

Divorce 1391

Chapter 1391 "when you fail to steal a chicken, you eat rice 2. "

Little did he know that Lei Zhensheng was so ashamed that he wanted to bang his head against the wall. Lan Ruoshui was Lan Yunxi's daughter. He and Lan Yunxi once had a year together. At that time, they were young. Which Day did they not have sex once or twice?

He had experienced Lan Yunxi, and now he actually experienced Lan Yunxi's daughter, Lan Ruoshui. How could he bear this Even a beast would not do such a thing to both mother and daughter at the same time By doing this, didn't Lan Ruoshui want to compare him to a beast?

Lan Ruoshui would never have dreamed that she would end up like this. In fact, she would just stay in the Lei family obediently. Lei Zhensheng would still think about the love he had with Lan Yunxi and how she treated him well Thinking about the father-daughter relationship that had risen over the past six months, no matter what, it would still allow her to have food and shelter in the Lei family.

However, Lan Ruoshui's smart-aleck method not only did not allow her to successfully ascend to the position of the Lei family's first young Madam, but also completely destroyed the last bit of her right to live in the Lei family.

"If you are shameless, then I am shameless!" Lei Zhensheng clenched his fists so hard that they made cracking sounds. He could not help but walk up to Lan Ruoshui who was sitting in his room He lifted his leg and fiercely kicked the door. "Hurry up and go back to your room to pack your things and get lost. I will give you an hour to leave. Otherwise, don't blame me for getting someone to throw you out. Shameless woman, you are embarrassing your mother by looking like this."

This time, Lan Ruoshui did not want to leave. She could only return to her room and quickly pack her luggage. In fact, she had quite a lot of things After all, Lei Zhensheng used to think that she was his biological daughter and bought her a lot of things.

Lan Ruoshui thought that even if she was chased away, only she and Lei Zhensheng would know. At worst, she would say that she was not Lei Zhensheng's daughter and that she was embarrassed to stay in the Lei family, so she moved out.

However, she did not expect to see Che ruyu and Lei Zhenyu coming back just as she was carrying her luggage down the stairs. At this time, Lei Zhensheng was chasing her away. She was really unlucky.

"Why are you still standing there?" Lei Zhensheng saw that ru Yu and Lei Zhenyu had already gone upstairs and could not help but snort coldly, "Lan Ruoshui, are you waiting for me to call security to throw you out?"

When Lan Ruoshui heard this, she immediately went to carry her luggage. However, she had too many things and could not carry them by herself. Lei Zhensheng thought that she was extremely disgusted and wanted to chase her away quickly, so he called for the Butler.

“Achang, get two people to move Miss Lan’s things out. Also, throw away all the things that she used in her room,” Lei Zhensheng instructed irritably, “those things are so dirty and smelly. It’s disgusting to look at.”

Achang didn’t know what had happened because before this, Lei Zhensheng had always been very protective of Lan Ruoshui. Even though he knew that Lan Ruoshui wasn’t his daughter, he didn’t say that he wouldn’t let her stay here.

But today, things had suddenly turned out like this. Achang couldn’t figure out Lei Zhensheng’s thoughts either. However, he was just a Butler after all, so it wasn’t appropriate for him to ask about Lei Zhensheng’s private matters. He quickly called two security guards to help Lan Ruoshui move and throw things.

Lei Zhensheng saw that Lan Ruoshui had finally walked out of the hall. He calmed down a little and was about to turn around and go upstairs. He heard Lei Taihe’s voice from behind him, “I told you before that Shaofen is better. You didn’t believe me, but now you finally understand. Even your first love isn’t one-tenth of Shaofen’s. If your first love was a good woman, her daughter wouldn’t be such a thing.”

Chapter 1392: The arrival of a snowstorm

Lan Ruoshui moved out of the Lei family, and the Lei family became more and more quiet. It was just that Lei Zhensheng rarely came home. Lei Zhenyu was busy with the Lei family’s affairs, and he often came home late in the past two weeks. It was probably because he was working overtime or attending social events.

As for his late return, in fact, even if he didn’t mention it, Ru Yu knew. After Lei Zhensheng’s divorce, his vitality was greatly damaged. Then, for some reason, his relationship with Lan Ruoshui soured, so he hadn’t seen her for the past few days.

