

Crazy Detective

Chapter 30: Who Is More Absurd than Me?

Bang, bang, bang!

Early in the morning, someone was banging furiously on Zhao Yu's door.

Zhao Yu was still chasing other people in his dream. Suddenly disturbed by the banging sound, he merely licked his lips and rolled over. Although he mumbled, "Who's that? Annoying!" he did not fully wake up.

"Zhao Yu! You baddie! I know you're inside, open the door quick!" along with the banging sound, a young girl's howl came from outside the door.

"Jiang Xiaoqing!? Why is she here?" he thought. Zhao Yu frantically looked at his watch. "Only five thirty, so early? What does she want? Oh no!" Zhao Yu recalled the parents conference from the day before. Although he had managed to find some clues by coincidence, he had stirred up trouble for Jiang Xiaoqing! He had ruined the parents conference that had been painstakingly prepared by the school, and Shanshan's mother had almost called 120!

Yesterday, he had wanted to explain what had happened to Jiang Xiaoqing, but he was so engrossed in his investigation that he forgot! After that, Jiang Xiaoqing had called him several times, but he dared not pick up the phone. The young girl threw curses at him on WeChat, and even said that their scheme had been discovered so he had to take responsibility!

Zhao Yu had planned to think of a solution today, but he did not expect the young girl to come knocking at his door so early in the morning! Hearing how furiously she was pounding on his door, the young girl was definitely going to curse him out before putting the matter to rest!

Zhao Yu had wanted to open the door, but thinking about it further, he decided against it. Her parents were downstairs. "I'm a man and only have my flowery underpants on. If I let a young girl in and someone sees it, I'll never be able to explain myself! No! The door can never be opened!" he decided.

"Zhao Yu, I have your location information! Stop pretending! I know you're inside! Open the door quick!" Jiang Xiaoqing bellowed outside.

Zhao Yu hugged his pillow, not daring to breathe loudly. Somehow, he was fearless when he fought with others, but he was really scared of Jiang Xiaoqing! The thought of pretending to be the young girl's dad made him feel weak all over!

"Alright? Don't think I can't subdue you!" Jiang Xiaoqing shouted from outside the door, and a string of metal clatter followed. "Let me tell you, I'm the landlord, I have the key! I'm gonna open the door now!" Jiang Xiaoqing was not trying to scare Zhao Yu, but before Zhao Yu could react, she had inserted the key into the keyhole and started turning it.

"Holy Sh*t!" Seeing that the door was about to open, Zhao Yu knew the situation was bad and slipped under the bed. He looked left and right, but the room was narrow and there was nowhere for him to hide. Without a choice, he opened the balcony's anti-theft door and dived onto the balcony. Just as he got onto the balcony, Jiang Xiaoqing had already opened his door.

"Zhao Yu! I'm coming in!" Jiang Xiaoqing popped her head in, "Stop hiding alright? I've got something important to discuss! Zhao Yu?" She did not see anyone and began searching the place. Just as she began to search the bedroom, she saw the opened anti-theft door leading to the balcony.

"Huh! Where else can you run?" The young girl rushed onto the balcony, but there was no one in sight.

"Strange?" Jiang Xiaoqing looked left and right and mumbled to herself, "He's really not in? Not possible? I'm sure I heard that fella coughing last night. Why is he gone now? That damned fella, he really has big cases to investigate? Zhao Yu...?" She returned to the house to check again.

After hearing the balcony door close, Zhao Yu popped his head out at the balcony next door. Due to the critical situation, he had been cornered and actually climbed onto the balcony next door through the anti-theft net. Not knowing if Jiang Xiaoqing had left, he dared not move. He crouched and waited on the balcony of the four beauties' home, keeping his head low.

A few minutes later, he heard the sound of the shutter doors from downstairs. He peeked down and saw Jiang Xiaoqing had locked the shutter doors of their family fruit store and gone to school. Before she left, she turned and caught a glimpse of the balcony. This gave Zhao Yu a scare, and he lowered his head again.

"Oh! Holy Sh*t! Scared me!" Zhao Yu patted himself on the chest and thought, "It's this early in the morning and I almost got a heart attack! Could this be the adventure that I'm supposed to have today? If it's the case, it is really not fun at all."

Having seen Jiang Xiaoqing lock the shutter doors, Zhao Yu realized that Jiang Dafeng and his wife were not in. They had probably gone to replenish their stock. No wonder

Jiang Xiaoqing dared to come and find him! If he had known this, he would have opened the door and have a good talk with her, and would not be in such an embarrassing state now! He wanted to shake off the dust on his body, but realized he was half naked and only wearing his Pikachu underpants. He did not even have his slippers on.

“Let me take a shower first!” Zhao Yu slowly thought about it, and climbed back onto his own balcony, but had realized something. His adventure for today had just begun, but the anti-theft door had been locked from inside by Jiang Xiaoqing!

“Arrggh, darn!” Zhao Yu pulled and tugged, but the door did not move. He checked the window, but the window was also anti-theft and could not be opened!

“Arrggh, holy sh*t!” Zhao Yu scratched his head. He hated Jiang Xiaoqing from within. The girl had actually pulled this on him! She was full of tricks. She must have guessed that he had jumped from the balcony so she did this cruel act!

