

CORRUPT CREATIONS

Chapter 153 - A Good Night *

Arwen took his shirt off and couldn't help but admire his body. It had changed from the first time she had seen it. After what have happened at the Secret Garden, his muscles seemed to have gotten bigger and even more firm than what they were before. However, Arwen couldn't understand how his skin was so thin and smooth even though he had such firm muscles.

While she was lost admiring his physique, Seth kept kissing her neck while roaming his hands on her back. He was able to feel the sweetness of her smell and was getting intoxicated on it. It was only a matter of time until he was completely ready for action.

Arwen saw something growing and trying to rip a hole on Seth's pants. She remembered the things she did with it on their last time and started to get excited entering in the mood too.

Seth couldn't handle it anymore and started to take her clothes off, until she was completely bare for him. He stopped for some time while staring at her body.

She was beautiful. As a Mana Sovereign cultivator, her body hasn't aged even a single bit and was preserved at the peak of her beauty. Her skin was just like the skin from a maiden of twenty years old, coupled with her long golden hair and green eyes, it created the picture of the heavens.

"I want you to be mine..." Seth blurted out his thoughts, stunning Arwen.

She opened up a smile and said: "Don't you already have two beautiful girlfriends? Even that lady Elyra is already in your lap, yet you want me as well?"

"I'm greedy... I want you along with them, and I will do everything I can to accomplish that."

Arwen wasn't averse to polygamy. She herself had married three times. However, she as the leader of an entire nation had the status to back that up. It would be strange for her to be a part of his harem, since her status was greater than his. However, somehow, she started to think of a possibility...

Seth was already so strong even though he was so young. If he continued to grow like this, in just some more few years, he would be at the peak of this entire world. He would even have the possibility of breaking the bottleneck and go higher.

"If you want me, then you will have to prove you are worthy."

Seth smiled and advanced on her.

"Then I will prove it right now."

He threw Arwen on the bed while taking off the last piece of clothes covering his body. His member was already ready for battle, so he entered it without looking back.

Seth caressed her whole body with his left hand, while with his right hand, he made sure to pleasure her most important place.

"Ahh!"

Arwen welcomed him while moving her legs and giving him better access. At the same time, she arched her body, taking his lips once again.

Arwen was already more than ready to receive him and Seth noticed that with his hand. He separated his lips from hers and positioned his entire body at the right place.

Gasp! Arwen felt him entering and couldn't help but wonder once again, if she would be able to handle it all.

Seth felt a tightness he was dreaming to feel again all this while. He was inside a warm and tight heaven, where there was only happiness. He started to move slowly, going forward until he felt a blockade, then he moved backwards.

"Ahhhh!"

He repeated the process many times, increasing the speed over and over.

"Hmm... Right there."

Arwen was enjoying how he moved. He seemed to have found the way to perfectly connect with her. While Seth kept being held down inside that paradise, she was slowly reaching her peak.

"AHHH!!!"

Arwen felt her muscles contracting and her brain releasing thousands of different hormones.

Seth on the other hand, felt he was inside the vault of heaven. He gave his all, in order to not finish right there, since he wanted this night to last forever.

Arwen was finally able to relax, feeling a sense of tiredness right after. However, Seth changed her position and started moving once again.

"Wait! I'm still sensitive."

"Ah!"

However, he ignored her and continued their wild session together. He made sure to enjoy her the entire night, while Arwen couldn't remember a night that was better than this one.

They were lucky that the formation around the guest house, didn't let any sounds from inside escape. Or else, there would be many elves complaining they weren't able to sleep.

Morning arrived and Rina knocked on the door of her mother's guest house, however she wasn't there. She decided to try it again later. Maybe her mother was still sleeping.

Seth and Arwen were only able to wake up at 11 am. They stood battling the entire night and it was actually a miracle that they were able to wake up at that time.

Arwen was being cuddled by Seth; something entirely new for her. She didn't understand how things turned out like this, but she actually liked it.

"Arwen, aren't you interested in knowing who I really am?" Seth initiated a conversation about him. Now that he decided on having a relationship with her, the thing he wanted the least, was to hide anything from her.

Arwen turned her head towards him, kind of interested on that topic. She knew that a person like Seth would not be normal in any ways. Just his strength alone, was something that shocked her to the core. But not content with that, he was immune to her poisonous aura, he is able to control that crimson energy and has now acquired the Evergreen Essence. Not even mentioning that his Evergreen Essence was the complete version.

"My story is a bit complicated, however, I will resume it down..."

Seth was about to tell her about his life, when suddenly, he heard Lexi's voice inside his head.

"Quick! You have to do the Soul Link Contract with her. I feel signs of Soul Resonance."

"Soul Resonance?"

"Yeah! Do you still remember what happened with you and that girl in the demon territory? You were able to send your energy inside her body and enhance her strength. That was because a Soul Resonance happened. This is a very rare phenomenon, something very hard to come by. That's why you should use the Soul Link to stimulate those signs and create the Soul Resonance."

"Alright."

Seth looked towards Arwen and said: "Arwen, please close your eyes and let me guide you to a certain place."

"Guide me?" The Elf Queen closed her eyes and let Seth guide her. She expected he would stand up and lead her to go somewhere, but in reality, it was something else.

"You can already open your eyes."

Arwen opened her eyes and saw that the scenery had changed. She was inside Seth's soul space, where there was a blue lake and a blue mist hovering on the air.

"Hm? Where are we?"

"You are inside my soul space. The water of that lake is my Soul Essence, or my memories and consciousness if I were to define it. This place is very special... I was only able to form it after studying a mythical book from one of the old gods. His name was Hades, a master of the Soul."

"Master of the Soul?"

"Yes. I brought you here, because I want you to make a Soul Link with me. Hades was a god that excelled in soul attacks, but he left behind in his inheritance, a pact. It is called Soul Link and it is able to connect two Souls. However, my soul will serve as the source, where you will be connected to. If the source were to disappear, then the connections would suffer from the same destiny."

Seth looked deeply inside her eyes and continued: "I won't make any empty promises, but I will do my utmost to find a solution for that flaw. I want you to make a Soul Link with me. After entering that link, you will be able to see how mythical it is with your own eyes."

Arwen heard every word he said with hundred percent of her attention. She wasn't trying to discover any lies on his speech, but trying to discover why would he propose something like this to her. When he said it was an inheritance from a god, she already knew that she didn't deserve it. Like the god that blessed her, those blessings were often good and bad at the same time, however, they were something able to change your life and let a normal elf like her, turn into the Elf Queen, a person revered by an entire territory.

"Why?"

"Since I've arrived in this territory, I have been hearing stories about you. Everyone treats you like their goddess, with the maximum respect and adoration possible. But none of them were able to see how fragile you were, after spending all those years alone.. And I would rather be the cause of your death, than letting you die alone in sadness."