Chapter 1 How Can There Be Such A Ruthless Man in This World?

"Georgia, Mr. Rogers said, as long as you sleep with him for one night, he would definitely invest in my company. Please! Just sacrifice yourself once to save this family..."

Georgia Lane's father's words gradually disappeared. Georgia opened her eyes slowly.

She was thrown on a big bed and naked.

What her father said before her passing out was still in her minds. Suddenly, Georgia's face instantly turned pale.

She was struggling and about to escape, but Georgia found that she was limp and unable to move.

Yes, before passing out, her father poured a glass of water for her.

Her biological father drugged her and sent her to a man's bed. Georgia couldn't help but cry.

Mr. Rogers was a famous pervert. Her father didn't treat her as his biological daughter at all.

He only liked the two children of her stepmother.

Georgia suppressed the sadness. She got up from the bed with difficulty. Looking at the glass on the bedside, Georgia directly picked it up and threw it to the ground.

Then Georgia picked up a piece of glass and severely stabbed it into her thigh.

The intense pain made Georgia a little sober. She seemed to recover a bit of strength.

Taking a bath towel from the bathroom and wrapping her body, Georgia escaped from the hotel room.

However, after only taking a few steps, her stepmother's voice came from behind her.

"Georgia escaped. What are you guys doing? Catch her up quickly!"

Behind her was the sound of chasing footsteps. Georgia felt exhausted. If she ran like this, she would definitely be caught!

Suddenly, there was a room in front of her with the door open. Georgia rushed into the room and then slammed the door close directly.

Georgia breathed a sigh of relief as the footsteps outside the door went away.

However, a man's voice came from behind her.

The voice was extremely cold.

"This is not your room. Get out!"

Georgia turned her head. The room was dark. She couldn't see the man's face.

If she got out of the room, she would be caught by her stepmother sooner or later and then she would be sent to Mr. Rogers's bed. She couldn't leave here.

Georgia knelt down directly.

"Sorry, I didn't mean it. My enemy is arresting me outside. Please, I just need to stay here for one night!"

"It's none of my business."

The man snorted lightly.

"I'll say it again, you! Now! Get out immediately!"

How could there be such a ruthless man in this world?

Georgia was full of despair. The medicine in her body began to take effect again. Georgia felt dizzy again.

Seeing the woman in front of him still not unmoving, Robert Simpson was impatient. He walked forward and pulled the woman up from the ground.

Georgia panicked instantly. She couldn't be thrown out. Georgia struggled with all her strength.

After several yanking, Georgia completely threw herself into the man's arms.

Damn it!

What was this woman doing?

Early the next morning, Georgia woke up.

Her body was aching. But the man was no longer there.

She got rid of Mr. Rogers last night, but she still hadn't gotten rid of another man.

Georgia couldn't help crying.

Forget it. According to the man's voice and movements, Georgia guessed that he was at least a young man. Compared with being tortured by a freak like Mr. Rogers, being tortured by that man was a kind of comfort for her.

Georgia could only comfort herself like this. After taking a bath in the bathroom, Georgia touched her neck.

Oops, her jade pendant was gone.

That jade pendant was given to her by her mother before her mother's death, with her nickname engraved in it, Gigi.

After searching through the entire room, Georgia still did not find her jade pendant.

Georgia didn't dare to go back to the room that her stepmother reserved last night.

Having no choice, Georgia called the front desk, asking the front desk to buy her a underwear and clothes.

Before leaving, Georgia told the front desk about the loss of her jade pendant, hoping that they would return it to her when they found it.

Out of the hotel, Georgia got in the car to go home.

Georgia didn't know that Robert left his contact information in the hotel room.

She did not see that business card.

Chapter 2 You Must Let Her Die Miserably!

In the Lane family.

As soon as Georgia arrived home, she heard her stepmother and father talking.

"Honey, Mr. Rogers is very angry now, but Georgia is still missing. What should we do now?"

Flora Wong sighed. Owen Lane's face was very gloomy.

"That bitch can escape once, but she can't escape this time. When she comes back, we will tie her up and send her to Mr. Rogers' bed again. This time, she will definitely not be able to escape!"

Georgia thought that she heard her father wrong last night.

However, Georgia's heart was completely broken when she heard that his father said that he was about to throw her on the old man's bed again.

"Dad, am I your daughter? You're always biased. Fine, I endure it. But how can you send your daughter to that freak's bed?"

Owen and Flora were shocked by the sudden appearance of Georgia.

"Asshole, you dare to come back? Go with me to apologize to Mr. Rogers!"

Owen stood up, looking gloomy.

Georgia couldn't help but sneer. After a while, her face was full of tears.

"Dad, this is the last time I call you Dad. Seek after glory by selling out your daughter! You're really a good jackal of Mr. Rogers! From then on, I, Georgia, will never go back to the Lane family again!"

After Georgia finished speaking, she wiped off her tears. She was about to turn around and leave.

"Bang!"

Georgia felt a piercing pain coming from the back of her head. She turned around with difficulty. Owen was holding a wooden stick.

Touching the back of her head with her hand, Georgia looked at her hands. Blood!

This was her father! Ruthless and unrighteous. He didn't treat her as a human being at all.

She felt dizzy. Before she fell into a coma, Georgia heard Owen's cold voice.

"Hurry up and tie her up this time. Mr. Rogers will be surely happy after we send her over. Our company's difficulties will definitely get through..."

Georgia didn't know what happened later.

She only knew that when she woke up, there was a fire in front of her. She was sitting in the driver's seat.

Even worse, Georgia smelled a strong smell of alcohol in her mouth.

Not long after, the police car, ambulance, fire engine drove over.

Georgia saw that firefighters dragging a corpse out of the fire.

Not long after she was admitted to the hospital, the police charged her with drunk driving and killing someone with a car.

No matter how Georgia explained it, she was finally sentenced to eight years in prison.

The Simpson family.

Robert's mother was lying on the bed, her face pale.

"Son, is that woman sentenced?"

Robert nodded sadly.

"Mom, the person who killed sister has been sentenced for eight years. Don't worry. I won't let the person who killed my sister go unpunished."

Robert's mother, Maisie felt that it was not enough. She roared bitterly.

"Wendy is dead. Son, how can that woman only be sentenced to eight years? You must let her die miserably!"

"Mom, don't worry. I have told those policemen. She will never live well inside. If she can come out alive, it will be a miracle!"

After coaxing his mother to sleep, Robert walked into the garden. His secretary called him.

"Sir, I have found the woman you were looking for. The front desk said that the woman left the phone number and her jade pendant was lost in the hotel."

Robert thought of the jade pendant he had put in the drawer, and then thought of the delicate person that night. He felt the fire in his body burn again.

"Send that woman's identity information to me. Another day, bring her to me."

Chapter 3 Getting Out of Prison

In L City Prison.

"No. 2034, this is your room."

Wearing a prisoner's clothing, Georgia carried her toiletries, and then walked into the room in front of her.

After the prison guard closed the door, Georgia saw five women standing in front her. Each of them looked fierce.

Georgia watched them carefully. But before she spoke, the five women punched and kicked her.

Georgia didn't understand why these people bullied her.

Once again being beaten, Georgia was bleeding. Then, she was sent to the hospital.

When she woke up, surrounded by the smell of disinfectant, Georgia realized that she was actually in a ward.

The doctor soon came to Georgia's ward. After an examination, the doctor spoke to Georgia.

"The blood in the lower body has stopped. You are pregnant for four weeks. But you may be in danger of miscarriage."

Georgia was surprised that she was pregnant.

Thinking of the man that night, Georgia felt complicated.

Although she didn't know who that man was, she was the child's mother.

Now, the baby in her belly was her only family.

The child was still alive. So she must hold on.

After being confirmed that she was a pregnant woman, Georgia did not have to return to the previous room.

The legal provisions had separate arrangements for pregnant women.

After about ten month, Georgia was finally sent to the delivery room.

"Doctor, it's a boy and a girl."

The nurse took out the two children. After the examination, the boy was healthy but the girl had a heart problem.

"Give the boy to the family who has reserved. As for this girl, she has a heart attack, so just leave her to this woman."

After waking up from the caesarean section, Georgia looked at her thin and small daughter, tears streaming down.

The doctor said that her daughter had a heart problem, so Georgia could not let her daughter stay in prison.

She had to send her daughter out.

Six years later.

Georgia walked out of the prison. The person who picked her up was Vanessa Cooke, her best friend.

Georgia was originally sentenced to eight years in prison, but she performed well in prison. She was commuted sentenced for two years. So she was released early.

Standing next to Vanessa was a five-year-old girl who was very cute.

"Auntie Georgia, Mommy woke me up early in the morning. Are you happy to see us coming to pick you up?"

Georgia knelt down and hugged her daughter. Her tears couldn't be restrained at all.

"Annie, of course I'm happy. I will stay with Annie every day from now on. Will Annie dislike me?"

Annie had liked this gentle Auntie Georgia since she was a child. So she immediately shook her head.

"Auntie Georgia, I like you. Apart from mother, you are my favorite person."

Georgia felt a little sad, but she didn't regret it.

Annie left the prison and grew up normally, which was Georgia's greatest wish.

Even if the price was that Annie didn't know that she was her mother.

But as long as Annie grew up healthily and happily, everything was worth it.

"Vanessa, thank you."

Georgia was very grateful to Vanessa for her help back then.

"Come on. We're friends. I have already bought some food. Let's go. I'll cook you a big meal."

Vanessa and Georgia were best friends who had known each other for more than ten years. Since elementary school, the two of them had been deskmates and it lasted to high school.

When they went to university, the two had separated due to different majors.

However, they were always the closest and trustworthy people to each other.

Vanessa drove Annie and Georgia to her apartment.

After the three people had dinner, Georgia played with Annie all night.

Later, Annie felt sleepy. Georgia carried Annie to the bed.

The little girl on the bed slept so sweetly that Georgia didn't dare to blink.

Vanessa smiled helplessly. She motioned to Georgia to come out and have a talk.

They stood on the balcony. Vanessa looked at the gray hair on Georgia's head, feeling a little distressed for a while.

"Georgia, what are you going to do in the future? When are you going to tell Annie the truth?"

"Vanessa, Annie needs to take medicine all the time for heart disease. In the past few years, you must have used up the savings I transferred to you. I will work hard to make money. I don't want Annie to worry about money in the future. For her disease, the money is far from enough."

"As for I am her mother, I'll tell her when she grows up."

Chapter 4 That Man

Georgia spent six years in jail. All her savings were used for Annie's treatment expenses.

Now, she was out of jail. Her first task was to make money.

Relying on past relationships, Georgia got a job in a high-end clubhouse as a dealer.

She was beautiful and had a good figure.

She just needed to shuffle the cards every day. The more customers came here for her, the more money Georgia earned.

She had been in prison before. So there was no hope for her to find a normal work. Georgia could only make money like this.

Fortunately, she had learnt it before.

However, her work time was night every day. Georgia had to stay up every day. She was so tired that she could fall asleep as soon as she got home.

Besides, she could only take one day off a week.

On this day, Georgia would play with her daughter all day long.

About half a month later, due to the good performance and the customers liked her, Georgia began to go to some private room to serve.

She was good-looking and could say some sweet words. So customers would give her a lot of tips.

On this day, Georgia was called by a boss to serve in a private room.

She walked towards the VIP room. But just when she walked to the door, a gorgeous woman in the room started to cry.

"Robert, why don't you like me? You don't even look at me directly!"

Looking at the woman in front of him, Robert snorted lightly.

"Jennifer, what do you see in me? I can change it, okay?"

After saying that, the other two men in the private room laughed.

Jennifer Johnson blushed with embarrassment, but she was still unwilling to give up.

"Robert, please! I have been pursuing you for five years. Can you give me a reason to give up?"

Hearing that, Robert looked up.

"Jennifer, the truth is very simple. You are too ugly. Look at the woman behind you. She is pretty average. But you are actually uglier than her. Besides, your figure is worse than her..."

After Robert finished speaking, the other two men in the private room looked at Georgia who was standing behind Jennifer in surprise.

Sure enough, Georgia was a charming beautiful woman. She was wearing dealer's suit. Why did they not see her before?

The two men were wondering. Jennifer had already turned and looked at Georgia.

Jennifer rushed forward and slapped Georgia.

"Bitch, hit on other men. Shameless!"

Georgia felt that her face was hot and hurt, but the customers who could hang out in this place were rich men and ladies. She didn't dare to resist, so she could only lower her head.

"Jennifer, didn't you ask me why I don't like you? Hit others for no reason! Look at your cultivation! I would rather say a few words to her than look at you."

Robert walked to Georgia's side. He mocked Jennifer coldly.

Jennifer was so angry that she looked at Robert and sneered.

"I don't believe you would touch a dirty woman from such a place!"

Perhaps the woman with her lowered eyes looked too pitiful, Robert directly grabbed the woman's shoulder, then lowered his head and kissed her deeply.

It was just that the feeling was so good that Robert kissed more deeply.

Jennifer's eyes widened. The scene of the two people making out in front of her was like a nightmare for her.

"Robert, I hate you!"

Jennifer cried and ran out.

At this moment, Georgia pushed aside the man named Robert.

"Mr. Simpson, Miss Johnson has gone."

Chapter 5 I Hope He Can Save Me

The implication was that their kissing should also end.

Smart woman! Robert smiled.

"Come over and shuffle the cards."

Georgia had always kept her duty and dared not cause trouble.

Although Robert kissed her forcefully, Georgia knew that she could not provoke such a powerful person like him.

Georgia could only endure it and began to shuffle cards seriously.

Looking at Georgia, the other two men in the private room introduced themselves with a smile.

"Beauty, I am Jason Murphy, 28 years old this year. May I have your name?"

Jason looked a little manly. Georgia smiled slightly.

"Mr. Murphy, I'm Gigi."

Robert squinted. He remembered that Emma Lane's nickname was also Gigi. That jade pendant also engraved the word "Gigi".

Another gentle-looking man with glasses also smiled at Georgia.

"Gigi, I'm Jasper Holland."

Georgia smiled. She looked down and was very respectful.

"Mr. Holland."

If a woman was too rigid, even if she was so beautiful, she was boring.

Robert sighed. After that, the three people played cards for several rounds.

Later, perhaps because they felt bored, they let Georgia leave.

The boss saw Georgia's performance was good today, so he told her that she could get off work.

After Georgia packed her things, she took a sip of water before leaving. She walked out of the clubhouse with her bag on her back.

The wind at night was a bit cool, but Georgia felt that her body was getting hotter and hotter. Besides, she felt a little dizzy.

Georgia was not stupid. She immediately realized that there was a problem with the water she drank.

