

Divorce 1601

Chapter 1601 The Majesty of the empress

Mrs. Lei stood silently by the side while Lin Yuxin was talking to Lei Zhensheng and Lan Ruoshui. Then, she got into the car with Lei Zhensheng and went directly to the hospital for an examination.

Of course, there was no problem. Everything was normal. This was also expected because Lin Yuxin was an obstetrician and gynecologist, so she was very clear about her physical condition.

After dinner, Lin Yuxin leaned against the headboard of the bed and watched TV. Lei Zhensheng, the Eunuch, took a shower and came over. He carefully leaned against her and touched her chest irregularly.

“Take it away.” The empress threw his hand aside in dissatisfaction. She couldn’t help but snort coldly. “I don’t know how many times I’ve touched the hands of women. Now you’re touching me.”

Lei Zhensheng felt depressed. Then, he carefully explained, “wife, before you, I did have other women. I have never hidden this from you. But the so-called marital loyalty refers to marriage. So after having you, even if we weren’t married, I didn’t have an affair with any other woman. I can swear to God on this.”

“Oh, then did your previous women include Lan Ruoshui?” Lin Yuxin asked slowly, then turned to look at the man beside her who was trying to please her.

Lei Zhensheng’s face immediately darkened, and then he stopped chewing. After a moment of silence, he quickly changed the topic and said, “honey, you didn’t say you wanted to drink the white fungus lotus seed soup. I’ll go downstairs to see if the chef’s stew is ready.”

“I’ve already drunk it,” Yu Xin pointed out mercilessly, then continued to change the topic, “say, between you and Lan Ruoshui, was there a so-called father-daughter relationship in the past, but in fact, it was a dirty relationship between a man and a woman?”

When Lei Zhensheng heard this, he cried out in injustice, and he said loudly, “Heaven and earth, I’ve always thought that she was really my daughter, how could I have such a heart for her? which father would do such a thing that was worse than a beast?”

“But the key point is, didn’t you prove later that you’re not his father?” Yu Xin pointed out to him with a serious face, “Lei Zhensheng, stop avoiding the important points. Hurry up and tell the truth, did you have sex with her too?” “I saw Lan Ruoshui’s expression today.”

Lei Zhensheng was discouraged. He didn’t expect Lin Yuxin’s eyes to be so sharp. Could it be that women who were obstetricians and gynecologists looked different from other people?

Under the pressure of Lin Yuxin’s sharp eyes, he finally admitted as if he had made a big mistake, “there was indeed a night when I was drunk when I went back. I fell into her trap and was drugged by her. Then... “. ... I couldn’t control myself. Heaven and earth’s conscience, that drug was too strong. I couldn’t control myself. If I had to control myself, I would probably be crippled even if I didn’t die”

“So you took the materials on the spot?” Lin Yuxin glared at him angrily. She couldn’t help but say angrily, “you’re really a male dog. You’ll do anything that is female, regardless of what relationship that woman has with you.”

Lei Zhensheng was scolded until he was drenched in blood, but he couldn’t refute a single word. In the end, he said wearily, “wife, that matter has already passed. When I woke up the next morning, I kicked her out of the Lei family and ordered her to never come to the Lei family again. I’m no longer her father. There’s no relationship between us anymore.”

Chapter 1602 jealousy of a woman

“You’ve even done the most intimate thing with her, and you’ve never had any relationship with her?” Yu Xin could not help but scoff at his words. “Lei Zhensheng, can you be a little more hypocritical?”

“Wife, heaven and earth have a conscience. That night, I was raped by her.” Lei Zhensheng could not help but cry out again, “I’m a victim. When I think of my eight-foot-tall man being raped by a woman in her twenties, I want to bang my head against the wall. How embarrassing am I? It was so embarrassing to my grandmother.”

When Yu Xin heard him say that, she could not help but laugh. Seeing Lei Zhensheng like this really made him feel very comfortable, so she deliberately smiled and asked, “then... didn’t you enjoy the night she raped you? Did you feel comfortable?”

Lei Zhensheng’s face immediately darkened. He looked at the woman in front of him coldly and said, “I don’t remember. When I raped you, did you feel comfortable? My feelings were exactly the same as yours.”

