Chapter 1641: Kidney Supply found

"Go to the third city hospital." She got into the car and whispered to the driver who was starting the car.

"Okay." The driver looked straight ahead. Under his skilled control, the car moved quickly, but it also left Linhu villa quietly.

When Fang Xiao returned to the third hospital, it was already two o'clock in the morning. Her father, Fang Anbang, had already fallen asleep. She tiptoed to the bathroom and barely washed up. She changed into her pajamas and lay down on the foldable bed beside the ward. In order not to wake her father up from his sleep, she did not even dare to take a shower.

She was obviously very tired, physically and mentally exhausted. If her body were to touch the bed, she would definitely fall asleep within three minutes.

However, today, she closed her eyes and forced herself to sleep. Unfortunately, Xi Lingheng's shadow kept jumping out uncontrollably. The past scenes were like a movie in her mind, disturbing her peace.

She did not know when she finally fell asleep. When she opened her eyes again, it was already dawn. The Ward door was pushed open and a nurse walked in with a thermometer.

It was already past seven in the morning. She quickly got up and took the thermometer from the nurse. She quickly turned around and walked to her father's bed. Only then did she realize that her father, Fang Anbang, had already woken up.

"Xiao Xiao, how is your mother? And how is Chen Chen doing at school?" Fang Anbang took the thermometer and stuffed it into his armpit. However, he could not help but care about his wife and that retarded son at the special school.

"My mother is fine. Chen Chen is also doing well." Fang Xiao continued to answer her father like how she always did. "mother only broke her leg and can not walk yet, so she can not come to see you. Chen Chen is also doing well at school. Teacher Luo said that he has made great progress and has now learned how to solve puzzles."

"Oh, oh, that's good," Fang Anbang responded twice. He turned his head to look out of the window with a hint of relief on his face.

Meanwhile, Fang Xiao took the opportunity to quickly wash her face, brush her teeth, and wash her face. She had to go to the cafeteria to buy breakfast after her father's temperature was taken.

When the doctor looked for her, she had just fed her father porridge when the nurse came in to hang the drip. She hurriedly packed the dishes and went to her father's attending doctor's office.

"Have you found the kidney source?" The doctor lifted his head from the folder and looked at her. "I'm going to study abroad next week. If I can't do the surgery this week, it will probably be pushed back to half a month later. I'm worried that your father's body won't be able to wait until that day."

“I’ve found the kidney.” She lowered her head and asked softly after a while, “Um, can you reduce the surgery fee?”

“Do you think this is a vegetable market?” The doctor looked at her with dissatisfaction. “I’ve already fought for the biggest preferential policy for you. If it weren’t for the face of a group, do you think a kidney transplant surgery with 100,000 yuan can be done?”

Fang Xiao immediately kept quiet. She knew that the kidney transplant surgery was definitely not just 100,000 yuan, but the key point was that the money for selling the kidney was 300,000 yuan, and her father had to be hospitalized for chemotherapy and recuperation after the surgery. It was at least 100,000 yuan.

Right now, she urgently needed 500,000 yuan. She had carefully calculated it a week ago, but at the moment, she could not even take out 10,000 yuan on her own. 500,000 yuan was undoubtedly an astronomical figure to her.

She only went to visit her mother in the afternoon. Southerners paid particular attention to seven days of fever. When a person died, they would burn paper for 77 to 49 days. Every seven days, she would bring a bunch of flowers to her mother’s grave.

Chapter 1642 the scandal of her ex-husband

Today was the last seven days, which was a total of forty-nine days.

It was about an hour and a half’s drive from Binhai to Huicheng. Fang Xiao took a long-distance bus back to Huicheng in the afternoon. She went straight to the cemetery and bought a bunch of white chrysanthemums at the bottom of the cemetery.

She always came in the afternoon because flowers were much cheaper in the afternoon. Now, she was so poor that she even had to check which restaurant was cheaper to eat fast food.

Holding the bunch of flowers, she slowly walked up the cold stairs to the mountain. It was already the end of December. Even in the south, the temperature was pitifully low. Moreover, it was raining today, which made her mood as gloomy as the weather.

Walking to her mother’s grave, she was surprised to find a bouquet of white chrysanthemums on the tombstone. The corner of her mouth twitched. This was the first time in the past hundred days since her mother died that someone other than her had come to give her flowers.