It was almost time for the Lunar New Year holiday. Ru Yu carefully mentioned to Lei Zhenyu about bringing him back to Binhai for the Lunar New Year. She said that no matter what, an ugly son-in-law had to meet his in-law’s parents, right?

Lei Zhenyu was originally angry at Ru Yu for lying to him. However, after Jin Zhengnan had cancer surgery, their relationship gradually improved.

Most importantly, he realized that he hadn’t improved at all. If Ru Yu treated him a little better, he would immediately throw away his armor and lose all his fighting strength.

Therefore, under Ru Yu’s sincere tone, he finally nodded and said that he was willing to go back to Binhai to celebrate the New Year with her. It could be considered as going to visit his in-laws.

Because it was the Spring Festival on February 11th, it followed the principle of having a week’s holiday ahead of time. February 5th was the last day of work, and the 6th was the start of the annual holiday.

The traditions of Korea and China had always been the same. Dragon Boat Festival, mid-autumn Festival, Spring Festival, these traditional festivals were all the same grand, so the major enterprises also paid attention to the annual holiday.

In fact, ru Yu's studio did not need to take such an early holiday, because the business of her studio would be better when other people were on holiday. After all, many people would come to buy paintings or something.

In the past, she had to wait until the 29th of the twelfth lunar month before she closed for the holiday. This year, because she was going to take Lei Zhenyu back to Binhai, she decided to leave early. She would leave the work of the studio to the Ginseng and Jingying to help take care of it.

Before the holiday, she called Lin Yuxin again, but that guy's phone was still not connected. She could not help but wonder, what happened to Lin Yuxin Why did her phone always turn off Could it be that when she called, she coincidentally met Lin Yuxin in the operating theater?

She could not contact Lin Yuxin, but Cai Shaofen often called her, saying that it was good for her to work in a new company and that her colleagues treated her well. Moreover, there was a faint hint of a new relationship in her words.

Of course, Cai Shaofen also asked ru Yu on the phone if she wanted to go to Ji Zhou Island for the Spring Festival. She said that if she wanted to go to Ji Zhou Island, she could go to her mother's house. Her mother's house was big, and she could provide a small villa for her and Lei Zhenyu.

Of course, she declined. She said that she would go to China for the Spring Festival, so she wouldn't go to Ji Zhou Island. She would go with her when she was free in autumn. Ji Zhou Island still had a lot of fruits in the summer.

She couldn't contact Lin Yuxin, so she couldn't do anything. On January 19th, she tidied up the studio. She locked up the things that should be locked up and sealed up. She would only do it after the Spring Festival.

Ru Yu originally wanted to get off work early in the afternoon because she had to go to her daddy's Che Qixuan's house. Every year during the Spring Festival, Che Qixuan would go back to Binhai's one inch ink city with her.

Of course, they hadn't gone back together for the past two or three years because after she married Jin Zhengnan, she wouldn't go back to Binhai if Jin Zhengnan spent the Spring Festival in Seoul.

However, the weather wasn't perfect. At three o'clock in the afternoon, a snowstorm actually happened in Seoul. At that time, she had just tidied up her office and hadn't gone out yet.

Chapter 1393 the arrival of a snowstorm 1

The snowstorm came very suddenly, almost without any warning. Xun Jingying said that this was a snowstorm that was hard to come by in fifty years. Some dilapidated houses in the suburbs had collapsed, and communications had also broken down. Many of the phones could not be connected.

Indeed, it could not be connected. Ru Yu had called Lei Zhenyu's cell phone almost immediately after she knew about the snowstorm, but she could not get through. She was anxious and used the landline to call Lei Zhenyu's office. The secretary on the other side picked up and said that Lei Zhenyu had gone out at noon Today was the groundbreaking ceremony of the land that had just received the approval. He was the president of the Lei family, so he could not miss it, so he could not miss it and rushed over.

Ru Yu knew that the land was in the north, and the snowstorm was coming from the north. She could not help but feel anxious, so she continued to call Lei Zhenyu's cell phone, but she could not get through. After two hours of calling, it was still turned off.

Lei Zhenyu's cell phone was turned off This made ru yu anxious, but the more anxious she was, the more she kept calling Lei Zhenyu's cell phone. However, it had been turned off ever since.

There were all kinds of news reports on the television. They said that Seoul had experienced a snowstorm that was hard to come by in fifty years. This time, the snowstorm ravaged the entire South Korea and caused heavy losses. Many houses collapsed in the north today There was even a seven-story building that had been built a few years ago that had collapsed. This was indeed a shoddy project.

