

You Can Run But You Can't Hide My Contractual Wife Chapter 226

"What are you doing here?" Kelly's mood instantly turned out sour seeing Arabella enter her house without any shame in her body.

"Well, I'm here to see my mother-in-law." Arabella smiled provokingly. The simple naïve Arabella she had known was different from the girl in front of her who was sophisticated and full of arrogance.

"How dare you step into my house!" Kelly exclaimed loudly. "Guards! Drag this shameless murderer out!" Kelly roared.

She was disgusted with her face.

Arabella was the reason for her husband's death.

Her plan to Bill would marry Trishia was also ruined and now her relationship with his son had been stained.

This Arabella deserved to be cursed forever in this lifetime.

Hearing Kelly, three men stormed forward to her.

They were about to have a grasp of Arabella when she lifted her two hands in the air.

She was calm and unafraid of the men around her.

Her smile was never leaving her face and her arrogant eyes were pierced into Kelly.

"I have something that I am sure you will be very interested in." While raising her arms, Arabella said confidently.

Kelly looked at Arabella seriously.

Her eyes were telling the truth.

Kelly signaled her hand and stop her men from capturing her.

They got the message quickly and they swiftly went away.

"Now speak before I will order my men to feed you to my tigers!" Kelly said coldly while her eyeballs were bulging in anger.

"Well, I have a proposal to make." Arabella graciously walked towards Kelly with her sexy fitted dress.

With controlled irritation, Kelly listened.

Undoubtedly, she was interested in Arabella's proposal.

If this is about her son, she would be willing to cooperate just to ditch this girl out in their family.

Kelly confirmed that Arabella was really a crook.

At first, she had doubted herself to be so biased with the girl.

She knew due to her anger she became so cruel with her but she could not help it.

She could not tell herself to stop being angry with Arabella just like that.

Whenever she saw Arabella's innocent face, Kelly would be reminded of the shame she had given her at the party.

She stood there on the stage in front of their VIP guests, friends, competitors, employees, and in front of the people who are watching the live telecast of the party around the globe to introduce Arabella as the new member of their family.

As her only son's wife.

Bill Sky's wife.

The Sky Corporation's CEO's wife.

Kelly was very happy and proud of Arabella at that time as Kelly believed that she was the only one who could teach Bill about the value of true love.

She knew her son very well, he would never attach his name to any woman how much more he did marry Arabella?

That was record-breaking but Arabella just brought humiliation to her who personally took the advantage to introduce her in the celebration, to the Company, and their family.

Not just that.

The worst part was she's the reason her husband died after that humiliation.

Now, she had Bill and the Company.

Bill was so in love with her that he gave her the share in the company just like that.

He could just play along with her for a long time until he was sure that he could really trust her.

Kelly was controlling her anger towards her.

Arabella was not deserving of the benefit of the doubt.

Kelly was sure, Arabella was not the woman who was innocent and naïve.

Judging from her actions and looks today, Kelly knew all his doubts about her were right.

Her son was just too blind not to see it or this girl was too good in playing that her son had no suspicion that he was just being toyed by Arabella.

“Okay, here’s my deal.” Arabella talked about her plan.

It was precise and detailed.

As she talked confidently, Kelly studied her once more and one thing she could say, Arabella was really something!

“Why are you doing this?” After Arabella’s talk, Kelly’s angry eyes pierced to Arabella while she asked.

Arabella smiled but her eyes were full of disdain.

“You said I killed your husband?” Arabella toughly said. “But Bill killed my father too.” She exclaimed. Her tone was fearless. “And that between our families wouldn’t change!” She added with a strong tone. “You can’t love a girl who killed your husband right? Well, I can’t love a man who killed my father too!” Arabella answered fearlessly. She was confident and full of elegance and arrogance.

If she had to be compared to Trishia, Arabella was more beautiful, elegant, and smart-looking when she talked.

It was just she looked arrogant and cold if she was not talking.

The naïve and innocent Arabella was completely gone.

Her eyes were provocative and clever.

“So, you really planned everything to get revenge on my son?” Kelly was bursting in furry.

Arabella didn’t answer instead she smiled sweetly.

"Consider this as my kindness left for you. As you can see, Bill would die for me. He would give his life for me. If I really want my full revenge, I would probably deliver your son's body in front of you but since I am still nice, he would just suffer a little." Arabella grinned provokingly. "Just a little!" And she did the emphasis before she turned around leaving Kelly in a state that was about to explode in anger.

She had cursed Arabella repeatedly in the air as her mind traveled to her son.

She was worried about him.

The girl Arabella was just toying with her son.

Who could afford to offend Bill Sky?

But this girl was fearless.

Seeing her earlier, she was confident with her actions and words.

She's dangerous.

Thinking about it, Kelly felt intense nervous.

"Nimfa! Nimfa!" Kelly roared. She was calling the headmaster of the servants.

"Yes, madam." Nimfa came in quickly.

"Get all the CCTV footage recording now and give it to me." Kelly immediately ordered.

When Bill arrived, Kelly was in her room hearing his voice behind the door.

She was contemplating opening it as she knew Bill was very angry with her.