However, she had been working here for a while, so who on earth set her up?

The current situation was urgent. Georgia immediately called Vanessa.

However, before she dialed the phone number, a strong slap came. Georgia felt that her arm hurt. Her mobile phone was hit to the ground.

When she looked up, she saw there were about seven or eight men surrounding her.

She was trying to keep calm, but the intense dizziness freaked Georgia out.

"If you want money, I can give you."

After Georgia finished speaking, the lead laughed loudly.

"You look so beautiful. We just want to sleep with you. Be obedient. Otherwise, don't blame us for being rude."

Georgia's body was getting softer and weaker. She panicked but didn't know what to do.

However, she could not fall down.

Pinching her palms tightly, Georgia suddenly shouted to the front.

"Robert, your girlfriend is hurt. Come here soon!"

The men surrounding Georgia subconsciously turned around and looked around. Georgia immediately turned around and ran.

However, she was so weak. After she ran a few steps, she was directly kicked to the ground by a few men.

"Bitch, dare to lie to us! Tie her up. Let's fuck her."

In just a few seconds, Georgia's limbs were tied up. She felt so desperate.

Was it really impossible to avoid this disaster?

Georgia didn't know what to do. She just shouted again.

"Robert, save your girlfriend!"

Today, it was Georgia's first time to meet this guy. But other staffs told her that the person in the private room she went to today was a big shot in D City that no one dared to provoke.

Georgia could only call Robert's name. She hoped a miracle could happen to herself

Chapter 6 Have You Decided How to Pay Back?

"Jason, I heard someone called my name twice. Did I hear wrong?"

Robert, standing next to his Land Rover, asked in confusion.

Jasper laughed aside.

"Yes, she claimed to be your girlfriend. She should be the dealer. And she may have provoked someone. Do you want to help her?"

Robert thought of the hot body when he met this woman, he was moved.

Since that night six years ago, Robert had never had such a strong feeling.

His instinct told him that there was something different about this woman.

Georgia's mouth was taped shut, and she was biting her lips tightly.

With the smell of rust and blood in her mouth, Georgia dared not faint.

Several men dragged her, trying to throw her into the car.

Georgia whined and hoped that she would be found kidnaped by these men on the street!

At the moment she was thrown into the trunk, Georgia wept.

She was out of prison, but her nightmare had not come to an end!

"Let her go --"

Suddenly, a man's cold voice rang in her ears.

Georgia tried hard to raise her head. Outside the car, a tall man stood beside the car with a careless attitude. He even slowly adjusted his cuffs.

"Dare you mind my business, do you have to die?"

The man who grabbed Georgia's head cursed and then gestured to the people around him.

Immediately, five people rushed to Robert.

"Bang!"

A few seconds later, men around Robert were beaten to the ground.

Seeing this scene, the man had his body trembling and knelt down to kowtow for mercy.

Robert gave a slight titter.

"Take them to the police station and ask who sent them."

With these words, several black bodyguards came and took away the men on the ground.

Georgia saw that Robert coming to her.

The tape on Georgia's mouth was torn off, and the ropes on her limbs were untied by Robert.

He carried her out of the car. At this moment, Jason and Jasper came over.

"I haven't seen you fight for a long time. With the bodyguards here, you still did it by yourself. Do you want to show off in the face of the beauty?"

Jason winked at Georgia in jest.

Jasper also smiled to Georgia.

"Beauty, this man has a crush on you. Take the chance."

Robert cast a sidelong glance at his two friends.

"Go away, understand?"

Jasper and Jason laughed together.

"Yes, we understand. The night is long, enjoy it."

Then Jason and Jasper walked away, laughing.

Georgia struggled to stand up from Robert arms. She was at a loss.

"Thank you."

Georgia thanked him after a few seconds of thinking.

Looking at her messy hair, Robert lowered his head to arrange her hair, but she subconsciously avoided.

This woman was avoiding from him?

Robert was not happy.

"You pretended to be my girlfriend. I saved you just now, and you are not thankful!"

Georgia's face was blushed.

"I...I'm sorry, I just didn't know what to do, so I called your name... I didn't mean to..."

He was angry, but seeing that this woman was pathetic when she apologized, Robert felt distressed.

It was weird. It was his first time to meet this woman tonight.

However, every movement of this woman seemed to affect his heart.

"Since you are sorry, have you figured out how to repay me?"

Chapter 7 Is that Woman your Fiancee?

Robert looked at the woman playfully.

Georgia looked at this man i in shock. She could not speak for a long time.

However, before she figured out how to answer, she found that the heat hit her again.

Her body was so soft that Georgia could feel it and her face blushed.

Robert noticed there was something wrong with this woman. He took a close look and then his face suddenly changed.

"They drugged you!"

Robert immediately held Georgia up.

Georgia felt afraid and she subconsciously struggled. Robert roared.

"You are drugged and I will take you to see a doctor. Do you think I will take advantage of you when you are in danger?"

Georgia bowed her head in shame. She did think so.

Later, Georgia was relieved and got fainted.

In a daze, Georgia felt herself thrown into the bathtub. She drank a lot of water, and it seemed that the man had been guarding her for a night.

Georgia woke up in the next morning. When she opened her eyes, she found she was in a strange bedroom with no one around.

At that moment, Georgia felt lost for no reason.

After a while, the door of the bedroom was opened. Georgia looked over and saw that it was Robert who came in. Georgia could not help smiling.

"You are up. How do you feel? Do you want something to eat?"

Robert came over and asked with concern.

"I'm fine. I'm not hungry yet. Did I bother you last night?"

Perturbed, Georgia asked. Robert casually sat on Georgia's bedside.

"You'd been drinking water and used bathroom all night. It was kind of troublesome..."

Georgia's face blushed with shame. She pointed at the maid and could not speak.

"You -"

Robert looked at her for a long time with a frown and then he understood what she meant.

"I am not a freak. The maid helped you to the bathroom. What is in your mind?"

Georgia's face became even more blushing.

It seemed that since she met Robert, she had been making a fool of herself.

"Take a bath and come down to dinner."

Georgia looked at Robert who was about to leave and shouted subconsciously.

"I want to tell my family I am safe. Can I use your mobile phone?"

Georgia immediately made a call to Vanessa.

"...Vanessa, I've got a problem...Well, I'll be fine. I'll be home this afternoon..."

After taking a bath, Georgia came downstairs for dinner, but, as she walked out of the door, she saw a woman standing downstairs.

She knew her, Emma Lane.

The child of her stepmother.

"Robert, we have been in a relationship for nearly six years. Your mother has been urging us to get married. When do you think is appropriate?"

Robert looked at the delicate and charming beauty in front of him. He felt strange.

Obviously that night six years ago, he had feeling for Emma.

However, after they became boyfriend and girlfriend, no matter how Emma seduced him, he had no feel at all.

"Emma, I have not decided the time of marriage. Don't worry, give me some time, OK?"

Robert had a gentle look and a soft voice.

After getting along with this man for six years, Emma knew that there was no room for discussion, if he had this tone.

Emma was disappointed, but, she knew she could not show it to provoke this man.

"Ok, Robert, take a good rest. I haven't been upstairs for a long time, can I go upstairs to have a rest?"

Someone told her that Robert took a woman home, which made Emma jealous. She rushed over early in the morning, in addition to urge marriage, she wanted to confirm if there was such a woman.

Robert chuckled.

"Have you heard some gossip and you don't trust me?"

Emma almost clenched her fingernail to her palm. Robert did not allow her to go up.

So there was a woman upstairs.

Emma was almost mad with jealousy.

However, she had been gentle and dignified in front of Robert. She could not be jealous.

"Robert, take a good rest and I will go to see your mother."

After Emma left for a long time, Georgia quietly walked down.

"You are clever to come down at this hour."

Robert teased her. Georgia sat opposite Robert and asked.

"Is that woman your fiancée?"

Chapter 8 Remember Your Identity

Robert was surprised that this woman was interested in his woman.

"Why are you interested in her?"

Georgia looked at the man and asked again.

“Is she your fiancée or not?”

Everyone could see that there was something wrong with Georgia. Robert’s face became cold.

“She's my fiancée. Why? You think you're prettier than her, and I'm interested in you, so you think I'm going to marry you?”

Georgia did not speak and just tightly bit her lips.

Seeing that she felt wronged, Robert was extremely unhappy. He did not do anything wrong.

Besides, he didn't feel responsible for her

"Gigi, remember who you are."

Georgia stood up suddenly and went straight to the door.

Robert's face darkened completely.

He ran after Georgia and took her wrist.

"What do you mean? I save you yesterday, and now, you are angry with me. How dare you? Believe it or not, I will throw you into the hands of those people yesterday!"

Georgia ignored what he said and only felt she was angry and mad.

She had never expected that this man's fiancée was Emma.

Emma was the daughter of Owen and Flora. Owen gave her to a freak twice. He did not succeed in the second time, but, she was framed on the charge of bumping into a person and caused him to death when she drunk.

She had been in prison for six years because of that and her daughter suffered a heart attack.

Her life was ruined, and if it were not for her daughter, she would have taken revenge when she got out of prison.

Now, knowing that Robert had a relationship with the Lane family and was the future son-in-law of the family, Georgia felt sick about it.

Looking at the hand grapping her, Georgia said in a cold voice.

"Let go of my hand, you make me sick!"

As Georgia said that, Robert's face instantly turned gloomy.

He raised his hand, but the woman before him looked calm and unconcerned.

He felt frustrated and kicked hard the table, causing a huge crash sound.

For a long time, Robert coldly looked at the woman in front.

"Get out! Don't let me see you again!"

Georgia pursed her lips, raised her feet and walked out without hesitation.

The woman was gone. Robert felt more and more sullen and threw the things on the table down.

However, he still felt furious.

"Jason, Jasper, get out and drink!"

Robert asked his two friends to go out.

As Georgia reached the door of her house, there came the panic voice of Vanessa.

"Annie, what's wrong? I will take you to the hospital at once... Go to the hospital now..."

Georgia looked pale and immediately rushed in.

Five hours later, Annie was pushed out of the operating room.

Her daughter's face was pale. Georgia failed to hold back her tears.

If it had not been for Owen and Flora, her daughter would not have suffered so much.

Georgia wished she could kill them, but, she had her daughter.

The attending doctor called Georgia and Vanessa to the office.

“Annie's condition is bad, she needs a surgery as soon as possible. We can't do it at this hospital. You'll have to ask Dr. Ivan. He's got the highest chance of making this operation successful in the world..."

After walking out of the doctor's office, Georgia and Vanessa held each other crying.

"Vanessa, I have to make Annie safe, I have to make her have a healthy life."

"Georgia, it costs several million for the operation. It was said that it is hard to ask Dr. Ivan for help. What should we do?"

Vanessa was very sad.

Georgia wiped her tears. She must be strong.

"There is always a way, Vanessa, wait for me..."

Georgia again came to Robert's villa.

The butler saw her and refused to let her in.

When Robert went back in the evening after drinking, he found Georgia knelt in front of his villa.

He scoffed and did not pay attention to her, but directly entered the villa and ordered the butler to close the door, not allowing this woman to walk in.

In the middle of the night, it began to rain heavily.

Robert went to the window and found the woman in the rain still kneeling outside.

However, he still remembered what she said. With a cold face, he lied back on the bed.

But he tossed and turned and couldn't sleep.

After swearing, he finally got up and put his clothes on.

Chapter 9 You Blushed

“Come in!”

There was a hint of anger in his voice.

Georgia raised her head. Her face was covered with rain. The man stood at the door with a dark and cold face.

She was right.

Annie was very ill and she had no one to help.

She could only come to Robert.

He was the only powerful person she knew right now.

Getting up from the ground, Georgia slowly walked into the room.

She was wet all over, and as she walked on the tiles of the room, there were dirty footprints on the floor with each step.

Georgia had made been ready to sell herself for the sake of Annie.

"Why are you kneeling outside my house?"

When leaving in the morning, this woman said she felt sick about him.

Now, she knelt in front of his house. Robert knew this woman needed his help.

Georgia bit her lips tightly. She was sure if he would help.

"My relative is ill, and the doctor said Dr. Ivan has a greater chance of success, so I'd like to ask you for help."

"Dr. Ivan? Your relative has a heart attack?"

Georgia nodded. There was a trace of hope in her heart. It seemed that Robert knew Dr. Ivan.

"But why should I help you?"

Robert gave a cold titter. He stood in front of Georgia and then lifted her jaw.

"I admit that I am a little interested in you, but if you think that I will be obedient to you, I advise you to go to the lunatic asylum and check your brain!"

His voice was cold and heartless. Georgia felt desperate.

She knelt in front of Robert and said in a humble voice.

"Please... I'll do anything if you can get Dr. Ivan to help..."

Robert did not like to make a hard time for others.

However, this woman said he was sick in the morning, and he was still angry.

"Woman, you have to give what you want. I don't see any value in you."

Georgia's face was pale.

She stood up from the ground. Robert thought she would leave in despair.

However, Georgia took off her clothes in front of him.

One by one, all the clothes fell to the ground.

Robert clenched his palm and asked coldly.

“What do you mean?”

Georgia laughed at herself.

She had lost her pride, and she didn't need it now.

"Can't you see it? I want to use my body to exchange that. As long as you promised to help me contact Dr. Ivan, you can have my body."

With a tremble in heart, he felt fire burning up inside his body.

Robert looked away and mocked.

"You think too highly of the value of your body!"

Georgia smiled fearlessly.

She threw off the last layer of her clothes and directly embraced the man.

"Mr. Simpson, your body does not hate me."

The woman's voice was charming.
Robert felt long unseen impulse.

That was the same feeling that Emma gave him that night six years ago.

As Robert recalled the past, she had gently kissed his ear.

"You're blushing."

Georgia said gently, ending with a trill.

Robert suddenly turned over Georgia, held her up and directly pressed her on the sofa.

"Woman, you're looking for death now!"

Robert said gnashing teeth. Georgia laughed wantonly.

"Mr. Simpson, are you afraid of your girlfriend and dare not touch other women?"

It completely infuriated Robert. He did not hesitate but kissed the woman widely.

The two people were naked in the end. In the last step, Georgia became calm and stopped him.

At this moment, Robert's eyes were scarlet and his face was terribly ferocious.

However, Georgia just wanted to get what she wanted.

"Mr. Simpson, I told you as long as you contact Dr. Ivan to help, my body is yours. Now, please answer me, will you help?"

Chapter 10 Why are You so Stubborn?

He felt his body was about to explode. Georgia's words were like a basin of cold water, instantly cooling her down.

Robert let go of Georgia with a gloomy face.

"I hate being used. What makes you think I would help you in order to have your body?"