Yu Xin was stunned when she heard this. She paused for a few seconds before she reacted and immediately became furious. She couldn’t help but say angrily, “F * CK, Lei Zhensheng, you have the nerve to say such words. You actually raped me. I didn’t even sue you, and you were raped by that piece of trash, Lan Ruoshui. How unfair is that? I want to rape you once as well to level the playing field with you.”

Lin Yuxin immediately took action as she spoke. She turned over and lay on Lei Zhensheng’s body. With a few moves, she pulled his clothes. Lei Zhensheng took her as a joke and didn’t care. Instead, he felt that she was very cute.

He and Cai Shaofen had been husband and wife for eighteen years. The boudoir had always been polite. Even if they wanted to do things between husband and wife, the two of them were very elegant. Usually, they would take a shower, go to bed, lie together, and then he would take the initiative a little. She did not resist. Just like that, as if she was completing a task, she did what she should do. Perhaps it was something that she had to do.

The kind of quarrel between husband and wife between him and Lin Yuxin had never happened before. Therefore, Lin Yuxin gave him a new feeling, and he felt that it was very good. She liked her swearing and her anger. He liked her mischievous behavior, and he liked the way she climbed onto his body to mess around because she was jealous.

He felt that he had become much stronger when he lived with Lin Yuxin. He was already a 49-year-old man, but when he lived with Lin Yuxin, he felt like he was only 30 years old. Life was full of passion and fun.

Just like at this moment, Lin Yuxin, this woman, was lying on his body, forcefully taking off his clothes and pants. She was also naughtily taking off her own clothes and pants, and then... ..

Then, his brain froze instinctively, and he immediately reacted. This damn Lin Yuxin, she wasn't joking. She said she wanted to rape him, she really wanted to rape him. Look, she actually dared to take off his boxers... ..

"No," he immediately used his hand to stop her from doing what she wanted to do. He said to the woman on top of him nervously, "honey, I can hold it in. If I can't come now, what if I hurt the child in my belly? Hurry up and get down?"

"But I can't hold it in anymore." Lin Yuxin took his hand away. He instructed, "who told you to be so useless? You were actually raped by that woman, Lan Ruoshui. When I think about it, I'm angry. If I don't rape you tonight, it seems that I can't suppress her, right? I must rape you a few times to prove that I'm much more powerful than her."

Chapter 1603, the wedding ceremony

"..."Lei Zhensheng was completely speechless. He did not expect his little wife to be so stubborn in this aspect ...

Alright, since she wanted to rape him, then cough, cough, cough, he should be willing to let her rape him. Anyway, she was already four months pregnant. It seemed that as long as the movements were not too intense, she should be able to do it.

The movements were indeed not intense because Lin Yuxin was a pregnant woman after all. Moreover, she had no experience with strong men. Usually, Lei Zhensheng was the one who raped her. Therefore, after a few moves, she was so tired that she fell to the ground.

Lei Zhensheng was so angry that his face was red and his neck was thick. He really wanted to turn around and push this woman under his body and torture her. He had suffered enough already, but this woman still came to tease him.

However, he did not do that in the end because he estimated that the child in her stomach was no longer a reckless man in his twenties or thirties, but an old man in his late twenties. One * * And a child, which was more important.. He naturally had weight in his heart.

Therefore, when Lin Yuxin was panting and lying on the side, he got up and went to the bathroom for a long time, using cold water to extinguish the heat on his body.

"If you want to rape me, you have to wait until the child is full moon." Lei Zhensheng took a bath and returned to the bed in a refreshed manner. He said to the woman who was already half-asleep, "you don't have any strength now, so don't think about raping me."

“Didn’t I... Want you to rape me?” Yu Xin said with a laugh. She had already taken the initiative to stick to his body.

“In your dreams?” Lei Zhensheng pushed her away fiercely. He said snappily, “Lin Yuxin, just give up on this idea. Before you give birth to the child, I will never rape you. Even if it’s our wedding night, I will never rape you. The child is my most important priority.”

