

“You don't need to discuss it anymore, I am Georgia, the one who everyone rebuked for plagiarizing Dr. Chow's experimental data back then.”

Georgia said that and made people around them dumbfounded.

They thought that people who plagiarized would wish they could disappear after getting caught, could she be extremely shameless for admitting that confidently?

“How could there be such a shameless woman?”

“You're Georgia? How could you have the nerve to stand here?”

“So you're Georgia, the one who plagiarized her teacher's research data? How dare you stand in front of Dr. Chow?”

“The school had even expelled you back then, why are you here? Don't you feel embarrassed enough?”

Everyone sneered while Dr. Chow looked at Georgia in disdain.

Georgia unexpectedly stood in front of him, he's going to make her feel so awkward.

Georgia just smiled towards everyone.

“You said that I plagiarized Dr. Chow's experiment data, so I'll say that Dr. Chow wronged me back then, he's the one who plagiarized my experiment data...”

Georgia said that and everyone went into an uproar.

“Dr. Chow is a famous international Professor, saying that he plagiarized his own student's experiment data is so ridiculous!”

“Miss Lane, do you still have some sense of shame? Do a professor need to plagiarize a student's data, you think that we're stupid?”

...

Georgia just kept smiling, she didn't mind their sneers at all.

Professor Lee took a few steps forward and spoke to Percy.

“Dr. Chow, what actually happened about the plagiarism back then? I believe that you understand it more than us...”

After Professor Lee said that, the people around them asked in disagreement.

“Professor Lee, Georgia's matter is final, besides, Georgia was just a student back then while Dr. Chow was already an internationally famous Professor with profound knowledge basis... How could he plagiarize Georgia's experiment data?

That's impossible!”

The others also nodded.

“Professor, are you confused because of her? The school expelled her back then, they had investigated the truth.”

Everyone was still quite respectful to Professor Lee, several of them advised him right away.

Georgia knew that she should stand up at such time.

“There are many talents in this world and there are also many people with profound knowledge that ran out of creativity, Dr. Chow just happens to be that kind of person.... These 6 years, Dr. Chow kept stagnate on his experiment results back then, until now there’s no research progress at all, that could only mean one thing, Dr. Chow plagiarized other people's experiment data and that's why he has no way to make new progress.”

Georgia's words made Dr. Chow so angry that he shouted.

“Nonsense! I had spared you back then by only letting the school expel you, now you're distorting the truth and rebuked your own teacher, what a heartless and ungrateful child! If your father knows, he would also look down on you! I heard that the Lane family drove you away because you've been making troubles outside since you were young, then you plagiarized my experiment data, now you still dare to say that you're wronged in front of others, I've never seen such a shameless woman like you!”

Dr. Chow coldly shouted, looking very upright.

From Dr. Chow's tone, Georgia found that he mentioned members of the Lane family.

Perhaps she got scolded for plagiarism had something to do with members of the Lane family, it turned out that her father had long disregarded her as his daughter.

Georgia felt quite sad, but she knew that she couldn't fall.

Even if she was cursed by everyone, she had to keep a confident smile that night.

“Dr. Chow, you can insult me all you want now, but let me tell you something that'll make you scared, I have already made new experiment results based on the research's progress... When the time comes, I will publish my latest research results in front of the public. At that time, I'll declare my research idea back then and my current research progress, as for Dr. Chow, you can publish your latest research success, let everyone judge who's the one that plagiarized the experiment data!”

Percy was quite bewildered at Georgia's words.

Did that woman really make a progress with the experiment?

If she got higher achievement than him, the truth back then might get exposed.

It's just that, Percy couldn't show that he's flustered in front of the crowd so he coldly laughed.

“Everyone can talk big, bring the real experiment data first, if you can then just hand over your results and let the public judge it!”

Georgia smiled.

“Of course I'll bring my experiment result, but not here, today is Mr. Murphy's birthday banquet and I happened to meet you so I just came to remind you... Enjoy your last glorious days now, when everyone knows that you plagiarized student's experiment data, everyone will rebuke you, don't blame me for not warning you today.”

After Georgia said that, Percy was so angry that his face was fully red.

Owen and Eden happened to walk over at that time, Percy immediately spoke to Owen like he found a way to attack Georgia.

“Mr. Lane, come over and look at your daughter, she didn't respect her teacher back then, plagiarized my experiment data, got expelled from the school, now she even dared to slander me, saying that I plagiarized her experiment data back then... How did the Lane family educate her? How could you have such an ungrateful daughter?"

Owen had known Georgia would be in that banquet, he also saw Georgia and Percy's dispute from a far place.

Owen hated his daughter so he walked over.

He then suddenly apologize to the public.

"Sorry, it's all my fault for not educating my daughter well... Georgia had no mother since birth so she has always liked causing troubles out there. As a father I didn't discipline my daughter well, I apologize to everyone!"

Owen's apology instantly confirmed the problem with Georgia's personality, even her own father said that, everyone didn't believe Georgia's words in an instant.

“That's what I said! How could Dr. Chow plagiarize his own student's experiment data, I knew that Georgia is just shameless!”

“Of course she's shameless, I've heard her rumors, she fought, seduced man, and did abortion during school. She's still so shameless now, saying that her teacher plagiarized her experiment data... What a bad luck for Dr. Chow to get such student!”

“Yeah, even her own father said that she's problematic, she's still smiling so shamelessly, how could there be such a shameless woman?”

“She's not just shameless, I even saw her seducing Robert just now, I heard that she keeps flirting out there, she really has no shame...”

They were all berating Georgia, Georgia felt quite sad.

It's just that, she should show more of her strength in front of those people.

“It's up to you which result you want to believe in, at the end of this month, I heard Dr. Chow will go back to Imperial University as a lecturer... Dr. Chow, don't worry, at that time I'll go there and refute your experiment data one by one, then I'll publish my experiment data, we'll let the people in Imperial University witness who's the one that actually makes the new experiment results.”

After saying those words, Georgia looked at Professor Lee.

“Professor, I've said everything I should say, the truth will one day emerge in front of others... Everyone won't believe me even if I speak more now so isn't it a waste of my saliva?.”

Professor Lee smiled, he was very satisfied with Georgia's act that day.

Numerous people around them saw it and many of them were people of the academic circle.

The next day, the academic circle would definitely know that they had confronted Percy, Georgia's matter would definitely get heated up again.

Even if Georgia would definitely get rebuked, as long as there's enough attention then it'd be very quick to turn the situation around.

Professor Lee had always liked winning with an unexpected move, that's why he brought Georgia to the party and let Georgia talk nonsense in front of Percy.

He wanted that sort of effect.

"That's right, we've said everything we need to say, Dr. Chow, please don't forget that on your lecture in Imperial University, I'll bring my research members to see what's your latest research results, so it'll be easier for us to communicate."

Percy was quite flustered, he wasn't sure whether Georgia had really made experiment results or not.

If that was true, it'd definitely affect him by then.

But people around them were watching for fun, Professor Lee and Georgia looked so confident, Percy couldn't lose his self control there so he forced himself to keep calm.

“You think that I'm afraid of your challenge? Come at me if you can, I'll wait for you there.”

Georgia smiled in satisfaction.

“Dr. Chow, please remember not to run away after losing, if you don't show up at the lecture then you'll lose without even fighting, admitting that you plagiarized my experiment data back then... You dare to make a bet?” _____

Percy was silent for a while, he quickly agreed when he saw the eyes of the others looking at him in probe.

Georgia smiled with satisfaction.

Percy was very likely to escape at the last minute, she had to block Percy’s escape route before he did that.

After the confrontation with Percy, Georgia thought that she had to leave as well.

Professor Lee spoke to Georgia.

“I have done everything that I should do, it’s time to meet Mr. Murphy. We’re very old friends, I have something to talk to him, I’ll leave you here, and it’s up to you if you wish to stay longer or leave right away. Don’t bother about me.”

Georgia thanked Professor Lee.

“Professor, I get it, I’m already an adult and I’ll take care of my own affairs.”

After Georgia and Professor Lee had parted, she looked around in the banquet.

When she found Selena’s figure, Georgia took the initiative to walk over.

“Hi, Ms. Holland.”

After Georgia finished speaking, Selena turned over and smiled at Georgia.

“Hi, Ms. Lane, you actually came to this banquet today.”

Georgia smiled, and she replied Selena.

“Ms. Holland, I have something important to tell you, are you free now?”

In fact, Selena had been with her stepmother, Elliot, and Jason's parents were opposite her.

As a junior, Selena had always been polite while keeping the elders accompanied.

With Georgia's sudden arrival, Selena spoke to her stepmother.

"Mom, Ms. Lane and I would like to speak in private for a while, I'll leave for a bit."

Elliot was a little reluctant, but Jason's mother was already smiling and saying.

"Young people have a lot of things to talk about, Selena had accompanied us for so long, let her rest for a bit."

Elliot smiled and nodded upon hearing that.

“Then you talk to this lady first, remember to come back earlier later.”

Elliot remembered that they were supposed to discuss about the marriage with Jason today. She wanted to settle this matter as soon as possible instead of dragging it further.

Elliot always had an intuition that the longer things were being dragged, it would bring nightmare.

Georgia took Selena to a quiet garden at the backyard, then Selena spoke to Georgia.

“Did something happen to Travis ? Just let me know and I’ll find a way to help.”

Georgia shook her head.

“It’s not about this; I’ve found someone to help me with Travis. I’d like to ask you to help me with another thing.”

Selena nodded.

“What is it? As long as I can help you, I’ll help you for sure.”

Georgia organized what she heard from Emma and Flora, the mother and daughter’s conversation today.

“I heard them discussing about this in the bathroom. According to what they meant, when the accident happened, there was a car passing by the accident scene. Maybe that car has a dash cam to record the situation at that time, which very likely the murderer, Eden was recorded. They seemed very worried about the matter; they were discussing how to erase the footage of the dash cam. But sensing what they meant, they would not be able to get this video for the time being. It could be someone that they could not harm. I think it could be someone richer than the Lane family. Ms. Holland, I’m not sure what to do with this matter, can you help me to figure out a solution?”

Selena was also a little surprised. She thought that witnessing

Eden chasing after Wendy with his car herself was the only clue for Georgia's case. But now she was told that there could be a car which passed by and recorded the video.

This was different; the video could record the truth.

But more than six years had passed, who knew if the video still existed, Selena was a little worried.

However, there could still be hope.

“Ms. Lane, I got what you mean. At least we can be sure that a car passed by the accident scene that year, and the people from the Lane family suspected that there was a dash cam that recorded the truth of the accident. Don't worry, I'll try to adjust the traffic video from six years ago to see which car was there on that road during the time of the accident. According to what you said, this car must be very expensive, so we can eliminate the ordinary cars; I'll help you to investigate more.”

Georgia nodded gratefully.

“Ms. Holland, sorry for such trouble. If there is any update, I hope you can inform me immediately.”

Selena smiled.

“It’s just a small effort, I’ll definitely help you. But we’ve already known each other for a long time, you can just call me Selena, there’s no need to be so polite.”

Georgia smiled in embarrassment.

“Selena, you can also call me Georgia directly.”

While two of them were talking here, Eden was watching these two women gloomily not far away.

He wanted to kill these two women long time ago, but now watching them standing together, here came his chance.

However, he could ignore about Georgia’s affairs as his father would take care of her.

Now he only needed to focus on Selena.

After Georgia and Selena separated when they were done talking.

Selena thought of going back to her stepmother, Elliot, as her stepmother mentioned that she should always stay beside Jason's parents and impress them to make them like her in order for the marriage of both families to be successful.

Even though deep down Selena did not want to be like this, but she always felt that the Holland family was kind to her, and she wanted to repay their kindness.

So, whatever Elliot asked her to do, she would not reject it.

However, before Selena returned to the banquet hall, she felt something hitting the back of her head.

She felt the sudden severe pain and fell down before she turned around.

Eden hired a waiter who was serving at today's banquet. The Murphy family's banquet was too grand, the celebrities from the entire D City attended.

Therefore, the Murphy family had to hire the hotel waiters outside as they did not have enough servants. There were all kinds of people in the banquet which made it less difficult to hire someone.

Eden hired a hotel waiter in his twenties. His name was Gary, he owed millions of debts from gambling outside.

Eden happened to find this person, and he promised that he would help Gary to smuggle abroad. Even if the others found out it was Gary who did this, they would not be able to locate him. Therefore, the man agreed to help him at the Murphy family's banquet.

It was Gary who had just knocked out Selena.

Initially, Eden's plan was to let this man walk to Selena's side, and find a reason to lure Selena to a quiet place and get her stunned.

So happened that Selena and Georgia were talking at a quiet place without anyone else, Eden let the man he hired carried out the plan in advance.

Looking at the woman who had fainted on the ground, Eden smiled triumphantly, there was no surveillance around.

He directly took of Selena's clothes off and took nude photos using his phone.

If it was not because his mother and sister had been watching him, Eden would really want to disappear for a while and slowly torture the woman.

It's just that there was not enough time now.

“Gary, bring this woman into the room on the second floor, then you go to Jasper to continue with our plan.”

Eden hated everything that Selena had done to him, he also hated Jasper who had instructed those people at the police station to teach him a lesson.

He wanted to teach the brother and sister a lesson.

However, if he made the siblings disabled, the Holland family would retaliate madly.

Eden did not dare to do this either.

After a lot of considerations, Eden finally thought of a brilliant idea.

Selena and Jasper were siblings; it would be a big joke if these siblings got together. The Holland family would definitely not dare to expose such matter.

Even if they were going to check on this, he would never be found out. At least they would not dare to tell the public what happened.

As for the siblings, Jasper and Selena, they would feel embarrassed and even became distorted. This was exactly what Eden wanted.

He could not physically torture these two people, nor could he kill them, so he tried to torture these two people psychologically.

He did not believe that the magnanimous siblings could accept this change. Eden had foreseen that the Holland family would be in chaos in the future.

Now that Selena had been left in the room, the next thing he had to do was to guide Jasper to Selena's room.

Eden returned to his mother, Flora by his side.

"Why have you been away for so long, Eden? Don't cause any scene here, your father had reminded you, you remember?"

Flora knew her son; he was not the obedient type, so she always wanted to warn him.

Eden smiled and nodded.

"I only went to the toilet just now, mum. Don't worry, I will not cause any trouble, if dad knows that he would for sure hit me, of course I have to be obedient."

Flora nodded and she was put at ease.

“Your father and sister have plans today, don’t disrupt their plans. Otherwise, the two of them will know about it and they’ll definitely not let you go.”

Eden smiled, but his eyes were fixed on Jasper, who was not far away.

Jasper was talking to a bunch of people, probably chatting with the people in business field. Gary already came down from the second floor. He was wearing the clothes of a waiter, just like the other waiters.

He walked with red wine glasses to Jasper’s side.

Jasper changed a glass of wine, and then continued to drink.

After doing that, Gary left quickly.

Jasper and the others were drinking. He gradually felt that there was something wrong with his body, as if he had been drugged, and Jasper’s face sank.

It was a banquet at the Murphy family, and someone actually dared to do something like this. If he found out who did this, he would break this person into pieces.

“Mr. Stanley, I feel a little sick. Sorry, I have to rest for a while.”

Jasper was holding the discomfort coming from his body, and spoke to the person he was talking to. Euphemistically saying that he was unwell and needed to leave.

The other party nodded directly.

“Mr. Holland, if you’re not feeling well, take a rest first.”

Jasper smiled and nodded. His body was already extremely stiff, and there was cold sweat on his forehead.

There must be a reason that someone got him drugged, Jasper could not understand it.

He immediately walked to Jason.

“Find me a room, I need a rest. I got drugged by someone.”

Jason’s face suddenly sank when he heard what Jasper said.

“Wait, I’ll arrange a room for you right away.”

Jason called his servant.

“You take Mr. Holland to find a guestroom upstairs.”

After saying that, Jason spoke to Jasper again.

“Do you want to find doctor to solve it, or do you want to find a woman to get it solved?”

Who knew when the torture would stop if he found a doctor.

“Can you just find me any woman? Someone clean, hurry up.”

After Jasper finished speaking, his consciousness became blurry, and Jason nodded funnily.

“Alright, I know. I’ll make arrangements for you right away.”

After saying this, Jason quickly asked his servant to help Jasper upstairs, and then he called his butler and asked him to investigate who was the one who caused such trouble.

After Jasper was supported by the servant to get to the second floor, Gary rushed over and walked directly to the servant.

“Ms. Holland just learned about what happened to Mr. Holland, she said she has already made arrangement. I’ll bring him over.”

The servant was a little suspicious, but he did not think too much.

“I see, you take Mr. Holland to the room immediately.”

After saying this, the servant handed Jasper to Gary.

Jasper was completely confused at that moment, and his whole body was about to explode.

Gary helped Jasper directly into Selena’s room, Selena was still dizzy. After Gary put Jasper in the room, he locked the door right away._____

Chapter 120 Kidnapping and Missing

After that, Gary Lynn quickly fled from the back door.

When he got everything done, then he no longer stayed in this place.

Otherwise, until the Holland family found out the truth, he would be so dead.

According to the money Eden Lane had prepared for him in advance, as well as the cost of smuggling, Gary immediately took a car to the beach, and he needed to leave this place immediately.

Jasper Holland and Selena Holland were in the room, Selena felt very painful in the back of her head.

She was a little fuzzy, but she felt something heavy pressed on her body.

There was pain everywhere in her body. Selena didn't know what was going on. She couldn't open her eyes because of the pain. She only felt very unwell and wanted to struggle.

However, struggling for a while, as if her whole body was tightly imprisoned, completely letting other people do whatever they wanted.

Jasper's mind was blurred, and he clouded mind made him think that Jason Murphy had sent him a woman.

Therefore, he completely regarded the woman in front of him as the woman sent by Jason.

Moreover, this woman basically did not resist, letting him do whatever he wanted, so Jasper completely lost his sanity, only knowing that he was venting the discomfort caused by the medicine.

No one knew what happened in this room.

And at the same time at the banquet.

Owen Lane and Emma Lane were standing together chatting.

"Dad, did your plan begin? The banquet is about to end in about an hour."

"I have arranged everyone, but I haven't waited the good timing. Georgia Lane and Robert Simpson have been standing among the crowd. It's really hard to get started now."

Owen's original plan was to make Emma pregnant with Robert's child.

Therefore, for today's banquet, Emma must rescue Robert as a rescuer.

It was just that Robert was always surrounded by people and his people didn't find a breakthrough yet.

"Then I can only wait patiently now?"

Emma asked her father.

"You stay at the banquet. I will arrange things here, and Robert can't doubt what we are going to do."

Emma nodded, after a while.

The people of Owen finally found the opportunity.

Georgia went to the bathroom at this time, and the person who followed her directly knocked out her at the bathroom.

Then, a woman in a red sexy long dress walked to Robert's side.

"Mr. Simpson, can I buy you a glass of wine?"

Robert looked at the woman in front of him indifferently, he didn't know who this woman was.

"Go away, don't let me repeat it."

As soon as Robert said this, the woman was not angry but she laughed instead.

"Mr. Simpson, my name is Kayden. I like you a lot. I just want to toast you a glass of wine. Isn't that acceptable?"

Robert had seen a lot of women's tricks. At first glance, he knew this woman just wanted to seduce him. Of course, he would not have a good expression on this woman.

"If you keep talking, I'll let the security guard kick you out."

Kayden's expression changed a little, but she immediately laughed again.

"I thought Mr. Simpson liked to save beauties. I just saw a young lady who was knocked out and taken away. Doesn't Mr. Simpson care about her? That woman was the woman you brought today."

Robert's expression changed all of a sudden.

"Who are you talking about?"

"I don't know what that woman's name is. I only know that Mr. Simpson talked to that woman for a long time today. Anyway, that woman is neither Miss Lane nor Miss Johnson."

That would only be Georgia, Robert's expression changed drastically, and he directly questioned her.

"Where is she? Take me over to her."

Robert was in panic as he cared about Georgia too much. He didn't think whether there was a trap in her words.

Because Robert was also looking for Georgia just now, and Georgia disappeared from the banquet. Robert took a look around and he was sure he couldn't see Georgia. He believed what the woman in front of him said.

"Mr. Simpson, I remember Miss Lane was knocked out of the toilet just now. I was afraid to rush out because I was afraid that they would do something to me, so I came over to tell you about this. Later, I saw those people went to the backyard. I thought they wanted to kidnap this lady."

After finishing hearing, Robert rushed towards the back yard.

On the other side, Robert picked up his mobile phone and called Jason.

"Hurry up and send people over to see what is going on in the backyard."

Jason only felt strange. Something happened to Jasper just now, it seemed like Robert also had trouble.

Robert hung up the phone. He didn't elaborate on what happened. Jason could only call his butler over and ask the butler to call the security guard to investigate what was going on in the backyard.

However, after Robert rushed to the backyard, he found that there was no one behind, and the backyard was dark and quiet. He could not see what was going on.

Robert turned and looked at Kayden with serious face.

"I'm warning you, don't play tricks on me. Did you lie to me just now or something really happen? I'll give you one last chance!"

Kayden smiled at Robert, she took a step forward, and then pulled Georgia who was tied up out of from the ground under the stone bench.

Robert saw Georgia who was unconscious right away, and he asked coldly.

"Let's talk about it, what do you want to do?"

After Robert said this, the woman, Kayden, burst out laughing.

"Mr. Simpson, I said I want to buy you a glass of wine, why don't you believe in me?"

"What's in the glass of wine?"

Robert asked coldly.

"I want to spend the night with Mr. Simpson, so the thing in the wine is not deadly, you can relax and drink it."

Robert hated being coerced, not to mention this kind of thing. He looked at the woman in front of him grimly.

"I'm telling you, don't think you forced me to drink it today, and you will escape my revenge. If you leave now, I can spare your life."

Kayden laughed directly.

"Mr. Simpson, I'm a dying person who just want to have a good memory with the person I like. I don't care about the ending. If you don't drink this glass of wine..."

Kayden smiled indifferently, she directly put the knife to Georgia's neck.

"Then I will kill this woman, don't think I wouldn't do it!"

Georgia was in a coma at the moment and she had no idea about there was a knife on her neck.

Robert watched Georgia's neck oozing blood, and he finally compromised.

"Give me the wine glass."

As soon as Robert finished saying that, the woman named Kayden smiled triumphantly.

"I know that Mr. Simpson knows what to do under each circumstance. After drinking this glass of wine, you will definitely have no discomfort at all. You will have a very happy night with me."

Robert only felt sick, he could only pick it up and took it in at once.

Kayden burst out laughing.

"Mr. Simpson, you did such a good job!"

After Kayden said these words, Robert's eye sight had already begun to appear blurred, and he forced to remain calm.

However, Robert still fell directly in front of the woman.

Before he fainted, Robert pressed the switch of his watch.

That was the switch he used to notify his bodyguards. Now he could only rely on his bodyguards to rescue him. He hoped these bodyguards would not be too slow.

After Robert fainted, Emma walked over from other side.

"Give me this man, you can call it a day."

After Emma said this, Kayden laughed.

"Miss Lane, I think you have misunderstood. Your father and I are only cooperating. As for what he wants to do later, it depends on whether I agree it or not."

After Kayden said that, Emma realized that the woman in front of her had changed, and her face changed drastically.

"What do you want to do?"

Before Emma finished speaking, Kayden walked forward and slashed at Emma's shoulder with her palm, and Emma fell down.

On the other side, Kayden immediately let her people out, and then directly threw tied Robert and Georgia into the back of the car that was prepared.

"Go, go. master has been waiting for us for a long time, and people from Murphy family will arrive soon."

After Kayden said that, the car started immediately.

After Jason and his people rushed over to the back yard, he only found Emma who had fainted on the ground, but Georgia and Robert were gone.

Owen never got a reply from Emma. But when he followed Jason and found his daughter fainted on the ground, his facial expression changed drastically.

He quickly helped Emma get up, but she was still fainting and didn't know what had happened.

Jason didn't know the whole thing clearly, he could only pull out the camera recording and then let his subordinates go to investigate.

"Mr. Lane, you should take Miss Lane to the hospital first."

Jason spoke to Owen, and Owen could only calmly thank him.

He sent Emma to the hospital immediately.

In Jasper and Selena's room, Selena opened her eyes.

She slowly became conscious, and then she remembered that she was knocked out.

There was pain everywhere in her body and Selena immediately realized what had happened. She looked up grimly and saw who was bullying her.

However, when Selena just raised her head, her face paled instantly.

"How could my brother be here?"

Jasper was on her body and Selena was about to break out.

She struggled violently. Jasper was exhausted at the moment because of the medicine.

When Selena struggled, Jasper fell directly into the bed.

Selena was almost going crazy, she didn't know what happened, she eagerly to find her own clothes to put on and escape.

However, before she escaped, Selena found that the door opened.

"Jasper, why don't you come out yet?"

As soon as he opened the door, Jason asked.

However, as soon as he finished asking, Jason suddenly saw Selena, who was naked and panicked.

Looking towards the bed, Jason saw Jasper who was unconscious in the bed.

Jason stunned where he was instantly then he immediately closed the door.

Jason was here because Robert was gone, so he was afraid that Jasper would also have in a trouble and he rushed to check on him.

Who knew this would happen.

Selena kept crying.

"Selena, what happened?"

Jason asked softly.

"I don't know... I don't know, Jason, please help me...help me..."

Selena broke out and cried and Jason just recalled his memory that he arranged a person to serve Jasper. How could this happen?

Selena was the younger sister he spent a lot of time with her when she grew up. Jason didn't object when the two families proposed unite by marriage. The two families might put the marriage on the agenda recently. How could this happen?

Jason quickly took off his suit and wrapped it on Selena's body.

"Don't be afraid... put on the clothes."

After saying this, Jason hurriedly pulled out a sheet and then he wrapped Selena with the sheet.

"I will cover your head with the sheet, I will take you out, don't be afraid..."

Selena's face was in pale, her whole body was shaking and she couldn't think anymore. She just let Jason wrap her up and then took her out with her face covered.

Selena was trembling from the moment she saw Jason. She didn't dare to think at all. Selena only felt that she fell into the abyss, she felt both scary and guilty from her bottom of heart.

Brother, she liked her brother, but how could she have such a thing with him.

Selena was terrified and she kept shaking when she held Jason's body.

Jason knew that he himself needed to be calm now, so he calmly carried Selena out of the Murphy family. After that, Jason drove and then sent Selena to the nearest hotel.

Now Robert was in trouble, and the Murphy family was in chaos now. He must go back to deal with everything. Jason did not have time to be with Selena now.

"Selena, Robert was missing and kidnapped today. I'm going back to deal with this. You stay in the hotel room. I will come back to see you. Don't do stupid things. No one would discover today's thing except me."

Jason left after he finished speaking.

Selena was in the hotel room alone, panicking all day long.

She slumped on the ground and cried constantly. She couldn't think straight at all.

In the hospital, Emma woke up.

Owen immediately asked with a gloomy expression.

"What happened? How could you faint there?"

Emma cursed in her heart.

"Dad, it was a trap. Covet gains ahead without being aware of danger behind. Some people used our plan tonight, but did not implement according to our plan. She just entered the banquet through our forces, then kidnapped Georgia and Robert. Dad, was Robert's enemy done this? They made use of us! "

Emma's was extremely pissed off. This kind of feeling was not good as she was tricked by others.

