

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 381: New Problem

Arman woke up feeling hurt and dizzy.

He felt pain in his face even with just simple breathing.

That pain didn't even let him stand up and he didn't do so.

He noticed that the whole Arena is silent and felt that he was left alone. But just in case, he extended his spiritual sense and then noticed that someone is here.

He forced himself to sit up and looked at them.

When he noticed that Sam is holding the lightning blade in his hands, he was completely shocked and then he knew what is happening. Even though the lightning blade was obtained and he didn't go through the spiritual battle because of Indra, he still came to know how a spiritual battle works.

He didn't feel safe at all and had a bad premonition as soon as he came to his sense.

But before he could stand up, Philip came to his side and looked at him.

In his current pathetic state, Arman is not a threat at all. But he is still not comfortable letting him near Sam.

He stood in front of Arman and said.

"I don't know why Sam kept you alive all this while, but it might be because he is too bored and frustrated with all the things piling upon him. You might as well be his stress buster. But if you make a single move now, I don't think I can stop myself from killing you. So, stay put."

Arman looked at him and didn't answer, he was about to take something out of his spatial ring, but as soon as the item appeared in his left hand, even before he could use it, he felt a crushing blow on his hand.

It is almost as if it was hit by a huge sledgehammer.

He groaned in pain as he held his arm with the other one and looked at Philip whose leg was on his arm.

"I said not a single move."

Philip said coldly and looked at the thing Arman took out; it is a pill bottle. It turned out to be a healing pill.

But Philip didn't go easy on him. He increased the density of the metal in his leg and the weight increased. Arman felt an overbearing pain.

Philip held the pill bottle in his hand and looked at him.

"Seems like some extremely high-quality pill, I would take them." Only after that did he take his foot off.

Arman had a relieved expression. With the gradually increasing weight on his arm, he felt like cutting it off would have been a better choice. His arm was crushed and bones turned into powder.

But this time, he didn't take out any healing pills.

He didn't want to lose them to Philip. It has only been a few days and he is already at wit's end, if he has to survive for the rest of the month, he has to manage his supplies.

After five more minutes, Sam opened his eyes and the lightning blade in his hands is also glowing. Sam has a victorious smile on his face.

He was experienced in the spiritual battle with the shadow sword, at that time, he fainted from the pressure.

But now, he didn't faint and he felt as strong as ever, except for the slight headache, there is no more damage to his body

Sam felt extremely ecstatic, because now not only did he rob of Arman's mental support, he also gained an information source.

This weapon came from the upper realms, and it is sent by Indra himself. It has been guiding Arman since the time they spent in the thunder god temple.

It should know more about why they are actually here and why are these twelve candidates who possibly came from different worlds put in this world at the same time.

He didn't even look at Arman as he disregarded him completely, he took the Saber with him and left, Philip followed him out.

But he didn't forget to show off his little gain in front of Arman, which made the latter almost go mad at the spot.

The loss of healing pills is nothing compared to the lightning blade, but Philip showing off is nothing short of a crow poking the wound.

After they left, Arman just laid there as he thought about his life.

He started thinking about how he came to this world.

He was a soldier in his previous life, in a world where spiritual energy is not as dense as this place.

He was a soldier of great achievements and got promoted, he became the king's personal guard. No knight in the kingdom was his opponent.

He was at the prime of his life at a young age, he survived the chaotic wars, deadly beasts, and even the strongest soldiers of other kingdoms as he helped the king become an emperor by conquering more land.

But with his adrenaline on raise every day and so full of his achievements, he lost one important thing, the shrewdness he used to have when he was an ordinary soldier.

That time, when he became a soldier, he wanted opportunities and he has to fight for them to gain them from the hands of the rest of the army, he used to shrewd, calculative, and driven by ambition.

After reaching his prime, he lost all of them. With all the rewards he got, his ambition turned into vanity and his shrewdness turned to arrogance.

These changes made him unable to survive the politics of the empire and he was dead before he realized what went wrong.

He has so many regrets when he died, he wanted to be the greatest warrior in the world, but he died before he could achieve it.

In his dying breath, he was thinking about what has changed and realized how foolish he was, he didn't have any plans of gaining more authority, he only wanted to gain more strength and battle more to achieve what he wants.

But the people didn't think so, they just labeled him as a power-hungry person and that is the reason he was dead.

In his last breath, he suddenly felt that strength doesn't mean anything if he doesn't have authority. He could take on the king ten times over, but he was still killed because the king felt that he is a threat.

He only had one thought, if he ever had another chance, he would gain the strength and use it to gain authority.

He was ecstatic that the chance came as soon as he wished, Indra appeared before him and sent him to this place.

He was completely shocked and surprised at the same time ecstatic when he found out that he is a part of a large organization and his main goal in this world became to be the leader of that organization and one could argue that he achieved half of it.

Apart from Arthur, he became the most favorable candidate to become the next head.

He developed and he entered the first palace of inheritance and the first happened to be Indra's inheritance, he doesn't know why Indra a god above all gave him this chance.

But he didn't care at all, he liked this chance and the opportunity along with the gains from the palace of inheritance.

But that Saber spirit egged him to get that thunder prison and everything went sideways.

His biggest regret is messing with Sam.

Sam is against everything he believed in. All he believed in is authority. But Sam never batted an eyelid for that.

He defied the most authoritative figures, even if Arman got the authority he wanted and became the head of the thunder god temple, he wouldn't dare to walk in the beast faction alone.

But Sam as a grand realm cultivator not only made it, he kicked the ass of the beast faction.

Then he knew that he is fucked up. He shouldn't have been too greedy. All this while, just because he was selected by a god, he felt that he is the best in the world.

But Sam shoved his head into reality. He realized he almost made the same mistake again.

As these thoughts came over to his mind, he just went to sleep without even healing himself.

Meanwhile, Sam who went back to his place didn't interrogate the Saber.

Because, today the next big problem which could probably take precedence to all his problems, because he reached the peak of his cultivation realm and his spiritual energy is acting up.

He was in the peak of the grand realm for a long time and with all the things piling up, he forgot to find the beast for the next breakthrough.

He is feeling a piercing headache.

After some thought, he made a visit to Zeke and asked.

"I need to go to the central continent. Is there any way?"

Zeke was completely stunned. He calmed down and said.

"The central continent is the most dangerous place to go into. If I may ask why do you want to go there?"

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 382: Sanjays state

Sam didn't know if he should answer this question, but considering the fact that the Space gate association has traveled far and wide, he could use some help.

"I need to find a beast."

"A beast?"

"I am looking for a beast companion with a rare bloodline, it would be great if the beast has a unique ability."

Zeke went silent, he didn't know why Sam would want this, but he felt that this is bizarre.

"Do you need this urgently?"

"Yes."

Zeke really wanted to ask why, but he didn't dare to. He knows his boundaries.

He does have some information, but it is not a positive one. He hesitated before explaining.

"I will be honest with you, in my opinion, it is absolutely not a good idea to go to the central continent at this moment, it is better if you don't go there until you become a Pre-transcendent level cultivator.

As for the beasts you want, it is extremely difficult to get a hold of them.

In the central continent, the beasts you can easily spot in the outer boundaries are just common beasts that could be found in any other empire. As for the beasts with a rare bloodline, they don't stay alone, they actually live in tribes as they are lead, by the beasts at Consummate realm, which is Level-9.

They have intelligence on par with humans and have created a society amongst themselves.

There is no way for you to steal a beast. It would be a disaster if they knew that a human did something like that. This might even start a war between humans and beasts."

Sam didn't reply immediately, he is extremely conflicted, he has enough enemies, at this moment if he was spotted in the Central continent, the major powers couldn't be happier. They would kill him at first sight at this opportunity.

But he cannot stay in this Grand realm for a long time, he has to find a beast to make a contract.

What Zeke said is right though, he has to find another way. He doesn't want to waste his chance and make a contract with a bad bloodline. His beasts are at the top of their game and the best in the world, it is hard to find a match for them even in the upper realms, he wouldn't want to lose that.

Sam left disappointed and Zeke is also thinking of how to find a viable solution for Sam.