Georgia was naked. She had sacrificed all her pride.

In the end, the man was still unwilling to help.

Filled with despair, she squatted to the ground and picked up her clothes one by one.

Standing up, Georgia put on her clothes and then turned to leave.

Robert stood in situ and did not move. He silently looked at the woman's back becoming more and more blurred.

By the time the door was closed, Robert's gloomy face looked even worse.

He wanted to leave, but he couldn't get his mind off the way the woman picked up her clothes on the ground.

"Shit -"

After cursing in his heart, Robert stood up, grabbed his umbrella and rushed out.

It was raining cats and dogs outside.

Georgia stood in the wind and rain, walking slowly step by step.

There was sound of footsteps behind. Georgia did not hear it and only thought of her daughter's face.

Since Robert wasn't willing to help, she had to turn to someone else.

She must not give up.

"Take the umbrella."

The voice of Robert was heard. Georgia turned around and found Robert standing in front of her with an umbrella.

Georgia silently looked at Robert without a word, but turned to leave again.

She did not need his ridiculous pity!

What a stubborn woman!

If she had been thick-skinned enough to ask him for help the next day, he would agree.

Why was she so stubborn?

Seeing that this woman ignored him, he rushed forward again and handed the umbrella to her.

“Take it, or you won't get my help!”

Georgia felt Robert would not help her. Everything he did was fooling her!

She threw Robert's umbrella to the ground and said in a cold voice.

"I don't want your help! Get the hell out of my way."

After that, Georgia ran directly in the rain.

Looking at the umbrella on the ground and the woman's back, he became so angry.

Since this woman did not accept his kindness, why should he care?

But why was he so angry?

When Georgia returned to the hospital, she was still wet all over.

Vanessa was worried when she saw Georgia looking like a drowned rat.

"Georgia, where did you go this afternoon? Why didn't you take an umbrella in such a heavy rain?"

Georgia took a deep breath and did not want Vanessa to know her despair.

"Vanessa, I'm fine, I just want someone to help. It is not easy to contact Dr. Ivan, so I can only ask a few more people for help. By the way, did Annie sleep well today?"

Speaking of Annie, Vanessa's voice was gentle.

"She slept well at night, and before she went to bed she asked me where you have been. Georgia, we must do something about Annie, but you don't have to push yourself too hard."

Georgia smiled, and she did not want to say the matter of Robert.

She would continue to find a way to have Annie get her treatment and could not let Vanessa worry too much.

Over the years, she had brought too much trouble to Vanessa.

In the future, she would carry the responsibility to protect Annie.

In the next morning, Georgia played with Annie for several hours.

In the afternoon, before the club was opened, Georgia came ahead of time to Layla there.

"Layla, I need money and I need to know a lot of powerful people. Please help me."

In the past, she was just a dealer. It depended on her decision to come to stage or not, and the guests would not harass the dealer.

However, Georgia now just wanted Annie to be healthy.

She had lost so much, but her daughter was the last thing she wanted to lose.

"A guest will come to the Diamond VIP Box on tenth floor tonight. You should have heard of Mr. Knight, you can have a try."

Chapter 11 Is This Your Woman?

Mr. Knight was famous, and Georgia had heard of him before.

He was a self-made billionaire, known as Mr. Knight.

If such a person took fancy on her, there would a chance to help her get touch with Dr. Ivan.

Georgia was not sure if she could make it, but she could only seize every chance.

At eight o'clock in the evening.

"Gigi, you look pretty in this backless dress."

The dresser helped Georgia do the make-up and felt she was dazzling look at Georgia's backless dress.

Georgia smiled faintly, looking at herself in the mirror.

Her red lips were enchanting, sexy and gorgeous.

After sitting in silence for a while, Layla walked over to Georgia.

"Gigi, since you have made the decision, don't make a mistake. Mr. Knight is a man you can't provoke. Grasp this opportunity."

Georgia nodded silently. She stood up and walked slowly out of the dressing room.

Along the way, many men in the club stared at her. Some even whistled.

Georgia coolly followed Layla to the VIP box on the 10th floor.

Layla gently knocked at the door, and Georgia stood aside.

However, she did not expect to see Robert come over from the corner and saw her as well.

"Georgia, you can go in now."

Georgia moved her eyes away from Robert and walked directly into the box. The the box door was immediately closed.

Robert froze in place.

The woman was dressed up so sexily. Was she trying to seduce the wild men out there?

He was somehow angry.

But why should he care about this woman!

He scolded himself, quickened his pace and then entered his box.

Jason asked with curiosity, seeing Robert's gloomy face

"What is wrong with you? Has someone annoyed you?"

Robert did not want to mention that woman. He shook his head and did not intend to answer.

Jason did not ask much, but Jasper laughed, seeing that everyone was here.

"Let's play Five Card Stud. I'll ask the boss to call Georgia over to deal. I like to watch her deal."

Robert nodded silently.

Jason had no problem with it.

However, after Jasper finished his call, he sighed to the two men.

"The director of the club told me that Georgia is in the other box. Let's just play by ourselves..."

As Jasper said that, Robert's facial expression became gloomier.

This woman took off her clothes to seduce him yesterday, and now she was wearing so little to go to another box.

What a shameless woman!

He should have known she was just a vain woman.

As Georgia entered the box, she froze.

Inside the box sat two men, including a middle-aged man named Chester Rogers, Mr. Rogers almost got her in that year.

The other man should be Mr. Knight.

Mr. Knight was more than forty years old. His face was angular and domineering. He was in a black suit and looked casual.

There were other women inside the box. The arrival of Georgia did not cause attention to Mr. Knight.

On the contrary, Chester had been fixing his eyes on her.

Subconsciously, Georgia directly walked to Mr. Knight and poured wine for him.

Laurence Knight looked at this young woman who was close to him, and then at Chester's eyes. He couldn't help smiling.

"Chester, is this your woman?"

Chapter 12 Collusion

Georgia did not expect Mr. Knight to say that.

She was ready to sacrifice herself, but if it was Chester, Georgia would rather die.

Her miserable life began when Chester tried to possess her.

"Mr. Knight, this woman is a stray cat that escaped from my house. I have been looking for her for several years, but she is hiding here..."

Chester's voice gradually became some gloomy and cold.

Georgia only felt that her whole body was braving fine cold sweat.

What was more, Mr. Knight had no interest in her at all.

Perhaps, this man would soon throw her to Chester!

The fear in her heart gradually expanded. Georgia had no time to think too much, she poured a glass of wine directly, and then showed a gorgeous smile to Mr. Knight.

"Mr. Knight, Mr. Rogers lied, I'm not his woman..."

"Oh?"

Mr. Knight raised his eyebrows and smiled, looking interested.

Georgia tightly bit her tongue tip, pressed her lips and finally she said.

"I admire you for long. Mr. Knight, how do you feel about me?"

As Georgia finished her words, Laurence laughed aloud.

As for Chester, his line of sight was like a venomous snake. Georgia only felt like sore on the back.

"Chester, she is just a stray cat, why do you care so much?"

For a long time, Laurence said to Chester in a low voice, which was of majesty.

Chester would not do something impulse for a woman, what was more, he still needed help from Laurence.

He would deal with this woman in the future.

"Mr. Knight, it is her blessing that you have a crush on her."

In an hour, Chester had been talking business with Laurence.

Occasionally, Chester would take fierce look at Georgia, however, he did not do anything to her.

Georgia sat obediently beside Laurence and poured the wine.

When it was over, Chester was the first to leave the box.

He found a quiet spot and called Emma.

"I saw Georgia, when did she get out of prison?"

Chester's words were like a thunder, which darkened Emma's face suddenly.

"She should be in prison for eight years and now she's only been in there for six. Are you sure you saw her?"

"Emma, I'm not blind yet..."

Chester scoffed and told her that she saw Georgia in the box.

"The reputation of Mr. Knight was not good, we don't have to fear him.

Chester, didn't you want to get her in those days? Now she has no one to rely on, it is your opportunity."

Emma bewitched him.

She did not want Georgia to appear in front of her. She hoped this woman could be shut up immediately by the freak Chester and had better be tortured to die.

"Emma, you are scorpion. You want to destroy Georgia, why should I help you?"

Chester just wanted to confirm the news of Georgia with Emma. But since she knew nothing, he did not want to waste time.

As Chester was ready to hang up the phone, Emma's voice suddenly become very bleak and cold.

"Chester, if you are not willing to deal with Georgia, I can only tell Robert that you bully me, guess your consequence."

"Are you threatening me?"

Chester's face became dark too.

"Chester, I am not. Georgia is beautiful, isn't that good if she is your woman?"

Remembering that six years ago this woman used Robert's influence to nearly bankrupt his company, Chester took several deep breaths before continuing.

"I understand your request, but Emma, enough is enough, otherwise, I don't mind go to hell together with you!"

Chapter 13 How can You be so Cheap?

After hanging up with Chester, Emma still looked gloomy. Her red fingernail even was broken when she clenched her fist.

"Emma, what happened? How do I feel it is related to Georgia? Has she been out of prison?"

Flora asked with concern. Emma answered softly, looking at her mother.

"Mom, Georgia should be commuted for two years. She was released from prison ahead of schedule....."

Hearing that, Flora's face darkened.

"We can't let bitch go home. If she knows what happened that year, we will be screwed."

Emma sure knew that. As Robert's fiancée, she had a wonderful life.

Emma would not allow anyone to ruin her present life.

"Mom, don't worry, I have threatened Chester to deal with Georgia. However, Chester alone is not enough, our staff also have to investigate the situation of Georgia. If necessary, we have to kill her."

"Why didn't she die in prison?"

Flora cursed. The car accident killer was her son and she took a lot of effort to frame Georgia as a murderer.

She would not allow Georgia to go back.

On the other side, Georgia and Mr. Knight were inside the box.

Laurence asked all the people inside the box to leave and then looked at Georgia.

"Money, fame, or something?"

Mr. Knight's face was calm. He was a calm man and any beautiful women were only plaything to him.

Georgia knew only she was honest, she could have an opportunity.

"I want to ask the internationally famous Dr. Ivan to help me with the operation. If you can help me, I can do anything."

"You are clever."

Mr. Knight finally seriously looked at her face.

She had beautiful features and a good figure.

But she looked like a person.

The woman who was long dead in his memory.

"I've heard of Dr. Ivan too, but I can't promise I can get in touch with him. Are you sure you want my help?"

Perhaps by the influence of his memory, Mr. Knight did not want to play with her but chose to be frank.

He could play with many women except the one who looked like her.

Georgia suddenly became silent. If Mr. Knight could not help, she could only come to others.

Georgia's silence made Laurence chuckle.

"Here's my phone. Save your phone number. If I ever get in touch with Dr. Ivan, I'll call you."

Georgia felt Mr. Knight was friendly to her.

Although she did not know why, she had a gleam of hope, so she saved Mr. Knight's phone number.

The night wind was cool. Georgia saw off Mr. Knight at the door.

After the black lengthened Lincoln had disappeared in her vision, Georgia turned back to the club, but, but as she turned, she found standing in front of her.

"You failed to seduce and now you turn to Laurence. Why are you so cheap?"

The man looked sullen and angry as there was flame in his eyes.

Georgia ignored his roar, and made a detour and intended to take another way.

"Why don't you answer my question? Is that easy for a powerful man to make you take your clothes off?"

Chapter 14 You Want to Keep Me?

Robert held Georgia's wrist and said angrily.

Georgia stopped walking, turned sideways, and then fixed her eyes on Robert.

"I would do anything, including taking off my clothes, if anyone could help me find Dr. Ivan. Mr. Simpson, I am a cheap woman, please get out of my way, I don't want to pollute your eyes."

With that, Georgia coldly shook off Robert's hand, and then walked away.

Robert stood there, with that picture of Georgia smiling at Laurence in his mind.

This woman!

How could she smile happily to other men?

Robert quickened his pace and stopped in front of Georgia.

"Mr. Simpson, I do not owe you anything. You again and again blocked in my way, what do you want?"

Georgia's eyes were like ice.

She could not forget the humiliation brought to her by this man. She had decided to give up everything, but, the man mocked at her with sarcasm, crushing the last ridiculous self-esteem in her heart.

"Woman, don't you want my help? I'll put you in touch with Dr. Ivan, if you'll be my woman."

Georgia could not help but sneer.

"If I am right, you have fiancée. What, you need a mistress, so you want to keep me?"

"Gigi, don't be enigmatical. It was you seduced me, I now just give you a chance."

Robert said calmly.

He finally understood why he was angry.

Since he could not accept the fact that other men taking possession of this woman, he would rob her.

"I am really sorry, I have already had other man now. Mr. Simpson, you are not the owner of the world."

Georgia knew that Mr. Knight's help may not be successful.

However, she did not want to beg him.

Robert again and again humiliated her. It was enough.

More importantly, she did not believe that Robert was really willing to help her. She preferred to believe that the man was planning to play with her.

After sneering, Georgia did not take another look at this man but continued to move on.

"Dr. Ivan's real name was Ivan Simpson, he is my cousin. Even if other men contacts Dr. Ivan for you, I can stop him from arranging an operation by one call."

His voice was so calm.

Georgia froze. She did not turn around, but answered coldly.

With that, Georgia moved on.

However, Robert's words were like nailed in Georgia's mind.

She did not dare to explore the truth, but vaguely felt that Robert was telling her the truth.

Finally, Georgia made a phone call to Mr. Knight.

"I get a message that Dr. Ivan's real name was Ivan Simpson, Robert Simpson's cousin. Can you check if it is true or false?"

Mr. Knight did not refuse and asked her to wait patiently.

Georgia returned to the hospital to accompany Annie and waited patiently for the news of Mr. Knight.

Three days later, Georgia got the exact news of Mr. Knight.

Robert was true. The real name of Dr. Ivan was really Ivan Simpson, and they were cousins.

Fate seemed to be joking with her, in the end, she still should go back to Robert.

Georgia sat in a daze at home for a night.

In the next morning, she came to the hospital.

"Auntie Georgia, why are you so pale on face? I don't need company. If you don't feel well, you can go back to sleep."

Vanessa had to go to work during the day, so Georgia had been with Annie.

Looking at her sensible daughter, she remembered that the doctor told her Annie's situation was becoming worse and the success rate of the operation was small.

Georgia held back her tears and hugged Annie tightly.

"Annie, I am fine. I am not in a good mood, so talk to me, ok?"

Annie agreed and had been talking to her.

In the evening, Georgia left when Vanessa came to the hospital after work.

When she walked out of the hospital, Georgia decided to find Robert.

However, as she picked up the mobile phone, she felt pain in the back of her head and then fell to the ground.

Chapter 15 Who was the Man that Night?