All the plan would be pointing to her. Bill would definitely curse her but still Kelly had cooperated with Arabella's plan.

"One thing! If you happened to ruin my plan, I will sell all my shares to Eric Grant." Arabella threatened her earlier.

If that happened, Bill would be no longer the CEO and their company would be taken away by Eric.

Kelly couldn't see his son being defeated by Eric and Arabella.

"You choose! Your son's life and his company or you do anything I say." Arabella added with full of arrogance.

"I will do that but only if you promise me that we will never see you again."
Kelly's face was flushed due to annoyance and irritation for Arabella.

Arabella smiled after Kelly's words then she nodded. "I got you." She answered wearing her sweetest dangerous smile.

After Bill had seen the video in their house, his hands clenched into fists so hard.

Kelly had decided to tell everything to his son as she could not stand the vicious plan of Arabella.

Kelly believed that her son would take great measure over the vicious girl.

As for her, Bill would not let Arabella go without severe punishment.

He would have not known as Bill Sky if he was not cruel to his offenders.

"Sir, we are still following your wife." The man sounded on the phone.

"Send me the location now," Bill ordered hurriedly.

He was driving around Capital Z in the middle of the night as his mind was with Adam and Arabella.

For the first time in his life, he was afraid to do anything.

He was afraid to confront Arabella.

He was afraid to know the truth.

His mind was in a deep mess.

He continued driving until he got to their location.

Then he got a call from his men.

"Sir, I think Mrs. Sky knew that we are following her. She was driving very fast."
His man reported.

"What?" Bill frowned in shock. "I will be there now." He blurted then dropped the call. He speed up as he was already close to the area.

For the first time in his life again, he felt nervous.

He didn't know what Arabella was thinking right now.

She had Adam in the car.

He didn't want to lose them.

He wanted to see them.

He wanted to hear the reason for all she was doing though he knew everything.

He just wanted to hug Arabella and pursue her to forget everything in the past.

If she was still angry with him, he would not give up on her.

Bill would never lose his family.

Feeling a pang of pain in his heart, he drove to his highest speed as he dialed Arabella's number.

It was ringing but she was not answering.

He tried Adam's number but it was off.

Bill couldn't help but smashed the steering wheel with his hand.

"Arabella, Adam, please wait for me." He then muttered in the air.

His tone carried a deep sadness.

Bill didn't care whatever it takes to get his family back.

All he wanted was for them to be back in his life.

Their location was moving fast. His tracker was showing that Arabella drove in a zigzag uphill with the stretch of water alongside a cliff.

"Stop following them now! The place is very dangerous. I will follow them my own!" Bill called his men again.

After a while, the tracker showed that Arabella's car was moving slow.

Bill heaved a sigh of relief.

Bill had found them easily.

He drove not so close and not so far.

Just the right momentum to avoid his identity being revealed.

He still kept on calling Arabella's phone but she won't answer.

"Let's talk pls. I love you." Bill texted her but he didn't get any reply.

His mind was so messy.

He was lost and still, he couldn't believe the abrupt switch of Arabella.

He believed, Arabella must have a very important reason for her to do such things to him.

Arabella drove the car slowly in the dark, Bill just followed her every turn.

Just when a big truck overtook Bill's lane he instantly stepped on his brake and pressed his horn repeatedly in annoyance.

The truck quickly drove away but when his sight was free of hindrance, he couldn't find Arabella's car anymore.

Bill panicked as he stepped on his gas hard.

He was like already flying in the air.

He blamed the truck and himself for losing them just like that.

Quickly, he looked at his tracker again and drove fast in their direction.

Arabella was driving very fast again as her location was moving rapidly which just meant she knew he was following her.

She seemed to recognize his car when he beeped loudly a while ago.

Bill got her tracked down after just a minute.

He didn't know what to do as Arabella was driving the car very fast.

He just wanted to stop them so he kept on beeping behind.

Arabella drove faster and seemed to have no intention to stop.

Bill had only one resort in mind.

He clenched the steering wheel hard and he gassed up.

He kept on beeping and overtaking Arabella's car then he abruptly stopped blocking his car on the one-way lane.

Bill closed his eyes.

He wished that Arabella would talk to him.

He wished her to stop but Arabella sped up.

Bill looked at the car who was very fast approaching him.

It had no plan to stop.

Bill heaved a very deep sigh of frustration.

He was sitting in his car and he had no plan to go away as well.

If that was what's Arabella wanted, then be it.

That would prove everything.

If she had never had loved him, she could kill him.

He would gladly die knowing the truth rather than living with lies.

In just a swift second, Arabella's car hit his car's bumper with a strong impact making Bill slam his head on the glass side window, and her car directly collided with the railings on the side of the street.

Bill could hear the huge smashed of steel railings followed by the huge splashed sound of water.

Still feeling dizzy, he quickly went out with blood dripping on his forehead.

In the dark, he used his phone as a flashlight.

He then saw the side railing of the road was wrecked.

He quickly stormed in the direction then Bill's breathing suddenly stopped.

He could feel his knees had softened as he kneeled on the ground.

"Arabella!"

"Adam!"

Bill shouted with full of remorse and pain.

Arabella's car fell into the water.