Chapter 71: Black to the Core

“No, no, no. Wrong, wrong...” Hao Jiajun quickly waved his hands in dismissal, “Miss Yao Jia, please don’t listen to his nonsense, I don’t even know them. My dad is Yao Gang of the Rongtian Cooperation, and I’m Hao Jiajun, how could I use such underhanded tricks?”

Zhao Yu shook his police badge and spoke very seriously, “Miss Yao Jia, and everyone else, I’m a police officer. I’m letting you all know now that recently there have been many cases of people pretending to be rich kids. The victims were often extorted for their money and sometimes even their body, it’s all very pitiful! Everyone please be careful! Beware of swindlers!”

“Oh...” With Zhao Yu’s words, the crowd all started nodding. They all glanced at Hao Jiajun suspiciously, even with some hostility.

“Hey, officer, please don’t say such nonsense!” When Hao Jiajun saw that he could no longer clear his own name with just words, he hurriedly pulled out his ID. “See? I’m not a liar, I’m Hao Jiajun. Many people in Qinshan know me! If you don’t believe me, go look me up online, you can’t miss it!”

Even though Hao Jiajun’s defense was weak, his family’s name was still very famous in Qinshan. The nurses who were kept up with gossip already knew who the super rich spoiled kid was, and had no doubts about his identity, including Yao Jia. She and Hao Jiajun had had a brief encounter before. She also knew his background well, and knew that he was not lying.

But Zhao Yu had already set his evil plan into action, and could only take the rich kid down completely. As Hao Jiajun tried to defend himself with all of his might, Zhao Yu purposely walked towards him and dropped a bunch of his things on the ground, “Hey, you dropped something!”

Hearing Zhao Yu, the defenseless Hao Jiajun lowered his head and picked it up. It was a sign made of cardboard with the words, “STOP HERE FOR ECSTASY!” There was even a bag with some sort of candy stuck to the cardboard!

“Holy sh*t! How bold!” Zhao Yu feigned shock and rushed forward to pin the other down, yelling at the crowd, “Selling ecstasy in front of a police officer! Do you think I’m stupid or something? You still dare say you are not a swindler?”

“Ow! Ow! It hurts...” Hao Jiajun yelled out in pain as he dropped what he was holding, then tried to defend himself, “This...this isn’t mine! You got it all wrong! Ow...”

Zhao Yu could not care less if he was guilty or not. He pulled out the handcuffs he had prepared ahead of time and was about to put it on Hao Jiajun, but then Yao Jia suddenly spoke.

“Of-officer...” Even though Yao Jia still felt dizzy from everything happening, the kind nurse still tried to help the rich kid, “Selling ecstasy doesn’t have anything to do with being a swindler, right?”

Zhao Yu pondered what she had said, and realized that he should have been more careful with his words.

“Hey!” A rather handsome young nurse leaned down and picked up the candy, “Why does this ecstasy look like skittles?”

“Duh!” Zhao Yu thought to himself since the bag was really just full of Skittles.

“Officer,” The nurse shook her head, “what kind of drug dealer would hold a sign up on the street? This was obviously a joke!”

“Yeah, yeah!” Hao Jiajun quickly agreed, “Officer, this really wasn’t me! It was probably some kid messing around with me.”

“Hm...” Zhao Yu knew that this sort of framing trick was too childish. Other than stopping the rich kid from stealing the spotlight, he could not do anything else to him. Zhao Yu finally let go and put away his handcuffs.

Hao Jiajun held his elbows and gritted his teeth in pain as he was released from his restraints.

“Hao Jiajun,” Yao Jia spoke very sincerely, “will you please stop it? I won’t be your girlfriend! Don’t waste your time; money can’t buy everything!”

“But...listen to me,” Hao Jiajun explained, his face flushed, “I really didn’t know those people! They have nothing to do with me! I-I know you guys all call me a spoiled rich kid, and say I like to take care of problems with money, but you have to believe me, Miss Yao Jia, I truly love you, and that has nothing to do with money!”

Hao Jiajun’s eyes were filled with infatuation for the other. He grew more agitated as he spoke, and looked like he was about to kneel in front of Yao Jia. “Miss Yao Jia, I have always wanted to tell you how I feel!” Hao Jiajun was very sincere, “I didn’t fall in love with you at first sight, I met you a long time ago and have fallen in love with you since! Many years ago, at Wu Qixin village, I went there to play golf, and my car was parked in front of the orphanage.

“At that time, I saw you giving shots to the children there! You were so beautiful, and so neat, but you weren’t disgusted with the dirty children at all, still taking care of them and giving them shots, and comforting them at the same time! You were like an angel clad in white! Within that moment, my heart was yours!”

“After that, you already know, we ate at a restaurant together. Actually, I had planned that! At the party many girls tried to flirt and talk with me, but you were different, you were honest and withheld nothing which surprised me very much.

“I heard that you were respectful of elderly, kind, and didn’t care for material wealth. Not to mention that you often helped people in need. Someone so beautiful both inside and out is too rare in the world! That’s why I came here so unexpectedly!” Hao Jiajun patted his chest, “Miss Yao Jia, you can ask around. I, Hao Jiajun, definitely am not some playboy who only knows how to spend money. Most of my energy and focus is on my business, half of Rongtian Corporation is run by me!

“If you’re willing to be my girlfriend, I promise to love you with all my heart, treasure you, and spoil you. I’ll let you live the most luxurious life, and the happiest life! Miss Yao Jia, please answer me!” As he spoke, Hao Jiajun actually knelt down.

Yao Jia was shocked by this, and nearly jumped on Zhao Yu. “Nonono! Please don’t!” Yao Jia was at a loss of what to do, “Hao Jiajun, I just can’t accept the way you do things. We’re not compatible at all. Here, I’ll be honest, I...I already have a boyfriend!”

“What?!” Zhao Yu and Hao Jiajun were both stunned. Especially Zhao Yu, his eyes bulged as if he had just been hit on the back of the head.

“Impossible! I already asked around and I didn’t hear that Miss Yao Jia had a boyfriend!” Hao Jiajun spoke sincerely, “But it doesn’t matter! I don’t care! Even if you were married, or had kids, I wouldn’t care! I only care for you, and you only!”

“Right, right...” Zhao Yu was also thinking the same thing, but accidentally blurted it out. Thank God Miss Yao Jia had not heard!

“Tell me,” Hao Jiajun was confident, “who’s your boyfriend? I’ll fight them for your hand, fair and square!”

“My boyfriend, my boyfriend...” Yao Jia was at a loss of what to say and started looking around, then her eyes fell on Zhao Yu’s face.

Zhao Yu’s eyes lit up, and he thought to himself, “Now is my chance! Is this an arrangement from the Miracle System?” Zhao Yu shamelessly stepped to Yao Jia’s side, and then equally shamelessly pointed at the rich kid, “Ecstasy dealer, can’t you tell? Do you still want to compete with me? Are you crazy?”

“Oh...so it’s you!” Hao Jiajun’s expression was filled with 70% hostility, but also 30% fear.

“You?!” Yao Jia was also shocked by Zhao Yu’s assertion, but in order to avoid the rich kid’s constant annoyance, she nodded, agreeing to play along.

Chapter 72: Playing With Life

“Head nurse, this is your mysterious boyfriend?” The nurse who picked up the jelly beans was more excited than the few parties involved and even gave Zhao Yu a thumbs up, “He’s actually a police officer, I’m so envious!” Yao Jia gave her a stare and kept quiet.

“Miss Yao Jia, even if you have a boyfriend, I will not give up!” Hao Jiajun was unshaken, “I will work harder to pursue my own happiness, and I’m not afraid of any difficulties.” He turned to Zhao Yu, “Just wait, I’ll issue you a challenge and I will have a fair competition for Miss Yao Jia!”

“Fair? Holy sh*t!” Zhao Yu exclaimed, “What for? If you wanna compete with me, we can do it right now, there’s no need to wait. Come, you wanna compete right?” Zhao Yu rolled up his sleeves and said to the nurse beside him, “Would you mind getting two scalpels, and also two large measuring cups! We’re gonna slash our wrists and collect our blood; the one with the higher volume is the winner, okay?”