When she woke up, it was dark outside the window.

Georgia remembered she was knocked unconscious and taken away.

She tried to move and found she was free to move. She got up from the bed. Before she had any action, the indoor light suddenly lit up.

"Miss Lane, Mr. Knight is waiting for you downstairs."

The servant, dressed in black, stood at the door of the bedroom, said in a gentle and polite voice.

Georgia had doubts, but she could have to put on clothes and shoes, and then came to the downstairs with the servant.

In the living room on the first floor, Laurence sat on the sofa and closed his eyes to rest. When Georgia arrived, Laurence opened his eyes.

"Sit down."

Georgia sat down as he required, and Laurence spoke gently.

"Do you have a lot of questions?"

Georgia nodded, but did not say anything. She did not understand why Mr. Knight stunned her and taken her here.

"It is not me who stunned you. It is Chester. He dates you and took action to you."

Georgia believed Mr. Knight, but, why was she here with Mr. Knight?

Laurence saw through Georgia's mind. He motioned the person standing next to him. Then Chester was thrown to the front of Georgia and Laurence with his body tied.

"I have been monitoring Chester's every move. My men found you were captured by Chester, so they saved you."

Georgia did not understand what happened between Mr. Knight and Chester.

She wanted to know why Chester tried to deal with her again and again. Was it just because she was beautiful?

"Mr. Knight, thank you, can you take off the rag in Chester's mouth? I have a few questions to him."

Laurence motioned to his man. Immediately, the bodyguard who stood beside Chester took off the rag in Chester's mouth.

"Laurence, you son of a bitch, I sincerely want to cooperate with you, but you betrayed me!"

Laurence faintly took a glimpse at Chester. The bodyguard who stood beside Chester hit the abdomen of Chester with a fist.

Chester screamed out of pain and spit out blood.

He still looked at Laurence with ferocious and resentful eyes, but he did not dare to say anything provocative.

Georgia stood up and then walked to Chester.

"Chester, I did not offend you, but in the past six years, you had been forcing me, and now why you still not let go of me?"

Chester's look was fierce. He did not answer Georgia, and his abdomen was kicked by bodyguard mercilessly.

Not only that, the bodyguard lifted Chester up and fell him to the ground.

Chester felt that his insides would be broken.

Looking at Georgia, Chester finally said unwillingly.

"Georgia, you still ask me that kind of questions, no wonder you were fooled by Emma!"

Chester's voice was full of sarcasm.

Georgia had guessed that it was Emma targeting her, or it was Flora and Owen.

She just did not understand, since she had no power, why Emma did not give up.

"Why does Emma still not let me go?"

Chester sneered and did not say anything. The bodyguard once again kicked to Chester's abdomen.

He coughed out a mouthful of blood and then he said.

"Six years ago, you did not come to my bed but to someone else's. Georgia, do you know who that man was?"

Chapter 16 It was Him

"Do you know who he is?"

Georgia tried to keep her voice calm, but, Chester's words made her stiff.

Chester laughed ironically.

"You know what? Emma is now Robert's fiancée, and that man on that night is Robert. Think carefully, why Emma became Robert's fiancée? Do I need to explain to you?"

Robert?

How was that possible!

Georgia dared not believe it, but Chester did not seem to lie to her.

"Chester, if it is true, so you want to kill me this time?"

Chester did not answer, and Georgia asked again.

"What Emma promised you? Why are you willing to kill me?"

Chester said in a cold voice.

"Emma didn't tell me to kill you, she just told me to make you my woman, make you my slave, so that you can never escape. Emma is Robert's fiancée. If I do not agree with her, she would ask Robert to destroy my career which I have been striving for years!"

Georgia closed her eyes. She felt so angry about that.

Since childhood, her father and stepmother were cold to her, Emma and Eden Lane liked to bully her.

She had been enduring it, telling herself that it was difficult for her father to be in the middle, and that it would be better for everyone if she grew up and left home early.

However, her father sent her to Chester.

Later, she was sent to prison.

Although she did not know the truth of those days, Georgia was clear that the traffic accident was related to the Lane family.

For her child, Georgia decided to put down hatred after she was released from prison.

However, these people did not let her go!

She grasped her palm, trying to control herself.

Georgia had the impulse to rush to Owen and asked him when they would let go of her!

"Mr. Knight, take him away. I don't want to see him."

Georgia's body was trembling. She felt pathetic and ridiculous about her life of more than twenty years.

After Chester was taken away, Laurence stood up to leave and decided to give this woman some privacy.

Georgia was silent for more than half an hour, then she adjusted her mood, opened her eyes and stood up from the sofa.

When she walked out of the door, she saw Mr. Knight stood at the door with a cigarette.

Seeing Georgia come out, Mr. Knight asked.

"Are you ok?"

Georgia smiled sadly.

"Mr. Knight, I am useless. Up to now, I dare not take revenge."

Laurence did not speak, but quietly looked at the sky in the distance.

A moment later, he said.

"If you need help, I'll do my best to help you."

Georgia felt the goodwill of Mr. Knight.

"Mr. Knight, why are you willing to help me?"

Mr. Knight was ruthless as rumor went. Georgia thought she was not that beautiful to attract Mr. Knight.

“Perhaps because you look like an old friend of mine.”

Mr. Knight said and signed.

Georgia did not ask much but felt gratitude.

"Mr. Knight, thank you, but there are some things I can only do myself."

Dr. Ivan was Robert's cousin, so Mr. Knight could not help.

Georgia had to find Robert.

Regardless of whether Chester's story was true or not, Georgia took the car to Robert's villa again.

Chapter 17 We Have a Daughter

Emma hung up the telephone with sullen face.

"Mom, Chester failed, that bitch was lucky. Laurence saved her, and Chester could not protect himself!"

Flora became flustered in an instant.

"Now what should we do? Chester saw Georgia in the monitor, so he knows the reason you became Robert's fiancée. Will he can tell Georgia?"

"Mom, I have long destroyed the monitor, so Chester has no evidence. Now the most important thing is that Georgia has hooked up with Robert, and she is on her way to his villa. I have to go there, otherwise our efforts of these years will be ruined!"

When she arrived at Robert's villa, it was dark.

Georgia knocked at the door. The butler saw Georgia and did not stop her but said deferentially to her.

"Mr. Simpson asked you to go straight to his study."

Georgia was stunned that Robert had been waiting for her.

Yeah, Dr. Ivan was his cousin, so he just needed to wait for her.

Her heart was complex. Georgia followed the butler came to the study of Robert.

The study was very broad. After Georgia walked in, the butler closed the study door, and Robert stood up from chair.

He didn't say anything but walked closer step by step.

Georgia's heart beat violently.

She felt every step of his foot on her heart.

With weightlessness, before she had any move, she was directly picked up by Robert.

Georgia subconsciously put her arms around the man's neck. He became more and more nervous.

"You let me go."

Georgia stammered, and Robert chuckled.

"I thought you came here because you agreed to be my woman. Gigi, it's a deal. If you refuse now, I'll ask the butler to send you away. But after that, even if you climb into my bed, I won't help you contact Ivan."

Georgia stopped floundering in an instant.

Seeing that, Robert smiled satisfactorily.

"Good girl..."

Robert said and put Georgia on bed in the study.

Georgia said and confirmed.

"Robert, are you really going to help me contact Ivan and get him to agree to the operation?"

Robert bowed his head and kissed Georgia's forehead.

He was in a good mood now, even his voice softened.

"Sure."

Georgia closed her eyes. She could do anything for Annie.

The man's kisses fell on her face. Georgia felt itchy and had a strange feeling.

This man was very gentle, as if he cared and cherished.

But why?

Georgia laughed at herself with self-mockery.

He seemed to have sensed that she did not focus, and gently bit her neck.

Subconsciously she opened her eyes and saw desire in the man's eyes.

There was only quiet eagerness, not tenderness she had misunderstood!

They looked at each other. As Georgia tried to speak, the door of the study was knocked violently, and the knocking became louder and louder.

Robert looked gloomy. He got up and went to the door and opened it.

Emma stood at the door and her eyes were full of indignation.

And the butler stood beside Emma, looking at Robert regrettably.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Simpson, but Miss Lane moved so fast that I couldn't stop her."

Georgia went to the door. Seeing it was Emma, she subconsciously felt something wrong.

How could Emma come at this time?

Robert was angry. He usually had been a gentleman, but, Emma annoyed him this time.

"Emma, don't think I won't break off the engagement, get out!"

Feeling wronged, Emma took a look at Robert, and then at Georgia angrily.

"Robert, I am your fiancée, am I not qualified to ask why you are with her?"

Robert was most tired of jealous women. Emma had been dignified and polite before, now she showed her real face.

"Emma, we have not got married, you still have no right to mind my business."

Emma cried aloud.

"Robert, if you are with another woman, I absolutely will be ok with that, but, how can you be with woman?"

Emma said and looked at Georgia with disgust. It seemed that there were some secrets.

"Emma, I will cancel the engagement, just wait."

Robert did not want to entangle with Emma. He said coldly and was ready to let the butler drive Emma out.

However, Emma cried out painfully.

"Robert, this woman is Georgia Lane, my half-sister. Do you want to be with a woman who killed your younger sister?"

It was like a thunder, instantly blasting in Robert and Georgia's head.

Georgia finally understood the reason why Emma came here. Before she said anything, Robert had been looking at her maliciously.

"Who are you?"

Georgia showed a bitter smile.

"She is right, my name is Georgia Lane, her half-sister..."

As Georgia finished her words, Robert took one step forward and ruthlessly caught Georgia's neck.

His face was ferocious. His sister's miserable face came occur to his mind. His voice was cruel.

"Do you approach me with purpose?"

He grabbed her neck harder and harder, and Georgia could hardly breathe.

She cast a sidelong glance at Emma, who was smirking as if mocking her foolishness.

"Georgia, what do you think you are? My sister is dead and you're still alive. I tell you, Dr. Ivan will never help you, and I don't want to see you again. Get out!"

Robert let go of Georgia. He turned his back to her and did not want to see her.

Georgia felt limp and fell on the ground. She wanted to explain, but the butler had come forward and was ready to throw her out.

Her daughter's pale face came occur to her mind. She used all her strength and knelt in front of Robert, pulling the man's trouser leg!

"Robert, the car accident was not caused by me. And the woman who had sex with you six years ago was not Emma, it was me, and we have a daughter....."

Chapter 18 Paternity Test

Georgia said with hard breath.

Emma's complexion changed greatly. Robert took a sharp look at Georgia.

"Georgia, what did you say?"

"Robert, please... Please save our daughter..."

Georgia begged. She did not care about the plot of Emma or what happened to Robert's sister.

Georgia just wanted Robert to contact Dr. Ivan to save Annie.

Robert looked coldly at Emma.

"Emma, what Georgia said is true?"

Emma felt her palms trembling and her back oozing cold sweat.

"Robert, do believe Georgia who killed your younger sister or me who have been your fiancée for six years?"

Emma tried to be calm. She must not be exposed at this time.

"Emma, I'm just giving you a chance. If what Georgia said is true, I'm giving you a chance to explain now. I don't think you want to have the consequences of cheating on me."

Robert stared at the expression of Emma.

Deep down, he even hoped that what Georgia said was true.

"Robert, Georgia likes to snatch my thing since childhood, and it became severe when we grew up. She stole everyman I liked. You are just a tool to her!"

Emma roared angrily, as if she was really wronged.

Georgia stared at Emma and sneered.

"Emma, you still are good at lying."

“Enough!”

Robert directly roared.

Subsequently, Robert looked at Georgia coldly.

"Georgia, it is easy to tell if your words are true or false. Since you said we have a daughter, bring her here and I'll take a paternity test with her, dare you?"

‘Dare you?’

Georgia asked herself too. She subconsciously looked at Emma.

She was the same in her memory. Whenever she was to fail to frame her, Emma dared not look straight at her.

"I dare."

Georgia looked to Robert and said aloud.

“Don't you regret it!”

Robert's line of sight was sinister. His mind constantly recalled that his sister was bloody in the car accident.

He grew up with his sister, and she died in a car accident.

Robert hated that.

"Robert, this woman is a liar. What if she bribes the doctor and falsifies the paternity test?"

Emma suddenly said.

She did not know Georgia actually had a child.

If so, she was done!

She had to find a way to sabotage this paternity test.

Georgia looked at Emma and knew she feared.

Georgia had confidence.

"Robert, I have a condition to do paternity test."

Georgia's eyes were serious. She could not suffer failure.

"Georgia, don't test my patience!"

Robert looked at the two women in front of him. He didn't believe either.

"Robert, can you make sure that the paternity test institution will not be known by anyone, including Emma and I?"

Georgia always felt Emma would destroy the paternity test.

She was panic and could only let Robert have the secret paternity test.

"I understand what you mean. Where is the child? I will immediately arrange it."

Hearing that, Emma suddenly burst into tears.

"Robert, I am your fiancée. We have been together for six years, and you don't believe me."

With that, she turned and ran out sobbing.

It was the first time Robert saw Emma acting like this. Was Georgia really lying?

He recalled the first acquaintance with Georgia and the later several encounters.

This woman came to him for several times. At that time, Georgia deliberately concealed her name to mess around with him.

"Robert, may I ask you something?"

Georgia suddenly said.

"Georgia, before the paternity test, don't play tricks."

Georgia showed a wry smile, thinking only of Annie's weak condition.

"Annie had a heart attack when she was born in prison. Prison is not suitable for her to grow up in. I had no choice but to ask my friends to take care of her."

Robert did not understand.

"I mean, Annie doesn't know I'm her mother, so when you meet her, including during the paternity test, can you keep it a secret and not talk about adult's business in front of her?"

Robert looked at Georgia earnestly. Her eyes were full of implore.

"I see, and you may rest assured that I will not appear to her until I have proved that she is my daughter."

Georgia took a sigh of relief. Robert said coldly.

"And if you lied, I'll never get Dr. Ivan to agree to operate on your daughter, understand?"

"Robert!"

Georgia shouted anxiously. Robert's face was cold.

"Georgia, at least for now, you are still the car accident murderer who killed my sister. I don't kill you now because you said we have a daughter. Remember, if you lied about it, I won't give you another chance."

Robert said coldly before he walked out.

Georgia stood in situ, but Robert's cold voice was heard again.

"Follow up, don't you dare to do a paternity test?"

"No, Annie is now in the hospital. Have you decided which hospital to do the test?"

Georgia ran forward and asked Robert.

"It's not for you to worry about. You just need to take me to the hospital where your daughter is now."

After Georgia told him the hospital, Robert went to one side and made a phone call.

After that, they took a car to the hospital.