Owen seemed like he was about to kill someone.

"It was my fault so they took advantage of us. I originally thought that the woman could act, and then let you save the Robert. But I didn't expect she could kidnap them. But there were so many Robert's enemies, I really couldn't guess out who sent this woman tonight! " _____

Chapter 121 Walls Had Ears

Putting on a sullen face, Emma and Owen were thinking who did it tonight.

As for Eden, originally, he wanted to see the dilemma of Jasper and Selena, but because of Robert's disappearance, the party of the Murphy family was ended ahead of time, so he went back home with Flora. Eden was unhappy for missing the embarrassing story of them.

But Eden was quite pleased with himself. He believed that Jasper and Selena could not be close siblings after everything they had been through.

What's more, he still had Selena's sex photos.

He had many chances to threaten Selena and made her feel humiliated. Thinking of this, Eden was in a good mood and started to play computer games.

Flora was relieved when she saw Eden behave well lately and stay at home, playing games and watching movies.

At the Murphy's, Robert's mother, Maisie had arrived.

She did not attend Mr. Murphy's birthday party. Robert attended the party on behalf of the Simpson family. Maisie never thought that such an accident could happen.

After being told what happened, Maisie asked Mr. Murphy.

"Mr. Murphy, how much do you know about it? Have you found out who did this?"

Maisie was anxious. She had lost a daughter. She felt she would go mad if she lost her only son.

She went over the people with a grudge against the Simpson family, but she could not find a clue at all.

For a powerful family with big business like the Simpson family, they always got a lot of enemies. It was hard for Maisie to figure out who was the criminal.

Mr. Murphy felt terribly sorry for Maisie.

“It’s my family’s fault. We didn’t expect so many things could happen. I have sent my men to investigate closely. Don’t worry. We will find out the truth!”

Jason’s father, Jordan also promised Maisie.

“Mrs. Simpson. Don’t worry. We will try our best to save Robert.”

Jason’s mother, Molly Lewis stood by Maisie, feeling very sorry. She was a mother, so she knew clearly how hurt parents were when their child was in danger.

“Mrs. Simpson, I’m sorry...”

Everyone knew they should say something nice in such a situation. And Maisie could not make Mr. Murphy lose face.

Promises were useless. Now Robert had been missing. And Maisie could only rely on her connections to find out where Robert was.

Maisie brought Robert’s assistant over and asked him.

“Does your boss have any protection for an emergency?”

“Ma'am, Mr. Simpson only ranged the alarm on his wrist. But we followed the sign and found that his watch was dropped in downtown. It seems that the kidnapper knows Mr. Simpson has a watch with a GPS tracker. Now we have no idea where Mr. Simpson is.”

Maisie banged hard on the desk in anger.

“You shits. You can’t even find your own boss. What are you doing here? Go and find him! Don’t tell me you have no other ways to find him except for the GPS tracker.”

After she scolded Robert’s bodyguard team, Maisie swallowed her pride and called all her relatives and friends and asked them for help.

The branches of the Simpson family must have come to her villa to ask what happened. And the company must be in a mess now.

Maisie kept telling herself to stay calm, but she had too many things to deal with.

Maisie didn’t go home right away, instead, she came to the hospital.

She went to Emma’s room.

The Murphy family said that when Robert was taken away, Emma was there and fainted at the scene.

Maisie had to ask Emma what happened at that time.

“Auntie, why are you here...”

Emma felt a bit surprised when she saw Maisie here.

“Emma, what exactly happened tonight? Tell me all the details!”

Emma knew this was her chance.

She would definitely put Georgia in dead end.

“Auntie, it’s Georgia’s fault!”

Maisie knew Robert was missing together with Georgia. She was angry with Georgia.

Hearing Emma's words, Maisie's turned sullen.

"Tell me, what exactly was going on?"

"Auntie, Georgia stirred up troubles at the party. I'm afraid that she had provoked somebody! Later, I saw a woman come to Robert. And then Robert followed the woman to the backyard. I quietly followed them out of curiosity."

"I didn't expect that when I got to the backyard, I saw the woman pull unconscious Georgia up from the ground and force Robert to drink the wine in her hand. At first, Robert was unwilling to do so. But the woman put a knife on Georgia's neck and threatened Robert. If Robert did not drink the wine, she would kill Georgia. Then Robert did as she told and passed out. I wanted to go back and ask for help, but the woman found me. She caught up with me and knocked me out! Auntie, I'm sorry. I didn't keep Robert safe."

“I didn’t expect that Robert would care so much for Georgia. He would rather be in danger than watch Georgia being hurt ... Auntie, I’m not good enough to have his love ... Maybe I should annul our engagement...”

After saying this, Emma appeared to be sad and started to cry. She looked vulnerable.

Maisie felt heart-ached with rage.

Georgia again! Was Georgia here to kill her children intentionally?

Georgia was a curse!

Maisie would definitely not let this curse marry Robert. Even though she did not like Emma that much, she would rather Robert marry Emma.

Also, Maisie would never allow Robert and Emma to be together!

“Emma, you don’t have to annul your engagement! Just take a rest here. I’ll deal with Robert’s disappearance right away!”

After finishing her words, Maisie left the hospital with a sullen face.

The butler of the villa called Maisie.

“Madam, some people from the company and the Simpson family have arrived here. They want to know what happened...”

Maisie looked sullen. The branches of the Simpson family only cared for their own benefits.

Now Robert was missing. They came for nothing but power and profit.

Being filled with anger, Maisie called Ivan.

After Ivan was taken away from the party of the Murphy family at night, he went to a nightclub to drink down his sorrow.

It was the middle of the night. Ivan asked some women to be with him.

But Ivan did not feel happy. He was getting depressed and nearly drunk.

His phone rang but he ignored it.

He did not want to get in touch with anyone.

Maisie called Ivan more than ten times, but Ivan didn't pick up the phone. She could only ask her driver to drive back home in a sulk.

In the Holland's, Elliot was calling Jasper and Selena.

Robert was missing suddenly, and the Holland family was in a good relationship with the Simpson family, so they would like to help the Simpson family.

When Elliot went home at midnight, she found that Jasper and Selena hadn't come home.

She called them but no one answered, which made her feel worried.

"Still can't get through their phones?"

Jasper's father, Charles Holland asked.

"No, neither of them. Is there something wrong with them?"

Elliot asked worriedly. Charles also became serious.

They were worried at this time when Robert was just missing.

“Don’t be panic. Jasper and Selena disappeared in the Murphy’s. Give a call to the Murphy family. Maybe Jasper is staying with Jason.”

After Charles suggested, Elliot called Jason at once.

Jason was checking the surveillance video in the Murphy’s. He took a look at the ringing phone and found that it was Jasper’s mother. He felt sorry and patted himself on the head.

Too many things happened tonight. And he forgot about Jasper.

Elliot must be worried for the disappearance of Jasper and Selena.

He picked up the phone and greeted Elliot politely.

“Hello, Auntie. This is Jason.”

Elliot asked directly.

“Where is Jasper? Is he being with you? And what about Selena? Did you see her?”

Jason could feel Elliot’s panic in her voice. He answered with a prepared story.

“Auntie, Jasper is drunk. He is sleeping in the guest room in the Murphy’s. Don’t worry. And Selena seems to go to the police to deal with something urgent.”

Knowing Jasper and Selena were safe, Elliot was relieved and soon felt angry.

“Why didn’t they call me and told me what’s going on? I’ve been worried about them nearly the whole night!”

Jason hurriedly comforted her.

“Well, Jasper is drunk so he couldn’t give you a call. It’s not his fault ... and Selena lost her phone in the Murphy’s. It’s an accident! Auntie, it’s my fault. I should have told you about their situation, but Robert is missing and I’m busy finding him. So, I forgot to call you.”

“Alright, I got it. It’s not your fault. Tell Jasper to come back home early when he wakes up. As for Selena, you should spend more time with her. And if you like her, you two have better set an engagement date soon.”

Elliot hanged up.

Charles felt relieved when he knew Jasper and Selena were safe.

“Now that there is nothing wrong, you should take a rest.

You've been staying up late for so long."

Elliot was a bit unhappy, but she nodded finally.

"You are right. I'm tired. Let's get some sleep and kick their asses tomorrow!"

After Jason hanged up the call from Elliot, he went and took a look at Jasper who was still in a coma.

Jasper was sleeping on the bed and did not know what happen at all.

Jason was worried about Selena, so he went to the hotel to see her.

When he opened Selena's door, he found that Selena had fallen on the ground.

Jason went to Selena and patted on her head. Selena woke up gradually. Tears fell down her face when she saw Jason.

“Jason ... Jason...”

Selena was sobbing and Jason didn't know how to comfort her.

Although he did plan to marry Selena and had no problem with her, he felt he was in a mess after what happened tonight.

He did not know how to comfort Selena. He could only pat on her back to ease her anxiety.

After a long while, Jason said.

“Does Jasper know what happened tonight?”

Selena shook her head with a pale face.

“I don't know ... I don't know ... Jason, I fainted at that time. I didn't know Jasper was there until I woke up.”

Selena cried and told Jason what happened at that time. Jason kept comforting her.

“But I’m afraid Jasper would know the truth ... Jason ... Could you help me sound out Jasper to see if he knows about it ... if he doesn’t know, don’t tell him...”

Selena kept emphasizing it. Jason was a bit confused, but he nodded at once.

“Don’t worry ... I won’t let him know. He will never know who the person was tonight. I will tell him that it was an accident. He was with other women...”

Selena felt a bit relieved.

“I’m sorry ... Jason, I’m sorry...”

Selena kept saying sorry, but Jason could not figure out why she said sorry to him.

“There must be someone who used tricks. It’s not your fault. Don’t be afraid. You will be fine as long as no one knows the truth. I won’t say it out...”

Selena couldn’t stop crying.

“No, it’s not like that ... Jason, it’s not like that. My mom said I would marry you. But now such things happen to me. I’m sorry, Jason. I’m sorry...”

Jason smiled.

“You silly girl. We haven’t married. You don’t need to apologize to me. I know it’s an accident. Don’t be afraid. I will protect you...”

In fact, he took Selena as his sister more than his lover.

He just did not resist the arrangement by the two families, but he never had a crush on Selena. Now he just felt sad for her as her brother.

Squatting on the floor, Selena was still crying. The scene where she found she was with Jasper when she woke up was all over her mind. It drove her crazy. It was like she was on the brink and almost broke down.

Jason kept comforting Selena.

When Selena calmed down, Jason asked her about the process of her suffering.

Jason had to figure out the truth of Jasper and Selena's encounter and let the man on behind pay for what he had done.

Selena calmly described the scene for Jason.

They did not know someone was eavesdropping behind the door.

Daddy, Mommy had been in Prison

Chapter 122 Robert's Father

The person behind the door was Jennifer. After being humiliated by Robert, she ran out of the Murphy's in tears.

Jennifer didn't want to go home, because she was afraid that she would be scolded by her parents for losing face in public.

So, Jennifer went to the nearest hotel to try to forget her sorrow with drinks.

But drinks could not help. Jennifer was drunk in the hotel room after she drank a lot.

When she woke up, she went out for buying more drinks.

But soon after she went out of her room, she found that Jason was in the hotel.

Jason was Robert's good friend. With curiosity, Jennifer followed Jason secretly.

Jennifer found that Jason forgot to close the door after he came into a room. She quietly stood at the door and eavesdropped on the conversation from the room.

Jennifer wanted to hear about Robert, but she felt shocked when she heard Jason and Selena's painful conversation.

Somehow at this moment, Jennifer had an evil idea.

She could neither let go of Robert nor watch him being happy.

She had loved Robert for more than ten years. She had been obsessed with Robert too much. Now that she could not have him, she would manage to destroy him.

Thinking of this, Jennifer turned around immediately and drove to the Murphy's.

The Murphy family had been through a messy day and was still in a mess. Jennifer quietly walked into the Murphy's and asked a servant.

"Where is Jasper's room?"

The servant was confused. But this was Miss Johnson, the servant pointed to a room upstairs.

"That is Mr. Holland's room."

Jennifer nodded and smiled.

Then she asked the servant to open Jasper's door and walked into the room.

Jasper was still lying on the bed unconsciously. Jennifer smiled.

She took off all her clothes. Then she lay on the bed and held Jasper.

Jasper didn't wake up, but his body reacted.

Jennifer felt she got mad.

But she wanted a pregnancy.

Now that she could not marry Robert, she wanted to be his friend's woman. When things happened today passed, his parents must force him to marry her.

Jennifer believed that Jasper could not get rid of it.

Maisie just arrived home and a group of people gathered around her immediately.

“What happened to Robert? Who is against our Simpson family?”

One of Robert’s grandfathers asked on his crutch. He was the oldest one with the highest seniority in the Simpson family and the cousin of Robert’s grandfather.

“We haven’t found out who kidnapped Robert.”

Maisie explained to the elder politely. He had a good temperament and stayed out of the Simpson’s business.

“Maisie, is there still no news now? Where is Ivan? Didn’t he go to the party?”

Ivan’s mother, Joanna Wallace asked.

Hearing Joanna asked about Ivan, Maisie thought of that she couldn’t get through Ivan. She was a bit unhappy. Maisie answered with indifference.

“Ivan left at the middle of the party. I heard that he was arguing with a person and Robert asked him to leave ahead of time. I don’t know where he is. I tried to call him several times, but he didn’t answer my phone.”

Joanna got worried at hearing Maisie’s words.

“Is there something wrong with Ivan, too?”

The Simpson family thought there must be someone who went against them. So naturally, Joanna was afraid that Ivan would be another victim.

Ivan’s father, Marcel Simpson also began to look worried.

“My dear, don’t be afraid now. Let’s try to call Ivan again.”

They were comforting each other. But Maisie didn’t want to see them.

Other people of the Simpson family were whispering. Robert's uncle, Alex Simpson walked to Maisie and asked.

“Now we are trying our best to find Robert. He was missing from the Murphy's. The news had gone round, and the stock must go down tomorrow. Apart from finding Robert, we must choose a person to run the company.”

Maisie cast a cold look at Alex as he said these words.

“What do you mean, Alex?”

Alex pretended to be worried and explained.

“Maisie, it's urgent. Of course, we have to find Robert back. But we could not ignore the company. If other families join together and seek chances to go against us at this time, if each of them attacks our family, we would be in danger. We have to assure the investors. So, we should let them know that Robert is missing and another person from our family will be in charge of the company.”

Alex's words made sense and other people nodded.

The old Mr. Simpson who talked to Maisie just now went over.

“Maisie, it's not the time to be willful. When Robert comes back, he still has the position. He has made a great success these years and we all know it. But now we couldn't let other families take the chance to attack us. You have to make a choice.”

Other people all nodded. Maisie looked at Ivan's father, Marcel.

“Marcel, could you take over the company? Robert is missing. And now only you can take his role.”

Marcel wanted to say yes, but Alex interrupted.

“Maisie, I wouldn’t say I’m not agreed on your decision. But these years, Marcel has made five companies go bankrupt and been out of the business of our family. If you let Marcel replace Robert, the staff could not be convinced.”

Marcel looked ashamed instantly. He was indeed not good at business.

He had given up since he failed to manage the Simpson’s business. Now he spent time travelling around the world with his wife and became an idler. He only got a small cut of profits every year.

Fortunately, his son became a world-renowned doctor. Otherwise, he would have been the laughingstock of the family.

“Not me, Maisie. I’m not good at business.”

Marcel was willing to quit. Maisie glared at Alex.

Maisie could not replace Robert with others except for Marcel. They were ambitious. No one knew what would happen when Robert came back.

But Marcel's giving up made her angry and even broke her heart.

She could not force Marcel to take place of Robert now, because others all looked disapproval.

"Alex, tell me what we should do now?"

Maisie asked Alex. She knew his ambition. He was trying to take Robert's place.

Alex had been ambitious, and his business had gone well all these years.

If it were not Robert who was in a higher place, Alex would have taken charge of the Simpson family, and she would have yielded to him early. She was proud of her son who brought credit for her the most.

“Maisie, I know what you’re worried about. Robert is my cousin. Now the company is in an emergency. I’ll take Robert’s place to run the company. Don’t worry. People in the company all knew about my ability and they will believe me. If the investors know it is me to take over the company, they will feel relieved. And there won’t be any problem with our stock.”

Others agreed with Alex. Maisie gritted her teeth out of anger.

Alex added.

“Maisie, you are the honorary director, and I just take Robert’s place as a CEO to run the company. Don’t worry, when Robert comes back, I will return the place to him.”

It sounded reasonable. But no one could tell whether Alex would return the place at that time.

It was like when you lent your house to someone and you could not ask him to leave easily. It was a hard decision. Maisie knew it well.

But the Simpson family got a lot of enemies. If she did not let Alex run the company, Simpson's business would likely be in trouble.

Others all agreed because Alex was indeed capable. Maisie could do nothing but nod with a long face.

"In that case, I will announce on media to let everyone know you are going to take Robert's place as the CEO."

Alex smiled with satisfaction when he heard Maisie's promise.

"I know you are a wise person. I will take care of the company. Don't worry, Maisie. As for Robert, we will work together to get him back. He will be fine."

Alex made it sound so easy. Maisie could not help putting on a sullen look.

The old Mr. Simpson said.

“Maisie, I’m over seventy. I shouldn’t say this. But Robert’s disappearance is a serious matter. I have to remind you. What about giving a call to Robert’s father? I heard that he has been powerful these years. Maybe he can find Robert.”

When he talked about Robert’s father, everyone’s face changed.

Maisie roared with indifference.

“He is not our family anymore and he doesn’t want his son and daughter. Why should I ask him for help? Aren’t we powerful enough to find Robert?”

No one dared to speak, because they knew Maisie was enraged.

The old Mr. Simpson sighed and didn't say anything.

Then people from the Simpson family left one after another.

Marcel and Joanna apologized to Maisie.

"I just got through Ivan. He was drunk in the bar last night. It was a staff who picked up the phone. Ivan is still drunk in the bar. Maisie, I'm really sorry."

Maisie was in a furry. It was not just because Alex was going to take Robert's place, but more because the old man brought up Robert's father, who she did not want to remember over the past decade or so.

His name mentioned by others slowly brought out Maisie's long-buried memories, which put her in a rage.

As for Ivan, Maisie did not care about him at all. Her mind was full of memories of Robert's father.

Maisie nodded at Joanna.

“Now that you know where he is, just go and ask him to come back soon. His brother is missing. Does he just want to stay drunk?”

Marcel and Joanna smirked. They nodded hurriedly and left.

Everyone had left except for Alex. He walked to Maisie.

“Maisie, why are you being so angry? It’s been more than ten years. Can’t you get over him? He abandoned you. But you are the honorary director, and your son is the CEO. The whole Simpson family is yours. Why you still have him in your heart?”

Maisie warned Marcel.

“Shut up. It’s none of your business. Just piss off!”

Marcel chuckled.

“Maisie. You haven’t changed for so many years.”

Marcel turned around and left.

Maisie stood still with a sullen look.

As for Jasper, he came to himself and rubbed his head to ease his headache. Suddenly, he found that he was holding someone in his arms. ____

Chapter 123 Don’t You Want to Take Revenge?

Jasper opened his eyes to see who spent last night with him.

But he was stunned when he saw the woman beside him.

“Why are you here?”

Jasper asked in a cold voice.

Seeing Jasper woke up, Jennifer cried in grievance.

“It’s you... you hurt me... I ... I have to tell my mom and dad ... you ruined me. You have to take the responsibility...”

Jennifer cried. And then she opened the door and ran out of the room.

Jasper was after her. He wanted to ask what she meant by that.

But he didn’t get dressed. As soon as he went out, Jason’s parents saw them being disheveled.

Jason’s parents were shocked. They wondered what was going on.

The Murphy family, the Holland family, and the Johnson family were all in a mess.

It was getting light.

There was still no news of Robert and Georgia.

Aston and Emilia left after they met Mr. Murphy last night. Aston did not know what happened to the Murphy family yet.

The next day, Aston went to work and found that Georgia was absent. Benjamin asked him to have a private talk in his office. Until then, Aston knew about the accident.

Georgia and Robert were kidnapped last night and still missing now.

“If you can, use your connections to help them find Georgia. It’s urgent.”

Aston wouldn’t refuse. It was a life-and-death matter. He wouldn't turn down at this time.

"I will ask my sister and my families to look into it."

But Aston and Benjamin knew that the Powell family's power was mainly in America. So there was not so much Aston could do.

Under this circumstance, anyone's help mattered. So, everyone helped find Robert together.

Georgia woke up and found her whole body was tied up.

She looked around and found herself was locked in a huge room.

To her surprise, Robert was tied up, too.

What happened? Georgia wanted to speak, but her mouth was sealed with tape.

She looked at Robert and found his mouth was also sealed with tape. And he hadn't woken up.

What happened? Georgia was scared. She had a stomachache and felt hungry. Thinking of her unborn child, Georgia felt very worried.

She usually ate little, which was likely to lead to the impaired development of her child.

Now she had no idea how long she had been tied up. She didn't eat anything. Georgia felt despair at thinking that her child might be influenced.

She wanted to wake Robert up, but she could not say it out for her mouth was sealed with tape.

She could not move with her hands and legs all tied up. There was no one around, except for the bound Robert who had fainted. Georgia felt hopeless.

Suddenly, the door was opened.

Georgia saw a gorgeous woman walk in. She didn't know the woman, but the woman smiled at her.

“Miss Lane, you're awake. Are you hungry? I'll take you to eat ... if you need to go to the toilet, I can take you there.”

Georgia felt that the woman took her neither as a criminal, nor a kidnap victim.

She was confused. But she wanted to leave this place to eat, so she nodded.

The woman smiled at Georgia.

“I'm Kayden. I'll take you to eat first.”

Georgia had no idea what this woman wanted. She blinked.

Soon, Kayden removed Georgia's tape. Georgia wanted to cry for help. Kayden smiled.

"Miss Lane, don't expect your cry will get you any help. This is a quiet island. It's brought by my master. No one can save you."

Georgia gave up. She was taken out by Kayden.

As Kayden said, the beach was at a short distance. It seemed that Kayden was right. It was a quiet island with no one living here. She could not ask for help.

Maybe all the people on this island took orders from Kayden's master.

Kayden took Georgia to a villa nearby. Georgia's hands were still tied up. When they walked into the villa, Kayden untied Georgia.

Food had been placed on the table in the living room.

“Miss Lane, you can eat now. And you can relax yourself a bit.”

One had to be obedient when he or she was on other's turf. Georgia walked to the table. She had to keep her baby alive.

Georgia was clear that she had to eat.

“OK.”

Georgia lowered her head and ate quietly.

She didn't like the food, but she had been hungry for too long, so she had to force herself to eat. She chewed her meal slowly and took a bit of meal from every dish.

She knew she still had anorexia. She could only take in every meal to keep the balanced nutrition.

But after she finished her meal, she felt like vomiting. She asked Kayden nervously.

“I need to go to the bathroom.”

Kayden took Georgia to the bathroom. Georgia could not help but spat out half of the meal.

Kayden patted on Georgia’s back.

“Miss Kayden, are you seriously anorexic?”

Georgia could not help but gave a bitter smile. Now she had finished her meal and known that Kayden bore her no ill will. She asked Kayden.

“Why did you tie me up and bring me here?”

“You have to witness some things. At that time, we had to pretend to kidnap both of you, which could also save you from suspicion.”

Georgia didn't understand. Kayden smiled.

“You and Robert disappeared at the same time in the Murphy's. You two were kidnapped. But if you were safe, they would suspect that you are behind Robert's disappearance.”

Georgia still didn't understand.

“Why did you bring Robert here? And why did you bring me here?”

Georgia thought she had nothing valuable, except for her ongoing research.

But her research findings seemed to be useless for Kayden.

“Miss Lane, you are not my master’s enemy. He just wants to see you ... but Robert is his enemy. My master kidnapped Robert and brought him here just to teach him a lesson.”

Georgia felt a bit worried at hearing Kayden’s words.

In fact, she shouldn’t care for Robert.

But Robert had been good to her lately. He helped her a lot. She could not bear to see Robert be suffering.

Her face told her thoughts. Kayden sneered.

“Miss Lane, don’t you forget how the Simpson family tortured you? Don’t you forget the reason why your daughter fainted?”

All your sufferings were caused by the Simpson family. And now you feel pity for Robert just because of some petty favors?”

“You know my master. I'll take you to see him.”

Georgia had no idea who this person was. She could only follow Kayden's steps.

They walked for a while. Kayden took Georgia to a large villa.

When the door was opened, Georgia felt shocked at once. The man sitting on the sofa was actually Laurence.

He was quietly reading a book on the sofa. Seeing Georgia walk in, Laurence smiled at her.

“Just have a seat. Are you shocked to see me?”

Georgia was indeed shocked. But then she was full of surprise.

She was afraid before that something happened to Lawrence. After all, Lawrence got hurt for helping her. Georgia had been sorry for that and could not let it go.

Now she saw Lawrence be safe and even read books on the sofa, she felt relieved immediately.

“Mr. Knight, I thought something happened to you...”

Georgia said it out. Lawrence smiled.

“Have a seat and then we talk.”

Georgia sat on the sofa opposite to Lawrence’s. She asked with care.

“Mr. Knight, what happened? You have been completely out of touch for a month or two. I tried to ask Professor Lee to find you. But he couldn't get any news of you. I've been worried that something might happen to you. After all, it was me who put you into trouble. Mr. Knight, I'm sorry..."

Lawrence smiled at Georgia.

"Something did happen. But I was lucky enough to live on. Now I came back alive. I can take revenge on my enemy for myself."

Lawrence's tone was full of viciousness. Georgia felt she was overwhelmed by a sense of murderous and pressure.

Georgia suddenly realized that Lawrence was going to take revenge on Robert. She had a mixed feeling at that moment.

She didn't know whose side she should be on. It was Robert who put Lawrence into trouble. Robert told her personally.

Now Lawrence came back. As he said, he barely escaped with his life, so he would not let Robert go.

It was nothing wrong with Lawrence taking revenge on Robert.

But Georgia felt something in her throat, and she could not speak. She could not say that to Lawrence with a smile.

‘You should do so. You should give Robert a lesson. You should make him suffer from your revenge...’

Georgia couldn’t tell him that.

Robert and she had been through so many things throughout this period.

She did suffer a lot, but Robert helped her again and again. Especially these few days, he helped her find her daughter back. Georgia could not stop her gratitude to Robert.

Seeing Georgia keep silent, Lawrence put on a sullen face.

“What? Have you fallen in love with him?”

Georgia shook her head hurriedly.

“Mr. Knight, you are mistaken. There’s no such things.”

Lawrence nodded in relief.

“I heard that the Simpson family have been taking revenge on you. Don’t you want to get back at them?”

Georgia felt embarrassed when Lawrence asked her.

She did not know how to answer, so she could only keep silent.

Looking at Georgia, Lawrence sneered.

“What? You have suffered a lot. Don’t you want to take revenge on the Simpson family?”

Georgia raised her head and answered.

“Mr. Knight, I don’t know if you know my past. But my real enemy is the Lane family. It was the Lane family who put me in jail, had me to be misunderstood, and has tortured me until now. My father, Owen, my half-sister, Emma, and my half-brother, Eden. They almost sold me to a pervert. Then they made me be the scapegoat for Eden’s car accident and put me in jail for six years!”