Placing the bouquet of white chrysanthemums in front of the tombstone, she used her hand to touch the photo on the tombstone. Her mother’s smiling face appeared very serene, not at all like the ferocious look of her gnashing her teeth when she died.

“Mom, I will take good care of dad and little brother,” she whispered to the cold tombstone. “Don’t worry, mom. My daughter has grown up and is already able to support this dilapidated family.”

In fact, there was no home to support because the Fang Corporation had gone bankrupt. All the family assets had been confiscated, the real estate deed, and all the private property of the Fang family had been auctioned off to pay off the debt.

And she had gone from a rich young lady who never touched the sun to a woman who bore the burden of the family overnight. Her mother's death, her father's illness, and her retarded little brother, Fang Chen, who lived in a special school.. All of these were placed on her shoulders alone.

The Fang family had completely declined. The tiger had fallen to the level of the sun and was bullied by the dogs. The so-called family and friends had long disappeared at this time.

There was money, wine, and many brothers. When was there ever a single person in danger?

When she was young, she didn't understand the true meaning of this sentence when she was reciting "Zengguang Xianwen." Now that she was there, she finally understood how accurate this sentence was.

She used to drive everywhere, but now she was so poor that she couldn't even afford a taxi. Walking out of the cemetery, she stood by the roadside in the rain for a long time. Finally, she squeezed onto a bus because she wanted to go to the long-distance bus station and take a bus back to Binhai.

Although Hui city was a third-tier city, the city wasn't big, and its economy was far inferior to that of the first-tier city, Binhai, the bus service had gotten better in the past two years. It was no longer just a few cold and hard chairs like many years ago. Now, the seats were soft Moreover, there was a mobile television in the car.

There were many people in the car. She carefully stood in a corner. The moment she looked up, she realized that the television was already entertainment news.

The man who had almost become her husband, Qiu Yitang, had brought his beloved woman, Du Caiwei, to a high-profile business banquet to show off their love. Du Caiwei was dressed in a fluffy gown. She held her wrist bag and placed her hand on her lower abdomen. There was a red line on the screen A few big words popped out. It was suspected that she was pregnant.

She lowered her head and no longer looked at the television in the car. Instead, she turned her gaze to the outside of the car window and looked at the various green belts and buildings that flew past.

Qiu Yitang was a long time ago. If she had not seen him on television, she would not have been able to remember him.

The phone rang at this moment. The ringtone was mechanical but very loud. Even in the midst of the clamor, everyone was talking about the gossip between Qiu Yitang and du Caiwei with great interest She could also accurately tell that it was her phone that was ringing.

Chapter 1643 borrowing money

She took out her phone and leaned closer to the side. Then, she pressed the phone to her ear and covered her lower part with her hand. Then, she asked in a low voice, "what's the matter?"

"Do you want the kidney or not?" A mechanical voice sounded. "If you don't want it, the other one wants to buy it. Besides, the person who sells the kidney is also waiting for the money, right?"

"I. . ." She bit her lips and finally made up her mind. "I want it!"

“When do you want to pay?” The other party’s voice was still cold and formulaic. It was purely a transaction. Of course, it was also a transaction in the first place.

She closed her eyes and gritted her teeth. After a long while, she finally said two words with difficulty, “tomorrow.”

After hanging up the phone, she looked back. The Horn of the bus station had already sounded. It was reminding the passengers that they had arrived at a certain station. It was telling them to follow the rules and get off first, then get on.

She only glanced at the car television when she squeezed her way out of the door. The screen was no longer Qiu Yitang and Du Caiwei, but another man whom she had just met last night. At this moment.. An elegant and noble woman was hanging on his arm.

She stood in the hall of the long-distance Bus Station in a daze. She looked at the strange crowd that came and went around her. Everyone had their own direction and goal, but she seemed to have lost her goal.

No, she did not lose it. She had never lost it. It was just that her goal was too big and her ability was too small, so she could not achieve that goal at all.

Five hundred thousand was not a small amount. She had used the idea that Luo Qili gave her last night to try her luck at the Royal Jun Jue’s door. The facts proved that her luck was not ordinary.

She finally gritted her teeth and finally gave Qiu Yitang a call. This was the first time she had called Qiu Yitang since she was questioned by him in Fang Yichen’s office. It could be considered as a slap in the face.