After Emma ran out of Robert's villa, she called her mother immediately.

"Mom, hurry to find someone to help. Georgia knew it was her at that night and gave birth to a daughter. Robert is now going to do a paternity test with that child, what should we do?"

Flora turned pale on face.

"Emma, go home right now. I will ask your father to come back, and we can let Robert find out."

Emma drove home quickly.

Flora and Owen had been waiting in the living room, with serious faces.

"What is going on? It is not clear over the phone. Tell me and your dad!"

As soon as Flora saw her daughter back, she asked anxiously.

Emma told then what happened in Robert's villa.

"How did Georgia know about that night?"

Owen asked with a cold face.

Emma recalled carefully. Georgia was almost captured by Chester, but something happened in the middle, and Chester was captured by Mr. Knight.

Now it seemed that it was Chester told her.

"Dad, it must be Chester!"

Emma told him that Georgia was out of prison and had met Robert.

Owen directly gave a slap on the face of Emma.

"Foolish!"

"Clearly Chester guessed what happened that year, how can you let them meet? What does know, does he have the evidence?"

Emma regretted extremely.

She did not want to get her hand dirty, so she came to threat Chester to get rid of Georgia.

She did not expect that Georgia came to Mr. Knight after she was out of prison.

"Dad, Chester has no evidence. Now the most important is the paternity test. As long as it is proved that Georgia's daughter is Robert, I will be in trouble!"

Emma was so anxious that her body was trembling.

The paternity test would more than a day, and Robert was a thoughtful person.

Even if she wanted to destroy the test, Emma did not know how she should do!

The Lane family was wealthy in these years because of Robert. Owen knew that something should not be found out by Robert.

Georgia had left, he must keep Emma as Robert's fiancée.

"A lie come become true if you say it for a thousand time. Georgia got help from Laurence. Emma, you have to let Georgia firmly believe that you have a way to destroy the paternity test, then she will naturally ask Laurence for help. As long as Laurence helped her, Robert won't believe any word of Georgia."

Emma hesitated.

"Dad, are you sure that Robert will not believe Georgia because of Laurence?"

"Laurence and the Simpson family had been infighting for several years. If Robert knows Georgia has Laurence to support her, he will be more and more careful and certainly will find several hospitals to do paternity test. As long as we find a way to falsify in one of them, Robert will believe that the child is not his."

Emma and her parents discussed the countermeasures. Georgia took Robert to the hospital.

On the way, Georgia had already told Vanessa her intention to come with Robert.

Annie was still small and was afraid to draw blood. Vanessa had been comforting her.

"Do you want to see her?"

Standing in the parking lot of the hospital, Georgia anxiously asked.

To tell the truth, Georgia now felt amazing that Annie was actually her daughter and Robert's.

Georgia had a complex feeling toward Robert now.

"Georgia, even if you were that person, even if we have a daughter, you still are the murderer killed my younger sister. The child will not protect you."

Georgia's heart became cold.

"I told you, I didn't do it."

Chapter 19 Father and Daughter

Robert had read the case record of his sister's car accident.

The car was Georgia's. Georgia was in the driver's seat and drunk.

Coupled with the automobile data recorder, he believed the killer was Georgia.

"Unless you have proof that someone else did it."

Robert said coldly, and then he headed for the elevator.

Georgia only felt stuffy. If she had the evidence, how would she spend six years in prison?

They took the elevator to the laboratory on the sixth floor.

"Do you want a test at this hospital?"

Georgia questioned with doubts.

She had thought that Robert would be careful and not trust the hospital where Annie stayed.

"I have my plan. Provide blood sample of your daughter."

Georgia did not ask more. She watched Robert leave his blood sample in the laboratory.

When it was all over, Robert stood up directly.

"I will arrange the follow-up work. You just need to ask your daughter to draw blood."

Robert said, stood up and was ready to leave.

Georgia looked at the figure of Robert far away, she only felt that there was a chill rising from her soles.

It was as if something bad was about to happen.

After that, Georgia and Vanessa took Annie to draw blood in the laboratory.

They comforted Annie, who was crying after drawing blood. It was not until Annie fell asleep that Georgia and Vanessa came to a secluded part of the corridor to talk.

"What is going on? You said on the telephone that you have found Annie's father and asked him to have paternity test. Georgia, will he take Annie away?"

Vanessa completely regarded Annie as her own daughter. She could accept that Annie was taken away.

"Vanessa, he is Robert Simpson, Dr. Ivan is Ivan Simpson. They are cousins. If the paternity test proves that Annie is Robert's daughter, there will be no problem with Annie's operation."

Georgia's tone had a trace of sadness.

The Simpson family is powerful. If it were not Ann sick, she would certainly not expose Annie's identity.

However, compared to the fact that Annie left her, Georgia would rather her daughter to live.

Vanessa understood the meaning of Georgia's words, and her tears began to flow down.

"Georgia, I understand, as long as Annie can live, I am willing to do anything. Nothing is more important than living."

Georgia held Vanessa and wept.

In those years, she and Vanessa got pregnant in the same year, but Vanessa's baby died after birth. Over the years, Annie was almost her psychological pillar.

They both had bad experiences.

In the evening, Vanessa went back home because she had to work tomorrow morning, so Georgia stayed in the hospital.

When Georgia was playing chess with Annie, the ward door was knocked open.

Georgia turned and found that it was Emma.

Georgia's face changed greatly. She did not want to scare Annie, so she explained to Annie.

"Annie, I have a bad friend here. Wait quietly in the ward until I get rid of her and then come back to play chess with you."

Annie cleverly nodded. Georgia quickly came to the door.

She closed the door and asked coldly.

"Why are you here, Emma?"

Emma has calmed down. Even knowing that Robert had paternity test, she was now not flustered.

"Georgia, Dad heard that you had a daughter, so he asked me to confirm with you."

How could Owen care about her?

As long as Georgia thought of things in those days, she had not feeling for her father.

"Tell Owen, don't play tricks. If you dare to touch my daughter, I don't mind dragging you all to hell."

Emma smiled faintly.

"Georgia, I just want to warn you, don't think that with Mr. Knight's support, you can cheat on the paternity test. Robert most hates to be cheated. While the test report has not come out, you had better take your daughter away."

"Is Robert takes revenge, don't blame me for not reminding you."

Although she was accustomed to the shameless Emma, Georgia was still shocked to hear that.

"Emma, if you talk nonsense again, I will call the security guard to drive you out."

Emma sneered and turned around to leave.

After Emma left, Georgia felt something wrong.

Knowing that there would be a paternity test, Emma was panic in Robert's villa.

But, she still dared to provoke her personally, as if she was fearless.

Did she find a way to subvert the paternity test?

Thinking that Annie needed a surgery in a short time, Georgia was worried.

She thought it over and over, walked back and forth in the corridor, and finally made a call to Mr. Knight.

“What is it?”

Laurence answered the phone.

"Mr. Knight, I need your help ..."

Georgia told him the matter between her and Robert briefly.

"Annie needs an operation immediately, it can't be delayed. Mr. Knight, can you help me to stop the Lane family from making trouble? I have to make sure the paternity test is true, or Robert won't let Dr. Ivan operate on my daughter."

Mr. Knight did not answer immediately, which made Georgia worried.

"I can help you, but you have to agree me on something."

Mr. Knight said after a while.

"Mr. Knight, please go ahead."

"When your daughter's operation is successful, come to work for me, you can rest assured that I will pay you at high cost."

Georgia felt it strange, but, Annie's healthy was much more important.

Georgia agreed to Mr. Knight's requirements.

In the next afternoon, a doctor called Emma as soon as the paternity test report came out.

"What do you mean? They are not father and daughter, are you sure?"

Emma almost could not control her shocked voice. After repeatedly confirming that she did not make a mistake, Emma came to Owen excitedly.

"Dad, that paternity test report came out. Georgia's daughter is Robert's daughter."

Emma said beamingly.

Owen was excited, but a moment later, he pondered.

"Since it was the true, whether there are other reasons or not... Emma, find a way and make Robert think that Georgia's daughter is his daughter, and get him angry at you..."

Chapter 20 I will Make Him Feel Guilty about Me

"Dad, are you crazy? Let Robert mistakenly think Georgia's daughter is his, he will certainly retaliate us!"

Emma's voice became sharp in shock.

"Emma, don't you want Robert feel guilty about you and marry you as soon as possible to compensate you."

"Dad, what do you mean?"

"You have been waiting for six years. If a man wants to marry you, he won't wait that long."

Hearing that, Emma turned pale on face.

"Emma, rather than wait until Robert breaks off the engagement, it is better for us to take measure. Georgia's daughter is not Robert's daughter anyway. Let Robert misunderstand us, sure he certainly will let us suffer, but it is temporary."

"When Robert knew the truth and found that Laurence and Georgia are in mischief, he will take revenge."

There was a bleak cold smile on Owen's face, and Emma was excited.

She wanted to marry Robert, she must marry this man.

"I see what you mean, Dad. I will take care of it. When Robert sees the report, he will hate me. And then he will feel very guilty."

At eight o'clock in the morning, Annie and Georgia were already awake. They were having porridge.

The porridge was brought by Vanessa in the morning before she went to work.

When Vanessa got off work in the afternoon, Georgia went to the club to work.

She had asked too many days off these days. Annie's illness needed too much money, Georgia had to work to earn more money.

Only with money in her bank card, could Georgia have a sense of security.

After they finished their porridge, Georgia was going to push Annie to the hospital garden for a walk.

"Annie, do you want to go to the lake or the pavilion, I will take you out there for a walk."

Georgia held Annie sit in the wheelchair.

"Auntie Georgia, let's go to the stone bench in the pavilion. Can I take the chess out? I want to play chess with you."

"Of course. I like playing chess with you, too."

Georgia squatted down in front of Annie, and then kissed Annie on the cheek.

Annie's cheeks turned blushed in an instant.

She liked Auntie Georgia, so, she kissed Georgia's cheek too.

"Auntie Georgia, take the chess, let's play for a while."

Georgia put the chess box under the wheelchair, and then she took a box of tissues and a bottle of water.

After everything was done, Georgia pushed Annie out of the ward.

They sat down at stone bench in the pavilion. Georgia set out the chess and began to play chess.

The air in the morning was good, and not far from the hospital there were some old men and women doing tai chi.

After playing chess for a while, Annie suddenly said.

"Auntie Georgia, I want to use the bathroom."

Georgia immediately packed up things and was ready to go to the bathroom with Annie.

However, Vanessa made a phone call to her.

On the other end of the phone, Vanessa was crying.

"Georgia, he...he's back..."

Georgia immediately understood what Vanessa meant.

Vanessa's ex-boyfriend Alfred Chow was back.

They loved each other deeply but they had bad experience in breaking up. Vanessa must be devastated now.

"Vanessa, don't be afraid, you have broken up. The past is long past, those were nightmares, no one will hurt you."

Vanessa cried on the phone sadly.

Georgia was worried.

Vanessa's condition was so bad that Georgia was really worried about her.

She comforted Vanessa on the phone and took Annie to the bathroom.

When Annie came out from the bathroom, Vanessa screamed, and no one spoke on the phone.

Georgia was very worried. She was afraid of something happened to Vanessa.

"Annie, I have something urgent to deal with. And I will be out for an hour. Can you stay in the ward and play games?"

After much thought, Georgia still decided that she should go to see Vanessa in person and take her to the hospital.

Georgia was anxious that Vanessa was alone.

"Auntie Georgia, you can go. I will wait for you in the hospital."

Ann was very sensible and immediately agreed to Georgia's request.

"Annie, I am leaving, stay in the ward and don't go anywhere."

After that, Georgia immediately ran out of the hospital with her bag.

She took a taxi heading for Vanessa's company.

In the hospital, Annie took out her painting book, and then began to paint quietly.

After a while, there was a knock on the door.

Annie thought it was Auntie Georgia came back.

"Auntie Georgia, come in. Do you forget to take anything?"

Hearing the tender voice of the child, Robert's heart suddenly became very soft.

Robert was not clear what it was like to be a father.

Hearing the voice of the girl, he was glad and expected.

He opened the door and walked in.

In the ward, the girl's soft hair was on her shoulders. She had big and bright eyes. When she looked at him, his heart softened.

“Uncle, why are you here?”

Annie did not know this strange uncle, and she asked politely?

Robert knew this girl had a heart attack. Hearing that and thinking that she might be his daughter, he felt distressed.

Although he still had not yet got the report, he had got to know the fact that Georgia was in prison.

She did give birth in the prison and the time was right.

If this girl was his daughter, how could he stop feeling distressed?

“Annie, I am a doctor here, I come to check on you.”

“Uncle, where is your white coat?”

Annie asked with doubts.

Since she studied in Kindergarten, the teachers told her not to speak to strangers and not believe strangers easily.

Although she felt this man was nice, she was alert.

At this moment, Robert regretted that he did not disguise himself. What an idiot.

He thought Georgia was here.

But this girl was alone in the ward. She was not a qualified mother.

He had doubts in heart, but facing this pretty girl, he showed a smile.

“I am a new doctor here and have not changed my clothes yet. I just come to ask your condition.”

Annie looked at him doubtfully and nodded.

“Uncle, what do you want to know?”

“How do you feel now? Is it hurt?”

Robert came to the bed and got close to Annie.

“Uncle, my heart will hurt sometimes. I am ok, Mom and Auntie Georgia said as long as my operation is successful, I will not hurt anymore.”

Annie was just five years old. She had to suffer such pain since she was born. Robert could not help but feel distressed.

"Annie, the operation is going to be a success."

Robert's voice was gentle. In the face of such a lovely petite girl, Robert remembered his sisters at her young age.

However, at the thought of Annie's mother, of his sister's car accident, Robert's became cold.

After a few words with Annie, his mobile phone rang.

"Secretary Dean, what is it?"

"Mr. Simpson, the paternity test report came out, Annie is your daughter."

Robert froze instantly and after a long time, he said.

"Are you sure the report is true?"

"Mr. Simpson, I have repeatedly confirmed about it. You are indeed Annie's father."

"When is the paternity test from the United States coming out?"

Robert did not want any mistake in the paternity test, so he had sent one of the blood samples to the United States.

Robert could rest assured only when several hospitals confirmed that they were father and daughter.

"Mr. Simpson, the blood sample just arrived in the United States this morning, and it is estimated the result will come out in three days."

"I see. Keep it a secret and don't tell anyone."

After hanging up the phone with Secretary Dean, Robert looked at the girl again, and could not suppress his love to her.

If the result was true, she was his daughter.

Robert subconsciously stepped forward and tightly hugged Annie.

"Uncle, let me go..."

Annie felt this doctor was weird. He asked her some strange questions.