But what both of them don't know is someone is desperately trying to get into Sam's good books and could possibly solve his problem.

It is none other than Sai.

After the meeting, he walked out from, about the Parks and the partnership. He is extremely busy at this moment.

After Sam made a mess in the Beast faction, he has to clean up after it, but Old One started making a mess, which he has to involve even more.

After the war is over, he is trying to stabilize the faction.

But after this meeting, there is a new mess in the whole faction.

It is about the parks.

The professional towers in the Beast faction spread the word within the faction to bring trouble for Sai.

The reason is simple.

They are greedy. They don't want to let go of the six empires under the Beast faction. They don't want to lose that enormous business.

So, they wanted to use the opinion of other elders and grand elders to pressure him into agreeing.

Sai is having a headache. These guys just don't learn a lesson.

That is what he understood when he tried to explain why he rejected the partnership.

Sam just fucked them up like a bunch of bitches almost every person who tailed him on that day, but now they are just going crazy over the park which is being created with the plans stolen from Sam.

He just couldn't go through their heads.

Sai has a hunch. That is Sam might already know everything about the stolen plans and he wouldn't just sit there is watching. That leads to only one scenario where he is only waiting for a chance.

He so desperately wants to inform Sam if he didn't know already. From what Sam said, he will be expanding the business to other empires, so he would know sooner or later.

Sai just wanted to separate himself from this whole endeavor.

There is also another reason for him to meet Sam and that is to make a request. He wants to make a request to Sam so that he would spare the Beast faction when he takes revenge on Sravan.

He has to draw a hard line between them.

At this moment, Sravan is still in bed.

Sravan has taken a lot of damage from that day. He was completely rammed with the missiles, then he inhaled a crapload of poisonous gas, the poison can kill a Nascent and a Pre-transcendent if they inhaled it, even though, it is anesthetic.

As a Consummate realm cultivator, his body is trying to reject the poisons, but the attack of the light beam is not something that could be taken lightly.

Apart from the hole that was in the chest, the rest of the body is almost like barbequed meat with coated herbs.

He still didn't wake up till now, Sai although doesn't want to involve himself, couldn't just leave him to die at this moment.

Sravan is an asset of the Beast faction and the faction-head has to protect the assets of the faction.

At least, if it doesn't come to a point where Sam is holding a blade to their neck, he would try his best to save Sravan.

But on the day with the blade on their necks, he needs Sam to leave the faction alone and don't cause any collateral damage.

For that, he has to make a visit to Sam's city, but with his partnership breakout, the thunder god temple wouldn't let him go using their Space gates.

Because they are still pretty sure that Sam doesn't know about the park.

They don't want Sai to sabotage this.

So, Sai came to seek help from the Space gate association.

He went to the Space gate association as it is connected to all the major powers with Space gates. He knew that there might be a way for them to send him, to that place. But he didn't expect to meet with rejection.

The reason being, that they cannot send him through their gate if he is not a Space element user. Space gate association has ways to access all the Space gates in the world from their headquarters, but they can only send the Space element users that way. Normal people cannot go like that.

Sai was disappointed and went back.

But what he doesn't know is the news soon reached Sam's city.

The Space gate association are trying to get into Sam's good books there is no way they would lose an opportunity to warn Sam that a Consummate realm cultivator is looking for ways to meet him. Added with the fact that Sam had a feud with beast faction, they are pretty sure that it is not a visit with good intentions.

Zeke reached out to Sam to give the information and Sam went into deep thought. He doesn't know what Sai wanted from him. He thanked Zeke and sent him off.

Sam doesn't know that the answer for that will come to him sooner than he thought.

Sai went to meet Sanjay.

Sanjay was barely alive at the end of the battle. Sam was so lost in the adrenaline rush of the battle and didn't think of using his poison.

Even if the slightest bit of hydra's venom entered Sanjay's system when he was that injured, he would have died.

But Since that day, Sanjay was never the same person. He didn't even wake up for two months. Almost the same time Sam was in a coma. But they are out cold for wholly different reasons.

Even after that Sanjay didn't come out of his room. He is completely broken inside. All this while he was on the top of the world at least when considering the people at the same level. He dared to say that no youngster in any major power can compete with him.

There is a certain level of importance attached to him in the Beast faction that no heir of the major power gets. He doesn't participate in any form of competition, because he doesn't need approval or the opportunity that comes with it.

He tried to drag Sam to the Beast faction to find some sort of competition for himself as he felt his growth was capped. But what happened is his long-lost cousin kicked his ass squarely.

Now there was a shadow in his mind and he is even shivering when he picked up his chain sickles, forget about growth, Sanjay lost all his will to fight, the damage is so hard that he is now a useless cultivator at Peak stage Grand realm without any battle strength left.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 383: Stephens moves

Sanjay is currently sleeping on his bed, but there is not hint of peace on his face. He is sweating a lot and seemed to be in a bad dream, in a few seconds he woke up abruptly and his spiritual energy was out of control, the bed broke and the surroundings are frozen.

Sai knocked on the door exactly at this moment.

"Come in."

Sanjay steadied himself and started cleaning up the mess.

When Sai came in, he was not surprised by the sight. Because, this is the normal occurrence for a while.

"How are you feeling now?"

"The Same." Sanjay's response is so dry with no energy.

"I want you to do something for me." Sanjay stopped his actions and looked at him.

"I can't do anything at this moment. I am even losing the control over my spiritual energy."

"You don't have to fight."

Sanjay thought for a moment and asked. "What is it?"

"I want you to go to Sam's city."

Sanjay was shocked, as soon as he heard the name his hands started shivering. He doesn't know, but the name itself became a bane for him. He started sweating profusely and almost shivered.

Sai didn't try to help Sanjay get out of this condition; he was hoping he would do so himself.

Because this might be Sanjay's biggest obstacle in life. Since, Sanjay's birth they are actually extremely ecstatic because there was a heavenly phenomenon on that day, they believed that he would be a great Beast warrior.

As soon as he awakened, he was the only one who was able to get the approval of a frost flood dragon. Even from the previous generations, they have ties with the flood dragon tribe and there are all kinds of flood dragons there, many strong warriors tried to get their approval but to no avail.

Sanjay was the only one who got the approval and was able to get a flood dragon's cub as his beast companion.

From then on, he broke records. He was the best disciple after that one person who almost destroyed the beast faction.

The higher-ups are ecstatic, but now they are treating him like a burden.

One fight is all it took for him to change his position at the top of the world to the bottom of the abyss.

Sam left a shadow of himself in Sanjay's mind and heart. If Sanjay overcomes this shadow, he will have a new life ahead, if not then he would remain like this forever.

Sai looked at Sanjay until he calmed down and asked.

"Why are you sending me there?"

"You need to make a deal with Sam."

"Why would he make a deal with me? I would be dead before I even get a chance to talk to him. Any of his friends and even subordinates can kill me."

"That is the reason I am sending you."

"To offer me as a sacrifice?"

"Nope, to show our sincerity. I have to show that we mean no enmity but sincere in cooperation. You might be in your vulnerable state at the moment, but in his opinion you still the same authority as future heir in the beast faction.

If there was a possibility, I would have gone there by myself, but there are some problems that cropped up."

With that he went on and started explaining about the whole Park partnership and his current stand on the matter. After explaining everything, he said.

"That is why, we have to make a point that we are not involved in any of this. Sam might not be a single person and if contended he wouldn't be able to do anything against all the powers, but the first power to make a move on him will definitely suffer and the worst part is, we cannot even make a move on him when he is in the Sam's city.

In fact, it is more beneficial for the balance of powers if he is eliminated, as much as I am against it, it is most straightforward and suitable option, because once he had a chance to grow, things are going to be messy.

But eliminating is impossible, so he is definitely growing. So, it is better for us draw a line before he grows and retaliates. Get ready, I don't have any other option."

He gave a long speech before leaving.

Sanjay is still sitting in his chair with a clouded mind. He doesn't want to go to Sam's city no matter what.

If possible, he doesn't even want to hear Sam's name for the rest of the life. But the situations are forcing him to face his worst fear.

Sai went back to the Space gate association to get what he needs.