Actually, on the day that Fang Xiao’s mother was cremated, Qiu Yitang had still come to the funeral parlor. At that time, he had even pretended to ask if she needed help, saying that he could help her on account that she was his fiancée for four years He had secretly provided her with a little help.

At that time, she, who was in a fit of anger, had once answered with a face full of anger and backbone, “Qiu Yitang, even if I were to starve to death, I would not extend my hand in the direction of the Qiu family!”

At that time, she was so backbone because she did not predict that her father would get a terminal disease like uremia. She only thought that even if the Fang family had no money, she could earn back the living expenses of herself and her brother, Fang Chen, by going to work.

However, the reality was too cruel, the reality was too cruel. Her father’s uremia had spent all the little savings in her hands, and now she had to pay for her father’s surgery fees.

She really overestimated herself when she said those words in front of Qiu Yitang that day.

The phone rang for a few seconds before it was picked up. Qiu Yitang’s cold and formulaic voice was heard. “Qiu Yitang, who are you?”

Fang Xiao could not care less that Qiu Yitang did not remember her cell phone number. Taking advantage of the courage that she had just mustered, she hurriedly said, “Qiu Yitang, I am Fang Xiao. Can you lend me some money?”

“Lend ME MONEY?” Qiu Yitang’s voice was obviously a little surprised on the other side. Then, he let out a low laugh and said sarcastically, “how much do you want to borrow?”

“Five hundred thousand.” She could no longer care about the sarcasm and ridicule in his tone. She clenched her hands into fists, closed her eyes slightly, gritted her teeth and finally said, “I only want five hundred thousand.”

Chapter 1644: How are you going to pay it back

A sneering voice came from the phone, “500,000 yuan, Fang Xiao, you really think too highly of yourself. How are you going to pay it back? By Yourself?”

She immediately kept quiet. Her ability was limited. If she went to find a job, she would only get 3,000 to 4,000 yuan a month. Even if she and Fang Chen did not eat or drink, it would take them more than ten years to get 500,000 yuan back.

Moreover, how could she and Fang Chen not eat or drink? If they did not eat or drink, they would starve to death. How could they work to earn money?

Fang Chen, her brother who was originally retarded, now only had her as a relative. If she died, what would her brother do?

Therefore, she had to live, even if she did not have dignity.

“Then come over. I will return to the West Mountain Villa later. You know that place.” Qiu Yitang saw that she did not answer for a long time, and his extremely cold voice came from the phone again, as if there was never a marriage contract between them.

The West Mountain Villa?

Her heart hurt fiercely. It was a wedding gift from her father to her and Qiu Yitang. Originally, he planned to let her and Qiu Yitang live there after they got married.

Later on, the Fang family went bankrupt and all their properties were auctioned, including the West Mountain Villa!

However, she never dreamed that it was Qiu Yitang who bought the West Mountain Villa. Moreover, he was still living in the West Mountain Villa.

The West Mountain Villa was in the suburbs. There was no direct bus to the West Mountain villa in the city. It had to be transferred three times. Moreover, it was the rush hour. It would take two hours to transfer three times.

It was so late. What if Qiu Yitang left the West Mountain Villa again?

In order to be in a hurry, she finally chose to take a taxi. Although the taxi was very expensive, she was willing to risk it all in order to borrow 500,000 yuan.

When she arrived at West Mountain Villa, Qiu Yitang had already arrived, because his noble Lamborghini was parked in the courtyard of the villa.

The maid had probably received Qiu Yitang's instructions long ago. When she said she was Fang Xiao, she immediately led her to the hall and said that Mr. Qiu was waiting for her.

She stepped into the hall and happened to see Qiu Yitang Holding du Caiwei downstairs. When she saw that she was wearing cheap clothes, her brows were obviously furrowed and her face was full of disgust.

"Aiyo, Xiao Xiao is here." Du Caiwei was particularly enthusiastic. She immediately came up to her and pulled her hand as if they were sisters. "Hurry up and sit down."

Her body instinctively moved backward and avoided du Caiwei's hand. She said in an indifferent and distant tone, "I'm here to find Qiu Yitang, not you."

Her heart had been broken into pieces by them a month and a half ago. Now that she saw them again, she was much calmer. However, she still insisted on her bottom line and dignity.

Fang Xiao looked strong and fragile like this. She had a different flavor. Qiu Yitang stared at her with a little surprise and forgot to look away for a moment.

