

CORRUPT CREATIONS

Chapter 206 - Treacherous Young Lady

"My room is the one at the end of the corridor. Bring all these boxes there and when you finish doing it, wait for me there, because I will need your help with something else."

Both of them didn't know what to expect. If it was anyone but Jiang Yi, they would instantly think that the woman would try to seduce them, since they were rich and had a reputation. However, this was about Jiang Yi, someone not only stronger and richer than them, but someone that loved to do vile things and treacherous pranks.

After instructing them, she straightaway left, going to somewhere outside that huge hall.

Both of them were at a loss and didn't know what to do. Actually, they knew what to do, but were not believing they were about to do the work of a servant, when they were supposed to be enjoying the party.

"See...? Was it worth it?!"

"You! You're the one that started all this!"

They started to move the boxes upstairs while grumbling and quarreling, attracting the attention of everyone. The guests looked at them, puzzled. But very quickly, they started to laugh and mock them for their misfortune.

Young Master Chen and Young Master Huang suddenly realized they were turning into a laughingstock in front of everybody. That was just the beginning of the crazy night they were about to have.

Seth appeared right outside the gates of a huge mansion. He was able to see many guests having conversations at a separate area, on what seemed to be the front garden.

Those people laughed and talked merrily, not even bothering with who was coming and going. That was mainly because there were guards standing in front of the gate, making sure the environment was properly protected.

Seth walked towards the gate and before he was able to enter, he was stopped.

"Please identify yourself and show your invitation." One of those guards politely asked him to identify himself.

"My name is Seth. I was invited here by... by a butler."

Suddenly, Seth realized he didn't know the name of the butler that had invited him, much less the name of his master.

"A butler?"

"Actually, that butler said his Young Lady was the one that wanted to invite me. Wait, I have something he gave me, just let me find where it is."

Seth searched for the blue token he had received, but even though he looked inside his spatial ring many and many times, he wasn't able to find it. After thinking for a bit, he realized he had given that token to Rina, forgetting to take it back from her.

Seth facepalmed, realizing he was making the role of a fool before the guards.

A guard noticed Seth was acting strange and asked: "Where is that thing? Actually, do you really have the invitation, or are you trying to intrude the party?"

After he asked that, the other guards started to slowly approach Seth, getting ready to arrest him if he didn't have the invitation.

Trying to illegally enter the duke's party was a crime, so they could arrest him for that.

As the guards were surrounding Seth and the situation was getting tenser, a womanly figure entered the corner of his eyes.

She walked slowly towards them, enjoying that the person she wanted to see the most was in a very delicate situation right now.

When Seth saw her, he was able to recognize her as being the young lady sitting inside the carriage he saw early on the morning, the one that had invited him.

The guards turned around and when they saw she was approaching, they immediately assumed a respectful stance.

One of them stepped forward and bowed while saying: "Young Lady, is there anything I can help you with?"

"That man, you can let him enter." She didn't need to say more than that, since her orders were absolute.

The guards got away from Seth, not bothering to stop him any longer.

Seth mildly smiled, but not because of how they acted, but because he noticed the lady was trying to not express her interest on him. But the way she seemed uninterested and yet came to find him, was a little bit off.

Seth started to follow her inside, but when he saw the way she was walking; he knew she was trying to seduce him. He was no master in the ways of seduction, but he knew what she wanted just by the way she was swinging her thin hips and wide butt left and right for him.

'She wants something from me... But what exactly?'

Seth kept trying to guess what she was planning for him, while at the same time, admiring her features. Since she was presenting it for him, he was only politely enjoying the show.

Suddenly, he realized that instead of entering the party through the main hall, the woman was bringing him to a side stair that led to the second floor.

When they were in the midst of it, she stopped and said: "Did you enjoy it enough already?"

"Oh? Miss, how could I have enjoyed it? I've just arrived at the party and didn't even had time to taste anything. I need to taste it before giving you that answer. Maybe it's not as good as it seems..."

"Ehh... So, you want to taste it, huh? I've never thought you would be that bold! Most men fear me to the core, it is a nice surprise to see that you're not like most men out there."

Seth tried to put a double meaning on his words, but Jiang Yi didn't care. She was the one that wanted to lead the situation, so she got back to the main topic.

"Fear you? Why would they fear you? Such a gentle young lady that invited an unknown person to her private party like you, couldn't possibly be an evildoer, right?"

Jiang Yi, smiled and resumed her previous walking.

Seth was following her even though he didn't know where she was bringing him to.. What he also didn't know, was that she was bringing him to a situation that he would find ridiculous.