The Coordinates token. This is the same token Sam used to visit the Beast faction. They are used in One-way Space gates to reach a certain place.

Space gate association is the only one who can provide these tokens and also the returning scrolls which Sanjay used at that moment.

Sai, who thought that the whole process would be smooth sailing didn't expect to meet with an obstacle.

The Old man Stephen came to meet him and asked.

"May I know why you are meeting with Sam?"

Sai frowned and said. "Why do you care?"

"We don't want to risk it. We also heard what Sam capable of and he is not an enemy we would like to make at the moment. We are already afraid that he might know that we are the ones who arranged the transportation means to the youngsters of the major powers earlier. We don't want his retaliation."

Sai was silent, in fact he was dumbfounded. He didn't expect that even the Space gate association would be afraid of Sam.

But what he doesn't know is, Stephen is just trying to fish some information. He just wanted to get his hands of this info so that he can sell this as a favour to Sam.

Actually, there is no way that he could stop Sai if he really wants the token. So, he is only trying his luck.

Sai who didn't know anything actually told the truth. He just said everything without hiding anything.

Stephen who heard the news was surprised and his brain is running at full speed.

Because, he recently got the news from Zeke that Sam wants a beast with a rare bloodline and now beast faction wants to make peace with him.

This is the best-case scenario.

But he didn't reveal the information immediately. He felt that he has to find a way to make use of this situation to the maximum. So, after taking the token order from Sai, he sent the latter off and travelled to the western continent immediately.

He met with Sam and explained the situation in his own way.

"I heard that you want a beast of rare bloodline, I think I found a way to solve the situation."

"Really?" Sam was intrigued.

"Yes, Sai is looking for ways to make it up with you. He just wants to draw a line between your revenge with Sravan and the beast faction. Beast faction, is the power which can solve your problem as they have connections with beast tribes in the central continent.

Most of their beasts came from those tribes, at least those of the core members. So, they can solve your problem easily. I have already thought of a solution."

"Please do tell."

"Although, we don't have ways to let Sai come without the thunder god temple's space gates, we do ways to send any other person who is below Nascent stage.

If you want, I can make sure that Beast faction knows about your requirement and they will use their elite juniors to send the beast here. You can also make some demands regarding what you want from the Beast faction if you are willing to make peace, you can just use the beast to let them get a chance to negotiate with you."

Sam looked at Stephen to see if he trying to play any tricks.

What he said sounded feasible.

But he is still a bit skeptical about it. Since, he is not afraid of anyone entering the city, Sam wanted to give it a try.

"Okay then, give it a shot. I will return the favour. Maybe you might want some products of mine."

"No need. No need at all. It is just a small favour. You brought us such a large business; you don't have to pay anything."

After leaving Sam's city, Stephen immediately went to the Beast faction.

He didn't even stop to take a break.

He met with Sai and said.

"I got some new information, which you might like. Sam is looking for a beast with a rare bloodline and he seemed to prefer a beast using an elemental energy other than what he already has.

I got the information from the Space gate inspectors in western continent. I think you can get a chance to talk to him, if you can give him what he wants."

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 384: Tempest Valley

Sai was surprised. He didn't expect that Sam needs a beast. He felt that this is his chance. He can at least use this as a chip to score a conversation with Sam.

After all, he wasn't sure that Sam would make a conversation with Sanjay, even if he was sent there.

Sanjay could get killed even before he gets a chance. Their enmity looked pretty serious in the beast faction.

Sai came out of his thoughts and said.

"Thanks for the information, is there any way that I can repay you?"

Stephen started thinking whether he should take materialistic advantage of the situation or not and after a few seconds, Stephen said.

"I don't need anything. I just hope you believe us. Association is under a lot of pressure since Old One's incident. That's all I could ask for."

He got up and left right after speaking. He decided that it would be better if he didn't try to fleece the beast faction. He might as well forge a good relationship with them. The major powers will go ballistic when they come to know about Sam's plans and there is a high chance that they might try to take it out on the space gate association.

It would be a plus point if they have a major staying neutral at least.

Stephen gave the coordinates token and the returning scroll before leaving.

Sai took both the items and excitedly went out. First, he gave both of them to Sanjay and went to Space gates to go to the central continent.

Whatever Stephen said to Sam is exactly right. There are many beast tribes he had connections with and there is a layer of personal connection with him above the connection he obtained due to the faction.

He dealt with them so many times and he brought the young prodigies of the faction many times to meet them to get their beast companions.

The task is easy for him.

But he was stumped when he just reached the central continent.

He was confused about which beast he has to take and remembered Stephen's words.

He has to find a beast that has an element other than what Sam has.

He started recalling from the information he has on Sam on what elements Sam uses and then came a shock.

Sam's go-to element is mostly fire and wind. Apart from that, he can use the light element. From the info, he gained he was said to be a water element user also. Apart from that at the meeting, they saw him using the dark element as he caught the spirit that was being enchanted to his robe.

Sam is using five elements.

All this while, the major powers and the heads of the major powers are too focused too much on Sam's achievements and his prowess they completely ignored the thing about the element he used and the cultivation technique he cultivated.

Now that he thought about it, he is even wondering why Sam even wants a beast and that too why he needs a beast that doesn't have an element that he would use.

He was extremely puzzled and curious.

He was also surprised at the fact that the heads and the Grand elders of this many major powers chose to ignore such valuable information.

How can Sam even wield that many elements? He felt that he has to conduct a thorough investigation of the matter.

But currently, he still has to finish what he came here for. He felt that he should get Sam a beast that could even be a symbol of pride. A beast that cannot be obtained by normal means. Something only him, Sai can get.

After some time he decided to use one of his long-lasting connections and started making his way there.

He moved towards one of the dangerous locations that were discovered in the central continent.

That place is called the Tempest valley.

It is a valley where lightning strikes all over the year.

No one, not even a consummate realm cultivator can come to this place. Even the head of the thunder god temple, who is a lightning user will shit his pants with the concentration of the lightning at the center of the valley.

The most important problem is that the color of the lightning. It is Silvery white. Almost white. The lighting intensity is far more than what the purple and blue lightning they saw until now.

The major powers discovered this place for the obvious attention the lightning gathers and some of them even sent people to investigate. The thunder god temple sent most people there and also that is a major power that lost most people there.

It was discovered when the current heads are still young and many of them entered the valley at that time.

Sai is obviously one of them. And he was one of the people who reached the center of the valley and came out alive.

In fact, one of only two people. Many people would think that he is some kind of great fighter, but no. He was carried. Carried by one of the strongest people he ever has known.

Sam's father. In fact, the connection he is using currently also belongs to Sam's father.

Sam's father is a lightning element user. Which the rest of the world doesn't know until he showed his rage on the beast faction.

Until then he only used a sword and a Fanged wolf as his pet. Fanged wolf one of the creatures with the strongest bloodlines on the planet.

Everyone thought that it was his contracted beast as a beast warrior.

But only Sai knew that it is not true. That wolf is just his pet, his contracted beast is something else. Even on that day, he didn't reveal his beast because it didn't stay with him in the last days of his life.

Sai felt his vision turning blurry. He shook his head and deleted his thoughts and walked inside the valley.

He took out small strands of white hair and the lightning didn't strike him. He stepped forward without any restrictions.

But just before he was about to enter the center of the valley, an old voice halted him in his tracks.

"Why are you here kid? I remember saying that the people from your faction are not welcomed here. Seems like you don't take things seriously or do you think that I wouldn't hold my end of the word."

Sai trembled at the aura that was coming from the center, he could see the faint silhouette of the beast within the dense lightning.

That's right, it is the beast that is talking. But not all the beasts at the consummate realm can speak. From what Sai know, the creature that is in the center of the lightning is the strongest creature on the planet and its cultivation is beyond the consummate realm.

"I have something to ask?" Sai replied carefully.

The Old voice snorted and replied.

"There is nothing I want to talk to you pr any of the faction members for that matter. Don't piss me off. It is better if you leave now or I would really level your faction."

Sai took a deep breath, the other party is not willing to listen to whatever he has to say, so he has to think of another option.