“Wh-what?” Hao Jiajun was a sheltered rich kid. How could he have heard of a competition that played with one’s life? He was dumbfounded.

“Ah! Okay, I’ll go, I’ll go and get them!” The nurse seemed eager for more chaos to ensue, and actually agreed to get the items.

“You’re really going to get the sh*t?” This time, the usually gentle Yao Jia could not help but yell, and scolded the nurse, “Are you crazy? Are all of you crazy? You go and do your work!” Yao Jia’s rage caused the nurses and some of the doctors to leave.

“We can also compete by jumping off of the building!” Zhao Yu continued and pointed out the window, “We’ll start from the second floor and go up one floor each time before jump down until one of us fall to our death or become disabled. The one who jumps from the highest level will be the winner, alright? Come...” With this, Zhao Yu grabbed Hao Jiajun’s arm and tried to pull him outside, as if he were really going to make him jump from the building!

Hao Jiajun’s face was as white as a sheet. He had intended to use money to compete, but he had not expected his competitor to gamble his own life! Yao Jia was also terrified. She kept tugging at Zhao Yu, wanting him to stop; however, Zhao Yu was determined, and pulled Hao Jiajun straight to the corridor.

Hao Jiajun’s enthusiasm and courage had been destroyed by Zhao Yu. He struggled and broke free from Zhao Yu and shouted, “Little cop, just you wait, I will not let this matter rest! I will never give up pursuing Miss Yao Jia, just you wait...” His words trailed off as he ran far away.

Yao Jia heaved a big sigh of relief after Hao Jiajun had gone. She quickly passed her medicine tray to another nurse and left.

“Head nurse, what should we do with all these roses?” a nurse asked.

“Call a janitor and get them here to clean up!” Yao Jia said.

“Don’t!” The nurse said sympathetically, “These are expensive roses, wouldn’t it a pity to throw them away? How about we give them to the patients?”

“Okay, okay, I’ll leave that to you!” Yao Jia leaned weakly on the nurses counter, as if she were suffering from a serious illness. After a long while, she finally realized that her fake boyfriend, Zhao Yu, was beside her.

“I...I’m so sorry, Officer Wang!” Yao Jia apologized, but she had gotten Zhao Yu’s last name wrong.

“Zhao Yu!” Zhao Yu was a little disappointed. He had played with his own life for the entire day, but she had already forgotten his last name.

“Oh, I’m sorry, Officer Zhao!” Yao Jia touched her own forehead in exhaustion, “I’m really sorry! I did an overtime night shift yesterday, and my head’s spinning! I’m really grateful for your help today; if not for you, I really wouldn’t know how to have put an end to this mess!”

Zhao Yu thought to himself, “If not for me, you might have ended it better!” But he had to continue his act, “No problem, I just happened to pass by! It was nothing!” Zhao Yu had wanted to make up more stories about Hao Jiajun, but decided against it after seeing Yao Jia’s tired face.

“Oh, you said that you’re here to see the doctor?” Yao Jia said suddenly, “What’s wrong? Where does it hurt?”

“Mmm...” Zhao Yu looked at his own limbs and they all looked perfectly fine so he could only lie, “Kekeke...you misheard me, I said I was here to visit someone, not here to see the doctor! See...” He pointed at the flowers in his hands, “Why else would I bring flowers?” All of the petals were gone since Zhao Yu had used the bouquet to hit the blonde.

“Oh...in our department? Can I help?” Yao Jia asked with sincerity.

“Oh...no!” Zhao Yu’s head was spinning, and he was no longer in the mood to chase girls, “I might have taken a wrong turn. My second grand aunt should be upstairs! I shall not disturb you anymore! See you!”

“But...upstairs...is the operating room...” Yao Jia frowned.

“Oh...operating room...” Zhao Yu was getting flustered, but continued his act, “Ah! What’s wrong with my brain? My second aunt is having an operation! The operation might already be over, gotta go!”

“Mmm, thank you for your help today!” Yao Jia saw him off politely, “Feel free to look for me if you need any help in future!”

“Sure, sure, you too. If that rich kid dares to bother you again, feel free to look for me...”

After Zhao Yu left, a female doctor said to Yao Jia, “He’s gotta be kidding? The gynaecology and obstetrics department’s operation rooms are upstairs, how old is his second grand aunt?” Yao Jia looked at her without saying anything and walked away feeling exhausted. The second doctor continued saying, “Second child? Amazing!!”

After leaving the hospital, Zhao Yu felt uneasy and ambivalent. He had chased after a girl and caused such a mess. What were the chances? Saving a damsel in distress had really turned out to cause the damsel to be distressed.

Luckily he was quick-witted and had tried to salvage the situation. Although he did not win Yao Jia’s favor, he did not make her detest him either, so he still had chance! He would not be so careless next time, and would come up with a foolproof plan.

He headed straight to Yuxi Alley after leaving the hospital. The blonde and the other punks were already waiting for him there. Although they took a hefty amount of money from the hospital, they were all worried that their chief’s plan had been ruined, and they would be slapped again later. They had thought of running off with the money, but Zhao Yu was a police officer, and he had information on all of their relatives. Where could they run to? They could only hold onto the money and wait anxiously for the demonic detective, Zhao Yu, to arrive.

Chapter 73: Emergency Mission

“Nine for the leader, one for the worker, these are the rules of the streets!” Within a quiet part inside Yuxi Alley, Zhao Yu was currently passing on his knowledge of the so-called rules of the streets. “I’m the boss, and you guys are the workers. Under normal circumstances, I should take 90%, and you all 10%!

But since this was our first time working together, there's usually some leeway. So, to show my sincerity, I'll give you guys 20%!

"There's nearly 170,000 yuan, so 20% is about 30,000 yuan." Zhao Yu pulled out five stacks of cash, then seriously continued, "Here's 50,000, since there are five of you, so it'll be easy to split! Just consider the extra money for fun! So...any complaints?"

The blonde and his friends were stunned. They had originally thought that they were going to get beat up, but the devil police officer not only had not hit them, but had even given them money! It was like money fell from the sky! How could they complain?

"Too much, too much! Last time you gave us 10,000 yuan, and another 2,000 this morning," The blonde very thankful, "I think that you should take some back! This really is too much!"

"Yeah, yeah!" The other delinquents licked their lips, but agreed in unison, "How about just 30,000 yuan, that's more than enough! We didn't do much anyway!"

"Shut up!" Zhao Yu's face darkened, "If I tell you guys to take it, just take it. I'll tell you guys now, if you guys continue to follow me from now on, there will be more of these opportunities. I guarantee it'll be better than you guys roaming the alley by yourselves!"

"Yes, yes, yes!" The blonde quickly spoke, "We've truly been blessed! From now on, we'll follow you, boss. If you need anything, feel free to call us! We will follow you through any difficulty without hesitation!"

"Yeah! Bro, please believe us!" As the delinquents spoke, they were ready to kneel in respect.

Zhao Yu quickly stopped them and yelled, "Alright, don't do something so frivolous. Only once you guys got the money can you guys actually talk loyalty. Follow me, and you won't regret it!" He continued, "But back to business, that rich kid isn't just some easy target. If he's serious, he might even trace this back to you guys! Next week, I think you guys should go somewhere else, back to your hometown or do something else. Wait until everything has passed then come back!"

"Yes! Everyone, listen to the boss!" The delinquents all nodded in unison.

"Idiots," Zhao Yu slapped the blonde's hair with a wad of cash, "I'm a police officer, from now on, no matter who it is, you can't tell them that we know each other, got it? Calling me boss! Are you trying to get me killed?"

"Oh right, right!" The blonde asked curiously, "Then do we just call you, police officer, bro?!" Pah! The boy earned himself another slap in the face as everyone laughed around them. Then, under Zhao Yu's command, the few of them split the money and went their own way.