Ru Yu was not in the mood to care about shoddy projects. The only thing she was afraid of was the number of people who kept disappearing. There was also news about Lei Zhenyu. Why didn't he call her?

Looking at the increasing number of missing people, and hearing that the losses in the north were very serious, and that there were many cars that could not move on the road, ru Yu felt a fear and panic that she had never felt before.

Just as Ru Yu was the most anxious, news came again from the television. It was reported that the Lei Corporation was holding a foundation laying ceremony in the north. However, the foundation laying ceremony had just started for less than half an hour when the snowstorm suddenly intensified The temporary stage and the hall made of glass-like Steel collapsed at the same time. The number of people who participated in the foundation laying ceremony was 182. Now, the statistics showed that there were 128 people alive. Whether there were people who were confirmed dead or not, the rest might still be under pressure... ..

Ru Yu's head immediately rumbled. Her entire body seemed to be deprived of oxygen. This was because she shockingly discovered that Lei Zhenyu was not on the list of living people, and Lei Zhenyu was not on the list of dead people. So, now, he... ..

She could not care less about the raging snowstorm and ran downstairs desperately. She urged elite to stop her, but it was too late. Ru Yu ran too fast and directly ran out of the building.

The snowstorm on the road was very big. In fact, it was not appropriate to drive out, but she was very flustered. If she did not go to the north to take a look, she would not be at ease. She had to go find Lei Zhenyu personally.

The snowstorm was very big. Even if the heater was not turned on in the car, one could feel the raging snowstorm. As soon as the car started, the host on the radio reminded everyone to try their best not to go out. He also said that even if they were driving on the road.. They had to find a safe building nearby as soon as possible to park and hide, because the snowstorm would probably continue to wreak havoc for some time.

Ru Yu could not care less about this. She still gritted her teeth and drove out. As soon as she drove the building, she felt that it was very difficult to drive because the wind was strong and the snow was heavy. There was a vast expanse of whiteness in front, and the entire window was covered with snowflakes. The wiper did not seem to be of much use.

Chapter 1394: The arrival of the Blizzard 2

Just as she was struggling to drive on the road, her cell phone rang. She immediately stopped the car and excitedly took out her cell phone. Without even looking at the number, she pressed the answer button. Then, she quickly shouted, "Zhenyu, is that you? Are you safe now?"

"Ru Yu, this is Zhengnan." Jin Zhengnan's voice came from the cell phone. Then, he asked with concern, "I just watched the television saying that the building near Yunheng building is tilted. Is Yunheng building okay?"

"Oh, it's Zhengnan?" Ru Yu turned back to look. She actually wanted to see the situation of the Yun Heng building at this time, but unfortunately, the windows were full of snow and nothing could be seen clearly.

"The Yun Heng building should be fine," ru Yu guessed and answered. Then, she added, "I'm no longer in the Yun Heng Building. I'm driving on the road, but the Yun Heng Building was fine when I came out. It's so tall, so it should be fine."

"What? You're driving on the road?" Jin Zhengnan's voice was obviously raised by a few decibels. Then, he could not help but shout again, "Ru Yu, why don't you just stay in Yunheng building in this snowstorm? Don't you know that it's very dangerous to drive in this weather?"

"I..." Ru Yu felt a little uncomfortable after being questioned by Jin Zhengnan. Then, she quickly explained, "Zhengnan, the north side where Zhenyu is located collapsed miserably, and the construction site where they held the foundation laying ceremony was completely collapsed. Zhenyu is not in the living classics..."

Ru Yu could not help but cry when she said this. She really could not imagine Lei Zhenyu being pressed under the steel frame, especially in the snowstorm weather. There was no rescue at this time because the rescue car could not drive over.

"Ru Yu... don't panic, and don't cry." Jin Zhengnan panicked when he heard ru Yu's cry. He could not help but ask loudly, "ru Yu, where are you? Ah, where are you? Hurry up and tell me!"

"I'm..." Ru Yu used the windshield wiper to scrape open the windshield in front of her to barely identify the surrounding environment. Then, she said, "I'm at the intersection of XXXXX road and XXXX road, about 500 meters east of the XXXX building..."

"Oh, then don't drive anymore. In this kind of weather, driving is slower than walking. Moreover, the road is full of snow. Even if your car is a mountain bike, the snow is very slippery. It's easy to overturn in a snowstorm. Quickly Park your car in the parking lot of XXXXX building, hurry... ". ..."

