

You Can Run But You Can't Hide My Contractual Wife Chapter 19

Bill Sky admittedly mesmerized by this girl's alluring beauty. He had never seen such beauty in his existence.

Bill Sky was included to the many gentlemen in this room who dropped their jaws when she came inside the room, walking so sexy with her seductive dress that every man would fight for.

Aside from that, the girl was like his match-made in heaven who's also wearing a white evening dress that perfectly matches his white tuxedo. Only the two of them were wearing the white evening outfit.

For some any reason that he couldn't explain, every curve of her body were somewhat familiar to him. Her lips and eyes were telling him something.

He couldn't stop himself looking at her face closely. She smiled at him, but her eyes were wandering around. He never saw her looked at him. Their eyes never met.

These were the eyes of cleverness and players. Those people who have great guilt and wrong doings couldn't stand to look at other people's eyes. He saw her when she came in tugging his boyfriend's arm. Then in just an hour past, he saw her again passionately hugging another man. Not only that, she talked to most men int the room.

Definitely, she was using her beauty to attract more men in this party.

Bill Sky was sure that this kind of girl is a scheming one and can't be trusted. One thing he hated the most were those women who used their beauties to allure men and demand things in return.

Bill Sky believed that, the most beautiful woman in the world is the most dangerous.

He disgusts her in his mind.

Arabella gathered all her wits left and act like she wasn't affected with his magnifying handsomeness. She tried to wander her eyes everywhere as she was afraid that she will be hypnotized by him. That will surely put her to an awful embarrassment. Another reason also was, she intentionally avoided his eyes for she knew that Bill Sky might recognize her through her eyes. As far as she remembered, Bill Sky was fascinated by her eyes when she was still the ugly Arabella Jones.

For him not to be interested in her, Arabella tried to keep her distance and dance formally though her body was trembling under her night dress. She maintained her elegance and gracefulness in front of him, though her body wants to fall on the ground and her heart was crazily jumping.

One thing Arabella was sure of, is that Bill Sky likes beautiful women. His gaze was not leaving her face. His grip was a bit tight on her waist, but still maintain his elegant demeanor as all eyes were watching them.

Maybe he was also afraid that his fiancée would misunderstand him.

Finally, the music ended and they didn't even talk to each other.

How she prayed that he's not gonna ask her name during their dance and after.

She also prayed that she didn't get his interest, in that case, Bill Sky would take no effort to know her.

Thinking of this, she gracefully bowed her body like a princess at him, then to the crowd as sending them thank you and grateful for the opportunity of dancing the great CEO and good as saying 'Goodbye! I will never see you again.'

She went back to where Enrique's table and asked him to find Farrah. She wanted to go home before things might had gotten out of her control. She couldn't afford another encounter with Bill Sky. She was sure that he didn't recognize her a while ago and maybe he didn't recognize Farrah too.

No one can afford scheming Bill Sky or else, you dare to bear the billionaire's wrath.

Farrah was a bit tipsy. She went to the ladies' room staggering. She left Mike as he was busy talking with someone on the phone.

When Farrah went out of the toilet, someone suddenly grabbed her in the corner and before she knew it her lips were devoured by a man.

Farrah didn't resist as she tasted again the best kiss of her life. She was hundred percent sure that she knew the man and how she missed him.

Farrah didn't care at all if someone will see them, she put her arms to his neck and replied torridly to his kiss. Their lips, obviously missing each other.

The man was like a hungry animal that her lips were his prey. Farrah could feel his possessiveness and exploding anger.

He broke their lips panting. "Do you want to continue?" Gab asked.

Farrah was chasing her breath "This is crazy. But I say Yes." How could she say no to him?

Farrah should be angry with him since it's been two months, he didn't even care to message her but she missed him a lot. After their one-night stand, her body was always longing for his body.

Her mind and her soul were taken by Gab after spending time with him.

Gab was also attending the party on behalf of his parents. He didn't expect that he will see Farrah in this kind of event.

Gab saw her entering the room with a guy by her side holding her arms.

For some reason that he couldn't explain, he felt annoyed.

He kept his distance from her because he could feel that Farrah was something. After that night, he felt something extraordinary of satisfaction that he never felt with any other women before.

If Bill Sky had no repetition in bed, Gab had 1 week exemption. He never had one girl for more than a week. It doesn't matter at all since he already knew that he is bound to have an arranged marriage where his parents will choose his wife liked his cousin, Marcus. So, he just wants to play before his marriage.

After meeting Farrah, he felt joy in his heart whenever they talked. Farrah was very beautiful, but very simple. Her innocence in her eyes was very refreshing to him. That feeling that he wanted to hide or keep Farrah for himself and not to be seen by other men.

