

Cute Baby17

chapter 17

“Susan, let’s go together.”

Nina happened to come downstairs. Caroline seemed to be in a good mood today. She wanted to promote their relationship by shopping.

“I... I won’t go.”

Nina frowned.

She wanted to see the two babies at home today, but she didn’t know what they were doing.

“You don’t want to go shopping with me, do you? I’m so bad that you dislike me. Forget it. I won’t go either.”

Seeing that the two of them were unwilling, Caroline pretended to be angry and said.

Nina was in a dilemma. What right could he have in this family. In the end, he agreed with Caroline.

This time, the three of them went out together.

Today, she went through all the shopping malls and finally came to a large supermarket to buy some household goods.

“Take a rest today. I’ll cook for you myself.”

Caroline took down a bottle of vinegar from the shelf and said with a smile.

“Forget it. I have tasted your ‘delicacies’.”

“You don’t like me when I cook for you, do you? Who has such a beautiful and virtuous mother like you?”

“.....”

Nina, who was standing next to them, didn’t say anything and kept listening to the conversation between the two.

Sometimes, they felt that their family was also good, laughing and talking.

In fact, it was not bad for her to have such a family in the future.

A warm smile appeared on Nina’s face.

On the other side of the shelf

“Aunt Celia, I want to eat that.”

Hanna pointed at a herb flavored nut on the top of the shelf.

“Okay, I’ll get it for you.”

“Thank you, the most beautiful aunt Celia.”

“Hanna, I’m going to buy some food. I’ll come to you later.”

Celia said to Hanna as she bent over and took the nuts from Hanna.

“Okay, I have to buy some for Cheney. He likes an soapy.”

With her favorite snacks in one hand, Hanna was looking for something her brother liked.

“Mommy?”

Hanna looked for an cup milk on the shelf with her big round eyes. Through the crack of the shelf, she saw Nina and the two people beside her.

She sprinted to the other side.

“Mommy!”

Her words made several people who had been picking up things look at her.

Nina , Gabriel and Caroline turned around.

Hanna!Why was she here? Nina was screwed.They were all here. What should she do?Did Hanna rush to her and call her Mommy.

The expression on Nina ‘s face changed dramatically. At this moment, she was really nervous to see her little baby.

Wearing a sky blue princess dress, Hanna looked like a noble princess.

“Auntie, I want that one!”

Looking at the expression on Nina ‘s face, Hanna sensed that there was something wrong with her, so she didn’t call her Mommy directly.

When he walked to Nina, he pointed at an cup milk on the shelf.

Hanna suddenly called her aunt Nina , but she didn’t react for a moment.

“Okay.I’ll bring it for you. ”

Well, Hanna, ask your mommy to bring you something that she can get. It’s so high that she can’t get it.

“Uncle, please help me get it.”

Seeing that Nina couldn’t reach her, Hanna blinked her big watery eyes, which gave out a kind of irresistible light and raised her eyebrows.

Hanna stood in front of Gabriel , and her height was not as long as one of Gabriel ‘s legs.She looked up at him.

“Here you are.”

She didn't know when she would like a child so much and be willing to help her.

"Kid, where is your mommy?"

"Uncle, can you be shorter? I think you are tired."

Hanna pouted and frowned.

Gabriel squatted down and smiled.

Hanna seemed to have taken a tranquilizer pill. He stared at Gabriel with his dark eyes without blinking.

Cheney? Why did the big version of Cheney look exactly the same?

Baby, don't expose yourself.

Nina stared blankly at the scene, worried and scared.

"Mommy, we are going to buy some food."

Hanna turned her head and said, pointing ahead.

"Kid, have we met before?"

Caroline, who had been observing the boy, said.

"Beautiful grandma!"

Hanna recognized Caroline at the first sight. They had met once at the airport.

"We met once at the airport."

what? Not to mention Nina, Hanna didn't remember that the first lady she met at the airport was his mother.

What a coincidence.

That's right. At that time, there were two people, Cheney and Hanna. Now there was only one person, Hanna. Caroline didn't remember at once. Reminded by Hanna, she remembered.

"Why are you here alone? Where is your mother?"

Seeing such a lovely child, Caroline couldn't help but want to have a few more words with her.

"In front."

Hanna said with a low voice.

"Uncle, what's your name?"

Hanna asked curiously.

"Gabriel."

Gabriel didn't know why the little girl in front of him was so patient. He would answer whatever she asked.

"Okay, I see. "

All of a sudden, Hanna got close to Gabriel and whispered in his ear, Uncle, you are so handsome. You and aunt should have a child as beautiful and lovely as me as soon as possible..."

Gabriel smiled.

Nina stood aside, looking worried.

What was Hanna talking to him? Did she tell him her identity?

Nina was still worried about his smart daughter.

"Hanna..."

A familiar voice came from not far away.

It was Celia.

Hanna said goodbye to them as soon as she heard her voice.

"Beautiful grandma, handsome uncle, and stupid aunt. Bye! "

Hanna raised her eyebrows and looked at Nina with a smile. Then Hanna waved goodbye to them and left.

What? Hanna, how could you say that your mother is stupid. Can she give birth to a smart child like you if she is stupid?

"You two should work harder. Look at him. He is so smart and cute."

When Caroline saw Hanna again, she liked her more and wanted a grandson more.

"Hey, what did the little girl say to you just now?"

Nina approached him and asked tentatively.

"You want to know what she said?"

"Yes, I do!"

"Come here. I'll tell you."

Nina put her ear close and was about to listen to him carefully.

"She said the aunt beside me was short and stupid."

Then she pushed the car away.

What? Short and stupid? At that time, Hanna was proud of her height. How could she say that she was short and stupid?

“You...”

When Nina came back to her senses...