“Because I was in the jail, my child has been in bad health since she was born. If I’m going to have my revenge, I should take revenge on the Lane family. As for the Simpson family, they did do something bad to me. But it was all because of the Lane family. They made me become a perpetrator for a car accident, and then the Simpson family misunderstood me as the murderer of Wendy. The Simpson family insulted me and hurt me. Although I am angry, they did it for a reason.”

Georgia was angry about the Simpson family. But she couldn’t take hard revenge on the Simpson family and made Robert suffer more.

Besides, Robert helped her a couple of times. She couldn’t hurt Robert.

After Georgia finished her words, Lawrence suddenly exposed his legs. Georgia sat still, frozen with shock.

Before she entered the room, she only saw Lawrence having a cup of tea on the sofa with a blanket on his knee. She didn’t think much.

But now she saw that nothing was under the blanket.

Lawrence's legs had been amputated. This was Lawrence's situation now. Georgia could not say anything.

Lawrence smiled at Georgia.

"You can choose not to take revenge on Robert, and I won't force you to do so. But just look at my legs now. Don't you think I should get him back?"

Georgia could not speak with her trembling lips.

"Mr. Knight ... I'm sorry. I'm sorry. It's all on me..."

If Lawrence didn't help her fake the paternity test, he would not be missing for so long and would not lose his legs. Georgia's eyes got red. She was full of guilt and didn't know what to say.

Lawrence sneered with hostility.

“I was barely survived and lost my legs. Tell me, how should I get back at Robert?”

Georgia dared not to say anything. She had no reason to ask Lawrence to give up his revenge.

But she could not bear to see Robert die or be tortured. She felt like she was standing on the edge of the cliff. She would die no matter she took one step forward or backward.

“Mr. Knight, what do you want to do to him?”

Georgia asked in a trembling voice. She braced herself to ask the question.

Lawrence sneered.

“He should suffer the pain that I have suffered. Death is too good for him,”

Lawrence clapped his hands.

Soon, Georgia saw Lawrence’s man bring Robert in.

Robert had woken up but still been tied. After Robert was brought into the room, the two subordinates of Lawrence kicked at Robert’s knees.

Robert kneeled on the ground. His mouth was sealed with tape so he couldn’t speak. But his eyes had been full of hostility.

Georgia felt that except for the anger to Lawrence, there was something else in Robert’s eyes when he looked at her.

Did he think that she cooperated with Lawrence and kidnapped him here?

Georgia dared not to ask. She even dared not to look at Robert.

She was afraid that she would see his pain and humiliation from his eyes. Robert should be prideful. She didn't have the heart to see Robert be humiliated.

That kind of scene would break her heart.

"Take off his tape."

Lawrence's men took off Robert's tape as their master told. Robert said in a cold voice.

"What do you want? Lawrence."

Lawrence laughed as if he heard a joke.

"Mr. Simpson, you know what I want clearly. I will get what did you do to me all back at you. An eye for an eye, a wrong for a wrong. Don't you think that's supposed to be?"

Robert noticed Lawrence's lost legs. He did ask Michael to take revenge on Lawrence. But he lost track of Lawrence. Robert didn't think that Lawrence had survived with the price of his lost legs.

Lawrence was here to get back at him. There was no room for negotiation between the two of them.

"On the battlefield of business, you die, or I win. It was you who faked the paternity test. I took revenge on you. I never thought I was wrong. If you want to get it back at me now, you have the right to do so."

Robert was calmed as if he didn't fear Lawrence's revenge.

But Georgia got worried. She stood still helplessly, not knowing what to do.

Lawrence sneered.

“I’d like to see how long you can be in denial. Break his legs now!”

The two men who brought Robert in hit Robert’s thighs with sticks.

They hit Robert over and over. Robert did not utter a sound.

But his forehead was covered with cold sweat. He pursed his lips tight as if he was undergoing great pain.

Georgia never saw Robert being humiliated and tortured like this. She felt terrible.

Suddenly, Georgia kneeled on the ground.

“Mr. Knight, it should blame on me. If I didn’t ask you for help, you wouldn’t fake the paternity test. And Robert wouldn’t know it and hurt you ... it is all my fault. Please spare his life.”

Georgia couldn’t beg for anything else. Lawrence had lost his legs. What could she say?

Watching Robert being beaten again and again, Georgia felt her heart was broken.

But this time, Lawrence didn’t show any respect to Georgia.

“Georgia, I help you because I am willing to help you. But when I don’t want to help you, I won’t do you any favor even if you kill yourself in front of me.”

Lawrence said in a cold voice and then told his men.

“Go on. Don’t stop!”

Georgia’s cheeks were bathed in tears. She quietly raised her head and looked at Robert, whose face had become awful with pain. He was looking at the ground. Georgia couldn’t see what Robert was thinking.

Georgia never felt heartbreaking and embarrassed like this before. She suddenly thought she was mostly to blame.

If it were not for her, nothing would happen today.

Now she was pregnant, so she couldn’t rush over and stop them from beating Robert.

Georgia felt she was a coward good-for-nothing. She could not do anything. She was the most useless person in the world.

Georgia didn’t know how long it lasted. She saw Robert fall on the ground in pain. And her voice had become hoarse with crying.

Lawrence told his men.

“Take him to the room and lock him up. Bring him to me tomorrow and continue to beat him until his legs are broken!”

Lawrence turned around and looked at Kayden.

“Help me into the chair. I need a rest.”

“Mr. Knight, is there no other replaceable punishment...”

She could not beg for mercy but only looked at Lawrence humbly.

Lawrence warmed her in indifference.

“If you interceded with me again, I would break your legs, too. Then you and Robert could enjoy your sufferings together!”

Kayden helped Lawrence into the chair.

Then Kayden pushed Lawrence's carriage and walked to another room.

Georgia stood still. She felt she was at a loss and could not find a way out.

She was trapped on this island where Lawrence's men were all around. And now Robert was beaten. Would she watch Robert be beaten and lose his legs?

Georgia thought she couldn't do it.

But she owed Lawrence, so she could not betray him. It would be a wrong decision no matter which one she chose to stand by. No one would care where she was. Even no one would tie her up again.

Georgia could come and go wherever she wanted. She could even go to the room where Robert was locked up.

But what was the use of this?

Georgia stumbled on the beach. She felt despair.

Annie was still stuck in Robert's villa. Robert and she had been missing. What should Annie do?

Robert was the father of her unborn child. Could she do nothing but watch Robert be humiliated? What should she do?

Georgia asked herself again and again. She felt like she had come to a dead end and could not find a way out at all.

In D City, all families knew about Robert's disappearance.

The Simpson family made an announcement through media early in the morning. Alex took Robert's place and was in charge of the Group's business temporarily.

The business and stocks of the Simpson family remained stable. Alex's ability was widely recognized.

Maisie was relieved for that. But at the same time, she feared Alex more. She didn't expect that Alex's ability had been widely convincing like this in the Simpson family.

Now Robert was just missing. If something terrible happened to Robert, then the whole Simpson family would be in Alex's control.

Alex got benefits from Robert's disappearance. Maisie had a feeling that Alex was involved in the kidnapping. She just couldn't find the proof.

It had been a whole night since Robert was missing. There was still no news of him. Maisie was anxious, like a cat on hot bricks.

She called her family and the Simpson family and other connections. But no one knew where Robert was.

It was like Robert had vanished into the air.

In D City, the Webb family had been in a mess.

Elliot frowned and looked at her son. She could not help but roared.

“You always play the field. But why did you mess with Jennifer? The Johnson family has been good friends with us. And you just sleep with Jennifer and don’t want to be responsible for that. Are you going to risk your neck?” _____

Elliot screamed at them and Bailey Holland asked his son next to him helplessly.

"What the hell was going on? How did you and Jennifer Johnson sleep together? The Johnson family said that you must marry Jennifer, otherwise, their family will never forgive you. Do you really want us to be enemies forever?"

"Dad, how did I know it would become like this."

Jasper Holland's face was gloomy, and he also felt wronged.

He was drugged last night, and he asked Jason Murphy to find him a clean woman, but he didn't expect that the woman he woke up holding was Jennifer.

This woman, Jennifer, chased his good buddy Robert Simpson for more than a decade, Jennifer was a joke to him. Now he was so headache as he slept this woman.

He would just give some money to let other woman slept with him go away, but Jennifer was different, she was the only daughter of the Johnson family.

For so many years, even the Simpson family had nothing to do with her. Because Robert always refused her firmly so the Johnson family had no way to force him.

However, he slept with their daughter now, and the Johnson family would definitely not let it go easily.

"You are too shameful to be aggrieved. No one asked you to flirt with women outside, which was irresponsible. You are in trouble now? Let me ask you one more time, will you marry Jennifer?"

Elliot asked him loudly and she had a good relationship with Jennifer's mother.

Honestly, she also persuaded Jennifer's mother not to spoil her daughter too much, because Jennifer chased after Robert for such a long time had become a joke in D City.

But at the moment this joke was actually possible to marry her son. Elliot didn't want Jennifer to be her daughter-in-law.

However, her son slept with Jennifer, she had to accept it. Otherwise, the Johnson family might really hate her family forever.

But it was ok probably Jennifer didn't like her son after a few years and they two would get divorced.

But right now, the marriage really had to happen.

"Dad and Mom, do you really want me to marry Jennifer? You know that her heart is all for Robert. If I married her, she would definitely cheat on me."

After Jasper said that, Bailey directly slapped in Jasper's face.

"It's all because you flirt with women every day outside, and now you are getting retribution. I witness Jennifer's grow-up. Apart from being obsessed with Robert, there is nothing wrong with other things. You should take the responsibility of a man now. Come, hurry up to apology to the Johnson family, and then propose to her."

Jasper was extremely unwilling to do so. He and his parents looked at each other while Selena Holland just walked in and she vaguely heard what her parents and Jasper said.

Selena did not hear clearly. As soon as she walked in, Jasper suddenly complained to her sister.

"Selena, please persuade mom and dad, they want me to marry Jennifer. You know that Jennifer is a shrew, if I married her, how can I have a peaceful life in the future!"

Selena didn't understand what was happening at home, so she asked her brother.

"Jasper, what's going on here? Dad and Mom, why do you want Jasper to marry Jennifer?"

Baileysighed and Elliot coldly explained.

"He did such a great thing that he slept with Jennifer last night. Jason's parents saw it. Now the Johnson family also knew it. They called me and let us prepare for the marriage proposal.

They wanted to discuss the marriage. Your brother was not willing to marry Jennifer. Then he shouldn't have slept with Jennifer at the first place. Our hands were tied as things already like this."

When Elliot said these words of resentment, Selena's face turned pale in an instant and she couldn't even stand still. She looked at her brother.

"Jasper, was what mom said true? Were you with Jennifer last night?"

Selena slightly shaking when she asked, and Jasper nodded helplessly.

"It was her, how did I know that the woman yesterday was Jennifer. Selena, dad and mom, I was drunk and drugged, it was not my fault..."

"It doesn't matter if you are drugged or drunk, things have already happened, do you still want to deny!"

Elliot yelled to him, and Selena ran out in a panic.

"What's wrong with her?"

Jasper asked suspiciously, but Elliot thought of something and she warned Jasper.

"Your sister was scared by you. Now get dressed quickly. We will go to Johnson family to apology and prepare for the marriage. Don't think you can escape. Let me tell you. I've torn your passport. I have told everyone that you can't go abroad now. If you dare to leave D City, I will freeze your bank accounts so even if you go abroad but you can't spend even a penny. Also, don't think you can borrow from Jason and Robert. Robert is in trouble now and cannot help you. As for Jason, I have already called him. He won't lend you money. Dare you have other way to run away"

After Elliot said this, Jasper looked up to the ceiling and sighed.

"Mom, Robert is my brother. He disappeared now. I will help find Robert first, and then we can discuss marriage with Johnson family, okay?"

Jasper heard enough about Jennifer after he woke up. He was taken back home by his pissed-off parents right after learning about the disappearance of Robert.

Up to now, Jasper didn't help Jason find Robert, which made him feel that he was unqualified to be Robert's friend.

Bailey nodded.

"You really need to help find Robert."

Elliot looked at the proud expression of her son, and she sneered.

"You can go to find Robert, I won't stop you, but your dad and I will go to the Johnson family immediately to set the engagement and marriage dates..."

Jasper had no choice but to agree.

After Selena ran out, she picked up her mobile phone in a panic and called Jennifer.

Jennifer pretended to cry in her bedroom at this time to make her parents worried. Seeing her mobile phone rang, Jennifer walked into the bathroom with her mobile phone and then turned the water on.

Then she spoke to the person on the phone.

"Selena, what up?"

Selena suddenly didn't know what to speak. Could she say that she was the one who was with Jasper last night? She knew Jennifer was lying and playing tricks.

Selena knew it clearly that she could not say that.

"Jennifer, don't you like Robert? Why do you force my brother to marry you?"

After thinking about it, Selena started with the question.

Jennifer laughed ruthlessly.

"Selena, it's a shame on you to ask me about this. If I didn't help you, it will be a scandal between you guys. I will marry your brother and be your sister-in-law. No one would ever know the dirty things between you and your brother. Don't you think this is good?"

When Jennifer said that, Selena's face was in pale.

"You do it on purpose. What exactly are you going to do? You don't like my brother. What are you going to do to him?"

Jennifer sneered.

"It's not your business, anyway, I am going to marry your brother now, no one can stop me!"

"Jennifer, I will tell the truth to everyone immediately, I'm telling you, Jason also saw what happened in face. Do you think you can continue to lie?"

Ignored Selena's warn, Jennifer burst into laugh instead.

"Do you think I'm afraid of that? Go ahead and tell the truth, let the world know that you and your brother actually slept together. Guess what your mother and your dad would think about you after telling them... I really don't believe you have the courage to tell them the truth..."

After Jennifer mocked on her, Selena collapsed on the ground and her voice became humble.

"I'm begging you, Jennifer, please, you don't like my brother. Marrying him will only hurt him and yourself. Why don't you let my brother go?"

Selena was crying and begging. She felt that she hurt her brother. Jennifer mocked loudly on the other side of the phone.

"I am beautiful with a good family background. I go to top university with decent education. I don't think your brother could find anyone better than me. I won't care about whether you would tell the truth or not. Anyway, I will marry Jasper. Tell the truth if you want!"

After saying this indifferently, Jennifer hung up the phone directly. She turned off the faucet and then went back to her bedroom.

There was a door-knocking right after she done that.

"Jennifer, don't do anything stupid, Jasper will definitely marry you, please don't do stupid things..."

Jennifer's mother was knocking on the door outside and guarding her outside her room worriedly. Jennifer responded aggrievedly.

"Mom, I'm fine, I won't do any stupid things, don't worry."

After Jennifer finished speaking, she herself showed a grinning smile.

There was only one thing made Jennifer worried about.

After finishing dealing with the thing in the morning, she learned about the disappearance of Robert, which made Jennifer feel a little depressed and worried.

She originally wanted to see the expression on Robert's face after he knew that she would marry Jasper, but now Robert was missing.

Then Robert couldn't see the wedding ceremony if he was missing?

Jennifer couldn't bear that Robert would miss the scene she married Jasper.

She prayed in her heart that Robert must be safe and sound.

Otherwise, the horrible plan in her heart would not be successful at all.

The Johnson family have made up their minds to let Jasper marry Jennifer. They only have one daughter. They would do whatever to make her happy.

In the Holland family, Jasper kind of changed his mind. He would marry with someone anyway. As he couldn't stop flirting with women outside then it didn't matter who he married at home. He would treat her well but not love her.

Jasper considered it thoroughly, and it seemed that marrying Jennifer was not a big deal.

The only one who was heartbroken was Selena. After she was hung up by Jennifer, she called Jason.

"Jason, what should I do now? Jennifer replaced me and went to my brother's room. Now my parents want my brother to marry Jennifer, what should I do?"

Selena was very helpless and Jason had just learned about what was going to happen between Jasper and Jennifer from his parents.

He was also shocked at the time, even almost telling the truth.

But this kind of truth couldn't be told for a lifetime, Jason also sighed.

"Who knows how Jennifer get involved in all this? Right now, my parents also know about what happened, and they are still warning me not to get drunk outside and be drugged, so that I will not be forced to marry someone came from nowhere in the future. Selena, how are you now? Is there any physical discomfort?"

Selena shook her head, but her voice sounded like she was crying.

"I'm fine... Jason, I'm just worried about my brother. My parents are persuading him. I think my brother will definitely be forced to marry Jennifer in the end. It is all my fault..."

Jason comforted her.

"Your brother is such a playboy. If he was really forced to marry Jennifer, it will not affect his future. Maybe the two of them will get divorced in a few years. You don't have to worry too much."

Jason said it easily, but Selena was so heartbroken.

She could not tell Jason that she was just an adopted daughter, nor could she tell Jason that she really liked Jasper.

She couldn't tell these things to anyone, but only hid it deep in her heart.

After hanging up the phone with Jason, Selena was miserable. She wanted to find a place to get completely drunk and forget about anything.

But her phone rang and the person on the other side spoke as soon as he got on the phone. __

Daddy, Mommy had been in Prison

Chapter 126 She has to Survive

“Ms Holland, I’m Vanessa Cooke, Georgia’s best friend. I want to know what happened to Georgia, why didn’t she come for work today?”

Vanessa would have a daily phone call with Georgia to ask how Annie was doing.

Ever since she was discharged from the hospital, Vanessa returned to live in her previous flat.

But every night, Alfred would come the flat to humiliate her. Yet, Vanessa kept it all to herself.

Alfred would force her to watch those videos every night just to humiliate and torture her. Yet, Vanessa allowed Alfred to take his revenge.

She knew that Georgia's research had reached a critical moment. She also knew that Annie was being taken care of by Robert and Georgia. So, Vanessa didn't want to be a burden for Georgia.

She had been putting up with this humiliation from Alfred. Yet, when she talked to Georgia through phone every day, she always said that she was fine.

In fact, Vanessa knew very well that her mental state was on the verge of collapse.

Alfred didn't know that when Vanessa was forced to watch those videos every day, her head was like buzzing and she was on the edge of collapse.

When she first had a mental breakdown, the doctor did a psychological examination. It was clear that her mental state was at risk and could fall into hysteria anytime.

But Vanessa kept it to herself. She didn't tell neither Georgia nor Alfred about it.

After all, she was an orphan, and Alfred wanted to take his revenge on her, then she would be the sole target.

Vanessa thought to herself if she went insane or died, maybe Alfred's revenge would also cease.

Back then, Alfred had taken Annie away once. So, Vanessa did not want Alfred to hurt those around her again. She would rather endure Alfred's torture all by herself.

But Georgia wasn't answering the phone. She phoned Alfred and asked him. However, Alfred humiliated her and stated that he didn't do it.

Alfred was a man who had always been frank, and he would admit it if he had done it.

Vanessa then understood that the disappearance of Georgia had nothing to do with Alfred.

Now, Georgia was missing and Alfred told Vanessa that Robert was also missing. Vanessa was out of ideas.

As she thought about it, she called Selena first.

Selena was a police officer after all, so maybe she could pry some information out of her.

After Selena heard Vanessa's question, she calmed herself down before answering Vanessa's question.

“Last night, both Georgia and Robert were kidnapped and disappeared. Now the Simpson family is in chaos, everyone who is close to the Simpson family is looking for their news in hopes of finding Robert and Georgia. Both of them were kidnapped at the same time, but so far there is no news and information. I don't know what's the situation currently.”

She had locked herself in a hotel room for a whole night. And to be honest, Selena wasn't sure of the progress of the case of Robert's disappearance.

Confirming that this had really happened, she fell on the floor feeling extremely weak. She then asked Selena another question.

“Georgia and Robert were missing, what about Annie? What should Annie do now? Will something happen to her if she's all alone in Robert's villa?”

Selena was stunned by Vanessa's words.

She hadn't thought at all that Georgia's daughter was living in Robert's villa now. Were those two already living together too?

Selena thought this in her mind as she asked Vanessa.

"Do you want to go and check on Annie?"

Vanessa nodded affirmatively.

"Yes, I'm afraid that something will happen to Annie. Ms Holland, do you know where is Robert's villa? I don't know where the villa is though."

Selena thought about it for a moment and she spoke to Vanessa.

"Where are you now? I'll drive you there. If you go there by yourself, Robert's villa will not let you in for sure, I'll go there so they'll let you in."

Vanessa was very thankful to Ms Holland immediately.

“Thank you, Ms Holland, thank you...”

Selena smiled. After she hung up the phone, she immediately went to the station and drove to fetch Vanessa.

There was something about Jasper and Jennifer that Selena really didn't want to further think about it now. As it would only make her even more distressed.

It would be better to immerse herself in her work and not care about it. Anyway, even if nothing happened today, her brother would have taken another woman as his wife too. She tried to forget what had happened yesterday. Selena warned herself in her mind to forget about it forever.

After Vanessa hopped on the car, the two immediately drove to Robert's villa.

And at Robert's mother's place, Ivan had arrived to meet his auntie, Maisie.

"Auntie, no news from Robert so far? There's really no progress at all?"

Ivan was worried as he asked. After he was awakened by his family member, his parents told him that Robert was kidnapped and went missing. This made Ivan instantly awake.

He rushed back as fast as he could and asked Maisie.

Maisie shook her head.

"Still nothing. If it was a kidnapping, the kidnappers would have called us and requested a ransom by now. But now, there's still no news, which mean that it's most probably someone seeking revenge."

After Maisie spoke until this point, her eyes reddened.

If it were a kidnapping, she would have felt a little better. She could just prepare the ransom, and everything would be fine.

But if it was their nemesis, Robert might not even be alive right then. As nemesis would only kill you and wouldn't let you live for even a moment.

Ivan had saved a lot of patients worldwide and he was well-connected.

On his way here, Ivan had called all his contacts and asked them to help finding his own cousin, Robert.

“Auntie, I've called the people I know, and they will definitely help me find Robert. But right now, can't you think of any enemy?”

Maisie shook her head in despair.

“I can't think of any. I can't figure out who did it at all. Ivan, do you have any idea? I'm really worried that something has happened to Robert."

"This looks like an enemy seeking revenge, I heard that Georgia was also kidnapped along with Robert. Auntie, is this true?"

Ivan asked and Maisie nodded with a cold expression.

"It's all because of Georgia that bitch. If Robert didn't try to save Georgia who had fainted, how has he been kidnapped? This woman is a scourge!"

Maisie roared with hatred and Ivan was a little angry too.

He had known that this woman was no ordinary in his cousin's heart. And now that his own cousin had gone to this extent. Ivan's perception of Georgia was getting worse and worse.

After waiting for almost half an hour or so, there was still no news coming in. Ivan was getting a bit restless.

“Auntie, we can’t rely on our power anymore because even with our strong connections, we can’t find out anything about Robert until now.”

Maisie looked coldly at Ivan.

“What do you mean by that?”

“Auntie, I know this is very presumptuous, but what is more important than Robert’s life? I know that uncle is well-connected with various sectors and groups. Since he left the Simpson family, there are many companies under his name that are doing well. There are people he knows all over the world, so if we ask uncle for help, this would definitely help a lot in the effort of finding Robert. Furthermore, Robert is his own flesh and blood.”

This time she needed to look for Robert’s father again. Maisie’s heart vaguely throbbed at the thought of that man.

However, Ivan was right that nothing was more important than Robert’s life.

No matter how angry she was, and how Robert's father had brought her so much pain, what was all that hatred worth if her son was dead?

Yesterday's rage and craziness disappeared and she came back to her senses at that moment. Without any news for more than ten hours, there was no other way but to reach out to Robert's father for assistance.

"I know what you mean, I will call him right away."

Maisie took a deep breath as she picked up her phone, then dialled the number that hadn't been called for over ten years.

The call was answered a few dozen seconds later, and it was a woman's voice.

"Hello, who's this?"

As soon as she heard the woman's voice, Maisie clenched her hands to the point that her nails sank into her palms.

"Tell Aidan that his son is missing, and I need to talk to him."

The woman nodded as Maisie finished this sentence.

"Alright, I'll pass him the phone right away."

After a minute, the voice of Robert's father, Aidan came from the other side of the phone.

"What's going on? Robert is missing?"

Maisie told Aidan everything about yesterday's incident.

“We need to put aside our grudges and focus on finding our child. You have been away from him for so many years and absent from your fatherly duty all this while. Now he is missing, and his life is in danger, shouldn’t you do your part and find our child back?”

Aidan made a promise to Maisie.

“Okay, I’ll get my people to look into it right away. I’ll let you know as soon as I have any news.”

After Aidan finished saying those words, he hung up the phone and the woman next to him asked worriedly.

“Is your son missing? Is it something serious?”

Aidan walked over and took the woman into his arms,

“Lindsey, it’s okay. I’ll get someone to look for him right away. You don’t have to worry about it, just get some rest.”

The person called Lindsey nodded.

“Alright, go back and do what you’re doing. I’ll go out and water those plants. I won’t bother you.”

Aidan smiled faintly as he watched the woman sway and leave. He picked up his own mobile phone and called his subordinates. Ordering them to do all they could to search for Robert.

At the same time, Aidan made a phone call to people he knew around the world and after sending Robert’s identity information, he asked them to help find his son.

Leaving the Simson family for more than ten years, Aidan never regretted it. He left all the assets of the Simpson family to Robert and left with the woman he loved without a second of thinking seriously.

When his father asked him if he didn’t want the Simpson family’s assets, he would agree to divorce. He didn’t hesitate to leave the Simpson family’s assets to his son, Robert at that time.

The absence was more than ten years, and to Aidan's surprise, he would receive a call from Robert's mother again.

And this time it turned out that Robert had disappeared.

One wouldn't realise until one's older that he really did act on his impulses when he was younger and failed to fulfil his duty as a father.

So, Aidan felt that he should be really doing his best to find Robert this time.

The Simpson family was waiting for news of Robert and they had sent many people to look for him.

And at this time, Maisie received a call from the housekeeper inside Robert's villa.

“Ma’am, there is something I must ask for your permission.”

Maisie asked in confusion.

“What is it?”

Her own son was missing and she wondered why the housekeeper of Robert’s villa called. Maisie felt suspicious.

“Ms Holland has brought Miss Cooke here. They are planning to take Georgia’s daughter away. Is this something that I should agree to?”

Maisie’s face instantly went cold.

“You’re saying that Georgia’s daughter has been living in Robert’s villa? What’s going on here?”

Robert warned the housekeeper not to tell his mother about Georgia and her daughter.

However, Robert was missing, and Georgia's daughter had been crying inside the villa today.

And after that, Ms Holland and Miss Cooke came over wanting to take Georgia's daughter away. The housekeeper was indecisive now, and he could only tell Robert's mother about the matter and let her make the decision.

After telling Maisie everything, her face grew sullen.

She then said how could her son be so obsessed with Georgia, it turned out that those two were living together already.

It pissed her off that Robert was a fool. He even helped other man to raise their daughter.

"You tell them to stay put, I'll be right there."

After ordering coldly, Maisie immediately stood up and called for taxi.

Ivan asked curiously.

“Auntie, what happened?”

“Your cousin Robert was actually raising Georgia’s daughter, and now she is inside his villa. Selena and Georgia’s best friend wants to take his daughter away. You follow me to see what’s going on.”

Ivan hesitated for a moment, then nodded.

“Auntie, I’ll follow you.”

After they finished talking, they immediately took the car to Robert’s villa.