Lei Zhensheng really meant what he said. In fact, Lei Zhensheng was going to hold a big wedding, but Lin Yuxin objected. She said that she didn’t have any relatives in Taiwan. No matter how grand the wedding was, relatives and friends couldn’t see it. What was the use of strangers seeing it?

In the end, under her repeated insistence, the wedding was just a small one. In fact, it was attended by the high-level staff of the Lei Corporation. The wedding venue was held in a church because Lin Yuxin was a believer of western religion.

The church wedding appeared to be incomparably holy. Lin Yuxin wore a white wedding dress and walked into the church with Lei Zhensheng. They were married under the preside of the priest. From then on, they never left each other.

Initially, Lin Yuxin was not very willing to marry Lei Zhensheng. However, after she got pregnant, after Lei Zhensheng had been flattering her recently, and as their relationship gradually became tacit, she was somewhat excited when they got married.

Especially when Lei Zhensheng put on her wedding ring, she could not help but cry. She had never thought that she and Lei Zhensheng would really be married one day.

The wedding was completed in the church. The wedding banquet was held in a five-star hotel. There were not many people, but it was still quite lively. Lei Zhensheng introduced her to the higher-ups of the Lei Corporation. Everyone knew that she was the new Mrs. Lei.

When they returned to the villa at night, the room was completely decorated. There were bright red festive bedding and red candles as thick as an arm. Lei Zhensheng said that he could not give her the purest body, but he must give her the purest marriage.

Chapter 1604 the candlelight flickered

The new room was decorated very romantically, as if it was a dream. It gave Lin Yuxin an illusion as if she had entered an ancient era. She felt that if she wore an ancient bride’s dress, she would definitely mistake it as a time travel.

With such a beautiful new room, if she didn’t do something related to the wedding night, it would seem like she had wasted this kind of atmosphere. Thus, Lin Yuxin seemed to take the initiative, which was rare.

“Hey, Hubby, are we really not going to have a wedding night?” Her hand went into his pajamas and caressed it carelessly. It was completely in a blistering position.

“No.” He removed her hand from his body and turned around. He hugged her tightly and said gloomily, “sleep. It’s not tiring to be a bride today.”

“not very tiring.” She was telling the truth. How tiring could a bride be Moreover, there was a bridesmaid and a person who took care of her by her side. She only needed someone to lift her legs. She only walked a little during the church wedding and the hotel wedding banquet. The rest of the time, she was resting.

“If you’re not tired, I’m tired.” He still hugged her tightly and closed his eyes. “When you sleep, you’re not allowed to speak. The person who speaks will be fined 10,000 yuan.”

“But... don’t I want the wedding night to be so... so bland and tasteless?” She finally blushed and voiced out her desire.

As a woman, ever since she passed 18 years old and knew that she would fall in love and get married in the future, who wouldn’t be filled with longing for the wedding night?

Now, her wedding night had arrived late, but it was finally here. If it really passed peacefully like this, she thought that she would really leave a regret in this body.

So, being hugged in his arms, she simply used her head to caress his chest. Then, she called his name in an incomparably charming voice. At this time, an irregular little hand secretly reached into his clothes It caressed his firm chest... ..

A certain person who was originally calm could no longer stand it. His throat tightened instinctively. He immediately lifted the blanket and got up, wanting to get out of bed.

“wedding night, you want to be a deserter?” Lin Yuxin reached out and grabbed his pajamas. She pulled with a little force, directly pulling his pajamas under his butt Then, she used her hands to pinch the flesh on his body as she said with a smile, “if you allow me to be a deserter, then I will escape again. This time, I will escape with your son.”

Lei Zhensheng finally did not dare to escape anymore. He turned around and looked at the woman beside him who was smiling extremely charmingly. Finally, he surrendered. This wedding was arranged by him. This dreamlike new house was also meticulously prepared and dedicated to her.

His eyes were dark red. He used his hands to control her body, which was still leaning against him. He did not dare to be as bold as her. Hence, he turned his body and hugged her in his embrace. He gently coaxed her and kissed her He whispered softly, “Yu Xin, I’m anxious about everything that I owe you. After you give birth to a full moon, we’ll fight for three days and three nights...”

