46 Is it the end ?

The whole room was on fire . Anthony left right away . It became hard for them to even breathe due to smoke . Fortunately they didn't put kerosene on them . May and Terrence came there and took them out of there . Zaira's feet and one hand were burnt but Junnaid was in critical condition and admitted in hospital . They were sitting outside the operation theatre . Zaira was extremely worried and started crying . May tried to calm her . She didn't even get her wounds treated . They tried to convince her but she refused . Doctor came and told them that he was out of danger . They all were relieved . Zaira sat beside him the whole night . He woke up after some time and found her sleeping holding his hand . He woke her up . She was happy and hugged him .

" Stupid girl why are you crying ?" he said wiping her tears .

" I was worried for you ." she said sobbing . He saw that her hand was burnt .

" Why didn't you get it treated ? " He said in anger .

" I was worried about you and I totally forgot about it ."

" How can you forget that your hand is burnt ?"

" Not only hand but her feet are also burnt ." May said coming inside his room . He was shocked and looked at her angrily . She tried to avoid him . The doctor came and told him that he was recovered and can be discharged . Junnaid got out of bed and carried Zaira in his arms .

" Junnaid let me down ."

" Can't you take care of yourself properly ." He was really angry .

" Earlier also I used to get hurt but nobody was there to help me in fact they all intentionally hurt me ." she had tears in her eyes . He made her sit on a nearby chair . He wiped her tears .

" Zaru you won't face all that again I won't let you ."

" Ok Jay ." She said with a smile .

He hugged her .

" You know I was dying to hear this name from you ."

" Then why didn't you tell me earlier about it ."

" I was afraid that you'll hate me ."