On an island.

It was time for dinner, Kayden walked towards Georgia again and she intended to take her for dinner.

Georgia hesitated for a long time and she spoke to Kayden.

“Can Robert have dinner too?”

Kayden snorted a laugh.

“Of course he can eat, if he died now, how will our master take revenge. You know that death will be the end of the story, only if he’s breathing that he could feel the torture.”

Such words sent chills down Georgia’s spine.

She didn’t want to eat, but her condition left her no choice. If she didn’t eat, it would affect the child inside her. Georgia could only follow Kayden to the restaurant to have dinner.

Kayden laughed a little beside her.

“Ms Lane, I thought how much you care for Mr Simpson. But it turns out when Mr Simpson was beaten, you only knelt on the ground and shed tears. And now you’re willing to have dinner when I ask you, this means that you don’t care much about Robert. So, why do you care if he is alive or not, or whether his legs are broken?”

Georgia didn’t dare to speak, she could only lower her head and smile bitterly, because she was pregnant now.

She could skip meals, but how could she let the baby inside her belly suffer?

Annie’s heart condition was not good, this was already the thing she felt guiltiest in her life. And if she let anything else happen to the baby inside her belly, Georgia has no dignity to live on.

To Georgia, of course, the child inside her belly was more important than Robert’s affection for her.

This seemed heartless.

But she had lost too much already. She had to survive, she had to survive for her children.

With this in her mind, Georgia suddenly heard the sound of the sky roaring, as if a plane had arrived.

Daddy, Mommy had been in Prison

Chapter 127 Robert's Father

“Is there a plane arriving?”

Georgia raised her head and asked Kayden. But Kayden's face changed dramatically.

“Stay here, don't go out. If anything happens, don't blame me for not warning you!”

After Kayden said this, she ran straight out towards the outside.

It was clear that Kayden wasn't expecting a plane to arrive. And so, she was very careful about it.

Georgia suddenly had a glimmer of hope inside her, could it be the people who came here to save Robert?

Georgia slowly walked towards the door, as she stood there watching what was happening outside.

The island that had been quiet was suddenly crowded with people. Many walked outside with weapons in their hand. It seemed that something big was about to unfold.

Georgia sneaked out the door, she intended to see how Robert was doing.

There was already the sound of roaring jet engines on top of them. And eventually, a helicopter descended slowly and landed.

Men with weapons started to surround the helicopter as it landed on the island.

Georgia couldn't see who got out from the helicopter. She could only try to conceal herself as she walked towards the room where Robert was held captive.

Not far from the room, Georgia saw that someone was guarding the room where Robert was. She couldn't get any closer.

What was she supposed to do now that there was an unexpected guest on the island?

Georgia pondered in her mind.

However, before Georgia could have thought of an outcome. She felt that something was pointing against her waist.

When she looked down, she saw a man holding a gun against her waist.

“What are you doing here?”

A guard asked coldly, his gaze was filled with unfriendliness.

Georgia could only give an honest account of what she had come for.

“I want to see Robert.”

Georgia pointed at the room where Robert was held captive. The guard gave a direct, cold warning.

“No one can go in without the permission of Mr Knight. Ms Lane, you’d better stay away from here now. The island had been put on high alert; I advise you not to wander around.”

“You can keep my hands tied, I just want to go in and see Robert, please?”

Again, the guard rejected.

“I repeat, Ms Lane. You have no right to enter the room. You can walk around everywhere else. But right now, I suggest you better stay in the room your were in before.”

Georgia could only return helplessly.

While inside the living room where Laurence was sitting. A man was already sitting in front of Mr Knight.

“It’s been over ten years since I’ve seen you and I didn’t think we’d be meeting again in this situation.”

The man sitting opposite Laurence spoke with a light smile.

Laurence stared coldly at the man sitting in front of him, as he suddenly gave a mocking laugh.

now appearing in front of me for the son he had abandoned.”

Aidan’s expression changed for a moment as he turned to ask Laurence.

“I just want a simple answer, are you going to let Robert go or not?”

“Why should I let him off the hook?”

Laurence laughed coldly.

“Your son made me lose both my legs. I’m just trying to take them away from him too. Isn’t this fair?”

Laurence looked extremely serious. The hatred of Robert was deep in his bone.

Aidan spoke again to Laurence.

“If you let go of Robert now, I’ll help your business expand to Europe and America. That’s billions of dollars worth of growth.”

Laurence laughed coldly.

“You thought your son only worth billions?”

Aidan however gave a cold warning.

“if you let my son go now, I’ll help your business to prosper and take your business to the global stage. But if you don’t, guess what happens next?”

When Aidan said this, Laurence expression instantly changed.

He knew what kind of person Aidan was. He was cruel, sinister, cunning, and ruthless. And he would do anything to get what he wants.

Before he could say anything else, Laurence’s mobile phone rang.

The first phone call was from his investor, who decided to pull out.

The second call came from a government department saying that there was a problem with his company and that they needed his assets to be frozen for investigation.

Later, Laurence received dozen phone calls in a row, and all of those were either investor pulling out from his company or his company was under investigation.

Aidan was fully capable of destroying his company.

“As I said, this is my compensation for the loss of your legs. And if you don’t accept the offer that I’ve just given you, then I’ll have to take the next step and make you go straight into bankruptcy. At that point, you probably won’t even be able to afford a maid and will have to be a beggar in the streets. And people might even come and kick you in the face...”

Laurence's face was extremely gloomy when Aidan said these words.

Kayden lowered her head and whispered in Laurence's ear.

"Sir, you need to calm down before you speak. There's still a chance in the future, we don't need to risk it for now."

He understood this, but Laurence still felt overwhelmed with madness.

Why should he endure all the humiliation of the Simpson family again and again? And Robert who made him lose his legs?

At that moment, Robert's father had come over to threaten him, and with his capabilities, his business could be destroyed at any time. And with these legs, he felt like Aidan was handing out billions to him as if he was a beggar. And if he didn't want it, he would be destroyed. No one could endure such humiliation.

However, the most humiliating thing was that he could not resist Aidan's retaliation.

This man, who had snatched that woman so forcefully in the first place, couldn't even give that woman one more look.

And now, Aidan who appeared in front of him again, as he did more than ten years ago, trampled his self-esteem to the ground like it was worthless.

Laurence took deep breathes and kept reminding himself that he needed to take his time, as he was still young.

Aidan then waited patiently with a cup of tea. A wise man knew how to weigh the pros and cons.

He used his connection to find out where Robert was held captive and he immediately flew over here.

Laurence and everything about him was already acknowledged by Aidan.

A slight threat and he would compromise.

In front of the absolute power, there was no room for tricks.

After a long time, Laurence replied reluctantly.

“Fine, I accept your offer. He is now currently held in a room, you can take your son and leave immediately.”

Aidan then smiled with satisfaction.

“‘ He who knows the trend and circumstances is a wise man’, Mr Knight, you have made a wise decision.”

Aidan stood up after he said this.

One of Laurence's subordinates hurried over to Aidan's side.

"Mr Simpson, I'll take you to Robert."

Aidan nodded gently and he brought two bodyguards over and immediately, he led them towards where Robert was held captive.

It wasn't that Laurence hadn't thought about killing him because Aidan was a treacherous man.

If he dared to kill Aidan at that moment, even if he died, he must have a lot of people that could still avenge him and would have tortured him to be bankrupt.

Kayden pushed Laurence's wheelchair and followed Aidan from behind.

After four or five minutes, they finally reached the room where Robert was.

Georgia had been watching from a short distance. She saw a middle-aged man walking with Mr Knight 's subordinates to the door of the room.

Georgia wanted to go over there, but with bodyguards all over the perimeter, Georgia was not able to say anything. So, she could only watch quietly from a distance.

The door of the room swung open and Georgia watched as the men entered.

This made Georgia a little worried. He was afraid that Mr Knight had come up with some more torturing methods and was ready to continue torturing Robert.

And inside the room, Robert had come to his sense.

The sharp pain made him faint, but it also hurt so much that he couldn't sleep then.

As his mind mulled over how to escape in the future. Robert then noticed that the door was opened, and a group of people entered.

Robert's expression didn't change when he saw Mr Knight's subordinates.

However, when the middle-aged man walked in.

Robert's expression changed instantly.

He didn't speak, instead, Aidan spoke to Robert.

"By the looks of you, you do remember me."

Robert didn't want to speak to him and gave a cold expression. His father had left him when he was only a teenager. He had left his mother, his sister just to be with another woman.

When he was young back then, he didn't understand why his father had abandoned his mother.

As he grew old, Robert understood that his father didn't even consider him as his son. So, he also chose to forget his father.

However, when he was trapped here in such a lowly state, and Robert had thought of many ways to escape here.

Yet, he never thought that his father would show up here.

“What are you doing here?”

Robert finally asked.

“Your mother called me and said that you went missing. She wanted me to bring you back home. And now, you can come back with me.”

Robert suddenly felt resentful.

Ever since his father abandoned his mother and sister, Robert had been dedicated to his studies. He wanted to become a powerful figure and protect himself, his mother and his sister.

The Simpson family was so ambitious that they were all eyeing his position, which Robert eventually suppressed with his own effort and method.

He thought he had grown into a powerful figure that people could rely on.

But this accident that came out of nowhere had so far prevented him from escaping.

And what's more humiliating was that his father whom he hated more than ten years had come to save him.

He wasn't the young lad who would refuse his father's aid for the sake of his own self-esteem.

But at that very moment, Robert felt that he was useless.

He had never been as strong as he thought he was. He looked at Laurence's expression which was extreme resignation.

He had also heard once that his father had well-connected with powerful people.

It's just that for the past ten years or so, the Simpson family had deliberately severed its ties with Aidan. So that, both sides didn't interfere or bother each other.

He thought that he would never see the face of this man, and yet he had shown up in front of him as a saviour.

Robert also spoke.

“Besides me, I'd like to beg you to take one more person for me.”

Chapter 128 How Stupid Could You Be

Aidan laughed soon as he finished.

"I know who you are talking about, the woman that disappeared along with you, right? We are alike, sentimental."

Aidan's words made Robert unease. But Aidan turned to Laurence.

"Hand out the woman, I will bring her along, I don't think this request is improper, right?"

Despite Aidan's tone was gentle, Laurence felt a tremendous amount of pressure. This man seemed calm and gentle but his dominating aura created heavy pressure on others.

"I will bring Georgia over."

Laurence said unwillingly.

Georgia was alone outside, she felt that the bodyguard that guarded her received a command from his wireless earpiece.

In an instant, the bodyguard pointed a gun on Georgia's head.

"Mr Laurence wants you to go in, follow me now and don't play tricks, else there'll be unwanted consequences."

Georgia could only follow the guard and walked towards the room where Robert was present.

She saw Robert was untied when she stepped in.

But his legs were injured and he was leaning onto an unknown man.

Robert gave a gentle smile to Georgia when he saw her, it seemed like a smile of relief, and it was weird to her.

Aidan spoke instead, "You are Georgia Lane?"

Georgia didn't know this man but she nodded.

"Yes, I'm Georgia Lane, anything you need?"

Aidan smiled. "I just want to know you. You could be my future daughter in law."

Without waiting for a response from Georgia, Robert said sarcastically after hearing Aidan's words.

"Daughter in law? You've disowned me long ago, and now wants a daughter in law? How shameless."

Aidan ignored Robert and spoke to Laurence.

"I'm a man of my words, I've made a promise on a business deal and will have my team contact you on our collaboration. I'm bringing these two with me and the ties between you are cut from now on. If you take revenge in the future, I won't be merciful, this is a warning and a chance I'm offering you."

Aidan instructed his men after his speech.

"Let's go."

He turned to Georgia once again, "I'll get you and Robert out of here, come with me."

Georgia followed behind Aidan while Robert went out with the help of a man too.

But Georgia was extremely confused.

If she hadn't misinterpreted what Robert said, this man was his father and they were not on good terms.

Georgia had no idea what was happening, she tried putting her logics and rationale together and concluded that this stranger was Robert's biological father, he came to Laurence to save Robert and her.

Despite being displeased, Laurence had to agree, it seemed like Robert's father was quite a powerful man.

The helicopter parked not far from the center of the beach, Georgia followed Aidan and Robert to the helicopter.

Laurence sat in his wheelchair pushed by Kayden, behind him stood a group of people.

Georgia had a sudden feeling that this was a dream.

Robert and she were kidnapped to here, Laurence who had gone missing appeared before her, she witnessed how Laurence lost his legs and Robert being beaten up, humiliated.

So many things happened within a day, Georgia thought it was the end of her life.

But what happened now was, Robert's father that she had never heard of appeared and save Robert and her, it was like a dream.

Georgia was still confused until the moment the helicopter took off.

Laurence told Kayden soon after the helicopter took off.

"I am not letting them go just like this, this has not ended."

Kayden pulled out his gun.

"Mr Knight, I have an idea, Robert cares so much about Georgia, and he will go insane if I shoot at Georgia now. And if Robert protects Georgia, he will be the one who gets hurt towards the end, no matter what, Robert will go back injured, what do you think?”

Laurence did not hesitate.

“Shoot at Georgia then, I want to see if Aidan will go against me for the sake of a stranger woman.”

Kayden pulled the trigger and shot at Georgia soon after.

The helicopter was still taking off, Georgia wasn't aware and she heard a gunshot at the same time Robert went on top of her.

Everyone on the helicopter rushed and held Robert and Georgia.

Georgia saw blood gushing out from Robert's thigh the moment he was held up.

She was startled and cried out loud.

“Robert, your leg is injured, why would you jump in front of a bullet for me? Are you crazy? Why are you so stupid...?”

As Georgia shouted out, she felt a tremendous pain in her heart as well as an unspeakable shock.

Robert jumped in front of a bullet for her, her heart was shaking.

She never would have thought that the man that had no interest in her at all would do such a thing, she didn't know what to say but her heart was in pieces.

She was filled with guilt.

But Robert smiled calmly.

“It's just a reflex action, do you know my heart now?”

Georgia was astounded, Robert gave her all of his heart.

“If I die, will you like me even for a little? Will you love me once?”

Robert uttered the words gently before passing out.

Georgia cried out loud again.

“Why did you do such a stupid thing, I’m not worth it, not worth it...”

Georgia was crying while Aidan instructed his bodyguard.

“Get the first aid kit and treat him immediately.”

Laurence had gone insane, it was meaningless to go against an insane person.

Looking at the fainted and pale Robert on the floor, with blood gushing out from the wound, Aidan knew this was not that time to get rid of Laurence.

Robert needed immediate medical treatment.

Tears gushed down from Georgia’s eyes nonstop, Robert was injured and now with an additional gunshot.

She was frightened and guilty.

She was not worth the man’s action, she didn’t understand why would he did all that for her out of a sudden.

All of this happened too fast, she couldn’t think and couldn’t understand what happened.

“We will be landing at the nearest hospital soon, don’t worry.”

Aidan told Georgia.

Georgia cried without replying.

The helicopter landed in a city, Georgia didn’t know which city it was.

A car stopped in front of the helicopter soon after and Robert was carried into the ambulance, there were foreigners everywhere, there was nothing Georgia could do but wait nervously outside the operation room.

She kept praying that Robert would be alright.

While in D City, Vanessa and Selena stood inside Robert’s villa, Selena once again tried to persuade Mrs Bender.

“Mrs Bender, Robert and Georgia had gone missing, her daughter must be terrified to be left alone here. This is Vanessa, she is Annie’s adopted mom and guardian, letting Annie come with us is a good solution, why would you disagree?”

While Selena explained to Mrs Bender, Vanessa already had Annie in her arms.

Annie was still crying and looked frightened.

She held onto Vanessa tightly and was shaking.

Vanessa thought if she wasn’t here earlier, Annie would have fainted out of fear.

Annie’s heart was fragile, if she cried out loud, it might trigger her sickness.

She had finally awakened, Vanessa didn’t want anything to happen to Annie anymore.

“Vanessa, something happened to mommy?”

Annie who was in Vanessa’s arms asked while crying.

She didn’t know why Mommy and that man didn’t come back last night and nowhere to be seen this morning.

Annie cried out of fear, she asked Mrs Bender and the people around where was mommy, but none of them told her anything.

Annie was not a bad-tempered girl, the only thing she could do was cried for help when she couldn’t see her mommy.

She calmed down a little when she saw Vanessa, hence, held onto her.

But that pretty lady said Mommy had gone missing, Annie was a five-year-old girl, she knew what that meant, thus, was frightened.

She couldn't believe it and asked Vanessa.

"It's alright, your mom will come back, Annie, don't be afraid, we will receive news from mommy soon..."

Annie cried even harder, Vanessa was helpless.

She heard what Selena said, she couldn't lie to Annie, she could only embrace her tightly and comforted her.

But Mrs Bender rejected Selena's request again.

"Ms Holland, I can't let you bring her with you, Mr Simpson asked me to take good care of Ms Lane's daughter, I can't let you bring her away, I've called Ma'am, she will come shortly, and I don't have the right to release this kid."

Selena's face changed, she knew Robert's mom didn't like Georgia.

It was obvious that Maisie didn't know Georgia's daughter was living here.

Now that she knew, who knew what would happen, Selena was worried.

But it had come to this stage now, Selena thought Maisie would not bully a child as long as she stayed.

Selena could only wait. Despite not being able to bring Annie with them, Vanessa had to stay for the child.

It was not good for a five-year-old's mental state without the companion of an adult.

Maisie and Ivan arrived half an hour later.

The door opened and Maisie saw a woman holding a child, which must be Georgia's best friend.

And that child must be Georgia's daughter, out of nowhere, Maisie felt that she knew the child, like someone she had known for long.

But that was Georgia's daughter, no matter how familiar, she only felt repugnant towards them.

She walked towards Vanessa and said coldly, "You wanted to bring Georgia's daughter with you?"

Annie saw a fierce granny in front of her, she was frightened and held tightly on her mom.

Vanessa replied to Maisie politely.

"Mrs Simpson, I'm Annie's guardian, Georgia is not here and Annie will feel frightened to be left alone here, please let me bring Annie with me, I won't give you any trouble."

Maisie smiled coldly, "This child is living here now, do you think this is a place she could come and go as she pleased?”

This was the first time Ivan saw Georgia’s daughter, he had only seen her information before, he never paid attention to how she looked like.

He asked his aunt suspiciously. “Aunt, don’t you think this child resembles brother and even Wendy when she was little?”

Hearing his words, Maisie looked at Annie but said coldly.

“There are tons of people with similar faces in this world, it’s nothing. We’ve done the DNA test, why are you being suspicious still?”

Ivan rubbed his nose and smile awkwardly.

“Aunty, I said they look slightly similar, I didn’t mean anything else.”

Even though he hated Georgia and rejected to do surgery for her daughter, but Ivan would not be prejudice towards a child.

He understood his aunt's resentment, and it had grown until to Georgia's daughter, it was understandable.

Selena walked towards Maisie. _____

“Auntie, I know it's inappropriate for someone that is still young like me to say such things. But she is just a child, she's not well and her mother isn't here with her. And everyone inside Robert's villa is servants and not adults that the child is familiar with. I asked Vanessa to take Annie away is for the sake of the child too.”

Maisie was feeling disgusted with what was happening in front of her, and yet she couldn't do anything to this child. But to let someone in front of her do as they wished; Maisie would not allow.

When her heart was still full of resentment, Maisie noticed that her phone ringing. It turned out to be a call from Robert's father, Aidan.

Maisie picked up the phone and asked with surprise.

"Is it about Robert?"

Aidan replied Maisie.

"Something happened, Robert was shot in the legs, he is now in the operating room. The operation shouldn't be a big problem. Now, I am waiting in a hospital in Hawaii because this is the nearest hospital to where he is found. He cannot return for the time being, he needs to have this surgery and be fully recovered before returning home."

Maisie was first relieved because her son was alive and only suffered a gunshot wound and was still in surgery.

After that, she was worried again.

“Send me your current location and I’ll hop on to a plane and come over immediately.”

Aidan nodded his head.

“I’ll send you the address right now.”

The two hung up the phone, Ivan asked excitedly from the side.

“Auntie, is that from Robert? They found Robert?”

Maisie nodded at Ivan.

“He is in a hospital in Hawaii having a operation currently, I’ll be on a plane there soon, do you want to go?”

Ivan nodded immediately.

“I’ll definitely follow Auntie.”

Two of them were already excited and ready to leave when Selena subconsciously asked.

“Auntie, what about Georgia? Was she rescued along with Robert?”

Maisie spoke with disgust.

“Who knows where Georgia is? And since you want to protect these people, you can continue to do so, but I’m leaving now.”

Vanessa, however, suddenly stood up and knelt in front of Maisie.

“Mrs Simpson, please let me have Annie, it’s not appropriate for Annie to be here right now.”

Maisie didn't want to care about Vanessa that was in front of her. But Vanessa grabbed her by the leg and wouldn't let her go.

Thinking that there was already news from Robert, Maisie growled coldly to the housekeeper.

"Let them have that child and never allow these people to come over ever again."

Only after saying this did Vanessa finally let go of Maisie's leg.

Then Maisie and Ivan took off.

Mrs Bender finally spoke up helplessly.

"Ms Holland, Ms Cooke, you can take Annie and leave."

Vanessa cried tears of joy and Selena breathed a sigh of relief.

Immediately afterwards, Vanessa turned to Selena and asked her worriedly.

“Robert’s mother just said that Robert has been rescued. Does that also mean that Georgia is also safe?”

Selena nodded her head hesitantly.

“Since Robert had been rescued, Georgia would definitely be rescued too, I’ll call my brother immediately and ask him about the situation.”

Vanessa thanked her gratefully.

“Hope it doesn’t trouble you much, Ms Holland.”

The two then took Annie out and got into the car. Selena didn’t start to drive as she was planning to call Jasper. But then, memories inside her mind started cascading instantly.

Something that had happened today made her afraid to speak to Jasper, and she eventually called Jason.

“Jason, just now I’ve seen Robert’s mother. She just said that Robert is in a hospital in Hawaii for surgery. Can you help me to check whether Georgia is also rescued?”

Jason was delighted to hear that Robert had now been found and rescued.

“Alright, I’ll ask around for you. By the way, Selena, how are you doing now?”

Jason was a little worried about Selena’s mental and physical condition. Selena laughed a bit.

“I’ll be fine Jason, I’ll be fine... You just pretend that those things never happened and forget about it.”

“You’re going to let Jennifer marry your brother?”

Jason asked feeling puzzled.

Selena bowed her head down and gave a bitter laugh.

“Jason, I don’t want to care about these things. I just want to forget about this matter forever. My brother can marry whoever he wants to, he can make his own decisions. But I’ll never want to talk about it ever again, got it?”

Jason nodded helplessly. Every time he mentions these kinds of things, it was hurting Selena all over again.

“I know, and this is something I’ll always keep as a secret.”

Both of them hung up the phone, and Selena turned to Vanessa and said.

“I’ll send you back to your apartment.”

Vanessa nodded. Although Alfred might show up at her apartment.

But Georgia was not here now, and no one else could protect Annie except her. So, Vanessa could only bring Annie to her own apartment.

After the two of them drove to Vanessa's apartment, Selena sent Vanessa and Annie inside the apartment.

At that very moment, Jason called again.

"It was Robert's father who rescued Robert, Georgia was also rescued together. You don't have to worry anymore. Both of them are in the hospital, only Robert was hurt. Maybe in a few days, she'll return home."

Selena breathed a sigh of relief.

Annie, who had been hugging Vanessa looked quite pitiful.

Selena's heart was melted. she knelt in front of Annie and explained.

"Your mummy is fine; she has been rescued."

When Selena said this, Vanessa was surprised, and Annie was happy as she asked.

"Really? Auntie, is that true?"

Selena smiled.

"You just saw me answered the phone, they've got the latest news. Your mummy is fine and was not hurt. But she is overseas right now and can't come back yet. She should be able to come back in just a few days. Annie, remember to sleep well and eat well. Your mummy will be happy when she comes back and sees you still happy and healthy."

Annie who had been terrified for a while seemed to have finally recovered her spirit as she hugged Vanessa and smiled.

“Vanessa, mummy is fine, mummy is fine...”

Vanessa also smiled broadly; everything was turning.

If something did happen to Georgia, she wouldn't know what to do then.

Vanessa knew that Alfred's revenge wouldn't stop immediately, and her mental condition had problems.

Vanessa had given up her own life. She just hoped that Georgia could raise Annie so that she could leave this world with peace of mind.

Inside the hospital in Hawaii, the operation was suddenly extended.

A normal bullet removal operation should only be about 1 to 2 hours. The doctor came and told Aidan and Georgia about the situation.

“The patient’s legs have suffered an injury before and now bullets are found inside his legs. His bones and nerves are damaged. The operation will take longer and will need you to sign another consent form for the operation.”

Georgia clearly understood the doctor’s words. Her face became white suddenly.

The nerves and bones were injured which meant that there was a chance that his legs wouldn’t recover. Georgia didn’t even dare to ask a question to the doctor any further.

Aidan’s expression also changed and immediately followed the doctor to sign the consent form.

Afterwards, the operation room' red light shone, and it was almost two hours past.

Georgia suddenly plucked up her courage and asked Robert's father.

"Mr Simpson, was the situation doctor described serious or not? Will Robert's legs recover?"

Aidan, however, sighed at Georgia.

"They did what they could, Robert will live but he may have to face some disabilities."

Aidan's words shocked Georgia to the core that she fell on to the ground feeling weak.

Because of her, Robert got injured.

Georgia felt extremely distressed.

The first time she met him, he was suave and spirited in the room. No one could catch his eyes.

At that time, she was bullied, and Robert saved her.

Later, the two of them continued to cross paths had it not been for the misunderstanding over Wendy's fatal car accident.

He had prevented Ivan from operating on her daughter. Georgia hated him to the bones when her daughter had fallen into a coma for some time.

Robert also said that she had plagiarized, seduced him in front of everyone. It almost made her become a nobody. All these things that happened before were echoing inside of Georgia's mind one after another.

But after all that had happened, Robert suddenly cared about her, he let them live together and he helped her to get her missing daughter back.

After that, Robert picked her up from work every day and Georgia felt that she couldn't bear the affection from him.

She suddenly felt she did not deserve.

Robert cared for her, protected her in a way that she couldn't bear to accept. Yet she was forced to accept them.

If something ever happened to Robert's leg in the future, how could she face her future with Robert?

She now had Robert's child inside her belly. And even one thing that even Georgia herself couldn't believe that Annie might also be Robert's child.

Robert protected her that she wasn't even scratched. But now he was in the operating room, his life at stake.

How could she ever repay Robert's kindness in her life?

Aidan looked at Georgia and suddenly asked a question.

“I thought you and Robert were a couple. But from the looks of you, you’re more like someone grateful for their benefactor. Rather than a girlfriend, fiancé or a lover to him.”

Georgia was quiet for a long time before she suddenly raised her head to Aidan and asked.

“Do you know what happened to Wendy Simpson?”

Aidan replied.

“Why? Wendy is my daughter. Has something happened to her recently?”

Aidan’s word made Georgia realized that he really didn’t know anything that happened in the Simpson family. Georgia let out a bitter laugh.

“You probably don’t know this, but Wendy passed away in a fatal car accident six years ago.”

When Aidan heard what Georgia said, his expression changed dramatically. He clenched Georgia’s hands tightly.