Now he hugged her. She became alert and felt he had a problem.

Robert let go of Annie and showed a smile regrettably.

“Annie, I was too excited. Don’t misunderstand. I liked to you, actually it is my brother will have operation on you. He asked me to visit the patient.”

Was that so?

Annie looked at him with doubts, pressed her lips and did not say a word.

Robert felt he was impulsive. He wanted to continue to communicate with Annie.

But as the thought that Annie had a heart attack, Robert stood up.

“Annie, I will come to see you again. Auntie Georgia and I are friends. Take a rest now, I will go find your mother.”

With that, he walked out of the ward reluctantly and took out his phone to call his brother.

Chapter 21 I'd rather He Hated Me

"What's up, brother?"

When the phone was put through, Ivan asked in the phone.

"Hurry to come back, there's a little girl needs you to operate on her."

Hearing that, Ivan laughed.

"Brother, I am not your subordinate and I am very busy. If you want me to personally perform an operation, I should be in a good mood."

People all over the world wanted him to perform the operation, Ivan felt he was busy.

Obviously others could do it, but because his operation success rate was the highest, everyone came to him, which annoyed him.

"Ivan, it is your niece, my daughter. Hurry up to go back to have the operation."

Robert shouted to his brother, which made Ivan shocked.

"Brother, when did you have a daughter? How old is the girl? Have you got married?"

Ivan knew his brother had a fiancée, but when did he have a daughter?

"She is five years old and has a heart attack. Hurry back. I have asked the doctor. Only you have the operation, she could be healthy."

Now Robert only cared about Annie, and temporarily put the fact that Georgia killed his sister in the car accident behind.

At this moment, Robert just wanted her daughter to recover as soon as possible.

"Brother, you even have illegitimate daughter. How about your fiancée? Who is the mother? Will you marry her?"

Ivan jested and said to his assistant.

"Book a flight home for me immediately."

His fiancée?

At the thought of Emma, Robert felt angry only.

This woman had fooled him for six years. If it were not his daughter, he would have gone to the Lane home.

“Ivan, don’t ask too much. Hurry back and have an operation for my daughter. And it is none of your business who I will marry.”

“Ok, ok, I have asked the assistant to book a flight. Don’t worry, I will get the operation ready after I see her medical record.”

After that, Robert hung up the phone.

He wanted to continue to talk to Annie, but he knew that Annie was alert to him.

He thought it would be better if Georgia introduced them.

At this thought, he made a call to Georgia.

Georgia had arrived in Vanessa’s company. After knowing that Vanessa was on the 25th floor, she took the elevator up.

But when she arrived to the 10th floor, she saw a group of people whispering.

Alfred and Rachel Scott were standing next to Vanessa.

Vanessa and Alfred were in a relationship when they studied in the university. And Rachel was Alfred's best friend. They quarreled a lot for Rachel.

It seemed that Alfred was still with Rachel.

In that year, Alfred left angrily and Vanessa almost got herself killed.

Was Alfred to take revenge on her?

Georgia came to them through the crowd. Alfred said.

“Vanessa, I have just heard that you are incapable and have a bad character. I am now here to inform you that I will fire you. Get the hell out of this, understand?”

Alfred’s voice was cold and his face was gloomy.

Vanessa burst into tears instantly.

Annie was now seriously ill. If she lost her job, what should she do?

Vanessa knelt down to Alfred.

“Alfred, please don’t fire me, I need this job.”

Vanessa was lowly and Georgia felt bitter in heart. As she was to speak, Alfred took a kettle and poured the water to Vanessa’s head.

“You are disgusting, I have this company and I fire you. Understand?”

Vanessa got her face wet with tea leaves, looking messy.

She did not expect that Alfred would come back and that he became her boss. He humiliated her and fired her in public.

“Alfred, this job is important to me....”

Vanessa continued to beg for mercy. Georgia rushed to her and pulled her up.

“Vanessa, he is humiliating you on purpose. It is useless to beg for mercy, go with me.”

Vanessa was panicked. And Georgia took her hand and pulled her out.

After a few steps, Rachel blocked in the front of them.

“Rachel, fuck off.”

Georgia still remembered this woman framed Vanessa. And she was still angry with Rachel.

“Miss Lane, Miss Cooke, I just want to give you an invitation. My engagement party with Alfred in the 15th next month. I hope you can be there. After all, we were classmates.”

With that, Georgia felt Vanessa’s hand trembling.

She took the invitation and sneered.

“Miss Scott, we will be there.”

And then, she took Vanessa to the elevator.

As they came out of the building, they took a taxi to the hospital.

Vanessa lost her dignity and leaned on Georgia, crying.

“Vanessa, it will be fine, it has past.”

Georgia patted Vanessa's back and comforted her.

The past was the pain in Vanessa's heart. Georgia felt that the painful memory was more suffering than that she was in prison for six years.

“Georgia, Alfred is back, I am afraid.”

“I was wrong. I broke up with him, but you know I had no other choice. If I broke up with him, I will hurt him.”

Vanessa cried louder and louder. She was not strong but pretended to be strong.

However, when she saw hatred in Alfred's eyes when he saw her, she felt her heart broken.

“Vanessa, you and Alfred have misunderstanding. I know you don't want to speak it out, but if you don't, he will hate you for the rest of his life.”

Georgia knew that they did not have a smooth relationship. Looking at Vanessa who was so sad, she wondered if hiding the truth was right.

“Georgia, don't tell him, never.”

Vanessa roared painfully.

“I would rather he hates me than he knows that I got raped by several men at a time. I would rather die, understand, Georgia?”

Georgia could not help but burst into tears.

“It is my fault, Vanessa. Don't worry, I won't tell him.”

They hugged each other. And then Georgia's phone rang.

It was Robert.

"The paternity test has come out. Annie is my daughter. I'm in the hospital. You come back right now.

Chapter 22 How Do You Have a Daughter?

Georgia felt her heart as if stopped.

She had been anxious for a day, now she finally felt relieved.

Thinking of Chester's discourse and Emma's tension, Georgia was afraid that it was their trap.

However, if she did not tell him that Annie was his daughter, he would not contact Dr. Ivan to have the operation.

She said Annie was Robert's daughter, but she was afraid that she was not.

If so, Robert would be angry, and Annie would completely lose hope of cure.

"I'm on the way back to the hospital. Wait for me."

After taking a deep breath, Georgia calmly answered Robert.

After hanging up the phone, Georgia burst into tears of joy.

"Vanessa, the paternity test report has come out. Annie is really Robert's and my daughter."

As Georgia said that, Vanessa who had originally immersed in sadness could not help but feel glad.

"Annie's operation is hopeful, Georgia, we finally have hope."

They adjusted their emotions. As the car arrived at the hospital, Georgia and Vanessa quickly came to the floor when Annie lived.

Robert stood in the middle of the corridor waiting silently, but Georgia suddenly had no courage to move forward for no reason.

Robert sensed she had come and turned to look at Georgia.

"Georgia, I go to talk with Annie, you chat with Mr. Simpson."

Vanessa knew that they needed to talk, and she walked toward Annie's ward after that.

"Georgia, let's walk downstairs, I have some things to confirm with you."

Robert's voice was low and steady. Georgia silently followed Robert behind and then they sat down in the hospital garden.

"Since Annie is my daughter, and she has a weak heart, have you thought about her future?"

Robert said and Georgia felt depressed.

She knew her daughter would be taken away after she told him the truth.

But it came so fast. Georgia could not restrain the pain in heart.

"Mr. Simpson, Annie does not know that I am her mother and thinks her mother is Vanessa. If I tell her the truth and send her to live in a strange place, I... I'm afraid she can't take it."

Robert was silent for a long time. He did not answer Georgia's questions. Georgia felt her heart sink.

"What was going on in that year?"

After a long time, Robert asked Georgia again.

"You..... what do you want to know?"

That absurd night in the hotel and the accident in the next day were related to Robert.

Georgia didn't even know where to start.

She didn't even know what the accident was about.

After all, when she woke up, the accident had already happened.

Georgia did not know the cause and effect.

"Tell me what happened after you met me that night."

Robert hoped that the car accident murderer was not Georgia, only in this way, he could face his daughter's mother without any psychological burden.

If Georgia could not explain the accident, Robert could not forgive the murderer who killed his sister.

"That night, I woke up in a room, drugged, soft... I escaped..."

Georgia's voice suddenly stuck when she said that.

In the front, Owen and Emma came toward her and Robert.

Six years ago, Owen, her biological father sent her to Chester's bed.

He failed in the first time, and in the second time, he even knocked her out with a wooden stick.

When recalling that, Georgia could not control the anger in her heart.

Robert found the arrival of Owen and Emma. Think of that he had been deceived by them for six years, Robert was angry.

"Don't move. I'll take care of them."

Georgia noticed Robert walked to Owen and Emma darkly.

"Robert, you...Why are you with Georgia?"

As Owen approached, he questioned Robert in surprise.

"Robert, do you really believe Georgia's words? She knows what happened that night, and she now lied to you."

Emma said to Robert with a sad face.

Seeing they play a show, Robert sneered.

"Emma, don't act, the paternity test report has come out. That child is my daughter, what else do you want to say?"

"How is that possible? Robert, Georgia likes to rob the person or the article that Emma likes since childhood. She must do something about it!"

Owen frowned and said to Robert.

At the same time, Emma cried sadly.

"Robert, Georgia is my sister, I know she has been jealous of me, so, whatever I care about, she will take away. I can give up on other things, but, not you. I love you, you are an article, I can not let you be cheated by her."

"Robert, I do not expect the paternity test report to be like this, but, I can swear to you, it was not Georgia that night. It was me. Have you forgotten the jade pendant?"

Georgia really did not expect that Emma to continue to quibble shamelessly.

She even talked about the jade pendant!

"Emma, the jade pendant was a gift from my mother. You are so shameless! You even stole my mother's things!"

Emma still cried sadly, as if she had suffered a wronged day.

And the person who wronged her was Georgia.

Robert's face became cold.

He hated to be deceived. Now, Emma and Owen still acted shamelessly. Did they think he had no temper?

"Emma, I won't trust you for your tears. I will immediately arrange to break off the engagement with you. In the past six years, the Lane family has benefited too much, and I will take it back bit by bit!"

"I told you what would happen to you if you deceived me!"

Robert said with a cold face and took a look at the bodyguard behind him not far away.

"Throw them out. I don't want to see them again."

"Robert, Georgia is scheming, she will hurt you."

Emma continued to cry, with tears falling down.

And Owen coldly looked to Robert.

"Mr. Simpson, I can't believe that you will be cheated by Georgia. I raised her since she was a child. She disobeyed me, cheated me, hurt me. I had long lost trust to her. When you find out she was deceiving you, do not blame me for not warning you."

Robert was angry about Owen's words.

He motioned to his bodyguard to get them out.

Seeing that Owen and Emma was driven away, Georgia had no joy in heart, but felt endless sad.

This was her father, but he was so cruel to her.

"Don't worry, since you don't like them, I won't let them get near you in the future."

Robert found Georgia was sad and comforted her.

As if there was an impulse in his heart to smooth her sadness.

Georgia gratefully smiled.

"Never mind, I knew it. He doesn't think of me as a daughter. I'm used to it..."

Even if she said so, Robert still found sadness in her tone.

He could understand her sadness.

"Actually... My father doesn't like me either. When my sister died, he even stayed with his lover and did not come back to see her dead body."

Robert said suddenly, which surprised Georgia.

After a while, Georgia laughed bitterly.

"We're the same kind of people."

"One world, one father. I know how you feel. After enough time, you will pay less and less attention to him, and you will become stronger and stronger."

It was the first time Robert said calmly to Georgia since they met.

Georgia had good impression to Robert for his comfort.

"Thank you, Mr. Simpson. I'll try to be strong."

Robert faintly smiled. He planned to discuss the custody of Annie, but he did not continue.

Georgia might be a good mother.

Thinking that Annie was not close to him, he felt lost in heart.

“Can you try to make Annie more intimate to me? I went to see her today, and she was defensive against me.”

Thinking that when Robert talked to Annie and Annie regarded Robert as a stranger to kidnap her, Georgia couldn't help laughing.

"Annie had been educated well. The kindergarten had always taught children not to go with strangers. She guards against you, which means that the teacher's teaching effect is good."

Robert just smiled faintly.

Though it was a surprised that he suddenly had a daughter.

However, since he met Annie, he felt that she might be the best gift from God to him.

They came to Annie's ward while talking.

Annie felt surprised that they came over together.

"Annie, this is my friend, you call him Uncle Robert."

"Auntie Georgia, I have met him before, so he is really your friend."

Annie laughed happily at Robert.

"Nice to meet you, Uncle Robert."

Robert directly bent and hugged Annie.

"Nice to see you too."

It was lively in the ward. After talking for a while, his mobile phone rang.

It was his mother's ringtone.

Robert smiled to Annie and Georgia apologetically. Then he took the phone and came to the corridor.

"Mom, what is it?"

"Robert, how do you have a daughter?"

Chapter 23 Do I Really Have a Granddaughter?

Robert was stunned by his mother's remark.

"Mom, where did you get that news?"

"You are still trying to hide it. Ivan's mother even called to congratulate me, saying that I had a granddaughter, but she is in poor health and needs Ivan to have an operation. You've already told Ivan about this. Why didn't you tell me?"

"What's going on here? I really have a granddaughter? What's wrong with her? Is she sick badly?"

His mother kept chattering over the phone. Robert realized that he forgot to ask Ivan to keep it a secret.

And he told his mother about it.

Now it seemed that the entire Simpson family had known about it.

"Mom, don't worry. I'll come back and explain this to you."

Robert hung up the phone and said goodbye to Georgia. Then he took the car back home.

Seeing that Robert left in a hurry, Georgia could not help but feel concerned.

She was haunted by the possibility that something might go wrong.

Georgia had taken too many holidays. She should go to work today.

"Vanessa, please stay with Annie in the hospital, I have to go to the club today."

"Georgia, I have told you that it is complex in the club. In case of an accident, what should you do?"

Georgia knew it.

But with six years in prison and a prison record, it was impossible for her to have a high-paying job.

If there were no medical expenses, Georgia would do some cleaning work, but the cleaner's salary was too low.

That was not enough to pay for Annie's operation.

"Vanessa, I'll take care of myself. At the moment, at least I can make more money working in the club."

Vanessa knew Georgia did that for money.

She had been kicked out of the company and hadn't found another job yet. Now Georgia really could not give up her job.

"Georgia, take care."

Georgia nodded. After she left the hospital, she immediately got on the bus to the club.

As soon as she arrived at the club, Georgia did makeup as usual and then put on the clothes of dealer.