On the way back, Zhao Yu continued to ponder about Yao Jia. For some reason, his desire to chase after his old lover was nowhere near as strong as before. It was not because of the rich kid, not was it because Yao Jia said she already had a boyfriend, but because he felt that the Yao Jia of this world and the one he knew before were simply too different!

The Yao Jia who had shared her life with Zhao Yu was the type who was confident and bold, and believed in herself. Once she set her eye on something, she never looked back, and never regretted anything. When Zhao Yu was with her, he had felt that his entire life was more exciting—he felt truly alive.

But the Yao Jia he had just seen, who was a lead nurse, was entirely different. It was easy to see that this Yao Jia liked quietness over liveliness, almost a like an elegant flower. Even though she was beautiful, gentle, and proper, which was rare, Zhao Yu did not quite like those princess-y type of girls.

He gradually started doubting his decision to chase Yao Jia. Could it be that his choice was wrong to begin with? The Yao Jia now was not like the Yao Jia he had fallen head over heels for, just like how the current Zhao Yu, who had been a gangster, was not like the original Zhao Yu who was a police officer?

With such complicated feelings, Zhao Yu put all the money in the bank, then returned to the police station. It was already after four in the afternoon. When he walked through the gate to Team A's office, everything was the same as usual. But inside the office, investigators ran through the office, phones rang non-stop.

"Huh? What's happening?" Zhao Yu took a glance at the white board and saw it filled with new information. Without a doubt, the Key Case Investigation Unit got a new case!

He took large strides towards the white board. In the middle was a gruesome photo of a corpse. The body was bloated and pale, almost unrecognizable as a human being. To the right were the words written in pen, "Qinshan Water Reservoir Floating Corpse."

"Oh..." Zhao Yu remembered that from before. Department Leader Wang Fei from the forensics department had said that a corpse had been found in the Qinshan Water Reservoir. It looked like after the forensics department had done their autopsy, they had decided it was a murder case and were investigating!

"Qinshan Water Reservoir Floating Corpse Case! Interesting!" Zhao Yu carefully followed the evidence on the whiteboard, and considered it excitedly. "Hehehe...here comes more money-making opportunities! Culprit, it's already too late to beg for mercy, meeting the god of detectives, Zhao, your capture has been guaranteed! Just get yourself ready to be put in cuffs and taken away, muwahaha..."

"Yu! You're finally back..." Seeing Zhao Yu, the substitute Team A Leader, Peng Xin, quickly came with a huge stack of documents. "Are you against me as a substitute team leader? First day I'm on the job and you disappear? I'm not Liu Changhu, so if you get me angry, I'll actually mark you absent!"

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry!" Zhao Yu knew Peng Xin was joking and quickly followed suit, "Today I went to see my second aunt in the hospital, also made like 100-something grand!"

"Don't try to be cheeky!" Peng Xin obviously did not believe him. She pointed at an office desk in a distance, "New phones have arrived from the higher-ups, yours is with Li Beini. Be sure to learn how to use it, it's no joke, okay? Make sure to figure out how to use your phone in the least amount of time. Here," she handed Zhao Yu a slip, "this is the confidentiality agreement, hurry up and sign it! From now on, there's no more 'no signal,' 'can't get message' or any crap like that! Using your phone is enforced by law now. If you break that, it won't just be a punishment, it could even end up as a legal issue!"

“Oh...good, good!” Zhao Yu signed the confidentiality agreement without a care, then quickly pointed at the white board, “Sis, is this a new case? Qinshan Water Reservoir Floating Corpse Case, the name’s pretty intense. How about it, do you need me to investigate somewhere?”

“Oh...that!” Peng Xin smacked her lips, then said with some hesitation, “Yu! The case...don’t worry about it for now, I have something more important for you to take care of!”

Chapter 74: A Female Corpse in the Reservoir

“Big sis!” Zhao Yu held the training notice in his hands and asked Peng Xin with wide eyes, “Tell me, honestly, is this from that bastard Liu Changhu? Does he wanna set me up again?”

“You wanna die!?” Peng Xin’s temper was bigger than Zhao Yu’s, and she immediately fired back like a machine gun, “This is the city-level training for key police officers! Every station only has three spots and everyone’s fighting for it! You actually think this is a burden? And what about Liu Changhu?”

“Do you know how much effort I put in to get you that spot? It was initially supposed to go to Mao from Team A, but he can’t go anymore! The higher-ups wanted to give it to other departments and I went crazy! I told them if they didn’t give it to Team A, I’d quit as team leader. Only then did they agree, understand!?”

“You didn’t see how Liu Changhu’s face turned red like a tomato when I nominated you for the spot. He kept objecting and said that since you have just become a full-fledged officer, we couldn’t let a kid like you go!”

“Afterwards I got into an argument with him. I pointed out that two major cases were both solved by you, and if the vacancy was given to anybody else, there would be numerous objections! That’s how you got the training opportunity!”

“But all you can think about is other people wanting to set you up? Damn! How could you say that without feeling any guilt? You ungrateful little brat, if I had known how you really felt, I wouldn’t have wasted my effort!”

Not only did Zhao Yu understand Peng Xin’s point, but he also searched through his memory for relevant information and quickly found that the training for key police officers was a very good opportunity. Only those who went through the training were qualified to be considered for Outstanding Agent of The Year. Every year, agents in the Key Case Investigation Unit tried all sorts of methods to get this training opportunity. There were even some who pulled strings or tried giving gifts to get their way. Zhao Yu had just become a full-fledged officer, so logically he would not have gotten the training opportunity! But Peng Xin had insisted and fought for him. What could he say?

“Ahhh...” Zhao Yu quickly smiled and apologized, “Don’t be angry, big sis, I was just joking! How about this, let’s go for some Mongolian mutton hotpot with your husband and kids, and I’ll get the bill, how about it?”

“Oh, please, quit it!” Peng Xin glanced at Zhao Yu. “Do you know how many cases I have right now? Also, you wanna make it up to me with just one Mongolian hotpot? Do you know who Team B nominated?”

Lan Bo! His stepfather is the City Bureau's Chief of Finance! If I had not fought for you, you wouldn't have gotten that spot even if you solved another ten major cases!"

"Yes, yes, yes! I know, big sis. You are great!" Zhao Yu quickly nodded and agreed. "Big sis, you are doing so much for my benefit! Big sis, you are so righteous! I'll always remember your kindness. If your husband divorces you in future, I'll definitely find you a better one!"

"Damn you!" Peng Xin gave Zhao Yu a push although she was laughing. Hearing Zhao Yu's words, the whole team also burst out in laughter.

"But come to think of it," Peng Xin sighed, "if not for your previous performance, the Water Reservoir Floating Corpse Case would not have been given to our team. This time we have to solve it no matter what; we can't let Team A mock us!"

"Yes! Big sis is right!" another agent said. "It's time we fight back!"

"Yes!"

"Let's do it!"

The morale of the Team A agents greatly increased, and they were full of confidence!

"Yu! You can rest assured and leave the case to us!" Peng Xin said before leaving, "This training is very important. The branches from each district are competing with one another, so you have to do your best and not disgrace Rongyang District! Otherwise I don't know how I could face the others!"

"Don't worry!" Zhao Yu held the training notice and saluted. "I guarantee that I'll chase all the policewomen from the other branches all the way to the bedroom!" The agents burst into laughter again, with the exception of Li Beini, who looked somber and uptight.

After speaking to Peng Xin, Zhao Yu quickly went to Li Beini to get his cellphone. He was surprised to see that the phone looked very ordinary with only the logo "Huawei" on it and nothing else. Li Beini told him that these cellphones were specially designed for agents in the Key Case Investigation Unit. They were designed to be similar than the ones that everybody used so that the agents could disguise themselves better.

Despite their plain appearance, the ability of the cellphones was very powerful. Other than the usual location tracking and encryption functions, they had a lot of high-tech software which aided in case investigation and the transmission of data. They also had unlimited data, which allowed them to access the internet anytime, and a massive amount of storage. They were as good as a top grade computer. Zhao Yu had wanted to buy a new cellphone, but since he had gotten one for free and saved money, he was elated and very pleased.

