

CORRUPT CREATIONS

Chapter 329 - Enjoying Each Other *

Seth positioned himself to the right place, going as far as rubbing her pussy lips with his rod and since he could already feel the excitement coming from the Elf Queen, he decided that he didn't want to make her keep waiting.

Without any more delay, he pushed his hip forward, until he connected his body together with hers, instantly feeling he had entered the paradise. But he didn't stop only there. Seth kept pushing slowly but steadily, till he felt her internal folds were completely accommodating the new visitant they were receiving.

"Ahn... I can never get tired of this." Arwen closed her eyes and started to enjoy that sensation.

Ever since she had done it with Seth for the first time, she felt he was able to complete her; to fill the gap she had from a soulmate she never had. And that situation was the illustration of what her thoughts represented.

They were connecting together in body and soul, enjoying each other's presence and company.

Arwen ran her hand a bit above her pelvis, realizing it was completely full on the inside and her excitement only kept increasing. Her man was able to make her feel alive and enjoy living, like her past poisonous curse was just a bad dream in her story.

Seth had already fought many rounds at that night; however, he was still as hard as a rock. But there was an advantage on that situation, and it was the fact that now, he had a clear mind and knew what he had to do, since he had practically satiated most of his urges. And what he had to do at that moment, was to please his woman.

Without further ado, he started to move forward and backward, easily achieving a rhythm the Elf Queen fell in love with. While doing so, he leaned his body forward, till his face came to rest dangerously close to Arwen's face. Instinctively, she opened her lips and they started to kiss.

Actually, as impressive as it may sound, kissing, was an activity that Arwen had only done with Seth. Since her body carried that heavily poisonous aura, she had always feared something bad may occur with a mouth-to-mouth contact. That's why Seth was the one who taught her the pleasure of a good kiss.

Arwen regretted it now, but the first time she allowed Seth to do it with her, she was practically testing him, while disregarding if he would live or die after that. Fortunately, he had not only lived, but saved her kingdom and conquered her as well.

Inside that room, both man and woman kept dancing together in that bed, making myriads of different husky noises of pleasure. This particular interaction they were having, was taking relatively longer than normal to end and that, was due to the fact that they were so thirsty for each other's presence, that at some point in time, they had even put the pleasure aside, just to get "love-dovey".

However, after pounding her insides for lot more than he expected, Seth saw that Arwen finally started to behave differently. Her body started to writhe and her muscles started to contract. He even felt her nails digging in the surface of the skin on his back, creating scratches that only served to increase his lust.

"Ahhh! It's coming!"

After hearing her words, it was like he received a request from her and a green light telling him that he could move faster, increasing his pace to match her needs. And so, he did.

Seth used both of his hands to lift Arwen's back, creating a beautiful arch with her body and with the new grip he had over her, he proceeded to unleash his maximum potential.

His thrusts increased in speed and depth and the temperature around the whole room rose. Since Arwen was completely wet, it was like his dick was sliding in and out of her nonstop.

In less than sixty seconds, the Elf Queen had already gotten dangerously close to reaching the orgasm. She somehow passed her hands over Seth's neck and propelled her chest forwards, gluing to his body and connecting their lips together. At the same time, her pussy clenched and she released lots of fluids.

Arwen had chosen to orgasm while kissing her man, a very passionate way of doing it.

"Hmmmmm!!!"

Seth braced himself and did his utmost to not release his third shot just there, but even though he was giving his all, a bit of white liquid oozed out of his member, as it was being caressed by Arwen's warm inner folds.

However, he accomplished the task. He held it.

Both of them kept panting and feeling each other's warmth, with Arwen barely managing to keep holding on his neck.

Seth wanted to keep doing it for a couple more times and for that, he couldn't afford to relieve himself now. But just looking at Arwen's satisfied face, was already very pleasant for him.

"Did you like it?" Seth started to lightly kiss Arwen's collarbone, after asking how she felt about it.

"Ah... That was awesome."

"So, do you think we could do it once again?" Seth was waiting for that opportunity to propose for a second round.

Instead of replying, Arwen smiled and said: "Did you think I would let go of you before morning arrived? You're going to make me company for the entire night."

"Good! That's what I expected from you. However, it's time for us to change positions." Seth stood up and quickly supported Arwen's body in his embrace, carrying her out of the bed.

He planned on throwing her on a nearby couch, where they would continue their adventure together, but just as he turned around, he saw that the door was slightly open and it immediately caught his attention.

The memory of a cultivator was nothing compared to the memory of normal human beings, so Seth clearly remembered that Arwen had closed that door after she had entered. So, this could only mean one thing.

Someone had been watching them.
