Chapter 16: The Space in the Bracelet

“This is inside the ‘Heaven and Earth Bracelet’, idiot!” A childish voice sounded in Leng Ruoxue’s ears.

“Who’s talking?” Leng Ruoxue looked around.

“Big Sister, below.” In Leng Ruoxue’s arms, Baby motioned her to look down with his small paw. She looked in the direction his paw was pointing and saw a chubby, pink, and tender toddler about a year old, wearing only a red belly band.

“Whose toddler is this?” Leng Ruoxue couldn’t help stretching out a finger and gently poking the too cute pink and tender face.

“Y-you are taking advantage of this young master! Wuu wuu wuu... Pervert!” The toddler’s big, dark, and bright eyes were full of tears as he complained aggrievedly.

Leng Ruoxue’s face turned dark as she stared at this little boy. She merely poked this little thing on the face. How did she become a pervert...

“You, a little boy, is a young master?” Leng Ruoxue was speechless. How could such a small boy be a young master?

The toddler, who claimed to be a young master, looked at Leng Ruoxue with big teary eyes for a long time before finally saying, “You’re bullying me! Wuuuuu...”

“Okay, okay. Big Sister was wrong. Don’t cry!” Leng Ruoxue coaxed helplessly. Fortunately, no one else was here. Otherwise, they might think that she was bullying this little kid. Why was she attracting small things that pretended to be pitiful and loved to cry recently?

“Um... Can you tell Big Sister where we are now?” Leng Ruoxue continued to coax. This place looked inhabited, but why was there only a child with no adults?

“I said it earlier. This is within the Heaven and Earth Bracelet.” The cute little toddler looked at Leng Ruoxue’s eyes with a gaze that seemed to suggest that she was stupid!

“Heaven and Earth Bracelet?” Leng Ruoxue still had some doubts in her eyes. Okay, she admitted that this toddler could despise her, but she really didn’t know what this Heaven and Earth Bracelet was.

Wait a minute. 'Heaven and Earth Bracelet'? Is it the bracelet I'm wearing? Leng Ruoxue's gaze shifted to the purple bracelet on her wrist.

The little toddler nodded, his bright black eyes looking at Leng Ruoxue unblinkingly.

"You are now the owner of the Heaven and Earth Bracelet, and we are currently in the space within the bracelet. This young master is the artifact spirit of the Heaven and Earth Bracelet," the toddler explained simply with a gaze that said, 'you should understand now!'

"Could this be the legendary 'portable space'?" Leng Ruoxue was surprised. She did hear the secretaries of her company in her previous life saying that they wanted to have something like a 'portable space'.

"This isn't some portable space. It's much more advanced than that. The Heaven and Earth Bracelet is a divine artifact. Do you understand what a divine artifact is? How can it be compared to a simple portable space." The toddler was about to throw a tantrum when he heard her comparing him to a portable space that could only farm and raise small animals.

Leng Ruoxue looked at the angry toddler in amusement.

"Divine artifact? Never heard of it!" Leng Ruoxue said honestly. She had indeed never heard of it. She only knew that the best equipment in this world was at the sacred artifact grade. Divine artifact? Sounds pretty advanced.

"Y-you... you are too ignorant!" the toddler roared angrily, seemingly saying, 'This young master is angry now. The consequences are serious!'

Seeing that the little fellow was really getting angry, she stopped teasing him. Although she was not an artificer yet, she knew that equipment that had artifact spirits were definitely not at a low grade. Moreover, being able to refine equipment that possessed an artifact spirit was the lifelong dream of every artificer.

However, Leng Ruoxue really couldn't stand a little kid who kept claiming that he was a young master. It felt weird.

"A child is a child. If you continue calling yourself a young master, I'll spank you!"

"Wuuuuu... You're threatening me! You're a bad master!"

"I'm not some child. I'm so small because I'm sealed." The toddler bawled. He didn't want to be so small either. Wuuuu!

"Sealed?"

“Yes. If not for being sealed, I would be very powerful,” the chubby toddler said with a face full of pride.

“Who sealed you?” Leng Ruoxue asked curiously.

“My former master.”

“Why did he seal you?”

“Because he was dying and afraid that I would fall into the wrong hands. He also said that my new master would help me unlock the seal.” The toddler looked at Leng Ruoxue expectantly.

“Me?”

“Yes.”

“How do I unlock your seal?”

“You can’t do it now. Master, you are still too weak,” the toddler said honestly with some regret in his bright black eyes.

“...”

Am I being despised by the artifact spirit again? Leng Ruoxue felt very uncomfortable.

“Master, come with me.” The toddler turned around.

The little fellow brought her into that purple bamboo house, took out a jade slip from who knows where, and gave it to her.

“What is this?” Leng Ruoxue looked at the jade slip in her hands suspiciously.

“This is my former master’s cultivation technique. Master, you can only unlock my seal after you cultivate it. Master, your current cultivation level is simply too low,” the toddler explained.

Leng Ruoxue looked at the jade slip but didn’t know where to start.

“Master, use your divine sense, and you should be able to see it,” the toddler said.

Leng Ruoxue released her divine sense. The moment she touched the jade slip, a majestic voice rang in her ears. “Child, you are here!”

Leng Ruoxue looked at the scenery that suddenly changed again in surprise. Where is this now? She looked around. This is definitely not in the purple bamboo house.

As she pondered, a noble and handsome man in a black and gold robe appeared in front of her.

“Who are you?” Leng Ruoxue’s beautiful eyes looked at the noble man in front of her. This man had a pair of dazzling and bright eyes, as though he could suck people into them.