"Yitang," Du Caiwei went over and shook Qiu Yitang's arm. She said in a delicate voice, "didn't you say you wanted to talk to Xiao Xiao about something? Then hurry up and talk to her. I'm hungry."

As Du Caiwei spoke, she had already pulled Qiu Yitang's hand toward her abdomen, intentionally or unintentionally reminding him that she was not the only one who was hungry.

Qiu Yitang nodded, then looked at Fang Xiao expressionlessly. Then he said indifferently, "originally, it wasn't impossible to lend you 500,000 yuan. Putting aside the fact that we were once engaged, at least the Qiu family and the Fang family still have some relations these few years. However, how are you going to return this 500,000 yuan to me? How long will it take to return it to me?"

Chapter 1645: Take Care of Cai Wei

Fang Xiao was stunned for a moment, then she thought for a moment and said, "I will find a job after some time. Other than three meals a day and the simplest daily necessities, the rest of my salary will be saved. I won't be unable to earn even 500,000 yuan in this lifetime, right?"

"In this lifetime?" Qiu Yitang scoffed at Fang Xiao's words and said with a cold snort, "Fang Xiao, how old are you? Your words are still so childish. If I borrow 500,000 yuan, will I have to wait for a lifetime to recover my capital? Do you think there is any meaning in lending this money out?"

Fang Xiao immediately fell silent. There was no meaning. She also knew that there was no meaning. Moreover, Qiu Yitang was a businessman. Businessmen had always been based on profit. They would not do things that did not benefit them.

"I have a suggestion." Qiu Yitang put his arm around Du Caiwei as he spoke and sat down. Then, he used his hand to stroke du Caiwei's stomach and said, "Caiwei is pregnant and she just so happens to need someone to take care of her. You can come and take care of CAIWEI. 500,000 yuan will be your five-year salary. Is that enough?"

“Yitang, how can you let Xiao Xiao Take Care of me?” Du Caiwei exclaimed Then, she could not help but plead on Fang Xiao’s behalf, “Yitang, Xiao Xiao is the Fang family’s young miss, and I’m just a servant of the Fang family. Logically, I should be the one taking care of Xiao Xiao.”

Qiu Yitang snorted coldly from his nostrils, “young miss? That was only in the past. The current her is already a ruined woman, okay?”

Ruined woman What a sharp and ear-piercing idiom. A month and a half ago, when he held the newspaper in his hand and spat out this idiom, she was so heartbroken that she cried blood. However, at this moment, she was so numb that she did not feel a trace of it.

Fang Xiao gently bit her lips. After pondering for a moment, she finally nodded and said, “alright, but you have to pay me 500,000 yuan in one go. I guarantee that I will work for five years.”

“Pay you in one go?” The corner of Qiu Yitang’s mouth curled up into a mocking smile He coldly looked at Fang Xiao and said, “Fang Xiao, even if you have never worked before, you should have heard about what work and salary are like. Have you ever seen a boss pay his employees several years’ salary in one go?”

“I’m waiting to use money.” Fang Xiao also knew that her request was very excessive. However, she still restrained her sharpness and dignity and said in a low and humble voice, “Qiu Yitang, I urgently need 500,000 yuan. I can give you a guarantee...”

“I don’t need your promise. Besides, your promise isn’t worth a penny.” Qiu Yitang stood up coldly and looked at Fang Xiao who was standing there He snorted and said, “on account of our previous engagement, I’ll be extra lenient and agree to your request. Tomorrow morning, I’ll get the secretary to send the check to the hospital for you.”

Qiu Yitang paused at this point, then looked at the dining table that was already set up and said, “now, you can go to work. From today onwards, take care of CAIWEI.”

Fang Xiao secretly heaved a sigh of relief. Five hundred thousand was finally settled. Even though being a servant for Du Caiwei was very lowly, it was still a hundred times better than selling it to Xi Lingheng.

Workmanship and selling one’s body were two completely different concepts!

Thus, she nodded and suppressed all her dignity and pride. With a smile on her face, she came to Du Caiwei’s side and said humbly, “Miss Du, it’s time to eat. Please sit down at the dining table and let me serve you.”