“What do you mean? Please say it again.”

“Mr Simpson, you’ve heard it right. Wendy passed away in a fatal car accident six years ago.”

After Georgia finished these words, Aidan suddenly became extremely sad.

“Maisie, you’re so cruel!”

Aidan roared out these words abruptly.

It had been over six years since his daughter passed away and Maisie hadn't even called to tell him about it.

She hated him so much that she preferred to keep her daughter's death hidden.

This time, however, it was probably because nothing had happened to Robert yet, so Maisie was forced to phone him for help with no choice.

If something really happened to Robert this time, Aidan thought, that Maisie would probably call and tell him with a big smile.

Both his children died.

Aidan felt that his palms were trembling.

"What is this all about? Please say it clearly."

"Mr Simpson, my name is Georgia Lane, six years ago, I woke up and found myself in the driver's seat of a car. I was intoxicated with alcohol. And then, I saw that there was a car in front of me, it was badly damaged by the car crash. And that was Wendy's car, she died in that accident. However, I was mistaken as the cause of this accident. I was sentenced to six years of imprisonment for drunk driving. And that was how I met Robert. He thought that I was Wendy's murderer, but I had no evidence to prove my innocence back then."

When Georgia told what happened, Aidan became gloomy.

"Say again, are you really not responsible for my daughter's accident?"

Georgia nodded affirmatively.

"I am not the real murderer. The murderer is my half-brother, Eden. My father disowned me as his daughter, at that time he even tried to sell me to a pervert. That pervert's name is Chester Roger. Probably because Eden had gotten into the car accident and managed to put me in that car without me knowing it. And I took the place of his wrongdoings. I have not lied a single word, nothing but the truth and the truth itself. Mr Simpson, when Robert knew I was the murderer, he did a lot of things to hurt me. Yet I don't understand, why would he save me? Why is he so foolish?"

Georgia's tears streamed down her face as she said this.

She really felt that Robert was so foolish, how could he be so foolish that it made her feel distressed?

Aidan was silent for a while. After the operation had been going on for another hour or so, there were footsteps heard in the corridor.

Aidan looked up and saw Maisie walking towards them.

Maisie strode aggressively towards Georgia

"Slap!"

Maisie slapped Georgia directly on her face. _____

Chapter 130 You Are Such a Scourge

"It was you bitch. If you haven't had faint, how could Robert be kidnapped?"

Maisie yelled at Georgia Lane and Georgia was stunned on the spot.

She didn't know how she was kidnapped nor did she know why Robert was there with her.

However, what Maisie meant was that Robert was kidnapped because he wanted to save her.

If so, then Robert was hurt because of her fault, wasn't it all caused by her? He actually did so many things for her.

Georgia was all at sea, but Maisie was indeed getting more and more angry.

She really didn't understand why her son was so concerned about this woman.

It was obvious that Georgia has not been cleansed of the charge of killing her daughter. There were so many women in the world, why should Robert only care about this murderer?

Maisie raised her hand and tried to slap Georgia in her face. She was disgusted with Georgia.

Aidan Simpson stepped forward and grabbed Maisie's hand.

"We are in the hospital. You beat people like a shrew here. Are you crazy?"

Aidan warned her coldly, but Maisie laughed mockingly.

"We are already divorced. It is not your business who I want to beat up with. What? Are you trying to protect her?"

"You are unreasonable!"

Aidan yelled helplessly. When he thought of his daughter, who was still cute and sweet when he left, he turned to ask the woman in front of him.

"When Wendy passed away, why didn't you tell me?"

Maisie didn't expect that Aidan mentioned their daughter, she suddenly smiled bitterly at the man in front of her.

"Why would I tell you about Wendy's death? Have you ever cared about her? Have you ever given her a trace of love? You have been away for so many years and ignored your children. What was the point if I told you they were dead?"

After Maisie questioned him, Aidan kept silent.

The affair between him and Maisie kept getting complicated.

However, he selfishly broke free from the prison of the Simpson family at first, and then did what he always wanted to do and married the woman he wanted to marry.

As for those past things, he had learned to forget about them deliberately.

However, he always thought that with the power of the Simpson family, coupled with the wealth they had, his son and daughter would a happy life.

Over the years, he occasionally heard that Robert managed the Simpson family well.

So Aidan always thought that his son and daughter had a very good life.

However, he never thought that his daughter would have passed away a long time ago!

When he was in his middle age, Aidan suddenly felt grief when he suddenly learned that his daughter had passed away.

He had never experienced this kind of thing, as if something could not be grasped in his hands so that it completely disappeared in his life.

"Sorry, it was all my fault."

Aidan suddenly said this, but Maisie laughed with red eyes.

"Sorry is the most useless word in the world. I'm telling you, the woman in front of you is the murderer who killed your daughter in the car accident. If you want to take a revenge for Wendy, she is the one you should find!"

Maisie pointed at Georgia, but Aidan did not say anything.

He didn't believe that what Maisie said was completely true, but since Georgia had said that the murderer of the car accident might be Eden Lane, it was necessary for him to investigate the truth.

His daughter passed away, he failed to take the responsibility of being a good father.

Then finding out the murderer was what he should do.

They kept being silent and the red light of the operating room was suddenly turned off.

Immediately, the door of the operating room opened, and Robert was pushed out by the doctors and nurses.

Georgia wanted to rush over to Robert, but Maisie and Aidan had already rushed forward and stood in front of her.

"Doctor, how is my son?"

When Maisie asked in Chinese, the doctor did not understand.

Aidan, who was next to Maisie, quickly asked in English, and the doctor answered him.

"The patient is out of danger, but his leg is seriously injured, especially the leg nerve. In the future, the patient will need several operations to restore the thigh nerve."

Aidan asked sadly.

"Doctor, do you mean that my son can't stand up for a while?"

The doctor nodded solemnly.

"His current condition is not suitable for neurosurgery, and the doctors in our hospital can't perform this operation. You must go to the top neurosurgeons in the world and ask them to perform this operation until his physical condition is stable enough."

Georgia completely understood what the doctor said, her tears streaming down on her face.

In this kidnapping, Robert was kidnapped in order to save her.

Although Mr. Knight's goal at the beginning was to take Robert away. But from the words of his mother, she herself was used to threaten Robert. If it weren't for her, according to Robert's strength as well as his the security force followed him, most people couldn't take Robert away.

She was the one who dragged him down to this and Robert was shot in order to save her. Then added other wounds, Georgia felt that she was a scourge for him.

Maisie couldn't understand what the doctor meant. She didn't understand English, so Ivan Simpson hurriedly explained it to her.

"Auntie, don't worry. I know many doctors in this area. Robert will definitely recover, but it may take a little longer."

The surgery Ivan was good at was cardiac surgery. He was not professional with neurosurgeon. They had to find a professional doctor to do the surgery that the success rate would be higher.

The Simpson family was not short of money, so they just have to wait patiently for the operation.

However, after Maisie listened to the explanation of Ivan, she crazily rushed to Georgia and constantly yelling at her.

"You are such a scourge, Robert's legs was hurt because of you. Maybe he would have to sit on the wheelchair in the future. Letting him become a disabled person, are you very happy now, Georgia? Are you?"

Maisie's face has been extremely gloomy and Ivan has looked at Georgia, who was anguished. He quickly talked through his own Auntie.

"Auntie, Robert is now fainting, we are in the hospital. We can talk about it later."

The meaning of Ivan was trying to let Maisie calm down. If she really hated Georgia, she could take revenge in the future.

However, Maisie was almost go crazy, she was constantly swaying Georgia's body and crying loudly.

"You bitch ... I won't let you go easily... you hurt my son. I will never forgive you..."

Georgia only felt sad. She also felt that she made Robert looked like this, she didn't have any excuse to defend for herself.

Aidan came up and grabbed Maisie's hand.

"It's enough, have you had enough craziness? Robert is still in coma, do you want to wake your son? He has to take a rest. You are his mother, can you put your son's safety as your first priority?"

Maisie's eyes were in scarlet. She looked at Aidan in grief and suddenly laughed out the tragic.

"Do you know why you can stay calm? Because you don't care about Robert, you don't care about your son. If Robert was now dead, maybe you would be hypocritically cried a bit, you made me sick!"

After Maisie shouted at Aidan, she let go of Georgia and then pushed the bed with the doctors to go to the ward.

Georgia wanted to follow up to see how was Robert doing but Aidan came up to persuade her.

"Don't follow up, even if you followed them, she won't let you get into the ward, she hates you now."

Georgia cried and lowered her head.

"I know that she hates me. It was my fault, Mr. Simpson, I should be blamed..."

Georgia couldn't stop crying and Aidan sighed next to her.

"There is a hotel next to the hospital, you can take a rest in the hotel."

Georgia nodded even though she didn't have mood to take a rest.

However, Georgia was worried about Annie's situation. After confirming that Robert was safely staying in the ward, she had to call Annie.

After leaving Aidan, Georgia did not go to the hotel. She went to downstairs then found a public telephone to make a call to Vanessa Cooke.

Georgia didn't know the number of the steward of Robert's Villa.

Her mobile phone was lost, Georgia only remembered Vanessa's phone number.

After the phone was picked up, the person on the other side asked.

"Hello, who is this?"

When she heard Vanessa's voice, Georgia relieved a bit.

"Georgia, I am Georgia Lane."

After Georgia said that, Vanessa immediately got excited.

"Gigi, you finally called me, I am worried about you all night, and you really scared me."

Vanessa just finished saying, and the voice of Annie appeared in the phone.

"Mommy, how are you doing now? When are you coming back?"

Georgia was very excited to hear her daughter's voice, but then she felt curious.

She called Vanessa to ask her to take care of Annie in Robert's Villa. At the moment, Annie had already been with Vanessa, so she asked curiously.

"Vanessa, why Annie is by your side?"

"I knew the thing that you were missing yesterday, but I was uncertain about it at that time. I gave a phone call to Ms. Holland so I knew that you had an accident. I was aware that I had to pick up Annie in case she would be afraid if you were not there. Thanks to Selena took me to Robert's Villa. At that time, the housekeepers inside the villa did not allow me to take Annie away. Later, the housekeeper gave Maisie a phone call, she came to prevent me taking away Annie. But later, she received a call saying that Robert was fine. Then she rushed to take the plane, but I forced her to give Annie to me before she left. "

It turned out to be like this, Georgia nodded.

Vanessa had been considering Annie's safety when she was in danger, Georgia was very grateful.

"Vanessa, I really appreciated what you did, I am alright now ..."

Georgia briefly told the things that she had encountered these days, Vanessa was scared only by listening it.

"Fortunately, you are fine. Only Robert is in bad situation, which means would the Simpson family hate you even more?"

Georgia shook her head helplessly.

"Vanessa, I don't know what to do, let's just improvise. I am only worried about the situation Annie. As long as she is now happy by your side, then I am totally relieved."

They two talked something else, Annie came to ask Georgia.

"Mommy, why don't you talk to me on video chat? I miss you so much, I was afraid you really had an accident, mommy, don't leave me alone..."

Annie turned the charm on her in the phone, Georgia was almost going to cry.

Daughter was getting more and more close to her, which made her very happy.

"Annie, mommy is now using payphone, my mobile phone is lost, and so I can't talk to you on video calls. After I buy a new mobile phone, I must see how beautiful and cute you are now. "

After heard what Georgia said, Annie suddenly blushed.

"Mommy, please come back quickly, then we can stay together, I don't want to live in that place anymore."

Annie suddenly said that on the phone, Georgia was surprised.

However, she couldn't find a reason for rejecting her daughter.

"Well, when we live together, you must listen to mother Vanessa, I will come back as soon as possible."

After some comforting words to Annie, Vanessa suddenly thought about Travis Armstrong.

Originally, Robert agreed to transfer Travis to other mental hospitals, so that he would not be bullied at least.

However, Travis wasn't fully recovered yet, he had to stay in the hospital.

In the past two days, Georgia herself had an accident, and they didn't know if Travis was ok or not. Georgia talked to Vanessa.

"Vanessa, we need to think of a way to see how Travis's current situation. I don't know if he is still living in the hospital. Can you help me take care Travis when you have time."

Vanessa nodded.

"Don't worry, I will remember this."

They hung up the phone, Georgia instantly became a little sad and all her thoughts was about Robert.

She couldn't forget what the man said to her before he passed out, and Robert had already told her his true feeling.

However, there were too many things between them, and Georgia didn't know how to communicate with him when he woke up.

Moreover, Georgia didn't know if Robert was able to face the problem of his leg injury.

This man was always confident and arrogant. If he had to sit into a wheelchair, no one wanted to see that.

Thinking about this, Georgia returned to the hospital.

However, before she reached the ward of Robert, Ivan had already walked towards her directly.

"Miss Lane, can I borrow you for a second?" _____

Chapter 131 Deleting The Video Back Then

Ivan's expression was a little cold, Georgia nodded helplessly.

She followed Ivan to a quiet corridor.

“Miss Lane, I don’t understand why you are still pestering my cousin. I have already booked a flight for you to return to China. You should leave here now. Bring your daughter far away and never return to D City from now on.”

Ivan knew that his auntie hated Georgia a lot. He was also unhappy with Georgia himself; not to mention about Wendy’s death, which stopped Ivan from letting Robert and Georgia becoming closer.

He could not understand why Robert would fall in love with Georgia. It made him feel ridiculous.

But now, Robert was hurt because of Georgia. The condition was so serious, even the doctors were not sure if his leg could recover in future.

Aunt Maisie hated Georgia deeply now. Ivan did not want to see his uncle and Georgia quarrel at the hospital, which will make his cousin embarrassed.

It would be better to send Georgia away now.

To be frank, Ivan wished that Georgia would bring her daughter away conscientiously and never appear in front of Robert anymore.

If it were before, Georgia would definitely leave without hesitation, and return to D City to accompany her child.

However, after what Robert had done to her, she would feel embarrassed if she just walked away like this.

She pleaded Ivan with tears.

“Mr. Simpson, Robert saved me. He had done so many things for me, I should at least thank him when he wakes up. I hope you can give me a chance to thank him.”

“Miss. Lane, my auntie doesn’t like you. Trust me, if you continue staying here, she will use all kinds of ways to take revenge on you. This is not something you can bear.”

Georgia understood all these.

However, living in this world, it would not be practical to weigh the pros and cons of everything. If that were the case, it would be meaningless to stay alive.

“Mr. Simpson, just do me a favor. When Robert wakes up, let me see him secretly. I will leave here after I talk to him, is it all right?”

Ivan would not treat a woman with such cruelty, so he could only warn her to leave.

Since Georgia did not want to leave, Ivan felt that his cousin might also want to see Georgia when he woke up. He nodded helplessly.

“You must do what you promised. I promise to take you to see my cousin in secret. After that, if you do not do as promised, then you will have to be prepared for what my auntie is going to do to you.”

Georgia nodded gratefully.

“It is better than what I have expected, Mr. Simpson. Thank you.”

Ivan nodded his head; he did not want to continue talking to Georgia. He waved his hand and signaled Georgia to leave.

When he was getting to Robert’s ward, Ivan’s phone suddenly rang.

It was his assistant, Ben, who called.

“Boss, something happened, I’m sorry.”

Ivan could not understand what Ben meant, he asked coldly.

“Be straight forward. Don’t beat around the bush.”

“Boss, didn’t I borrow your car and drive out last night?”

Ivan remembered this.

“Why, what is wrong with the car?”

“Boss, I left after I drove the car into the garage this morning. After that, didn’t you asked me to go back and find a document at night? When I reached that villa, I found out that the car was gone. I checked the CCTV inside the villa, and the recordings from this morning were missing too, someone stole the car! Boss, it wasn’t me, there was a thief.”

Ben was Ivan’s assistant for several years, and he believed in Ben’s morality. He nodded calmly.

“Call the police immediately.”

Ivan thought this was a simple thievery. After all, his car was a limited-edition car in the world, so it would not be a surprise if someone stole it.

However, after some thought, Ivan faintly felt that there was something wrong.

His car is a limited-edition car, so if it were really stolen, he could track it easily by checking the traffic surveillance and control system.

Ivan felt something was not right.

But since he was abroad, there was nothing he could do about the lost vehicle. Therefore, he ordered Ben.

“Investigate properly, see if there is any other issue related with the car, I think it might be more than a simple car theft. I don’t think anyone would dare to purchase the car, especially mine was a limited-edition!”

Ben nodded his head.

“Boss, don’t worry, I will inform the police. After that, I will carefully investigate this matter.”

Ivan ended the conversation with Ben and hung up the phone. Ben went to the police station at once to report about this matter.

After all, the car was worth tens of millions of dollars. The police immediately put a record on the case and started investigating the CCTV recordings to find out where the lost car was.

In the end, the car was seen on the traffic surveillance camera. However, it drove to a suburb area where there was no surveillance in that direction. It was impossible to know where the car drove to.

Ben had to resort to use his boss’ connections to continue the investigation.

Meanwhile at the Lane family house, Eden, Emma, Flora and Owen were sitting in the study room.

After the disappearance of Robert and Georgia last night, Emma was admitted to the hospital during midnight.

However, she was discharged from the hospital this morning.

Last night, Ivan left abruptly from the Murphy's family. Owen promptly used his contacts and found out Ivan was getting drunk alone in a bar.

Therefore, Owen hurriedly sent someone to investigate where Ivan's car was.

When the Bugatti Veyron was found outside a bar, Owen's men followed the car.

Later, when they discovered that the car was parked inside Ivan's villa, Owen added thousands of dollars to them, requesting them to steal the car out and destroyed the surveillance video inside of Ivan's villa.

And now, Owen got his hands on the dash cam of Ivan's car.

Owen's family watched the dash cam to find out if it still had the video records from six years ago.

Eden looked up the video from six years ago and confirmed the approximate time of the car accident. He played the video.

After the video was played for more than ten minutes, the car accident scene showed up. The video showed Eden walked down from the car.

Owen's expression sank right away, and Eden was trembling.

It turned out that the scene of Eden getting off the car was really filmed. If Ivan knew about this, this would be the end of him. Eden was terrified when he thought about this.

Emma comforted her father, brother as well as her mother.

“Owen, Flora and Eden, now that we found this video, don’t worry... Now we just have to delete this video.”

Eden quickly nodded his head.

“Owen, Emma is right. The video must be deleted at once. We should never let this video see the light.”

Owen nodded with a cold face.

“Emma, go ahead and delete the video.”

Emma walked to the computer and deleted the video straight away. The whole family heaved a sigh of relief.

They would not have got this opportunity today if Robert didn’t get into an accident, and Ivan was busy looking for Robert.

Luckily for them, they took this decisive decision and immediately sent someone to drag the car out. The extra money was worth it.

Now that they got their hands on the video, Georgia can never prove who was the person responsible for the car accident.

Owen warned Eden coldly.

“Six years ago, I made Georgia took responsible for your car accident. Six years later, Selena came out and said that she saw you drove the car. Fortunately, you remembered there was another car drove past, and might have recorded it down.....Eden, even if you are my son, I must warn you. Good luck is not permanent. Today we got lucky and got our hands on this video. You might have escaped this time, but from today onwards, you will stay at home conscientiously and cultivate your morality. Let me tell you, if you get into trouble again, even the gods will not be able to save you.”

Owen coldly warned his son, then spoke to his wife Flora and Eden.

“Leave the room, I have something to discuss with Emma alone.”

Together with Eden, Flora quickly left the room. Only Emma and Owen were left in the study room.

“Owen, is there anything you want to tell me individually?”

“Emma, last night plan was disrupted. I cleaned up all the evidence pointing to us. The Simpson family should not be able to find out that we were involved. But you can tell how much Robert cared about Georgia. We need to think of a plan now. What should we do next? It is very possible that Robert is going to divorce you.”

Emma dropped her head sadly. She did not expect that Robert was willing to drink the glass of wine for Georgia and put his life in the hands of others.

It was obvious that Robert cared very much for Georgia, and this made Emma's heart burned with jealousy.

Robert was clearly in love with Georgia, and Robert did not care much about Emma. Moreover, Emma failed in getting pregnant with Robert's child. What should she do in the future? In this moment, Emma is completely baffled.

"Owen, Robert doesn't like me at all, and I can't help it."

Emma answered with a wry smile. Owen frowned his eyebrows.

According to Owen's understanding of men, once Robert returns, the first thing he might do is break off his marriage with Emma. This was not what Owen wanted.

"As long as we put the blame of Wendy's death completely on to Georgia, I don't believe Robert will insist on getting married with Georgia. Your breakthrough lies with Robert's mother."

"Georgia will definitely not admit that she is responsible for the car accident. Additionally, Selena gave her testimony at that time. She saw Eden driving the car, Robert will never believe what we said. For now, he will be more prone to believe in Georgia.

Emma thought this was a useless idea.

“We can slowly create an evident if there is no evident. There is no rush.”

Both Owen and Emma were in distress. Suddenly, Owen found out that an unknown number called his phone.

He hesitated for a while, and then answered the call.

“Who is it?”

Owen asked coldly.

A man’s voice appeared on the other side of the phone.

“Mr. Lane, I am Laurence. I think, you should be no stranger to my name.” _____

Chapter 132 Both Legs Were Injured Severely

Owen felt something awkward instantly.

“Mr. Knight, why do you call me?”

Owen still remembered that Laurence kept protecting Georgia before he disappeared. That was why he did not have the opportunity to kill Georgia.

At the moment, the man who had disappeared for a long time called him suddenly. Owen was cautious.

“Mr. Lane, do you know who is related to my disappearance? It is Robert.”

Owen was shocked, he thought that Laurence was involved in the accident when he went for his business trip.

But why Laurence told him about it?

“Mr. Knight, what do you want?”

“I have a secret with me, it is about Robert and Georgia. If you meet me, I can help your daughter to marry Robert. Nevertheless, after your daughter gets married, the property of the Simpson family must be distributed equally between us. I will deal with Robert. How do you think?”

Owen must disagree to involve in that in the past.

However, for now, Owen was clear that Robert would not marry Emma.

It was almost impossible for his grandson to be the heir of the Simpson family.

People always had to make a risky decision in life. Owen meditated for a while and nodded.

“I will cooperate with you but what should I do?”

Laurence smiled satisfyingly.

“Mr. Lane, you are wise. Add this phone number to your contact, I will call you again after I return home from abroad. I will give you a present at that time, then we discuss this matter.”

After saying that, Laurence hung up the call directly.

He looked at the little boy lying on the ward bed. Then, he turned around and asked Kayden.

“Are you sure Georgia does not know that she has a son?”

Kayden nodded.

“Georgia only knows that she has a daughter. She does not know anything about her son.”

Laurence smiled coldly.

“I suddenly think of a new way to torture Robert. Is it the best way to take revenge on him if he kills his son and daughter by himself?”

Kayden looked at Laurence and smiled.

“Master, this is a good way. But he is just a little boy, what do you plan to do?”

“Make him lose his memory. He is so young, put him in the scary penetralium for a while. Then, ask some hypnotists and psychologists to alter his memory. After that, follow my plan.”

Laurence did not say out his plan. Kayden nodded immediately.

She was saved by Laurence, so she would do whatever Laurence wanted.

If Laurence were in danger, Kayden would save him by all means.

Meanwhile, in D City. Emma asked confusingly after Owen hung up the call.

“Dad, who called you?”

“Laurence just called me.”

Owen’s words made Emma change her expression.

“He is still alive? Why does he call you?”

Owen smiled at her daughter.

“Laurence says that he wants to cooperate with me to deal with the Simpson family. Furthermore, he wants to assist you to marry Robert. Then, we will share the property of the Simpson family equally. I agree with his plan, he will discuss with me in detail after he returns home from abroad.”

Emma opened her eyes big and looked at her father, it was unbelievable.

“Dad, are you sure that Laurence really wants to cooperate with us? Is he making use of us?”

“I will investigate it. However, Laurence tells me that Robert is the one causing him to disappear. They must have hatred for each other. We just investigate his past happenings, maybe this is the time for our Lane family to turn the tide.”

Emma was hesitant. During these six years, she thought that she would marry Robert.

However, the plan changed. Emma asked her father.

“So, Laurence means that he wants to deal with Robert and spoil the entire Simpson family?”

Owen smiled and nodded.

“I am not sure what has Laurence experienced but I can feel his hatred for Robert from his tone. This is the right timing for us. Emma, don’t be immersed in love, Robert does not care about you at all. You also don’t have any affection for him, right?”

Emma was hesitant but she thought of the moment Robert saved Georgia by all means. She nodded to his father.

“Dad, don’t worry, I will not be soft-hearted. After Laurence meets us, I will do whatever he plans as long as it does not threaten our safety.”

Owen then smiled contentedly.

He thought that the Lane family was in a disaster but Laurence's call made him feel hopeful again.

It was true that every cloud had a silver lining.

The next day.

On the island of Hawaii, Robert woke up on the ward bed.

Maisie kept accompanying her son. When she saw him opening his eyes, she was excited.

"Robert, finally you wake up. Are you thirsty? I will take a glass of water for you."

Robert smiled at her mother, he took the glass given by his mother.

Maisie raised the cushion of the bed upright by controlling the handle, Robert drank the water slowly. He asked her mother.

“Mom, when do you come?”

Robert still remembered that Aidan was by his side when he boarded the plane. However, his mother was the only one staying in the ward, so Robert asked curiously.

Of course, he knew that he should not mention Georgia and Aidan in front of his mother.

Those were the people his mother hated.

Maisie told Robert about her arrival briefly.

“Ivan and I came yesterday. He is resting in the hotel now. I am worried about you, so I am here early in the morning to wait for you to wake up.”

Robert nodded, he felt that he could not move his both legs. Robert asked his mother.

“Mom, are my legs injured badly? How does the doctor say?”

After Robert asked about it, Maisie showed a suffered expression.

“Robert, the injury of your legs are not severe but the doctor says that you have to undergo a few surgeries. After that, you must be able to stand up.”

Robert understood his mother’s words instantly, he tried to stay calm but his palm chattered.

“So, the doctor means that I can’t stand up temporarily?”

Robert asked again boldly. Maisie turned around, she did not want her son to see her tears falling.

Robert was always a strong man, he quickly consoled his mother.

“Mom, don’t cry. You have said that my legs will be recovered but it takes some time. Don’t worry, I will not be dispirited, I am confident that my legs will be recovered.”

Maisie felt sad about it.

“Robert, you are always strong. If it was not Georgia who caused you to be caught, your legs would not suffer from this injury!”

Maisie grumbled about Georgia. Robert knew that he should not say something good about Georgia in front of his mother, or else his mother would be upset.

So, he changed another way to console her.

“Don’t say this kind of sad thing. Mom, since I have to undergo a few surgeries, just contact the best doctor in the world will do.”

Maisie then chatted with her son. No one mentioned Georgia anymore.

Of course, Robert would not mention Aidan, not even Maisie.

Maisie purposely visited Robert in a different slot with Aidan. Maisie did not want to see him.

After chatting with her son for a while, Maisie asked the doctor to check Robert’s body.

Maisie left the ward after confirming that everything was fine. She wanted to rest in the hotel for a while.

After that, Aidan went to the ward. He straight away sat on the chair beside Robert’s bed.

“How do you feel?”

Robert did not know how to face his father who had left him for over ten years.

Robert hated him initially but the man appeared in front of him and saved him.

Robert had a complicated feeling for the man. Robert wanted to call him father but Robert found it hard to do so. Robert did not want to bother him but Robert was not a childish boy anymore.