This feeling made him realize something. This girl wasn't for 7 days only.

He didn't want to hurt Farrah.

He doesn't want to see tears in her eyes and Gab knew he will definitely hurt her so he chose to stay away from her because he still doesn't know if he can be serious in such romantic relationship.

But when he saw her again with another man, he felt a sharp pinch in his heart. He tried to distance himself from her, but when he saw Farrah dancing with her partner sweetly, he couldn't hold himself. His anger was already exploded that brought him to attack her out of nowhere.

Farrah was stunned when Gab lifted her body in the air and put her on his shoulder. She didn't expect her body position was like a potato bag on his shoulder. She was afraid that someone might see them.

They arrived at an exclusive VIP room on the 3rd floor of the same building.

Gab put her down and attacked her lips intensively. He dragged her to the bathroom while continuously devouring her lips. His hands wandered in every part of her body.

Farrah wanted to drown in the situation. She doesn't want to end the time being with him. This is what she wanted. She wanted him. Her body wanted him. She let free her immense sexual desire towards him. She took the lead sometime. They were in the shower now and they are all naked. Their clothes were messily scattered on the floor.

They shook shower together, caressing and teasing each other. Touching every part of their body, kissing and licking countlessly. The foreplay was too awesome for her to withstand that she could only do is bite her lower lip and grab his hair or hold tightly to his neck. Gab was really a wild mate that all her arousal in her body had been awakened and wanting for more wildness. He turned off the shower and carried her to a king size bed.

Gab suddenly positioned on top of her and nailed her two hands above her head. Gab then kissed her, but this time, it's with gentleness. He stopped kissing and looked at her with seriousness. As if his eyes were talking to her soul.

"Please don't stop." Before she realized it, the words already came out from her mouth. She instantly flushed and embarrassed.

Gab smiled at her tenderly, then continued his endeavor of conquering her to release his anger and utmost longings for her.

Farrah woke up with a very tired and aching body. She smiled while her eyes were still close, she suddenly remembered the intimate shower they have. She gulped. Then the bed scene that lasts for 5 rounds. Gab was like a wild beast and Farrah catered his every movement that she didn't want to end everything. She felt swollen and aching when she moved a bit, but her heart was very calm.

She touched the side of the bed to feel his warm again, but to her surprise, there is no one beside her. She quickly opened her eyes and wander on every corner of the room but there's none. She jumped out from the bed bearing the aching naked body and went to the bathroom, hoping that she will find Gab there but there's still none.

Her heart immediately shuttered. She was left in a daze and her tears were uncontrollably rolling down from her eyes.

She sat back on the bed and hugged her folded knees while sobbing.

She felt like she was used and abandoned again by Gab.

He didn't even bother to leave a note for her.

Her extreme happiness last night instantly became an awful sadness.

Farrah didn't regret anything that happened last night. She felt great disappointment because she was expecting too much about him and them together.

Farrah came into a realization that maybe their relationship was bound for sex only, no string attached.

She was snapped to her senses when her phone rang.

She quickly grabbed her phone hoping that it was Gab calling her.

'Maybe he just had an urgent matter to deal with and he didn't want to wake me up' she thought in an instant.

To her disappointment, it's not Gab but It's Arabella.

"Finally! You answered my call." Arabella was on the other line obviously waiting for her to explain her sudden disappearance last night.

She gathered herself and stop her crying as she didn't want them to know the madness, she is into right now.

"Hey, come on! We almost called the cops last night." Arabella added jokingly.

Farrah, then realized that she was carried by excitement and intense pleasure last night with Gab's presence that she forgot that she had companions that night.

'And what about Mike?' Thinking of Mike, she was quite at a loss.

"I'm sorry last night. You know I got very tipsy and..." Farrah would like to explain, but her mind was at a mess "Wait how did you...? How's Mike?" She added.

"It's Mike, who informed us that you went out with a guy last night. He saw you." Arabella laughed a bit.

'Poor Mike!' Farrah was unhappy as she knew Mike had always been courting her. 'To what extent did he see? Everything? Gosh! How could she be so inconsiderate to his feeling?' She felt disheartened as she hurt Mike for Gab but ended up miserable and disappointed.

"Ma'am, I have bad news. You and Ms. Farrah Lin is the headline of the news today." Farrah heard the other line. Obviously, Arabella was already in her office and the voice was from her secretary.

"Oh my Gosh! What the..." Farrah heard Arabella cursing on the other line.

"Hey! What about us? What's wrong?" Farrah panicked and felt intensely nervous again out of a sudden.