Du Caiwei’s face was filled with embarrassment She quickly gave in humbly, “Xiaoxiao, we are good friends and sisters. We will still be good friends and sisters in the future. Even if you live here, I won’t let you serve me. Just let the servants here serve us. You are only here to accompany me.”

Chapter 1646 difficult work

“Although Fang Xiao has never gone out to work, she knows the difference between a Master and a servant,” Fang Xiao said indifferently “I was hired by Mr. Qiu to take care of Miss Du. Naturally, I know my duty. I will never be so polite as to be friends and sisters with master.”

After saying this, Fang Xiao turned around and helped Qiu Yitang pull out the dining chair. At the same time, she helped du Caiwei pull out the dining chair and slightly bent over. "Miss Du, please have a seat!"

Du Caiwei's face was filled with embarrassment and embarrassment. She had already been so nice to this poor daughter, but Fang Xiao did not give her any face at all and even pretended to be a servant.

Humph, what servant? In fact, she just wanted to stay by Qiu Yitang's side. She wanted to find an opportunity to get involved with Qiu Yitang again and then think of ways to make Qiu Yitang fall in love with her.

However, she, Du Caiwei, had finally gotten to where she was today. She had finally avenged her parents, and now, she was finally pregnant with Qiu Yitang's child, making Qiu Yitang look at her in a different light. How could she foolishly leave a potential love rival by her side?

Although Qiu Yitang did not like Fang Xiao, she had to be on guard. After all, Fang Xiao was young and beautiful, and she was pregnant. At this time, she had to be careful. She must not let Fang Xiao, this woman, take advantage of this loophole.

Thinking of this, the moment du Caiwei sat down, she had already made up her mind.

Although Fang Xiao used to be a rich young lady in the Fang family, she had never been served a meal, and her mother, Mrs. Fang, had never been so particular about it.

Therefore, her impression of how to serve people a meal was actually that she had seen the waiters serving the customers in the restaurant. It was nothing more than serving tea, water, and towels in exchange for plates full of waste.

However, her knowledge was clearly too shallow. She had indeed not delved into the lower levels of life, so she could not see the real work of the so-called servants.

Du Caiwei had just sat down when she pointed at a plate of white sand prawns that had just been served and said to Qiu Yitang coquettishly, "I want to eat prawns."

"Peel Prawns for CAIWEI." Qiu Yitang did not even raise his head and directly instructed Fang Xiao, who was standing at the dining table.

Fang Xiao was stunned for a moment before she reacted. Then, she quickly went forward, put on disposable gloves, and picked up a large white seared prawns to peel.

She herself had never eaten this kind of white seared prawns. She always ate salt-and-pepper prawns. They were the kind that were fried in oil with salted egg yolk and starch. They were crisp and crispy. There was no need to peel prawns at all.

Therefore, she, who had no experience in peeling prawns, could not help but be a little slow. Moreover, the fishy smell of the white seared prawns had just come from peeling the shells. Fang Xiao felt a little nauseous when she smelled it. She thought that it was probably because she had never eaten this kind of prawns before.

Fang Xiao was in a mess for a long time before she finally peeled one and put it into the spoon in front of Du Caiwei.

“PFFT.” Du Caiwei spat out the prawns that had just been put into her mouth. Then, she used her beautiful jade-like hands to fan her mouth as she pouted and called out in a delicate voice, “Yitang, this prawns is so fishy. I can’t swallow it?”

“It’s so fishy?” Qiu Yitang was obviously stunned for a moment. He looked at Fang Xiao, who was slowly peeling the prawns, and could not help but throw the chopsticks on the dining table.

“even peeling a shrimp shell is so slow. Can’t you move your hands faster? Don’t you know that the shrimp will get fishy when it gets cold?” Qiu Yitang’s face was dark He was very dissatisfied with this obedient woman who did not know how to resist him at all.

Chapter 1647 humiliates herself

Only then did Fang Xiao understand that the fishy smell she smelled was because the shrimp had gone cold. No wonder she felt nauseous, so she nodded and immediately put down the half-peeled shrimp in her hand. Then, she quickly picked up another one She sped up her actions.

This time, she peeled very quickly. In no time, she removed the main shell of the shrimp and put it into Du Caiwei. It was still warm at night. Du Caiwei did not say anything else and ate it with satisfaction.

However, when she ate the third shrimp, Du Caiwei stopped and kept coughing. Then, she looked at Fang Xiao and pointed at the shrimp that she had just peeled, meaning that the shell was not completely peeled.