“Oh, I got it.” Ru Yu hurriedly said to Jin Zhengnan, “then that’s it. I’ll hang up first. I’ll park the car immediately.”

After hanging up the phone with Jin Zhengnan, ru Yu quickly drove to the nearby building slowly. Jin Zhengnan was right. It was not easy to drive in this kind of weather. She thought it was better to walk to find Lei Zhenyu.

Jin Zhengnan hung up on ru Yu. He was worried. Ru Yu had never experienced a snowstorm, but he had encountered one two years ago when he was on a business trip to the United States. The snowstorm in Boston was so severe that it was shocking.

In such weather, no one could go out. However, he knew ru Yu’s character. That girl probably had to walk to the north after parking the car, but he was worried about her walking alone.

Chapter 1395 the snowstorm is merciless

Ru Yu did park the car and get out. The snowstorm was very strong. She took the spare umbrella that she usually kept in the car and lifted the hat on her down jacket. She opened the umbrella and walked out in the snowstorm.

In fact, it rarely rained in Seoul, and umbrellas were not often used. However, ru Yu was not in Seoul all year round. Because she often drove to other places, she usually had emergency tools in the car.

The snowstorm was a little big, but it was actually a little difficult to walk with an umbrella. The most important thing was that the umbrella was almost unable to hold steady because the wind was too strong, and the umbrella frame could hardly block the wind.

She had a headache, but in the end, she gave up on the umbrella because she felt that holding an umbrella in her hand was undoubtedly pushing a truck forward. In such a difficult situation, pushing the truck forward was undoubtedly not worth it.

After throwing away the umbrella, the snowstorm quickly attacked her face. She quickly pulled up her scarf and covered her face. Her head was covered with a hat, so she only exposed her eyes outside.

Her cell phone rang. She quickly walked to a house by the roadside to answer the phone. It was her daddy, Che Qixuan. He asked her if she had any news about Lei Zhenyu. He said that he also found out about the Lei family’s foundation laying ceremony on television this afternoon. However, she did not see Lei Zhenyu’s name, so she was anxious.

Ru Yu said that she did not know yet. She was trying to contact him. Che Qixuan told Ru Yu to call him immediately if she had any news, so that he would not worry.

Ru Yu hung up on Che Qixuan and then went back on the road. The snowstorm was still very serious, but fortunately, she was wearing long boots and a down jacket. Her head and face were covered. She had just gotten out of the car and put on thick gloves.

She was fully armed, and it was not too cold to walk, so she did not seem to be afraid. However, the resistance of the snowstorm was very strong, and every step she took was very difficult. Sometimes, you took a few steps, but when you lost your balance, you were blown back two steps.

In such a difficult situation, she actually could not walk at all, so she had to stand under the eaves of a store. Just then, the thick quilt curtain was lifted a little bit, and an old aunt threw garbage out. When she saw her.. She was obviously shocked.

“Miss, come in quickly.” The Old Auntie stretched out her hand and pulled ru Yu in. “Oh my God, it’s such a big snowstorm. Why are you still standing outside the door? We won’t say anything if you come in to hide from the snowstorm.”

“thank you.” Ru Yu shook the snow on her hat and body. When she saw the old Auntie light the candle, she could not help but ask in puzzlement, “why do you need to light the candle? Just turn on the light.”

“The power has gone out.” The Old Auntie finally lit the candle. Then, she looked at ru Yu and shook her head. “I heard that the power facilities in the West and north have been overwhelmed, so the power has gone out in the West and north. As for whether there’s electricity in the city center, I don’t know...”

The old aunt nagged about some news on the radio. Because of the power outage, they couldn’t even watch TV. So, other than the news on the radio, there was no other way to get news from other places.

Ru Yu didn’t expect the power to go out so soon. When she left Yun Heng Building, the power hadn’t gone out yet. She quickly called Xun Jingying. Xun Jingying told her that everyone was still in the studio, so there was indeed a power outage. It stopped about ten minutes after she left They were all trapped in the building, but it was safe because even if there was electricity, no one could leave. She even asked if she had driven home yet.

Chapter 1396. The blizzard is merciless

Ru Yu was afraid that her daddy would be worried, so she quickly said that she didn’t have any. She was still in the studio, waiting for the Blizzard to stop. Only after the snow on the road had been cleared did she go back. She told her daddy not to go out at home.