Li Beini introduced the main functions of the phone to Zhao Yu by using the instruction manual.

Zhao Yu realized that Li Beini looked a little different. She had applied makeup and dressed nicely. As she explained to Zhao Yu, she kept stealing glances at him while fidgeting, looking very nervous. Zhao Yu was aware that something was off and was prepared to handle it.

After Li Beini finished introducing the phone and suddenly brought up a new film in the movie theater, Zhao Yu changed the topic and asked, "Beini, could you tell me more about the Water Reservoir Floating Corpse Case?” He pointed at the whiteboard, “I didn’t make it for the case analysis today, my lousy phone...”

“Senior...” Li Beini shook her head helplessly, “I think I wasted my breath just now, Go look at your phone. All of the case related information is in it!” Li Beini pouted and picked up a stack of documents before leaving her desk.

“Hey? Where’re you going? Knocking off already?” Zhao Yu was surprised.

“I’m going to the data room to submit data!” Li Beini turned and gave Zhao Yu a glare. “We’re both detectives, you could just tell me straight up that you don’t wanna go to the movies with me. There’s no need to make so many excuses!” With this, Li Beini strode out of the office.

“Eh? What movie? I don’t get what you’re talking about!” Zhao Yu feigned innocence.

Looking at Li Beini’s backside, Zhao Yu sighed. He really had no feelings for this young lady. Although she had a sense of loyalty and treated him quite well, she was not Zhao Yu’s cup of tea in terms of age, character, and looks. Zhao Yu only treated her like a little sister, and only felt family-like affection toward her.

Regarding affairs of the heart, Zhao Yu had always been straightforward and had a clear distinction between what he liked and disliked. He felt that it was better for him to make his feelings clear to Li Beini instead of being indecisive and creating trouble for both of them.

Zhao Yu’s learning ability was still alright. After Li Beini’s introduction, he figured out the functions of the new phone, and quickly found the Water Reservoir Floating Corpse Case information after a few swipes and taps. The first photo was of the swollen white corpse. What surprised Zhao Yu the most was it was actually a female corpse!!

Chapter 75: Reliving the Past

The situation surrounding the case was not complicated at all. A few days ago, someone had found a severely decomposed corpse. Using forensic testing, the police had found that the victim was a young female, and had been dead for nearly three months. Due to rope marks on the body, she had likely been murdered, and the Key Case Investigation Unit had been put on the case. In order to solve these sort of cases, finding the victim’s identity was the main priority. Only when the identity was confirmed, could the police continue their investigation.

After a few days of comparing the body with recent missing persons reports, the police had finally confirmed the victim’s identity. The girl’s name was Pang Anni, and she was an active bartender at various large parties. Even though these sorts of cases were usually not that difficult to solve, her lifestyle involved a hard to reach crowd, thus increasing the difficulty of the case.

The case was given solely to Team A. Whether it was because the Team A investigators were always mocked, or because of the newly appointed substitute team leader, Peng Xin, they still had something to prove. Everyone was hoping to be able to be able to raise their head high up to their rival, Team B.

The entire team was focused on solving the Water Reservoir Corpse Case, but Zhao Yu could not help at all. The next morning, he had to report to the Qinshan Police Academy to participate in the annual police training. Ever since he had solved the Lost Hand Case, Zhao Yu had gained a lot of interest in solving crimes. He had originally wanted to make use of the Miracle System and help Team A solve the case, but the police training was equally as important, so he could only step away during that time.

Zhao Yu still read through the information regarding the case carefully. Somewhere in the back of his mind he had a bit of hope. He even sent a WeChat message to Yang Hong, and asked if she had known Pang Anni. He felt that Yang Hong and Pang Anni's jobs were very similar. If they knew each other, maybe he would be able to find some evidence!

In the Taser Rape Case, Yang Hong was the victim. In the Lost Hand Case, Yang Hong had provided important evidence for Zhao Yu. Now, if it turned out that she knew anything related to the Floating Corpse Case, then Zhao Yu would really have to set up a shrine and worship her! But Zhao Yu's scenario did not play out as he had imagined. Yang Hong quickly responded and said that she did not know such a person, but that she could ask around for him, and asked Zhao Yu to wait.

Zhao Yu heard a lot of commotion in the background of Yang Hong's voice message, and asked, "Where are you?" But, he did not get a message back even after a while. He felt somewhat dejected, and had no interest in guessing exactly where Yang Hong was, or what she was doing.

He started looking through his messages. Because the old Zhao Yu had a rather introverted personality, he did not have many friends on WeChat, and his contact list was extremely short. Thus, Yao Jia's name was even more prominent. Zhao Yu could not help but look at her profile. Ever since he had chased down the thief on the camel, Zhao Yu had had Yao Jia as a friend on WeChat. But for the longest time, Zhao Yu was not sure what to say to her, and thus the two had never really talked before.

At this moment, he opened Yao Jia's photo gallery, and started to admire each of her photos. The Yao Jia in the photo was as beautiful and stunning as before, exactly the same as the Yao Jia in Zhao Yu's memory.

Looking at the photos brought Zhao Yu back to his youth. At the time, the two were barely twenty-years old, wild and feisty!

Vroomm....

On top of the Xinhua Bridge, Zhao Yu was riding a motorcycle with Yao Jia sitting behind him. The motorcycle came to a screeching halt in front of a phone vendor.

Yao Jia took off her helmet, and roared at the vendor, "Hey! Are you blind? Don't you know whose territory this is? You didn't even report to my God-bro (Zhao Yu's nickname at the time), how dare you? Do you want to die?"

"Sis!" The vendor had a difficult expression, "The bridge is a public area, it's not against the law for me to set up my stall here!"

"What did you say? Public bathroom?" Yao Jia touched her ear.

"Public area!" The vendor corrected her.

“How come I heard public bathroom?” Yao Jia perked her lips, “Hehe, stinky, so stinky! How come when I hear the word bathroom, all I smell is something stinky? God-bro, do you smell it?”

Zhao Yu nodded from the front of the motorcycle.

“Since it’s a public bathroom, don’t mind me...” Yao Jia smiled sneakily, then threw a plastic bag that had been prepared specifically for this. The plastic bag had sh*t inside, and when the bag split open, the sh*t went everywhere, stinking up the entire place!

“Ah!” The vender yelled out and fell backwards.

Zhao Yu smirked coldly and pushed down on the gas. The motorcycle zoomed away quickly. Yao Jia threw a mocking gaze back at the vendor, and flipped him off.

Once the motorcycle stopped at a garden, Yao Jia punched Zhao Yu’s back, yelling, “No fun! NO fun!”

“You already threw the sh*t at them, but still no fun?” Zhao Yu lit a cigarette, smirking as he asked.

“I didn’t throw it on him! No fun, just no fun!” Yao Jia curled her lips, “I wanted to see sh*t everywhere! God-bro, how about you go to the tree over there, and we’ll throw it at him again!”

“Pei!” Zhao Yu spit and stomped his foot, roaring at Yao Jia, “Good! Your idea is amazing! I’m going to go get ready...”

As he came back to reality, his memory started to get a little blurry. Zhao Yu’s feelings could not keep up with his current situation; he was still immersed in the happy times he had spent with Yao Jia.

In the end, the Miracle System interrupted his memory. The system told him that his adventure completion rate was only 63%, lower than the previous few times.

Zhao Yu considered it carefully. He felt that his low completion rate confirmed his previous suspicion that he would get a high completion rate only if he did something good.

Thinking back on the events of the day, even though Zhao Yu had skillfully completed many adventures, he had done some morally questionable things! In order to win Yao Jia’s heart, he had cooperated with delinquents and tried to insinuate a damsel in distress situation. Then, when it failed, he had tried to frame a rich kid. In the end, he had worked with the delinquents, and had taken a ton of money! All of his acts could only be described as disgusting. If the adventure completion was truly related to whether he did good acts or bad ones, then the fact that he had even achieved a completion rate of 63% could be considered a miracle, right?