The shell was indeed not completely peeled because it had to be done quickly. Moreover, because she smelled the fishy smell and felt uncomfortable, she could not help but turn her face to the side, so she did not see whether the shell was completely peeled or not.

At this moment, Du Caiwei choked up. Fang Xiao did not have the time to argue with her and quickly sent warm water for her to drink, hoping to wash the shell that was stuck in her throat down.

However, Du Caiwei could not wash it down. After drinking the water, she coughed and then kept coughing at the ground, looking extremely uncomfortable. She coughed and said that she wanted to eat a banana, saying that bananas were soft and slippery She wanted to see if she could help the shrimp shell slide down her throat.

Fang Xiao hurriedly went to the coffee table in the living room to get a banana. Because she ran too fast, her knee hit the corner of the coffee table. The pain made her tears spin in her eyes, but she did not let the tears roll down.

She quickly peeled the banana and handed it to Du Caiwei. Du Caiwei immediately took a bite, and a few seconds later, she finally stopped coughing. It seemed that she should have swallowed the shrimp shell.

Fang Xiao let out a long sigh of relief. Du Caiwei stood up and was about to wash her hands, but just as she took two steps, her whole body suddenly slipped forward, and her body fell straight back.

“CAIWEI!” Qiu Yitang, who was sitting at the side and watching the show, cried out in surprise. He quickly ran over, but he was still one step too late. Du Caiwei just fell straight on the floor.

“CAIWEI!” Qiu Yitang was so nervous that he screamed. He immediately bent down to Hug du Caiwei, but because he was too fast, he almost slipped. He looked down and found a banana peel.

“You really are a vicious woman!” Qiu Yitang raised his hand and gave Fang Xiao, who was standing at the side and was about to hand him a towel, a hard slap. Then he pointed at the door of the hall and growled, “Get out now!”

Fang Xiao did not remember how she got out of the West Mountain Villa. She only remembered that Qiu Yitang carried du Caiwei in a panic and ran out of the door, while Du Caiwei’s face was pale and she kept screaming that her stomach hurt.

Fang Xiao looked at Qiu Yitang and du Caiwei running out of the door. She used her hand to cover her face that had been burned by Qiu Yitang, but she gritted her teeth and held back her tears.

What was self-humiliation This was self-humiliation. She had come to Qiu Yitang and du Caiwei to be humiliated. She could not blame Qiu Yitang and Du Caiwei.

There were very few buses outside the West Mountain Villa area. It was rainy today and it was night. The weather was particularly cold. She stood by the roadside and shivered as she waited for the bus.

There were several times when a taxi came to her side and asked her if she wanted to leave. She shook her head, shivering. She could not waste any more. She had wasted a few tens of dollars today, but she had not borrowed a single cent.

Chapter 1648: Aunt Lin’s suggestion

After she transferred to the bus three times and returned to the long-distance bus station, she couldn’t help but secretly sigh in relief when she caught the last long-distance bus back to Huicheng. Otherwise, she would have stayed at the long-distance bus station for an entire night.

By the time she returned to Binhai Third Hospital, it was already past 11 p.m. . Her father hadn’t had dinner yet, so she bought a thin and weak porridge outside the hospital and sent it to him.

“Xiaoxiao, is our family broke?” Fang Anbang finally felt that something was wrong, because he realized that his daughter almost never ate anything in his ward.

“where? We still have a few hundred thousand,” Fang Xiao forced a smile and said to her father. “Dad, the Fang family’s assets were indeed auctioned off, but mom and I’s jewelry were still worth money back then, right These were sold off for around six to seven hundred thousand. Don’t worry, we still have money to treat your illness.”

Fang Anbang listened to his daughter’s words and believed her. Before the Fang family was in trouble, his daughter’s jewelry was not much, but his wife did have a lot. Not to mention that it was worth a million, he still had at least a few hundred thousand.

After Fang Xiao settled her father down, she quietly walked out of the ward. She had been busy for the whole afternoon, and even now, she could still make a living. Now, she had no choice but to go to the bakery outside the hospital to buy some bread.

In the past, she did not know that in fact, the bakery could not sell all the bread on the same day. Usually, they sold it at a discount at night. After nine o'clock at night, they would buy one and get one free. After 10:30 at night, they would buy one and get two free.