After some thought, he took out a few recording crystals and started showing the videos.

"Why are you not mov.."

The old voice once again reminded him to move but stopped in the middle as he saw the first video clip.

It is the clip of Sam and his battles.

There are many videos in them, regarding the battles he had in former Orion and it even included the battle with Sanjay at the beast faction.

Sai waited until the videos are over and said.

"His son."

"What is his name? Where does he live? How old is he?" The Old voice sounded like a long lost relative.

Sai sat down on the ground and started explaining everything he knew about Sam.

The beast felt like a grandparent as it heard all about Sam's journey and showed all kinds of emotional reactions.

He was angry when he heard Sam was being suppressed, he was ecstatic when heard about Sam beating the crap out of his peers. He is brimming with pride when he heard about Sam killing Old One and almost killing Sravan.

He was outraged when he heard Sam was threatened by the major powers and he was way over his head when he heard that Sam threatened them in return.

The best part is when he heard about Sam ripping the beast faction apart.

The beast surprisingly showed more emotions towards Sam, than any other person on the planet has ever done.

Sam came to this world alone and apart from the beasts and his three friends, there is no one who would show any form of affection, even the subordinates only show respect.

Sai felt like Sam would be happy to know that someone is showing familial love towards him.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 385: Sanjays Visit

Sai explained everything that he knew about Sam and all his endeavors.

The Old beast didn't stop him and listened carefully. His voice turned a bit mellow.

"Are you here, just to show this to me?" The beast asked Sai after the talk.

"No. I am here because Sam needs something. I want to draw a line with his revenge on Sravan and the faction. I don't think we can handle his retaliation even if there is only some collateral damage. I want a chance to talk to him.

I heard that he needs a beast to be his companion and particularly a beast with an element he is not able to use.

That's why I came here."

"Hmph. So, you are here just to save your ass."

"You could say so."

The beast went silent.

To be honest he doesn't want to help out the beast faction. But if the beast is for Sam, then he cannot refuse.

"I will help you out, on one condition. You have to bring Sam here to meet me."

"I cannot make any promises, Sam wouldn't believe me. In his opinion, all the major powers are his enemies."

"I don't care, that is your problem."

"I will try my best."

With that and small silhouette walked out of the dense lightning revealing its figure. It is a wolf with white fur. The wolf has blue eyes and looked majestic. Even though, the beast looked small when coming out of the lightning. It is as big as ten times the normal wolf.

"My direct descendant of this generation, coincidentally he is also at the peak of Level-5 waiting for a breakthrough to level-6. They are of the same strengths and I think they will get along.

Sai looked at the wolf and placed a Beast pouch in front of it. The wolf turned back and started exchanging some howls with the old beasts, after some time, the wolf disappeared and entered the beast pouch.

"If something happens to Sam, do not blame me. His father asked for a promise from our tribe not to do anything to the beast faction. Because, he was afraid that the legacy of his ancestors would be destroyed, that is the only reason we didn't do anything even though he was dead. My son is still quite angry about this and he might even kill you if he was present here.

So, if even a strand of Sam's hair is harmed, then I will let my son loose. I would like to see how far humanity has come on this desolate planet."

With that, a small grunt could be heard and before he knew it, Sai is already outside the valley. As he tumbled and rolled backward until he crashed into a rock.

His whole body trembled at the display of strength. That small grunt released a pure force of spiritual energy that could throw a consummate realm cultivator like him out of the valley which is many kilometers long.

Sai picked himself up and walked away. He looked at the valley one last time before leaving.

He arrived at the beast faction by night.

The next day, Sanjay held a beast pouch and the coordinates token and entered the one-way Space gate.

Sai is looking at him as he took a deep breath before activating the formation.

Nobody in the beast faction knows about this trip. That is also the reason why Sai did all the tasks like visiting the Space gate association all by himself. If the Grand elder and the elders know about this, the situation would not be ideal.

Sanjay closed his eyes as went underwent the space gate transportation.

When he opened his eyes, he has an urge to throw up, due to his lack of control over spiritual energy, he cannot completely withstand the effect of the space gate.

He tried his best to fight his urge but to no avail.

After throwing up until only bile was left in his belly, he looked up and saw that he is very near the city gates, it is only a two-minute walk even for a normal person.

He walked towards the city and entered it without any trouble.

The operations of the city came back to normal.

After he entered the city, he walked towards the tallest building and that is where he was stopped, the person in the reception made sure that no one enters the place smoothly.

He called Philip and informed him that a person named Sanjay wants to meet Sam.

After five minutes, the receptionist led Sanjay to a meeting room, where Sam is already present with Philip and Jack sitting beside him.

Sam gestured Sanjay to sit down. He is keenly noticing any faint movements from Sanjay because among his peers, he is the toughest opponent Sam has ever faced.

But what he noticed made Sam think differently.

Sanjay's body which oozed confidence when capturing Watt and challenging Sam was nowhere to be seen.

His shoulders are slouched, his eyes are dull, his breath is uneven. His body trembled slightly as soon as he saw Sam.

Sam came to one conclusion; Sanjay is a dead snake at this moment. He is no threat, rather he is meat on the chopping block.

Sam can kill him anytime he wants. He wanted to laugh out loud. The best talent of all major powers is now a waste of space. This change is remarkable.

Sanjay placed the beast pouch on the table and said.

"This is a present from the beast faction. The faction-head wanted to send a message that the major powers are trying to copy your park and they already got the design plans in their hands, the three professional associations are the ones who are in charge of the project and they are taking the lead in building parks in all the empires.

We don't know who sold out your designs, but the faction head wanted to inform you that the beast faction is not taking part in this project"

Sam raised an eyebrow. He already regarded all the major powers as his enemies because they would be part of this. He didn't expect that the beast faction, not only didn't participate, they are kind enough to inform the issue, Sam.

"May I know the reason?"

Sanjay trembled when he heard Sam's voice.

He closed his eyes and clenched his fists as he fought his urge to run away from here. He said with most difficulty.

"Although the project is profitable, faction-head felt that it is unethical to work on something that belongs to us and he has a feeling that something that was stolen from you will not have a good ending."

Sam chuckled, he believed the second reason should be the main reason or the only reason.

As he felt that the meeting was over, Sanjay spoke again.

"I have other requests on behalf of the beast faction."

"Speak."

"We want to draw a line between your enmity with Sravan and the faction. We don't want to suffer because of your revenge on him."

"That's funny. Last time I remembered your faction head is desperate to save him when I was about to kill him."

"We know, that would be the last time we are saving him. That is what faction owed Sravan. From now on, we will not butt in between you two."

"Don't you think it is quite hypocritical of you to say that? You already interfered and you want to leave just like that? Do you think I am your bitch and you can come and go as you please?"

Sanjay had cold sweat all over as Sam's voice grew colder and colder.

"We can negotiate about what you want to leave us out of this situation. What you said is right? So, we are ready to pay a price to leave."

"You are not suitable to make a decision on this matter, I need to meet someone with authority."

Sam didn't want to discuss it with Sanjay, a dead snake. He has to talk to Sai about this.

Sanjay took a deep breath and said.

"There is one more thing. Faction-head said there is someone who wants to meet you and that someone is extremely close kin to your father, although they are not related by blood, they are extremely close and he is like a grandfather to you. Please consider meeting him.

This way, you can also meet with the faction head and negotiate the deal. It is difficult for us to use the thunder god temple's gate to come here."

With that, Sanjay stood up and said. "I will take my leave."

Sam didn't stop him.

Philip and Jack are looking at Sanjay and are a bit amused. They didn't see the battle between Sam and Sanjay, so they are curious to see who is the person that pushed Sam to his limits.

But they are disappointed, he is nothing like what they imagined him to be.

He is like a weak person looking for an escape from a bully.

"What's wrong with him?"

Philip asked him in confusion.

Sam smiled a little and explained.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 386: Going to central continent

Sam explained what Sanjay's current mental state is which left both Philip and Jack completely dumbfounded.

They didn't see the battle, but now they are regretting it, what kind of lesson did Sam teach in that battle that Sanjay became like this?