"Gigi, there are some distinguished guests in the club today. Didn't you say last time that you need to know some powerful people? Do you need me to introduce them to you?"

Layla came to make up room and said to Georgia.

Georgia was silent for a while, and then she rejected her offer.

Last time, she had to find a way to get Dr. Ivan to help.

Now, since the paternity test results came out, showing that Ann was the daughter of Robert, Dr. Ivan would certainly have operation on Annie.

There was no need for her to put herself in danger.

Layla was obviously dissatisfied. She was the procuress of the club. Georgia was pretty and many men in the club wanted to know Georgia.

And she wanted to cultivate Gigi into the signature girl.

However the boss did not force her.

Layla had no right to force her, and she could only left with regret.

Georgia waited for the club to get busy in the evening, and then, as arranged by the supervisor, she went to the guests' boxes to deal cards.

However, when it was in the evening, the supervisor came to her.

"Gigi, the dancer is ill today, you go to dance for one night, I will double your salary."

Georgia did that once. Now the supervisor said he would double her salary, she thought of that Annie needed much money to do the operation.

After hesitating for a few seconds, Georgia agreed.

"Ok. I'll dance tonight."

Georgia put on a charming makeup and then a sexy black lace skirt.

Many of the guests in the club were men. If she had other choice, Georgia would not work in the club.

She had been through more miserable things.

It was just a pole dance, so it was not a big deal.

At ten o'clock in the evening, the DJ in the club hall played the passionate music. Georgia walked to the center of the stage, and then began the charming sexy pole dance.

She learned to dance from an early age and her body was naturally soft.

As Georgia started to dance, men around her started whistling.

More and more people gathered around the stage to watch Georgia dance. Georgia danced attentively.

She didn't even know how attractive she was now.

She had sexy tall figure and a charming face, like a seductive goblin.

Ivan was sitting not far away drinking wine. His assistant Ben pushed his hand.

"Boss, that dancer is so seductive, I want to get close to her."

Ivan rolled his eyes at his assistant. He looked along the line of sight of Ben to the dancer in the center of the stage.

In a flash, Ivan felt that his body also had a reaction.

However, when he saw clearly her face, his face darkened.

"Get up, I want to go back."

Ivan stood up with a black face and was to leave.

"Boss, we took a plane for two hours and you said come to the bar to relax. We have not had a woman yet, why are you leaving?"

Ivan stared at his assistant.

"I am the boss, get out if you say more words!"

Ben knew that his boss was really angry.

Didn't I just catch a glimpse of a dancer dancing?

Why did he suddenly become angry?

Ben could not understand, but Dr. Ivan was his boss, he had to follow him.

When they arrived at the underground parking lot, Ben could not help but ask.

"Boss, what's wrong with that dancer? Why are you angry at the sight of her?"

Ben was really curious.

His boss was handsome and powerful.

It was just a dancer. It took minutes from the club to sit in the car.

However, his boss was still angry.

"One more word and you fuck off now!"

Ivan said in a cold voice, and his eyes looked at Ben like a knife.

Ben did not dare to say more. He quickly put on the seat belt for himself, and then started the car.

Robert had driven back to the hillside villa of the Simpson family.

On weekdays, only his mother lived in the villa, and Robert lived in a villa closer to the company.

Back home, his mother Maisie walked to him hurriedly.

"Do I really have a granddaughter?"

Chapter 24 Did She Commit Suicide?

If it was not that Georgia killed his sister, Robert would introduce Georgia and Annie to his mother right now.

But his mother loved his sister so much.

His mother hated the person who kissed his sister, and he did not want to tell her who was Annie's mother.

Otherwise, once his mother knew the truth, his mother would take legal means to take the child back.

Besides, Robert was more afraid that his paternity test in the United States was not the same.

If Georgia lied to him and falsified the paternity test, his mother would be disappointed since he did not tell his mother in advance.

"Mom, it's complicated. I had a one night stand with a woman a few years ago, and now she came to me and said she gave birth to our child. But the girl has a serious heart condition and will need surgery to recover."

Maisie frowned.

"Does this woman have a clean background? Did the child take a paternity test?"

"Mom, she is a woman in the club, don't take it seriously. The paternity test result will come out the day after tomorrow, but, I like the girl. I fear she is really my daughter, so, I called Ivan back."

Ivan tried to reduce his mother's attention to Georgia and Annie.

Otherwise, his mother could have rushed to the hospital and grabbed the child.

Sure enough, hearing that that woman worked in a club, she frowned.

"Women work in those places only care about money. If she had really conceived your child, she would have asked you for money. Why wait till now? I think this woman has ulterior motives, she used it to cheat you to find Ivan to do the operation."

"Mom, I know, but the girl looks like my sister. I can't wait for the results of the paternity test. If she is really my daughter and Ivan is back, he can arrange the operation plan immediately, and she can have the operation immediately when the result comes out from the US."

Hearing her son mentioned her daughter, Maisie's heart softened.

"I know, but be careful. No women of that kind of place are worth to trust. Even if the child is really your daughter, you need to take her back to our family and cut off the connection between them."

Robert nodded.

"Mom, I know. Don't worry."

Maisie felt upset remembering her daughter.

"Next month is the death anniversary of Wendy, go to the cemetery with me to see her."

Robert patted his mother's hand gently.

"Mom, don't worry, I'll be there."

They were silent for a while before Wendy said.

"If the child is your daughter, how do you explain to Emma? No matter you like her or not, she is your fiancée after all."

Hearing the name of Emma, Robert's face darkened.

This woman had cheated him for six years, and he had planned to give a lesson to the Lane family.

But he decided to wait a few more days, lest his mother asked him why he dealt with them.

"Mom, don't worry. If she is really my daughter and she cannot accept it, I will cancel the marriage engagement."

Maisie felt Emma was good to her in the past six years, so she could not help but said.

"In those days when you said you wanted Emma to be your fiancée, I didn't agree. Her half-sister killed your younger sister, even if she was in prison, I still hate her. But you like her and Jennifer was pushing you hard, so I reluctantly agreed."

"Now, I think Emma likes you, and she endured my bad temper for six years. Why you are unsatisfied with her? It was you chose her at the beginning."

Robert showed a bitter smile.

That night six years ago, he had been drugged by Jennifer and had run into a woman who had knocked on his door.

He wanted Jennifer to give up and he had feelings for that woman. Actually he felt sorry, because he forced her.

Therefore, Robert made Emma his fiancée.

However, after that, the excitement of that night was never there again, and Robert attributed it to the drugs.

Now, he knew it was Georgia.

"Mom, don't worry, I will tell the result when it comes out."

Maisie was anxious. She wanted to asked more questions, but her mobile phone suddenly rang.

It was Owen calling.

Maisie felt surprised, but she still picked up the phone.

"What is it, Mr. Lane?"

Over the phone, Owen was crying.

"Ma'am, I failed to contact Robert. Emma committed suicide, and she is now in the hospital to have rescue. Can you ask Robert to the hospital to see Emma? She is sad and did not understand why Robert would rather believe a strange woman than believe her!"

Maisie could not understand Owen's explanation.

She was worried since Emma committed suicide.

"Don't worry, send me the address. I will take Robert to the hospital now."

After hanging up the phone, Maisie looked at Robert.

"Owen told me Emma committed suicide. What is going on?"

Would Emma commit suicide?

Robert only felt ridiculous. He thought Emma used this means to seek for his forgiveness.

"Mom, don't worry, it is just Emma's trick, I will go to deal with it."

Maisie reminded the strange woman Owen talked about.

"Go to the hospital with me to see Emma. What did you do? Why did she commit suicide? Owen said it was because of another woman. You'd better explain it."

Maisie said. She had stood up and then told the butler to take the car.

Robert comforted his mother, trying to let her give up seeing Emma.

However, Maisie firmly believed that her son was obsessed with another woman, and she suspected that it was the woman worked in the club.

How could she accept that?

She insisted to see Emma in the hospital and get to know the truth.

Robert could only follow his mother to the hospital.

This hospital was the hospital where Annie lived. Robert subconsciously had a bad feeling.

After they arrived at the hospital, Maisie came to the position Owen told her.

Emma committed suicide by cutting her wrists. She had been resuscitated and was now in intensive care.

Robert looked at Emma lying inside through the glass door, he had doubt in heart.

Did he really misunderstand this woman?

However, thinking of the paternity test results, Robert did not believe that Georgia cheated him.

He hoped Annie was really his child.

"What is going on? Why Emma committed suicide? Who was that strange woman you said on the phone?"

Emma, after all, accompanied by her side for six years, Maisie was satisfied with Emma.

She was obedient and sensible, and she did not like disobedient women to be her daughter-in-law.

So, after visiting Emma, Maisie asked Owen and Flora.

Flora just silently shed tears, and Owen sighed to Maisie.

"Ma'am, I don't want to judge, but can Robert could take some time to find out the truth of the matter? Emma was really sad, she was very strong before."

Owen gently took his wife's hand after saying that.

They obviously didn't want to say too much.

Maisie looked at her son who had been silent.

"I know, take good care of Emma, I will come to see you again."

Robert beckoned Robert to go with her after that.

When they arrived in the hospital garden, Maisie asked in a cold voice.

"I have no objection on which woman you like, Robert. But I won't accept a woman who works in a club or who comes from a bad family."

"If you really like her, you can keep her outside, but you are not allowed to marry her."

Robert could not help but sigh.

"Mom, don't overthink about it. The Lane family was greedy, they were just acting, don't take it seriously."

Robert was confused that if he had wronged the Lane family.

But he could not tell his mother the truth right now, so he could only put it off.

"Forget it, I only hope you remember how your father hurt me, at least, you don't marry a woman who is of the same kind of person of your father, otherwise, I will be angry."

Maisie's voice became harsh.

"Mom, don't worry, I won't."

They had reached a superficial agreement.

Robert sent his mother back home and had a rest till the middle of the night.

In the next morning, he went to work as usual.

Maisie once again came to Emma's ward. Emma was still sleeping. Maisie asked the question she did not ask yesterday.

"Robert was here yesterday, and I know you can't tell the truth as he was around. Now he is not here, Mr. Simpson, can you explain to me exactly what is about that strange woman?"

After tossing and turning for one night, Maisie finally decided to come over to ask the truth.

Her only daughter had gone, and she absolutely would not allow any uncontrollable things to her son.

"Ma'am, that strange woman is my evildoer daughter, Georgia. She killed your daughter with a car, but, she now seduced Robert shamelessly."

"Not only that, she had given birth to a child. She used tricks to get Robert believe that the daughter was his. Ma'am, I am sorry that I have ever had such a wicked and selfish daughter."

Hearing that, Maisie's face turned pale.

Chapter 25 Peace Before the Storm

"You mean Georgia seduced Robert and cheated Robert that that child was his daughter?"

Owen nodded.

He stood up and then knelt directly in front of Maisie.

"Ma'am, it is my fault, it is me raised such a wicked daughter. I am sorry."

"Georgia grew up without a mother. She hates me, and she is jealous of Emma. She would take away everything Emma likes. I did not expect the she did that again since she was released from prison, and even wanted to rob Robert. I'm sorry, Ma'am."

Maisie clenched her ten fingers tightly.

So the woman worked in the club was Georgia. How could she give birth to Robert's child!

Maisie hated her a lot.

This woman killed her daughter, and now she came to her son!

"Why does Robert believe Georgia's words and believe that the child was his?"

Mother looked at Owen and asked coldly.

"Robert said the paternity test proved that the baby was his. But, who knows if that paternity test has been falsified? I know my daughter well, Ma'am."

"Georgia has been cheating since she was a child. She is very scheming and used to playing tricks. What's more, she had many boyfriends since she studied in middle school. She was not sensible at that time and even had several abortions. Ma'am, I didn't believe my daughter's words, but Robert did and thought Emma had deceived him."

"Otherwise, why Emma got suicide!"

Owen said sadly, looking like a pathetic father.

Maisie's nails almost got into her palm.

"Where is Georgia? I want to see her."

Then she would kick her out.

"Ma'am....."

Owen seemed to feel depressed.

"If I tell you the whereabouts of Georgia, and Robert knows it, the Lane family will be over."

Maisie did not insist. She stood up darkly and then made a call to her secretary.

"Find out Georgia's whereabouts immediately, and the hospital where her daughter is now living."

Maisie waited the news in the hospital.

The secretary moved fast. It only took half an hour for the secretary to call back.

"Ma'am, Georgia works in a club as a dealer, and I have sent her address to your mailbox. Her daughter is adopted by a person named Vanessa. Now her daughter is living in the central hospital. The ward is..."

Hearing that, Maisie found that Georgia's daughter was in the hospital when she stayed.

She came to the elevator according to the address the secretary told her.

About five minutes later, Maisie came directly to Annie's ward and opened the door directly.

In the room, Georgia was talking with Annie.

A strange middle-aged woman walked in with cold face. Georgia wondered who she was.

Before she said a word, the middle-aged woman slapped ruthlessly in her face.

“Bitch!”

After that, Maisie looked at the crying girl on the bed.

"This is your daughter. Who is the father?"

Georgia felt her face burning. She was confused about this middle-aged woman's query.

"Who.....Who are you? I have no vendetta against you. Why did you beat me?"

Georgia questioned. Maisie said angrily.

"Who am I?"

"Six years ago, you killed my daughter. Now, you are trying to seduce my son and let him raise your child. Georgia, shame on you. Why did God make you die?"

"I heard your daughter has a heart attack. I think this is what you deserve for all your evil deeds!"

Hearing that, Georgia's eyes suddenly became red.

Annie's illness was the deepest anguish in her heart.

This middle-aged woman was Robert's mother.

"Auntie, I know you have a misunderstanding about me. It is true that Annie is Robert's and my daughter. Robert has done a paternity test. As for the car accident, I wasn't the driver, I was set up..."

Georgia tried to explain.

"Shut up, you are not qualified to call me Auntie!"

Maisie shouted angrily.

She tried to slap her again, but Georgia avoided it, which made Maisie furious.

"Bitch, how dare you quibble! There is evidence from the traffic accident police that you killed my daughter with your car, and now you still want my son to raise the wild child born by you. I will not allow Ivan to operate on your daughter!"

With that, Maisie looked at Annie who was crying in the bed.

"And you, your wicked and selfish mother killed my daughter, and now wants to get close to my son. Since you have a heart attack, you should be ready to die! This is the punishment to your mother!"

Georgia was angry. She was going to argue with Maisie, but Annie cried loudly.

Maisie took a hateful look at Georgia and Annie, and then she turned away.

Georgia could only tightly embrace Annie and coax her.

"Annie, don't cry, it's my fault. I didn't protect you."