After hanging up her daddy’s call, she looked out of the window. It was actually getting late, but because of the blizzard outside the window, the whole world still looked like a vast white world.

She didn’t know how much time had passed, but the old Auntie’s store had already burned out two candles. The blizzard outside seemed to have also stopped, because ru Yu felt that the sound of the wind wasn’t that loud anymore.

Thus, ru Yu used her hands to lift up the thick quilt curtains. She stuck her head out and saw that the snowstorm had really stopped. However, there was a thick layer of snow on the ground that could almost submerge a person. It was impossible to drive on this kind of ground.

However, she could walk, but it was more difficult. Her long boots were already above her knees, so she wanted to move forward The old aunt pulled her. “Miss, you can’t walk like this. What if you accidentally fall into the snow? So what if you have a rescue call when you fall? The ambulance can’t drive over, so aren’t you just waiting for death in the snow?”

Ru Yu became more and more anxious when she heard this. If the thick snow stopped her from moving forward, what would happen to Lei Zhenyu if he was pressed to the north?

Thus, she insisted on leaving. The old Auntie could not persuade her, so she gave her a warm pot. She said that it was warm water. If she really could not walk anywhere, she would pour it out and drink some. At least it would warm her body.

Ru Yu thanked the old auntie and took the small warm pot. Although it was not big, it could only hold one or two cups of water. However, this was a very warm feeling. She took out a stack of money from her bag and gave it to the old Auntie to put down.

The old aunt did not want it, so she smiled and said, "I can't buy anything on the way here. If I fall on the way here, I might as well leave it here for you to use. "

She took the thermos flask on the road. The snow was too thick. The old aunt was afraid that she would be cold, so she gave her a thick cotton-padded jacket to put on. Although it was ugly, it kept her warm. When it was really cold, cotton was still very useful.

Ru Yu nodded and put on the cotton-padded jacket given by the old aunt. She had just walked out of the store when she saw a person in a thick coat walking toward her.

Although the man had put on the brim of his hat and covered his face, she recognized him with her eyes. He was Jin Zhengnan, and he actually came to find her.

Her eyes suddenly filled with warm liquid, and she couldn't help but walk toward him. Jin Zhengnan was overjoyed when he saw her. He shouted in surprise, "Ru Yu, I thought you were trapped in the car. I called you and your phone was turned off again. Why did you turn off your phone? "

"Turn off your phone?" Ru Yu was a little puzzled when she heard Jin Zhengnan say this. How could she turn off her phone? Thinking of this, she immediately took out her phone to take a look. Yes, her phone was indeed turned off.

"I guess the battery died after making too many calls," Ru Yu thought about it and said. Then, she looked at Jin Zhengnan and said nervously, "Zhengnan, why are you here? Aren't you supposed to be recuperating in the hospital? What are you doing here in this cold weather? "

"I'm a little worried about you," Jin Zhengnan said truthfully. "I watched the news at home and knew that there was a big snowstorm here, and you probably couldn't leave either. I called you as soon as the snowstorm stopped, but your phone was turned off. I was afraid that something would happen to you, so I came over to take a look... ". "... "

Chapter 1397: Merciless Snow Love 2

"I'm fine," Ru Yu quickly replied, and then said, "Zhengnan, hurry back. It should be easy to return to the south from here. The road leading to the south not far ahead should not have such thick snow. Let's walk to the Front... "

"The snow on the south road is much less, and there are snow shovels shoveling the snow now, but the progress is not fast," Jin Zhengnan said truthfully, "I just came from that road. Now, let's go back together. This road is only one kilometer from the fork in front. "

“I can’t go back with you,” ru Yu said quickly. “I want to go to the north. I want to find Lei Zhenyu. He is pressed under the iron frame in the north. I’m worried...”

When ru Yu said this, tears began to fall. She did not dare to think about what Lei Zhenyu would be like after being pressed for so long. She did not dare to think about what would happen if he really did not climb out. Could he withstand the blizzard for three to four hours under the iron frame and tempered glass?

“Ru Yu, it has been so long. Maybe Lei Zhenyu has already gone home? And your phone is switched off. Maybe he is also...” Jin Zhengnan looked at ru Yu and wept. His heart felt like it was being stabbed by a knife. He only knew that ru Yu married Lei Zhenyu in order to break up him and Lan Ruoshui. It was to anger him. He did not expect ru Yu to be so worried about Lei Zhenyu now.

