

CORRUPT CREATIONS

Chapter 328 - Serving The Queen *

It was odd, but when Arwen heard his words, she felt good and motivated to continue doing it. Her pace suddenly achieved the perfect point and Seth felt he was about to explode right inside her mouth. However, he felt like it would be disrespectful to do it there and at the last moment, he actually pushed her head away and did it in her chest, right on top of her underwear.

"ARGH!!!"

Arwen looked in a daze as that thick rope of white liquid covered her whole bra, with some spilling over on her chest and while she seemed to be in a very surprise kind of mood, in reality she was just mad.

When Seth finally got back to reality, he saw Arwen was not so much content with that, but before he could even say anything, she started to berate him.

"Who told you, that you could release it outside? Your empress wanted to have a taste of it, yet you spilled it away..."

Seth felt out of words. At first, he thought she was mad that he had tainted her perfect jade skin with his cum, but it turned out that she was mad that he had pushed her head away at the last second.

"I..."

"Don't give me excuses... You're going to give me more and even if you're completely dry, I'll keep sucking until it comes out."

Before Seth could properly understand the whole picture, Arwen got back to the previous task, even going as far as ignoring if he was sensitive or not.

Actually, he was pretty sensitive and when her mouth touched his glans, he almost jumped out of reflex. However, if there was something he didn't need to be bothered with, was the fact that he wouldn't be able to provide her what she wanted. His super strong constitution wasn't there just for decoration.

After a minute of punishment, eventually Seth's body readjusted itself and the sensitiveness faded away. However, Arwen was not giving him time or opportunity to completely recover. In fact, she was being wilder this time. But in reality, she was making him feel more pleasure than before.

"Ahhh! This is good!"

It was like she was a woman with experience now and nothing could stop her.

Seth kept looking at her all this while, but since she was concentrated on making him feel good, she hadn't noticed how much he appreciated seeing her figure, while she was doing all that. But at a certain moment, Arwen had gotten enough experience for her body to keep moving the perfect way, without her attention being required.

At that moment, she just stopped paying attention on the deed and turned her head upwards to look at the man she loved. But that simple action, created a scene that made Seth's lust spike all the way up.

She kept bobbing her head, while her eyes made direct contact with Seth's eyes and unknown to the both of them, the Soul Link they shared was even connecting their feelings together.

Seth's body immediately got ready to release his second shot and Arwen was able to feel his orgasm was coming, based on his reaction. This time though, she held his waist, not allowing him to separate them. But her worries would be proved to have been unfounded, since Seth's hands suddenly pulled her head towards his body.

If she wanted it, he would certainly give it to her.

Seth's dick penetrated her mouth all the way to the end, right before he had his orgasm.

"FUCK!!!"

After almost ten seconds of pure bliss, he suddenly lost strength of his grip and released Arwen's head. Seth's body slumped over the bed, as he experienced the aftermaths of one of the best orgasms he had ever had.

After being released, Arwen was just able to stay there for a few seconds, unmoving. She was trying to carve the experience she just had inside her mind, making sure to remember the new taste and the new kind of excitement she felt.

At that time, she was still wearing her sexy underwear, but the bottom part was so drenched in her juices that it was almost starting to drip. Her excitement levels had reached the apex, especially after seeing how satisfied the man she liked was.

For Arwen, this night was already very pleasing and even if they stopped there, she wouldn't complain at all. After making Seth reach the peak twice in a row, she knew he would probably need some time to recover.

However, she was horribly wrong.

Seth suddenly stood up from the bed, lifting the unprepared Elf Queen from the ground and throwing her body on the bed with a swift movement.

When Arwen looked at him, she saw that his spear was pointed towards her and more than ready to pierce. Before she could even ask how he was able to have that great quantity of stamina, she felt two agile hands working their way across her underwear.

In the blink of an eye, Seth undid the laces that tied Arwen's sexy underwear together, quickly removing her bra and then pulling her panty down.

"My Queen, I never thought you were such a benevolent person... Putting the well-being of your loyal servant before yours... For such a benevolent Queen, I can only thank her with a special gift."

Seth started to caress the outside of Arwen's pussy and with a sudden movement, he thrust two of his fingers inside.

"Ahm!"

His fingers easily entered her body, since she was totally prepared to receive the weapon that she was handling a little while ago.

Seth's actions were done in order to verify if he could proceed to the main course, but after his finger easily slipped in, he was certain that he didn't need to hold himself back. Seth quickly took those two fingers out of insides and brought them over to his lips, licking them clean.

"Sweet."

Arwen was not a single bit shy near Seth and she got pleased by his actions.. Unconsciously, she even separated her legs a bit more, getting eager for what was to come.