“Darn it!” He looked out from the anti-theft net. He was on the third floor, and the balcony was protruding out. If he climbed to the end of the anti-theft net and jumped down, it would be equivalent to suicide. Zhao Yu anxiously fidgeted in his spot. The Lost Hand Case had reached a crucial point, and he had many things to do! But now...he could not even go home! If his cellphone was with him, he could have call for help, but his phone was locked inside the house. Who could he find?

He paced around the narrow balcony. When he finally fixed his eyes on the balcony next door, he decided to take a gamble! “I have to go all out!” Zhao Yu decided to leave from the next-door apartment. The two houses were next to each other. If he could leave from the neighbor’s main door, he would be able to return to his main door.

Although the four beauties lived next door, Zhao Yu knew very well that these four social butterflies always spent their nights out and did not return home, so there was definitely no one home at this hour.

Zhao Yu prayed silently, hoping that the neighbor’s anti-theft door could be opened from the inside! He took a deep breath and crossed over to the balcony next door in the exact same way. The balcony next door did not have an anti-theft door. With a light pull, the door was opened.

Having the same layout as Zhao Yu’s place, the balcony connected to a bedroom. At this moment, there was a strong scent coming from the bedroom. It was the seductive and intoxicating scent of a woman. Zhao Yu felt that he had come across this scent before, and it seemed familiar. After some thought, he figured it could be from Miss Huahua. He was likely in Miss Huahua’s bedroom.

The curtain was down, and Zhao Yu was worried there might be someone in the house. He took a peek at the bed which was in a mess. Half the bedsheet was on the floor and it was obvious there was no one on the bed.

Zhao Yu heaved a sigh of relief. He quickly left the bedroom and headed toward the living room. On the side of the living room, on the wall with the television on it, was the glass door to the bathroom.

Unexpectedly, the moment Zhao Yu stepped into the living room, the sound of water came from the bathroom. Before Zhao Yu could react, the bathroom door opened and the living room was suddenly lit up from the light from the bathroom. A woman with a hot body clashed head on with Zhao Yu!

“Ahhh!” A loud cry came from the living room!!

When the two saw each other, Zhao Yu’s was incredibly confused.

“Huh?” The sound of water from the bathroom had clearly been from the toilet, but why was this female in front of him wrapped in a bath towel, her hair still dripping wet? Was she using the bathroom, or showering?

The woman stood still, thunder struck as this creepy man appeared in front of her wearing only boxers. She screamed in shock, and unexpectedly, she failed to hold her towel tightly, letting it fall to the ground and baring her entire body!

Taking a glance, Zhao Yu’s confusion was quickly replaced with another thought. “Woah?!” Her body was perfection. Even the young Miss Huahua could not compare. “This woman is not Miss Huahua... Crap!” If it were Miss Huahua, Zhao Yu could have tried to explain, but it was not, and now Zhao Yu was done for. Breaking in, seeing things he should not have, he was already at death’s door!

Misunderstanding! Too much misunderstanding! But as the woman continuously screamed, Zhao Yu simply stood still, and started blaming the Miracle System instead.

“Dear System, this kind of adventure is full of misunderstanding, couldn’t have been arranged by your highness as well, right?” he thought to himself. Was it fun to mess with him?

Finally, after she screamed for about twenty seconds, the woman was also a little confused. How come this pervert had not attacked her already? According to her expectations of a breakin, she should have been already restrained by him, dominated, then raped. But how come the guy in front of her was just looking at her like he was admiring scenery?

In her confusion, the woman finally took the time to examine Zhao Yu. He had boxers but no shoes, and was dirty all over. Could he be a mental patient?!

“Wait!” Suddenly, the woman took a closer look at Zhao Yu’s face, and yelled out in shock, “How come it’s you?!”

“Miss, this was an accident,” Zhao Yu put his hands together in apology, trying to explain himself as the chance presented itself, “I’m your neighbor Zhao Yu. I got locked out and thought there wasn’t anyone in your house, so I tried to go through your house to get to mine. I know you guys don’t usually have anyone home around this time. I honestly didn’t know you were home, it was truly an accident. I’m a police officer, not some shady guy. If you want I can show you my badge.”

Only after Zhao Yu’s long explanation did he notice the woman’s expression. He took a closer look at the other’s face, and was beyond shocked.

“Ah?! How come it’s you? Aren’t you the gold digger!” Zhao Yu was about to blurt the words out before forcefully swallowing them.

Indeed, the woman in front of him was the gold digger Zhao Yu had met at the bar who had almost become a victim of the Taser Rape Case. Thankfully, Zhao Yu had caught the culprit in the nick of time. He could be considered her savior! No wonder the perfume was so familiar! It was hers!

“How come...it’s you?!” Zhao Yu pointed at her, also feeling dazed.

The woman thought Zhao Yu had pointed at her bare body, and hurriedly picked up the towel again. But the tiny towel could block her seductive and perfect body. Zhao Yu could feel himself heating up, and his throat going dry.