What did this mean? Did it mean that she had fallen in love with Lei Zhenyu?

If that was really the case, wouldn’t that be a good thing? He should be relieved, right?

But why was his heart still so painful, so uncomfortable, so... ..

Ru Yu was reminded by Jin Zhengnan. Meng’s thought made sense. Maybe the snowstorm had subsided later, and Lei Zhenyu might have been pulled out by his colleagues. Now that the snowstorm had stopped, he could go home too?

With this thought, ru Yu was a little busy, so she quickly said to Jin Zhengnan, “well, lend me your phone. I’ll call him to see if he can connect now.”

Jin Zhengnan nodded and handed his phone to her without hesitation. Ru Yu quickly took it and immediately called Lei Zhenyu’s phone. She didn’t expect it to still be turned off.

She had a slight headache and thought that Lei Zhenyu might have gone home or not. Perhaps he would also pick up his colleagues’ phone and call his home. So she quickly called the Lei family. The Lei family had a landline. She wasn’t worried about turning off the phone.

The Lei family’s landline could indeed be connected, but the phone rang for a few seconds before it was picked up. Moreover, it was the voice of a slightly familiar woman. “Hello? May I know who you’re looking for...”

Ru Yu hung up the phone almost instantly because the woman’s voice was very familiar. It was actually Lan Ruoshui. She was clearly calling the Lei family, so how could it be Lan Ruoshui who was picking up the phone?

She thought that she had dialed the wrong number in a hurry just now, so she might not have dialed the group of numbers that she had entered. Instead, she accidentally entered Jin Zhengnan’s phone book and then dialed Lan Ruoshui’s number.

After all, Jin Zhengnan and Lan Ruoshui were very close. It was not unusual for him to have Lan Ruoshui’s number in his phone, and it was normal for him to not believe that he had dialed Lan Ruoshui’s number.

However, she quickly dialed the number she had just dialed, and her eyes widened. Alright, she did not dial the wrong number. It was indeed the Lei family’s landline. As for why it was Lan Ruoshui who picked it up, it was probably because Lei Zhensheng had forgiven her. Hence, she asked Lan Ruoshui to go back to the Lei family.

Chapter 1398 the merciless snowstorm is even more merciless

Lan Ruoshui did indeed return to the Lei family. However, it was not Lei Zhensheng who forgave her to go back. Instead, it was when she was packing her luggage at noon today that she suddenly realized that she did not get a few precious items.

Those were all jewelry. Lei Zhensheng had bought them for her when she first recognized Lei Zhensheng. Every single piece of jewelry was worth several thousand dollars. To her, this was not a small sum.

Therefore, she carefully called the Lei family's housekeeper, Achang, and said that she wanted to come back and get some things that she had forgotten here. Achang said that he did not dare to make the decision and wanted to call Lei Zhensheng for instructions.

Of course, Lei Zhensheng agreed to Lan Ruoshui coming back and taking away all of her things. He even told Achang on the phone that it was best for her to tear off all the wallpaper in her room so that she wouldn't feel disgusted after seeing it!

Thus, Lan Ruoshui was able to go back to the Lei family to move the things. She only came after having lunch because she knew that she was asking for trouble before lunch. Lei Taihe probably wouldn't let her eat at the Lei family's house.

That day, Lei Zhensheng had people throw away the things in Lan Ruoshui's room. At that time, they only threw away the big items, like the wardrobe, bed, and dressing table. As for the small items, Achang didn't dare to throw them away. This was because he could not tell whether they were bought for Lan Ruoshui by the Lei family or brought by Lan Ruoshui when she came here in the past. He was even more afraid that some of the small bags still contained Lan Ruoshui's ID or something.

Although he was the Lei family's housekeeper, he was still a part-time worker. Moreover, Ah Chang did not know about the relationship between Lan Ruoshui and Lei Zhensheng. Of course, Lei Zhensheng could not tell his subordinates about it.

Therefore, he asked Lei Taihe to say that he did not know if he should throw away many small things. Moreover, he did not dare to casually open the bags and boxes to look at them because he did not want to check their privacy.

Lei Taihe said that it was better not to throw them away. One day, he would ask someone to send them to her or ask her to pick them up herself. Perhaps some of the things were important to her after all.