Robert simply answered.

“I am fine. My mother has told me about the matter of my legs. I need to meet some doctors and undergo a few surgeries. My legs will probably disable for a while, I might not be used to it.”

Robert explained calmly. He seemed to be careless about his injured legs.

Aidan smiled slightly.

“Your pattern is similar to mine.”

After Aidan said that, Robert stayed silent and did not want to speak anymore.

He felt that he had nothing to talk with his father. Aidan talked to Robert again.

“Your mother will not tell me where is the graveyard of Wendy. I don’t even know that Wendy has passed away in these few years. Tell me where is her graveyard, I want to see her.”

After Aidan said that, Robert looked up and stared at the man furiously. He could feel that his heart cracked severely.

It was the resentment he had on his father who never concerned about him and the woe of losing his sister.

“Why do you have the eligibility to go to her graveyard? You have saved me this time, I can’t say that you don’t have the eligibility to come here and chase you out. However, what have you done to my sister? You don’t take responsibility as a father, you don’t even show up during her funeral. You only know it now that Wendy has passed away. Why do you have the eligibility to go to her graveyard?”

Robert roared sorrowfully.

He could tolerate whatever Aidan did, he could accept the fact that he was saved by the man, he also could control himself not to roar at the man.

However, Robert could not control his anger when he mentioned his sister.

“I know, I feel guilty for you and your sister. But, Wendy has passed away, I just want to see her.”

Robert teased him coldly.

“What can you do after visiting her grave? Would Wendy come back alive afterwards? Could you give her the love that she never gets from you? Do you know that Wendy loved you so much when she was young? She was very small when you left her, do you know how many days has she cried? Do you know how envious she was when she saw other children have a father? You are unworthy to be her father! Aidan, you are unworthy at all!”

After Robert said that, he felt that tears almost fell down from his eyes.

He was an adult already, how could he behave like a childish kid and throw tantrum. Robert looked down on himself.

In fact, he was always a childish kid in front of his father. It made him suffer.

Aidan sighed.

“Robert, I am not explaining for myself. However, everyone will blunder at a young age and don't even know when is the time to become mature. I feel guilty for both of you. Don't be angry, rest well."

After Aidan said that, he walked out silently.

Out of the blue, Robert punched heavily on the bed. He could not do anything but he was outraged.

He did not want to recall the moment he suffered from humiliation and the absence of a father's love.

Robert stayed silent. The door was knocked on after a while.

Robert thought that his mother had come back and wanted to speak.

However, he saw Ivan bringing Georgia in.____

Daddy, Mommy had been in Prison

Chapter 133 Do I Need a Reason to be Nice to You?

After Georgia entered, Ivan went out and closed the door.

In an instant, only Robert and Georgia were left in the ward.

Georgia suddenly had no courage to step forward, she stood by the door in hesitation, didn't have the courage to move forward.

He was laying on the bed, he got hurt and almost lost his life because of her. Georgia kept on thinking about their matter for the whole night.

Robert suddenly smiled at Georgia.

“Why are you standing by the door? There's a sofa here, just sit there.”

Robert unexpectedly smiled to Georgia, she instantly felt sour at heart.

She walked step by step to the sofa by Robert's sickbed and sat down, then she lowered her head and her eyes started to turn red.

“Why are you crying?”

Robert gently asked Georgia, Georgia looked up and saw him, feeling like her eyes were swelling up... That was a kind of unspeakable sadness and distress, and the overwhelming emotion seemed like it was going to drown her.

“Robert, I'm the one who should be responsible for your injury, why are you still so nice to me now?”

After Georgia asked that, she lowered her head again and rubbed the tears on the edge of her eyes.

“Do I need a reason to be nice to you?”

Robert couldn't help laughing.

“Are you worried about my leg? I just won't be able to stand for some time, I'll find a doctor for some surgeries and find a professional for rehabilitation exercise then I'll be able to stand again, you don't need to blame yourself for this... People will always get hurt in their life don't think too much, the doctor has said that my legs will recover, and I'm not even short of money, don't tell me that you think I can't find a suitable doctor to do my surgery?”

Robert's tone was so relaxed, but he made Georgia feel even more guilty.

“I don't deserve you being nice to me... Robert, we're not a match, you shouldn't be liking me.”

Georgia took a deep breath and finally said that sentence.

She had carefully considered that sentence for a very long time, she admitted that what Robert did for her was so moving.

But, Georgia felt that they weren't a match at all, Robert shouldn't feel anything for her.

There were too many problems between them, Georgia was already exhausted.

As long as she thought of Robert's current status, Robert's mother, and the child in her belly... Georgia wasn't willing to have something more with Robert.

She had a kind of feeling like if she got closer to Robert, her life would probably get worse.

She could think of other ways to repay Robert for saving her life, the only thing she couldn't do was giving Robert her love, that's something that Georgia would never do again in her life.

She didn't even know whether Travis would recover, she still needed to take care of Annie and the child in her belly, Robert and her were people from different worlds.

Georgia felt that, it was necessary for her to let Robert understand their situation.

But after Georgia said that, Robert's expression didn't change, he just smiled at Georgia.

“I'm a bit thirsty, can you pour a glass of water for me?”

Georgia couldn't really understand Robert's sentence, was there any other meaning to it? But Robert was a patient, so she immediately walked over and poured a glass of water and handed it to Robert.

Robert took it and drank some, he then smiled at Georgia.

“I did nothing at all and your heart is full of burden, don't you worry... I won't force you to be by my side, afterwards, you can just go back to where you live.”

Georgia didn't think that Robert would say that, she was very surprised, as if the man before her had turned completely different from the one in her memories.

“What you said just now was true?”

Georgia asked again to confirm, and Robert nodded.

“What you said just now is true, we are not a match... Telling you to live in my place isn't good for you and my engagement hasn't been cleared up yet, I shouldn't let you be insulted by others, what happened at the banquet before was my fault.”

Robert explained righteously, Georgia suddenly felt sad.

It turned out that Robert was willing to let her go, because he was considerate of her.

Georgia didn't even know how to ask Robert, why exactly did he act so nice to her?

She felt too embarrassed to ask.

He had used his life to save her, while she cruelly warned him not to get closer to her.

Perhaps she's the most heartless person in the world.

But Georgia would prefer the current her to be the most selfish person in the world.

If she kept living together with Robert, perhaps he'd realize that she's pregnant.

When Georgia finished her research, she wanted to bring her daughter to a faraway place from D City.

“Robert, thank you.”

Georgia said that in the end, Robert spoke again to Georgia.

“Before this, the butler said that you have anorexia, and you said that you have gastritis, have you seen the doctor for that?”

Robert still remembered Jasper’s guess, in such situation, it could either be anorexia or pregnant.

If Robert wasn't staying in the hospital at that time, he'd really want to know Georgia's current health situation.

Georgia didn't even think that Robert still remembered that matter.

“I'm fine, it's just a simple stomachache, don't worry, it's just a small problem.”

Georgia was very scared that Robert would ask her to do health examination at that time, that's an unfamiliar nation's hospital.

If she really did an examination, then Robert would thoroughly find out that there's a problem with her health.

But, Robert wanted to do what Georgia was worrying about.

“It's best to do a health examination, if there's a health examination report, I can help you get the best doctor in the world to check your condition, and if you need a surgery then you can prepare it earlier.”

Georgia hurriedly refused him.

“Robert, I really don't need it. I've gotten examinations before, you also know how painful gastroscopy is, I really can't bear it if you ask me to do it once again.”

Robert silently looked at Georgia, he had known her for quite some time.

Constantly rejecting like that was really suspicious.

Forcing Georgia to do a check up would definitely destroy her current impression of him, he could only investigate it in secret.

“I understand, since it's just a trivial matter, then you have to take good care of your stomach and eat on time three times a day.”

Georgia smiled.

“I understand, don't worry.”

After saying that, they became silent in an instant.

Georgia thought of her promise to Ivan, she then awkwardly spoke to Robert.

“Robert, I still have some things to take care of in the country,

I've bought a ticket to go back there, later on after I leave the hospital, I'll board on the plane and leave.”

After Georgia said that, Robert was surprised at first but then he smiled at Georgia like he had thought of something.

“Before you leave, can you give me a present?”

Georgia didn't think that Robert would be so simple, she then immediately agreed to it.

“What present do you want from me?”

“You've just said that we're not a match, after going back, you'll definitely move your things out of my villa, and maybe we'll never see each other again... Can you give me a kiss before you leave?”

Georgia was dumbfounded because of Robert's request, she blushed in an instant.

She would never thought that it was the present that Robert talked about.

“Choose another one...”

Georgia awkwardly said that to Robert, but Robert showed a sad expression instead.

“I thought that after trying my best to save you, you'll be willing to give me a kiss, it turns out that you can't even do that and you hate me so much...”

Georgia felt ashamed because of that sentence.

“It's not like that, that's not what I mean...”

Georgia immediately denied that but she blushed even more.

“Then why aren't you willing to kiss me?”

Robert suddenly accused Georgia, feeling very wronged... Georgia kept rubbing her hands, she felt very nervous and awkward.

“It's not that I'm not willing to, I just think that things like kissing are too awkward...”

Georgia in the end awkwardly explained, she felt awkward in anything she said and did.

Robert held his own laughter, he then spoke to Georgia as he was wronged.

“You just need to come over, I'll kiss you, you won't even do this request? You're going to leave today, maybe we'll never meet each other again.”

Robert said that sentence like he was very wronged, Georgia couldn't refuse Robert's request.

She walked to Robert in hesitation, she didn't know what to do all of the sudden.

Robert's legs were injured but his hands were still strong, Robert grabbed Georgia's hand when she was walking over.

Georgia just fell into Robert's arms, she wanted to struggle but Robert accused her as he felt wronged.

“Don’t tell me that you want to avoid me now?”

Georgia closed her eyes.

She was thinking that they wouldn't see each other anyway after that and she also heartlessly said that they weren't a match, Robert had also promised that he wouldn't disturb her again, she'd just bear with it since it's the last time.

Georgia had prepared her mental, while Robert's face was already full of satisfactory smile.

He was thinking that he used to be a fool.

She's the most kindhearted person in the world, but he unexpectedly kept using force to keep her by his side.

Until he was injured that time and saw the rarely soft hearted Georgia, Robert finally understood that he had been using the wrong method.

If he had pretended to be pitiful in front of her earlier, perhaps he'd already have a child with Georgia.

Robert laughed in a low voice and kissed Georgia's lips._____

Chapter 134 Unbelievable Bastard

Georgia thought this was just a kiss and she was about to leave.

But when she just stood up, Georgia discovered that Robert's hands had tightly wrapped around her body.

Immediately, she was forced into a surging and overbearing hot kiss.

Georgia felt her head get dizzy.

She only had Travis, the only first lover. But first love was always simple, even if there was kissing, it was a simple touch. She had never felt such a strong and overbearing kiss like today.

It seemed that her soul had been imprisoned, she could only follow Robert's rhythm, as if she had completely surrendered in the arms of this man.

Georgia felt that her whole body was weakening, when Robert let go of her, Georgia felt that her whole body was too soft to move.

She tried to stand up with all her strength, but this man still held her tightly.

"Thank you for giving me a kiss."

Robert suddenly spoke to Georgia, Georgia felt her face reddened, she smiled embarrassingly, wanted to get up and leave.

However, Robert suddenly hugged and kissed her again.

At this moment, Georgia didn't have time to react, and was led by him to continue to be immersed in his passion.

Later, when Robert finally allowed Georgia to stand up, Georgia had already rushed out the door.

Robert, that unbelievable bastard!

How could this is just one kiss, there were one after another, how could he be such a shameless man?

Georgia didn't want to talk to Robert, she felt that she needed to leave immediately, and return home immediately.

Just not long after running out of the ward, Ivan walked to Georgia's front again.

He looked at Georgia's blushed face, and her lips were redder than the time she came in just now. Ivan understood the situation instantly and his face was a little darkened.

However, this kind of thing was not something he could care about now.

"The driver is downstairs of the hospital. Now go down quickly and take the car to the airport. The luggage is already in the car boot, Georgia, remember what you promised me before. You must leave here now."

Georgia immediately calmed down, and nodded to Ivan.

"I see. I will immediately get in the car right now and go to the airport. Don't worry, I will keep my word."

Ivan personally sent Georgia downstairs, until after watching Georgia drive to the airport, he walked back into the hospital, then returned to Robert's ward.

Robert was already in a good mood and picked up the newspaper next to him to read it. After hearing someone come in, he raised his head and realized that it was Ivan. Robert smiled at Ivan.

"Has Georgia been sent away?"

Ivan sat on the sofa next to Robert, and asked with a cold face.

"Are you reluctant for her to leave? How long are you going to be entangled with this woman? Robert, Georgia is Wendy's murderer, are you crazy? Just because of a woman, you are going to forget Wendy that you grew up with?"

When Ivan remembered that these two were kissing just now, his heart was full of anger.

He didn't want to vent this kind of thing in front of Georgia. He would lose the demeanor of a man, but in front of Robert, he was like an aggrieved brother who questioning his elder brother.

He grew up with Wendy and Robert. Wendy had always been regarded by him as his biological sister, the sister grew up spoiling. He couldn't accept that Robert and Georgia were together now.

Robert slowly explained to Ivan.

"You went abroad for a while, and when the time you came back, I had disappeared. You probably don't know that something happened at home. I guess my mother didn't tell you too."

Ivan asked suspiciously.

"What's the matter?"

"At that time when you left, Selena came to our house. She told us an incident six years ago. On the day Wendy had a car accident six years ago, Selena saw Emma's younger brother Eden and Wendy have conflict in the bar with her own eyes. Later, after Wendy drove her car and left, Eden drove his car to catch up with her."

After Robert finished speaking, Ivan's face changed in an instant.

"You mean, Georgia was wronged. The real murderer is Eden. The Lane family has been lying to us?"

After Ivan finished saying, he already gritted his teeth. He was very angry.

Robert nodded.

"You've probably heard that Emma's younger brother Eden had been making trouble outside. If he drove impulsively and bumped into Wendy, this was entirely possible, but the Lane family explained to us that Eden knew he was drunk. So, he drove the car to a place in the middle and stopped. Then, he called Georgia and told Georgia to drive the car back whereas he took another car to go home by himself. Do you believe the Lane family?"

"I don't believe a word!"

After Ivan heard this explanation, he was full of doubts about Eden in an instant.

"Robert, your suspicion is right. I remember that Georgia was convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol. It makes no sense for Georgia who was drunk driving a car that was parked by another drunk driving person. Robert, have you thought how to take revenge on the Lane family?"

Ivan asked coldly. He was now full of disgust for Eden's family.

Robert explained.

"You can probably know that my mother hates Georgia now. Even though Selena told us this incident, we still don't have evidence of the accident scene, Georgia does not have, and Lane family does not have too. So, my mother still thinks Georgia is the murderer of Wendy. Of course, she also hates the rest of the Lane family."

"Then you just deal with the Lane family directly, they are all one family after all."

Ivan made this suggestion without mercy. He had no good feelings for the Lane family, including Georgia.

After saying this, Ivan spoke again.

"No, besides teaching this family a lesson, you and Emma still have a marriage contract. When will the marriage be terminated?"

Robert's original plan was to let this marriage contract go on until next year. So that when everyone thought they were getting married, he would terminate the marriage contract, leaving the Lane family with nothing.

However, since the last time he attended a banquet, watching Georgia being insulted by everyone, saying that Georgia had taken Emma's fiance, Robert did not agree with his plan anymore.

He explained to Ivan.

"After returning back home this time, I will terminate the contract with the Lane family, but I still want to find evidence of the car accident, at least some evidence that can convince my mother, otherwise, she will always be biased against Georgia."

Robert knew that if he promised to his mother now that he would torture and retaliate everyone in the Lane family, including Georgia, Maisie might have no objection, but Robert was unwilling to do so.

Maisie was his mother. Georgia was now the woman he liked. He didn't need to make his mother sad for a woman, but he couldn't give up the woman he loved because of his mother's disgust for her.

He had many ways to take revenge on the Lane family, but what Robert wanted to do the most was to find out the truth about the car accident that year.

"It's been six years now, Robert, how is it possible that you can find the evidence? I also tend to believe that Georgia is not the murderer of that accident now, but Maisie really hates Georgia. This woman even made a false paternity test before. I really don't believe that this woman is a kind hearted person. She is not worthy of your love, or even for you to risk your life to protect her. Robert, since your feelings aren't too deep yet, you should cut off your feelings. Maisie had raised you guys, you know how hard it was back then, why bother to hurt her heart for a woman?"

Robert thought of Ivan arguing with that woman that night, he smiled and asked.

"Ivan, I didn't ask you about what happened that night. When attending Jason's banquet, I could see from the way you talked when quarreled with that woman, you still care about that woman, don't you?"

Ivan's expression darkened instantly. He didn't want to recall anything about this woman, the woman that made him feel sorrowful for six years.

Ivan knew very well that this woman had always been in his heart, making him love and hate at the same time, and he had never forgotten about her.

Robert didn't force Ivan to admit anything about this woman, he gave a sigh and remained in silence.

"Ivan, if you think about the woman you like, you can probably understand why I don't want to give up Georgia. Love is something that you can't ask for. It took me so many years before I was sure that I finally liked a woman. I want to protect her now. I want to clear her grievances. I want her to be with me. I am thinking that we will have our children in the future, have our happy lives for the rest of our lives. If you want me to me give up, at least it's impossible for now."

"As for my mother's affairs, we can take time to discuss it. In this world, it has never been said that you'd have to choose between mother and wife. The key is to see how I as a middleman handle the relationship between them, so, I have to find a way to find evidence of the car accident."

He knew well what was his mother's concern.

Ivan didn't persuade him anymore, he suddenly understood Robert, and again felt that he was particularly funny.

Robert could still find the courage to pursue the woman he loved, even if it seemed difficult, but he, he didn't even dare to admit that he cared about that woman when facing her, because that woman had no heart at all.

Every trace of his care would become a mockery of that woman.

"I see. I won't say anything about you and Georgia. It's just that you have to find a way to find out the truth of the car accident as soon as possible. Otherwise, Maisie will really get more and more angry. This time you are seriously injured, so she didn't quarrel with you. If she finds out that you and Georgia are getting closer and closer in the future, she will really be mad at you."

Robert smiled.

"Of course I understand this. Don't worry, I will send more people to investigate. Anything that was done in this world is impossible to completely clean up all the evidence. Maybe we forgot about something."

Ivan smiled faintly when he suddenly heard his cell phone rang.

Smiling apologetically at Robert, Ivan picked up the phone and walked to the window, it was Ben that called.

"Did you find out anything about my car?"

Ivan asked Ben directly, and Ben nodded on the other side of the phone.

"Boss, the car has been found. It was left in an abandoned factory. We watched the surveillance but could not find out who stole the car. All the evidences were cleaned up, and the car was completely smashed."

Ben's voice finally became very sad. It was a luxury car worth tens of millions of dollars, a global limited edition, and it was smashed by someone who didn't know how much that car was worth. Ben felt heartache when he thought of himself following the police to see the broken car.

Ivan remembered his suspicion yesterday, and he spoke to Ben.

"Did the police take the car for inspection? This person smashed my car, so he was not trying to steal my car and sell it for money. He must be looking for something which was useful from my car. Please ask an expert to investigate what is missing in my car."

Ivan ordered, he was more and more curious about the man who stole his car.

Ben nodded quickly.

"Boss, don't worry, I will find more people to investigate. This person is absolutely mad. He destroyed a car worth of tens of millions. There must be something more important than the value of this car. It is really a violent thing. "

Ivan smiled, he hung up after talking a few words with Ben.

After that, Ivan went back to sit down on the sofa next to Robert's bed.

"What's going on?"

Robert asked curiously.

"After I left these two days, my limited edition Bugatti Veyron was stolen from my villa. At first, I thought it was robber who wanted to steal my car and sell it for money, but my assistant just called and told me that my car was in an abandoned factory, and the car was smashed. Obviously, the person who stole my car was looking for something valuable in it, but I can't think of what is so valuable."

Robert also felt strange, he had never heard of such a strange thing.

In addition to the value of a car, no one could think of anything else worthy of that car, which was worth stealing and smashing it.

Both of them showed strange expressions, and after the two talked a bit more, Robert asked Ivan.

"If I asked you to operate on Georgia's daughter, would you agree?" ____

Daddy, Mommy had been in Prison

Chapter 135 Serve Me Like How You Serve Other Men

Ivan directly refused.

“I can’t promise you, even though now I believe Georgia is not the one who caused the car accident, but auntie still hates Georgia. She thinks that Georgia is the one who caused Wendy’s car accident. For me, Georgia still has a 10% chance of being the murderer. I can’t operate for her daughter, it will remind me of Wendy and I feel sorry for her.”

“What if I can find the evidence? If I manage to help her to get rid of her grievances, are you willing to operate on Georgia’s daughter?”

Ivan simply agreed this time.

“If Georgia is not the one who caused the car accident, it’s just an operation for her daughter; furthermore, it’s a request from you, how can I possibly refuse?”

Robert smiled with relief. It seemed like he had to allocate more people to investigate about the accident that year. Now that he had not heard from the people he sent out for so long, it could be due to the insufficient manpower.

After Ivan left, he wanted to give Georgia a call and check if she had already boarded the plane.

But Robert remembered that Georgia did not have a mobile phone now, and he suddenly missed her so much. It had not been long that Georgia had left, but he started missing her already.

If it were before, Robert might just stick with Georgia, and let Georgia take care of him in the hospital.

However, after experiencing the kidnapping, Robert seemed to understand.

In order to win over Georgia's heart, he could only change another way and continued being weak in front of Georgia, making Georgia feel pitiful for him and let her feel more and more guilty.

This time, he generously let Georgia leave, and even told Georgia that he would not pester her anymore in the future. He even let her leave the villa, which was just a means of giving in.

Forcing a woman too much would not make her feel men are dependable and trustable.

But now that he chose to let go of Georgia and made her feel guilty of him, one day, she would fall in love with him if he continued treating her well in the future.

As for what he said to Georgia about not meeting anymore in the future, it was just a lie.

Georgia was soft-hearted and she easily trusted the others, which made Robert really worried.

It would be the best for him to protect Georgia himself. Otherwise, she would suffer a lot outside.

Robert thought this way, and he began to look forward to the future. He suddenly felt that he did not need to rush to get his legs healed immediately. Being disabled in front of Georgia for a year or a half might be able to make her be loyal to him.

Only these legs could remind Georgia of the things they experienced together, and what he had done for her.

He felt more and more satisfied with his own plan; Robert took out his mobile phone and called his assistant.

“Didn’t I send someone to investigate about the truth of my sister’s car accident that year? I’m adding another 20 million now; you go and find more people to investigate about this matter. Find out the details as soon as possible.”

Alan nodded quickly on the other end of the phone.

“Mr. Simpson, don’t worry. I’ll arrange more people to investigate immediately.”

Robert nodded in relief; he then thought of Georgia’s plagiarism, he asked his assistant.

“Have you found out more about Georgia and Percy’s incident?”

“Mr. Simpson, our men have been following Percy. He is indeed not a decent person. He’s a professor, but he does not stay in the lab every day. Most of the time, he wants to defraud the funds, and his experiment had not made any progress. After tracking for a while more, maybe our men can get some evidence about how he has been deceiving everyone.”

Robert nodded in satisfaction.

“Then continue following. If there’s a shortage of staff or money, call me right away.”

At the Hawaiian airport, Georgia had already boarded the plane.

It would take about three to four more hours for her to reach D City.

Before boarding the plane just now, her mind was filled with Robert, and she could not help recalling the scene when they both kissed.

At that time, she was intoxicated by Robert's breath; did she really fall in love with him?

Georgia kept asking herself, she suddenly could not understand her own heart.

She touched her belly lightly, and asked the baby inside.

“Baby, should I tell your dad about you? But if I tell your dad, what would happen to Annie? Even if your dad is willing to accept us, but your grandma doesn’t like me, will she force me to do abortion? I would not be able to protect you then...”

Georgia thought of it and her heart was full of chaos, she fell asleep on the plane while thinking about it.

In Vanessa’s apartment in D City, Vanessa was cooking in the kitchen.

In the living room, Annie was watching a cartoon, she laughed from time to time as the animation was a little funny.

Vanessa’s face was filled with happiness when she heard that, she was cooking Annie’s favourite braised fish.

She did not think about anything now, with the child by her side, her life for the past 6 years did not seem to have changed. As if Alfred had never come back to torture her, and none of those things had happened.

Vanessa only felt calm while cooking.

In the past two days, Alfred did not come to Vanessa's apartment.

She heard that Alfred had returned to G City, which explained why Vanessa could be in peace for a few days, she hoped that Alfred would never come back.

As long as Alfred came, all he brought to her was humiliation and pain.

Vanessa cooked braised fish, and then cooked four more dishes and one soup.

After placing the food on the table, Vanessa went to the living room.

“Annie, turn off the TV and have dinner with mum.”

Annie was very well-behaved. After she picked up the remote control and turned off the TV, she walked to Vanessa's side and held her hands.

"Mum, let's eat dinner now. I can smell braised fish, thank you, mum."

Vanessa bent down and kissed Annie's cheek.

"My Annie is the most beautiful girl in the world. The happiest thing for mum is cooking for you."

The mother and daughter sat on the dining table sweetly and ate; Annie excitedly ate the braised fish, which was her favourite dish.

Vanessa persuaded her by the side.

"Annie, eat a little bit of the other dishes, do not be picky."

Annie was very obedient and ate all the other dishes. When the mother and daughter were about to finish their dinner, Vanessa heard the doorbell of the apartment rang, she felt a sudden slam in her heart, she had a bad feeling about it.

Vanessa said to Annie with a serious face.

“Annie, you go to the bedroom now. Let me see who’s here, alright?”

Annie felt a little strange, why would her mother react like this?

But she had always been obedient; Annie put down the bowls and chopsticks in her hands and nodded to Vanessa.

“Mum, I’ll wait in the bedroom first. You must be careful. Look through the peephole to see who’s here first. If it’s a stranger, then you must call the police...”

Vanessa nodded.

After she sent Annie to the bedroom, Vanessa came to the door again.

Before she checked through the peephole, Alfred's furious scream could be heard from the outside.

"Vanessa! Open the door. This is the last time I warn you, if you don't open the door, I'll have someone knock open your door."

Annie was here now; Vanessa did not feel like opening the door. She was afraid that the child could be hurt.

However, if Alfred really knocked the door open, maybe he would go crazier.

Vanessa hesitated, Alfred had already slammed the door frantically, louder than ever.

Looking at the swaying door, Vanessa finally reluctantly opened it.

“Alfred, what do you want?”

Alfred just drank, and he came to Vanessa’s apartment drunk, with only one thought in his mind.

He was suffering now, Vanessa must also suffer along.

Alfred sneered at Vanessa.

“What do I want? Look at me now, what do you think I want?”

With a cold yelling, Alfred slammed the door shut. Then he walked directly to Vanessa and gave orders.

“Take off your clothes!”

Vanessa felt a huge sense of humiliation; she held back her tears and pleaded Alfred.

“Alfred, I beg you, my daughter is in the apartment now. Can you let me go today?”

Vanessa knelt on the ground after she finished speaking.

In fact, she knew that this man would not be soft-hearted to her, but she wanted to plead him lowly.