“Isn’t this...too much of a coincidence?” The woman shook her head, “Huahua was just telling me yesterday that we got some crazy police man as a neighbor, To think it was you?!”

“Damn!” Zhao Yu gulped. To think that was how Huahua saw him. That was the power of dry humor! “I...I couldn’t imagine either!” Zhao Yu finally explained what happened again, then asked, “I’ve seen the four beauties, but how come I haven’t seen you?”

“Haha, come sit!” Because of their special relationship of the savior and the saved, the woman had already let her guard down around Zhao Yu. Leading him into the bedroom, she let Zhao Yu sit on her bed. “It should be five beauties! Three of them live downstairs, me and Huahua live up here!”

“Oh...” Zhao Yu finally understood. Apparently the neighbor also rented out the second floor, leaving only the first floor as a laundromat.

“Officer Zhao, your name is Zhao Yu?” The woman grabbed a pack of cigarettes from the counter and handed it to Zhao Yu. “Actually, last time, I didn’t know what happened until I woke up later! I wanted to thank you personally, but, you know my situation, I...”

“Hong...what was it? Yang Hong?” Zhao Yu recalled the Taser Rape Case’s involved personnel name list.

“Yeah, Yang Hong!” The woman confirmed her name.

“Please! Why the formality? It’s just my job...” Zhao Yu took the cigarette, but did not want to smoke. Ever since he had connected smoking with the miracle system, he no longer had any interest in smoking. So when Yang Hong tried to help him light the cigarette, he politely waved it off, but Yang Hong still lit one for herself.

“No matter what, truly, thank you!” Yang Hong spoke honestly, “If the culprit really got away with it, I...I don’t know if I could have faced anyone!”

“Don’t say that...” Zhao Yu could feel a certain sadness from the Yang Hong’s tone, and tried to change the subject. “What a coincidence today, you didn’t go out?”

“Ever since what happened, I’m still a little uncomfortable...” Yang Hong blew out a soft smoke ring, somewhat reserved. “I had planned to rest a bit today. I was sleeping well, but someone was slamming on the door and woke me up!”

Apparently everything was a chain reaction caused by Jiang Xiaoqing. After Yang Hong had finished talking, the two were not sure what to say and the atmosphere in the bedroom became somewhat awkward.

“Officer Zhao!” Finally, it was Yang Hong who first broke the awkward silence, “I was always wondering, that day...there were so many people in the bar, how come you targeted me? Did you know that the culprit would pick me?”

“That...” Zhao Yu was experienced in this. From Yang Hong’s words, he instinctively caught onto something and smiled, “Honestly, I was enraptured by you. There wasn’t anyone prettier than you there! Looks like my aesthetic was the same as the culprit!”

Yang Hong smiled wildly, “As expected from the love expert Officer Zhao! Today is a rare opportunity. If I say I won’t charge you for the 3000 yuan, and give you a freebie, what would you do?”

Yang Hong was clearly flirting by this point. Zhao Yu looked at the other’s devilish body. His testosterone was running wild with anticipation, but Zhao Yu still kept up his experienced façade, and spoke, “Then what about the four-star hotel?”

This sent Yang Hong into a laughing fit. After she had laughed enough, she threw an incredibly seductive look at Zhao Yu. “Random meetings are always more special, I think right here is fine! Huahua won't be back all afternoon. Also, you jumped over from the balcony and don't even have the key! How will you go back?"

Zhao Yu could not even contain his own excitement. How could he even mention the backup key he had under his welcome mat? Not even waiting for Yang Hong to extinguish her cigarette, he pulled her into his arms!

It had been too long since Zhao Yu had last touched a woman. He could not concern himself with rules like "do not touch other people." He was like a beast in heat as he flipped Yang Hong over violently, pressing her under his body. But he had done so too aggressively. Yang Hong's cell phone bounced high into the air from the bed and fell onto the ground. The sound was very loud, causing the two to pause.

"That iPhone 6S, sorry..." Yang Hong licked her lips and muttered quietly.

Zhao Yu hurriedly poked his upper body out of bed and picked up the cellphone. Good thing that the phone was sturdy, and apparently there were no scratches.

When Zhao Yu picked up the phone to show Yang Hong, the screen was brightly lit, showing a picture of Yang Hong herself. But what made Zhao Yu pause was that picture showed Yang Hong in front of a piano, playing very intently.

"Piano again?!" Zhao Yu thought incredulously.

"What? Can't recognize me?" Yang Hong pointed at her youthful self, "At the time, I was still in school!"

"You...you play the piano?" Zhao Yu asked carefully.

"Haha, unexpected?" Yang Hong was clearly a little proud as she replied, "Qinshan was called the Piano Capital. Ever since I can remember, my mother forced me to practice piano! That's right, I've even reached the tenth level of piano! In high school, I even attended Qinshan City's most prestigious piano competition!"

Upon hearing this, Zhao Yu could feel a chill crawl up his body, leaving his body with goose bumps. "So," Zhao Yu asked, his voice almost shaking, "the competition you attended, which one was it?"

"The tenth one, why?" Yang Hong answered without a pause.

Zhao Yu's hand shook, the expensive iPhone 6S once again fell on the ground!