For the past month, she had waited until 10:30 at night to go to the bakery to buy bread. At this time, the bakery was almost closed, so it was especially cheap. Sometimes, if she bought one, people would give two or three more to her.

Of course, she couldn't finish the bread, but she always brought it back to the ward and used it to make breakfast the next morning. In this way, she could finish dinner and breakfast with two or three yuan.

When she sat on the dining chair outside the bakery and ate the bread, she hesitated for a while. In the end, she took out her phone and called Aunt Lin, the owner of Huicheng shampoo shop. gritting her teeth, she asked in a low voice, "aunt Lin, can you really help me find someone?"

Aunt Lin wasn't Fang Xiao's aunt. It was just that Mrs. Fang used to go to the shampoo shop's owner. The owner said that the girls in her shampoo shop might look serious in uniform, but if a customer liked them, they could also take them out to earn extra money. Moreover, the price would not be lower than the price of the so-called eighteen square meters in the international metropolis Binhai. Moreover, the men who came to her shampoo shop were all financial backers.

Aunt Lin used to have a good relationship with Mrs. Fang. Fang Xiao had also gone to this one of the best shampoo shops in Huicheng with her mother. So a month ago, when she was desperate, she had gone to look for aunt Lin once. Of course, she wanted to borrow money.

Aunt Lin usually called her mother Mrs. Fang "sister" very affectionately. Now that the Fang family was really in trouble, she went to the door to borrow money, but aunt Lin had a different look on her face.

Aunt Lin said, "Xiaoxiao, I know you're in trouble, but I really don't have any money. Don't look at how big this shop is, but it's actually run on a loan. Why don't I introduce you to someone? That way, won't you be rich?"

A month ago, she scoffed at Aunt Lin's suggestion. No matter how down and out she was, she had never thought of selling her body. 'wealth can't be promiscuous, poverty can't be moved.' She had learned this maxim since she was young.

Chapter 1649: What's wrong with your brain

Now, in the face of the cruel reality, in a desperate situation, she had no choice but to throw away the proverbs that she had learned since she was young, because money was the first condition to save her father's life.

On the phone, aunt Lin was stunned when she heard her call. It was obvious that she did not remember her until she said again, "Aunt Lin, I'm Fang Xiao."

"Oh, Fang Xiao?" Aunt Lin finally reacted, and then quickly asked with concern, "how are you now? Oh right, has your father been discharged from the hospital? Is he feeling better?"

“My father needs money for his surgery.” Fang Xiao took a deep breath and calmed herself down. “Aunt Lin, about that, you once said that you could help me find someone, right?”

“Oh, about that?” Aunt Lin replied with slight contempt “Sure, do you want it tonight? I just happen to have a financial backer. Don’t look at him as 60 years old. He’s in good health and is generous. You’re so beautiful. I’ll ask you for a high price. 8,000 yuan per night, okay?”

“Aunt Lin, I want 500,000 yuan.” Fang Xiao bit her lip and said. Before aunt Lin could reply, she quickly said, “Aunt Lin, I don’t want 500,000 yuan per night. What I mean is, I need 500,000 yuan urgently now. He can cover me...”

“Fang Xiao, you really have a big appetite, don’t you?” “500,000 yuan?” Aunt Lin’s disdainful voice came from the phone. “Fang Xiao, you’ve never been in this business before and you don’t know the market, right “Let me tell you, the original version is now in its prime. The market in Hui city is only 10,000 to 20,000 yuan on the first night.”

Aunt Lin paused for a moment Then she continued, “Fang Xiao, you and Qiu Yitang have been engaged for four years. Are you still a virgin “If you’re really a virgin, then what about the pornographic photos in the newspapers “Moreover, even if you’re really a virgin, I’ll put in a good word for you. At most, it’ll be half as expensive as others. 20,000 yuan is the most I can do.”

“As for you asking others to give you a mistress “This old man doesn’t give you a mistress. He’s especially afraid of his wife. If I want someone to give you a mistress, I have a financial backer. This young man is only in his forties. He told me last time that he wants to find a regular mistress. 200,000 yuan per year or something like that. What do you think?”

200,000 yuan a year Fang Xiao calculated in her heart. Her father’s kidney transplant surgery needed 500,000 yuan to be enough. Wouldn’t she have to be with that man for three years?