The hexagram explanation had not contained the “mountain” hexagram that represented luck, but Zhao Yu had still obtained a huge amount of money. So, one could tell that the hexagram explanation was not foolproof! The way he completed the adventure also made a huge difference!

Within a few days, Zhao Yu’s bank account suddenly had an extra 200,000 yuan! At that rate, getting rich was almost a certainty! Thus, Zhao Yu could not care less if he was a good guy or bad guy. As long as he got rich, a low adventure completion rate did not matter much!

Even though his completion rate was only 63%, he still managed to obtain an item. One could tell that 60% was probably the dividing line between getting an item or not getting one. As long as he was past 60%, he would be rewarded.

Zhao Yu opened it, and gave it a glance. The item he had received was called the invisible signal jammer. It could jam cell phone signals, and lasted for one hour!

“Good! Even though it’s not that practical, it’s still a reward. Maybe it’ll be of some use in the future!” Ah, Zhao Yu could not help but think, that the five day police training would be starting. What kind of adventures would he experience during his training?

Chapter 76: The Overlooked Hobby

The police training was mainly for detectives in police branches in Qinshan City. The training consisted of two parts: theoretical and practical. The theoretical lessons mainly taught the police officers advanced forensic technology concepts, while practical lessons focused on improving the professional skills of the police officers so that they could better carry out their criminal investigation work.

The training lasted five days, and the lessons were given by the country’s top experts and professors, as well as veterans in criminal investigation. Those who were able to participate in the training were outstanding detectives in each branch, and each branch only had three representatives. Other than Zhao Yu from Team A, and Lan Bo from Team B, there was also an evidence collection laboratory technician from the forensics department named Hu Bin.

The police academy arranged for three officers to share a room. Since they were all males, they naturally stayed together. Lan Bo and Hu Bin were both younger than Zhao Yu. Although they had good backgrounds, they were friendly, and always addressed Zhao Yu as ‘Brother Zhao Yu,’ thus they got along quite well with him.

On the first day, the three even went to the hotel nearby for drinks when management was not watching. Lan Bo said that his dad was a fan of Sylvester Stallone, and that their family name was ‘Lan’, so he was given the name Lan Bo which sounded like ‘Rambo’! But he was thin and small in stature so ‘blue elf’ would have been more apt than ‘Rambo’!

Hu Bin was the exact opposite of Lan Bo. He was big and tall with a sturdy frame, and did not wear glasses. He looked more like a brave detective; however, his work was very meticulous, and mainly collected evidence at crime scenes and did laboratory analysis.

Hearing Hu Bin talk about his work, Zhao Yu could not help but ask him about the beautiful and charming Wang Fei, hoping to hear any gossip or scandals about her. Hu Bin’s face tensed at the mention of Chief Wang. He did not know about any scandals, but she was a well-known workaholic who was extremely meticulous and did not tolerate any errors. Subordinates like him were always very careful and did not dare to make any mistakes.

Zhao Yu understood only after hearing Hu Bin’s introduction that Wang Fei became chief purely based on her own abilities. When he had first seen the enchanting female chief, he had thought that there were some unspoken reasons behind her position.

After the training started, Zhao Yu had planned to learn how to improve his case investigation, and to repay Peng Xin's good intentions; however, he was confused after the first morning. The experts lectured on criminal psychology, criminal science, and technology which was all Greek to Zhao Yu.

During the afternoon course on the core values of police officers and such, Zhao Yu was like the Monkey God who was under the incantation of the golden hoop. Each time the lecturer spoke, it was like Tripitaka chanting magic words, and Zhao Yu's head ached each time he heard them! Making use of the bathroom break, Zhao Yu slipped away before the training ended.

On the second day, he saw on the training schedule included lessons on police information and police intelligence, so he asked Lan Bo to mark his attendance for Zhao Yu while he slept all day.

On the third day, he did the same thing, stuck to his phone the whole day, playing with WeChat and online games. He had a boring yet peaceful time; however, Zhao Yu gained better understanding of his own system after these few days. He had activated the Miracle System everyday for the past three days, but he had not encountered any adventures since he had started training. The completion rates for the three days he had been there was less than fifteen percent combined. Obviously, there were no gifts. Even if he had the Miracle System, it was useless if he did not take any initiative to complete adventures.

There was another thing that Zhao Yu worried about. Was the activation of the Miracle System connected to the pack of cigarettes which he had gotten from the cab driver? Once the cigarettes were finished, would he still be able to activate the Miracle System? Zhao Yu still had the pack with him. Everytime he needed to activate the system, he only took one puff before quickly putting out the cigarette, and kept it for the next time. However, he had recently discovered that the Miracle System had nothing to do with cigarettes at all! The previous morning, he had sneezed loudly once, and the system was activated by the sound! It seemed like activating the system was linked to him, and lighting a cigarette was just a quick way of doing it.

Although the completion rates for the past few days were not high, and he did not receive any rewards, Zhao Yu had slept well, and was relaxed and happy. He felt that it was not a bad thing that he did not have any adventures since he could make use of this time to rest instead of being tense the whole day! Wouldn't it be more productive to put in his best effort after a good rest?

Zhao Yu was still thinking about the Water Reservoir Floating Corpse Case even though he was relaxing the whole day. He frequently contacted Li Beini and the rest, and paid close attention to the case development. Team A's agents had put in their best effort, and after a few days of investigation, they had gotten made significant progress and also targeted a suspect.

This floating corpse case was very typical. Pang Anni was a lady who sold liquor. She had affairs with many men in order to make a living. She had gotten intimately involved with a civil servant from the Technology Bureau. The civil servant had a family and a career, so naturally he could not make his extramarital affair public. But Pang Anni was not satisfied with the situation and forced him to divorce his wife so that he could marry her. After numerous arguments, the civil servant killed Pang Anni out of anger, and threw her body into Qinshan Water Reservoir. The entire case was straightforward, and the agents were able to complete the investigation smoothly; however, they left out one detail in the process which was frustrating. This civil servant had a very unique hobby, which was why the case remained unsolved. This civil servant was an amateur parkour practitioner!

On the day of investigation, agents from Team A went to the Technology Bureau to arrest him. Although he already had handcuffs on one hand, he suddenly shot up and escaped from the crowd! The agents were shocked and quickly gave chase. There were five or six agents chasing through the entire street as if straight out of a movie, but the parkour practitioner left them far behind and managed to get away!

The case could not be closed if the suspect was not caught. Moreover, the suspect escaped under such an awkward situation. Team A had been about to bring pride and glory to the team, but had become a laughing stock in the end. Without a doubt, Peng Xin was furious, and was now mobilizing the whole team to catch the suspect.

Zhao Yu felt depressed hearing the news. If he had not come for the lousy training, he might have already nabbed the suspect and got a reward again!

Chapter 77: I Think My Arm Broke!!

Early in the morning of the fourth day of police training, Zhao Yu received the Kan-Zhen (water and thunder) Hexagram. The hexagram explanation was, “Water and thunder. Water within thunder, the truth is hidden behind trickery, treasure behind a veil; it will be difficult to separate the two.”

The “water within thunder” almost seemed like an explosion, it made Zhao Yu feel as if something explosive would happen that day. He would have to be careful.

He looked at his class schedule. He had almost all practical classes that day. That morning, there was even going to be a shooting lesson! As a ruffian who had always been chased by police, touching a gun was only something he could dream of.

In the Key Case Investigation Unit, the police officers were allowed to bring guns, but gun regulation was very strict in the police station. Investigators only got guns for special missions. Zhao Yu had been there for a long time but had never seen one. Now that he was going to get the chance to touch a gun, Zhao Yu was excited for the rare opportunity and wanted to play around a bit during the shooting lesson. Even though the hexagram explanation mentioned the “water within thunder,” as if signaling some sort of danger, to Zhao Yu, who had always loved chaos, it meant nothing.

Early in the morning, he grabbed Lan Bo and Hu Bin, and headed toward the shooting lesson. They realized when they arrived because the shooting range was rather cramped, not all of the officers present would be able to be there. Thus, the organization committee decided to split the students into two groups. The first group would remain at the shooting range for shooting lessons, while the other would go to the gymnasium for a grappling lesson instead, then the two would swap. Unfortunately, Zhao Yu and the other two were assigned to the second group. But at least learning how to grapple was pretty interesting. At least it was better than lectures!

