist could finish speaking, Mu Zhi’s phone started ringing.

Mu Zhi hurriedly picked up the phone and apologized to the doctor, “I’m sorry.”

The other end of the call was the receptionist from the hotel where she stayed. “Good evening. Is someone in your room using a computer to log into some websites that shouldn’t be logged in?”

The receptionist asked urgently.

Mu Zhi could not help frowning and said, “Please hold. Let me find out. There’s only a four-and-a-half-year-old child in my room. So it shouldn’t be from our room.”

“Okay.”

After hanging up the phone, Mu Zhi quickly dialed Eric’s phone and asked, “Eric, what are you doing?”

Eric sounded sleepy. “Mommy, I’m sleeping. What’s the matter?”

“It’s nothing. Have you been sleeping?”

After hearing Eric’s sleepy voice, Mu Zhi was relieved.

“Yes.”

“Then it’s okay. Go to sleep. Don’t touch the computer. You didn’t surf the illegal website, did you?”

Mu Zhi was referring to websites that were not meant for children.

“Don’t worry, mommy. I didn’t. I only played games.”

Eric ended the call after reassuring his mom.

After that, Eric instantly jumped out of his bed and walked towards the computer hastily. He continued his observation to see if he had managed to turn on the security system’s firewall that he invaded.

It was remarkable.

He had not met any rivals ever since he started playing with the web security system.

After seeing Lu Jinye on the airport’s screen, he wanted to learn more about Lu Jinye’s background and his company. So he hacked into the network of Lu Jinye’s company.

Initially, everything was going smoothly.

However, his access was denied all of a sudden when he was going to browse the financial information of Lu Jinye’s company. Even the internet was cut off!

He reconnected the network and changed his domain’s name, and he managed to sneak into the system again.

The opponent seemed to be of a higher level and could track him down, so Eric did not dare to act rashly.

He had never encountered such a challenge after having been in the field for so long.

The more challenging it was, the more excited he got!

Eric continued to invade the system cautiously.

Meanwhile, in Lu Jinye’s company, Linda called an emergency meeting with the technical department. “There is another unknown invader again. Mr. Lu is not here. What should we do?”

“Have all the technicians learned the method instructed by Mr. Lu? I can’t possibly ask Mr. Lu to demonstrate again. He’s already gone to the charity dinner!”

Linda was worried like a cat on a hot tin roof.

If the system was hacked again, she would not have the face to recruit technical talents for Lu Jinye in the future.

“Fools! All fools!”

Being with Lu Jinye in the past few years, Linda's temper had also grown.

She pointed at the technicians and scolded, "How could you let anyone hack into the system so easily? We didn't pay you for nothing!"

Linda was raging mad, "Quickly find a solution!"

"Should we report to Mr. Lu again?"

One of the technicians asked Linda weakly.

Linda grabbed her hair like a crazy woman. She circled in her high heels. "Do you think reporting to Mr. Lu would bring any good? Mr. Lu is an amateur in the business sector. Do you think he knows all these better than you professionals do?"

All the technicians replied in unison, "Yes!"

It was meant to be a rhetorical question. Linda was furious when they replied!

She turned and looked at the technicians, "Yes. Yes. Yes! Then tell me what to do!"

Seeing Linda losing her temper, the executive technician explained helplessly, "Miss Linda, please don't get anxious. The main problem is that this is not an ordinary person who hacks into the system. He must be an expert!"

After hearing the explanation, Linda's eyes blazed with fierce indignation.

She took a deep breath and exhaled it, then looked at the technicians and said, "Are you saying that this so-called expert chose to hack into our company's system instead of the banks? Do you think an expert would want to understand our company's establishment process? And he has special interest in our company?"

These words did not even make sense to herself.

Out of the blue, a technician said, "Maybe that's what the invader wants?"

Maybe!

Linda's anger was boiling up!

She started walking around again and then questioned, "Okay. Since you think that might be true, then tell me who would want to know about our company's background?"

As soon as she stopped speaking, someone suddenly said, "The police have tracked the signal. We could go to the hotel to catch this invader now!"

"Let's go!"

Linda commanded imperiously.

“I am going too!”

“I want to go too!”

“I am going too!”

Behind her, a group of people raised their hands.

They were all technical talents.

Their eyes were beaming with light. All of them want to see who this brilliant invader was!

Chapter 280 Requesting To Meet Lu Jinye

Without alerting anyone, Linda and the technicians made a beeline to the hotel where Eric was located.

At that moment, Eric was still in the room, cracking the most complicated firewall. He frowned. He had never been so focused.