She slowly relaxed her body while he coaxed her. Then, she waved her hands twice and finally..

She was finally tired. She had no regrets about this wedding night. She moved her body and chose a comfortable position. Then, she fell asleep in a daze.

Meanwhile, he was half-kneeling beside her. He looked at her sleeping in a piece of red cloth. Her sparkling white body was set off by the bright red bedding, making her look exceptionally clean and holy.

He went to the bathroom to wring a warm towel over and carefully helped her wipe her body. Perhaps she felt that he was disturbing her, so she waved her hand in the air in a daze, obviously feeling annoyed with him.

Chapter 1605 the candlelight

She was finally tired. She had no regrets about the wedding night. She moved her body and chose a comfortable position. Then, she fell asleep with her eyes half-closed.

He half-knelt beside her and looked at her sleeping in a piece of red cloth. Her white body was set off by the bright red bedding, making her look particularly clean and holy.

He went to the bathroom and twisted a warm towel over. He carefully helped her wipe her body. Perhaps she felt that he had disturbed her, so she waved her hand in the air in a daze. Clearly, she found him annoying.

"Yu Xin..." he gently called her name ...

"MM," she answered in a daze. Her voice was slightly dissatisfied with this wedding night.

"I... Love You!" He said Shakily.

"Oh." She turned over and replied in a daze.

She had really fallen into a deep sleep. She did not even see the man beside her who was kneeling with a gentle face and eyes full of affection.

Therefore, Love was an extremely wonderful thing. It was not related to age and identity, nor was it related to appearance and figure. In fact, many external factors were not that important. What was important was whether or not you were the date that the other party liked the most.. Whether the taste in the other party's mouth was the kind of taste that he liked, whether it would be sweet enough to enter his heart and plant an incurable poison for him?

With relatives, they would definitely say, "Little Joe, you're framing people again. In this world, love actually belongs to handsome men and beautiful women. In fact, this saying is completely wrong. "

Everyone knew that Diana, the British Princess, and Camilla, were young, beautiful, and had a good figure. Everyone also knew that Camilla was older than Charles, and she was ugly. But why.. Charles only liked Camilla and did not like Diana?

It could only be said that Camilla happened to be the date that Charles liked the most. It tasted his favorite in his mouth, and it was sweet enough to enter his heart. It planted a poison that could not be cured, so.. He would never be able to escape Camilla's grasp in his life.

Therefore, relatives, whether they were beautiful or ordinary-looking, whether they were good-looking or average-looking, in fact, everyone could get the love that belonged to them, and they could find the person who loved them the most.

Many times, many things needed to be experienced before they knew each other and understood each other. Just like Lin Yuxin and Lei Zhensheng, they were separated by 18 years, and they had missed out on so many years. However, they went around in circles and unexpectedly got together, and in the end.. They planted an incurable poison in each other, and no one could escape.

Alright, we have just gotten off topic. Now let's get back to the main topic. On this wedding night, under the bright red background, under the illumination of a candle as thick as an arm, and under the gentle care of a certain man.. Empress Lin Yuxin finally spent the best night of her life without regret.

The next day, the sun just woke up, opened his eyes, the light-colored French windows have been the sun shining in, a room full of glittering gold, light the whole heart is bright.

Chapter 1606 love is an unexplainable topic

"I'm not staying here tonight." He reached out to grab her wrist, pulled open the passenger door, and shoved her inside. As he closed the car door, he could not help but mutter, "your manager treats you as a public relations ambassador?"

"No, it's just that tonight's client doesn't speak Mandarin and only speaks Cantonese, and I'm from the south, so I was called over." Fang Xiao sat down in the passenger seat and glanced sideways at the man who was starting the car. "where are you taking me?"

"You'll know when you get there." He was focused on driving, and he didn't even have the right to look sideways at her. "Do you have the right to ask me where I live?"

Fang Xiao immediately fell silent. No, she really didn't have the slightest right. After all, she had sold herself to him as a slave, and he was her financier.

"I'll be working at nine o'clock tomorrow morning." She didn't look sideways at him either, but only reminded him lightly. She didn't want him to drive to a place where the sun was shining, and it would delay her from going to work.