The three of them followed the other students into the gymnasium. The person who was teaching them was a fierce looking instructor. They were completely toned and muscular, and their skin was tanned. Hu Bin even joked under his breath, calling the instructor Rambo.

Within one week, the instructors had already taught the class a countless number of times. So giving lessons to the investigators was just routine by that point, and the lesson flowed with ease.

“Investigators,” after the opening speech, the instructor headed straight to the main topic, “for the investigators in the Criminal Investigation Department, we often come face to face with criminals. These criminals range from pure evil to simple drunkards! Our goal is to apprehend these criminals. Thus, we need to use the quickest methods to restrain them. The art of grappling is a very good choice. Today I will be introducing a few simple, but effective grappling moves, hopefully you guys will cooperate!”

After he finished, the instructor demonstrated a few moves. The first few were all basic grappling techniques like neck and elbow locks. To demonstrate their effect, the officer asked a few police academy students to assist, and asked them to play the role of the criminal. The police academy students often helped the instructors, and were familiar with the routine. Their performance was realistic and exaggerated, earning applause.

At first, Zhao Yu watched with interest, but after a while, he noticed many problems. Without a doubt, if one learned the grappling technique, they could quickly restrain criminals. But the one key issue was the number of people a police officer had to take on. If it was a one-on-one situation, then grappling was an obvious choice, but what if there were multiple criminals? Two, three, or even a gang? If you restrained one, then another one would stop you. What would you do then?

Zhao Yu, who had lived and fought on the streets, had experienced countless gang fights. In a life-and-death situation such as a gang fight, there was no way to make use of grappling! That was the reason why Zhao Yu supported violence. In a gang fight, you could only win if you were the most violent and savage one there!

Zhao Yu felt that the most wicked criminals would feel the same way. Rather than trying to capture them alive and risk using grappling, it would be much easier to hit them hard and fast, quickly causing them to lose the ability to fight back! Like with the Taser Rape Case, the criminal had been wielding a high-voltage taser. If you wanted to capture him, there was an undoubtedly high risk of being hurt.

Zhao Yu also noticed that the moves that the instructor used, despite being fancy, were not practical at all, and were mostly for show. If he were assisting, he would probably cause a lot of problem for the instructor, and would not be easy to restrain at all. Zhao Yu was almost tempted to stand up. He wanted to test the instructor, to see if the instructor’s grappling skill or his own fearless fighting was better. But giving it a second thought, he realized that they were still in class. The instructor had a job to do, and there was no need to cause a commotion. Besides, once the class was over, he could still go shooting.

Because it was a practical course, once the two grappling techniques were explained, the instructor gave them time to practice. Zhao Yu had originally wanted to test it on Lan Bo, but Lan Bo was smart enough to know better. He knew that Zhao Yu was heavy handed, and said that his stomach hurt and ran to the bathroom! Zhao Yu could only pick on Hu Bin, who was simple minded.

Hu Bin was tall and bulky, and did not mind Zhao Yu’s moves. The two traded places practicing neck and elbow locks, and were very engaged. But just as Zhao Yu locked Hu Bin’s elbow rather forcefully, he raised his head and saw a beauty in the crowd.

“Wow!” With one glance, Zhao Yu’s eyes suddenly lit up. “Wow, my God! Beautiful!”

A young woman made her way through the crowd. The woman was about 5’5”, with a thin, curvy shape! She had a mushroom-shaped bob haircut, and her hair was very black and shiny. Her face was clear and sharp, her eyebrows were thick and her eyes were large. Her nose was small, and her lips were very red. The way she swayed as she walked was very pleasing to the eye!

All of the investigators taking lessons wore the same police uniform. Only this woman wore a light blue sports uniform, appearing individualistic and lively.

“Oh, you’re here, Ying!” In the crowd, an investigator greeted her.

The lady nodded, then went to the water fountain and fetched a cup of water for herself, and drank the whole thing in one gulp. When she raised her head, the sun shone directly onto her face. Zhao Yu could clearly see a few drops of water roll down her lip, slipping down her pale white neck and onto her shirt.

Zhao Yu’s throat was dry, and he stared unrestrained as if he had lost his mind. His heart was beating uncontrollably fast.

“Yu!” At that moment, Hu Bin was still pinned down by Zhao Yu and was at his breaking point, “Yu, can we talk? Can you let me go, I think...I think my arm broke!”

Chapter 78: No! Watch Out!

“Oh...I’m sorry!” Only then did Zhao Yu remember that Hu Bin was under him. He had almost twisted Hu Bin’s arm due to his excitement, and Hu Bin’s face had turned purple! “Hu!” Zhao Yu held Hu Bin’s shoulders and pointed at the beauty far away, “Have you seen that girl before? Is she a trainee here?”

“Mmm...” Hu Bin massaged his arm, glanced over and joked, “Why? Bro Yu? Aroused? This girl came yesterday, she should be a criminal detective!”

“Oh? A policewoman!” Zhao Yu felt a slight regret. He had slept through the last few days of training because he could not understand the lessons; however, he mainly felt regret because there were so many women around, not to mention beautiful women for him to look at! “If I had known there was such a pretty policewoman around, why would I stay in and play my stupid online game?” Zhao Yu thought to himself.

“Hmmm...” Looking at the salivating Zhao Yu, Hu Bin said with all sincerity, “Bro Yu, there’s something that I don’t know if I should say!”

“What!?” Zhao Yu was still staring at the policewoman. The policewoman did not join in on the capture practice, but sat on the long bench and looked at her phone.

“My professional instincts tell me that there’s something very wrong with the woman!” Hu Bin said seriously, “Ever since she appeared, no males event went near her!”

“Ah? What?” Zhao Yu grinned at Hu Bin, “Are you okay? Isn’t it better that there are no guys hitting on her?”

“No! That’s not what I meant!” Hu Bin tried hard to explain, “During yesterday’s lesson, once this woman took her seat, all of the policemen near her ran away! Take a look, look!”

Zhao Yu raised his head and saw that what Hu Bin said was true. There was no one beside the policewoman on the bench! There had initially been a few policemen sitting on the long bench, but they had all ran off!

“Keke...” Zhao Yu thought nothing of it, “A great thinker taught us that if we want to know if something stinks, we have to smell it ourselves! Heh heh...smell it and you’ll know it!” With this, Zhao Yu rubbed his hands together and tiptoed toward the policewoman, like the big bad wolf that saw red riding hood.

“Bro Yu, ” Hu Bin called out softly, “What’s the name of that thinker?”

Lan Bo returned just as Zhao Yu left. “What happened, Hu, did Zhao Yu do anything to you? That fella’s really ruthless...” Lan Bo was blabbering to Hu Bin when he suddenly saw Zhao Yu walking toward a policewoman. When he saw the face of the policewoman, he was startled and almost lost his balance! “Ah!? What! My goodness...” Lan Bo stuttered in shock, “she...why is she here? Bro Yu...what’s Bro Yu doing?”

“He’s Aroused!!” Hu Bin said matter-of-factly, “Males with excessive secretion of hormones, and in heat are all like this, heh heh...”

“What!” Lan Bo caught hold of Hu Bin, “You horrible kid, why didn’t you stop Bro Yu?”

“Stop him? Why?” Hu Bin was puzzled.

“Miao...that’s Miao Renfeng! This...this is no joke! It’s a matter of life and death!” Lan Bo smacked his own forehead, “Oh dear, oh dear, Bro Yu’s in danger!”

“Lan Bo, are you also aroused?” Hu Bin explained carefully, “Miao Renfeng is a highly-skilled expert in the martial arts novel, The Flying Fox of Snowy Mountain, he’s a guy!”

“Damn you!” Lan Bo scolded anxiously, “You don’t know Miao Renfeng? She’s the nemesis of all policemen in Qinshan, don’t you know?”

“Who? What nemesis?”