After explaining them, Sam left, he has to check the beast as soon as he can.

He entered his room and let the beast out.

As soon as he saw the large white wolf, he was stunned.

His mouth was opened wide and his eyes almost popped out of their sockets, there are small silver lightning crackling all around the wolf.

"Raiju?"

Sam said somewhat doubtfully.

[I didn't think this guy will be able to recognize me, not bad. At least, I am not stuck with some peasant.]

Sam came to his senses as soon as he heard the growls of the beast.

The beast probably doesn't know that he can understand the beast tongue.

"Not only do I know about you, I know that you are not supposed to exist in this world. How did you even get here?"

Sam asked as he placed his hand on the beast.

He is checking the bloodline concentration of the beast and when he noticed the highly pure bloodline, with very minute impurities, he was extremely surprised.

The beast is shocked by this.

Sam knew of this Raiju in two ways. The first one is that when he studied the beast when he was still in his past life. It is a beast of Japanese mythology that was formed because of the lightning and the pet of the thunder god Raijin.

But that mythology didn't describe the beast clearly and there are even depictions that the beast looked like a wolf, cat, hound, and even dog. With these many depictions, there is no proper interpretation of the beast's figure.

But after he came here, he learned from the bestiary that the beast is actually a wolf.

The one thing that shocked him is that these beasts are not supposed to be in this realm at all. They belong in the same realm as Yanwu and Mia.

He is already troubled by the fact that he was able to meet Mia in a mortal realm, but now here comes another beast and it was even given by the beast faction.

He wondered if these beasts are faction's secret weapons. Because he believed that a Raiju army can wreak havoc anywhere in this whole world.

[You can understand beast tongue?] This time, the wolf's tone was full of surprise.

"That didn't answer my question."

[For that, you have to answer my grandfather. I was born and brought up in this world. Even though, I didn't come out of that valley.]

"Your grandfather?"

[Yes, does that guy from beast faction didn't explain it to you? My grandfather is the one that wants to meet you.]

"My father's kin are the beasts?"

Sam was surprised again

[We are not related by blood, but from what my grandfather said, your father is a great son anyone could ask for. I heard many stories. Grandfather said, if you want to hear them you should meet him.]

"How strong is your grandfather?"

[Very strong. When he sneezes half of the planet will go through a thunderstorm.]

"So, you are here because your grandfather and my father are close?"

[Not only my grandfather, my father, mother everyone in my tribe is close to your father. But your father died before I was born.]

"So, your grandfather wants to meet me?"

[Yes.]

"How do I meet him?"

[That person from the beast faction can take you there.]

Sam went into deep thought; he has to decide whether it is a good idea to meet that beast.

But he is thinking whether it is a trap planned by Sai.

His gut feeling is telling him that it is not a trap as Sai is extremely reluctant to fight it out with him since the start.

The main concern of Sam is the grandfather that this beast is talking about.

Raiju is an extremely high-level beast. If this grandfather beast is someone like Mia's mother or something like that or a beast that is living on this land just for its leave or something, then Sam would be in big trouble.

He can manipulate human minds. He can create fear and halt the major powers and their heads to stop thinking about attacking him.

But the beast such as Raiju, and a high-level one at that don't take a shit. Sam is confident in taking three consummate realm cultivators when he uses the city, but if he has to take the Raiju at the same level.

One beast is enough to level the city down. It may die in the end, but the next second, Sam is meat on the chopping board for the rest of the world.

And why is he afraid that he would piss the beast off?

Because he is not real Sam. The people in this world might not realize this, but if this beast even in the future realizes this, he would be in big trouble.

He has a long way to become consummate. Above all, Sam felt like it is beneath him to use someone's emotional attachment to someone else to his advantage.

After some push and pull, he decided to meet with this grandfather.

But before that, he has to find a bargaining chip to at least try and save his ass.

He made some arrangements and a few minutes later, he is in the middle of refining the bloodline of the Raiju.

Sam must say that Raiju has the purest bloodline with the least impurities. Except for Yanwu and Mia.

The purification process is actually quite simple.

That is one of the reasons why he is so surprised.

After the refinement is complete, the fur of the beast changed a bit. The fur looked like lightning sparks, it is straight and has that bright and spiky sheen.

Sam didn't sign the contract with him and to be honest, he didn't dare to until the whole situation was explained and settled.

He very much wants this Raiju to be a part of his group, but not like this, he will try and see if he can get his Raiju himself.

After that, Sam left to meet Sanjay, he didn't want to waste time anymore.

Sam sent Sanjay off through the returning scrolls with the message that he would be visiting the Beast faction in a few minutes.

Then he went to meet Zeke, who can send Sam to the Space gate association, with a returning scroll from which, he can go to Beast faction using normal Space gate.

After reaching the beast faction.

Sai is already waiting for him at that place.

Both of them only nodded at each other in the form of a greeting and went to a meeting room.

"We will discuss the matter first and then we can go to meet them," Sai said as they sat down.

"Sure."

"What do you want to leave the beast faction alone?"

"A trade relationship."

"Trade?"

"Yes. Even as we speak, my plan to expand my business to other empires is already being executed and that includes your empires too.

Since we now have a chance, I will propose a partnership. I will be developing my business in all the empires under the beast faction and offer you a partnership of five percent in the whole venture, in exchange for the security.

The empire, authorities, governments, locals. Your responsibility is to guard my business against everything and also allocate the necessary lands.

Apart from that, we will have a trade agreement with the beast faction directly. I will be needing some beast cubs and I will trade them with the beast faction in exchange for products. Not any products, I will be the personal artisan and any beast faction member can contact me to make a weapon.

One weapon for one beast each. Both of the same level.

If you are okay with this deal, then you guys are safe. I will only take that guy's head."

Sam explained everything in a single breath.

Sai was stumped. He expected Sam to fleece him directly, but he is talking deals. Although, the deals are a little advantageous to Sam, at least it is better than fleece.

He only thought for a little while, before agreeing.

"Deal."

They shook hands and Sam said.

"My people will be in contact with you, we will meet in the kali empire under you for all our meetings. I have my ways to get there. So, you better send a representative there. The first meeting will be in two weeks.

They will explain the details of the construction plan. Make sure that you don't have any information leaks and it will be better if you don't let my name out. Just inform the rest of the major powers that your faction has their own research results on the parks and you are doing your own thing."

Sam finished the explanations and stood up, both of them walked towards the Space gates and went to the central continent.

"We have to go by foot, beasts will attract too much attention," Sai said.

"Sure." But Sam took out Harbinger the next second.

When Sai looked at him, he said with a shrug.

"I don't like walking."

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 387: Meeting

Sam and Sai arrived at the tempest valley in a few hours. Sai initially felt that he has to walk slower because of Sam, but it turned out to be another way around. Although Sam wouldn't be able to beat his top speed, he is as fast as Pre-transcendent on the Harbinger.

He can vaguely see that it is not his top speed.

After reaching the tempest valley, Sam stored his harbinger and stood there with Sai.

"It is better to let the beast out," Sai said and Sam let the Raiju out.

Sai was a bit surprised when he saw the beast. There is some change which he can put his finger on. But he is sure that there is something that changed with this beast.

He took out the white fur just in case and all three of them started walking inside.

When they reached the vicinities of the central area with the most lightning, Sai said.

"Sam is here."

In fact, his words aren't necessary. What he doesn't know is that the gigantic Raiju behind the lightning is already looking at Sam after they entered the valley.

It is just too lost in that face, that it didn't talk anything. The beast is all too familiar with that face. The first person to cross this valley and enter its core without dying that too, when he is just a Nascent stage cultivator.

He has seen that youth grow into a fine young man with an excellent battle prowess.

The Raiju let his very own son form a beast contract with him. After all, there are only a few people who can tame a Raiju. That is a beast which is a manifestation of pride. They are almost as arrogant as dragons.

Even in the upper realms, not all gods could tame a Raiju. There are many instances when the beast chose to commit suicide than submit.

But this powerful beast, let its direct descendant be a contract pet with a human.

One can understand their bond.