He did not make a sound, as if he did not hear her words. Therefore, she could only lean against the passenger seat and close her eyes slightly under her special glasses.

After about twenty minutes, the car finally stopped. She opened her eyes and realized that it was actually the heavenly cloud pavilion. She was slightly stunned, but she still pushed open the door and got out of the car without saying a word.

It was already half past ten at night, but bincheng was a first-tier city. At this time, the nightlife was very rich, so all the places were brightly lit. At night, bincheng seemed to be more prosperous than during the day.

She followed behind him up the stairs. The VIP elevator went directly to the 39th floor. He used the key to open the door. When he saw a pair of women's sandals placed at the door, his face immediately turned green and he ran straight to the bedroom.

Fang Xiao was sensible and tactful. Under such circumstances, she could only pretend that she was blind and did not see anything. She quickly walked to the balcony outside the living room. A few minutes later, a woman's wailing voice came from the living room. She was obviously very dissatisfied with her being chased away at the last minute.

It was unknown what he said to that woman, but before she left, she seemed to throw a fierce sentence, "Dongfang Yunheng, I want to go back and complain!"

From the beginning to the end, she did not turn around, nor did she look at what that woman looked like, because she did not look at what she should not see, and did not know what she should not know. After all, the contract between her and him was only over two months.

She had come to Yunxiao pavilion once, that time when she signed the contract to sell herself to him. However, that time, she was very disappointing and fainted in his bathroom. In the end, he was the one who found a doctor for her.

This place was a typical one-bedroom-one-living room. The bathroom was in the only bedroom. The kitchen was as clean as the model room of a cabinet store. It could almost reflect people's shadows. Obviously, it had never been used before.

"there are pajamas and bath towels prepared for you in the closet," he reminded her who was standing at the door of the kitchen. "Is it still early? Didn't you say you have to go to work tomorrow?"

"Oh." She immediately turned around and walked to the bedroom. It was not the first time anyway. What was supposed to come would come. It was only two months. The only thing she prayed for was that he would be busier during this period of time, and time would pass faster.

She was worried it was too kinky when she pulled out the closet to get her pajamas, but when she saw the conservative cotton pajamas, she breathed a sigh of relief and quickly took the pajamas to the shower.

When Fang Xiao climbed into the spacious bed in his room to sleep, Dongfang Yunheng had not come in yet. She was really sleepy, and his was really soft. Not to mention that the room had a comfortable 26-degree air conditioner, which made the exhausted her fall asleep very quickly.

Chapter 1607 wife Slave Lei Zhensheng

Although Lin Yuxin was an obstetrician and gynecologist, she still could not avoid the hardships of being pregnant for ten months. When she entered the ninth month of pregnancy, her legs began to swell up, and the pregnancy spots on her face became darker and darker.

Not only her face, but even her swollen belly had a lot of pregnancy spots. Her originally white belly now had a flower belly. It was as ugly as it could be.

A certain someone, the empress, was unhappy. She was angry at her flower belly in the mirror. She could not help but pat it gently with her hand. She even muttered, "it's all your fault. I'm pregnant, and it's making your mother look uglier and uglier."

Her action did not scare the bad thing in her belly, but it did scare the old man who had just arrived at the bathroom door. He immediately grabbed her hand and scolded her, "the child is only nine months old, and you already started hitting him. Is there anyone like you as a mother? Don't you know that the child is a gift from God to us? A gift is meant to be loved."

"Our child is not a gift from God," she pointed out pointedly. "Our child is a gift from an ice-cold syringe. You forgot that we are artificial insemination."

The man was so angry that his face turned green. Couldn't she have been a little more romantic? Why did she have to make it so obvious Even if it was artificial insemination, it was still their child, right?

"You are not allowed to hit a child in the future," he warned her righteously. "You can hit me, but you are not allowed to touch the child."

"I hit my stomach," she quibbled. She could not hit herself.

"You are not allowed to hit your stomach either," he declared domineeringly. "Your Body and your people are mine, and my things are sacred and inviolable."

"..."she was completely speechless.