Alfred was a little startled for a moment, he had never seen Vanessa kneeling on the ground so lowly and begging for mercy. She was not the Vanessa in his memory.

The Vanessa he remembered was always sunny and sweet, he seemed to have forgotten what Vanessa was once like.

But Alfred felt that he had been holding in too much that he would go insane soon.

In the past few days, Alfred returned to G City. His relatives in G City laughed at him, saying that he had done so much just to marry a wife who had affairs outside. Everyone looked at him indifferently. His mother also felt very disappointed with him, he felt all the pain and depression in him.

He endured all the humiliation in G City and worked hard to deal with the affairs of G City.

Before Alfred left, his mother asked him to make great achievements when he returned to D City.

Alfred promised her, in order to have better collaborations; he had to accompany the negotiators to drink the whole night when he returned D City, he clearly felt all the resentment in his heart.

That made him immediately came to Vanessa's apartment, he was not happy, he had to make Vanessa unhappy too.

Alfred simply and rudely resolved the pain in his heart, he sneered at Vanessa who was kneeling in front of him.

“You want me to spare you? Sure, it’s very simple. If you serve me well tonight, I’ll spare you once and never disturb your baby girl.”

“By the way, do it according to the video. You serve me like how you served the others.”

Listening to Alfred, Vanessa’s face turned pale. She looked at the man in front of her with red eyes, and finally nodded helplessly.

“I promise you, as long as you let Annie go, I can do anything. But, can you wait for a while? I’d like to say a few words to Annie.”

Alfred nodded, and he sat on the sofa while remaining calm, waiting for Vanessa to return in the end.

Vanessa returned to the bedroom, Annie sat on the bed obediently and played with toys. Seeing Vanessa coming back, she asked in surprise.

“Mum, who’s here?”

“It’s the property owner from downstairs, but I have to go down to deal with one thing. Annie, you go to bed first, alright?”

Annie felt a little strange; she did not even finish her meal just now.

“Mum, am I not eating anymore?”

Annie asked suspiciously.

“The meal is already cold, after I’m done dealing with the thing, I’ll come back and warm it up for you. You can eat it later, okay? But during this period, you must stay in the bedroom and not come out, can you do that?”

Annie promised her mother.

“I won’t go out, I know I can’t run around.”

Vanessa was relieved. After she coaxed Annie, Vanessa closed the bedroom door tightly, and then she came to Alfred.

“Don’t do it in the living room, I beg you.”

Vanessa bowed her head in front of him and surrendered, Alfred suddenly felt more unhappy and resentful.

He directly pulled Vanessa’s hand, and dragged her into the next bedroom then closed the door tightly.

Annie heard the sound of the door being closed; she thought that her mother had gone out. Annie felt a little tired; she lay on the bed and started sleeping.

In Vanessa's ward, she had already taken off her clothes in humiliation in front of Alfred.

Alfred did not feel happy, but looking at Vanessa's humiliation and pain, he felt that as long as he could torture Vanessa, the resentment in his heart seemed to dissipate a lot.

Alfred played the video in his phone.

"Just follow the actions in this video. Didn't you treat the other men like this before? Why don't you dare to serve me like this now?"

Vanessa saw the body, her whole body was shaking.

But she clenched her fists tightly; she could not struggle in front of Alfred. She could not make Alfred go crazy and hurt Annie.

She closed her eyes and took a deep breath. Vanessa came to Alfred's body.

In the airport of D City, Georgia just got off the plane. She quietly waited for the arrival of her suitcase.

Not long after, Georgia suddenly saw a woman in front of her, whose face looked similar to Vanessa.

After seeing her suitcase, Georgia immediately took off her suitcase, and then chased after her while pushing her suitcase.

However, that person disappeared among the crowd.

Georgia was a little puzzled, was something wrong with her eyesight? Why did she think that the woman looked a lot like Vanessa?

With such doubts in her mind, after Georgia walked out of the airport, she found a public phone and then called Vanessa. ____

Chapter 136 A Vanessa Look-alike

After Georgia phoned, there still wasn't anyone picking up the phone, this made her worried.

She then phoned Vanessa a few times, but still no response.

Just then seeing a person that looked just like Vanessa, made Georgia immediately called a cab to Vanessa's apartment to find out herself.

The apartment was quite some distance from the airport. When she finally reached Vanessa's place, it's already had passed an hour and a half. She impatiently knocked on the door of the apartment unit, yet no one opened the door.

Before that, Vanessa said that she and Annie would be staying at the apartment. How could there be no one?

It was already past 12 o'clock midnight, Georgia kept knocking on the door. She was feeling very impatient and worried that something might have happened to Vanessa and Annie.

Inside the apartment's bedroom, Annie who was asleep was finally awoken by the sound of the door knocking.

She climbed down her bed and opened her bedroom door. She then slowly approached the apartment's door.

And inside the bedroom where Alfred and Vanessa was, she was getting tortured by Alfred. When she heard knocking, she wanted to push Alfred away. But Alfred mocked her coldly.

“It's in the middle of the night and someone is looking for you. Vanessa, could it be that you're having an affair with someone else?”

Alfred's voice was filled with mockery, his face was grim and terrifying.

“Mummy! Where are you?”

Annie's voice was heard which made Vanessa even more worried. She repeatedly tried to shove Alfred away.

“Annie’s awake, I want to go and check on Annie. Please let me go.”

But Alfred wasn’t letting her go, he instead humiliated her.

“If you continue like this, I will open the door and let Annie look at how lowly you are!”

Vanessa’s face became pale, she immediately started to cry and beg.

“Annie is only 5 years old. She’s all alone and must be afraid. If the person that is knocking is a mugger, and something happens to Annie, what do we do? Let go of me now!”

Alfred felt bummed out that he helplessly released Vanessa.

“Go out and get it done. Or else, I will go out with you. Do you want Annie to know that who you are sleeping with?”

Vanessa quickly wore her clothes; she opened the door and immediately closed the door behind her.

Annie saw it was Vanessa, her anxious face was instantly calmed.

“Mummy, I thought you’re gone. Someone is out there knocking...”

Annie held Vanessa’s hand as Vanessa quickly bent down and place her inside her arms.

“Don’t worry Annie, I’m always here. I will go and check through the peephole.”

After she said this, she brought Annie to the door.

Before she could look through the peephole, Georgia’s voice was heard from the other side.

“Vanessa, Annie, are you guys home?”

Georgia was already screaming. Annie instantly replied excitedly.

“Mummy! We are here!”

Vanessa’s body trembled. The feeling of fear ran through her entire body. Annie had already opened the door joyfully.

Georgia immediately stepped in, she turned to Vanessa and smiled. And then she crouched down and hugged Annie into her arms.

“My baby, how was everything for the past few days? Was it fun?”

“Mummy, I am waiting for you to come back. You’ve been away for the last few days and I’ve missed you so much.”

The mother and daughter’s dialogue were heart-warming. But Vanessa was trembling, as she wasn’t expecting Georgia to visit at this hour of the day.

Usually, Vanessa would be happy to see her. But Alfred was inside her bedroom, Vanessa was afraid that Georgia would find out that Alfred was here Georgia’s short-tempered, she was worried that Alfred’s insanity would hurt Georgia because Georgia’s pregnant after all. Vanessa asked Georgia in a panic.

“Was the flight long? Are you hungry? I’ll make you dinner, so you can take a shower and then go to bed and rest.”

Vanessa wanted to muddle through, she wanted Georgia and Annie to hit the sack so that Georgia could not discover Alfred’s presence.

Georgia didn't notice that something was wrong with Vanessa. She smiled gratefully at her.

"I'm really hungry, just make me a egg fried rice. I'm going to take a shower now."

After saying that, Georgia coaxed at Annie.

"It's very late. Was Mummy disturbing your sleep? Annie, why don't you go to bed first?"

Annie hurriedly shook her head.

"No, mummy has taken so long to get back. I want to stay with Mummy, and we will sleep together."

Georgia nodded as she gave another kiss on the cheek of Annie before carrying her luggage and placing it inside.

“Then I’ll go and take a bath first. Annie, you stay with mummy Vanessa.”

After saying this, Georgia was heading towards the bathroom inside the bedroom. She intended to take a bath before having a meal.

After a few hours of flying, she was literally dying from hunger.

Because the food on the plane was not good. After all, she had been literally starving for the past few hours.

But, when Georgia had just walked inside the corridor when she noticed that the bedroom door next to her had been opened, and Georgia was shocked.

And when the person inside the bedroom walked out, Georgia’s expression sank even more.

“How come you are here?”

Alfred laughed coldly.

“This is Vanessa’s apartment. I live inside Vanessa’s flat. I’m her husband, what’s wrong with that?”

Georgia was filled with resentment towards Alfred. She always remembered what this man had done in the past, taking away her daughter.

Had Vanessa been tortured by this man all this time?

Georgia subconsciously looked in Vanessa’s direction. Vanessa’s face was pale, and her body was trembling.

Annie even ran to Georgia’s side.

“You’re the bad guy! Why are you here?”

Annie asked angrily, pointing her finger at Alfred.

Alfred expression instantly sank deep, his eyes filled with a fierce aura. And he looked extremely serious.

“Say that again, who the hell is the bad guy here?”

Alfred asked coldly.

Annie had never seen such a fierce man before. And she tugged Georgia’s hand.

“Mummy, why is this bad guy here?”

Georgia remembered that Annie had been taken away by Alfred last time, her explanation to Annie was that Alfred was a bad guy.

Georgia rushed to stand in front of Annie, she was afraid that Alfred would go insane and hurt the child.

“Alfred, you’re so shameless. Why are you being mean to a little child?”

Georgia shouted out this sentence. Alfred's eyes reddened and he looked vicious.

Vanessa rushed forward and shielded Georgia and Annie.

“Alfred, don’t you dare lay a finger on Georgia and Annie!”

Vanessa roared in anger, she could endure Alfred’s torture, but she would never allow Alfred to bully Georgia and Annie.

Alfred suddenly mocked sadly.

“One is your best friend and the other is your adopted daughter. You protect them with everything, and you are even willing to endure my torture just so that I won't hurt these two people. You can be so kind to her, why can't you do the same to me! Vanessa, why do you have affair with those men? What exactly do you take me for?"

Alfred hissed in pain as he was filled with mixed feelings towards Vanessa.

Both Vanessa and he were each other's first love. Later when his only grandmother passed away, Vanessa broke up with him at that very moment. Because she couldn't accept the fact that he was poor. She trampled his self-esteem onto the ground.

Alfred hated Vanessa's behaviour that time. And his mother found him and brought him back to the Chow family.

At that time, Alfred thought about working hard and being someone better. And then he would make her repent for what she did to him.

But when he came back, he still couldn't bear to see Vanessa in pain. So Alfred decided to let bygones be bygones. And he felt that he was going to marry Vanessa, whom he loved.

He was finally rich, and there was no way Vanessa would ever leave him.

However, at their wedding. The moment when the video was released, he became a joke in the eyes of everyone. And all the sincerity he had given was trampled again by Vanessa.

How could this not make him hate her?

“I told you none of the videos was me, except for the first one. So what on earth can make you believe me?”

Vanessa was already crying out in pain, she covered her head and felt like her head was about to explode.

She felt as if both herself and Alfred were hurting each other. Both breaking each other's heart.

But Vanessa didn't understand at all where those videos had come from.

How could she have done such a thing? It wasn't as if she had amnesia. Vanessa crouched down in pain and cried.

Georgia was worried in an instant.

"What are you guys talking about? Are there any other videos? What the hell is going on here?"

Alfred, however, didn't care about Georgia. He just gave a burst of mocking laughter at Vanessa.

"Your acting of being sad is so well!"

After saying this, Alfred walked directly outside. Georgia wanted to go after him and ask what really happened. But Vanessa had pulled Georgia's hand.

“Georgia, don’t go out there, let him go...”

Georgia stopped in her tracks helplessly.

Annie was concerned about Vanessa.

“Mummy don’t cry. Annie is here, please don’t cry...”

Annie took her hand and gently wiped the tears from Vanessa’s face who kept shaking her head.

“Annie, I’m fine. I’m okay. It’s very late, can you go and rest first?”

Annie didn’t want to leave. She had never seen Vanessa in such distress. She was worried and wanted to be by her side.

“Mummy, I’m fine. I’ve just had a nap and I’m not feeling sleepy. I’ll stay with you. Please don’t cry so much, okay?”

Vanessa sobbed as she nodded her head.

But this time, she could no longer control her emotions in front of her daughter. Her tears streamed down her face for quite a while before she could get them under control.

During this time, Georgia and Annie quietly stayed by Vanessa's side. Waiting for her to calm down, it took almost half an hour before she finally stopped crying.

She wiped the tears on her face and smiled forcefully at Annie.

"I'm fine now, I'm going to take a bath now. Annie go to bed first, okay? You can't stay up late and you need to rest more. Could you listen to me this time?"

Annie was a little reluctant and Georgia rushed to persuade her.

"Annie, I'll be by her side. So, don't you worry about mummy Vanessa. I'll be by her side, I'll take you to bed, okay?"

Annie was finally compromised, and she gave Vanessa a kiss on the cheek.

"Mummy, please don't get so upset, okay, I'll just go to bed and you must wake me up with a kiss in the morning."

Vanessa smiled and nodded, waiting until after Georgia had carried and coaxed Annie inside the bedroom. Vanessa walked to the sofa alone and sat down, instantly bursting into tears.

After putting Annie to bed, it had been almost half an hour or so, and Georgia quietly walked out of the bedroom as she headed towards the lighted living room.

Vanessa sat alone on the sofa in silence, her eyes were still red.

Georgia guessed that Vanessa must have just burst into tears again, which made Georgia even more distressed.

She slowly walked up to Georgia and asked in a soft voice.

"What happened? Why can't I understand much of what you and Alfred are arguing about. And were there any other videos?"

Georgia asked as carefully as she could. She didn't want to trigger Vanessa, whose eyes were filled with sadness.

"Georgia, I don't understand either, I think I'm going crazy..."

Georgia walked up to Vanessa and she bent down and asked.

"Just tell me what's wrong, I'm here and Annie is here, we'll work it out together, don't be afraid."

"Vanessa, I almost thought Annie was dead at first, weren't you desperate too back then? We have gotten through something so painful, why should you be afraid now? As long as we are still alive, there is always a chance that we can confront the difficulties in front of us."

Vanessa, however, instantly sobbed as she reached out her arms and hugged Georgia tightly.

"Georgia, I really can't take it anymore, I feel like I'm going crazy, I even wonder if I did something like that. That night, not long after the video of my wedding dress, Alfred came inside the hospital and he forced me to watch other videos, videos of a woman in bed with other men doing all kinds of adultery stuff. But the woman in those videos looked exactly like me! Georgia, I don't understand, I never made such videos and I don't know those people in the videos, so why would I have such videos? Do you think I've had amnesia? Or am I missing a year of memory, why would I ever have those videos?"

Vanessa was crying so much that she almost broke down, and it was only at this moment that Georgia understood the reason for Alfred and Vanessa's quarrel.

"What nonsense are you talking about? Vanessa, you haven't lost your memory at all, don't talk nonsense, Alfred thought that the person in that video was you, that's because the person in it looks similar to you, but how can you not know whether you have done those things or not?"

Vanessa was, however, still tearing up.

"Georgia, it's because it's clear that I feel even more desperate, I don't even know if I should doubt myself or if I should be whimsical enough to think that someone in this world looks like me and made a video like that, which happened to be seen by Alfred, I think I've gone crazy, I can only comfort myself like this every day, telling myself that it was taken by someone else who just happened to look like me It just happened to look like me."

Vanessa's whole body was already filled with despair when she said this, while Georgia's eyes instantly lit up.

“Vanessa, you’re probably right. If the video wasn’t faked, someone who looked like you must’ve filmed that video. It must be.”

Vanessa could only let out a bitter smile.

“What are the chances of them finding someone who looked like me? Gigi, you don’t need to comfort me. There’s probably something wrong with me.”

Georgia suddenly became anxious.

“Vanessa, I’m not just comforting you. My assumption wasn’t based on nothing. Do you know what I saw on my way back today?”

As soon as Georgia finished her words, Vanessa asked her back in doubt.

“What did you see then?”

“When I was claiming my luggage at the airport today, I saw someone who looked exceptionally like you. But I was a little far from her, so I couldn’t be sure if the both of you looked exactly the same. After that, I even prepared to run over with my luggage because I thought it was you, and I was wondering why you were at the airport too. Before I could reach the lady, she had disappeared amidst the sea of people.”

“Vanessa, you’re an orphan, how could you be sure that no one else in this world looks like you? I can assure you that the woman I saw looked just like you, no joke. Oh, and after I realized that, I went to the public phone right away to call you but you didn’t pick up. That was why I came here immediately.”

After listening to Georgia’s words, Vanessa was astounded.

“Gigi, are you really not lying just to comfort me?”

Georgia shook her head in seriousness.

“Why would I make up such a lie to comfort you? I really saw that at the airport. Vanessa, you can’t give up yet, and just ignore Alfred’s misunderstanding towards you for the time being. What we must do now is find out the person doing all these. She looked exactly like you, so what if you were a missing child? Maybe you can even find your parents, right? Don’t give up yet and don’t be afraid.”

Vanessa was initially a little surprised, and then felt slightly relieved from the burden that had been weighing her down. Her desolation for the past few days had lessened a little too. However, she let out a wry laugh soon after.

“Gigi, if what you said about me having a twin sister was true, she must be living a difficult life too. Otherwise, she wouldn’t have filmed such videos. She might even have a more miserable life than I do. How unlucky are we?”

“Even if this is the case, we need to find her too. Not only can it prove your innocence, but it can help the girl too.”

“This world is so huge. Gigi, do you think we can find someone so easily? For the past twenty years, I’ve never seen anyone who looked like me. As for you, you met her once by coincidence. Do you think we can see her again?”

“Vanessa, why are you so silly? Think properly. Why would Alfred have the video? Someone who dislikes you or Alfred must’ve sent it to him. And that person probably knows where the girl is. We can start by asking Alfred where he got the video from.”

“But I don’t think he would tell me.”

Vanessa laughed bitterly. She understood Alfred. He was an arrogant and conceited man, but she had trampled on his self-esteem.

Finally, Alfred decided to let it go and gave her another chance after he came back. However, the video that was played during the wedding ceremony broke off all hopes for the pair.

Alfred was so disappointed in Vanessa now, so how would he be willing to cooperate with her to dig into this matter? Vanessa no longer expected anything from Alfred either way.

“Don’t be disappointed so soon. There’s also hope in everything. Let’s take it a step at a time.”

Before Georgia could finish her words, Vanessa forced another smile. She couldn’t bring herself to be courageous anymore.

On the contrary, Georgia had already begun to think of a solution in her head. In fact, she already had someone she suspected. After thinking about it, she spoke again.

“It’s fine if we can’t get any information from Alfred. But Vanessa, weren’t we suspicious of who played the video during the wedding ceremony? It must be Rachel Scott! Do you think she could be the one to send the video to Alfred too?”

“Maybe Rachel knows the truth, but she definitely won’t tell us.”

Vanessa replied dejectedly, but Georgia was still keeping the gears spinning.

Rachel had parents and relatives. If they could find her weak spot, was it possible to force the truth out of her?

However, they didn’t know where to begin. This made Georgia overwhelmed and anxious.

“Forget it. Vanessa, it’s late, don’t think about Alfred anymore and go to bed. I’ll stay here from today onwards. I won’t leave you and Annie all by yourselves.”

Vanessa showed a surprised look this time around.

“You’re coming back to stay with me? Is Robert fine with it? By the way, what happened to the both of you?”

Vanessa seemed to be curious and started to ask Georgia a series of questions.

Georgia had briefly told her everything over the phone before this, and now she was explaining the whole kidnapping story in detail.

In the end, Vanessa only sighed.

“So it was Mr. Knight who did it. Gigi, I don’t think he would let this go so easily. He will definitely strike at Robert again, or maybe even you. You must be careful.”

Georgia forced a smile.

“At this point, I don’t even know what is right or wrong anymore. I just want to protect Annie. As for Robert, I feel guilty towards him but I really can’t be with him.”

“What about the unborn kid in your tummy?”

Vanessa asked puzzledly.

Robert cared about Georgia, and he had a good feeling towards her. After Vanessa confirmed this piece of information with Georgia, she actually felt relieved.

At least this man was willing to protect Georgia. When their lives were at stake, he placed Georgia's safety over his own. He was a man that was worthy of Georgia's trust.

“For now, I am still the culprit behind Wendy's car accident. His mother hates me so I really can't tell them anything about this unborn child. Judging from how much his mother loathes me, I bet she would ask me to get an abortion. Vanessa, I must protect my child.”

After Georgia said all these, then only did Vanessa remember Robert's mother.

His mother was indeed a difficult woman to deal with. If Georgia were to reveal that she had a kid in her belly, that woman would definitely force her to get an abortion.

"I understand your concerns now, but shouldn't you at least talk this out with Robert? He can even give up his own life to protect you, so maybe you can actually try to put more trust in him."

Georgia smiled bitterly as she shook her head.

"In this world, men can abandon women, even the women they love but not their mother. The same goes for Robert, and it's not like I like him a lot too so there was no need for him to make such a choice. Once my research yields results, we will go abroad. Vanessa, we'll bring Annie out of here and stay away from all these problems, okay?"

Vanessa thought about her own mental health, along with the pressure Alfred was giving her. Georgia's words seemed to have given her a glimpse of hope again.

"Gigi, you're right. We shouldn't stay at this place. The people here hate us so maybe leaving this place is the best choice."

When Vanessa said this, she even had a smile on her face, which was a huge contrast with her worried look from earlier. It seemed like she was looking forward to leaving this place.

Georgia was even more determined about leaving now too.

After saying all that, Georgia thought of Travis and asked Vanessa about him.

Georgia was unsure if Travis was still in the hospital and was worried about him.

Vanessa showed an apologetic expression soon after.

“Gigi, sorry. It was already late after I called you last night so I didn’t go to the hospital to ask about his condition. I was with Annie the whole day today so I didn’t get to go out too.”

Georgia wasn’t angry and started to comfort Vanessa.

“Nah, it’s okay. It’s too late anyway. I’ll go to the hospital to ask about it after work tomorrow.”

As Georgia said so, Vanessa remembered something and added.

“If you go tomorrow night, you’ll be worried for the rest of today. It’s not appropriate to call the hospital at this time too. Why don’t you give Selena a call tomorrow? She might know about Travis’ condition. Even if she doesn’t, she can always call Travis to ask.”

“Vanessa, you’re right. I’ll call her tomorrow morning and ask about it.”

We'll think of a way to find the woman who looks just like you. She could be your sister after all."

Vanessa nodded.

"I'll sleep in this bedroom. You can go back to Annie's bedroom. I bet you miss her after such a long time."

Georgia smiled.

"Well, remember not to overthink things and rest. There are no obstacles that cannot be overcome in this world. There is hope as long as we are still alive."

Vanessa smiled again because Georgia's last words made her anticipate the future with hope.

Perhaps she could truly be free after leaving this place.

As long as she could find the woman who looked like her, maybe Alfred can let the matter go and not torture her anymore.

With such expectations, Vanessa calmed herself down and slowly entered dreamland.

Early the next morning, Georgia got up and prepared breakfast. She wanted to prepared chicken noodles for Vanessa and Annie.

When she was done cooking, it was already 7.00 a.m. Georgia walked towards Annie's room, dressed her up and told her to wash up before eating her breakfast.

Then, she knocked on Vanessa's door to wake her up for breakfast too.

The three of them had a happy meal together. Before taking the bus to work, Georgia reminded Vanessa to take good care of Annie.

Due to the kidnapping incident, Georgia hadn't gone to work for a long time. It was necessary for her to report herself to mu today.

It was 7.30 a.m. when she got on the bus. She took out her phone and gave Selena a call. _____

Daddy, Mommy had been in Prison

Chapter138 Anaya Wanted to Steal Your Experimental Data

Selena Holland just got up at this time, ate breakfast and was about to go to work before Georgia Lane called her.

When they had breakfast in the morning, the whole family sat in the table, Jasper Holland and Selena Holland sat aside, their parents sat opposite to them.

Elliot glared at her son angrily.

"Jasper, this is the final offer. Today you have to go to the Johnson family to talk about marriage. No more excuse about finding Robert this time, you must be there in person today. Robert is out of danger now, how long do you want to postpone this? "

Jasper sighed helplessly, he suddenly thought that as he pushed it back for so long, and Robert was totally fine, why he couldn't disappear for longer? Now he himself was in trouble.

Jasper compromised to his mother.

"Well, Mom, you can arrange everything. Buy some gifts for them and I will show up on time. I have tried my best to marry her, if you wanted me to apple-polish to her parents, it is absolute impossible."

Bailey yelled at him right away.

"Show some of your respect to them. Jennifer's parents will be your father-in-law no matter what. Where is your 20-years manners?"

Jasper sighed helplessly.

"Anyway, I am forced to marry a woman, then I gave you a grandson to finish my task. Don't put other things on me."

Elliot was so pissed off by her son.

"If you say the nonsense one more time, I will kick you out of the family, let lose every penny you have right now."

Jasper actually wanted to argue, he also had his own assets outside and he didn't need to rely on the family.

Just, it was not necessary to piss off parents for this thing.

"I know, you can rest assured, I promise to marry Jennifer so I won't regret. Why you seem to be afraid that I will flee from the marriage, don't worry, I will marry her."

Elliot felt relief a bit, and she asked Selena who was eating breakfast silently.

"How are you and Jason doing recently? I have already put you guy's marriage to the agenda. I didn't hear from the Murphy family. Is there something between you guys?"

Selena barely raised her head and shook her head.

"No, Mom, it was because Robert was missing, Jason was busy looking for Robert. The Murphy family was investigating on the banquet, they had to give the Simpson family how everything happened. They didn't have time for the engagement and maybe they would talk about this later."

Selena found an excuse, in fact, she was extremely sad already.

But in front of her parents and her brother, she couldn't show her sadness.

She was so afraid that everyone knew she liked Jasper. As it already embarrassed enough that Elliot had known that, she would kill herself if her dad and Jasper found out it as well.

Elliot believed what she said.

Robert's missing did make the Simpson family in chaos. He missed in the Murphy family and they have to investigate this clearly.

"I know, you should maintain a good relationship with Jason. Your brother will get married this year, you and Jason would be better get married as well. So that we will double our happiness."

Jasper disdained.

"Jason is such a playboy like me, are you sure you want my sister to married him? He is not a good son-in-law."

Jasper was teasing but Elliot frowned after she heard that.

"It's not your business, you are still in trouble and even want to control others. Get out, I don't want to see you again!"

Jasper smiled awkwardly, he just finished breakfast and put plates down, he said to his parents.

"Dad, Mom, I will go to work. As for the things of the Johnson family, you can call me after buying gifts. I will pick you up."

Elliot nodded, Jasper left.

Selena also finished breakfast at this time, she stood up.

"Dad, Mom, I am full now, I will go to work first."

After heard this, Bailey and Elliot nodded.

"Take care."

After Selena went outside, she found her brother was sitting in the car. When he saw Selena coming out from the house, Jasper rolled down the window.

"Selena, I'll take you to work, I have a lot of free time today."

Selena didn't refuse him. After she sat down, Jasper smiled and asked.

