8 The wedding day

The wedding day arrived, I was freaking nervous . We reached the venue and I got ready . A stylist was waiting for me . She helped me get ready , i couldn't believe it was me . It was the first time I wore make-up. My dad took me to the hall in the way he told me that I was looking like mom . It filled my eyes with tears because he talked to me after a long. The groom was standing in front . I was nervous. Dad walked me to him . The ceremony took place . We both agreed to the marriage ,exchanged rings and now he was going to kiss me I wanted to run away. I stepped a little back and my heel broke . What a bad luck I had, I was going to fell down but he held my hand and pushed me up, it happened to a kiss . It was unbelievable but his eyes seemed familiar . We were declared husband wife ,we waved at people . He whispered to me , " Dear ,it isn't the first time I kissed you. " What did he meant i haven't even seen him before. But his voice was familiar just like the guy who kissed me in cafe . Was he that person? That was my first kiss that means he's actually the guy from cafe . I am screwed . God! please help me .