One day, the sun was shining brightly. The pregnant woman and the man with a sensible look sat in the sunshine room, enjoying the morning's calcium supplement. The pregnant woman was chewing on the golden dates that had just been offered from the north Meanwhile, the sensible man was holding the financial newspaper and studying it.

The bigger the pregnant woman's stomach, the more lazy she became. The closer she was to the due date, the more she did not want to move. She did not even want to say anything. In fact, it was because she was chewing something that she could not explain.

Therefore, the pregnant woman used her hand to pull the arm of a certain man who was reading the financial news. The man immediately shifted his gaze from the newspaper to the pregnant woman beside him. He revealed a gentle smile that he had never seen before. "honey, what's wrong?"

"MM." The pregnant woman used her finger to point at her lips, indicating that she had finished eating the golden silk dates. There was only the date core left in her mouth.

"Go throw up the trash can," Lei Zhensheng said nonchalantly. The bigger the stomach, the dumber it became. She still had to ask him about such a small matter.

She pouted and immediately became unhappy. She pointed outside the sunlight room and pointed at her big belly. It meant that the trash can was too far away from her seat and she did not want to move.

The corner of his mouth twitched. He put down the newspaper and finally accepted his fate. He reached out his hand to her mouth and asked her to use his hand as a temporary trash can to throw up the jujube core.

The pregnant woman smiled proudly. The two jujube cores that she had already chewed clean slipped out of her small mouth and landed neatly in the palm of the director of a large company whose wisdom line had already passed through half of his palm.

Using such a valuable palm as a trash can, this feeling was really f * Cking Awesome. She could not help but swear in her heart again. She looked at the man who stood up, pinched the jujube cores, and went to the trash can outside the sunshine room to throw the Jujube cores The smile on his face became even more brilliant.

Chapter 1608 named the baby

Lin Yuxin's due date was at the end of August, so when it was August 20th, Lei Zhensheng was especially nervous. He was afraid that if he was not careful, the baby would knock on the door in advance and come out.

Therefore, a certain CEO, who was originally very busy, took a maternity leave on August 21st. He stayed at home all day with the pregnant queen, afraid that he would accidentally miss the moment when the baby knocked on the door.

As for the gender of the baby, it was actually too easy to know in advance. The hospital's equipment could tell at a glance, but Lin Yuxin and Lei Zhensheng did not do so. They wanted to preserve a sense of mystery. They wanted to know in the end whether the baby was a cute little girl or a naughty little boy.

It was a funny thing about naming the baby. They did not plan to name it in advance.

That day, the pregnant queen had a sudden impulse to eat stewed meat rice. This was actually a common meal in Taiwan. Most people would cook it at home, and their chefs were no exception.

However, the pregnant queen refused to eat the stewed meat rice at home and insisted on eating the Yonghe King. The reason was that Che ru Yu once said that the best stewed meat rice was in Yonghe King, especially the stewed meat rice in Yonghe King in Taiwan. It was very fragrant.

A certain man, who had long been demoted to little Zhen Zi by the pregnant queen, naturally did not dare to complain. Thus, he eagerly arranged for the driver to drive and personally helped the pregnant queen, who was already pregnant and on the verge of giving birth, into the car.

The stewed meat rice of Yonghe King was indeed delicious, especially when the pregnant queen was in a good mood, so it was even more fragrant to eat. Although, a certain CEO did not absolutely say that this stewed meat rice was better than the home chef's cooking.

However, in order to please the pregnant queen, he still cautiously smiled and agreed, "yes, it is indeed delicious. This is the best stewed meat rice that I have ever eaten."

The pregnant queen was very satisfied with his performance, so she became more and more pleased. She was immediately happy and ordered another serving of plain soy milk to drink. She also said that this soy milk was better than the soy milk that the family's chef had ground.

The man who had been demoted to little vibrator was about to agree when he heard a young couple at the table next to him laughing and discussing, "in the future, when we have a baby, the girl will be called star, and the boy will be called Moon."

The pregnant queen was immediately stunned. She put down the stewed meat rice spoon that was about to reach her mouth. Then, she glared at the man opposite her and said, "F * Ck, they are already discussing the child's name before they even have a child. We are about to give birth, but we haven't given the child a name yet. No, we have to give the child a name today."