There is only one person in the world who is the witness of their relationship and that is Sai. He doesn't know why Sam's father left his Raiju in this valley before the battle. But if they were together, he couldn't guarantee the survival of the beast faction past that day.

"Sam. You look so much like him."

Sam heard the Old voice and was shocked. He didn't expect that this beast has the ability to speak.

"Don't be surprised. Your father and I had a great relationship. He is such a great person that the heavens couldn't stand him and took him away with jealousy."

Sam didn't know how to reply. He looked at Sai and said. "Can you wait outside?"

He has somethings to say to this beast, but he couldn't say that with Sai present.

Sai nodded and was ready to leave. He was already prepared for this, but he thought that the beast would be the one to ask him to leave.

While Sam is looking at Sai's receding figure, the old beast is sniffing something and there is a frown on the beast's face.

After Sai left, Sam finally turned around and the beast said.

"You have a smell on you, that shouldn't exist in this world."

Sam smiled. His expectations are right. This beast is not from this world. It is from the upper realms. As for the smell the beast was talking about, it is the smell of Yanwu and the rest.

Only at this moment, did the Old beast look at his grandson and the frown turned into astonishment.

"Why did his bloodline become pure? What did you do?"

"Bloodline Refinement," Sam replied. This is the first thing he ever said to the beast.

"That is not possible. Bloodline refinement doesn't exist in this world. It is a higher-level technique."

"You are right. Bloodline refinement doesn't exist in this world and so does these." With that, he let out the beasts. Yanwu, Sky, Mia, and Shadow mouse appeared in front of them followed by Golden Ape.

The Old beast was shocked.

It didn't expect that he would see these beasts, he didn't understand why they are here. They are beasts that should roam in the upper layer of the heavens.

But now, he has seen them in this mortal plane.

"How?" The beast asked in astonishment.

Sam took a deep breath and said.

"I am not his son." His words shocked both the beasts.

"What do you mean? I can clearly smell his bloodline. You are his son."

Sam pursed his lips for a second and decided to come clean. He doesn't want an enemy of this level. No matter how arrogant Sam might be, he still knew his worth. With his observation, Sam can see more than what meets the eye.

If his guess is right, the beast here is trapped. Or rather imprisoned. The constant lightning is a form of suppression. But that lightning although a suppression is also helping the beast grow. It is also feeding on the lightning.

He doesn't know if the beast could move out of this valley. But if it could, the lightning would follow. Even before the beast could attack half of the empire would be destroyed just with this lightning.

"This body indeed belongs to Sam. But he died five years ago. I, which means my soul doesn't belong to this world. An entity named Ling Tian captured my soul after my previous death and placed me in this body.

I merged with Sam's memories and living his life as Sam ever since. The arts that I acquired are a result of the knowledge that the entity gave me which includes the bloodline refinement.

Currently, I am Sam and he is me."

The beast went silent. Not just that beast there are some other beasts who are listening in on the conversation.

Sam couldn't see them or sense them. But they are sensing him and scanning with the spiritual sense to see his face. All these beasts are Raijus. Initially, they have an expression of happiness and delight.

But now, they have frown because of what Sam said.

"You got a rare beast with excellent bloodline and you can even perfect the bloodline, you have every chance to take away the beast. Why did you come here and explain? I can see that these beasts and you have a special contract binding you. You would have been able to make the contract with him too and live with your life."

Sam thought for a bit and decided to go with the truth.

"I don't want to make an enemy out of Raiju. I have enough on my plate. I have enemies that are far more powerful than me and they are numerous. I am already living every day under pressure." He paused for a bit and said.

"It is beneath me to use someone's familial to my benefit. I need the beast, not as a pet or a mount. I need the beast as a friend. A companion I can rely on. For that, at least trust is the basic foundation. What is the point of lying and living? I couldn't even pretend to be the Sam which I am not for a few days."

Sam sighed after he let it all out. That is why he came here. He just felt like he didn't deserve this Raiju and decided to return it. Maybe if the beast is only in the Consummate realm, Sam would have negotiated with it.

But he lost all the hopes after seeing that the beast is talking.

Sam was ready to return. But Raiju still has something to speak.

"How are you so sure that you are not Sam?"

Sam was puzzled. He is sure because he remembered being in the past world and dying there and the rest of the following events.

The Beast grunted a bit which is almost like a chuckle.

"Sending a soul is not as simple as you think. Do you think the rules of this world will accept a soul that came from another world? Even an entity like that is able to exist it would be so strong and beyond the control of the world's natural rules. You are not of that stage yet.

As for what you thought, indeed you are not Sam from this world, at least not completely.

But the memories you got are from the soul remnants of the Sam of this world. They just didn't come here. The entity who brought you here just didn't push your soul into a body. He broke the soul of this world's Sam and escaped it from achieving samsara.

Those broken pieces merged with your soul which was forcefully brought to this world.

That mean's you are the Sam from this world as well your own person. You two are not separate people.

As for why your personality from the previous world reigned over the one belonging to this world's Sam, it is a form of his acceptance. That Sam must have desired something so much but couldn't achieve, so he decided to get it from you and disappeared.

So, never say that you are not Sam anymore. You are Sam, but not the same Sam as before. That's it."

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 388: The family of Raijus

Sam froze on the spot after hearing what they said.

He already thought about who he is many times. He took shelter in this world Sam's body but he never thought the both of them are same.

This world's Sam is a great tailor, but he is a weak person. not physically but mentally. Since childhood he never fought for anything. He lived just for the sake of living. Just because he is an orphan he just wallowed in self-pity.

But Sam is on the other end of spectrum since childhood. He was also an orphan. But he was abused continuously. After some time, he stopped his pity game. He felt that lack of parents meant lack of restrictions, he can be whatever he wants.

By the time he is fifteen, he killed more than hundred people. He became the beast mercenary and best assassin of the year in the organization.

That was why, he was so troubled accepting his new identity in this world and that is why he left the Lava rock village, before anyone could notice changes in him.

He didn't even dare to say goodbye to Michael and Robert.

After leaving that city, he completely cut ties with that identity. Until, the beast faction the people who knew of that identity came into picture. Even Sravan's current state is because he tried to kill Sam, not as revenge for turning the original Sam into an orphan.

But now, with what the Old Beast said, he felt like a burden is lifted off. The burden is what he carried for the old Sam. But now that he accepted this identity, he felt like those things are not a burden anymore.

The Old Sam's father is now the new Sam's father. So, Sravan turned him into an orphan and he has to take revenge and what would be a great revenge other than turning Sravan into an orphan. Sam felt like this is a good idea.

"Thank you." Sam thanked the beast.

The beast chuckled again and looked at Sam. "Someone would like to meet you." The Old beast said and suddenly the whole valley rumbled, the lightning falling on the beast cleared a bit and Sam saw the silhouette of the beast completely.

He is as large as a mountain.

There is a hole inside the valley out of which many beasts came out. There are more than ten of them all at Consummate realm. Sam gulped at the sight of this.

Out of all beasts, the first one seemed a bit stronger and larger. There is a scar on its face.

All these beasts are larger thirty to forty times larger than a normal wolf, but in front of the towering beast which could be seen from kilometres away, they are so short.

The beast with a scar came forward and looked at Sam closely with its eyes extremely close to Sam's.

Sam felt the breath of the wolf on his face.

The beast looked at Sam carefully and there are hints of tears in his eyes. He licked Sam's face and turned towards the beast Sam has brought back.

[Son, take care of him well. He is like your brother.] Sam looked at both of them and didn't know what to say. The beasts didn't know that Sam knows the beast language.

Sam placed his hand on the beast and said with a smile.

"Thank you."

The beast was a bit surprised.

[He understands beast tongue]

The son said to father and father rubbed his furry head to Sam in a loving manner. The same scenario repeated with all the beasts.

Sam noticed that, the beasts are on verge of crying. He felt somewhat weird but there is a feeling which he never felt welling up inside his heart.

Sam felt like crying too.

The raiju with the scar looked at Sam and said.

[If you ever encounter a problem, just find a way to come here. That's all you need to do and everything else would be resolved.]

HOWL HOWL HOWL HOWL

With that all the beasts started howling at the sky.