"You have kept silent in the morning. Did you encounter something unhappy?"

Selena shook her head quickly.

"No, there is no such a thing, I just don't know how to join in your topic. Dad and mom have been talking about you and Jennifer these days. I don't know what to say. Felt like everything I said was wrong. I'm afraid to make parents angry at me."

Jasper was amused.

"You don't need to care about Jennifer. She has to marry me and who knows what she is thinking about. I will marry her and treat her like a God. You don't provoke her so that she can't find anyway to belly you."

It seemed that Jasper really didn't care about Jennifer at all. Selena raised her head and she asked carefully.

"Jasper, why don't you marry a woman you love? Jennifer planned all this, why did you agree to marry this woman? You will have an unhappy life for sure."

Jasper was amused.

"Selena, don't you think you are worried too much? There are only a few people with alike background of us who pursue true love. What's more, your brother, I, never be serious with relationships. To find a true love is simply impossible. To cope with the task, I have to marry someone... As long as this person doesn't make any drama, this is my minimum requirement. But, as your brother is out of luck and forced to have a relationship with Jennifer. She must to be hard to deal with, I have no choice but accept her."

It turned out that her brother didn't care about Jennifer at all, but Selena didn't feel happy.

"Jasper, I hope you will be happy. I am afraid that after you marry her, you will feel wronged in the future."

"You really think I am that fragile? She is just a woman. From now on, we will treat it as a display. And don't you worried if Jennifer will bully you. I will protect you. If she kept doing that, I will teach her a lesson. If the lesson didn't work, then you can move out. I still don't believe that she can come to your house every day to bully you."

Jasper really didn't care about those things at all, so Selena suddenly didn't dare to speak anything.

She was afraid that if she spoke again, the sadness in her voice would show out. They kept silent all along the way afterwards.

When Selena was about to get out of the car, she found a call from Georgia.

Selena got out of the car and said goodbye to her brother, and then she picked up the call from Georgia.

"Georgia, what's up?"

Selena had calm down at this moment, and she asked calmly, Georgia quickly asked her for help.

"Selena, you knew that I was kidnapped. I didn't know about the situation in last few days. I returned back last night. I had to go to work today. I wanted to know what the current situation about Travis. Was he still living in the hospital, or he was transferred to the mental hospital? "

Georgia asked her.

"Can you please help me to check on him?"

Selena did not refuse.

"It's not a big deal, I will make a phone call to help you ask others. However, I have something about the request you asked few days ago."

"Do you mean driving recorder? Was there a car passed by the accident?"

Georgia asked excitedly, and Selena nodded on the other side.

"I specially checked the nearby monitoring of the road where the car accident happened, but there are a lot of cars have passed in front of the road where accident happened. I have calculated the time of the car accident, there are hundreds of cars were caught by the camera by the time, included several luxury cars. We need more details."

There were so many cars passed at the scene, Georgia was a little disappointed but Selena comforted her.

"Georgia, investigating dozens of cars are not difficult to the police, but this was not the responsibility of the police. Give me some time to dig deeper, don't worry. Since you confirm that this thing is true, then those cars must have recorded the car accident. "

Georgia smiled gratefully.

"Selena, you are right. I appreciated all you did."

After finished the call, Georgia was almost at MU Research Institute, she was patiently waiting inside the car and kept comforting himself.

The truth would be recovered, she would definitely find that driving recorder.

After the car arrived at MU Research Institute, there was still more than half an hour till working time.

Georgia was trying to organize her own documents, and Simon Booth suddenly showed up in front of her.

"Georgia, I have something to say privately."

Simon was very serious, Georgia felt quite strange.

There was not many people around, and Georgia nodded.

"Where are we going?"

"Come with me."

After Simon said that, Georgia was little upset. She followed him to walk out of the office. Simon took her to a quiet corridor.

No one was around, Georgia was a bit scared.

"Is it very important?"

Georgia asked.

Simon looked at the woman in front of her and finally decided to tell her.

"Those days you absented from work, I found that Anaya Mitchell was looking for something at your table. I secretly saw that she revealed exciting smile, she also turned on your computer. I suspected that she wanted to steal your experimental data."

Daddy, Mommy had been in Prison

Chapter 139 A Mystery Gift

Simon's words left Georgia in bewilderment.

"Are you sure she checked my belongings on the desk?"

Simon nodded.

"I am not sure if she stole important information from you, but she searched your belongings and your computer."

Georgia became silent, there were some notes on her desk, but she was the only one who could read them.

While the computer only recorded some experimental details she did recently, but checking someone else's computer was not an ordinary act.

Georgia had set a password to protect her experiment data, but it was not a difficult task to have the data decrypted if Anaya copied it.

Georgia's heart sunken, she raised her head and thanked Simon.

"Thanks for telling me this Simon, I will look into it."

Simon smiled uncomfortably.

After a while, Simon said, "Georgia, I hope you will have a bright future, don't sell yourself again, you are talented, research and experiment should be your career path, don't destroy your future."

Simon left after he finished saying them.

Georgia was touched and felt funny at the same time.

Simon was the first person she encountered when she first joined MU.

Simon had a good impression on her that day, Georgia knew but

Robert was there almost immediately.

Her image in MU changed completely in the blink of eyes, Simon was disappointed in her since then.

Georgia thought Simon and her would be casual colleagues, but Simon helped her today and even advised her to concentrate on research, it was kind of him to have done that.

Georgia returned to the office and found that almost everyone had returned.

Aston asked Georgia in concern.

“Weren’t you kidnapped? You are injured, why return in such a hurry?”

Georgia smiled casually. “I am fine, two days were wasted, and the research progress would be seriously interrupted if I keep on delaying.”

Aston nodded and continued, “Professor is in the office, let’s go, he wants to see us.”

Georgia followed Aston to Professor Lee’s office, the professor showed his concern.

“If you are feeling unwell, you can go back and rest, don’t force yourself.”

“Professor, I’m fine, working won’t affect my health.”

“Sit down both of you and let’s discuss what needs to be done end of this month. Percy will give a lecture at the Imperial University, we still have two weeks until the end of the month, Georgia, are you ready?”

If it wasn’t because of being kidnapped, Georgia thought she would have completed the report, her research also should show a breakthrough result.

“Professor, I need another week, I want to ensure that there were no mistakes with the experimental factors and I would also like to find a better experimental condition to test and support my hypotheses.”

Professor Lee turned to Aston. “How is your research going? The public is waiting for the debate between MU and Percy Chow, they were eager to find out who will be the clown.”

“At least it’s progressing better than Percy’s research.” Aston smiled confidently.

“Do you still need to spend time on the search of the missing child?” Professor asked again.

“Yes, the search must continue and work must not be delayed too. But rest assured, I will only use my time after work to search for the child.”

“Okay, you continue with the direction of your research and I’m expecting reports from both of you at the end of the month.”

Aston left while Georgia stayed with Professor Lee.

“I heard that it was Laurence that kidnapped you, right?”

Professor Lee asked and Georgia nodded sadly.

“Yes. Laurence kidnapped Robert and me to an island. It was Robert’s father that saved both of us.”

Professor Lee frowned and looked worried.

“Do you know the number of share Laurence have in this research center?”

Georgia shook her head, she knew Laurence invested in MU but didn’t know how much.

“Laurence had 30% share in MU but his share was divided and sold while he was missing, he has only 9% left.”

Georgia didn't understand what Professor Lee was saying, Professor Lee, continued.

“Until now Laurence had not contacted me, but he is not the forgiving type. You and Robert escaped, Laurence will see you as an enemy now. I'm telling you all this so that you could continue working in MU without worries, Laurence no longer has the authority to make a decision, and he can't affect your work, so rest assure and don't think too much.”

Georgia never expected that Professor Lee's long speech was about this, she smiled.

“Professor, I didn't know how many shares Laurence own before, don't worry, I will focus on the research and ignore the rumours, but I need to tell you something.”

Professor said calmly, “Tell me straight what you want to say.”

Georgia told the professor what she heard from Simon, Professor Lee's face stiffened.

He ordered to check the surveillance recording, but there was a problem with the system and all recordings in the office were gone. This proof that Anaya might have really stolen some data.

It would be a big threat to MU if Anaya leaked the research's confidential information.

"I'll have Anaya fired. I am not pleased with her working attitude and she hasn't shown any performance this year, keeping her will create only mess."

Professor Lee decided, but something came to Georgia's mind and she advised.

"Professor, I know even if Rachel decrypted my data, it isn't complete research, I didn't store all my data and hypotheses into the computer. If they plagiarized my data and I present my data after that, isn't it obvious who plagiarized by then?"

“Are you confident?” professor Lee asked.”

“I need two days to test and come out with a conclusion... Professor, there’s no need to act in rush now, let Anaya believe that we haven’t noticed anything, let the opponent think that they are winning. Our enemy now is Percy Chow, Anaya loathes me so the only person she will go to is Percy, and we can have someone tailing Percy for now.”

Professor Lee agreed with Georgia’s suggestion. They further discussed about the research data before Georgia left the room.

She remembered in her last experiment, light factor changed the qualitative measure in her research.

Perhaps this was the chance she cleaned herself from plagiarism.

Georgia did not conduct research in the lab that morning. She tidied up her documents on the desk and read about research directions and results worldwide.

Selena called Georgia right before noon.

“Ms Lane, I know where Travis is, he hasn’t discharged, and he’s still receiving treatments at the hospital.”

“Can I visit him tonight?” Georgia asked Selena for a favour.

“No worries, they know who you are, I’ll give them a call later.”

Georgia let out a sigh of relief, she hadn’t seen Travis for days, Travis must be terrified. She must visit him at the hospital after work.

Georgia was busy in the lab the whole afternoon. She got off work sharp at six and wanted to go to the hospital.

But there was a car stopped in front of her the moment she stepped out of the building.

“Ms Lane, I’m Mr Simpson’s assistant, there’s something I need to tell you.”

Georgia hesitated for a moment before getting into the car.

The driver drove the car on the driveway while Georgia and the assistant sat behind.

“What is it about?” Georgia said directly.

The assistant pulled out an exquisite box. “Ms Lane, this is a gift from Mr Simpson, please take it.”

Georgia hesitated, she did not want to have any relation with Robert anymore but the assistant continued.

“Ms Lane, there’s a surprise for you, you won’t regret it, Mr Simpson asked me to tell you that.”

“Is there anything else apart from this?”

Georgia wanted to know Robert’s intention behind but the assistant shook.

“Mr Simpson only ordered me to deliver this gift, but if you want to go home now, I can ask the driver to send you.”

“No, I want to go to the hospital,” Georgia said immediately.

“Let me send you to the hospital then, it’s on the way.”

They were already in the city center and so Georgia accepted.

She held onto the slightly heavy box and didn’t know what to do.

They arrived at the hospital, Georgia got down and greeted goodbye to the assistant. She then walked towards the garden in the hospital and sat down on a bench.

She opened the gift and found a brand new mobile phone.

She turned it on and saw an unread message.

The sender was Robert.

“Georgia, it's Robert, please give me a call after receiving the mobile, there is a mystery gift for you.”

She wanted to get herself a mobile phone but she arrived home late last night and was rushing to work in the morning.

She never thought that the gift from Robert was something she needed.

Should she call?

Georgia hesitated. But it was rude of her not to call thinking that Robert almost lost his life for her.

So, she took a deep breath and dialled Robert's number.

Robert answered after only a few seconds.

"I thought you might like a red coloured phone case, do you? If you don't like this phone, I can get you another one, there's a GPS location setting, if you went missing again in the future, I can locate you using this function."

"Thank you, I like the colour."

Georgia was nervous and didn't know how to respond to Robert's passion.

"I've prepared you a gift, it's on the mobile phone. It's a video and voice recording, you can look for it in the files.”

There was indeed a mystery gift, Georgia didn't know what to do or say apart from thank you.

Robert on the other side let out a sigh.

“Please don't reject me like this, if giving you a present burden you, I will be really sad.”

Georgia felt guilty out of a sudden.

“It's not like that, I just... don't know what to say.”

This man had done so much for her, Georgia felt like she shouldn't be cold.

But she couldn't behave like his girlfriend and utter out sweet words either.

She had decided to cut all ties with this man, but it seemed like it was beyond her control.

“Alright, take a look at the video then, doctor is here for me.”

Robert said and hung up.

Georgia immediately recalled that Robert’s injuries had not recovered, he might become disabled for a short while with a few operations on the way.

She felt bitter and sad, she realized she had been cold and mean to Robert.

She wouldn’t have cared about what this man think previously, but she began to care and fear that her action or words might hurt this man.

Georgia felt herself being weird, she shook her head and forced herself not to think about Robert anymore.

After that, she opened the file document on the mobile.

There was only one video file since it was a brand new phone.

She pressed play and Percy Chow appeared in the video.

Daddy, Mommy had been in Prison

Chapter 140 Treat Me Better

There was a stranger sitting in front of Percy. The camera was a little far away from Percy, but it was still clear that it was him. The two seemed to be talking in a room in a restaurant.

"Dr. Chow, are you sure you want to buy the media to publish things against Georgia?"

The strange man in the video asked Percy, and Percy nodded lightly.

"A week before my lecture, you should start to spread content on the Internet. Be sure to expose Georgia's plagiarism history, her affairs of seducing men outside and her unscrupulous private life. You can also make up some rumors about Georgia. Let everyone think that this woman is a bitch, the kind of image that makes people want to step on her."

The strange man nodded at Percy.

"To achieve this, it needs at least tens of millions for marketing, Dr. Chow, you must at least pay me the deposit first."

"If you give me your account, I will transfer 10 million first, and after that, I will give you the remaining 20 million."

The two reached an agreement and the video stopped playing.

Georgia's heart was suddenly moved. It turned out that Robert still remembered this incident and was helping her to check Percy's affairs secretly.

Certainly this kind of thing couldn't be done overnight. Had he long ago thought of helping her to clear the grievances of the plagiarism?

Why was this man so considerate of her...

"It's so stupid..."

Georgia whispered, her eyes reddened instantly.

The baby in her belly seemed to kick her abdomen lightly, Georgia touched her belly with her hand, and started talking to herself.

"Baby, do you think mom is doing the right thing to your dad? Do you want a dad?"

Of course the child would not give her an answer. Georgia found another recording in the files, and played the recording.

"Percy, are you not afraid of the false data being discovered at this point? Anyway, you have become famous. Even if there is no new progress in the future, you are still a professor. You are now taking the risk."

It was the voice of a strange woman, and then Percy's voice was heard.

"If I don't falsify the data, the day I give the lecture, Professor Lee will definitely bring Georgia. This woman comes prepared. If I really stand still, everyone will laugh at me. You know, Georgia did the data back then, and you also participated in it. And now you want to separate yourself from this?"

The woman's voice was accusing.

"Okay, I see, don't worry, I will help you with this."

The recording ended, and Georgia's tears fell all at once.

Except for her family, Georgia cared most about her studies, she was charged with plagiarism, was kicked out of school, and even failed to graduate.

All her ideals and ambitions were turned to ashes.

Even if she worked at MU now, Georgia didn't dare to expect too much. She could only draw a dream for herself, hoping that she could achieve results, then prove to the world that Percy wronged her back then.

Georgia never expected that one day, she would find evidence that Percy had plagiarized her results, and all of this was with Robert's help.

He had done so much for her secretly, Georgia immediately picked up the phone and called Robert.

No one answered the phone, and she tried a few more times, but still no one answered.

Georgia tried to send a text message.

"I saw the video and the recording, Robert, thank you, thank you so much..."

The text message was answered soon.

"I can't answer the phone since I have something to do now, Georgia. If you really want to thank me, you should treat me better in the future. I just hope you can treat me better."

Georgia suddenly felt a choking in her throat.

Five years ago, she was expelled from school because of plagiarism. She became a person that everyone shouted and despised at.

Later, her father threw her on that pervert Chester's bed, trying to sell her.

Although she escaped, but what was waiting for her was going to jail.

Being bullied by people in prison, her child was born sick. Over the past five years, Georgia had been living a very hard life.

She had long been accustomed to coming through everything alone. She had cried many times and gotten up many times. Every time, she could only rely on herself.

There were all kinds of people, occasionally someone would help her, but only Robert's help to her was what she desired most in the bottom of her heart.

As if there was a strong hand behind her, supporting her, she no longer had any fears and worries.

It seemed that no matter what she did, this person would always protect her. How could this man be so good to her? How could he be so good to her?

Georgia felt that her determined heart was beginning to break a little. She was so eager to be embraced, and eager for someone to rely on.

Robert did all these things one by one.

Georgia didn't dare to think about it anymore. She and Robert were not right for each other. She couldn't let the gratitude in her heart continue...

The Simpson family was a complicated family, she couldn't go, she still had two children to protect.

Georgia thought so, and quickly wiped away the tears.

"Don't think about Robert anymore, don't think about him anymore..."

As she kept persuading herself, Georgia walked to the hospital, she decided to go to Travis' ward.

However, before arriving at the door of Travis' ward, Georgia received a strange call.

After answering the call, Georgia asked politely.

"Who are you looking for?"

"Hello, are you Georgia Lane? I'm a nurse at the Capital hospital. I want to ask about your gynecology checkup."

Georgia was dumbfounded for a moment, then she remembered.

Since the last time she did a checkup for her pregnancy, she never went to the gynecology department for a birth check.

Pregnant women needed to undergo a check every month. Georgia knew about this, and she replied to the nurse on the phone.

"I haven't had a birth check yet."

"Miss Lane, I suggest you set up a file in the hospital as soon as possible, and then take some time to come to the hospital for an examination, it will be good for you and your baby."

"I see, I will come over this weekend."

Georgia made the decision, since she was not going to work on weekends, she would come back for the check up.

She was even forgetting such an important thing, Georgia wanted to beat her own head.

After arriving outside Travis' ward, the two guards opened the ward.

Georgia walked in, Travis looked good, his wounds were crusted, and he was sitting on the bed reading a book.

After Georgia walked over, Travis raised his head to look at Georgia, and he instantly smiled happily.

"Georgia... Georgia, why did you come to see me after so long this time?"

Georgia noticed that the book Travis was reading was a comic.

"Because something happened, I didn't come to see you these days, Travis, how are you feeling? Are there any discomforts?"

Travis shook his head happily, he felt excited as long as he saw Georgia.

"Georgia, I'm fine, the wound doesn't seem to hurt anymore...
But when can I leave here?"

Travis asked sadly.

"Soon, when the wound is healed then you will be discharged from the hospital."

Georgia felt frustrated when she thought that the murder charges on Travis had not been cleared.

Even if Robert had promised her to put Travis in a better mental hospital, it was not enough.

She and Travis didn't kill anyone at all, so why should they bear these punishments?

However, in front of Travis, Georgia kept smiling, so that Travis could not see her sorrow.

"Who gave you this comic book?"

Georgia asked with a smile.

"The people outside gave it to me."

Travis pointed his finger at the door.

Probably the two guards, Georgia nodded.

She talked to Travis for a while, and Georgia planned to say goodbye to Travis.

"Travis, I'm a bit busy lately. I need to go home to deal with some things, you just stay here and listen to the doctor, okay?"

Travis nodded, he was a little reluctant.

Seemingly thinking of something, Travis asked Georgia again.

"Georgia, I feel like I am slowly recovering my memory recently, but I always feel that there is a painful memory in my mind. Whenever I think towards this direction, I feel a headache and I don't want to remember the memories of the past."

Georgia found out that when Travis saw her this time, his speaking was much better than last time.

He turned out to be regaining his memory, and Georgia quickly comforted him.

"Don't worry about this kind of thing. The memory is in your head. When the time comes, you will naturally remember. You must not force yourself. However, it is always a good thing to remember, and you should not suppress your past memories, just go with the flow."

Georgia finished talking with Travis, and she was about to leave.

The door of the ward was opened, and Georgia thought it was the guard outside who urged her to leave.

However, the person who came in turned out to be a nurse wearing a mask.

"Mr. Armstrong, it's time for your medicine."

The nurse pushed the kind of special trolley from the hospital with many tools on it. Georgia saw the small medicine bottle and the syringe.

Did Travis still need an injection now?

Georgia thought suspiciously, when the nurse started to speak to Georgia.

"It's time for the patient to take his medicine and injection, Madam, can you leave now?"

Georgia said goodbye to Travis, and she walked outside.

Just before reaching the door, Georgia heard Travis yelling.

"Don't come close to me, get out of here!" _____

Travis nodded, he was a little reluctant.

Seemingly thinking of something, Travis asked Georgia again.

"Georgia, I feel like I am slowly recovering my memory recently, but I always feel that there is a painful memory in my mind. Whenever I think towards this direction, I feel a headache and I don't want to remember the memories of the past."

Georgia found out that when Travis saw her this time, his speaking was much better than last time.

He turned out to be regaining his memory, and Georgia quickly comforted him.

"Don't worry about this kind of thing. The memory is in your head. When the time comes, you will naturally remember. You must not force yourself. However, it is always a good thing to remember, and you should not suppress your past memories, just go with the flow."

Georgia finished talking with Travis, and she was about to leave.

The door of the ward was opened, and Georgia thought it was the guard outside who urged her to leave.

However, the person who came in turned out to be a nurse wearing a mask.

"Mr. Armstrong, it's time for your medicine."

The nurse pushed the kind of special trolley from the hospital with many tools on it. Georgia saw the small medicine bottle and the syringe.

Did Travis still need an injection now?

Georgia thought suspiciously, when the nurse started to speak to Georgia.

"It's time for the patient to take his medicine and injection, Madam, can you leave now?"

Georgia said goodbye to Travis, and she walked outside.

Just before reaching the door, Georgia heard Travis yelling.

"Don't come close to me, get out of here!" _____

Georgia quickly turned her head, she found that the nurse was holding a needle and was about to give Travis an injection.

Travis was already yelling and making noise.

"Mr. Armstrong, your body is not completely healed yet. This is an anti-inflammatory medicine. It won't hurt. Please believe me."

The nurse gently consoled, but Travis just screamed in horror.

"I hate you, I don't want you to give me injections, get out now!"

Georgia persuaded him on the side.

"Travis, it's just an injection, it will be very quick, I am by your side, don't be afraid..."

But Georgia's comforting words didn't work this time, and Travis complained to Georgia.

"Georgia, this woman hates me, I can see that she is going to hurt me!"

Georgia had never seen Travis look so impulsive and irritable.

She asked suspiciously the nurse with the mask.

"Miss, have you given Travis a shot before?"

Otherwise, why would Travis dislike this nurse so much? It was not Travis's character.

Even if he was stupid, Travis rarely made such a big noise.

"Madam, I'm just the nurse on duty today. Should I ask another nurse?"

Georgia nodded.

Since Travis didn't like the nurse, maybe another nurse would be better.

After the nurse left, Travis spoke to Georgia in a panic.

"Georgia, I don't want that shot. It smells so strange. I hate it."

Wasn't it the smell of medicine in all hospitals? Georgia couldn't smell anything special, she was puzzled.

"Why do you hate this smell? Travis, I don't smell any special scent. Can't we just change a nurse?"

Travis nodded aggrieved.

"I seem to have smelled this before, and it seems that it was when someone forced injections into my body. I don't like that feeling. Georgia, I don't want injections. I don't like this smell..."

Georgia's face changed drastically in an instant, she walked outside, then asked the two guards.

"Since entering the hospital, does the nurse come over for injections every day?"

One of the guards shook his head.

"Only these few days, they said that the test result is not very good, and the anti inflammatory meds should continue."

Georgia still didn't know why Travis had a car accident and why he had been wandering for ten years.

Suddenly there was a feeling of anxiety in her heart, Georgia suddenly went back, and she took the medicine from the cart that the nurse had pushed.

Then, she immediately asked the two guards.

"I suspect that the nurse is a problem, can I transfer Travis? I'm afraid he will be in danger here."

Georgia always felt that Travis had special instincts, maybe he really felt it was dangerous.

Even if Travis misunderstood, Georgia decided to take Travis to another hospital.

"We can't decide this matter, Miss Lane."

The guards refused, so Georgia tried to call Selena.

After Selena listened, she smiled apologetically.

"Miss Lane, I may not be able to help you with this."

It seemed that Selena had no choice, so Georgia called Robert.

She told about Travis' situation and her own guesses.

"Robert, I think something is wrong. What happened to Travis still hasn't been found out yet. I want to take Travis to another hospital. Can you help me please."

Robert comforted Georgia.

"Since you feel suspicious, hand over the medicine bottle you got to my assistant, I will ask my assistant to go to a institution for testing. I will arrange the transfer immediately. Don't worry, I will call the director of the hospital now. "

After Robert arranged everything for Georgia, he called his secretary again.

"Didn't I tell you to investigate Travis' past?"

The secretary nodded on the phone.

"Mr. Simpson, haven't I already shown the investigation report to you at that time? Is something wrong with that report?"

"That's not what I mean. I mainly asked you to check the contact between Travis and Georgia. Now you need to change the direction. He has been wandering around for ten years. Check carefully what happened to him in the past ten years. What is the reason for this? What happened that he turned dumb."

Georgia didn't know that Robert was already helping her to check Travis's past.

After she hung up Robert's call, her heart felt very complicated.

She seemed to rely more and more on Robert.

After these accidents, she seemed to habitually ask this man for help, and he would reassure her every time and help her solve all the problems. Was she really inseparable from him?

The nurse had not yet arrived, but the director of the hospital had already arrived at Georgia's.

"Miss Lane, I have arranged a professional to transfer Mr. Armstrong to another hospital. The hospital to be transferred is the best hospital nearby. The affiliate hospital of Imperial University, do you think it is okay?"

Georgia had no objection. The director respected her very much. Georgia understood that this was all brought about by Robert's status.

Georgia took Travis to the affiliate hospital of Imperial University. Robert had already told her that the people there were all his staff. He would ask someone to take care of Travis and check his physical condition.

Before leaving the hospital, Robert's assistant came to Georgia again.

Georgia handed the medicine bottle she got in the hospital to Robert's assistant.

"Sorry for bothering you today."

Robert's assistant chuckled.

"Miss Lane, I haven't been bothered at all. If you are satisfied with my job today, Mr. Simpson might give me a lot of boni. To help you is a good opportunity to get boni."

Robert's assistant teased her, Georgia's first reaction was not to resist, she actually felt very shy, and her face blushed.

After parting with Robert's assistant, Georgia took the initiative to call Vanessa.

"Vanessa, this is my current mobile phone number. Save it, I may come back later. You and Annie should have dinner first, don't wait for me."

Vanessa nodded.

"Don't worry, I won't let Annie be hungry, but Annie said, she wants to talk to you."

Immediately, Annie's voice came from the other end of the line.

"Mommy, why haven't you come back yet? I've been waiting for you for a long time... Vanessa has already cut the vegetables, and I'm waiting for you to come back and cook."

Georgia laughed.

"I may need a while, you can eat first, let Vanessa cook, don't wait for me, you can't leave your stomach hungry."

Annie nodded, and she threw a little tantrum.

"Mommy, I really want to eat kl cake, can you bring me a mousse cake? I really want to eat it."

How could Georgia refuse her daughter's request? She agreed with a smile on her face.

"No problem. I will buy you a mousse cake from kl. By the way, what else do you want to eat? Tell me, do you want to eat some fruits? Or snacks?"

Georgia asked fondly, but Annie shook her head.

"No, I just want to eat that mousse cake today, Mommy, you must buy it."
