

CORRUPT CREATIONS

Chapter 121 - Meeting His Group Members

Elyon looked around the stadium but didn't see the other four humans that were still missing. He turned towards Allannia and asked: "Then, where are the other humans?"

Allannia was in charge of everything regarding this event and she knew who was about to come, but even for her, it was hard to predict when those humans would arrive.

"They must be almost arriving, since the invites were sent a long time ago, however, the place they are coming from is very far from here."

"Hm? Who are they really?"

At this moment they heard a female voice that was full of excitement.

"Oh?! We're finally here! What do you think of this place Senior Sister Ruolan?"

"This place is really interesting, but I still think you are way too much excited Junior Sister Jiayi." The woman called Ruolan had a graceful voice that made the male elves look at her direction without even realizing.

Their figures finally entered the field of vision of everyone, and even the elves couldn't help but admire. They never thought they would see humans that were so beautiful like them, comparable to elven beauties. However, since they were humans from the younger generation, the elves could only do so much.

Beside those two girls, there was another woman that seemed to have really sharp eyebrows and eyes. She was like a lance, always ready to thrust forward and put a hole on the enemy. Her figure was very good as well.

When they entered, Seth instantly recognized them. They were the girls who had passed the entrance exam for the Glazed Lake Sect, back in the Hilkhell city. The willful and full of excitement one, was the girl that easily camouflaged in the middle of that huge confusion that happened in the arena, her name was Jiayi, while her Senior Sister Ruolan, was the girl that had graceful and swift sword strikes and fluid movements.

The other woman, Seth had also seen. She was the lancer that defeated eight opponents at once at that time. Her lance strikes were always swift and ferocious, leaving no chance for the enemy to escape.

All in all, only three people appeared where the fourth was yet to appear. But before she even entered the arena, Seth felt something different. He felt the Soul Link connection inside of him stir and he instantly knew who was about to arrive even before she entered the stadium.

His eyes lit up with excitement, since there have been many months since the last time he was able to see her. Seth ignored if he would suffer from any headache and activated his Soul Sense, just so he could see her earlier. While doing that, he caught the aura of many hidden experts in the vicinity, but he chose to ignore them and concentrate on finding the one he wanted the most.

He felt two different auras approaching from above. One of them was at the Profound Mana Realm while the other was at the Qi Transformation initial-stage Realm. The former was the aura of the Eleventh Palace Master of the Glazed Lake Sect, while the latter...

Two beautiful women descended from the skies, but the youngest one outshone the other. Caizhi was a bit more mature and beautiful now, even her bearing was straighter and radiating confidence.

Actually, she was training really hard in order to show Seth and Lilian her value. She wanted to make it a surprise for them when the time was right, but unknown to her, Seth was already admiring her from his seat. She has changed and it was better than he could have expected.

Elydir was standing behind his father with an indifferent countenance. Everything that happened until now, except for Seth, was not able to evoke any emotion on him, but when he saw Caizhi, his heart started to beat faster. He started to tremble in excitement and inside his eyes an ominous light appeared.

The Eleventh Palace Master of the Glazed Lake Sect, supported herself and Caizhi to the ground. She looked towards the entourage of powerful elves in front of her holding her head high. Even the "Nature Roots" didn't have enough standings before one of the Human Higher Grounds. Only the Elven Royal Family could stand side by side with them.

"So, you have finally arrived." Allannia said with seriousness.

"Are you Chief Commander Allannia? The person in charge of the whole event?"

"Yes, I am."

"Good. I am The Eleventh Palace Master of the Glazed Lake Sect and this girl here is the direct disciple of our Lake Goddess. I hope nothing bad happens to her, or else I can't guarantee what our goddess is going to do about it."

The first exchange of words between them was a naked threat from the Eleventh Palace Master.

The elves felt a bitter taste in their mouths, but they could do nothing about it. They could only bow their head before the influence and power of that huge behemoth that was the Glazed Lake.

Allannia narrowed her eyes, but didn't reply with rudeness, on the contrary, she made sure to be polite.

"Don't worry, palace master. I guarantee you that nothing bad is going to happen and even if anything out of our expectations end up happening, there are some measures ready for that situation."

"Good. Excuse us then."

"Wait... You know that this stage of the event is going to be performed by a party of five people, right?" Allannia didn't like how they were acting and decided to bother them with the rules of the event.

"I do."

"Good. Since you already know, then it is easier to explain. There is a human that is going to be part of your group of people. I hope you can get along with him."

"Him?" The Eleventh Palace Master didn't like that a male was going to be part of her disciple's group.

"Yes. There, take a look." Allannia pointed towards a distant corner of the arena, where Seth was lazily sitting.

When the Eleventh Palace Master saw him, she felt like he was kind of familiar but couldn't remember where she has seen him before. However, she never expected that Caizhi would start to run towards him all of a sudden.

"Seth!" Caizhi was missing him just like he missed her and she got excited after seeing him here. Truth be told, it never passed through her mind, that Seth would be here and even though she wanted to surprise him with her evolution, she'd rather meet him faster than taking years just to make it a higher surprise.

"Caizhi... I missed you." Seth stood up and went towards her. He embraced Caizhi just like he did when she departed at the Hilkhell city.

Caizhi was starting to like these embraces Seth always gave her. It made her feel welcomed, a feeling her family failed to give her and something she wished for.

"I missed you too."

While Seth and Caizhi were having their warm reunion, Elydir felt like his world was crumbling. He clenched his fists so hard, that his nails dug on the palm of his hands, making blood drip from it. He was an elf from one of the "Nature Roots", a supreme family that could look down on anyone, yet he felt attraction towards a female human. Not only that, but the female human was acting intimately with a lowly male human right in front of him.

Elydir wanted to take his bow and shoot Seth to death right now, however, he exerted all his strength to control himself.

The three other female disciples from the Glazed Lake approached the duo that was still intimately hugging.

Jiayi went forwards and asked curiously: "Senior Sister Caizhi, who is this handsome lad?"

After Caizhi heard her Junior Sister question, she separated from Seth and said: "His name is Seth and he is my boyfriend."

"B-B-B-Boyfriend?" All three of them couldn't believe what they were hearing. The direct disciple of the Lake Goddess and their Senior Sister Caizhi, had a boyfriend?

The girls looked towards Seth full of curiosity. They had lived together with Caizhi all this while and knew that she would never give any attention to a worthless man.

"Seth, these are my Junior Sisters in the sect. The younger one here, is Jiayi, that graceful lady is Ruolan and the last one is the elegant and valiant Xiurong."

"Hello there Seth. Please tell us, how did you manage to so easily move our Senior Sister's heart?" Jiayi was just like a curious cat. She didn't fear anything and always wanted to know how things happened.

"Ahaha, it wasn't easy you know. I had to work really hard for it."

.
. .
.

As Seth was familiarizing with his team members, time was passing by and the time for the start of the Wild Games arrived.

Rumble!

The ground started to shake and a blue light enveloped the whole stadium. The ground opened up, revealing a very short passage that led to a huge door. The door opened up, revealing a blue void behind.

Everyone looked towards it and instantly realized that it was a formation for teleporting people.