Lei Zhensheng was silent for a second before he immediately nodded. "Alright, then if we give birth to a daughter called Xiao Cao and a son called da Shu, is that alright?"

"F * Ck, have you studied before?" Lin Yuxin was so angry that her face was red. She could not help but glare at him. "Is there such a way to give a child a name? It's not easy to pronounce."

“Then, what name do you think is easy to pronounce?” Lei Zhensheng had long become a slave to his wife. Since his wife did not like his name, he would let his wife choose it. After all, the name was just a code name.

“The man should be called Liang Shanbo, and the woman should be called Zhu Yingtai,” Lin Yuxin said very boldly. Then, she raised her eyebrows at Lei Zhensheng and said proudly, “how is it? I’m educated, right?”

Chapter 1609, the child’s name

Lei Zhensheng’s mouth twitched a little, and then he carefully reminded her, “Liang Shanbo and Zhu Yingtai are a pair of doomed lovebirds. They are so young, but they have already lost their virginity for love.”

“Ah?” Only then did Lin Yuxin react, so she quickly said, “then we don’t need those two names. I’ll think about it.”

Lin Yuxin said she really wanted to think about it. She supported her head with her hand and pretended to be deep in thought. After a long while, she said, “the girl is called little swallow, and the boy is called fifth brother. How about that?”

Lei Zhensheng was sweating. This pregnant queen had recently become obsessed with “return of the Pearl”. She had actually given her child a name that even Xiao Yanzi and fifth brother had thought of.

“That’s a name from the TV series.” He carefully reminded her, “the names in the TV series may not be suitable for real life. If we give birth to a girl, could it be called Lei Yanzi The boy’s name is Lei AH brother People must think that we are crazy.”

Lin Yuxin immediately came to a realization, so she nodded and said, “that’s true. We can’t follow the TV series. Moreover, we are Korean. How about this? The girl’s name is Changjin, and the boy’s name is Chengqian. What do you think?”

Lei Zhensheng just smiled. People said that women would become stupid if they got pregnant. He saw this as the truth. He knew that other women became stupid when they got pregnant, but Lin Yuxin seemed to be more and more stupid after getting pregnant. She even gave her child a name.. He couldn’t think of a better one.

So he said, “fine, why do names have to be so complicated? If it’s a girl’s name is crystal, and a boy’s name is unpolished jade, this has a profound meaning.”

“It’s so tacky.” Lin Yuxin immediately objected and said with a look of disgust, “I’ve never heard of a name that’s more tacky than this. It’s many times uglier than your Lei Zhensheng.”

Lei Zhensheng’s face immediately turned black. Was His name really that ugly If it was really ugly, why was a certain woman always shouting ‘Zhensheng’ in her nightmares at night?

“then you choose someone that’s not tacky.” A good man would not fight with a woman. Moreover, this woman was his wife, and she was even carrying a baby for him.

“I’ve decided. The girl’s name is Tian Xing, and the boy’s name is Disha,” Lin Yuxin announced loudly. “whether it’s Tian Xing or disha coming to our house, we’re not afraid of anything anymore.”

Lei Zhensheng’s mouth twitched. After a while, he reminded her, “Tian Xing and DISHA are used by Taoists for divination. It’s not very good to use them on our children, right?”

Hearing his explanation, Lin Yuxin felt that it was not very good, so she supported her chin with her hands. She said a little irritably, “then what should we name them? Boys should be mighty and stand tall, and girls should be gentle and modest. What should we use to replace them?”

“Boys should be called Shan,” Lei Zhensheng thought of it and quickly said, “a mountain is a mountain that stands tall and stands tall and awe-inspiring.”

“What about a girl?” Yu Xin frowned. The name of a mountain was actually not bad.

“A girl should be called Chuan, which means water.” Lei Zhensheng suddenly said excitedly, “I have finally thought of it. If we have a boy, we will be called Lei Shan. If we have a girl, we will be called Lei Chuan. How about it?”

Lei Shan, Lei Chuan Yu Xin was really convinced by him. She could not help but ridicule him, “if you were to take it down, you would probably have to get a Lei Ren?”

