

Demoted To An Omega by Honeybee

Chapter 12

XANDER POV

My phone suddenly started vibrating with different notifications buzzing in and it was disturbing to my hearing as I need to finish this paperwork as soon as possible.

Well, did it stop? No, it did not.

I stopped what I was doing and picked the phone.

" Oh, what the F is it? " I said frustrated as I unlocked it.

" Who is this? " I asked narrowing my eyes for a clear image of the picture. Wait.....

I got the greatest shock of my life... My mate... Wait..... No... Eunice with another male on a bed cuddled up together..... She... She... Definitely can't do this to me... No. I refuse to believe that Eunice could cheat on me... No... Impossible... Never!

I stood up immediately, the person who sent this was anonymous or else... Luckily the person also sent the address of the place.

In annoyance, I threw my phone away making it smash on the wall and I left it broken and rushed out.

On my way, I tried calling the anonymous number but it kept cutting off. As I traced the address, I got to a place I never thought I would see Eunice alone An hotel.

I came out of the car and barged into the hotel.

" How may I help you, mister? " I heard the female receptionist say a bit I did not listen to her as I had roughly remembered that there were some 3 digits.

144... Or 114. Why can't I remember?

I will just have to open those two doors first.

Going into the elevator, then the number clicked ... 141. Yes.. 141.

I pressed on the fourth floor and soon the elevator stopped and I slid out and walked hastily to the room.

As I got there, I broke down the door and went inside to meet only Eunice lying on the bed in just her underwear.

“Eunice!!!!!!!!!!” I – not only me but my wolf Killian also growled, angry at the fact that our mate was in her underwear in a hotel on the bed with someone else but wait... Where is the guy?

NICOLE POV

After I was done with Ciara, actually I used her for training, I'd asked the guards to bring them to me this morning for training, lol, training, I just wanted to beat her, well you don't expect me to be training.

I picked up my phone only to see different pictures, I don't watch movies that much, and I did not request these pictures so what are these?

Out of curiosity, I clicked on it to see my best friend with a guy on the bed.

“How dare she do this to my brother?” I shouted throwing my phone to God knows where and gripping my hair tightly that it hurts.

Eunice was never a w* or a s, even though she had several boyfriends at college, she does not mean she opens her legs for them.

But how could she do something as outrageous as this? Despite the love, my brother showered on her.

Why are people so ungrateful?

She will surely regret this, I swear on my parents' grave.

" go check on your brother," Lora suggested.

"Okay," I replied.

As I was about to open the door, I heard a knock on it, I opened it to reveal Kira.

Gosh, what is she doing here? Not now, please.

"Hi." She said.

"Hey," I grunted out trying to force a smile that refused to form.

"Going somewhere?" She asked.

"Yeah." She replied.

"Can I accompany you? Please!!! " She asked, pouting.

I opened my eyes and sat up instantly. I saw Xander standing at the doorstep with his eyes flicking between black and gold, meaning he is fighting his wolf for control mad Killian is not backing down either.

I looked down on my body to see I was cla in just my bra and p... My head was still aching but what is on the ground did not let me think.

Wait... But where are my clothes?

I search around to see them stered on the floor.

Wait, that creepy stranger did this to me