All the howls only meant one thing, their agreement to his words. After that, they entered the hole and the Old beast sat back down.

"They grew up with your father. They have been together for a long time. Your father treated this place as his training ground. No one in the whole world would dare to explore the central continent like he did.

The one with the scar is my eldest son. They are both so close. The one I sent to you is his son. You will be great companions to each other."

The Old beast went on speaking.

That day Sam heard a lot about his father. How he used to be when he was young. How powerful he was. How daring he was. How smart he was.

The Old beast explained everything except how his father came and how this friendship grew. He didn't ask either.

After all that, Sam asked.

"Why are you trapped here?"

The Old beast looked at him and felt a bit surprised. It didn't say it was trapped. But Sam did notice this.

"How did you find out?"

"I read in my free time. From what I know, a beast that can speak is not something that is world can bear. In fact, anyone who is stronger than a Consummate realm cultivator is too much for this place to bear and even the density of the spiritual energy is too thin to cultivate one.

An entity such as you; it is not hard to guess. Anyway, I also encountered the skeleton of a variant hydra in this planet. Mia is her daughter.

I just guessed."

"You are indeed insightful. I am really trapped. Not just me, even the ten who came to see you are also trapped here. We don't belong to this world. Me and my partner are banished to this world when she conceived.

The spiritual energy I require is coming from this lightning. It is not just some suppression but also a form of nutrition.

My children are not willing to leave.

It is a long story anyway. I will tell you when the time comes."

Sam and the beast had a long chat.

He even stayed the night. He went inside the hole and shared the meal with the rest of the tribe.

He was completely dumbfounded when he entered the hole.

The hole is a way to an underground palace.

There are many caves and every cave are occupied with Raijus.

He felt like he is looking at the strongest force of the planet and it happened so that this force his backing.

Sam felt that he should make the Space gate association construct a Space gate near this place. But felt that it would be affected by the lightning outbursts.

The lightning is making the rest of the spiritual energy chaotic. This place is only suitable for training of the lightning element cultivators, but they have to be proficient in physical techniques and have an extremely strong physique too. Otherwise, they would be charred to death. That is why no one from the major power comes to this place.

Sam wanted to hug the old beast before leaving, but even with his light elemental fusion, he wouldn't be able to take the force of lightning. The lightning will reach his spiritual core easily.

It is finally time to leave.

Sam started his journey back at dawn and then only he remembered Sai is waiting for him. Sam and the young Raiju started walking back to meet Sai.

He is near the region of valley where the lightning doesn't strike much. There are a lot of rocks that have a metallic sheen.

Sam noticed that the lightning around it is acting peculiarly.

So, he walked towards the rock and placed his hand on it.

After some observation, he took out a metal which has high iron content and it stuck to that rock.

Sam smiled at this.

This is a naturally formed permanent magnet.

After he got Raiju, he is already thinking of creating an artificial permanent magnet, so that he can dabble in the electricity.

But now he doesn't have to.

There are many permanent magnets in this area, probably formed with the rocks having high metallic content struck by the lightning.

He started collecting the rocks into his storage and there is a large hole left inside the valley.

After that he felt the valley with a big grin.

He sent Raiju back into the divine dimension to let it stay with the rest of the beasts.

Sai, who is waiting for them looked at Sam's smile and felt complicated. He knew what kind of force this valley is hiding, the major powers and associations should think before they do anything.

Otherwise, it is going to be big trouble.

He knows how powerful a Raiju can be. And there is an army of them waiting in this valley to do Sam's bidding,

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 389: Breakthrough

Sam returned to the city.

He was in an obvious hurry, there are too many things to do and the one week's time limit is also ending tomorrow. It is going to get busy. But his brain didn't feel as much pressure as before.

The only pressure came from the thinking he has to do for finishing the tasks, not for extra thoughts like consequences and actions.

Sam didn't mess with the stones yet. The first thing he has to do is a breakthrough to the Nascent stage.

But before that, it is time for Arman's daily dose.

After that, he came back and broke through to the Nascent stage.

Nascent stage is a very special stage of cultivation.

It decides many things for a cultivator and decides the strength of his foundation.

Spell time for mages and physical features for warriors, both of them for a Warrior-mage.

This stage will decide most of them.

As for how the nine stages are decided when the body reformation and spiritual sea formation that occurs in this stage vary for different people; it is the reformation of the spiritual core.

That's right, in this stage, the spiritual core for every person will be reformed nine times and each time signifies each sub-stage within the Nascent.

When Sam broke through, he saw a small ball of lightning which is silver in color appear inside the spiritual core.

As soon as he broke through, Sam noticed a faint glitter from the divine dimension crystal and frowned, he didn't even get the chance to explore his own cultivation breakthrough and when he involuntarily sent his spiritual sense into the dimension, Sam sensed that there are some changes with the tower.

He can now perceive the third floor.

He immediately moved inside and entered the tower to check the third floor.

But when he reached the third floor, he frowned. Because there is a large table in the middle of the room. It is large enough to be a board room table and the table seemed to have a shiny crystal surface.

As soon as Sam stepped forward to see what this table is all about, a voice was heard from the side.

"Hello, Sam."

Ling Tian's silhouette appeared on the crystal table.

Sam was stunned, he didn't expect that he would meet Ling Tian's will again, but now that he saw it, he felt that there is something in his memory indicating that this would happen.

Ling Tian's will spoke.

"Since you unlocked this room, then you must be a Nascent stage cultivator. Congratulations on your breakthrough.

I am here today to tell you some important things about your existence in this world."

Sam frowned at this. He wanted to know this so much and he bets that Ling Tian doesn't even know how much Sam desires this.

The voice continued.

"You are not the only one who got the second chance in this world and I am not the only one who gave those second chances.

There are twelve of them and if I am right, you should have already attended one of the Palace of inheritances.

Twelve gods gave the second chance to twelve people and each god will be sending the Palace of inheritances for every three years. They mostly send battle techniques, rewards, and treasures to reach their own candidates.

My Palace of inheritance is going to be sixth and you have to make sure that you go there. As for the rest, I am sure you can decide for yourselves.

Now let's talk about other candidates.

Until now, if you have met them, you would have easily beaten them up. In fact, that is the reason I chose you. You have enough brains to be strong even in your weakest state.

But it is going to change now, every cultivation technique of immortal grade or higher will only start showing its real effects after one broke through to the Nascent stage.

There are going to be staggering changes in the candidates. But I am sure, you can manage yourselves.

Apart from that, there is something else I want to tell you. That is about the gifts they got.

As you got a gift as valuable as the Divine dimension filled with all kinds of information, they also received gifts of equivalent value.

But it is completely different from what you have. What they have is something that will help them in the long term and coincidentally the rest of them all chose to give Sam a present and that is the Dimension crosser.

This is something they received as a gift from the gods at their rebirth. It is a device that will help them cross over to the upper limits.

It will let them move to the upper realms from your current realm and also can give them an opportunity to transfer between the upper realms.

As for how, they can use it, after they reach certain cultivation stages, they will reach the threshold for various upper realms to which they could travel.

They all got this because they don't have faith in their disciples to aim for the higher realms as it would be difficult to leave the realm for an upper realm without a Dimension Crosser.

I bargained with the rest of them and refrained from sending the Dimension crosser and sent the divine dimension, Yanwu, and all the information within the divine dimension. I have complete faith in you to find your own way to cross the dimensions.

And why is this dimension crosser necessary? Because you have to move to the upper realm at a certain time. The third palace of inheritance wouldn't be held within the same realm you are currently in.

You will have to climb to the next realm closest to you.

Since you don't know any information about this crossing, I will give you a hint."

With that, a holographic box appeared right beside his silhouette. Sam started and this and frowned, after looking at the image, he took out the box he obtained in Van family.

As he was thinking about why the box was showing, the voice continued.

"There are six boxes like this in the world and you will only able to truly open them when are the six are together. Collect all of them and this will show you the way.

Try to stay away from the rest of the candidates and don't kill them if possible.

All the best."

The silhouette disappeared and Sam shook his head.

He got a lot of information. But nothing is too important and most of it is what he already deduced.