Thus, Lan Ruoshui was able to return to the Lei family for the last time. When she entered the door, Lei Taihe said with a cold face, "this time, you will take all of your things with you. If you don't take anything with you, regardless of whether it is valuable or not, regardless of whether it is useful to her or not, even if it is her ID, the Lei family will throw it away for her."

Actually, Lan Ruoshui still had a lot of small things. That morning, Lei Zhensheng had ordered her to pack up her things and leave in an hour. It was indeed too rushed, so she had not taken many things with her.

She went to her room to pack up for half a day and spent a full two hours. Actually, she was not only packing in her room. She also went to Lei Zhensheng's room to see if there were any soft jewelry. This was the last time she came to the Lei family, so she had to bring more things back.

However, she searched Lei Zhensheng's room thoroughly, but could not find any soft pearl shells. She was so angry that she almost vomited blood. Lei Zhensheng was so rich, but there was nothing valuable in his room.

In fact, it was not that Lei Zhensheng's room did not have anything valuable, but Lan Ruoshui was a person who did not know the value of things. In her eyes, gold and silver treasures were valuable, but she did not know that some things were even more valuable than gold and silver treasures.

For example, the lamp on Lei Zhensheng's bedside table was modified from blue and white porcelain from Yongzheng kiln. Just this alone was worth several villas, but Lan Ruoshui did not know the value of things, so she only treated it as an ordinary porcelain.

There was also the vase on the coffee table. It was dry and long years old, so it was also very expensive. Lan Ruoshui could have easily stolen it. Of course, she did not know what it was and did not even look at it.

Chapter 1399 merciless snowstorm 1

Lan Ruoshui only wanted to take the gold, silver, and jewelry with her. Unfortunately, Lei Zhensheng did not have these in his room. He did have them in the past. Before his divorce with Cai Shaofen, he had more or less some of them. They belonged to Cai Shaofen. After the divorce, Cai Shaofen took all of them with her.

Lei Zhensheng was a grown man. He did not have a woman at home. Why would he buy gold, silver, and jewelry? Therefore, Lan Ruoshui missed everything. In the end, she took Lei Zhensheng's two mica stone cufflinks and took them away. However, they were not worth much.

By the time Lan Ruoshui went upstairs to search for them, the snowstorm had already begun. Thus, she was trapped in the Lei family.

Although Lei Taihe hated the current Lan Ruoshui, in this snowstorm weather, no matter how cold-blooded and heartless he was, he could not force her out, right? That would be too heartless, right?

The snowstorm successfully left Lan Ruoshui in the Lei family's hall. Lan Ruoshui could only put her luggage bag, which she had just cleaned up, at the door. Then, she sat on the sofa in the Lei family's hall and waited for the snowstorm to pass.

She waited for more than four hours. Finally, the snowstorm gradually subsided, and then gradually stopped. However, the snow outside was very thick, so she could not leave at once.

During these four hours, Lei Taihe and the housekeeper, Achang, were contacting Lei Zhenyu because the foundation laying ceremony was held in the northern land of the Lei family this afternoon. It was said that the snowstorm happened, and people seemed to have died there or something.

Lei Zhenyu's phone could not be connected, but Lei Zhensheng's phone could be connected. He said that he was fine, and was also thinking of ways to contact Lei Zhenyu so that Lei Taihe would not be too worried. The foundation laying ceremony in the northern land seemed to have been held a little early, so Lei Zhenyu should be fine.

Although he said that, he was still worried. He originally wanted to call ru Yu, but the Lei family actually did not have ru Yu's phone, so he could only check the number of the studio and call her. However, there was no one answering the phone, so they were probably all off-duty.

Actually, it was not off-duty, but the power went out, and everyone squeezed into the corridor. Because there was an emergency light in the corridor, the studio did not have it, so he urged Jingying to lock the studio, afraid that someone would take advantage of the chaos to secretly draw something.

Lei Taihe was tired after busying himself for a few hours. In the end, Lei Zhensheng called him to tell him that Lei Zhenyu was fine. He finally put down the string of tension in his heart. He only told Lei Zhensheng to think of a way to inform Lei Zhenyu not to rush back. If there was a place to hide, he would hide for the time being. He would wait until the snowstorm had stopped and the snow on the road had been cleared before returning.

Lei Taihe's mood relaxed. He immediately ate some dinner and went back to his room to rest. He only told Ah Chang to continue to contact ru Yu. However, other than calling the studio, Ah Chang didn't know how to find ru Yu.