Annie was still crying. Georgia felt that her heart was like bleeding.

She wanted to protect her daughter, but, she still let her get hurt again and again.

"Auntie Georgia... is it true? I.....I am your daughter, and what about my Mom? Am I not my her daughter?"

Annie asked sobbing, which stunned Georgia.

When she argued with Maisie, Maisie said Annie was her daughter.

Georgia did not know how to explain, and Annie did cry louder and louder.

"Annie... You are your Mom's daughter, you are also my daughter, you have two mothers. Annie, don't be afraid, ok?"

Annie did not understand this explanation; she only feared.

"But other children have only one mother. Why do I have two mothers? I only want one mother..."

Annie cried loudly, and even fell asleep crying directly in Georgia's arms.

Georgia was distressed. She always failed to protect her daughter.

Maisie said she would stop Dr. Ivan to have operation on Annie. Flurried, Georgia picked up the mobile phone and made a phone call to Robert.

"What is it? I'm in the office now."

Robert's voice was very gentle, but Georgia could not help but cry.

"Mr. Simpson, your mother has just come to Annie's ward..."

Chapter 26 A Woman Works in a Club

Robert stood up immediately and asked with concern.

"Was Annie frightened?"

"Annie cried to sleep. When I had an argument with your mother, she said that Annie was my daughter, and Annie cried violently."

Georgia tried to maintain calm, but Robert could hear helplessness in her voice.

"Wait at the hospital. I'll be there."

With that, Robert stood up and walked outside. He got the secretary to have the car ready.

Half an hour later, Robert came to the ward.

Annie was still asleep, Robert felt his heart soft looking at Annie.

"Don't worry, I'll talk to my Mom."

With Robert here, Georgia did not feel panic anymore, as if she had someone to rely on.

"Mr. Simpson, your mother knew what I was, and did not believe my explanation. She said she would not let

Dr. Ivan operate on Annie. Can you do something about it?"

His mother was paranoid and stubborn, and Robert knew that.

Now, his mother certainly did not believe that Annie was his daughter, but felt everything was Georgia's plot.

"Don't worry, I'll fix it."

Georgia felt relieved gradually.

But she still felt unease.

When they were silent, the door was opened again.

"Georgia... I don't know what Alfred had done, and I can't find a job at all..."

Vanessa spoke sadly to Georgia as soon as she entered the room.

In the middle of her speech, she saw the man standing in the ward.

Feeling embarrassed, Vanessa greeted the man apologetically and then looked at Georgia.

"Sorry, were you chatting? I will go out..."

With that, she turned and walked out of the room.

Georgia was worried about the situation of Vanessa. As she was hesitant to go out or not, Robert said.

"Go talk to your friends. I'll watch the child."

"Thank you."

With that, Georgia walked out of the ward and caught up with Vanessa who was ready to take the elevator.

"Vanessa, you said that you couldn't find a job. What was going on? What did Alfred do?"

Georgia took Vanessa's arm and asked with concern.

Vanessa felt afflictive, and leaned on Georgia's shoulder and burst into tears.

"Georgia, you know, my major is clothing design. After I got fired by Alfred yesterday, I submitted my resume to many design companies, originally, I had several interview today."

"But today they all called and told me I don't need to take the interviews. I asked one of the companies and found out that they had been told that I wasn't allowed to be accepted. I thought it over and over, and it must be Alfred who did this, and he was getting back at me..."

Vanessa adjusted their mood, but she could not hide sadness on her face.

Georgia was worried.

She knew the panic of not getting a job.

"Vanessa, it is impossible that Alfred could do anything. There will always be a way. Don't worry."

Up to now, Vanessa could only comfort herself like this.

"Vanessa, what is it between you and Mr. Simpson? Why he is in the ward?"

Vanessa asked about Robert who was in the ward.

Thinking of Robert's mother, Georgia felt it would be better not to tell her the bad things, less Vanessa would be worried.

"Robert likes Annie very much. He comes to see Annie at this hour."

Inside the ward, Robert looked at Annie gently. He put his hand gently on the soft cheeks of Annie.

This was his daughter.

He would protect her, love her, let her become the happiest little princess in the world.

"You.....Uncle, why are you here, where is my mother?"

Annie suddenly opened her eyes, and she asked in panic.

"Your mother is outside. I'll call her in."

Robert stood up and went out of the room.

At this time, Georgia and Vanessa were talking standing in the corridor not far away. Robert walked over to them.

"Annie is up and wants to see her mother."

Georgia and Vanessa stopped talking at once, turned around and went into the ward.

Remembering that Annie was crying, Georgia explained to Vanessa.

"Vanessa, something happened in the morning. Annie now knows that I am her mother. Help me explain, Annie was crying to sleep."

Vanessa was anxious.

When they went to the ward together, Annie looked at his mother, and then at Auntie Georgia. She was confused.

"Mom -"

Annie opened her arms to Vanessa.

Vanessa hurried to pick Annie up.

"I am here. How do you feel now? Are you ok?"

Annie shook her head and asked with tender voice.

"Mom, why is Auntie Georgia also my mother?"

Looking at her daughter who was confused, Georgia felt her heart sour.

Robert stood up and walked to Georgia. He suddenly took Georgia's hand.

"Don't worry, the child will naturally be intimate to her mother. She was confused, and she will like you and be close to you."

Georgia felt that his hand hot. As she wanted to break free, the man suddenly let go of her.

Georgia felt lost for a while, and felt her mood strange.

"I hope, Mr. Simpson, that what you said will come true."

Vanessa thought for a moment and explained to Annie.

"Annie, it's not just you. Other kids have several mothers, too. They're called godmothers, but I didn't ask you to call that."

Annie did not understand.

"Is Auntie Georgia my godmother? Mom, will you leave me?"

Annie was so frightened that she grasped Vanessa's arm tightly and her tears began to fall.

"Annie, I will always stay by your side. Auntie Georgia is not a godmother, she is your biological mother, I am your foster mother, and you can always call me Mom. But don't worry, Auntie Georgia and I will always be by your side. Neither of us will leave you."

Annie was confused, but after making sure her mother would not leave her, she became less afraid.

Georgia dared not come forward. She could only look at Annie and Vanessa closely holding each other.

After a long time, Annie looked at Georgia.

"Auntie Georgia, I like you, but, I like Mom more. Will you drive my Mom away?"

Georgia shook her head.

"Annie, I have no right to drive anyone away. You will always be with your mother."

Annie's fear in the heart reduced some. She looked at the man beside Georgia doubtingly, thinking of the quarrel between the strange woman and Auntie Georgia.

Annie asked suddenly.

"Auntie Georgia, who is this uncle?"

Annie had seen this uncle to her ward for the second time and her mother and Auntie Georgia did not drive him out, Annie knew that he should be a friend of her mother and Auntie Georgia.

"Annie, he is Auntie Georgia's friend, you can call him Uncle Robert."

After Georgia said that, Annie asked.

"...Is he my father?"

No sooner had the words been uttered than a hush fell over the air.

Georgia didn't know what to say, and Vanessa didn't know what was going on.

Robert stepped forward, and walked to Annie and took her hand.

“You're right, Annie. I'm your father.”

Annie, however, cast down her eyes awkwardly.

"I...I'm not used to calling you Dad, I don't know you..."

Robert was disappointed, but soon he smiled gently.

“It is ok. Call me whatever you want to, and I will try to make you know me.”

Annie raised her head and then seriously looked at Robert.

"Thanks for coming to see me, Uncle."

Robert knew that Annie was still small and he could push her so hard.

He turned around and looked at Georgia.

"I still have some things to do, so I gotta leave. Take good care of Annie."

With that, Robert said goodbye to Annie.

"Annie, I have something to do. I'll see you next time."

"Good-bye, Uncle."

Annie said politely.

After Robert got in his car, he thought of what Vanessa had said in the ward, he made a phone call to his secretary.

"Secretary Dean, look into Vanessa's situation. I heard she can't find a job now."

"Got it, Mr. Simpson."

After asking the secretary to postpone his schedule, Robert made a phone call to his cousin Ivan.

Ivan was sitting stiffly in front of Maisie, Robert's mother.

"Auntie, what do you want to say? You look at me and don't say anything, it makes me panic."

The whole family knew that Maisie's character was stubborn and aggressive. Ivan was not used to talk to her.

Maisie suddenly came to him early in the morning, Ivan only felt that there was trouble.

"Ivan, I need your help."

After a long time, Maisie finally said.

"What is it, Auntie?"

Ivan said without hesitation.

"Didn't you promise yesterday to operate on Robert's daughter? I want you to refuse to help Robert."

Ivan was stunned at a draught.

"Auntie, that is your granddaughter, you don't want me to have the operation?"

As Ivan said that, Maisie's eyes became cold.

"Your cousin was cheated by a woman. She is just a woman works in the club. She is used to lying and cheating. And she just wants to you have the operation. You don't need to pay attention to her."

Chapter 27 Paternity Test Report

Maisie's words made Ivan shocked.

As he was about to ask, he found his cell phone rang.

Ivan quickly picked up the mobile phone. It was Robert calling, he subconsciously refused to answer the phone.

"Why don't you answer the phone?"

Maisie asked.

"Just a troublesome client, pestering me to have an operation, in fact, it is just a minor operation. Any doctors can do it, never mind."

Ivan made it up calmly. Maisie did not doubt her but asked.

"Will you agree with me?"

Ivan knew his aunt well, if he did not agree, she would always pester him and even used her connection to make it big.

"Auntie, since brother got cheated, I won't have the operation."

Maisie nodded with satisfaction.

"Good. I'll tell your brother and he won't bother you."

Ivan nodded.

"Auntie, don't worry, there will be no mistakes."

Maisie got the answer to her satisfaction and left before long.

Ivan hurried to call Robert.

"Ivan, why didn't you answer my phone?"

Robert had returned to his office, he asked the reason why Ivan refused to answer the phone as he picked up the phone.

"Did my mother call you?"

Ivan took a deep breath.

"Brother, you are clever. She came to my apartment early in the morning and stared at me for more than ten minutes, I am so scared."

Robert frowned deeply.

He knew it would be complicated if his mother knew the truth.

He wanted to hide it, but he failed.

"I know. My mother doesn't know the truth, so don't listen to her. Now that you're back, hurry to the hospital to see patient and study cases. I'm sure it will be only a minor operation for you."

Ivan burst into laughter over the phone.

"Brother, I know the character of my aunt. So, I agreed to her on the surface so that she could feel at ease. But, brother, should you explain what is going on. I've always been curious, you know."

Knowing his cousin's temper, Robert showed a smile.

"That woman was the one who killed Wendy, so my mother was angry, but since the daughter was mine and she had been six years in prison, I would not do anything to her for the time being. Ivan, don't mind that. You just need to prepare the operation plan right away. I asked the doctor. The child needs to have operation as soon as possible.

Ivan knew Robert, who was uninhibited on the surface as him.

In fact, he was the most responsible person, and he took care of the family at young age.

Otherwise, he and his mother would have been driven by his father since his father was crazy and ruthless.

"Brother, don't worry, I will arrange immediately. And I will hide it from Auntie. But, since that woman is the murderer who killed Wendy, you have to consider the child's future."

"I know."

Robert heaved a heavy sigh.

It would be nice if Georgia could come up with evidence that the killer of the car accident was not her.

Annie was re-done a general examination in the afternoon.

When worked at the club in the evening, Ivan, wearing a white gown and a mask, personally went to the hospital to see Annie lying on the bed.

After that, Ivan discussed the operation plan with other doctors.

The next morning, Robert made a phone call to Georgia.

"Dr. Ivan has got the operation plan ready and the time for the operation is in three days."

Georgia was pleased and immediately told the good news to Vanessa.

"Georgia, we are really lucky. Let's leave this place after Annie gets better."

Georgia was puzzled about that.

"Vanessa, we both grew up here. Do we have to leave here?"

Georgia was reluctant to leave her hometown. She loved the place where she grew up, even though it brought her too many painful memories.

"Georgia, I sent out many resumes yesterday, but none of them had effect. No one is willing to accept me. I know all these are Alfred's revenge on me. Leaving here, I can get away from Alfred. I don't believe Alfred has the right to control the whole world."

"And you, Annie is the daughter of Robert. The Simpson family is powerful, which is beyond our imagination. I am afraid that after the operation, they will take Annie away. Georgia, we have to leave here."

Vanessa was enlightened by that.

Yes, Annie's identity had come to light.

Now Robert was gentle to her, but, who knew if Robert would take Annie away, and stop her from seeing Annie again.

However, Annie was in poor health. After the operation, she certainly needed to recuperate gradually and even follow-up observation.

Georgia was not willing to take risks. Annie's life was in the first place in her heart. She could choose to leave Annie for her health.

"Vanessa, I can't promise you to take the risk unless I make sure Annie is completely recovered."

Georgia seemed to be determined, and Vanessa smiled wryly.

"You're right, I was worried. Annie's operation is important. She's always weak. I can't put her into danger. As for work, I'll find a way."

After Vanessa said this, the two were silent for a long time.

Before long, Vanessa's phone rang.

"Hello?"

Vanessa asked politely since it was an unknown number.

"Is this Miss Cooke? I am the executive director of LIN. I have read your resume, your design style is very bold and distinctive, if it is possible, you can come to work tomorrow..."

Vanessa's eyes immediately lit up.

She chatted with LIN's executive director for a while before she settled on work.

A few minutes later, Vanessa hung up the phone and looked excitedly at Georgia.

"Georgia, I found a job. It's LIN, the top brand of clothing in the country."

Georgia was happy for Vanessa. There would be always a way out.

"Georgia, LIN is the clothing brand under the Simpson family. Did you ask Robert for help?"

Vanessa asked, feeling puzzled.

Georgia was muddled at a draught however.

"Vanessa, I didn't ask Robert for help."

Georgia thought of the thing that happened yesterday.

At that time, Robert had heard Vanessa said that she could not find a job.

Was it really the help from Robert? With doubts, Georgia picked up the phone to go to the corridor, and was to call Robert.

However, Robert was on the phone at that moment.

Inside the office.

Robert talked to his assistant in the United States on the phone.

"You said the report had just come out. What is the result?"

The assistant's voice was in trepidation.

"Mr. Simpson, based on the report, Annie Cooke is not your daughter."

Chapter 28 She's Tricking Him

Robert stopped his pen on signing the document.

"Say it again."

"Mr. Simpson, the paternity test report of the United States says Annie is not your biological daughter."

The assistant spoke louder this time.

There was a long silence.

"I see."

Robert hung up the phone, stood up and walked slowly to the window.

The paternity test in the United States was a secret, and it could not be falsified.

However that done in China had a higher chance of being falsified.