After that, he stepped forward and placed his hand on the table.

He got new information engraved in his head and he was completely surprised by the uses of the table.

But it is a pity that he didn't have any use at that moment.

After he came out, Sam checked his body, the spiritual core, and stuff.

Sam is looking forward to what he can do with this element. But that has to wait. He has to finish the current projects he has in hand.

One of them is the manufacturing of his new equipment which he was working on for a long time and the design for the first puppet.

Both are in their final stages.

After these two are done, Sam is thinking of the next research project and that would be the energy source.

Sam wants to make a new form of an energy source that could make the puppet work. His current choice of energy source is the energy cell. It is the most feasible and also a more lucrative business idea for him.

He can just retail energy cells like batteries. But it is extremely hard for him to maintain the production.

He is the only one who can create energy cells and this is a serious problem. He would have to stay for a month in the divine dimension, which means at least three hundred days, and just focus on creating energy cells to have the whole world have some limited edition sales within the empire. Otherwise, he could be completely wasted just by creating these energy cells.

He has to find another way to deal with this problem.

His current thoughts are revolving around some sort of a fusion. But instead of using nuclear, he is trying something with the spiritual energy particles.

But even that has to wait for a while. He knew that he has to work overtime.

And also post-pone this work. Currently, he has to find a way to deal with his problems at hand.

After settling the outside affairs, Sam slowly started working on his machine production.

The next day is the big day for Sam.

Not because, of the work he has to do, rather there will be many people choosing the sides tomorrow, those who will the associations and join him will stay others will be either dead or leave the city.

He started making arrangements, for interrogation. This is the start of his payback against the associations. The first step will be to deal with these former tower heads.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 390: Started making Pills

The next day, the first one to come visit Sam is the architect artisan who Sam met. They didn't talk much, all the other party said is a sentence.

"I will join you." Sam smiled. The architect also didn't wear the artisan uniform and the badge he generally wore. He seemed to have thought it through.

"From now on, don't call yourself an artisan. It is but a categorized title forced upon you. Architecture and construction are arts of their own right, they don't have to categorize into some other names.

From now on, you shall be titled Architect of my organization.

Welcome, Architect Austin." Sam extended his hand and both of them shook it.

After that, Sam said. "There are somethings which I need to handle, you will be informed of your duties and rights after another week. Until then, please cut the contact with others. If you need any help to alleviate any form of pressure you are facing, you can explain the details to Philip, he will deal with them."

Sam sent him away after he said that.

That day went on like this and many people joined Sam's organization resigning their duties from the associations.

The former tower heads felt that something is odd as many people didn't report to them that day.

Since they have authoritative positions, they got used to the fact that many employees of the association will come and talk with them every day. But today, something felt amiss.

They don't know that their actions are being monitored. They cannot even touch their wives without Sam knowing.

While Sam is busy, his friends are not free. Philip is handling the overall supervision and the security of the city while dealing with the matters of newly appointed people.

The city is currently filled with people who came after seeing the recruitment notice. He is also in charge of supervising the selections. And the selections started today.

Sam just left the whole to his head and Philip is extremely bothered. But he did take the job and handling it pretty well.

As for assessments, they are simple. Sam doesn't need talented people from these new recruits. Of course, he would take in talents but they are not the main target.

The targeted people are people with skills and capabilities. They can get assessments for any form of Skill. Even cooking, carpentry, and Philip even mentioned that a masseur and masseuse can take part in the assessment.

So, there are so many people who are coming.

As for the judges, finding them is the most troublesome. Sam just gave him the requirements of the recruitment and left out everything else. Thankfully,

Philip is smart enough and just used the newly joined people who used to work for the associations. He just asked them to be the judges and naturally, they didn't refuse.

Philip just gave them the standards of grading. As for cooking, that was the easiest, Philip just gave everything related to that to Mackey. And for the inscriptions and formations, the candidates are going face a nightmare. Sirona was the judge there and they didn't expect the judging to be strict.

They are looking for uniqueness and individuality in all the people. Sam doesn't need too many orthodox practitioners of any art.

This world's arts and crafts are stagnated for many years due to this orthodox style.

Sam is going to change it.

Out of all of them, Jack had the most difficult duty. He is handling the orphans. He didn't know how Watt handled these fellows, but they are all quite noisy.

For many of them, this is the first time even having a proper meal. But now, they are staying in luxury hotels and having a feast for every meal.

They are quite grateful, there are kids of all ages and everyone is getting used to this place. But Jack who liked peace and quiet, this job is a nightmare.

And at this moment, some self-proclaimed bigshots of the Nascent realm even wanted to complain to him about the lack of hotels they want to stay in.

At first, they just stayed put, but they didn't like the fact that the people who are staying in are orphans. They felt that is beneath them to stay in the hotel rooms where once these filthy and dirty orphans stayed at.

The customer service of Sam's organization is always good and they always made sure to make the customer feel superior. Particularly, in the hotel business. That is why they forgot who they are dealing with.

Jack was outraged. Even though, he is frustrated they are still kids. These are Sam's hotels and it is he who ordered this.

Jack immediately made an order and the city guards started kicking people out. Not just the hotel, they are kicked out of the city.

The whole city is fully chaotic.

As Sam dealt with all the newly recruited people from the associations, the delivery from the six major powers arrived.

This is the second installment and this time most of them are herbs. At this moment, the herbs from the Space gate association also came.

He felt like the luckiest person in the world. He halted the production process and designing and started pill production.

This is the first time Sam is going to produce the pills. All this time, he made some potions and some powders.

But he never made pills, in fact, he disliked pills. The herbs are processed too much and so much of its essence will be lost in pill making.

As for the pills he had on him, they are all from his victims/ Every time Sam slew some big figure, he would get a ton of pills.

He might not run out for a few years.

Even though he doesn't like it, Sam has to make pills this time.

Pill of servitude.

It is actually a high-level pill and Sam can use it on people who are at Consummate level. But the pills that can control the level of the cultivator are different. Either due to the ingredients or the procedure of manufacture.

Of course, Sam's cultivation is actually not enough to make all those pills. His flame is not intense enough at this level to create enough heat to produce a pill.

As for this, Sam has the obvious solution which he has been using since the start. The methane.

He used the same pillars he used to kill the Emperor of Orion and place the cauldron in the middle of them.

Sam doesn't need to use his flame directly. Even though the control would be good if he used it, he can also achieve the same level of control with these pillars.

And just like that, Sam started his adventure of Pill manufacturing.

He didn't directly attempt the servitude pill.

He started with some basic healing pills.

While he is inside the second floor of the tower doing this, Ape is busy sitting nearby.

There are loads of herbs that came from the major powers and the Space gate association. Now it is carefully sorting them with his burly hands.

It is looking for the freshest of the herbs so that it could plant them in the garden, they may come in handy in the future.

While Sam's city is completely bustling with activity and preparations are being made, the major powers are also not exactly calm. They also started the process of construction.

All this time, they are busy managing the chaos in their nations and finally it is settled down.

Even though all the problems are not resolved, they are itching to start the construction of Parks.

The lands are allocated and the Architect artisans from the artisan association moved with the bleu prints to all the nations.

The construction activities are running in a full swing.

The major powerheads are ecstatic. Because they are all feeling indignant about something and that is Sam disregarding them.

Sam doesn't have any fear and respect they deserved. But they don't have balls to go and take the frustration out on Sam.

They knew for one, that Sam's city might not be invincible but the first few would die definitely.

That's why they don't dare to take any action. They lived until the Consummate realm and they don't want to die like this.

But now the construction of the Park is a stroke to their egos.

They might not be able to do anything to Sam, but that doesn't mean Sam could do something to them.

They are blatantly stealing Sam's plans and copying his creations to make money.

In their opinion, Sam doesn't even know about this, but what would he do even if he did know. He can come knocking at their doors. That is what they are waiting for.

To catch him outside Sam's city.

If they can do that, Sam is as good as dead.

While they are feeling complacent about all this, what they don't know is, the construction process is not going smoothly.

Because, in an empire, where the construction began earlier, the foundation they built immediately collapsed as soon as they finished it and they don't know what the reason is.