A certain man smiled and echoed the pregnant empress, “thank you for your praise. Actually, Lei Ren is not bad. Why don’t we have two more children and use all three names?”

The pregnant lady immediately put her hands on her hips and glared at a certain little vibrator, shouting, “dream on!”

Chapter 1610 fat girl Lei Chuan

Lin Yuxin’s due date was the end of August, but there was still no movement on August 31st. Lei Zhensheng was not only a little anxious, but he could not help but mutter, “is this guy too lazy? He doesn’t even know to knock at the door when it’s time?”

Lin Yuxin rolled her eyes at him and said, “what? He’s so happy inside. Where in the world is there as comfortable as his mother’s stomach? If he wants to stay for a few more days, he can stay for a few more days.”

Lei Zhensheng immediately stopped talking, but he was cursing in his heart. This brat might be very lazy. He might be a person who liked to sleep late. He followed his mother and didn’t want to get up after sleeping.

Lin Yuxin was unhappy when she heard this. Lei Zhensheng, which one of us is unwilling to get up after sleeping Who snores when he’s asleep Who Sleeps more like a pig?

President Lei was completely silent. Alright, it’s him, it’s all him. Alright, the pregnant empress is good at everything. She’s beautiful, beautiful, and sweet-mouthed!

This child was indeed not an ordinary lazy person. After August, he did not even knock on the door. CEO Lei, who had already taken ten days of maternity leave at home, was so anxious that his lips began to bubble. He could not help but mutter, "could this child have a change of birth somewhere? It would take three years and six months to get out?"

When Lin Yuxin heard this, she could not help but laugh. She said that it would be great if she could give birth somewhere. This meant that our family had given birth to a God. She reckoned that the two of them were not that lucky.

Indeed, they were not that lucky because Yu Xin's amniotic fluid had broken on the morning of September 3rd. At the same time, their dream of giving birth to a God had completely broken with the arrival of Yu Xin's amniotic fluid.

Compared to the other pregnant women who were panicking, Lin Yuxin, who was an obstetrician, was much calmer. She calmly instructed Lei Zhensheng to help her into the car and then asked the driver to drive to the nearby hospital.

The delivery room had been booked long ago, and the luxurious ward had been reserved ten days ago, so everything went smoothly. Yu Xin was an experienced obstetrician, and she wanted to experience the feeling of the baby coming out naturally. Therefore, under normal circumstances, she chose to give birth naturally.

A natural birth would still be painful. Fortunately, she had helped someone deliver a child, so she knew that some pain was unavoidable. Thus, she gritted her teeth and endured it. Moreover, a gynecologist was giving birth to a child by herself and was still shouting loudly. Wasn't she afraid of being laughed at by her colleagues?

Fortunately, although this little guy was lazy, he was quite active when it came to coming out. Thus, he did not torment Lin Yuxin for long. It was only three or four hours, and then he obediently ran out.

It was a chubby little fat girl. When she was born, she opened her big mouth and cried loudly. Yu Xin smiled and said, "this means that this girl's lungs are well developed. I don't have to worry about any problems with her lungs. At least, the incubator is exempted."

The child was very big, at least eight pounds. When Lei Zhensheng carried this chubby girl, the old man who was almost fifty years old actually couldn't help but cry. His tears fell onto the chubby little girl's face, causing the Chubby little girl to look at him with disdain.

They were finally born. Both mother and son were safe. Lei Zhensheng was as happy as anything. The first thing he did was to report the good news to Lei Taihe who was far away in Seoul, South Korea. "Father, I'm a father. You're a grandfather. I have a daughter that belongs to me. This is my real daughter. It can't be faked anymore..."

Lei Zhensheng was so happy that he was incoherent. He only cared about himself and kept talking. He didn't hear what Lei Taihe was saying over there clearly. It seemed like he was saying something about his younger brother, Lei Zhenyu, being in Fuzhou.

Forget it. Who Cares? He could say whatever he wanted. Lei Zhenyu could say whatever he wanted. That was his and Che Ru Yu's matter. He didn't have the energy to care about his younger brother's matters. He was too busy with his wife and daughter.