If he managed to hack through this last firewall, he could have all access to Lu Jinye’s company’s core information.

However, there was an expert in the company.

Eric marveled at the last firewall set up by the expert in Lu Jinye’s company. He had spent the longest time trying to conquer the final round.

The more challenging it was, the more worthwhile to try. Every cell in him was buzzing about fighting the opponent.

Because of the excitement, he did not notice what was happening outside of the room.

It was not until someone knocked on the door that he suddenly turned his head vigilantly and listened carefully to the movement outside the door. There was definitely more than one person outside of the room.

Danger.

That was his first judgment.

He immediately turned off his computer and opened the door, pretending to be sleepy. The moment he opened the door, he saw the police and a group of people who looked like programmers.

He could not help yawning and ask, “What’s the matter?”

“We need to check the room, and this is our search warrant.”

With that said, the police entered the room, and Eric did not stop them. He allowed them to enter the room and look around.

The hotel room where Mu Zhi lived was an ordinary, simple suite with a bathroom, a study room, and a living room.

The police checked the room thoroughly, but they did not find anyone other than Eric. They even went to the window and looked down to make sure that no one escaped by jumping out of the window. But there was no sign of anyone escaping through the window!

In fact, there was only a four or five years old boy in the room.

“Are there any adults with you?”

The police frowned and asked.

“My mom went out. Is it wrong for me to be on my own, sir? I’m so sleepy.”

Eric yawned again. He looked relaxed when he did not speak, but when he did, he could quickly melt people’s hearts. That instantly softened many people’s tone when talking to him.

“Could it be a mistake?”

Someone turned and asked Linda.

Everyone looked at each other. After all, there was only a small child in the room. A child this young could not possibly hack into a system. It would be too ridiculous.

Linda was puzzled too, then she asked the police, “But, isn’t this the place you tracked down?”

That was a fact, but this child overturned the fact.

“Forget it. Maybe we’re wrong. Let’s check again.”

Looking at the handsome young boy, the policewoman could not bear to keep the little guy awake, so she wanted to leave.

Everyone seemed to have agreed with her decision. When they were about to leave, Linda noticed a computer on the table.

“Check that computer.”

Suddenly, a supervisor said to one of the programmers.

In an instant, a person hurried towards the computer, turned it on, and started checking. Eric’s expression, on the other hand, was unanimously watched by everyone else in the room.

There was no expression on his face. He seemed to be indifferent regarding the situation.

He just let the programmer check the computer.

His tiny body was straightened.

However, when the computer was switched on, the programmer was stunned by a system that he had not seen before.

He stared at the system blankly. Staring at every character carefully, he knew all the codes, but when combined together, he could not comprehend them, let alone cracking them.

“What’s the matter? Is it so complicated to switch on a computer?”

Linda could feel the programmer’s hesitation and walked towards the programmer. She frowned when she saw the page.

Although she was no professional, nor could she understand the codes, she knew what she saw was something different from the usual start-up page. So she immediately called the remaining programmers to study the codes.

After half an hour, no one managed to open the page.

Everyone was stunned.

“This page can’t be opened and the procedure looks complicated. He must be the one who hacked into our company’s system!”

Linda frowned. Although the little boy was cute, her boss would kill her if he knew that she failed to complete the mission because of a little boy’s cuteness.

So, she pointed her finger at Eric.

“You have to go to the police station with us, and please contact your parents now.”

The police looked at Eric and said to him in a tone as gentle as a lamb.

“I’m sorry, but you can’t take me away. I’m underage, and I’m not from your country. The laws of your country are invalid for me.”

Eric raised his beautiful eyes and spoke seriously.

The other party could not help but frown.

Linda sighed.

“Then can you promise that you will not invade our company’s system in the future? If you can, I can leave you here!”

Linda could only take a step back. It was a risky situation. She did not know what to do.

She prayed that this little kid only did that on a whim.

At that moment, it was as if Eric had taken the initiative. He touched his chin gently and pondered carefully before speaking to Linda, “I only have one request. If my request is fulfilled, I will not invade your system anymore.”

“What is it?”

Linda looked at the little child.

He was obviously shorter than her, but she felt like she was talking to Lu Jinye. She could not bear to turn down any of his requests.

“I would like to meet the person who designed the last firewall.”

“Huh?” Linda was stunned.

She looked at the supervisor of the programming department, then saw the supervisor waving his hand at her, and walked to the corridor.

It was evident that he wanted to talk to Linda personally, so Linda followed suit.

After she went out, the supervisor said, “Linda, it is impossible to fulfil his request. Mr. Lu himself designed the last firewall. How could we ask Mr. Lu to come and meet this child?”