Lan Ruoshui saw that Lei Taihe indeed did not ask her to eat dinner. She hated him in her heart. She was so hungry that her chest was pressed against her chest, okay. Moreover, she had called Lei Taihe's grandfather for half a year. This old fogey was not even willing to give her a mouthful of food now.

Lei Taihe went back to his room to sleep. Lan Ruoshui still sat there and did not leave. Although the snowstorm had stopped, she was only wearing a pair of low boots that did not reach her calves. The snow on the road could reach her knees. She could not leave at all.

Of course, AH Chang did not come over to chase her away mercilessly. He just let her sit on the sofa alone while he went to do his own things. After all, a housekeeper had a lot of things to do.

Chapter 1400 merciless snowstorm 2

Just as Lan Ruoshui was sitting alone and swallowing her saliva due to hunger, her phone rang. She was stunned for a moment and when she saw that there was no one there, she picked up the phone and answered it.

However, she did not expect that the other party would hang up right after she said that. She was slightly stunned and immediately looked down. She actually found that the caller ID was a group of familiar numbers. She stared at the group of numbers and suddenly remembered.. This was Jin Zhengnan's cell phone number.

Jin Zhengnan's cell phone number actually called the Lei family's landline. What was going on? This made Lan Ruoshui unable to understand for a moment. How did Jin Zhengnan and the Lei family get involved now?

Just as Lan Ruoshui was still unable to figure it out, the call came in again. This time, it was Jin Zhengnan's cell phone that called. She hesitated for a few seconds before picking up the call again.

"Hello, may I know who you are looking for?" Lan Ruoshui pretended that she didn't know who the call was from. She had a completely business-like expression.

"May I know if Lei Zhenyu is back?" Ru Yu could no longer care about who the person on the phone was. At this moment, she only wanted to know if Lei Zhenyu was back.

Lan Ruoshui also recognized that it was Che Ru Yu's voice. She was stunned and then angry. She never dreamed that Che Ru Yu was really the woman who sabotaged and ruined Jin Zhengnan. Now, Jin Zhengnan was actually with Che Ru Yu.

Adulterers and adulterers were really adulterers and adulterers. No wonder Jin Zhengnan did not want her anymore. No wonder Jin Zhengnan had a terminal illness and left nothing for her. It turned out that it was Che Ru Yu, this woman, who was behind all this.

It was all Che Ru Yu. It was all Che Ru Yu. If she had not returned to Jin Zhengnan's side, she would not have taken the risk to seduce Lei Zhensheng after being dumped by Jin Zhengnan. She would not have fallen to such a homeless state today.

Her heart was inflated with hatred because of her anger. Now that she heard Che Ru Yu asking Lei Zhenyu, she frowned quickly. Then, in a very short time, she came up with a vicious plan.

Therefore, she said lightly, "No, Lei Zhenyu did not come back. Just now, my father called my grandfather and said that Lei Zhenyu was pressed under the iron frame in the north and was not thrown out. I don't know if he can wait for rescue."

"Oh, okay, I got it." Ru Yu's voice came from the phone, and then she quickly said to Lan Ruoshui, "later, you tell Dad, which is Mr. Lei Taihe, that I went to the north to look for Lei Zhenyu."

"got it." Lan Ruoshui said these three words and quickly hung up the phone, because she saw Achang walking over from not far away.

"Who called?" Achang saw that Lan Ruoshui's expression was a little strange, so he quickly asked.

"It's Jin Zhengnan." Lan Ruoshui quickly calmed her guilty conscience. Then, she quickly said, "He called my cell phone and said that the signal couldn't get through, so he called the Lei family's landline. Because he knew that I would come to the Lei family this afternoon to pick up things, he was worried about my safety. I said that I was very safe and told him not to worry."

Achang checked the number and quickly wrote it down. Then, he quickly called a certain telecommunications department to check. Only after confirming that it was Jin Zhengnan's cell phone number did he believe Lan Ruoshui.

When Lan Ruoshui saw that Achang had left, her heart, which was so nervous that it was at the edge of her throat, finally relaxed again. She couldn't help but snort coldly in her heart. Che Ru Yu, Jin Zhengnan, the two of you should go to the north to find Lei Zhenyu now “If you don’t die from the cold, you’ll be exhausted to death. I’ll let you go to the Netherworld to be husband and wife. “.