“The overbearing policewoman from Ruyang branch, Miao Ying! Nicknamed Miao Renfeng!” Lan Bo bared his teeth and shouted, “Haven’t you heard?” Hu Bin shook his head.

“Two time champion in the elite sparring competition, ” Lan Bo made a quick introduction, “Taekwondo black belt, Judo black belt, Master of Free Sparring, Grand Expert in Mixed Martial Arts, you haven’t heard?” Hu Bin shook his head, dumbstruck.

“My goodness! None of the criminals she’s caught had good endings. All of them were turned into cripples by her!” Lan Bo refused to give up and asked again, “You at least heard of that, right?” Hu Bin shook his head, dumbstruck and trembling.

“Alright, pretend I didn’t say anything!” Lan Bo gave up and lowered his head.

After a few seconds, Hu Bin finally understood, “Oh...I get it, I get it! So...it’s not because of farting!?”

While the two were talking, Zhao Yu had reached the policewoman and gave an introduction straightaway, “Hello, how are you! I see that you’ve just gotten here and have not seen the grappling technique that was just taught? I've already mastered it, so why don't I teach you?" While talking, Zhao Yu took a few sniffs and did not smell anything weird! Hmm! Seemed like Hu Bin's guess was totally wrong!

Hearing Zhao Yu's introduction, Miao Ying raised her head, took a glance at him and looked a little surprised.

"Heh heh, there's no need to thank me, we are all colleagues, and this is what I should do!" Zhao Yu extended his hand as if he were inviting her to dance.

Miao Ying gave smiled as if she had been touched by something and stretched her hand onto Zhao Yu's, like a graceful princess. Her hand was smooth and silky. With a little help from Zhao Yu, the beauty stood up tall and valiant. Zhao Yu was 5'8" and Miao Ying 5'5". The two looked like a perfect match standing together, catching the attention of the agents around them; however, agents who knew about Miao Ying were not admiring the pair, but were full of surprise, curiosity, and anticipation.

They were surprised that there a guy reckless enough to dare to tease Miao Ying.

They were curious to find out who on earth was the reckless guy.

They were anticipating how miserable the guy would end up later.

However, there were also some kind-hearted agents who looked at Zhao Yu with sympathy, which was how Lan Bo felt. He was praying silently in his heart, "I hope my dear Bro Yu doesn't end up crippled!"

"Kekeke..." Zhao Yu did not notice anything wrong and continued ogling at Miao Ying, "How about this, let me first teach you an elbow lock! This is the simplest, come...aim at me and attack!"

Chapter 79: I Can't Stop You if You Want to Die

"Alright," Miao Ying smiled at Zhao Yu, "how should I approach you?"

"Anyway you want. Go ahead and just hit me! Right at my face!" Zhao Yu gestured. "That way I can do a reverse elbow lock!"

"Oh, I was wondering," Miao Ying said curiously, "what's your name?"

"Zhao Yu!" Zhao Yu laughed. "From the Rongyang Branch Office, what about you?"

"Oh," Miao Ying nodded, as if realizing something, "so you're new?"

"Yep, I started recently!" Zhao Yu bowed. "Please take good care of me!"

"Miao Ying!" Miao Ying smiled. "From the Ruyang Branch Office! Some people call me Miao Renfeng, have you heard of that?"

Zhao Yu shook his head and laughed, "Miao Renfeng is a man, right? That's..."

"Alright, quit the chatter!" Miao Ying quickly interrupted Zhao Yu's attempt at conversation. "Didn't you want to teach me elbow locks? Should I punch you now?"

“Uh...” Zhao Yu paused then said, “Right, right! Come!”

Miao Ying’s fist flew straight at Zhao Yu’s face. Zhao Yu followed the instructions. First he blocked Miao Ying’s wrist, then followed with a grab and quickly locked Miao Ying’s elbow behind her. Having her elbow locked and forced down, Miao Ying was forced to bend down.

Zhao Yu saw that the elbow lock was successful and quickly let go. He mimicked the instructor, “Hehe, and that’s that. The key is when you grab their hand!” As he said the word hand, Zhao Yu grabbed Miao Ying’s pale smooth hand and stroked it shamelessly.

The investigators watching all nervously shrunk back. Lan Bo gulped and thought, “My dear Yu, goodbye! I can’t stop you if you want to die!”

“Mister Zhao Yu.” Miao Ying did not seem to mind as she smiled. “Thank you so much! But I have a way to break this lock, do you believe me?”

“Oh?” Zhao Yu was surprised. “Really?”

“How about we try again?” Miao Ying blinked her large eyes sweetly, looking very cute and personable.

“Alright!” Zhao Yu said, and prepared himself.

“Then I won’t hold back!” Miao Ying then aimed at Zhao Yu’s face. Zhao Yu ran through the routine again, first blocking her wrist, then locking her elbow. It seemed like it had gone smoothly again. But just as Zhao Yu relaxed his grip slightly, Miao Ying suddenly swung her other elbow over, drawing an arc through the air, then smacked Zhao Yu’s face.

Pah! The back of Miao Ying’s hand landed harshly on Zhao Yu’s face, causing the man to stumble in surprise. His grip loosened, Miao Ying immediately struggled free, then swung her head up. The back of her head hit Zhao Yu’s chin!

Zhao Yu was pushed back by the force of the attack. He felt a whoosh of wind in front of him, and reflexively guarded his face with his elbows. Miao Ying’s spinning whirlwind kick landed straight on it.

Zhao Yu stepped back from the force, and almost fell to the ground. When he finally stabilized himself, his face, chin, and elbow all burned in pain! To have been assaulted so suddenly left Zhao Yu stunned. He never would have imagined that the beautiful female police officer in front of him was so fierce! Good thing he reacted fast; if that kick had landed on his face, his appearance would have been ruined!

Zhao Yu quickly scanned the crowd and noticed everyone had stopped practicing and was looking at him with a pitiful gaze.

“Oh...Holy sh*t!” Zhao Yu finally understood why this woman did not have anyone around her. It was not because she had some sort of problem, but because everyone was afraid of her, and did not dare to approach her!

“Jesus!” He had finally approached a girl, but why was she amazing in such a wrong way? Miao Renfeng! After all, she was good at fighting...

But Zhao Yu was not someone who could swallow his pride. After getting attacked by Miao Ying, he was instantly enraged. If he did not fix this situation, the humiliation later would be unbearable!

“Oh! I’m so sorry, mister Zhao Yu!” Miao Ying feigned an apology. “I got too used to restraining criminals, so I was a bit heavy handed back there, don’t get angry, please! How about you teach me neck locks now?”

“Wait!” Zhao Yu quickly came up with a plan. Suppressing his anger, he smiled and said, “Miao Ying, I actually have a way to break elbow locks as well! Do you believe me?”

“Oh? Is that so?” Miao Ying rolled her eyes, already guarding against Zhao Yu’s attack.

“How about I attack you?” Zhao Yu gestured. “You can lock my elbows and see if I can break it, how about it?”

“Sure!” Miao Ying was skilled and knew it, so she was not afraid at all and immediately prepared herself.

The investigators surrounding them did not care about practicing anymore, and everyone crowded around. They mainly wanted to see the fearless Zhao Yu get pummeled!

“Watch out, I’m coming!” Zhao Yu aimed a punch at Miao Ying’s face. Miao Ying quickly grabbed his wrist and put him in a solid elbow lock. Miao Ying purposely pressed down hard, almost trying to break Zhao Yu’s arm. Even if she did not break it, she wanted to force Zhao Yu to beg for mercy.

But Miao Ying had underestimated Zhao Yu’s capability. Just as Zhao Yu’s elbow was restrained, he stomped on Miao Ying’s feet.

Miao Ying loosened her grip, and Zhao Yu threw his head back heavily onto Miao Ying’s chest! The force caused the her to stumble back a few steps, nearly tripping over herself!

“Ah!” The audience was shocked and nearly cried out.

Zhao Yu also was very strong. Miao Ying’s feet were swollen from the stomp, and her chest also felt like it was about to fall apart!

