

Crazy Wife 73

Chapter 73: Abducting a Family (1)

"Hmph, you have good eyesight!" Charm said proudly. Most spirit beasts would mistake him for a white fox.

Seeing that Leng Ruoxue was the master of the purple-eyed snow fox, the mother white tiger didn't repel her anymore.

"Eat this." Leng Ruoxue hurriedly walked to the mother white tiger's side when she saw that the tiger had lowered her vigilance. She didn't know how to deliver babies, so she could only rely on this tiger itself.

"Thank you." The white tiger opened her mouth and took the pill Leng Ruoxue gave her. The pill melted as soon as it entered her mouth, and a refreshing fragrance refreshed her mind. Moreover, the mother white tiger clearly felt that all the spiritual power consumed in her body had returned, and the pain had lessened considerably. She was full of strength, which was of vital importance to her, who was currently in labor.

About half an hour later, under the efforts of the recovered mother white tiger, three little white tigers were finally born.

Leng Ruoxue was at a loss as she looked at the three little white balls of flesh that weren't even the size of an adult's palm.

"Why aren't they eggs?" Leng Ruoxue asked, a little dumbfounded. Aren't all spirit beasts born from eggs in this world?

Charm looked at his master's confused expression and chuckled. His master looked really cute now.

"Master, spirit beasts can choose whether they want to give live births or not. It's just that giving live births consumes more nutrients from the mother's body, so spirit beasts basically choose to birth eggs," Charm explained. It was clear that this white tiger loved her children very much and was also a great mother to choose to give birth to her own children.

"Oh." So that's why. Leng Ruoxue felt so embarrassed. Fortunately, there was no one else here. Actually, she couldn't be blamed for not knowing because such things weren't recorded in any book.

"Dear!"

The white tiger outside ran in and rushed to his beloved wife's side as if there was no one else around after the danger was averted. The two tigers rubbed against each other affectionately, with only each other in their eyes.

Can these two tigers not be so mushy! Leng Ruoxue was a little speechless. But she saw that his injuries had healed, so Ye Chen and the others must have treated him.

"Xue'er, how did it go?" Ye Chen was the first to enter.

"Beloved Master!" A purple shadow jumped directly into Leng Ruoxue's arms.

“She gave birth to three little tigers,” Leng Ruoxue said somewhat helplessly while caressing the soft fur of Darling in her arms. The two tigers didn’t even care about their children once they saw each other.
