

Cute Baby23

chapter 23

There is a final meeting in the company, so I came back early.”

Gabriel’s words dispelled the tension of Nina and the serious atmosphere at the scene.

“Yes, I have something to deal with in the company today, so we came back early.”

Nina echoed.

“Oh, I see. You have to come back early for dinner.”

Caroline said.

Gabriel nodded slightly.

“Go ahead. Come back early tonight. I’ll give you a big surprise.”

Nina said with a cunning smile, holding Gabriel’s arm.

Gabriel raised his eyebrows. What the hell was she planning.

“I got up a little early today. You can go upstairs and have a rest. I’m going to the company now.”

Perhaps it was because of Caroline’s presence or her words from the bottom of her heart that the two women beside her felt very comfortable.

“Okay, drive slowly.”

Seeing Gabriel go out, Nina waved his hand.

In order to show that you have helped me, I will show you what I can do tonight. I promise the food will be delicious.

Nina’s surprise to Gabriel was to cook dinner for him in person to express his grat**ude.

Watching the interaction between the two, Caroline felt very happy.

Looking at Gabriel and Nina, it seemed that her wish to have a grandson was about to come true.

Thinking of this, Caroline felt excited.

“Susan, go to bed first. I’ll go out to meet my friends.”

Nina nodded with a smile.

Then, Caroline went out.

It suddenly occurred to her that she hadn’t seen her two babies for a few days. It was still early, so she went upstairs and changed into fresh casual clothes.

Then she drove to Celia’s house.

It should be the two babies at home at this time. Celia should be still working.

Nina walked into the hall and saw the two babies playing on the ground, one playing with the computer and the other playing with the doll.

Nina walked quietly to the hall, trying to frighten them from behind.

The two babies exchanged glances with each other and smiled wickedly.

As soon as Nina entered the gate, they found their mommy was back.

She wanted to give them a big surprise, but when she was about to pounce on them, they found it first.

“Mommy!”

Hanna suddenly turned her head, pouted, and shouted at Nina.

“How do you know I’m here?”

Nina looked confused.

Every time she wanted to frighten them secretly, she failed.

Was Nina really so stupid? Or her two babies were so smart that they could hear the slightest sound.

“We knew you were here, but we didn’t want to expose you.”

Cheney looked like a proud man.

At the sight of Cheney, Gabriel’s face flashed through Nina’s mind.

“Well, I don’t know why our mommy is so stupid. I’m really worried.”

Hanna held her doll, stroked its hair, and sighed.

‘oh my God! How could he say I’m stupid?

“Cheney and Hanna, would you like some hot milk?”

At this time, a soft and fresh voice came from the kitchen.

Then a girl with two cups of milk came out.

Nina was stunned for a moment, and then remembered the nanny she hired in the same city as 58.

The girl looked at Nina blankly.

“Excuse me, who are you?”

Seeing that the two children were very kind to her, she knew that her identity should be unusual.

“Sister pill, this is our mommy Nina.”

The two babies told the girl together.

The pill suddenly remembered that when she found a part-time job in the same city as 58, it was Nina who contacted her.

“Oh, it’s Cheney and Hanna’s Mommy.”

The pill said with a smile.

“Hello, please take care of these two little bad guys from now on.”

Nina said politely.

The pill covered its mouth and smiled.

Nina looked at the two people beside her with disdain.

We are little bad guys, Mommy, you are a big bad guy. Only the big bad guy could have a little bad guy.

The two babies said to each other.

Pill refiners were also very polite, although they were confused why Nina didn’t live with the two babies and hired a nanny to take care of them. But she knew that this was not what she should ask.

“Don’t say that. I really appreciate you for giving me such a part-time job, and I also like Cheney and Hanna very much. If only my child could be so cute in the future.”

The pill looked at Nina gratefully.

“Your name is an elixir, right? You can just call me to brook from now on.”

Nina said kindly.

“Well, you can play with Cheney and Hanna for a while. I’ll clean up the kitchen first.”

Nina nodded.

“Mommy, I have something to ask you.”

Seeing the pills walk into the kitchen, Cheney and Hanna approached Nina and was about to let her go upstairs.

In desperation, Nina was dragged upstairs by the two men.

room.

“Sit down!”

Cheney closed the door mysteriously.

Hanna pulled Nina to the bedside and said sternly like a little adult.

“What are you doing?”

Nina looked at her two babies in confusion, wondering what they were doing.

“Tell us the truth. Don’t force us to execute the sentence.”

There was a hint of an evil spirit in Hanna’s big watery eyes.

“What?”

Nina didn’t know what they were talking about and looked at them in confusion.

“Nina, who is the uncle I saw in the supermarket that day?”

Hanna asked seriously.

“What’s your relationship with that man?”

Cheney came over and asked.

It turned out to be this.

Unexpectedly, Hanna still remembered it.

“I also heard that the man looked exactly like me?”

Cheney asked tentatively.

Both of them were not stupid. In fact, they probably knew that man was their father. Otherwise, how could Cheney look exactly like that man?

In science and medicine, the father-son relationship was ninety-nine point nine percent.

Although they couldn’t be 100% sure now, they would find evidence to prove it.

Hearing what Cheney said, Nina was stunned.

She was a little nervous.

In fact, when she first saw Gabriel, she doubted if he was the father of the two babies, the man five years ago.

But she didn’t confirm it later. When the two babies said it, she remembered.

“Mommy, say something!”

Hanna was anxious and pulled Nina’s clothes with her fleshy little hand.

Nina wanted to hide it from the two of them, but with their intelligence, she knew she couldn’t hide it.

Although he was only four years old, his intelligence was extraordinary and not something that a four-year-old child should have.

So Nina didn’t intend to hide anything from them.

“Honey, if Mommy tells you that mommy is married, will you blame me?”

Nina looked down and asked in a low voice.

Cheney and Hanna two looked at each other and smiled weirdly.

Seeing that there was no response, Nina raised his eyes and asked, “are you sad? Will you blame me? ”

Nina looked at her two babies with disappointment.

“Mommy, Congratulations! You’re married!”

Cheney and Hanna clapped their hands.

Nina was stunned.