“Aiya, aiya!” Zhao Yu was a master at acting, and put his hands together to apologize. “My bad, I never know when to stop! Miss Miao Ying, how do you like my move? I call it ‘pig feet stomp’.”

Hearing the line “pig feet stomp,” the crowd erupted into laughter.

Miao Ying’s face instantly turned red. She never would have thought that Zhao Yu would use such shameless technique, but Miao Ying was also a great actress. She acted calm as she spoke, “Pretty good, pretty good! Mr. Zhao Yu, I still have one ultimate technique for breaking elbow locks that I haven’t used! Do you dare to try it?”

“Fine!” Zhao Yu had no fear, and gestured for her to begin.

Miao Ying did not care to chat, and with a single stride, she rushed forward and raised her hand! But the embarrassed Miao Ying already had a plan in mind. She did not even plan to let Zhao Yu grab her wrist. Just as Zhao Yu raised his hand to grab her, she pulled back her fist, then raised her leg and kicked at Zhao Yu’s stomach.

Zhao Yu was equally prepared. He had guessed Miao Ying's plan and did not even try to grab her hand, but slapped at her face! As a result, both of their plans succeeded. Miao Ying's kicked Zhao Yu right in the stomach, and Zhao Yu successfully slapped Miao Ying's face!

Chapter 80: Cries of the Dragon and the Tiger

Miao Ying's reaction speed was very fast. Just as Zhao Yu was about to hit her, she quickly tilted her head, and Zhao Yu only managed to hit her ear!

Ding! As Zhao Yu brushed past her mushroom-like hairstyle, a white earring flew out, leaving a bloodstain on Miao Ying's cheek. Zhao Yu also had a good reaction time. When he was about to be kicked in the stomach, he shifted his body so that Miao Ying only got to kick his thigh; however, Miao Ying's leg was very strong and her kick made Zhao Yu bare his teeth as he massaged his thigh.

Miao Ying's anger had been completely ignited by Zhao Yu. She clenched her fist and cracked her bones. Agents who knew about Miao Ying's prowess were all nervous and quickly moved back, afraid that they would be implicated.

Zhao Yu was also furious and stared like a raging bull.

"Comrade Zhao Yu..."

"Comrade Miao Ying..."

Both of them said at the same time, "I still have other ways to break this, are you down for it?"

"Bring it on!" both of them shouted and started fighting. This time, no one cared about elbow locks or capturing techniques, they each displayed their unique skills combining the use of their four limbs and started a battle of life and death.

Miao Ying was a professional so she had an upper hand right from the start and quickly dealt Zhao Yu a few kicks with her long legs; however, Zhao Yu had more practical experience than Miao Ying. He saw that Miao Ying's martial art ability was very strong and decided not to make a counter attack, but to hug and embrace her whenever possible! Not only would this reduce the space she could use to kick him, but he could also have an opportunity to touch the beautiful police officer.

However, Miao Ying was not only skilled with her legs. She had learned Judo, and after hugging and struggling with Zhao Yu, she easily nailed Zhao Yu to the ground. Miao Ying's strikes were extremely violent. The moment Zhao Yu fell to the ground, she followed quickly with a punch to his face. Zhao Yu could only shield himself with his arms.

Nonetheless, Zhao Yu had an advantage over Miao Ying. He could not stand being punched! He got agitated being punched and actually gave up blocking. He disregarded the punches that landed on his face and aimed a punch at Miao Ying.

After a few punches, Miao Ying started to find it unbearable. Zhao Yu made use of this chance to curl his right leg around and kick at Miao Ying's chest. Miao Ying could only turn to avoid it, but Zhao Yu kicked her under her armpit, throwing her up high before she slammed onto the ground!

“Ah!” Miao Ying got up before sending another kick at Zhao Yu. Zhao Yu took advantage of the situation to catch her right foot and pulled on it with all of his strength.

Miao Ying kicked Zhao Yu away with her left leg, but the shoe on her right foot had already been grabbed by Zhao Yu. Her pants had also been pulled down most of the way, and her underwear was exposed! “Ah!” Miao Ying was going ballistic. She gave another two kicks and sent Zhao Yu rolling.

The instructor was worried that someone might get killed and quickly went forward to stop Miao Ying; however, Miao Ying who was already in a killing frenzy hit the instructor, knocking him onto the ground without even thinking, and kicked him away. The instructor flew through the air before landing under the ring fence and started foaming at the mouth!

While the instructor was out cold, there were others who tried to stop Zhao Yu. They wanted to pull Zhao Yu away and put a stop to the war that was ensuing. Who would have known that Zhao Yu was also in a killing frenzy? He flung his arms like a madman and struck a big group of people. The long bench fell apart, and the water dispenser was also damaged! The water container ruptured and water flowed everywhere.

“Ahh!!” Zhao Yu dashed toward Miao Ying like a sea dragon. Miao Ying almost exploded and roared before rushing at Zhao Yu like a ferocious tiger. The encounter was like a battle between a dragon and a tiger. Cries of the dragon and the tiger could be heard from far away, and the two had displayed all of their special skills with nothing left to hide.

At the climax of the fight, the entire ground seemed to tremble. Zhao Yu had already gone berserk. He did not try to hide from Miao Ying’s kicks, letting her kick him while he punched Miao Ying’s face.

Although Miao Ying blocked with her arm, the strong force caused the corner of her mouth to bleed. Zhao Yu struck again, but Miao Yu was composed and managed to avoid Zhao Yu’s fist with a backward roll. Next, Miao Ying got on her feet and gave a beautiful spinning kick! The kick was full of vigor and caused Zhao Yu to spin even though he had used both his hands to block. Miao Ying was elated. She immediately curled her leg and kicked Zhao Yu right on his butt.

“Ahhh...” Zhao Yu covered his butt and jumped up a few meters. Even his voice changed!

“Go to hell!” Miao Ying gritted her teeth and lifted her leg again. She forcefully kicked Zhao Yu on his back, and Zhao Yu fell flat on his face!

Seeing Zhao Yu land heavily on the ground, Miao Ying thought that he had lost his ability to fight. She gave a loud roar and gave another powerful kick! It seemed like she had no intention to stop kicking until Zhao Yu landed up in hospital for at least half a year!

However, Zhao Yu’s will to attack took her by surprise. After two kicks from her, Zhao Yu turned and stood up, then grabbed hold of Miao Ying’s thighs with his hands. He wrestled forcefully and pressed Miao Ying onto the ground.

The two started wrestling on the ground in a sixty-nine position! The purified water on the ground turned to soil after mixing with dust, clinging to both of them. They looked like clay figurines!

Miao Ying used the lock technique in free sparring, locking Zhao Yu with both her legs. Zhao Yu struck back using his scissor legs and caught hold of Miao Ying. Both of them were stuck together, and they were only left with their fists. They punched madly at each other but were unable to exert much strength as they were being held too tightly together. Exasperated, Miao Ying opened her mouth and bit Zhao Yu's calf! Her bite was vicious and she almost tore his flesh out!

Zhao Yu shouted out in pain! However, he quickly showed his ferocity by also opening his bloody mouth and taking a bite. As the two were locked together in opposite directions, Zhao Yu's bit Miao Ying's butt! Her butt was soft and Miao Ying was wearing sports attire made of smooth material, so Zhao Yu only managed to bite the sports attire and nothing else. He spat and quickly moved up like a snake until he was at Miao Ying's thigh area and bit down again.

"Ah!" Miao Ying let out a scream and bit Zhao Yu on his leg!

"Arghh..." Zhao Yu pitch became higher. Flustered, he lowered his head and took another bite. Zhao Yu was worse than Miao Ying. His two bites were on the same spot and Miao Ying was trembling all over!

The two had wanted to continue biting, but after struggling, their bodies actually moved slightly apart. As both of them were experts at combat, they struck with their legs once they saw a chance. As a result, both of their legs ended up on each other's stomachs, and the two slid far away like curling stones!

The agents on the side all rushed forward without hesitation, and finally held them down, almost wanting to put them in handcuffs!