“Fang Xiao, 200,000 yuan a year isn’t a small amount,” aunt Lin advised Fang Xiao on the phone. “Besides, you’re not a b-list celebrity. This man said that he once contracted a young model. It only costs 150,000 yuan a year. That young model was still a virgin when he was...”

“Can he pay for three years at one time?” Fang Xiao interrupted aunt Lin’s rambling on the phone. Now, besides talking about money, she couldn’t listen to any other nonsense.

“Pay for three years in one go?” Auntie Lin finally shouted in surprise She couldn’t help but ask carefully, “Fang Xiao, did something hit your brain?” People paid 200,000 yuan twice a year. When they first went, they paid 100,000 yuan. When they paid 100,000 yuan a year, they were worried that they would get tired of keeping you for half a year or less “There are so many pretty girls waiting for rich men to do it. “...”

Fang Xiao hung up the phone before Auntie Lin could finish her lecture. She needed 500,000 yuan. If she could only pay 100,000 yuan in one go, it would be the same as not paying at all, because the money to buy a kidney was not enough.

Chapter 1650 where you can make money

Binhai was an international metropolis that was a river away from Hong Kong. In fact, the nightlife was very colorful. Of course, other than nightclubs like the Royal Lord, there were also some hidden, more mysterious and upscale red-light districts.

Fang Xiao grew up in Huicheng for many years and was not familiar with Binhai. However, when she was in school in City Z, her roommate once said that her boyfriend actually went to a mysterious sex scene in Binhai and spent 50,000 to 60,000 yuan a night.

But at that time, she did not care about what her roommate said, so she could not remember the name she mentioned. Therefore, she hesitated for a moment and finally walked into the Internet cafe across from the bakery. She began to look for du Niang to inquire about the mysterious sex scene in Bincheng.

It was really true that Du Niang's powerful search function was indeed not a small matter. It actually quickly jumped out several websites and forums for her.

Finally, she saw a reply under a forum post. It seemed to say that the most mysterious and expensive sex scene in Bincheng was the women's pavilion.

Unlike other places, the women's pavilion was not built in a luxurious place. There were neon lights outside that shone with all kinds of dazzling lights, but there was also some kind of ambiguous light, which made people know what kind of place it was at a glance.

The women's pavilion was hidden in a teahouse. The entire building's external walls and facade were decorated more like a fresh and elegant teahouse. When people walked in, they felt like they were in an elegant environment, and the air was filled with the faint fragrance of flower tea.

The lobby on the first floor was filled with all kinds of tea leaves, and there was even a teahouse miss who made tea for you to taste. If it was not someone familiar with it, they would never have thought that this building was the most mysterious and expensive place in Bincheng.

Fang Xiao learned from the Internet that the daughters of the daughter's pavilion demanded a very high price. It was said that men would spend hundreds of thousands of yuan on a night to play here, at least tens of thousands of yuan. There was no price lower than 10,000 yuan.

Therefore, she thought that her body was originally given by her parents, and now that her father was sick and needed money to exchange for a kidney, she used her body to earn money to treat her father's illness and help her father exchange for a healthy body. In fact.. It wasn't really a loss.

With this thought in mind, she unexpectedly found the daughter's pavilion. She quietly explained her purpose of coming to the daughter's pavilion to Miss Cha Yi. Miss Cha Yi glanced at her and quietly brought her upstairs to the lady boss's office.

The lady boss of the daughter's pavilion looked like she was in her forties. It was said that she was a prostitute when she was in her teens. She interacted with all kinds of rich men every day. It was rumored that her eyes were very powerful She could tell who was really rich based on a person's expression within a few minutes.

Therefore, when Fang Xiao walked into her office, it was only three seconds. Before Fang Xiao could speak, she had already seen through Fang Xiao's purpose of looking for her.

“Miss, you are very beautiful, and not just a pretty vase.” The lady boss of the daughter’s pavilion stood up and walked around Fang Xiao. Then, she nodded and said, “yes, the three measurements are also very good. Although you are a little thin, you are definitely not the kind of person who only has skin and bones. Moreover, the protruding parts are protruding, and the concave parts are also concave...”

The lady boss paused for a moment when she said this. Her elite gaze landed on Fang Xiao’s face, and then she softly said, “If...”

“If what?” Fang Xiao was so nervous that her palms were full of sweat. She used a trembling voice to ask.
